The Decaney, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Dearest Mary,

Your letter is just at hand and in spite of your sage counsels I am very much distressed & very anxious I th't about you a long while yesterday evening & waked up thinking of you this morning - greatly to my indignation - but now I am not indignant at all ⁽²⁾ for of course it was because you had a headache & temperature 103 -

I want you to promise (I tell Dr Cushman to promise) to let me know if you are really sick & I want that quiet little nurse to write me a little bulletin every evening -

In great haste

With so much love & sympathy

Love yours

Mrs C.H.
