MUST SWIM TO GRADUATE; NEW RULE AT VASSAR

Rope Climbing Required Too

"No one who is not a swimmer can graduate from Vassar", said Miss Ballantine, physical director at Vassar, to a News reporter, "unless she is physically unable to swim. This has been made a faculty rule, going into effect with the class of 1920. There are only twenty Freshmen who cannot swim already. Every Freshman also has to learn how to come down a rope, if not to climb it, in case of fire, or other emergency".

Miss Ballintine has been compiling statistics in regard to swimming requirements in different colleges. Out of 18 colleges investigated, 9 required swimming and 2 did not reply. Only one of the remaining 7 had a pool.

VARSITY WATER-POLO SEASON OPENS WITH EXHIBITION GAME

Vassar Physical Director Present

Varsity water-polo practice began Saturday morning with an exhibition game in honor of Miss Ballintine, physical director at Vassar College, who was one of the judges at the gymnasium contest on Friday, and who had never seen a game of water-polo before. "We play waterbasket-ball at Vassar", she explained.

Splashing spoiled the play at first, but later both teams settled down to cleaner work. Miss Applebee refereed the game. The line-up was constantly changed, but started out with five members of last year's Varsity: M. Willard '17, M. O'Connor '18, M. Strauss '18, T. Howell '18, and F. Howell '19. The scrubs who played were: 1917, A. Davis, E. Dulles, M. Scattergood; 1918, L. Pearson, A. Newlin; 1919, E. Lanier, A. Thorndike; 1920, M. M. Carey, M. Ballou.
