Do you call what I got this morn'g a letter — an answer to my volumes of Sunday? I was shocked when the second mail brought nothing else. No special deliv. arrived before.
Even a foul from Mamie & not being willing to leave her here alone till Thursday my miserable abscess will not let me go today tomorrow I cannot go out today Gerard says There is nothing to lance & the swelling seems to be going down slowly but so slowly. It looks to me risky to go thursely but of course I must. I have given my address as the Vendôme for letters so we shall have to go there — as we leave it till Wednesday I will take the 950⁺ by to catch that 6' clock so as not to make it so late but I will write fully later

My dear,

A long day of letter writing, longer than yesterday & more exhausting because not a breath of fresh air have I had for 2 days. My interruptions have been Dr Tom Morten, Chairman of Gule High Sch — a real estate agent ab. Mamie's mortgages, Mrs Morris Japanese temple bill that takes 6 men to lift & that I have had deposited in the alcove between Augustus & Caesar for the moment & Mr. Pickens to announce his engagement to Mary Taylor B.A. 93 & Grad.

 Student in Physics last year (So it goes! He is far too nice for her. Her people approve & he goes out to Indianapolis as he accepted ^{at last} ~~lover~~) & incessant notes of people whom I feel not admit not being yet presentable

Do not take a ~~self~~ seal for Helen (it had better be B I think) till I hear from her. She may stay with Mrs Dinnelly. Yes I can take the 9⁵⁰ train arriving at 12⁰³ & make the 1 o'clock wh_{ich} is much to be preferred It is almost a fact so let us plan for this on Thursday, shall we not?

No answer from either Hoyt or Wines or Emerson wd be ravishing for primary department I think. Now you horrid person no more of a letter Can you have bec of my disaffection letter today & bec. of the reasons for it & bec. I am tired from innumerable letters

Goodbye beloved

~~Don't forget to write~~ as I m.
