Sal Mch 11 93 ⁽¹⁾

The Decmery Bryn Mawr,
Pa.

Good afternoon my dear for it is 4 1/2 & I am afraid unless I write now I shall be interrupted for I have had a long day of guests, not a ring at the bell & I have staid in bed merely as a precaution & dictated to the 3 secretaries & accomplished a lot. All yr letters are up to date ok procrastination even the one to Miss Baker & Mr Dane, and all my own except those I must think over ② I write myself & if things go well, ^{next week} I will close Mother's Estale books for 1892 & then take "spells" at the B. M. S & the exam. & papers. By the time you emerge I shall have finished chores & be ready to get out Mamma's Beewulf & Miss Wood's Sh. dissertation in the remaining month.

Think only a month more after yr real cure is over & then whatever else the Summer brings it will bring at least a few weeks of days & evenings & mornings with you.

I came home from Phila so tired with my shopping after ^③ I finished my Club letter to you that went up late & read a really good novel by Rich.

Pryce (wh. I mailed you today.
Read it next to Mallock & I see by the Athenaeum that he is one of the best of the younger men & his new one just reviewed I will send you if it can be had) & ~~shd~~ not go to the neighbors Club ala Trustees, Hartsornes.
Dr Rhoads is still unable to leave his bed & this ~~thru~~ throws much more on me Esp. chapel wh. with 2 lectures

(A) is as much as I wish to do Monday. I doubt if he will be out next week. Still I am marvellously well I wish you ed go up hill as fast.

I have dictated so many letters today I am almost unable to put sentence with verb & subj. together. I am sorry yr Sunday letter will be so unsatisfactory.

Have you a tea kettle. Do make tea if not let me to buy you one or let Julia de Forest, whom I envy for the first time a little buy you one - a little one not well & splended like yr 101 kettle. (5) Surely brass wd do for a The Decmberly. Bryon. Major. travelling equipage. Pa.

And now bef. I forget it I send you tonight by registered mail a cheque for $2500 the rent for 1891-92. That ^{annual rent is hereby.}

I am sure I intended to pay you; also an acct of what ^{enclose now} has been repaid. I think I intended to pay you $1000 (+ of course $2500 rent this year) ¹⁸⁹¹⁻⁹² more but cannot possibly be sure till I examine carefully. I have tried various ⑥ birds eye glances into Ledger & Cash & expended judiciously 1/2 hr here & there in trying to find out but just the books for 1891-92, that is last year, must be balanced. There is no short cut to the horrid thing & that shall be done this coming week.

What was the no. of that room in case. Mame & I go to

I am distressed ab. Mary's coming to New York - You see you will never take my advice ⁽⁺⁾ if you had only let yr letters & telegrams come here - all of them ~~telly only~~ (telling only Dr Dockwood yr address) it wd not have happened. I fail to see why you cannot be in yr room for a few days without saying you are taking a rest cure. Indeed I am rather in despair about you. You are so determined to take yr own way & to listen to no advice - that you will never get "rested". Yr cheques ⑧ I consider utter folly too. If all ed have been avoided. Ten to one yr 3 nephews & Alice will come to New York & you will consider it necessary to see them. You know perfectly well whatever you tell Mary ^{of that kind} she tells Mr. Pick & altogether I am ^{so} disgusted ~~with you~~. This is not a hygienic letter I know but as you are seeing Rob de Forest & writing notes & seeing Mary

Pa.

it does not matter. I knew every thing would happen as it has simply to be because you would not let yr address be here. To protect you from Mrs McDowell I have had the box of things expressed here & will reexpress it instantly The delay will only be a few hrs, so do nothing to destroy the fiction. Among other things today ⑩ I lectured Mrs Murphy ab her handwriting, trying to learn shorthand etc - She wishes ardently to stay with you & will try to fit her ^{self} in every way.

You have paid her up - to Mch. 1st " , that is for Feb.
She meant it was too much.
But I told her she must take it & try to be worth it.

I shall so much to write you letters so full of scolding & business May not this be the last. Still no report of what Dr Cusher said ab. letters yrs & mine. ①

I am so sorry, so sorry ab. yr neuralgic. I believe you worried about Margy's coming, that document, & my eloped affairs. I sd not have told you. I am thankful that there will be nothing to tell for some time. Do you not suppose that hard treatment has made you nervous? I wish it sd have been a night

There is Helen there is the mail

Forgive me - bec
I love you - my dear one

B.M.S. Notes.

Have written to Miss Horsford asked her to draw cheque for $1550.00 to Camilla

Dr. Elsie Howe "accepts".

Your directions about cheques are perfectly clear.
Miss M. will need another Montebello cheque book, can she write to R. G. Sons?

I have compared your copy with letter sent to Mr.
Gwinn, they agree. Name writes that Mr Gwinn says it will be much better to bring up change of name next month

Mrs Hayden asks how to consider we think she means to come.
