

Ramadan Iftar (Breakfast)

$250

Ramadan is traditionally a time of communal gathering to share a meal at iftar (breakfast) time with family and friends after a day of fasting. Due to the difficult circumstances of this year posed by the pandemic and its evolving nature, the MSA would like to purchase individually packaged meals from a local restaurant and gather safely (social distancing, masking, and handwashing precautions taken) in an on-campus space such as an outdoor tent to break our fasts together an evening or two in Ramadan. This, we feel, would give us a needed sense of community and togetherness during the sacred month which many of us are accustomed to spending with our families and friends at home in typical years.

Guest Speakers

$1000 (inflated)

The MSA would like to invite guest speakers to host virtual events in which topics such as the intersection between student life and religious life, how to navigate academic and personal challenges as a Muslim, and maintaining iman (faith) in a society where that faith is socially stigmatized are explored. Qaid Hassan (qhassan@haverford.edu), a Haverford alum and MSA leader, plans to work with the Sociology department to compose a list of speakers and invite them to virtual functions that would be beneficial for the community on campus to engage in, Muslim and non-Muslim students and staff alike. Funding is kindly requested so we can pay these speakers for their time and preparation.

Additional Comments:
This sounds like a great speaker series! We aren't rejecting this event, just go through Student Engagement Funding weekly process to get the money and they can help you sign contracts and other stuff.

Next Steps:

- Use $250 to fund Ramadan iftar events for on-campus MSA members
- Create a list of guest speakers based on themes of discussion
  - Determine their availability
  - Determine the charge
  - Submit a weekly funding request form 2 weeks prior to the event
