

Rome, May 3rd / 92

Dearest Annie,

With my breakfast tray at I this morn came this telegram — "Better remain through summer letter mailed London —" — so the die is cast & I stay unless something unforeseen happens — In about ten days I shall get the letter. Then make plans — I am writing home by this mail that I have decided to stay over a few months longer — Not another line got written yesterday & if this is my last chance for this steamer, so I can only send a line — I don't know how I feel about it all, except very anxiously —

Sincerely yours
Mary D.
