FIVE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIVE PARK AVENUE

Saturday morning
[Nov 11, 1916]

Dearest Marie: I am having the nicest possible time here, everything is happening just right and I'm seeing everybody and being received in the most cordial way and there is so much doing that there is about as little time for writing as there well could be.
I am scribbling this now while waiting for a taxi to take my suit case to the Penna. Ry station where I shall check it, then go to the Waldorf to have luncheon with Mr. Van Court then to his rooms in Washington Square to see his prints.

 At five I leave for Phila when Mr. Measey meets me.
 I presume he will drive me out to B. M. in his Stutz. Hope we shall get there alive!

My last night's letter was so hurriedly written that I couldn't tell you much.

Mr. Rollins said to me that when my book & letter arrived they were not at home and the caretaker put them away in a cupboard and forgot to say anything about them, so it was quite by accident that they were discovered!
They were both very cordial — I had a pleasant call.

This morning I have been at Mrs Havemeyers.

My taxi is here so I must go. I am not sure when I can write tomorrow. I may have to send a night letter message -

The weather is absolutely delightful -

Always your devoted Frederick.
