ALUMNI FUND REPORT

The space devoted in this issue to the Report of the 1951 Alumni Fund has been paid for by the Fund Office. This enables the GARNET LETTER to remain within its budget, and at the same time saves the college the costs of publishing a separate Fund Raising Report.

BALTIMORE CLUB SALE

The metal tray and waste basket set with the picture of Parrish Hall on it is still being offered for sale by the Swarthmore Club of Baltimore. They make an attractive set for a den or library or they can be obtained as single items alone.

The charge is $4.00 each pp. or $8.00 a set pp. Checks for each purchase should be made payable to the Swarthmore Club of Baltimore and the checks may be sent to Mrs. Richard Post, 308 Broxton Road, Baltimore 12, Maryland.

The sets will make handsome Christmas gifts to some alumni friends.

COOPER LECTURES PUBLISHED

The 1950-51 William J. Cooper Foundation lectures, "National Security and Civil Liberties," has recently been published by the University of Pennsylvania Press under the title, Civil Liberties Under Attack.

Lecturers for the series included Henry Steele Commager, Professor of History at Columbia University; Robert K. Carr, Professor of Law and Political Science at Dartmouth College; Zechariah Chafee, Jr., Professor at Harvard University; Walter Gellhorn, Professor of Law at Columbia University; Curtis Bok, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, Philadelphia; and James P. Baxter, III, President of Williams College.

Swarthmore's own Professor Clair Wilcox edited and wrote a foreword for the volume which is a record of one of the most timely of the Cooper lectures.

WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP REQUIREMENTS CHANGED

For the information of all interested alumnae the terms of the Lucretia Mott and Martha E. Tyson Fellowships have been modified to take cognizance of changing conditions on campus.

The major change in the Lucretia Mott Fellowship is that a thesis is no longer required of each applicant. A seminar paper or a term paper will now fulfill that requirement.

The Martha E. Tyson Fellowship is now open to undergraduates who plan to teach on the elementary or secondary levels, as well as to those women who are already experienced teachers. Details may be obtained from the Dean of Women, Swarthmore College.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN GIVE 25 FELLOWSHIPS

The American Association of University Women announces 25 fellowships to young women who have completed two years' residence work for the Ph.D. degree or have already received the degree. Awards include money for study abroad, research or writing. Write Secretary, Committee on Fellowship Awards, A.A.U.W., 1634 Eye St., N.W., Washington 6, D. C.

NEW RECORD FOR ALUMNI FUND

Swarthmore's 1951 Alumni Fund ended successfully on June 30 and exceeded its goal of $90,000. This, in a year of world confusion, bespeaks the support of an active alumni.

Total contributions amounted to $90,574.42, which was higher than any of the previous yearly campaigns. Moreover the number of contributors was also the highest in Alumni Fund history. In all, 2975 loyal and faithful Swarthmoreans made gifts—this being better than one out of every three living persons who ever attended Swarthmore.

As compared with the 1950 Alumni Fund, which was itself a record breaker, the 1951 Fund was $16,290.39 greater and had 170 more donors.

The success of the Alumni Fund is due to the faithful support of Swarthmore by its alumni and to the energy and hard work of the Alumni Fund Committee which has been led with continuing zeal for the past three years by its chairman, Isaac G. Darlington '07. In particular, a fine job was done by the corps of class agents who devoted their time and energy to telling the Alumni Fund story to their classmates in all college generations.

Chairman Isaac G. Darlington, '07, New Alumni Association President William F. Lee, '33, College Vice-President Joseph B. Shane, '25, and retiring Association President Jack B. Thompson, '27, photographed at campaign's end.

The Class of 1915 led all others in amount subscribed to the Alumni Fund — a total of $3789. Earl A. Hunter was its class agent. The Class of 1914 was a close second in this category — its agent, Edwin Randall Murch, reporting $3675.

By number of donors, the Class of 1949 was the leader with a total of 151, its agent being Chalmers C. Stroup, Jr. The Class of 1950 (James I. Reilly) was second.

Based upon percentage of class members contributing, the Class of 1906 (Emma Jane Wilson Shoemaker) was first-place winner, and the Class of 1907 (Helen Ridgway Cooley) was second.

The class with the greatest increase in percent of participation was 1926—with E. Dillwyn Parrish as agent. In second place in this respect was the Class of 1897 (Robert Pyle).

Development Program

Our yearly Alumni Fund is the keystone of Swarthmore's continuous and permanent Development Program, as discussed at some length in the 1950 fund-raising report.

The Development Program is a blueprint for building that is never completed. It includes funds from various sources. In addition to the unrestricted annual giving program, a total of $35,373 was given by alumni and designated for special purposes. Non-alumni parents contributed $10,504 for scholarships. This part of the program was administered by a parents' committee under the direction of Senator Ralph E. Flanders. Various research grants totaled $75,000 and other friends of Swarthmore contributed $18,000 for various designated purposes. All of these gifts, including the Annual Alumni Fund, amounted to $229,319.37.

The importance to Swarthmore of all these sources cannot be minimized, but it is the consistent generrosity, year after year, of faithful alumni and the enthusiastic support of the new alumni added to the ranks that helps make this program an unqualified success. It is this sort of cooperation that makes Swarthmore what it is, the kind of a college we are happy to support, so that it will continue to be at the forefront of American education.

Committee Reports

At its last meeting the Executive Committee of the Development Fund received reports not only from the Alumni Fund and Parents' Committees but also from the Bequests and Public Relations Committees. The committees for the Science Foundation and Women's Dormitory did not function during the year, although fund solicitation by the college administration continued.

The Public Relations Committee under the chairmanship of Boyd T. Barnard '17 and composed of Board, Alumni and Faculty members has carefully planned a program which includes alumni, students, parents, community, Society of Friends, schools, industries and foundations.

The Committee on Bequests headed by Claude C. Smith '14 has done much to familiarize alumni and friends of the needs of the college. Three thousand brochures entitled "Assuring Swarthmore's Future" were distributed to trust officers and bank presidents throughout the country. Alumni attorneys were informed of the work of this committee and of the importance of bequests, large or small, to the college. During the past year increasing numbers of bequests or trusts indicate a growing interest in providing for Swarthmore College. Provisions have been made for different purposes, outright gifts, general endowment, scholarships, etc. Bequests or trusts may be made providing income for life for the donor, or for others, the remainder ultimately to be received by the college. A suggested form of bequest is: "I give and bequeath to Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, $....." (If it is desired that the fund or income therefrom be devoted to any particular use, it may be specified.)

The college announces with pleasure that John S. Clement '08 has accepted the chairmanship of the Development Program for the coming year. Isaac G. Darlington, Claude C. Smith, and Boyd T. Barnard will all continue in their present capacities.

See pages 22-29 for a recapitulation of gifts by class and the lists of donors during 1950-1951.

INTRODUCING THE CLASS OF 1955

A new class of 245 Freshmen is now getting settled on the campus as the Swarthmore Class of 1955.

Altogether, there were more than 1100 applications for admission to this year's class. The sharp decline in enrollments, particularly of men which was anticipated as a result of the Korean situation did not materialize at Swarthmore. College enrollments have dropped only about 9% generally, but there was no drop whatever in the number of men seeking admission to Swarthmore.

College enrollments have dropped only about 5% in colleges generally, and there was no drop whatever in the number of men seeking admission to Swarthmore.

Selection of this year's freshmen was even a more difficult and trying task than usual because, for the first time, prospective students were not required to indicate to the College Entrance Examination Board their preference as to colleges. Thus it was impossible for the admissions committee to distinguish between the applications of those whose first preference was Swarthmore and of those who were filing "insurance" applications as protection in case of rejection by the school of their first choice.

There is a growing practice among prospective students to make multiple applications so that a higher percentage of acceptances of applications is necessary before the freshman class is filled.

Alumni Children Preferred

The Class of 1955 consists of 115 women and 130 men. Of these, there are 17 sons and daughters of Alumni, and 18 members of the Society of Friends. It is the college's policy to give preference to applicants from both of these groups who meet the requirements and as a matter of fact 22 children of Alumni were actually accepted by the Admissions Committee for this year's class. However, 9 of these, after filing applications and being notified of their acceptance, advised the college that they planned to enroll elsewhere.

A total of 55% of the new freshmen come from public schools in the U. S. 41% come from private schools, and 4% are foreign students. About one in every four freshmen will receive

Swarthmoreans whose sons and daughters are members of the new Freshman Class are:

- MARY WILSON MILAM '17, son John, Millbrook (N. Y.) School.
ALLEN I. MYERS '18, son Henry Allen, Hagerstown (Md.) High School.
EDWARD E. BARTLESON '21, daughter Ann, Millburn H. S., Short Hills, N. J.
ELLEN HAYES SCHULTZ '22, daughter Sonia, George School.
ELIZABETH STAMFORD SHARPLESS '26 and PAUL SHARPLESS '22 (deceased), son Paul, Swarthmore High School.
ALBERT W. PRESTON '23, twin sons Albert W., Jr. and Thomas Arthur, Crafton (Pa.) High School.
ISABEL JONES ROSENBERRY '26, daughter Phoebe, West Chester High School.
RUSSELL ROBERT HARRIS '27, son Russell Robert, Jr., Haddonfield Memorial High School.
KATHARINE SNYDER SASSE '27, daughter Katharine, Tucson (Ariz.) High School.
ESTHER FELTER MALLONEE '28, daughter Esther, Park School, Baltimore.
WILMER KRUSEN GALLAGHER '29, son Wilmer, Friends School, Baltimore.
PAUL M. JAMES '29, son Paul, Jr., Friends Central, Phila.
VIRGINIA STRATTON CORNELL '30 and JULIEN D. CORNELL '30, son Martin, Fieldston School, New York City.
MERIDA GREY WORTH '30 and C. BROOKE WORTH '31, daughter Valerie, Bishop Cotton Girls' School, Mysore, India.
JANET PARRY CULIN '34, daughter Barbara, George School.
FLORENCE KOHN ABRAHAMS '31, son Roger David, Cheltenham (Pa.) High School.
GLADYS CISNEY TRISMEN '25, daughter Maude D., Rollins College. Maude will do special work at Swarthmore in music.

scholarship aid of one kind or another—all of it going to outstanding and desirable students who could not attend Swarthmore without such financial aid.

Other Freshmen

Other members of the Class of 1955 include a concert 'celloist and a ranking junior tennis player.

Jerry Goodman, from the town of Swarthmore, is the 'celloist. Jerry played first 'celloist in the Pennsylvania All-State Orchestra, won the Music League competition, and during the past summer was a member of a string quartet which included Pierre Monteux, nationally known conductor. Tim Coss, of Washington, D. C., was National Indoor Boys' Double Champion and is ranked number two outdoors. During the summer Tim played in scholastic and junior tournaments in the East and Middlewest.

Freshman Clinton Fink, Lakewood, Ohio, is the first Scott Lilly scholar. This scholarship, endowed by Jacob T. Schless '14, is in honor of the former distinguished Professor of Engineering.

Foreign Students

Swarthmore continues to maintain its cosmopolitan atmosphere with the usual contingent of foreign students. There are students from such distant places as Jordan, Germany, Nigeria, Japan, France, Israel and Yugoslavia.

The Swarthmore Student Service Fund made it possible for Gleb Demjanenko, a native of Yugoslavia, to enter Swarthmore. Gleb was a forced laborer in Germany at the age of 14 but he escaped to the U. S. occupied zone of Germany shortly before VE Day where he has since completed his education. He plans to study chemistry.

From Japan, under the sponsorship of the Institute of International Education, a government sponsored project for the re-education of Japanese students, comes Shozo Kadota. Shozo was educated in American language schools in Japan and worked for the GHQ, Far Eastern Command in Tokyo.

From the same Friends school in Jordan which produced Ali Al Yasir, Swarthmore soccer star of the Class of 1951, come Farouk Barakat and Constantine Inglessis.

First Swarthmore student from the new country of Israel is David Hattis. David's father is a graduate of Northwestern University and a certified public accountant in Haifa.

Football on the Rebound

With fourteen lettermen and a number of experienced non-lettermen returning, Coach Lew Elverson hopes for a better than average season this fall. These men will provide the depth-in-position that was perhaps the outstanding reason for last season's poor showing. In several games, Swarthmore scored first, led at half-time, only to lose because exhausted and unrelieved men could not stem the tide.

The Garnet will use a single wing system exclusively this season. Last year the team used the "T" and the single-wing, but the material this year seems to indicate that the exclusive use of the latter will be more successful.

Captain of this year's team and mainstay of the line is Bob Asplundh of Bryn Athyn, son of Les Asplundh '23. Bob is a senior. Bob Howell, son of Charles "Cap" Howell '19, is also a member of this year's squad. He is a junior, a letterman and another bulwark in the line. Among the freshman out for the football team are the sons of Paul M. James '29 and Mary Wilson Milam '17. Paul James, Jr., was a standout athlete and student at Friends Central and John Milam was a varsity lineman for three years at Millbrook. He also won letters in baseball and track. Other freshmen prospects include Scott Cooper from North Park Academy in Chicago where he was 1950 All-Conference center (2nd team) and Henry Bode, Jr., open scholar from St. George's School in Rhode Island.

Soccer Prospects

The 1951 soccer team faces two problems in replacing offensive spark-plug, Ali Al Yasir, who was graduated, and defensive ace, All-American goalie Roger Pott, who departed to the military service. Coach Bob Dunn has eight lettermen and six ex-JV booters with whom he hopes to replace these two outstanding players.

Sons of alumni are among those expected once more to give standout performances. Steve Clark, captain and halfback (son of Allen G. Clark '22 and Cornelia Coy Clark '23), Art Lewis (son of Anne Gault Lewis '22) and George Place (son of G. W. Place '21) are all seniors with much soccer experience. Place may well step into Ali Al Yasir's role of offensive playmaker. Among the candidates for the important spot of goalie is another son of an alumnus, Orville Wright, Jr., son of Orville Wright '30.

Freshmen talent for the soccer team includes Frank Martin from Haverford School, who was an outstanding Interac player; James White, All-Illinois State selection, and Harold Kipp, Shadyside Prep, Pittsburgh, All-Interstate prep school star.

Cross Country

Cross-country this fall also has its problems. Gone are some of the veterans from last season although Captain Avery Harrington, a consistent point winner, and three other lettermen will be back to bolster the team.

Hockey

The most promising of all the fall sports is women's hockey. Virtually all the team that compiled a record last year of 3 wins, 2 ties and 2 losses is back, including All-College center-half, Cornelia Wheeler. The team faces a seven-game schedule.

Letter winners from last year who are returning and who are daughters of alumni are Sue Slaugh (daughter of Frances Wills '21) and Sally Richards (daughter of Peirce L. Richards '27 and Lily Tily Richards '29). Dagmar Strandberg (daughter of Anna Sjostrom Strandberg '25) is also a member of the team.

One of the freshmen candidates for a position is Esther Mallonee, daughter of Esther Felter Mallonee '28.

FACULTY ON LEAVE

It has been said that a college is as strong as its faculty. If the demand from outside agencies to secure Swarthmore professors and the granting of fellowships is any indication of strength then our faculty is good.

The college has a well-established policy of sabbatical leaves. It believes strongly that vital teaching depends upon the growth of its teachers. Naturally any institution is proud when members of its staff are invited by industries, government agencies, or foundations to conduct or contribute to important research. The college has cooperated in such requests since in the long run the students in the classroom will themselves benefit from the experiences of the professors through enriched teaching.

During this academic year one will find members of the faculty in distant and sometimes remote places throughout the world.

Jenkins in Korea

One of these is Howard Jenkins '20, chairman of the department of Electrical Engineering. His work during the year will take him to various air bases in this country, to Tokyo and to Korea. He is part of "Operation Analysis," a civilian group of scientists doing non-laboratory planning research.

Also on that side of the world is Willis Weatherford of the Economics department. In conjunction with the Point Four economic aid program of the State Department, Mr. Weatherford is directing a project of the American Friends Service Committee, locating and setting them up "technical assistance units" in India. This work takes a number of different forms. It may mean moving villages out of areas to be flooded by irrigation projects and setting up elsewhere. Demonstration of better methods of agriculture, of storing and handling food are also part of his work. Problems in public health are dealt with and small scale industries may be started.

Originally Mr. Weatherford's leave was only for last spring, but an extension for the fall semester has been granted. This will permit him to work in Pakistan in addition to India, and to stop in southern Italy on the return trip this winter.

Garrett Works for Army

Negotiations are well under way with the Office of Ordnance Research, U. S. Army, to finance a project suggested by Prof. Milan W. Garrett of the Physics department who will be on leave this year. He plans to continue and to extend some recent theoretical research of his, leading to new and better designs of coils for producing and measuring magnetic fields. This is the result of considerable refinement of what was previously known and thought possible in this phase of physics. Such coils have a number of important applications in present-day experimental research, particularly nuclear research, in degaussing of ships, and in the construction of precise instruments for measuring magnetic fields. Prof. Garrett's work at the moment is confined to theory and design.

Moore to Travel

The Edward W. Hazen Foundation in New Haven has asked Registrar John M. Moore to make a study of typical programs of general education in schools in various sections of the country. General education is the attempt to break down the sharp lines of division between areas of knowledge known in the colleges and universities as departments, say, of history or psychology. Moore will try to find out especially what kind and how much emphasis is put upon the teaching of religious ideas and values.

FORD FOUNDATION GRANTS

Grants from the Ford Foundation Fund for the Advancement of Education have been awarded to two Swarthmore teachers. They are James A. Field, Jr., assistant professor of history and Erna F. Schneider, instructor in philosophy. Prof. Field will use his grant to work on a book on Anglo-American relations. Miss Schneider, who is interested in the philosophy of science, will study on the campus with her grant. She will do advanced work with the physics and mathematics departments.

Only Swarthmore — of all the colleges in the Philadelphia area — was fortunate enough to have two members of its faculty awarded Ford grants.

Professor Wolfgang Köhler of the Psychology department will use his leave to continue work on a research project carried on with the facilities and his colleagues at the University of Chicago. With a grant from the Commonwealth Fund he will conduct psychological and physiological experimentation trying to find out how the brain operates. Prof. Köhler feels that the present theory of brain action by which electrical impulses are carried through the nerves is inadequate. His work will attempt to formulate an alternate theory to the one at present generally accepted.

Honorary Degree to Kohler

Incidentally, Prof. Köhler was one of three outstanding scientists in the country who were awarded honorary degrees of Doctor of Science at the June convocation of the University of Chicago.

Working on a part-time basis has enabled Professor Clair Wilcox of the economics department to serve as a member of President Truman's five-man Materials Policy Commission in Washington. This commission has made a study of the problem of the supply in basic raw materials for the next 25 years. Professor Wilcox's own work had to do with the prospects of the supply of iron and steel in the free world.

Other leaves have been granted to Professor Reuning of the German department who will continue his work in semantic studies, and to Professor Wallach, of the Psychology department, who will teach and conduct the experimental psychology laboratory at the New School for Social Research in New York City.

Professor Edward A. Cox, chairman of the department of chemistry, will be on leave the second semester on a Fulbright Fellowship. He will be attached to the faculty of science at the University of Montpellier, France.

Two professors have been granted extensions of their present leaves. One is Frederick B. Tolles, librarian of the Friends Historical Library and association professor of history, who has a three-year extension which he will spend on the research staff of the Huntington Library in California.

The other is Dr. Neal Weber of the department of Zoology. Dr. Weber

IN TRIBUTE TO CHARLES FRANCIS JENKINS 1865-1951

The following brief memorial to Swarthmore's Charles Francis Jenkins was written for the GARNET LETTER by Richmond P. Miller, alumnus of the Class of 1924.

Miller is Field Secretary of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends. He also was the author of the article on Charles Francis Jenkins which appeared in the Friends Intelligencer July 14, 1951.

The death of Charles Francis Jenkins on Seventh month 2nd, 1951, at the age of eighty-five brought to a conclusion a distinguished period of forty-seven years as a member of the Board of Managers. Only one other member of the Board of Managers of Swarthmore College gave a longer term of service to the College. (Isaac Hallowell Clothier was a Manager from 1873 until his death in 1921.)

As a relatively young Friend, Charles Francis Jenkins was elected a Manager in 1904, became Vice-president in 1920, and President in 1933. When he retired in 1944 as Chairman of the Board and President of the Corporation he became an Emeritus Manager so that for well over half of his lifetime he gave generously of his energy, wisdom, and resources to Swarthmore College.

For thirty-eight of his forty years as an active Board member he was chairman of the Trusts Committee. His fellow members on his resignation recorded their consensus that "much of the success of the investment program of the College has been due first to his judgment and experience and second to his unswerving devotion to the details connected with the operation of the committee."

Nason Pays Tribute

At the memorial Meeting for Worship held for him at his home and hemlock arboretum "Far Country" in Germantown, Philadelphia, President John W. Nason was among those who spoke in tribute to him. "Businessman, horticulturist, historian, biographer, poet, Charles Francis Jenkins was a man of many interests and great breadth of culture. Deeply concerned with education and devoted to Swarthmore College, he was himself a proof of the fact that one need not go to college to be highly educated. Those who had the privilege of knowing him will always cherish the memory of a man who combined an urbane culture and a charming personality with strongly guarded friendly principles, a person of extraordinary versatility, of literary, historical and scientific interests, a public benefactor and a warm, private friend."

Shortly after it was founded by his uncle, Wilmer Atkinson, he became associated with the Farm Journal. As editor, publisher, and chairman of the board, he guided it into the largest farm magazine circulation in the world. That was his vocation in life. But by no means was it his only calling, for everything to which he turned his mind and heart and energy became a dominating interest and concern for him and all those about him.

Intelligencer Board Member

For forty years he was one of the most active members of the board of managers of the Friends Intelligencer and its treasurer. For forty-two years he was Clerk of Green Street Monthly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends. For forty-seven years he was the President of the Buck Hill Falls corporation and the beloved patriarch of the whole community. When the American Friends Service Committee was founded he was its first treasurer and served for thirteen years. He helped to found the Ozone golf club and the Friends Social Union which did so much to bring all Friends in Philadelphia closer to organic union.

In 1944 he was named by the Governor as chairman of the William Penn Tercentenary Committee which made Penn's anniversary one of the great occasions in the history of the Commonwealth. At his death he was the president of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania.

Swarthmore College was always high among the multitudinous interests of his versatile life. To the College he gave the Howard M. Jenkins professorship of Quaker History and Research, in memory of his father. Swarthmore, Haverford and Pennsylvania all honored themselves by conferring academic honors upon him.

Penn Gives Degree

When he was presented for the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the University of Pennsylvania his citation read: "In your busy life as publisher and director of important enterprises of trust, you have found time to serve as faithfully the interest of educational and charitable institutions, often as an officer. As an author, your writings have been well received, both by the public and by the historians, who seek but the truth. A member of the Society of Friends, the Inner Light has illumined your life. Trust is your reward, wisdom your companion, and the truth your heart's desire."

Last year Maria Cope Jenkins and Charles Francis Jenkins commemorated the 60th anniversary of their marriage together. Their surviving children are Algernon Sidney Jenkins, Isabel Jenkins Booth '16, and Edward Cope Jenkins '27. Four brothers and sisters survive: Anna Jenkins Webster '87, Edward Atkinson Jenkins '92, Arthur Hugh Jenkins '01, and Florence Jenkins. There are twelve grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren.

This life merits a full-length biography and some day it will be written. Swarthmore has lost another of its loyal friends and servants. "A good life hath its number of days: but a good name endureth forever. . . . Let us now praise famous men. . . . The Lord hath wrought in them great glory."

Richmond P. Miller '24

DANIEL UNDERHILL DIES

Daniel Underhill

The death of Daniel Underhill on July 1st at his home in Jericho, New York, inevitably saddens those who knew him. Daniel Underhill was a graduate of the college in the class of 1894, and a former member of the Board of Managers. By profession a lawyer and banker, he was a partner in the law firm of Underhill and Foster. He served for years as president, and at the time of his death, was chairman of the Bank of Hicksville in Long Island. He was also associated in various capacities with a number of other banks.

Mr. Underhill was an active member of the Society of Friends, and secretary of the Jericho Meeting. An active alumnus of Swarthmore College, he served as a Member of the Board from 1899 to 1909 and from 1912 until 1939. A letter from his wife, Bertha Underhill, states that next to his home, he loved Swarthmore best. To this end he gave a scholarship, awarded annually, in memory of his grandfather, a member of the first Board of Managers.

His classmates will remember him as President of the senior class during the first semester and as commencement speaker. He held membership in Delta Epsilon fraternity, the Delphic Literary Society and the Mandolin Club. He was an enthusiastic mountain climber and a member of various Alpine clubs.

Swarthmore College owes much to the members of the Underhill family. Two were members of the Committee which solicited subscriptions for the founding of the college. Six, including Daniel Underhill, have been members of the Board of Managers. The death of such a tolerant, wise and kindly man is a loss not only to the college but to the world at large. It provides the occasion for expressing the deep appreciation owed by the college to him and to a family so prominent in its history.

SWAIN MEMORIAL BOOK NOW IN COLLEGE LIBRARY

When Joseph Swain retired from the presidency of Swarthmore College thirty years ago, he was presented with a volume of reminiscent and laudatory letters. The idea for the volume came from his fellow administrator and warm admirer, Dean William Alexander. The book has been recently acquired by the college library.

The letters are in a beautiful morocco binding which bears in gold lettering the legend: "Of what should a man be proud if not of his friends." Among them are many from college and university presidents of an earlier era: to pick a random half-dozen, Aley of Maine, Bryan of Indiana, Coffman of Minnesota, Jessup of Iowa, Thompson of Ohio State and Wilbur of Leland Stanford. There are many from a bygone generation of Swarthmore teachers including: William Hyde Appleton, G. F. Blessing, Elizabeth Powell Bond, Isabelle Bronk, R. C. Brooks, Harold Goddard, George A. Hoadley, Jesse H. Holmes, William I. Hull, Henrietta Josephine Meeteer, John A. Miller, Paul M. Pearson and Spencer Trotter. From distinguished alumni there are, as examples, letters of Bird T. Baldwin, Morris L. Clothier, Howard Cooper Johnson, Governor William B. Sproul and Henry Turner.

Joseph Swain became president of Swarthmore in 1902 and served until 1921. He died, six years after retirement, one month short of his seventieth birthday.

The letters comprise a varied and fascinating revelation of the accomplishments and personality of an early outstanding builder of the Swarthmore of today.

SWARTHMORE AND SCIENCE

If you ever find yourself in the midst of a big college vs. small college discussion sometime, here are some handy statistics for the battle.

A recent study by two Wesleyan professors, H. B. Goodrich and R. H. Knapp, published in both Scientific American and Science, indicates that small liberal arts colleges produce more of the nation's scientists than the large universities and that Swarthmore College is on the list of those which are most productive. Based on a study of classes graduating in the decade between 1924-34, 30 of every 1000 of our men graduates have earned their Ph.D.'s in science and are listed in the American Men of Science.

Another interesting fact brought out by the survey is the dominant position of Middle Western and Western schools. Only eight institutions in the New England and Middle Atlantic states were listed among the first fifty in the country. These are Massachusetts State, Haverford, Clark, Johns Hopkins, Wesleyan, Swarthmore, Rochester, and Lebanon Valley.

Knapp and Goodrich felt their findings showed "the very large and rather unexpected contributions made by small liberal arts colleges to the training of American scientists." They concluded, "The future of the scientific profession would be affected by any policy that neglected their well-being."

will continue his work in establishing a zoology department at the University of Iraq in Baghdad.

Leaves have been granted to four other professors who plan to write books. Frederic Klees (second semester leave), plans a novel with Pennsylvania Dutch background for MacMillan. Prof. Roland Pennock (first semester), will collaborate with Prof. Cook of Johns Hopkins on a textbook, Introduction to Political Science. Dr. Solomon Asch (second semester), plans a psychology textbook to be published next year by Prentice Hall. Prof. Theodore von Laue of the history department, with a senior fellowship at the Institute of Russian Studies at Columbia University, is writing a study of Count Witte.

NEW TERM BRINGS CAMPUS CHANGES

The start of the new college year finds a number of additions and improvements to the grounds and buildings at college — although from outward appearances the beautiful campus may seem unchanged.

Deep underground there is a new $12,000 high-pressure water main which gives the entire college added fire protection. It runs from Chester Road, near the entrance to the library road, up across the campus to the east end of Parrish, then turns and runs past Beardsley Hall, terminating at Whittier drive near the baseball field. Most of last college year the campus was scarred by the trench dug for the line, but this has now disappeared.

In Parrish Hall, where hundreds of co-eds have trod bare wooden and cork-covered floors, the corridors now have a new look. Some 12,000 square feet of new, attractive brown and tan asphalt tile has been laid over the dormitory hallways. Walking through them is now a quiet, pleasant experience, and all the baths and North Wing have received the same treatment.

Parrish, too, has been equipped with a new and modern fire alarm system.

Women's Pool Closed

The women's swimming pool in the Somerville gymnasium has been closed, although its 75,000 gallons of water are being retained as a reservoir for fire protection.

Two injuries sustained by women divers last year led to a thorough study of the women's pool by Red Cross experts at the request of the Board of Managers. It was decided the pool facilities were not as adequate as was desirable, even though it has been used for many years without serious mishaps.

Reconstruction of the pool would have cost nearly as much as building a new one — and could not be guaranteed against leaks. As an economy measure, therefore, it was concluded to use the pool in the Hall gymnasium for both men's and women's swimming.

The old handball court in the Hall gym has been converted into a women's dressing room, completely equipped including electric hairdryers. These will also be available to visiting football players who will use the place as a locker room on Saturday afternoons this fall.

The walls of the pool have been given a glistening white coat of paint, and the balcony overlooking the pool has been removed and only one small window now overlooks the pool. A new convector-type heating system has been installed, which is the pride and joy of Superintendent Harry Wood.

Army at Mary Lyon

Parts of three of the college-owned buildings of the old Mary Lyon School on Harvard Avenue are now occupied as a U. S. Army anti-aircraft artillery command headquarters. Its motor pool will be located at the foot of the Mary Lyon hill on Yale Avenue, behind Strath Haven Inn. Soldiers attached to the outfit are an everyday sight around the lower campus and in the village of Swarthmore.

LIGHTNING STRIKES CLOTHIER

During a crashing thunderstorm this summer, lightning struck the southwest corner of the top of the tower of Clothier Memorial. A 300-pound stone was knocked loose and fell, burying itself in the ground near the steps leading toward the fraternity houses. No damage except for one juniper bush which sustained a few broken branches.

Pennsylvania State College continues to occupy Mary Lyon Building No. 3 — while the rest of the buildings are used by faculty and men undergraduates.

All three of the former Prep School Buildings on Chester Road are serving this year as women's dormitories. Since 1947, Roberts Hall, the corner building of the group, has been a dormitory for married students, mostly veterans, and their families. It has been extensively redecorated over the summer.

Woolman House, the French House, was suddenly, a week before students arrived, converted into a dormitory for men. Unlike the conversion at Roberts Hall, which involved removing kitchen equipment and complete redecoration, Woolman needed little overhauling.

The new Morris L. Clothier fields are now ready for football games with a beautiful green turf, but it will be impractical for the team to play there this year. National defense programs and lack of funds make it impossible for the college to obtain metal needed for grandstands so the football team will have to use Alumni Field and the old stands this year. This will not cause complications since it is not possible to begin the planned building program at this time.
