

Miss Anne D. Greene

49 West 68th Street

New York
N. Y.

2 Oct. 10, 1903

1820 Pine St.

Dear old Ann-

How we do miss you at B.M.! This is not a mere idle politeness - it is honest fact + I've been trying to write and tell you about it, you dear old thing, ever since we started our trip. I want to tell to you ~~every~~ ^{every} little while and then remember yours not true. I'm coming on you return in February - and meanwhile can't you come for a visit soon.

(2)

I suppose you've heard that this won't allow any freshmen play at least until next semester, + aims to have the seniors give the real big entertainment instead. Of course we've kicked hard but it's no good, except to get something next semester, so we are taking Nov. 14th the original date of the freshmen play, for the same presentation. Can't you come down then Ann - Do - Menon holdout it's arms for you - by the way I've scabbled back then + am with Mary in the Pal's old

(3)

Smith. Pallas + Yukie Meigs have your-Yukie is a dear. So funny like Dick + Po. Adeline H. has quite adopted her I think + Jaynes, who is rooming with Pegs during Meigs' absence, says "Little Miss Yukie is too dear for anything" and that she is afraid she ^(Jaynes) will spoil her.
Jaynes is really too absurd. keeps us in fits of laughter all the time. Last night we gave a party to the 1907 in Memphis. Such fun as it was. a day in college beginning with a starvation breakfast (the food is really awful) then Chapin with "nobis, nobis per a nos" for the hymn + an address from Curly as Miss - she was more like our Uncle Dav except for her height. Then came registration with Max Izzy + the Dean who recommended a course in Private Life of Monkeys in the 5th Century then lectures by Jaynes as Miss Hoyt (really "the spirit" image of her) Fred as King, Po as Clark, the new English

(5)

was and I gave Edmundson with a piece of tissue paper pinned over the hair for the bald spot + reading as one of his own medical translations of an ode "How trash is made of lots of things" - We had statues all down the hall, a pig labeled Socrates etc. - It was really all pieces of fun. The freshmen in Union are most of them awfully nice - and also very fresh. as a class they are decidedly fresh. We spent last evening after they left us in consulting how we could sit on them. For instance they all join in in our Kajosapan songs and are putting up names over their doors. Well there's lots more to tell about them - but I guess we were pretty fresh and are full for that matter.

And you can be thankful you're not taking major

English with Clarence Carol Clarke, known as Miss Clarke or the aesthetic baby. He has curls + blue eyes, + wears suit + tie to watch the fair!
 His course so far, on Burke, is idiotic.
 At our second lecture he made us all rise + change seats to sit in alphabetical order so that he might "be able to recognize some of the 250 quies who speak to us on the campus" - Fred, Po + 1334 + 9 was all taking it as well

(3)

as Gladys King, Cary - Bickel, Maud Trump et al - The last was actually unable to answer one of his questions the other day - His "lectures" is merely a quiz on the reading - but perhaps he's improving - They say the Dean is trying to discourage English as a major - Then I'm taking Canadian writing with Miss Fullerton - which ought to be a nice course - Oh I wish you were taking it all with us. Do come for Nov. 14th - or for the Sophomore play two weeks & more. You letter to us all was such a pleasure.

 Write to me or to us soon again please. How is your grandmother? Please answer that question madam.

Always affectionately
 Louise.

October 10th

