

Miss Mary E. Garrett
Brevort House
5th Ave & 8th St
New York City

D
Sunday Dec 6th 1885

Dearest Mary

Your unkindest cut of all in yr. letter arouses a reply even although I have the accounts of Merrion Hall, the plans of the new building, 12 business letters & the exordium of a new course of lectures all to crowd into the short hours of one Sunday afternoon You ask "what has become of all the little schedules of all the teachers & the other papers wh.
Miss Andrews says she sent you in connection with the schedule^r including our orig. one. Would you try to find them (the presumption that they are lost is amusing) & send them here. Miss A. was not very clear about the matter (she was certainly not clear) but said Miss Gwinn had either told her or written her that they were mislaid. Miss G. wrote nothing of the kind. I thought you understood that we took the papers with us to work over them - when they have been lying on the desk in my study subject to severe daily scrutiny it is the bitterest irony to receive a letter from you asking me "to try to find them" & innocently wondering "what has become of them. Now first of all we do not wish to part with "all the little schedules of all the teachers"; they can write them out for you in ten minutes as they did for me. The only thing to which I plead guilty is Julia's little tacked together tables of hours, which seemed so difficult to copy & which I kept in the believe that you would be in New York. We have found several mistakes in the large schedule and I have had to write again to Miss A for fresh "little schedules of all the teachers" with hours as well as classes. I remain to Julia's the tables of hours. Mamie will return the orig schedule on Sat. that she did leave in Balto. for safe keeping, as we did not need it for work.

(2)

4

Mrs Andrews in note dated Dec 3rd says that Bessie Carroll & H. Hopkins can only work together after Xmas. She wishes to know about election which we cannot tell her until we see exactly how things seem. Of course were election given up her night work of a schedule would be lightened.

Your efforts in regard to Bessie Carroll were valiant. After Xmas will be soon enough and the united efforts of the Committee will I feel sure accomplish it.

Take care of yourself, but what between house & moving & schedule I am not over sanguine Loveingly yours
Minnie C Sh