COMMENCEMENT FESTIVITIES KEPT ALMOST UNCHANGED BY SENIORS

Big Majority Votes for Garden Party. A big majority of the senior class voted last Monday to give a garden party this year "on as simple a scale as possible." The other commencement activities were kept practically unchanged.

Senior Bonfire and the senior picnic to the sophomores were definitely voted and the motion to have a class supper, though laid on the table for investigation of catering expenses, was upheld warmly against a small opposition. The customary celebration of May day and the Fellowship dinner in Rockefeller on March 15th, were also voted.

MEETING PLANSIEUDGET plunge for distance, was given in the pool last Wednesday evening. Eight women swimmers, most of them less than 20 years old, and two girls of 9, took part.

Form swims, showing different strokes, life-saving demonstrations, races, plain and fancy diving, and plunge for distance were the events of the exhibition. College speed records were easily broken, and the audience stood astounded at the Carey, 1920's president, as leader of this beautiful diving. The 33% sec. record for the 136-foot swim, made by K. Townsend '20, became 271/2 sec., and her 68foot record of 133% sec. was reduced to 12%.

Captain Cande of First Engineers

Captain Paul Candé, of the First French Engineers, who has been decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honour and the Croix de Guerre, now instructor at Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J., will speak on "France Under Fire" tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in Taylor Hall. His lecture has been arranged by the Graduate Service Corps Committee through the French graduate students.

From the beginning of the war until his coming to this country last September, Captain Candé was at the front, and was wounded three times. He took part in the battle of the Marne and fought at Verdun.

Captain Candé is a graduate of the famous French engineering college, l'École de Polytechnique, and was in the army at the outbreak of the war.

"Although you may not be able to raise wheat and corn, you can raise things that take the place of wheat and corn, such as lima beans," he said.

"The chances for a normal crop in the United States this year," said Dr. Huff in pointing out the need of increased production, "have been estimated by good authorities at 80 per cent. To feed the nations that are depending on us we lought to have at least a 150 per cent. Footer's Dye Works normal crop."

"In farming don't forget the opportunity to learn," he advised. "Be very humble if you have a good teacher, and quite Mr. Willard de Lamatre Kingsbury, humble if you haven't one. . . Bryn Mawr a Name to Conjure With Both the "institution" of Bryn Mawr and one of its "honour pupils" are delightfully complimented in the following extract from the Japan Gazette.

"Yokohoma, Dec. 22, 1917 .- Miss Margaret Hedges, who has for a couple of years been with a prominent foreign firm of Yokohoma, as a valued member of the staff, was married this week, Mr. Alexander Smith, of the Chartered Bank, being the fortunate happy man. In America Bryn Mawr Seminary is 'a name to conjure with,' being an institution of high exclusive grade, from which many of the cleverest women over there have been graduated. Miss Hedges was honour pupil at Bryn Mawr, and was afterward retained as one of the executives for two years, though still very young for the position. She has a pretty wit, and is a dinner guest of infinite possibilities, and will no doubt fill a social niche here

Many students were present at the With the Fighting Men."

Dr. Watt, who is an old college friend of Dr. Mutch, has been sent to America by the British Foreign Office to speak on the fighting spirit of the British and Scot tish in the war. His address in Bryn Mawr was the first he has given in this country.

The keynote of the address, which moved the congregation to tears, was struck when the chaplain said: men over there are not plaster saints. They have learned that life is nothing. that death is less than nothing, and that Christ and honor are all."
