DR. CHAO CHU WU REPLACES TELLEZ AT CHAUTAUQUA

Opening Program Next Tuesday Evening in Big Tent Near Prep School

TICKETS SELLING WELL

Dr. Chao Chu Wu, Chinese Minister to the United States, will be the feature speaker at Chautauqua in Swarthmore next week instead of Don Manuel Tellez, Mexican Ambassador, who was scheduled to speak. Senor Tellez will be unable to speak because of the pressure of official business.

Season tickets for Chautauqua have been selling rapidly this week and the men and women who have been visiting practically every home in the Borough report excellent results. Even at this early date it appears that enough tickets will be sold to crowd the big tent on the Prep School grounds every night.

The program this year will start next Tuesday the afternoon of the 11th. It will continue afternoon and evening for the 11th, the 12th, the 13th and the 14th. R. Chester Spencer, who heads the guarantors, says that he is very much encouraged by the reports of tickets sold and believes that there will be a good sized balance to turn over to the library.

Seldom if ever has Chautauqua brought to Swarthmore a man of higher position than Dr. Wu. At the present time it seems likely that the speaker will be in Swarthmore all day of the 13th and if this is the case he will be entertained by Swarthmore people and shown the places of interest near the Borough.

It is probable that a dinner will be given in his honor at the Strath Haven Inn before his address. Dr. William T. Ellis, who has traveled widely in the Orient, will act as superintendent at Chautauqua the night that Dr. Wu speaks.

Dr. Wu is the son of the noted Wu Tingfang, Chinese Ambassador twenty-five years ago, whose oriental philosophy and modern ideas made him a social lion and a much sought platform speaker.

Receiving his early education in Atlantic City, Dr. Wu was graduated in 1904 and was valedictorian of his class. His college education was completed in London.

Dr. Wu has been in politics more than fifteen years. He was Mayor of Canton under the regime of the famous president Sun Yat-Sen. He has rapidly risen to the fore and is considered one of the most far-seeing, progressive statesmen of China. He was a member of the Chinese delegation at Versailles in 1919, and later was appointed Minister of Foreign Affairs.

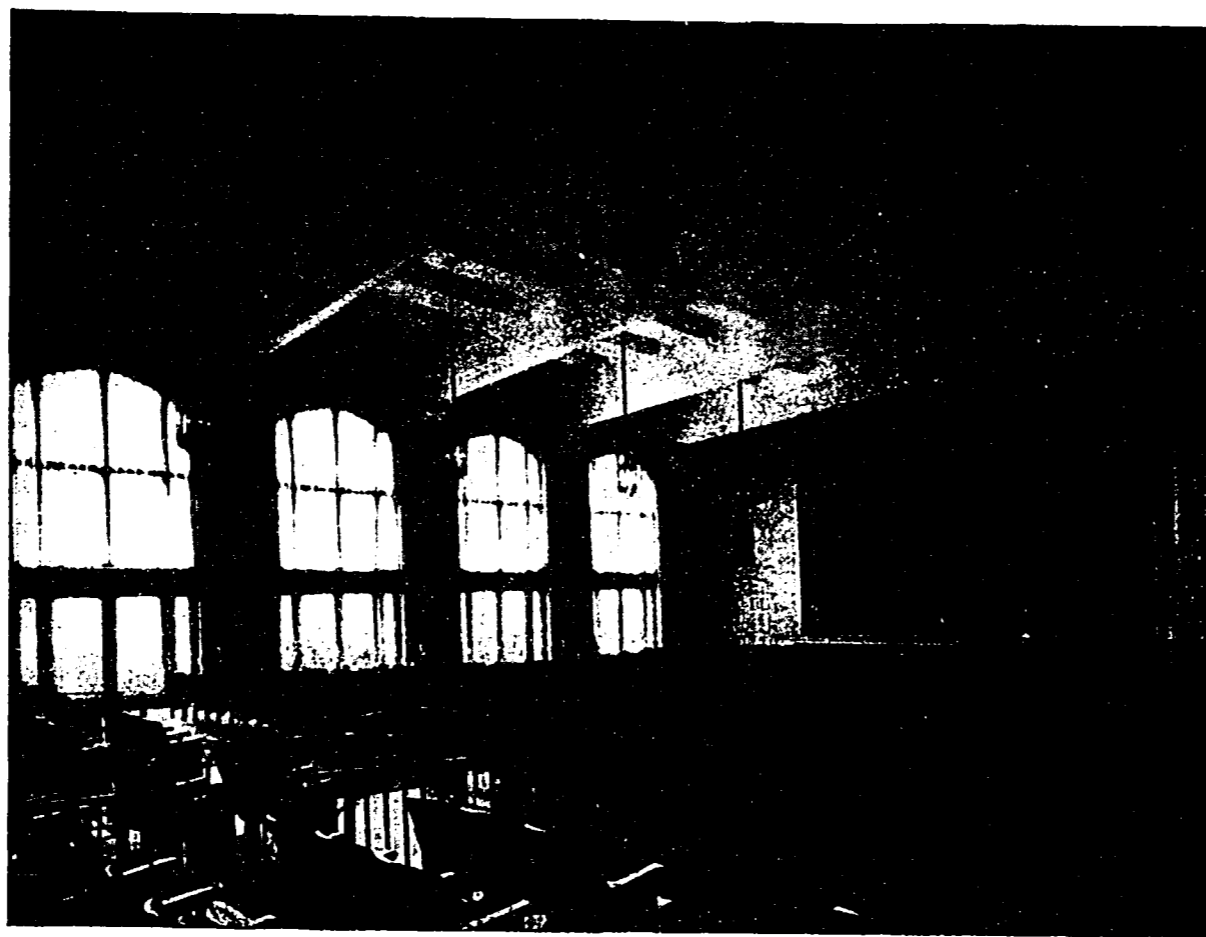

Dr. Wu has had a great part in shaping the nationalist government. He is a conservative; is opposed to the Soviet methods in China and also opposed to the incursions of the Japanese into Manchuria.

In 1927, he was sent to the various foreign capitals to present China's present-day problems. His tour ended in the United States, where he was designated to negotiate a new commercial treaty with us. At the conclusion of this task he was appointed Minister to the United States for the Republic of China.

Last August, Dr. Wu very forcefully and clearly explained the Chinese situation to the members of the International Political Conference held at Williamstown, Massachusetts.

You will be interested in hearing Dr. Wu. His great knowledge of international politics, his American education and his oriental background gives him a foresight into affairs and conditions that are interesting and instructive.

TENNIS CLUB SEEKS MEMBERS

Lose First Match of Year—To Use Five Courts At College

HOME MATCHES SOON

Swarthmore's tennis club, for many years an organization which has brought the Borough recognition of leading tennis players in and around Philadelphia, has started on this year's schedule. The members of the club this year as well as the team consisting of the best players who meet teams from other tennis clubs will use five of the men's tennis courts at the college. These courts will be in good condition the end of this week.

John Fricke is president of the club this year and is desirous along with the other officers of securing a large number of members so that sufficient revenue will be provided to keep the courts in good condition.

Memberships this year are $7.50 for men, $5.00 for women and $5.00 for children. The officers are seeking at least fifty members. Membership permits the holder to all of the privileges of the five college courts at all times.

The other officers for this year in addition to John Fricke, president, are: Dean Parker, treasurer; William Brown, vice president, and Morris Lee, captain.

One Neighbor's Impression of The Station Square Services

By A Neighbor

Doubtless the news columns of The Swarthmorean are covering adequately the impressive celebration of Memorial Day at Station Square—the fine array of war veterans, Home Guards, women war workers, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and citizens; the planting of flags in front of the Monument in honor of our local soldiers who died during the war; the singing of patriotic songs; the three-fold salute fired by uniformed Legionaries; and the clear, informing and inspiring historical address by Mr. William Matos.

More significant to this neighbor than any other aspect of one of the most impressive patriotic services ever held in the Borough, was the presence of the children their number and quality. Scores and scores of boys and girls watched and listened, open-eyed and open-eared. The impression upon their plastic minds quite justified the celebration.

No such group of youngsters ever followed the Pied Piper of Hamelin. Their quality was even more notable than their numbers. Every child showed the care of an intelligent home. Their health and wholesomeness were manifest. They revealed to this writer that Swarthmore is a children's town; a happy home for the best type of boys and girls. These are our real "leading citizens"; and we are proud of them.

Anything that Swarthmore can do for the safety and happiness and development of this rare lot of youngsters should be done promptly and without question. The best possible argument for a public playground was this array of enthusiastic children. They are the supreme reason for adequately guarding the railway crossing at Swarthmore avenue. They justify the labors that have brought the public library into being. Their right to the best that the Public Schools can do is apparent.

We keep faith with all that is noblest in our Country's and in our community's past by conserving the highest values of childhood. Ours should be—indeed, is—a neighborhood which will never fail the nation and the world, if we keep faith with our boys and girls.

MEETING CALLED TO DISCUSS REMOVAL OF GRADE CROSSING

County and Borough Authorities to Meet With R. R. and State Men

SEEK SPEEDY SOLUTION

Representatives of the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania R. R., Swarthmore Borough, and Delaware County will meet next Friday evening at the Strath Haven Inn to discuss the elimination of the grade crossing at Chester road.

The invitations to the meeting are being sent out by the Public Service Commission, but the gathering will be a small private one for the purpose of reaching a definite conclusion about going ahead with the removal of the grade crossing here and the building of the proposed tunnel.

County Engineer George S. Wright and the county solicitors, as well as the county commissioners, Birney, Drewes and Desmond, will attend the meeting. Some months ago Elwood B. Chapman, of Swarthmore entered a complaint with the Public Service Commission relative to the unsafe condition of the railroad crossing on Chester road.

The invitation to attend the conference was issued by Secretary Krausse, of the Public Service Commission, which authorized this conference at which time will be discussed the cost of eliminating the dangerous situation.

Chairman Birney, of the board of county commissioners stated yesterday that the cost of eliminating the present grade crossing by whatever engineering method that may be adopted, will be very high, but it is the county's duty to play its part in the saving of lives.

The conferees will be the guest at the luncheon of Mr. Chapman.

Preliminary plans to eliminate the grade crossing have already been prepared and will be presented at the conference. These plans together with the allocation of costs will be the major discussion at the conference.

SWARTHMORE WOMEN ENTERTAINED AT GARDENS

On last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Lovett Frescoln was hostess to eleven Swarthmore women at a luncheon in Paoli, after which, under the auspices of the American Horticultural Society, they visited the gardens of Clarence Geist, Jasper Hackett and Robert Page. Those in the party were Mrs. Chester Spencer, Mrs. Robert Farringer, Mrs. F. M. Sawyer, Mrs. Edwin Bye, Mrs. Bayard Morrison, Mrs. John Gensemer, Mrs. George Zimmer, Mrs. E. O. Lange, Mrs. Rosalie Roberts, Mrs. Charles Israel and Mrs. W. R. Lands.

The women were very enthusiastic over the beauty of the gardens visited and believe it very worth while to plan visits to these places which the Horticultural Society have selected.

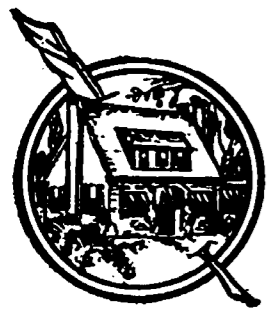

LEGION MEDALS GIVEN HI SCHOOL PUPILS

The American Legion medals given annually by the Harold Ainsworth Post to the boy and girl in the Swarthmore High School ranking highest in scholarship, loyalty to the school, character and general ability, were awarded this week to Frank Williams, son of Dr. F. E. Williams and Mrs. Williams, of Amherst avenue, presented by Dean Raymond Walters, and to Elizabeth Main, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Main, of Cedar Lane, presented by Mrs. Eliza Ulrich Ullman.

JUNE FESTIVAL AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Presbyterian Church will hold its June Festival on Thursday, June 13, from 5.30 to 8.30. A cafeteria supper will be served and cakes and candies will be on sale. Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop is in charge.

The Luncheon Club Idea Grows

The suggestion that a weekly luncheon club for the men of Swarthmore be organized has met with general approval during the past week. The consensus of opinion seems to be in favor of starting such a club and then later turning it into a Kiwanis or Rotary Club, if that seems suitable.

Elric Sprot, of the Swarthmore National Bank and Trust Company, believes that the idea is a good one and that there are enough men in town who should be interested in the project to make it a success.

George Gillespie, of Gillespie and Company, also thinks that the idea of a weekly luncheon club is worth a trial. Clarence Hannum, of Hannum

CHILDREN RESPOND TO REQUEST FOR FLOWERS

The children of Swarthmore responded to the call for daisies to be taken to the flower booth at 6th street station last Saturday and a large automobile was taxed to the limit to carry them. They were distributed to the Mercy Hospital and the Calvary Neighborhood House.

The people of Swarthmore are urged to send flowers to any of the booths maintained by the Art Alliance. If there are not enough of the cultivated blooms in our home gardens the wild flowers are just as welcome.

In last week's issue of The Swarthmorean it was suggested that a weekly luncheon club be organized in Swarthmore to make it possible for the men who earn their living in the borough to become better acquainted and to promote worth while civic projects.

DECIDE ON PLAYGROUND AT MEETING NEXT WEEK

Final decision as to whether or not a public playground will be provided for the children of Swarthmore at the College avenue building will be reached at a conference to be held next week between members of the School Board and the Committee representing the Home and School Association. The meeting will be called at the convenience of Dr. E. Leroy Mercer, chairman of the Home and School committee.

This action was decided upon at the meeting of the school board Tuesday evening. At that meeting the Board adopted a certain policy that they would follow regarding the public playground and they will present their stand for the acceptance or the refusal of the Home and School committee at next week's meeting.

As a result of the questionnaire sent out to the parents of children in the fifth grade or below, it was indicated that the playground is desired by a great many people.

113 different families replied to the questionnaire. This represented about forty per cent of the total number sent out. Of the 113 replies, 94 favored the playground and 19 were definitely opposed to the idea. It was learned that 148 children between the ages of three and fourteen would make use of the playground this summer if it were provided.

DISPLAY OF POSTERS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

An interesting display of foreign travel posters are now on display at the Public Library in Borough Hall. The posters are beautifully colored and on Monday of next week the children will be asked to vote for the poster which appeals to them most. Children are urged to come and select the poster which they think most beautiful.

The Library was beautified this week by flowers sent by the Garden Committee of the Woman's Club. Twenty-eight new books were added to the Library last week. One hundred and fifty volumes were borrowed. Fifty per cent of the books were taken out by children. Contributions from ten cents to a dollar are continually being made to the library according to Miss Grace Lindale. More new members are also being secured.

GARDEN COMMITTEE THANKED FOR FLOWERS

The Southwark Neighborhood House extends sincere thanks to the Garden Committee of the Woman's Club of Swarthmore, who, through the efforts of the chairman, Mrs. George Zimmer, provided so many beautiful flowers for the Annual Flower Market, held in Jefferson Square, Saturday, June 1.

Although there were many other alluring activities, such as a circus, grab bags, ice cream and toy booths, it was the flower table that proved most attractive to the children. The decision between a penny's worth of iris, roses, sweet william and forget-me-nots was accomplished only after a long and painful struggle and not until the flower booth was sold out did the children turn toward home completely happy with a colorful bouquet.

MRS. HOOVER TELLS THE PRESIDENT ABOUT CHIEF OF POLICE ROGERI

Swarthmore was pleased to entertain an unusually distinguished guest last week when Mrs. Herbert Hoover was present to attend the Commencement Exercises at the college and receive an honorary degree.

Mrs. Hoover was met at R. R. Station in Philadelphia by Wilson M. Powell, president of the Board of Managers, and Richmond Miller, one of the younger members of the faculty at the college. From the very first, Mrs. Hoover knew that she was going to enjoy her visit at Swarthmore for there was no fuss at the station and no one new of her arrival but the two men from the college.

In complete secrecy she was taken by motor to the home of Mrs. Joseph Swain in Wallingford, where she spent the night. For many years have Mrs. Swain and Mrs. Hoover been friends and the late Dr. Joseph Swain was at one time an instructor of President Hoover's at Leland Stanford.

Not a little bit did Mrs. Hoover marvel at the trees and the beauty of Swarthmore's campus. Her charm and graciousness won the hearts of all who saw her at the Commencement Exercises or had the honor of meeting her at the tea held at the home of President and Mrs. Aydelotte in the afternoon.

Not the least among those who met her was John Rogeri, our gallant and spirited chief of police.

But let John tell about it in his own words: "I was so excited that I forgot I was in America and when Mrs. Hoover offered me her hand I kissed it. I didn't know I was going to do it but just on the impulse I couldn't help myself."

The best story about Mrs. Hoover's visit in Swarthmore came back to Burgess Thayer who passed it along to us.

Mrs. Swain stayed over night at the White House and when she was having breakfast the next morning with the president and Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Hoover told him about her visit to Swarthmore.

She paid a high tribute to Swarthmore's police force and said that Chief Rogeri handled himself with exceptional correctness in deportment and was the best officer she had met on her trip.

It will be recalled that Mrs. Hoover's visit to Swarthmore followed a trip to New England and other points, so that her compliment was really worth considerable.

ELECT NEW TEAM LEADERS AT COLLEGE

Four of next year's spring sports captains were elected at the college during the past week. The new team leaders are Bob Redman, baseball, Bert Hammell, tennis, Harry Heward, lacrosse, and Henry Parrish, track.

Bob Redman has been a varsity baseball catcher for the past two years and has been doing very creditable work. He is a varsity back on the Garnet football eleven and a guard on the basketball team. Besides being a three letterman he was elected to the presidency of the college Athletic Association and is a Book and Key man. He is taking the place of Bert Adelman, this year's captain.

Bert Hammell, the new tennis leader, has played number one on the team since his freshman year and was Captain two years ago. He has defeated such tennis celebrities as Lavine of Penn and stands eleventh in the Middle Atlantic States tennis rating. He also plays on the varsity soccer team and is a member of the basketball squad. He is a Book and Key man and next president of the Mens Student Government Association.

Harry Heward as the new lacrosse captain has been a consistent Little Quaker scorer since the first game his freshman year and has done excellent work at his position of first attack. He was leading Garnet scorer this season until a leg injury sustained in the Princeton game put him on the bench. Heward is also a varsity end on the football team.

The new track leader, Henry Parrish, has been one of the highest scorers among the Swarthmore cindermen since his first year and holds the College high hurdle record and has tied the time for low hurdle race, he also runs on the mile relay team. Parrish plays end on the football team and is a basketball center.

FRIDAY JUNE 7, 1929

Thanking Mr. Emmons

Few individuals have by a single act given more to the people of Swarthmore and particularly to the children than Louis Cole Emmons by building his lovely swimming pool and opening it to the public.

This year it is rumored that Mr. Emmons will not open his pool to the residents of the borough. It seems that certain users of the pool have conducted themselves unbecomingly and have given little evidence of their appreciation of Mr. Emmons' generosity.

Now that there is some likelihood that the pool will not be available this summer, great is the lamentation and wringing of hands.

"Swarthmore will be impossible this summer without Mr. Emmons' pool" say some of the people who expect to spend most of the summer at home.

"What can we do with the youngsters? Where will they learn to swim? Where shall we cool off in the evenings? These questions are coming thick and fast."

Mr. Emmons when called the other evening and asked to state definitely whether or not the pool would be opened this year said he had not decided but admitted that there was ground for the rumors that he would keep it strictly for private use.

Perhaps the possibility of losing this summer oasis will arouse some of us to keener appreciation of Mr. Emmons' kindness during the past few years. We have come to take Mr. Emmons' pool too much for granted. Few of us stop to think of the thousand of dollars he has spent building this pool and keeping it in good condition. The small fee paid by the users of the pool each year scarcely pays the salary of a man to guard the welfare of the swimmers and children.

After a refreshing swim at Emmons', as the conclusion of a hot summer day, there is not much that any of us would not do to show Mr. Emmons our appreciation. Yet few of us have ever gone out of our way to say thank you. In fact most of us have considered the pool a gift of nature without even a thought of how it came about.

We hope that Mr. Emmons will reconsider his inclination towards closing the pool and that soon the Swarthmore youngsters and oldsters will be splashing about with the joy and abandon of other seasons. And we further hope that all of us who have enjoyed its refreshing coolness on a summer day will take advantage when an opportunity offers to let Mr. Emmons know that we appreciate what he has done for all of us.

Park Avenue Parking

It is about time that Chief Rogeri and his men get out the paint cans and brushes and try improving the parking situation along Park Avenue between Dartmouth Avenue and Chester Road.

At nearly any time of day cars may be seen nosed into the curb at all sorts of angles. It is our understanding that cars

OUTDOOR SKETCHING

Adult and Children's Classes

Tricker School of Art

405 Dartmouth Ave. Entrance thru Dew Drop Inn

are to be parked with both wheels close to the curb. Either this ruling should be enforced or Borough Council should take steps to have the street widened so that cars can be parked at an angle.

We should like to call attention to another danger for the person who has to park his car along Park Avenue near Dartmouth for a few minutes. This is the danger of one of the fire trucks swinging around the corner and taking the rear end of a car which is parked too near the corner of Dartmouth Avenue and Park Avenue. Frequently cars are parked at this point so that they entirely block the pedestrian crossing.

A Word to The Wise

Swarthmore's sense of solidarity and of social responsibility will have opportunity for expression on Thursday, June 13, when the official representative of the largest and oldest nation on earth will be our guest.

Honorable C. C. Wu, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the Republic of China to the United States, will be present in Swarthmore on the evening of June 13, to bring to our citizens a good-will message, and light upon the world's most important political situation.

There is no need to stress the importance of this occasion. The official representative of China is to be Swarthmore's guest. All considerations of social obligation, of community courtesy, and of international good will should constrain every representative Swarthmorean to be present on this occasion, whether or not the other sessions of the Chautauqua are attended. None of our leading citizens should be absent.

Doubtless, also, arrangements will be made for some sort of formal civic reception to this distinguished leader of

Correspondence

Editor of the Swarthmorean:

To the older generation of Swarthmore the passing of Mrs. Dayton W. Hulbert is a new occasion to realize her strikingly beautiful character. She and her husband both were to us of that generation part of the quality that made Swarthmore so lovable—for, while trees, flowers, beautiful homes, the glory of education and community life have been attractive, they do not compare with the beautiful characters which we have all known in the various religious groups and even outside of them. Mrs. Hulbert was one of them.

It is ridiculous to hear the ignorant learned talk of the decay of religion when one has known people like Mr. and Mrs. Hulbert. I shall never forget one day, shortly after her husband's death, when she got on the train at West Philadelphia and sat down beside me. "I have been to Laurel Hill's, said she, and have been thinking how Dayton would want to be to meet such a time as this, and I know he would not want me to mourn in darkness as though he were lost. I am going to live and be as happy as though he were here. That is what he would want, wouldn't he?"

And she did. She never grew old or stale. She drank of the fountain of immortal youth to the very last. Burton Alva Konkle

GROUND BROKEN FOR AUDITORIUM

A very opportune addition to the exercises of Commencement Day and to the announcement of the successful completion of the Educational Endowment Drive came in the ceremonies of "turning the sod" for the new Isaac H. Clothier Memorial Auditorium, which were held immediately after the commencement program. The entire commencement audience, as well as the Board of Managers, Faculty and 200 graduates, proceeded to the area of the Observatory, where the Clothier Memorial is to be located. At these very impressive ceremonies, Mrs. Isaac H. Clothier, the widow of the member of the Board of Managers whose memory the imposing edifice will be erected, was the particular guest of honor. Other members of the Clothier family were also present to witness the turning of the first spadeful of earth, which marks the construction of what will be one of Swarthmore's beauty spots.

After the completion of Commencement proper, the assembly gathered around the Observatory to turn the last spadeful of dirt. A new pick and shovel, supplied by Karcher and Smith, architects of the new building, were in hand. The new spadeful was wielded by President Aydelotte, Wilson M. Powell, president of the Board of Managers, Henry C. Turner and others. Great applause greeted this work of taking the initial step to begin the material progress of this newest memorial addition to the college campus.

According to the present plans of construction will cost approximately one half a million dollars and will be situated on the present site of the Sprout Observatory. In order to permit this advantageous location of the Memorial, the Sprout Observatory, home of the department of mathematics and astronomy, will be moved to the triangle of the athletic field, now occupied by the water tower. This is regarded as an ideal location for the Observatory for observations of sky phenomena.

It is planned to have the new building face toward the Asphalturn. This will allow a full view from the center of Swarthmore's grounds. The building itself will probably be constructed of a stone very similar to Worth Hall and other college buildings. The memorial will not be a building in the true sense of the word, but better said a group of buildings, connected in cloister effect. These buildings will include the memorial auditorium, the large tower, one of its most distinguishing features and space for administration offices. The architecture of the building is described as "Cotswold", which is a type of early English structure, sometimes called "Simplified Tudor."

VALENTINE TO BE NEW SWARTHMORE DEAN

At the Alumni Luncheon Saturday, May 25, President Aydelotte announced the resignation of Dr. Dettler W. Bronk from the faculty of Swarthmore college to become director of the newly established Johnson Foundation for Research in Medical Physics at the University of Pennsylvania and Johnson Professor of Bio-Physics in the medical school of the university. Dr. Bronk's successor as dean of men will be Alan C. Valentine, assistant professor of English, who will take on his administrative work while continuing as a member of the English department. He will also be in complete charge of the admission of men.

Mr. Valentine graduated from Swarthmore in the class of 1921, being very prominent in undergraduate activities. He won high scholastic standing, including election to Phi Beta Kappa. His activities in college included Editor of the Swarthmore Phoenix, and a member of the football and lacrosse teams for three years. In 1922 he was an instructor in the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, and took his master's degree there. Mr. Valentine was the first Swarthmore man to win a Rhodes Scholarship to the University of Oxford. As a member of Balliol College, Mr. Valentine became very active in undergraduate life at Oxford. He was the winner of the

WOMEN VOTERS TO STUDY LEGISLATION

The Delaware County League of Women Voters will hold summer classes at their headquarters, Jackson street, below Jefferson street, Media, Pa., for the study of "What a member of the League of Women Voters should know in 1929 about Maternity-Infancy Legislation."

The first class will meet Friday, June 7, at 2:30 p. m.; the second, Friday, July 12, at 10:30 a. m., and the third Friday, August 9, at 10:30 a. m.

While these meetings are intended primarily for members of the league, everyone interested is invited to attend, so that women generally may be fully informed regarding this important legislation.

Women all over the country gave ardent support to the Sheppard-Towner Act, which expires June 30, 1929. The Newton Bill, which was intended to extend the provisions of the Sheppard-Towner act for a further period of five years, to July 1, 1934, was favorably reported by the committee, but with the adjournment of the Seventeenth Congress March 4th last, this bill died on the calendar. A new maternity-infancy act is required, therefore, to carry on the important work started by the Sheppard-Towner Act, including state appropriations for child hygiene, and providing for the dissemination of public knowledge of material and infant care, resulting in the reduction of infant mortality. Such an act will be presented to the next regular session of Congress, and every public spirited woman should be well informed as to its provisions, so that she may give it her intelligent support.

MRS. ASHTON'S PUPILS IN FINAL RECITAL

Mrs. George T. Ashton gave her last pupils' recital of the season on Friday, May 31. The pupils played a delightful and entirely memorized programme of solos and duets. The programme was distinguished by beauty of tone, sureness of touch and musical appreciation that is seldom experienced in a pupils' recital. Mrs. Ashton gives her pupils splendid technique and teaches them to understand what they are expressing, and to feel and interpret the composer's mood.

A listener from year to year is conscious of Mrs. Ashton's pupils developing not only musical ability but personality. Under her patience and steady guidance the pupils leave off nervous self-consciousness and develop a style of their own.

During the course of the programme some charming explanations were given by the pupils, of the various compositions played.

The younger pupils who took part were Barbara Bassett, Jane Richardson, Edith Woodruff, Rebecca Robinson, Irma Zimmer, Delia Marshall, Betty Johnson, Cynthia Wickham, and Doreen Mitchell. The older group consisted of Alethea Avery, Elizabeth Bassett, Louise Istort, and Sally Fisher, daughter of Dorothy Canfield Fisher, the writer.

Among the compositions played were those of Bach, Heller, Mozart, Gretchanihoff, Ravel, Schmetz, MacDowell, Schubert, Chopin and Beethoven.

The playing of the pupils showed serious practice and an evident desire to give of their best.

Much praise for the splendid performance is due to Mrs. Ashton as a teacher; as Dorothy Canfield Fisher expressed it in a note of appreciation: "I think it is wonderful that you do so much in such a meagre allowance of time."

DR. AND MRS. W. M. HAYES COMING HERE TO SPEAK

Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, the congregation of the Presbyterian Church will give a public reception to Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Watson M. Hayes. For many years Dr. and Mrs. Hayes have been entirely supported in their work in China by this church. Dr. Hayes is president of the Theological Seminary in Tientsin, Shantung, China, and has rendered most distinguished service there. His field has been in the center of the war which has been raging in China but the property of the school has, fortunately, not been disturbed although the work has been suspended during the most acute stage of hostilities.

Dr. Hayes will address the congregation at the regular service next Sunday morning and will speak informally on Wednesday. At this reception a generous purse of appreciation will be presented to Dr. and Mrs. Hayes for their personal use. Mr. Carroll Thayer, with Mrs. Helen M. Marr, Elder Frederick Simons and Mrs. James W. Laws are the committee in charge of raising the funds for the purse. The programme of the reception is in charge of Mr. J. Harlan Jessup as chairman of the committee of arrangements. During their stay in Swarthmore, Dr. and Mrs. Hayes will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Everton Ramsey and Mrs. Helen M. Marr.

The late Rev. George H. Marr and family and his brothers and sisters gave a memorial chapel to Dr. Hayes' ministry.

LOCAL GIRL RECEIVES HONORS AT OBERLIN

Miss Elinor Moore is among those to receive scholarship honors at Oberlin College announced President Ernest Hatch Wilkins in chapel today. Miss Moore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moore, 221 Park avenue, and a graduate of the Swarthmore High School.

Miss Moore, a Junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, stands in the upper tenth of her class. As the class numbers 277 this is a very high distinction. The standards of scholarship at Oberlin are rigidly maintained and with double the numbers of students applying each year that can be accepted anyone who is on the honor roll must be an exceptionally fine student.

PLANS TO INCREASE RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP

A movement for a greater Red Cross membership in Pennsylvania is now under way, following a conference of local Red Cross in its disaster relief work and the need of greater membership. At present, the Red Cross enrollment in Pennsylvania represents 4.4 per cent of the total population. The new goal is set at 6 1/2 per cent. The Red Cross holds its annual membership campaign in November.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hutter Hulbert The Swarthmore Presbyterian Church and a wide circle of friends have been plunged in deep sorrow by the death on Thursday, May 31, of Mrs. Elizabeth Hulbert, widow of the late Dayton Whipple Hulbert. Mrs. Hulbert had been very ill for the past eight weeks with a complication of troubles but appeared to be on the road to recovery, although still in a serious condition, when a severe attack of heart difficulty occurred on Wednesday evening of last week, from which she could not rally. She passed away quietly on Thursday evening at the Media Hospital where she had been during her illness.

Mrs. Hulbert was a native of Philadelphia but for many years had been one of the best known residents of Swarthmore. Here, with her husband, she was foremost in every good work. When the present Presbyterian Church was organized both she and her husband were among the most active persons connected with the movement and became charter members.

For thirty-three and one-half years, Mrs. Hulbert has been a member of this church, sharing in all its activities, contributing generously to its support and holding many positions of importance in its work.

While her special interest in the latter years of her life has been in the Woman's Bible Class, of which she has been an officer and valued councillor, she has never ceased her active co-operation in all that related to the life of the church. Few among its members will be more missed. Her Christian faith and spirit, her interest in everyone, her sympathy and love for people, her deep enjoyment of the beauty of the world around her, her simplicity and genuineness all gave her an unusual place in the thought and affection of all who knew her.

Mrs. Hulbert leaves two sisters, older than herself, whose homes are in Philadelphia, and two daughters, Mrs. James Bacon Douglas and Mrs. J. Donald Gibson, both residing in Swarthmore. The funeral service was held on Tuesday afternoon of this week from the church with which she had so long been identified and which she loved and served so faithfully, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Tuttle officiating.

The pall bearers were the two sons, Whipple Hulbert, Mr. James Bacon Douglas and two grandsons, Hulbert Douglas and James Bacon Douglas, Jr. The interment was in the family lot in West Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia. The casket on Wednesday evening of last week, from which she could not rally. She passed away quietly on Thursday tion of the church and the community bore witness to the esteem and affection in which she was held.

Girl Scout Notes

The resignation of Captain Hazel B. Child from the Swarthmore Girl Scout Group is very much regretted. Mrs. Child took over the leadership of the troop three years ago when the membership was about twelve. The troop now numbers thirty-three, of whom four are first class, twenty-two, second class and seven tenderfoot.

In addition to these Captain Child organized a Brownie troop of twenty-four little girls, with a waiting list of more.

ANNUAL FIELD DAY AT SWARTHMORE HIGH

The annual Field Day for the elementary grades of the Swarthmore Public Schools will be held this morning, June 7, on the College Avenue grounds, beginning at nine o'clock. In the event of rain, Field Day will be held Monday morning, June 10. Field Day features the work of the Physical Education Department for the elementary grades. The day marks the culmination of the color contest that runs through the work of the year in all the grades. Each grade is divided into two groups, named the Garnets and Whites, after the school colors. Garnet and White teams meet in various games and sports throughout the year.

compelled to give up the work because of her many home duties but she leaves out the year, and a record of points scored is kept. The final contests are held on Field Day. This year a silver cup will be awarded to the color group having the highest point total.

Boy Scout Notes

Oh boy! That ice cream was good. You fellows who didn't come surely missed something. The feast was given by the Hall brothers. This was the last meeting which they would be able to meet with us and they treated all members present. We surely have enjoyed their work in the troop and will miss them greatly.

KELVINATOR Electric Refrigerators For the Home

The New Quiet Cabinet Kelvinator is hailed as the greatest engineering achievement in the history of electric refrigeration.

Even when you listen closely, it is difficult to tell when the new Kelvinator is in operation. Best of all, the silent Kelvinator will stay quiet even after years of service. Noticeable noise has been permanently and wholly eliminated through design and construction and the machine cannot become noisy through wear.

Never has an electric refrigerator come to the public so thoroughly proved and tested in every detail. Every part and every assembly has been reduced to scientific accuracy to conform to as are required in the automotive industry. To better visualize this, the most vital parts of the new Kelvinators are so accurately made that there is not permitted a variation greater than two-tenths of an inch.

There is no guesswork in the Silent Kelvinator of today. You are buying Proved Quality when you buy a Kelvinator.

Now more than a MILLION FRIGIDAIREs have been built

With every department of the Frigidaire factories running at maximum capacity, with orders greater than at any time in the history of the business, on Thursday, May 16th, the Millionth Frigidaire was built

In both the Household and Commercial fields Frigidaire leads in sales to customers

THERE are definite reasons why more Frigidaires are in use than all other makes of electric refrigerators combined; why it is the choice of home owners, of builders, of apartment owners, of commercial refrigeration users throughout the world.

Beauty, power and convenience

Frigidaire has surplus power that meets every emergency in the hottest weather, and yet operates economically always.

Frigidaire cabinets are beautiful—they are finished in gleaming porcelain enamel, or white Duro—clean and easy to keep clean. The mechanical part is completely enclosed and so quiet that you don't hear it start, stop, or run. Food shelves are elevated so that stooping is unnecessary.

The famous "Cold Control"

And in addition to the standard temperature regulator which automatically maintains an ideal temperature in the food compartment, Frigidaire is equipped with the famous "Cold Control" that speeds the freezing of ice cubes and makes possible dozens of new and delicious desserts and salads.

Low Prices

Because Frigidaire has achieved the million mark—because it is the overwhelming choice of the majority—the economies of quantity production have made prices so low that every model represents a tremendous saving to the buyer.

Our Town "Meeting"

ness experience to handle the financial affairs of the Board successfully.

The members of the School Board divide their duties, having the usual officers, of President, Vice-President, Treasurer, and Secretary; a Property Committee to attend to the keeping up of buildings and grounds; a Finance Committee to look after the finances; and a Committee on Education to pass on matters pertaining to the curriculum.

No group of directors could run the school of their own knowledge, but must depend upon a capable supervising principal for the development of the standards of the school as well as the curriculum, although the School Code is very definite concerning what may and may not be taught in various grades.

Perhaps the most important duty of the School Board, said Mr. Perry, is to plan for the future, and to see that these plans are carried out effectively and economically. The Board has already obtained a tract of about nine acres south of the railroad, to provide for a new school on the south side, and also to give room for football and baseball fields.

This fall, citizens will be asked to approve a loan for the construction of a new gymnasium, and for the purpose of acquiring more land from the College contiguous to the present High School building, so that an elementary school may be established on the north side.

In response to questions, Mr. Perry said that when the new school is built on the south side, the old Yale Avenue school building will probably be closed, as its location is undesirable for a school, and the building does not meet the State school requirements; it can then be used for emergency purposes as heretofore.

Dr. E. Leroy Mercer said that the Board of Health is appointed by Borough Council in accordance with a State law requiring every municipality to have a Board of Health.

Many years ago, Swarthmore had many and drastic private health laws. In the last ten years, however, the municipal laws are entirely those made by the State Health Board. The power of a local Board is the same as that of the State Board, including practical police power in carrying out quarantine and the sanitary inspection of restaurants, soda fountains, tea rooms, etc., and their employees, each employee being required to have a certificate of health issued by the local Board following the periodic inspection required by State law.

In Swarthmore, the work of the Health Board is made much easier by the hearty cooperation of the physicians and the people themselves.

Professor Harold Barnes gave an inspiring history of the development of the Swarthmore Public Library, from an earnest idea, living only in the minds and hearts of a few people, to an actual book-filled room, completely, though as yet perhaps meagerly equipped, and presided over by a bonafide librarian.

Only last fall, a community meeting elected the Library Board, who, lacking money, still had faith in the success of the library, and got together to consider means and means. Many people went out and canvassed for members at two dollars per member, and the people of Swarthmore subscribed eagerly.

Having this little fund, the Board were still without a room. This was taken up with the Borough Council who freely offered part of the auditorium on the second floor of Borough Hall, if the Board would make it ready for their use.

Then the call went out for workers, and one night in February, twenty men, equipped with tools, gathered in that room, and the library was built that night. Said Professor Barnes: "We have a good children's library; a good adult library; come see us, all of you, and help us make it a better library."

Mr. H. Roger Coleman said that in February, 1921, the Business and Civic Association was formed at Strath Haven Inn, the objects being to further the interests of the borough, to improve our civic standing, and to promote sociality.

The association meets once a month, following dinner, and while the attendance may not be large, all those present are really interested, and thus something is accomplished.

The association, of course, works with Borough Council, with which organization all plans are first discussed.

Some of the things already accomplished are: the equipment of the Short Line trolley station with adequate waiting room facilities; the placing of proper street signs throughout the borough; the adequate lighting of the Sprout Viaduct; and the distribution of baskets to the needy at Christmas time.

Efforts are now being made to obtain the assistance of the community in putting street numbers on every house, and in preventing thoughtless parking at the railway station which blocks the ingress and egress of arriving and departing vehicles.

The Business and Civic Association has cooperated with the Woman's Club in the development of safe and sane Fourth of July programs, and is now working with the Regional Planning Commission to relieve traffic on Chester Road, the idea being that a through road, which by-passes Swarthmore, would detour the through traffic from New York to Washington, without interfering with the local traffic which must of necessity center at the local railroad station and shopping district.

The Association is eager to have the cooperation of the citizens of Swarthmore, as obviously its suggestions to Council carry more weight when backed by a greater number of citizens.

The dues are three dollars a year, being the same for an individual or for a husband and wife, and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend the final meeting of the season, to be held at Strath Haven Inn on the evening of June 5th.

Dr. John Roxby said it was always a pleasure for him to speak any time, anywhere, of the Fire and Protective Association, whose members have so ably proved that they are ever willing to render service to the community; in case of fire, of course; but if a child is lost, there is a special signal, and a multitude of helpers scour the neighborhood; in any emergency, the men may be sworn in as deputy sheriffs, or as special policemen, and are ready to give whatever service may be required.

There are two classes of members in the Fire and Protective Association: the active members who do the work and who pay $2.00 a year; and the regular members who support the Association by paying $1.00 a year. This Association saves the taxpayers of Swarthmore about $2,000 a year by keeping the borough in Class A of fire risk, and in return, asks only that one member of each household shall join the Association at a cost of $5.00 a year.

Do you realize the annual population of Swarthmore, which the Fire Association must be prepared to protect? The College buildings, the Prep School, Mary Lyon School, the Public School buildings, the apartment houses, some of them converted residences. The Association has a ladder truck which will take care of any of these buildings, fully equipped both to permit the firemen to go into the densest smoke, and for resuscitation; the only truck of its kind within five or six miles, except in the city of Chester. The chemical truck has special apparatus, designed by the mechanically minded men of our own Association, and now accepted as standard by Fire Commissioners all over the United States.

The Swarthmore Fire Association has never felt it fitting to sell tickets, or otherwise to be mendicants from door to door. It expects the community to support it, and very soon, cards soliciting members will go out to Swarthmore citizens, and their hearty cooperation is asked in return for proven service.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered the speakers, and many individual expressions of appreciation for an interesting evening were given.

In the discussion, frequent mention was made of the Community House, which, while still a dream of the public spirited, may, like the Public Library, become a reality through faith and works. Housed in such a home, these valuable organizations contributing to the civic betterment of "OUR TOWN" could function with greater efficiency and lead the way to still greater improvements while adding to that friendly spirit which is Swarthmore's heritage of distinction and charm.

ENDOWMENT FUND TOPS TWO MILLION

Commencement Made Gala Event By Announcement Of Successful Drive

NEW FUNDS ESTABLISHED

Commencement at the college this year was of particular significance because it brought together the alumni to hear of the success of the Endowment Drive. Swarthmore alumni and friends have now contributed within a month enough money to raise the conditional gift of the General Education Board of $675,000 above the two million dollar mark.

One of the most gratifying of the last endowment announcements was the gift of $250,000, given by the noted philanthropist, Edward S. Harkness, of New York. This large sum places a stamp of approval on Swarthmore's educational policy by one who is both an authority and an interested spectator of progressive educational projects. It was this large gift which gave the ultimate assurance that the $675,000 Educational Board gift would become permanent.

Edward S. Harkness is one of the most prominent business men of New York. After graduation from St. Paul's School, New Hampshire, and Yale University, he became interested in the management of many railroads. At present he is a director of the Southern Pacific, the New York Central, the Michigan Central and others. He is also very interested in the work of the Presbyterian Hospital, New York, the New York Public Library and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Recently he donated eleven million to Harvard to be devoted to dividing Harvard into small colleges. He and his family are the donors of the beautiful Harkness Quad at Yale. Mr. Harkness is a keen student of educational ventures and his gift to Swarthmore is particularly gratifying.

Scott Foundation

At the Alumni Luncheon held Saturday President Aydelotte also announced the establishment of another Swarthmore Foundation at a cost of $75,000. This foundation is to be established in memory of the late Arthur H. Scott, former president of the Scott Paper Company, who graduated from Swarthmore in the class of '95, and is to be known as the Arthur Hoyt Scott Foundation of Horticulture. The sum total is composed of gifts contributed by his widow, Edith Wilder Scott, '96, of Rose Valley, and his sister, Mrs. Margaret Scott Moon and her husband, Owen Moon, '94, of Winston-Salem, N. C.

The terms of the foundation state that it "is created for three purposes: (1) The founding of an arboretum; (2) the development of floriculture; (3) the promotion of interest in better gardens." President Aydelotte explained that in the furtherance of these aims, three projects are proposed: the horticultural development of the Swarthmore campus, the Crum Creek region and the Crum-Martin woods, recently given by Dr. and Mrs. Martin; endowment of a chair of horticulture in the faculty at Swarthmore; and the annual award of a medal and a prize of $1,000 based on a nation-wide competition for outstanding service for better gardens.

Desire of Mr. Scott

President Aydelotte explained that the project for the development of the arboretum would fulfill an early dream and wish of Arthur H. Scott. His enthusiasm as a naturalist and flower lover led him to become a contributor to the Arnold Arboretum at Cambridge, and he always felt the need of a similar undertaking in the Philadelphia region. He knew Crum Creek and its territory since boyhood and college days and believed it was "an ideal location for such a project, having water and high land, rolling land and flat land, rock land and rich land, with all varieties of exposure." Mr. Scott enlisted the cooperation of his friend and classmate, Professor Samuel C. Palmer, of the Swarthmore Botany Department, of John C. Wister and other horticulturists in and around Philadelphia. The thought of Mr. Scott, left uncompleted by his sudden death in 1927, will now find fulfillment in the undertaking of his widow, his sister and various friends. This contribution is a happy addition to the Educational Endowment.

It has also been announced that part of the amount of special gifts to the endowment fund would be attached to the use of establishing a chair in honor of Dr. Edward Martin, '78.

NEW PLAYS COMING TO HEDGEROW THEATRE

Shaw, Ibsen and O'Neill side by side with the first work of a Chicago newspaper man, M. M. Musselman, are represented in the Hedgerow Theatre's program for next week.

Mr. Shaw, in a light and intriguing mood, upholds the beginning of the week with his "Arms and the Man." This play has been in the Hedgerow repertoire since October, 1927, but Tuesday, June 11th, will mark its first presentation this season at Hedgerow. Miss Dudley Vaughan, Ferd Nofer, Jean Sweidel, William Price, Harry Bellaver, Sue Platt and Pasper Deeter in the cast are unmistakable assurance of an evening's entertainment.

"Poker Face" which made its initial bow on any stage at Hedgerow on Friday, June 7th, and was most hilariously received by an enthusiastic audience—is the work of the unknown Mr. Musselman, who, through his work on Chicago newspapers over a period of years, knows his Chicago and his underworld rather thoroughly. That Jasper Deeter, director of Hedgerow, knows his Philadelphia is evidenced by the fact that he has bought "Poker Face," presented it at Hedgerow, and included it twice in next week's program—on Wednesday, June 12th and Saturday, June 15th. Allyn Joslyn, Kay Roma and Dudley Vaughan head an interesting cast including Harry Bellaver, Smith Dawless, Ferd Nofer and William Chaltee.

CHAUTAUQUA TO CLOSE WITH PLAY AT TENT TONIGHT

Minister Wu Pleases Large Audience at Thursday Night Program

PROCEEDS TO LIBRARY

Under a bright June sun with just enough breeze for comfort, Chautauqua opened Tuesday afternoon in the big tent on the Prep School grounds. Tonight the final program of the series will be given with the showing of the annual Chautauqua play which this year is "Skidding."

R. Chester Spencer and the other guarantors are working hard for a big attendance at tonight's program as the receipts from single admissions will help swell the profits to be turned over to the Library Association. As announced last week all of the profits from the sale of season tickets or single admissions will be given to the new Public Library.

The plays which Chautauqua has brought to Swarthmore in the past have always been enjoyable but it is hard to recall when a play has been brought which has met the success and gained the reputation that "Skidding" enjoys. This comedy of American life is one of the three plays now running in New York city which has been running the longest time.

It is a good wholesome drama which parents may bring their children to see, and yet it provides real drama and humor for the older folks. For the kind of a show that will make you sit back and forget the day's worries, "Skidding," is said to fill the bill.

All of the programs at Chautauqua during the past week have been well attended. Junior Chautauqua has also attracted a large number of Swarthmore children and the Junior Pageant will be given this afternoon.

Swarthmore has drawn from its ex-superintendents to fill the position of superintendent during the week. On Tuesday Mr. Spencer, who is head of the guarantors, introduced Harold Barnes as superintendent for that night and Wednesday night. Mr. Barnes undertook his work with typical Chautauqua enthusiasm and his cheery call at the close of Tuesday night's program of "tomorrow at 3 o'clock," made us suspect that his job for the night brought back fond memories.

Wednesday night, Dr. William T. Ellis acted as superintendent and tonight Dr. Jesse H. Holmes will make the announcements from the stage and see that everything runs smoothly.

The opening program consisting of a varied group of instrumental numbers and readings by the Faubels was very well received while the evening's program which consisted of other numbers by the Faubels as well as a lecture, "Around the World on one Leg," by Ellery Walter ended a perfect opening day.

Mr. Walter's lecture was very inspiring to say the least. That a youngster could fulfill his ambition of going around the world under the difficulties which he encountered cannot but inspire all who heard his story. Around the world is not a new story to many people of Swarthmore for so many Swarthmoreans travel widely but Mr. Walter's account of his experiences was so interspersed with anecdote and humor that he held the undivided attention of his audience.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet on Tuesday afternoon, June 18, at the home of the President, Mrs. George Van Alen, 211 Park avenue. This will be the last meeting for the season and members will please note the change in time from Wednesday to Tuesday afternoon at 3 P. M. A cordial invitation is extended to all who desire to do so to attend this meeting.

PLAYGROUND TO BE SETTLED TONIGHT

School Board to Meet With Members of H. and S. Committee

SEEK COMMITTEE OF TEN

Whether Swarthmore will have a public playground this summer or not will be determined tonight when members of the School board will meet with the Playground Committee of the Home and School Association.

Dr. E. Leroy Mercer, who has headed the Home and School Committee thus far, will be unable to attend the meeting and has asked that someone be secured to take his place on the committee as he will be out of town all summer. The other two members of the committee are Roy W. Delaplaine and Mrs. Harold G. Griffin.

Tonight the members of the Board will discuss the following points with the Home and School Committee:

1. Shall the College avenue grounds be open for the use of the children of the Borough of Swarthmore, on week days during the months of July and August, 1929?

2. Shall toilet facilities be provided at the College avenue building and at

COUNCIL RECEIVES CROSSING PROTESTS

Petition for Annexation of Tract Along Yale Avenue Received

SECRETARY IS NAMED

The Swarthmore avenue crossing, the annexation of property along Yale avenue between Michigan avenue and Cornell avenue, the annexation of certain Ridley Township properties beyond the borough limits at the end of Park avenue, the removal of the concrete parapet on Louis Cole Emmon's property on Swarthmore avenue, and drainage problems encountered by Clarke and Harvey on their Parrish and McGill tract, kept Council around the big table in Borough Hall until a late hour last Thursday night.

Councilman Paul Freedley presided in the absence of Horace T. Walter, president of council, who was unable to be present because of illness. Final appointment of Albert N. Garrett Jr. as borough secretary instead of merely acting secretary, was made.

After hearing the merits of various brands of fire hose council finally ordered 1000 feet from the Eureka Company. No adjectives were overlooked by the local automobile dealers in bidding to fill the order of a new police car for the borough. The order will be placed at the next meeting of council.

Dr. Arthur W. Ferguson attended the meeting and presented petitions signed by 387 persons protesting against the inadequate protection at the Swarthmore avenue R. R. crossing and asking that council endeavor to have the R. R. place a watchman or warning appliances at the crossing.

Mr. Freedley said that action would be taken as suggested and that while the petition showed the force of pub-

Railroad and Public Service Officials Meet With Local Men

WILL STUDY PLAN:

A meeting which is expected to develop into the first definite step towards the removal of the Pennsylvania R. R. grade crossing at Chester road will be held this evening at the Strath Haven Inn.

The meeting has been arranged by the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania and the guests will include L. N. Krause, chief engineer of the railroad section of the Public Service Commission, Robert Haig, Jr., his assistant, the three commissioners of Delaware County, Harry M. Birney, Charles H. Drewes and James F. Desmond, and the County Solicitor.

Wayne D. Meyers, of the State Highway Department, Horace Walter, Paul Freedley, Frank Reitzel, and Burgess Carroll Thayer, representing the Borough, Edward B. Temple, representing the Pennsylvania Railroad, President Frank Aydelotte and Nicholas Pittinger, representing Swarthmore College, and H. Roger Coleman and Elwood B. Chapman, representing the Business and Civic Association.

The engineering problems as well as the actual need for elimination of the crossing will be discussed at length and the plans which have already been drawn for elimination of the crossing will be shown to the Public Service representatives.

While the primary purpose of the meeting is for the discussion of the Chester road crossing it is probable that there will be some discussion of the Swarthmore avenue crossing. The petition presented to council at the meeting last Thursday will be turned over to the representatives of the railroad as an indication of public opinion regarding the crossing.

Some months ago Elwood B. Chapman, of Swarthmore, entered a complaint with the Public Service Commission relative to the unsafe condition of the railroad crossing on Chester road. The meeting tonight is the result of the filing of this complaint.

SUMMER SESSION OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Annual Summer School session for the Swarthmore School District will begin July 1 and close August 9. This summer session is held for the benefit of pupils who wish to make up work or do some extra work.

The classes will be held as previously in the College avenue building, and the entire school will be under the direction of C. A. Brinton.

Last year forty pupils attended the classes and a large attendance is expected this year.

MISS MILDRED SPENCER'S PUPILS IN RECITAL

A group of parents and friends of the pupils of Miss Mildred Spencer were guests at Miss Spencer's home studio last Saturday afternoon at the final pupils' recital of the season.

Among those taking part in the program were: Virginia Coffin, Ann Durnall, Dorothy Buck, Peggy Armitage, Louise Spencer, Louise Remont, Helen Underhill, Dorothy Underhill, Donald Lange and Gerard Bye.

Owing to illness, Dorothy Lueders and Sarah Jean Fraser, the first two on the program, were unable to appear.

The program was a most delightful one, including compositions of Hydn, Heler, Chopin, Mozart, Debussy, Beethoven, Schubert, Paderewski, Goddard and Grieg.

Each pupil played with an assurance that is quite rare among such young musicians; their technique and expression were most commendable.

Tea and a social hour followed the musical numbers, all of which were exceedingly entertaining.

CHAUTAUQUA TO CLOSE WITH PLAY AT TENT TONIGHT

Minister Wu Pleases Large Audience at Thursday Night Program

PROCEEDS TO LIBRARY

Under a bright June sun with just enough breeze for comfort, Chautauqua opened Tuesday afternoon in the big tent on the Prep School grounds. Tonight the final program of the series will be given with the showing of the annual Chautauqua play which this year is "Skidding."

R. Chester Spencer and the other guarantors are working hard for a big attendance at tonight's program as the receipts from single admissions will help swell the profits to be turned over to the Library Association. As announced last week all of the profits from the sale of season tickets or single admissions will be given to the new Public Library.

The plays which Chautauqua has brought to Swarthmore in the past have always been enjoyable but it is hard to recall when a play has been brought which has met the success and gained the reputation that "Skidding" enjoys. This comedy of American life is one of the three plays now running in New York city which has been running the longest time.

It is a good wholesome drama which parents may bring their children to see, and yet it provides real drama and humor for the older folks. For the kind of a show that will make you sit back and forget the day's worries, "Skidding," is said to fill the bill.

All of the programs at Chautauqua during the past week have been well attended. Junior Chautauqua has also attracted a large number of Swarthmore children and the Junior Pageant will be given this afternoon.

Swarthmore has drawn from its ex-superintendents to fill the position of superintendent during the week. On Tuesday Mr. Spencer, who is head of the guarantors, introduced Harold Barnes as superintendent for that night and Wednesday night. Mr. Barnes undertook his work with typical Chautauqua enthusiasm and his cheery call at the close of Tuesday night's program of "tomorrow at 3 o'clock," made us suspect that his job for the night brought back fond memories.

Wednesday night, Dr. William T. Ellis acted as superintendent and tonight Dr. Jesse H. Holmes will make the announcements from the stage and see that everything runs smoothly.

The opening program consisting of a varied group of instrumental numbers and readings by the Faubels was very well received while the evening's program which consisted of other numbers by the Faubels as well as a lecture, "Around the World on one Leg," by Elery Walter ended a perfect opening day.

Dr. Walter's lecture was very inspiring to say the least. That a youngster could fulfill his ambition of going around the world under the difficulties which he encountered cannot but inspire all who heard his story. Around the world is not a new story to many people of Swarthmore for so many Swarthmoreans travel widely but Mr. Walter's account of his experiences was so interspersed with anecdote and humor that he held the undivided attention of his audience.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET TUESDAY AFTERNOON

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet on Tuesday afternoon, June 18, at the home of the President, Mrs. George Van Alen, 211 Park avenue. This will be the last meeting for the season and members will please note the change in time from Wednesday to Tuesday afternoon at 3 P. M. A cordial invitation is extended to all who desire to do so to attend this meeting.

The other two members of the committee are Roy W. Delaplaine and Mrs. Harold G. Griffin.

Tonight the members of the Board will discuss the following points with the Home and School Committee:

COUNCIL RECEIVES CROSSING PROTESTS

Petition for Annexation of Tract Along Yale Avenue Received

SECRETARY IS NAMED

The Swarthmore avenue crossing, the annexation of property along Yale avenue between Michigan avenue and Cornell avenue, the annexation of certain Ridley Township properties beyond the borough limits at the end of Park avenue, the removal of the concrete parapet on Louis Cole Emmon's property on Swarthmore avenue, and drainage problems encountered by Clarke and Harvey on their Parrish and McGill tract, kept Council around the big table in Borough Hall until a late hour last Thursday night.

Councilman Paul Freedley presided in the absence of Horace T. Walter, president of council, who was unable to be present because of illness. Final appointment of Albert N. Garrett Jr. as borough secretary instead of merely acting secretary, was made.

After hearing the merits of various brands of fire hose council finally ordered 1000 feet from the Eureka Company. No adjectives were overlooked by the local automobile dealers in bidding to fill the order of a new police car for the borough. The order will be placed at the next meeting of council.

Dr. Arthur W. Ferguson attended the meeting and presented petitions signed by 387 persons protesting against the inadequate protection at the Swarthmore avenue R. R. crossing and asking that council endeavor to have the R. R. place a watchman or warning appliances at the crossing.

Mr. Freedley said that action would be taken as suggested and that while the petition showed the force of public opinion

"THE PRISONER" TO BE HEDGEROW SHOW

Alexander Berkman's translation of "The Prisoner" by Emil Bernhardt, will have its one and only performance this season at The Hedgerow Theatre, on Thursday evening, June 20th, with William Challee in the leading role. This intense drama of Siberia in 1917 makes its all too brief appearance in the Hedgerow repertoire due to Mr. Challee's limited stay at Hedgerow this season. Dudley Vaughan, Jesse Oser, Ferd Nofer, Jean Sweidel and Jasper Deeter are the supporting cast for "The Prisoner."

Lynn Riggs' "Rancour" has its second and last performance of the season at Hedgerow on Saturday evening, June 22. Dorothy Yockel, William Challee, Harry Bellaver, Dudley Vaughan and Ferd Nofer make up the very capable cast of "Rancour."

The almost phenomenal success of Mr. Deeter's new choice for the role of Brutus Jones, in the person of Wayland Rudd, is making Eugene O'Neill's "The Emperor-Jones" very active in the Hedgerow repertoire. "The Emperor-Jones" makes its fourth appearance in this season's repertoire on Tuesday evening, June 18th.

Wednesday, June 19th, marks the fourth performance of the new comedy surprise "Poker Face"—the work of the Chicago newspaperman, M. M. Musselman. Since its opening on June 7th "Poker Face" has been playing to capacity audiences at Hedgerow, and the advice is to come early and get your seat. The very worthy cast of "Poker Face" is headed by Allyn Joslyn, and includes Dudley Vaughan, Kay Roma, Harry Bellaver, Smith Davless, Ferd Nofer, Sue Platt, Ted McKay, Shepard Traube and William Challee.

Shaw's "Arms and the Man"—a great favorite with Hedgerow audiences for several seasons—is the offering on Friday, June 21st. The cast array is Ferd Nofer, Dudley Vaughan, Jean Sweidel, Ted McKay, Harry Bellaver, Sue Platt and Jasper Deeter.

TRUTHS FOR ALL

One of the most inspiring addresses made during the Commencement Week program at the College this year was the Baccalaureate Sermon which was given by Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, of the Memorial Church of St. Paul, Overbrook.

While his sermon was addressed to the young people who attended the services at Whittier House, it contained inspiration and food for thought for older people. Part of the sermon is reprinted below:

"If we state things swiftly and starkly, we may see why and wherein the modern mind sees things so differently from the mind of a former time. There is, first, the movement in philosophy which upset the idea of an outside, absentee God, and revealed God in His universe working out His purpose of creative goodwill; God the soul of the universe, His will its rhythm, His presence its consecration. It is a stupendous conception, and instead of a few miracles, hard to hold, it bids us behold a universe in which all things depend upon the mystery of an infinite will.

"Science added its revelation of the reign of law as the organized will of God, and of development as the Divine way of working, banishing whim and caprice from the faith and fear of man. Sadly disillusioned by sheer materialism, bitterly distrustful of a barren intellectualism, and dissatisfied with ecstasies, men are seeking God within, in where alone He can be found, knowing that the truth that makes all other truth true is not merely something to be learned, but something which we must become.

"Such tendencies, and others of a sort similar, have made the modern mind, and it is simply impossible for it to think in terms of the days gone by. Old things have passed away; there is a new point of view, a new spirit, a new method of approach. Since this is so, since we have made such amazing advances, I wish to make a protest against moral cynicism and spiritual defeatism of every sort, especially the sort exhibited by our younger intelligentsia. Their poems, stories, essays and dramas reveal a delicate, if rather erratic, artistry, but as interpretations of life they are a failure and a foolishness. Short gray sentences, clouded by confusion, heavy with mockery, celebrate death, dirt and despair—a dirge sung by old young men, ridiculously sad, sex-oppressed, spiritually bankrupt, with no moral standards, no courage, no hope. They are bereft of vision, mad for pleasure, but strangers to joy, too weary for adventure.

"What is the matter with America, the land of youth and hope, that its life should issue in frustration and futility? Something is wrong with our educational process, for surely we have a right to expect something beyond sophisticated stupidity and cackling cleverness, unwholesome, unfruitful, remote from the sagacities of living wisdom, making wise-cracks in the face of God, and dancing in the primrose path of cocktails and kisses.

"I feel that my earnest and urgent plea for leadership in the high enterprise of America will not be unheeded—a new kind of leadership toward a better ordering of society and a juster, clearer, more authentic interpretation of life. Surely it is not in vain that we look to our colleges for a leadership of men and women capable of straight and clear thought, who value moral integrity and the maintenance of spiritual ideals, a leadership intellectually authentic, spiritually free and fruitful and practically sagacious. If the history of the past is any token, we may hope for creative spiritual adventure to come from our centres of culture, as the mighty movements led by Wycliffe, Wesley and Newman came from the mother-bosom of Oxford.

"We are adventuring for God upon untried seas, trusting that good seamanship and a wise Pilot shall win to some undiscovered shore of human good. What though some ancient landmarks fade from view; other and more splendid guiding peaks will rise to sight. Always the quest is for the liberty of faith, for the fraternity of service, for the redemption of man in a Beloved Community—and the voyaging is not in vain."

three years. When Mrs. Child resigned the committee in charge hardly knew where to look for a new leader, for they had come to depend on Captain Child, whose interest centered in the Girl Scout work, and to whose efforts is largely due the present high status of the local troop.

As so often happens, a very busy woman, who at present is giving largely of her time and careful thought to other work in the borough, has consented to take over the captaincy and we feel certain our Girl Scouts will follow Mrs. Zimmer, whose kindness of manner, coupled with her executive ability, endear her to all.

WE NEED A PLAYGROUND

Dear Sir:
Swarthmore, in a general way, has everything it wants. This has nothing to do with what it needs.

In religion we want, and have, a group of religious bodies each advocating its special opinion of God. This is costly in love and money, and belittling to Christianity.

We need, not opinions but a knowledge of God, but we do not want this. With a knowledge of God would come a scrapping of opinions, a fusing of every good purpose into action that would result in Swarthmore forgetting much that it wants and getting that it needs.

This is putting matters on a high plane—perhaps higher than Swarthmore wants. Surely we need to do this, but as we get only what we want we will not get what we need until we want it.

Just now Swarthmore has two special needs to deal with—eliminating grade crossings and securing a playground.

The need for eliminating grade crossings is often forced on our attention through horrible tragedies that shock us, and selfish fear that we ourselves may be victims. But all this dies out in a short time, and we go on our heedless selfish ways in fancied security. When we are surfeited with horror and tragedy and are so uncomfortable we cannot rest any longer, we will wake up and eliminate grade crossings.

A playground appeals to our love of the younger generation. Sterner yet, it asks an accounting of our duty towards young people. The most urgent duty of a family is to the children; this is true of the neighborhood, of the community and of the State. Swarthmore has evaded this duty many years. By specially favorable circumstances we have been able to "get away" with this neglect without shame. But now changed conditions bring us face to face with this need and there are no circumstances to enable us to escape an immediate and positive answer without bringing shame on ourselves and on the name of Swarthmore. The obligation we have to the present generation of young people is heavier than has ever been faced by any generation before ours.

We know that our young people are coming into the heaviest responsibilities that have ever rested on the shoulders of men. A new era is upon them and they must be equipped to meet it, or we, who are responsible for their equipment, must answer to God who has honored us with that responsibility. In a dim way we are sensing this, and are meeting it with better schools than the world has ever known, better systems of education, better ways of doing things, better ways of living, of dressing, of eating, of care for the poor and needy and many finer things than the world has known before.

But much is lacking. Home life that should steady and counsel the younger members of the family is too often missing, and frivolities take its place. Only a surface interest in building strong healthy characters in young, strong, healthy bodies is felt, and the hunger for invigorating, strengthening play is ignored.

Let us face this matter as it is, without camouflage or deceit, and let us settle it now. We NEED A PLAYGROUND. The increasing needs of the College must curtail their former generosity in tending their grounds to the Borough. It is shame to us that we even ask it. The dependence on a private swimming pool is belittling to the community although it shows a fine spirit in the owner.

We must act now while there are one or two available sites for a playground; or later on go a distance from Swarthmore for what we get. What a blistering commentary the future will brand on us if because of indifference, carelessness and selfishness avoid a duty which if not met now will put a heavy and undeserved burden on the future.

Let us clear our eyes of the mist of material things, and our hearts of the love of money and meanness and selfishness, and show ourselves worthy of the duties God gives us to do.
S. E. SIMMONDS.

ELECTRIC CO. BUILDING NEW LANSOWNE OFFICE

Demolition is actively under way on the site of what will be the new Lansdowne business home of the Delaware County Electric Company, at Baltimore and Highland avenues, with completion definitely scheduled for December 1, 1929. The overall cost of construction will run slightly in excess of $80,000.

The new building will replace a three-story brick structure purchased by the company in November, 1926. It will be two stories in height, fireproof and of brick, steel and concrete construction. The front elevation will be of ornamental brick with an architectural design conservative but modern. The building will have a frontage of thirty feet on Baltimore avenue and a depth of 102 feet on Highland avenue. The main feature of the first floor will be a display room, 28 x 60 feet, having a capacity approximately three times greater than the showroom now being utilized at the company's present headquarters, 9 South Lansdowne Avenue. Other departments on this floor will include the lamp exchange, as well as the offices of the management, cashier and contract department. Clerical and general office forces will have quarters on the second floor. The basement will be given over entirely for storage.

There will be three large show windows on the first floor, two of them facing on Baltimore avenue. In these, as well as in the showroom proper, the very latest in lighting fixtures will be installed. There will also be erected on the exterior of the building a large double-face electric sign, which will be visible to both east and west traffic on Baltimore avenue.

Mrs. John Ellery Tuttle and Miss Tuttle left by auto Monday morning for their summer home on the farm in West Sutton, Mass. Today, with Dr. Tuttle, they go to Amherst College for his class reunion. Dr. Tuttle, of the Presbyterian Church, left Wednesday night for his class reunion at Amherst College, where he will also be the chaplain at the commencement exercises next Monday.

MURIELA CIANCI IN CONCERT AT CHESTER

Miss Muriela Cianci, soprano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Cianci, of Swarthmore, appeared in a joint concert with Giulio Ferrari, tenor, of Chester, at the Masonic Temple on Friday evening.

Mr. Ferrari is a protegee of Chestert, and was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Miss Cianci chose the Aria from Bizet's "Carmen" for her opening number, which she followed with the "Gipsy Song" from Carmen and the "Shepherd of the Hills," by Kurt Schindler, as an encore.

Other selections included the famous "Suicide" aria from Ponchielli's "La Gioconda" and the Puccini "Vissi d'Arte," and the duets from Verdi's "Aida" and Puccini's "La Boheme," sung with Mr. Ferrari.

Miss Cianci's stage personality is of the typical operatic type; forceful and vivid. She threw herself into the interpretation of her selections with the fervor which is born of familiarity with the roles and at all times conquered her audience as much with her personal charm as with her voice.

In the concluding duet, "O Soave Fanciulla," from "La Boheme," the tenor and soprano blended their voices with such excellent effect that they were forced to repeat it.

MILITARY COMMENCEMENT AT P. M. C. TUESDAY

Many Swarthmore people are planning to attend the unusual 108th commencement program at the Pennsylvania Military College next Wednesday. A lieutenant of the United States Marines will drop in a parachute from a battle plane with letters of congratulation from Secretary of the Navy Charles F. Adams to Rear Admiral William A. Moffet, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy, and Major General James E. Mechet, chief of the Air Corps of the Army.

Honorary degrees will be conferred upon Admiral Moffet and General Fechet, together with Governor John S. Fisher, of Pennsylvania, by P. M. C.'s board of trustees on June 19.

Plans are completed today by the army, navy and marine corps for the staging of one of the greatest airplane demonstrations ever held in this country in honor of Admiral Moffet and General Fechet.

Battle squadrons will invade the air above P. M. C.'s campus from army stations at Langley Field, Fortress Monroe, Virginia; Bolling Field, Washington, D. C.; Phillips Field, Aberdeen, Maryland and Mitchell Field, New York. The United States Marine Corps will be represented by a squadron from the base at Quantico, Virginia, and the navy by a squadron from Philadelphia Navy Yard. The planes will make Philadelphia Navy yard the base of operations, according to Brigadier General B. D. Foulis, in a letter today to Colonel Frank K. Hyatt, P. M. C.'s vice-president. While the planes are battling aloft, P. M. C.'s cadet battalion will be staging a land battle with three-inch guns, machine guns, hand grenades and smoke screens.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 16. The Golden Text is, "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms" (Deuteronomy 33:27).

Among the citations are the following from the Bible: "The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil; he shall preserve thy soul. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore" (Psalms 121:7-8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, one of which reads: "The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering" (p.387).

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Murphy and two children, of Washington, D. C., have leased the house at 404 Cornell avenue, and are making their home in Swarthmore. Mr. Murphy is with N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc., in Philadelphia. He formerly was one of the Washington correspondents of The Baltimore Sun.

Order Your Apartment In Advance and Have It As You Want It

MAKE a leisurely inspection of the exhibition apartments now being shown at The Barclay and decide how you would like an apartment done and where you would place your furniture, if you lived there. The apartments—done by John Wanamaker—give some indication of the charming possibilities of these generously spaced and carefully planned suites. They are rented unfurnished in the housekeeping section and either furnished or unfurnished in the hotel section.

By choosing an apartment now, before going away for the summer, you have plenty of time to work out your own individualized plan of decoration. During the summer your orders will be carried out in every detail and in the fall the apartment will be ready to move into at your convenience. Tenants thus avoid the frantic dashing about and resigned acceptance of ordinary decoration which usually results from a last minute hunt for a fall apartment.

Large Class Graduated With Honors From Prep School

The awarding of diplomas, on Thursday, June 6, marked the close of graduation week at the Swarthmore Preparatory School. Thirty-six students received diplomas from Mr. H. Roger Coleman, Headmaster of the institution, who also awarded, as a part of the commencement exercises, the prizes won by the students during the course of their schooling.

Perhaps the most outstanding award of the year was that of the Philadelphia Yale Club, a four-year scholarship to Yale University, to James A. Nash. This award is made yearly by the Philadelphia Yale Club to one student selected from the various preparatory schools within 60 miles of Philadelphia.

SWARTHMORE WOMAN ADMITTED TO BAR

Mrs. Catherine Gayle Hodge, of Strath Haven avenue, was admitted to practice law in the courts of this county last week by President Judge W. Roger Fronsfield.

Mrs. Hodge's husband, Attorney D. Malcolm Hodge, appropriately moved for his wife's admission to the bar. Her husband was the first to congratulate her, which was followed by congratulations from other members of the bar and the court.

Mrs. Hodge was graduated from George Washington University, Washington, D. C., with her husband, in 1924. She immediately was admitted to practice at the District of Columbia Bar, giving up her practice at the time she married Mr. Hodge.

News Notes

On Wednesday Mr. Roland C. E. Ullman motored to Gettysburg with his brother-in-law, Mr. Robert C. Groat of Denver, Colorado. This is Mr. Groat's first visit east of Colorado. He is making his headquarters with Mrs. Ullman, of Chester. On Saturday Mr. Groat and Mr. Roland C. E. Ullman will leave by motor for a trip through the Carolinas, where they expect to spend next week.

People are now resting up in preparation for their summer holidays.

Dr. E. M. Bond, who has made his home in Porto Rico for the past eighteen years, arrived in Swarthmore this week and is visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. William C. Taylor, of Riverview road. Dr. Bond expects to motor with his son Bobby to Tilton, N. H., to attend the graduation exercises of Tilton School, where his son Donald will graduate on Monday, June 17. Dr. Bond will then take his three boys and motor to the Pacific coast. They expect to camp out along the way and visit many places of interest.

Quite a number of Swarthmoreans attended the graduation exercises at George School on Tuesday of this week.

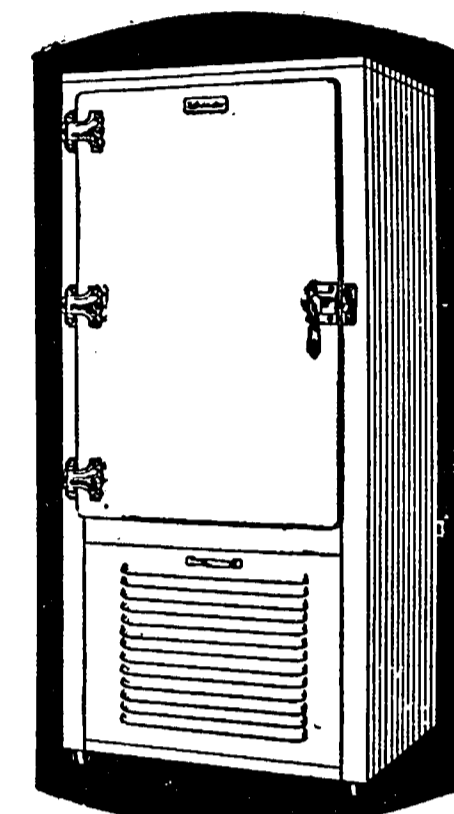

Among the graduates were Mary Pratt Chambers, Thomas Russell Smith, Kurt E. Zimmer, Howard Sinclair Turner and Casper Sharples Garrett, all of Swarthmore.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Wood, North

Chester road, were guests last Thursday at Zion Lodge in Zion National Park, Utah. They will also visit Bryce Canyon National Park, Grand Canyon National Park, and Cedar Breaks, Utah, as part of their vacation trip to the West.

Miss Clara Bond Taylor and Miss Helen Taylor motored to State College today, where they will be guests at the house party at the Phi Kappa Phi Fraternity. They expect to return home on Sunday, accompanied by their two brothers, William and Webster.

The Oldest Domestic Refrigerator

KELVINATOR

Electric Refrigerators For The Home

The New Quiet Cabinet Kelvinator is hailed as the greatest engineering achievement in the history of electric refrigeration. Even when you listen closely, it is difficult to tell when the new Kelvinator is in operation. Best of all, the silent Kelvinator will stay quiet even after years of service. Noticeable noise has been permanently and wholly eliminated through design and construction and the machine cannot become noisy through wear.

Never has an electric refrigerator come to the public so thoroughly proved and tested in every detail. Every part and every assembly has been reduced to scientific accuracy to conform to Kelvinator standards of precision, which are four times as exacting as are required in the automotive industry. To better visualize this, the most vital parts of the new Kelvinators are so accurately made that there is not permitted a variation greater than two-ten thousandths of an inch.

There is no guesswork in the Silent Kelvinator of today. You are buying Proved Quality when you buy a Kelvinator.

TRAVEL POSTERS ON DISPLAY AT LIBRARY

The Swarthmore Library, one of our community's most desirable and popular institutions, has indeed forced itself before the eyes of the people since its opening on May 17. Books are being added to the collection now on hand, day by day—such books as one reads about in the current reviews—Burnett's "Little Caesar," E. M. Raymond's "All Quiet on the Western Front," or Booth Tarkington's "Young Mrs. Greely"—and many more.

However, a library today is not just books; it offers one a liberal education not to be found elsewhere. For instance, Miss Grace Lindale, the librarian, has secured, after much effort, many large posters—really works of art—from various steamship companies of Europe. These posters are all very striking to the eye and many visitors to the Library have noted their beauty—many have inquired as to where they might obtain the same kind of poster. The interest is not limited to the grown-ups alone; the children have, among themselves, voted upon their favorite poster; we may be assured they find their choice hard to make, for each of the pictures contains something—either in color, or in type of picture—which demands consideration.

The steamship companies will receive compensation for their efforts, for many of the Library's visitors have manifested their interest in the scenes on the posters, by asking for the name of the castle, or the name of the mountain, or the location of the village—many have written down the name of the railroad, whose poster they especially like.

Due to the enthusiasm manifested by the many visitors to the Library, Miss Lindale has consented to keep the pictures on exhibition for another week yet. The people of Swarthmore are cordially invited to visit the library on the second floor of Borough Hall. The hours are: Monday, 2 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.; 7 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. Wednesday, 9:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. Saturday, 9:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.

FLOWERS GRATEFULLY RECEIVED IN PHILA.

Last Saturday morning a large car full of flowers was taken to the Neighborhood House, at 4th and Green streets, Philadelphia, by some of the members of our Garden Committee of the Woman's Club. The young ladies in charge of the booths arranged the flowers in small bouquets for sale. One of our women remarked, "You have so many flowers you can hardly expect to sell all of them." The attendant replied that she didn't expect they would last half an hour and all were sold in less than that time.

The people of the congested districts in our city are hungry for beautiful flowers, as is evidenced by their willingness to pay for them out of meagre allowances.

We wish to emphasize the need for the flowers to be sent to the booths at Broad street station, 69th street station, the Reading Terminal and the Parkway booth at 18th street and the Parkway. Flowers may be taken to any one of these places which is most convenient and they will be gratefully received and sent to the different hospitals and to the shut-ins.

Elizabeth Doris Hormann, Swarthmore 1927, has been awarded the Joshua Lippincott Fellowship from Swarthmore College and the Bennett Fellowship from the University of Pennsylvania. Miss Hormann will do graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania next year.

lie opinion against present conditions, council recognized the situation, and would present the petition at the meeting called by the Public Service Commission for this Friday night at the Strath Haven Inn.

Whether this promise was satisfactory or not, Dr. Ferguson gave little indication, but certainly Mr. Freedley's response was not satisfactory to Samuel M. Dodd, who has at previous meetings persistently goaded council to have something done at the crossing.

Mr. Dodd, because of the proximity of his home to the Swarthmore avenue crossing, has become sort of an unofficial watchman. Whenever there is an accident he is the first on the scene to offer his assistance.

So emphatic was Mr. Dodd's demand for some immediate action that with the assistance of a few words from Louis Cole Emmons, J. Kirk McCurdy moved that borough employees be ordered to cut down the hedges along the railroad and improve the view down the tracks in either direction in any way possible.

A petition for the annexation of property bounded roughly by Yale avenue, Cornell avenue, Fairview road and Michigan avenue was presented by Claude C. Smith. This property includes the land recently purchased by the school board. Part is in Ridley Township and part in Springfield Township.

The petition presented by Mr. Smith was signed by 19 of the property owners in the tract. Those who had not signed represented not only the minority in number, but also the owners of only a small part of the land. Mr. Smith declared that he had not secured all of the signatures because he was unable to get in touch with the remaining nineteen property owners. Frank N. Smith, of the School board also accompanied Mr. Claude Smith at the meeting.

The matter was turned over to Assistant Solicitor Myers, who was ordered to find out what financial arrangements would have to be made before the annexation could take place.

Mr. Smith declared that the signers of the petition wanted the property taken into the borough to safeguard the type of home built on the tract and the size of the lots.

Louis Cole Emmons was another interested spectator at the meeting and asked that action one way or another be taken regarding the removal of the concrete parapet in front of his property, where the old quarry was on Swarthmore avenue.

This question has been discussed by council half a dozen times. Recently the parapet was inspected by engineers from Philadelphia, who said that it could be removed separately from the construction work which supports the concrete paving of Swarthmore avenue over the quarry.

It was moved by Councilman McCurdy, and seconded by Councilman

Arthur S. Bassett, that John Hanna and Son, contractors, of Chester, be employed to remove the parapet at a cost of $475. The motion was carried.

William A. Clarke, of the firm of Clarke and Harvey, developers of the Parrish and McGill road tract along the Baltimore pike, was present at the meeting and asked if council would not provide some means to carry off any excess water which might run off his tract on to Swarthmore avenue during heavy rain storms.

Council decided that the problem of disposing of this water after it was drained from the tract was up to Mr. Clarke and that they would not be responsible for any damage done to other property.

Public Playground Definitely Assured—First Meeting On Grade Crossing Elimination—Plan For 4th Of July—Tennis Tourney Starts

Meeting Gives New Impetus To Elimination Of Grade Crossing

Informal Conference of Parties Interested Highly Successful

PLAN SECOND MEETING WITHIN THIRTY DAYS

The first of a series of meetings which it is hoped will bring about the speedy elimination of the Chester road grade crossing was held at the Strath Haven Inn last Thursday. The meeting was attended by members of Borough Council, representatives of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Public Service Commission, the State Highway Department, Swarthmore College, the Swarthmore Business and Civic Association, as well as the three county commissioners and the county solicitor.

The result of the first meeting was that preference was expressed by all of the representatives present for a passageway beneath the R. R. tracks rather than a bridge for traffic over the tracks. Final decision favoring the underground passageway was withheld pending the approval of certain parts of the plan by the college authorities whose property would be affected.

Robert E. Lamb representing the college stated that he would endeavor to present the plan to the college board of managers for their approval within the next few weeks so that a second meeting to definitely pass upon the plan could be held in about a month.

L. G. Krause, Assistant Chief of the Bureau of Engineering of the Public Service Commission presided at the meeting following his introduction by Ellwood B. Chapman, who was host at dinner to the representatives before the meeting. Mr. Krause was accompanied here from Harrisburg by Robert Haig, Jr., who is also an engineer attached to the public service commission. Mr. Haig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haig, of Ogden avenue.

"I want it clearly understood," declared Mr. Krause in his opening remarks that this meeting is in no sense an official hearing before the Public Service Commission. I am here merely to bring together the parties interested in protecting this crossing so that they may decide for themselves how the crossing may be eliminated most satisfactorily. If such a decision can be reached there will be no need for more than a perfunctory approval of the plans by the Public Service Commission.

"It has been our experience that when the R. R. and county or borough authorities can agree without recourse to the Public Service Commission, the results are always more satisfactory"

Mr. Krause said that a survey of the crossing had been made by his department several weeks ago and that without doubt the crossing was one which should be eliminated as soon as possible.

"Traffic over this road is increasing each year and the cost of eliminating the crossing here will also increase as the years go by. There is no doubt that it will be to the advantage of everyone if the improvement is made as soon as possible," Mr. Krause declared.

Mr. Krause said that before the actual work of removing the crossing could be started it would be necessary to decide three problems: first, the general plan of the new crossing. Whether it should be in the form of an underground passageway or a bridge. Secondly, how the cost of the improvement should be apportioned among the R. R., the County and the Borough. Thirdly, the exact details of the plans. Location of crossing, and all other details.

Edward B. Temple was then called upon to present and explain the two plans which have been drawn up by the R. R. engineers. The first plan called for an underground passageway and is practically identical to the plan as illustrated by a drawing which may be seen on the Post Office Bulletin Board. The only variation from the plan in the post office was that the new drawing submitted by Mr. Temple called for location of the parking space north of the railroad, on the east side of Chester road instead of the west side as it is at the present time.

If this part of the plan proves acceptable to the college it will mean that the R. R. platform can be extended along the track east of Chester road towards the freight house and also that the present parking space on the college campus can be filled in much to the improvement of that side of the campus.

The plans for the underground passageway were very favorably received by the representatives of the various groups present. The arrangement of streets providing for the flow of traffic completely around the opening of the passageway on all sides south of the railroad was particularly praised as such an arrangement would eliminate the likelihood of any property damages.

The second plan presented by Mr. Temple was for the construction of a bridge over the tracks. This would cost considerably less, according to Mr. Temple's estimate, than an underground

SEEK TENNIS ENTRIES FOR TOURNAMENT

Today is the day for entries in Swarthmore's Annual Tennis Tournament, which culminates with the finals on Friday. Those wishing to enter the tournament are asked to get in touch with Dean H. Parker, of North Princeton avenue, Phone Swarth. 530J.

Drawings for positions in the tournament will be made over the weekend and the preliminary matches will be posted at the drug store the early part of next week. There will be the usual classifications of matches for men, women and mixed doubles.

Last week the Swarthmore Tennis Club was scheduled to meet the Philadelphia and Reading team, but the match was postponed because of the wet condition of the courts. This Saturday a match is scheduled with the University Courts Club of Philadelphia to be played on the U. of P. Courts.

The members of the team representing Swarthmore in the most recent matches have been: Don Jones (1), John Kent (2), Roy P. Lingle (3), Joe Malin (4), John Fricke (5), and Dean H. Parker, (6).

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL OPENS JULY FIRST

July 1st will mark the opening of Swarthmore's Daily Vacation Bible School. This year the exercises will be held in the Friends' Meeting House on the college campus. As usual the classes will be assembled in the mornings of the weekdays, except Saturday. Final exercises will be held on July 30th, at which time the customary awards will be made to students of special merit.

The principal of the school this year, will be Mrs. Mabel Hutchinson, who acted in the same capacity last year. Mrs. Helen K. Fricke, of Cynwyd, will head the kindergarden class. The other teachers are Mrs. Samuel Palmer, Mrs. Jacob Meschler, Mrs. Alexander Mitchell and Miss Florence Duff.

The chairman of the Daily Vacation Bible School, John H. Pitman, requests that all parents of Swarthmore who intend to send their children to the school this summer should inform him immediately, so that he may make arrangements for seating, materials, etc.

This year plans have been made for the transportation of the children who live south of the railroad. Buses or cars will meet the children at a designated place and carry them to the Friends' Meeting House. As usual a good attendance is expected this year.

Public Playground Assured By Approval Of School Board

A playground for Swarthmore's children is assured for this summer and a committee of fifteen citizens of the borough has been selected to work with the employed supervisor and assistant towards the success of the project.

A sum of $500 has been appropriated by the Swarthmore School Board towards buying equipment and paying the salaries of the employees. The greater part of this amount will be paid out in salaries.

The playground will be held at the College avenue school and will be open during the afternoons in July, so as not to conflict with the Summer Bible School and during the mornings in August. It is planned to open the grounds on July 1.

The ground and equipment will be for children from 6 years of age up and showers at the high school building will be provided for the boys. It has not yet been decided just what equipment will be purchased, but a large number of contributions have already been offered by people of Swarthmore.

At a meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wm. T. Johnson, Ogden avenue, the committee of fifteen people to work with the supervisors was named.

Howard Kirk will act as chairman of this committee and Mrs. Roy P. Lingle will act as secretary. The other members are: Mrs. Samuel Palmer, S. E. Simmonds, Rev. Lloyd R. Stevens, Mrs. Roland G. E. Ullman, David N. Ulrich, Mrs. William Johnson, Howard Buckman, H. Roger Coleman, Roy Delaplaine, Dr. Arthur W. Ferguson, Mrs. Harold Griffin, Mrs. Helen Hall, J. S. Heberling, Dr. Earl Kistler, and Rev. Walter Matos.

Roy Delaplaine has been named to interview prospective supervisors and secure a man for the principle position and a girl as assistant.

Monday evening the Committee of Fifteen will meet again to work out the final plans for the project. On Tuesday evening the committee will meet with the School Board and present what they have done for the final approval of that body.

Any of the Committee of Fifteen will be pleased to receive notice of equipment which anyone is willing to give for the work. Mr. Delaplaine has already volunteered to loan a victrola and Mrs. Wm. A. Jaquette has donated some equipment for a basketball court. It is hoped that a tent may be secured from the Chautauqua Association.

SCHOOL SUMMER SESSION TO OPEN JULY 1ST

The regular summer session of the Swarthmore Schools, held this year in the College Avenue building from July the first, to August the ninth, inclusive, promises to be better than the session of last summer. Judging from early registrations, the number of pupils will be smaller while the number on the teaching staff will be larger, than last year. This will mean, of course, that each pupil will get far more individual attention and instruction. The tutorial system will probably be used to a great degree.

Thursday and Friday, June 27 and 28 have been set aside as special registration dates. Anyone interested, should register at the College avenue building before noon on either of these dates. If it is impossible to register in person at either of these times, it would be advisable to write before Friday; to Charles A. Brinton at the College Avenue Building, Swarthmore.

All pupils registering should report to the College avenue building at nine a. m. Monday, July the first.

PREPARE FOR ANNUAL JULY 4TH PROGRAM

In some communities the premature bursting of firecrackers and the cracking of cap pistols, proclaim that July 4th is not far distant. In Swarthmore these signs are not altogether lacking, but there are other more welcome indications.

Out behind the bank, the clank of quoits may be heard as they strike against the iron stake; at Emmon's Pool, the diving board is working overtime; and the tennis courts at Wharton Hall, on the campus, are crowded. Even on the cinder path an occasional runner may be seen testing his wind in the early evening.

In a few days the silver trophies awarded to winners in the various sports will make their appearance in Fred Pine's window, and then work will begin in earnest.

This year's annual Fourth of July celebration will be under the direction of a general committee headed by H. Roger Coleman. Mr. Coleman has not yet selected his workers on the sub-committees, but will announce them next week. H. B. Green, Fred Pine, Victor D. Shirer, and the usual standbys will be on the job from early morning 'til late, while Mrs. Herbert Frazier will be in charge of the children's events.

A program similar to the one held last year is being arranged, and will be announced soon. The success of the day's activities will be judged by the number of people participating either actively or as spectators from the sidelines. Mr. Coleman is very desirous, therefore that as many people as possible plan to spend the day in Swarthmore participating in some way in the celebration.

The day's activities will start as usual with the children's parade in the morning, followed by the quoit tournament, the tennis finals, the track and field events. There will also be a baseball game in the morning between two such groups as the north side and the south side or the married men and the single men.

In the afternoon the swimming events will take place and there will be a volley ball game and baseball game. In the evening a program will be given at the Woman's Club, the M. E. Church Social Hall, or some other suitable place.

Miss Mary M. Passmore, of Butte, Montana, who has been the guest of Miss Bertha White in Atlantic City, returned to Swarthmore this week and has again been the guest of Miss Betty Stamford. They sailed on the S. S. Aquitania, at midnight Tuesday, and expect to spend several months touring Europe.

Outboard Motorboating Finds Enthusiasts In Swarthmore

Outboard motor boating is growing in popularity throughout the United States and Swarthmore is not without a few enthusiasts. Last week Arthur W. Collins, of Ogden avenue, won second prize in the Class B Section (boats of 16 horsepower) at a race held at Torresdale. Mr. Collins is also planning to take part in a race at Torresdale this Saturday.

These races are held by the Outboard Motor Boat Association, which has representatives in all the Yacht Clubs along the Delaware river. Mr. Collins is a member of the Association, as are a great many owners of outboard motor boats.

There were more than a score of entries in the race last Saturday, some coming from New York city and the New Jersey shore. In winning second place in the race, Mr. Collins was timed at 36 miles an hour.

The boat used by Mr. Collins is owned jointly by him and Porter Waite. Mr. Waite also owns another outboard motor boat, which is not used for racing, however. Prentice Manning is another outboard motor boat racing enthusiast.

A number of other Swarthmore people own boats on the Delaware River. James Cochrane, of North Chester road, has just purchased a sail boat. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell have an attractive cabin cruiser. Louis Robinson is a boating enthusiast and has a fine craft. Donald Gibson also has a boat, while one of the town's leading yachtsmen is W. Findlay Downs.

A distinct advantage of Swarthmore is its proximity to the Essington yacht yard, on the Delaware river. This is only 3 miles distant by way of Lincoln avenue through Moore. George Smith, manager of the yard, will welcome visitors at any time.

ELEMENTARY GRADES SHOW IMPROVEMENT

School Office Hours
The office of the Swarthmore Public Schools will be open daily, except Saturdays and holidays, throughout the summer. Arthur W. Ferguson, superintendent of schools, can be reached at the office up to July 3rd, and again after August 1st.

A careful check on the work of the elementary grades of the Swarthmore Public Schools shows a gratifying improvement. The number of children failing of promotion was materially reduced, and at the same time a higher standard of work was achieved. Only eight of the 280 children enrolled in the elementary grades above the kindergarten failed of promotion.

In the standardized printed examinations that are now used widely throughout the country, the average scores made by Swarthmore pupils were from one to three grades above the average national scores. For example, one fifth grade section made an average score in the reading examinations which was equivalent to the average score made by seventh grades in the country at large.

The survey made by the Federal Bureau of Education several years ago showed that the schools were not up to standard in arithmetic. The result of an intensive drive on arithmetic, in recent years, is shown in the scores of the arithmetic examinations. Swarthmore pupils are now testing well above the standard in arithmetic.

These standardized examinations are given three times each year, and not only are grade results made available, but the progress of each individual child is measured. A careful record of the results of these tests is kept throughout the school career of the pupil. The improvement in the elementary grade work is attributed to three factors:

1st—Clearly defined objectives to be reached in the elementary grade teaching.

2nd—The program of testing and checking results.

3rd—Remedial teaching by the regular class teacher upon the basis of the deficiencies revealed by the testing.

4th—Special coaching by Miss Young, who is in charge of the program of testing and special help for elementary pupils.

The Library Association appreciates such contributions and all citizens are urged to scan their bookshelves again and to send the books they would like to have others enjoy, either to the members of the Library Association or direct to the library rooms, in Borough Hall.

FRIDAY, JUNE 21, 1929

Correspondence

June 18, 1928.

The Editor of the Swarthmorean:

Dear Sir: This is a little comment from the younger generation on the Memorial Day Services. I read, in the issue of June 7th, the little article about these services by a "Neighbor". I am in sympathy with the plea for the children's playground and for adequate protection at the Swarthmore avenue crossing, which this person made; but I am not enthusiastic over the Memorial Day Services, on which this plea was based.

The "Neighbor" was impressed by the number and the quality of the children present. Of that I was as fully impressed, and also by the fact that they were drinking it in so eagerly. This latter fact to my mind, is deplorable—not that the children are intelligent and at a plastic age—but that such services of war propaganda are still held to impress the younger generation in the old traditional customs of the glory of war, at a time when the world is working toward the forming of a permanent peace. War is hell, and why misinform our youth and so train them in a direction different from the trend of the times. It is natural to mourn our dead—but in so doing resolve to never again allow such a condition of horror and tragedy to exist. The tragic death at the Swarthmore avenue crossing is mourned—but agitation is stirred to prevent another such tragedy. Surely war is far greater in its scope than such a thing and should be prevented if humanity and civilization are to continue. Patriotism for your country serves progress only if it is tempered by a knowledge of your country's faults and inadequacies, and by love and loyalty for humanity as a whole.

Sincerely,
MARGARET PAXSON.

GRADE CROSSINGS

"At the devil's booth all things are sold Each ounce of dross costs its ounce of gold."

Out of the meanness, out of the selfishness, out of the Godlessness of our lives, comes all the troubles that humanity has. The fires of hell come near us because of our wickedness, and sometimes the flames lick out and scorch us.

The tragedy at the Swarthmore crossing and the four who were murdered at Morton recently is terrible evidence of this. Trace that tragedy back to its source, and you will find it is meanness, selfishness and Godlessness.

If we could place this charge against some certain individuals, we might be able to stop these terrible disasters, but we are all alike guilty. The shock of the tragedy troubles us for a little time and then dies out and we go our heedless ways, and forget.

The hope that grade crossings will not result in loss of life is the hope of a fool, and yet, we all have that hope. Before anything is done to eliminate these things, we demand a certain number of murders, and after we have been shocked enough we then do what it was our plain duty to do in the first place, eliminate the cause.

The crossing at Chester Road has been under discussion for the past twenty-five years. Tragedies have brushed very close to that spot. Are we waiting until the horror of death and disaster breaks in on our carelessness? Must we always take counsel with the God of Mammon before we render service to the God of Love? Right down to its component parts, grade crossings are a gamble with the devil, to see if we can beat him at his own game.

We admit that they are fearful death traps, and then we consult the God of Mammon in this wise: "Will murders result from these crossings?" The answer is an emphatic "Yes." The God-like part of our natures rebels against this and we try to say that we will not endure this, but that element in us which worships the God of Mammon says, "It will cost money," and we immediately say, "Ah, that's different," and we bargain with ourselves in this manner: There will be lives lost if we do not eliminate this grade crossing; there will be money saved if we kill a few of our fellow men here; and we close the bargain by saying: "By all means save the money."

The full and entire measure of every individual character is expressed in love for others. Nothing can be added or taken from that.

If we would each give expression to the love we too often repress, all the evil things of life would vanish, meanness, selfishness, Godlessness would be unknown, and tragedies would be impossible.

S. E. Simmonds

June 14, 1929.

To the Editor:

The High School graduation exercises deserve mention for the benefit of those who were unfortunate enough to miss them. The address of Dr. Nichols was highly entertaining and contained much that the grads will remember, and the resume of Deak. Walters was excellent. The picture presented to the audience—which was large—of the girls in white, each carrying a beautiful bouquet, and the boys with white flannels and blue coats was most charming. A most distinctive feature was the floral decorations, especially the flowers ornamenting the front of the stage, and those who worked but the effect certainly deserve commendation for their artistic conception.

T. HARRY BROWN.

Swarthmore is represented on a county-wide committee, working for the introduction of the voting machine in Delaware County, by Ellwood B. Chapman, H. Roger Coleman, Mrs. Elmer E. IMPROVEMENTS AT COLLEGE WILL TEND TO BEAUTIFY CAMPUS

The peaceful College campus will, later this summer, be the scene of great activity here in Swarthmore. Ground has already been broken for the new Isaac H. Clothier Memorial Auditorium, which will be located on the present site of the Sproul Observatory. The Memorial will be constructed at a cost of $500,000, and will face the Asphatum, thus affording a majestic view from the railroad station of Chester road. The building itself will be of gray stone, similar to that used in the construction of Worth Dornitoria. The three main divisions of the building, the auditorium, the tower and the executive offices, will be connected by cloisters.

Sproul Observatory will be moved to the north side of the athletic field, where the water tower is at present located. The water tower, in turn, will be moved to a position behind Parrish Hall.

Another improvement which will mark the progress of Swarthmore's main institutions is the razing of the servants' quarters, which are now located to the rear of the men's gymnasium. The college laundry has also seen its last days. Next year the laundry work will be let out to laundry companies. Sleeping quarters for the help will be constructed in the renovated laundry building.

Coincident with the removal of the unsightly servants' quarters, comes the announcement of a $75,000 fund for the establishment of the Scott Horticultural Foundation, in memory of the late Arthur H. Scott, who was president of the Scott Paper Company. Mr. Scott was a graduate of Swarthmore, class of 1895. According to the terms of the will, by which the college received the fund for the foundation, an arboretum will be established at the college.

Floriculture will be developed and there will be campaigns throughout the United States for the promotion of interest in better gardens. There will be a medal and an award of $1,000, based on a nation-wide competition for outstanding service for better gardens. The citizens of Swarthmore should be especially interested in this, for the community is proud to claim that it already has an organization for just this purpose. Our Women's Garden Club should most certainly be the first organization to capture the prize.

The Crum Creek region, which holds a place in the heart of every citizen of Swarthmore, will be developed horticulturally. This announcement should be of special interest to those members of the Wild Flower Preservation Society. With the backing of such funds and the support of the many civic-spirited organizations, Swarthmore should continue to rank first as Delaware County's most attractive community.

FINAL MUSICAL AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH The final musical service of the season will be sung by the choir of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church this Sunday at 4:45 p. m. The program of choral selections will include Schubert's "Great is Jehovah." The assisting soloist is Mrs. Edna Coates Calafemina, violinist, one of Swarthmore's most gifted artists. She will play "Air for G String" by Bach; "First Movement from Sonata" by C. Franck; "Meditation" by Massenet, and "Melodie" by Gluck-Kreisler.

The Oldest Domestic Refrigerator

KELVINATOR
Electric Refrigerators For The Home

The New Quiet Cabinet Kelvinator is hailed as the greatest engineering achievement in the history of electric refrigeration. Even when you listen closely, it is difficult to tell when the new Kelvinator is in operation. Beat of all, the silent Kelvinator will stay quiet even after years of service. Noticeable noise has been permanently and wholly eliminated through design and construction and the machine cannot become noisy through wear.

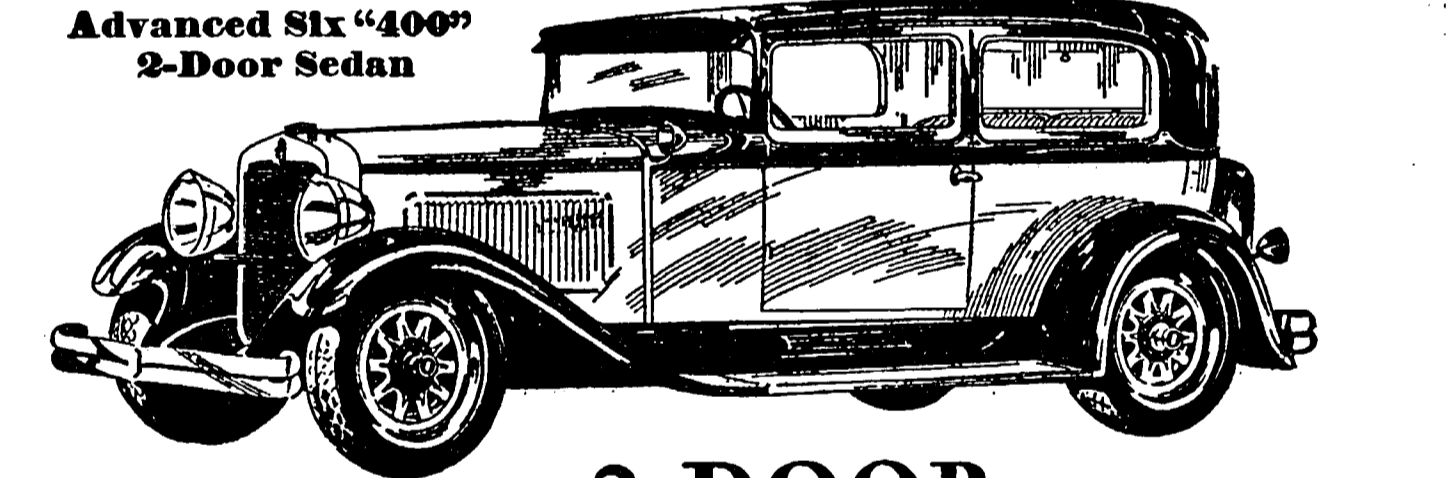

Never has an electric refrigerator come to the public so thoroughly proved and tested in every detail. Every part and every assembly has been reduced to scientific accuracy to conform to Kelvinator standards of precision, which are four times as exacting as are required in the automotive industry. To better visualize this, the most vital parts of the new Kelvinators are so accurately made that there is not permitted a variation greater than two-tenths thousandths of an inch.

There is no guesswork in the Silent Kelvinator of today. You are buying Proved Quality when you buy a Kelvinator.

Both drivers reached an agreement and no arrests were made.

CROWDED PROGRAM FOR HEDGEROW THEATRE

"Martine"—that poetic dramatization which captures the beauty and power of the inarticulate, is the latest addition to the Hedgerow repertoire. "Martine" is the work of Jean Jacques Bernard, the author of "L'Invitation au voyage" and "Glamour." It was first produced several seasons ago in New York City by the American Laboratory Theatre. The opening of "Martine" at the Hedgerow Theatre is set for Friday, June 28th. Martine is played by Miss Frances Torchiana. The rest of the cast are Smith Dawless as Julien Mervan; Miriam Phillips as Jeanne Chailand; Gretchen Anton-Smith as Madam Mervan, and Ted Mc-

Kay as Alfred. "Martine" is the 60th play in the Hedgerow repertoire. Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple", after a period of inactivity, reappears for a performance on Tuesday, June 25th, with the original cast, including William Price, Isobel Murdoch, Ted McKay, Jean Kritzer, Ferd Nofer, Alfred Rowe, Harry Bellaver and Dudley Vaughan.

"Poker Face", the new comedy by M. M. Musseiman, it is rumored, is being eagerly sought by a number of New York producers who originally turned the play down. Even the talks are said to be interested in the enthusiastic reception "Poker Face" has been accorded by Hedgerow audiences. Mr. Deeter, however, who owns first rights to "Poker Face", continues to hold on to them for Hedgerow. "Poker Face" has its fifth performance at Hedgerow on Wednesday, June 26th. Isson's "A Doll's House" is scheduled for performance on Thursday, June 27th, with the original cast, including Gretchen Anton-Smith, Ferd Nofer, Jasper Deeter, Dudley Vaughan and Harry Bellaver.

"WALLINGFORD HILLS"

Wm. H. Wilson and Company has sold "Tumble Brook" to Dr. Arthur E. Bassett, of Swarthmore, for Wm. E. Witham, the developer of Wallingford Hills. "Tumble Brook" has a frontage of 200 feet on Turner Road and extends irregularly to Wisteria Pool and Avon Brook, in the Park section of Wallingford Hills. The improvements consist of a part stone dwelling, well over one hundred years old, which will be extensively remodeled by the purchaser as a primitive, American Colonial homestead, with pool, cascade, sunken garden and other features to correspond with the environment, at a cost of approximately $25,000.

SUCCESSFUL GRADE CROSSING MEETING

(Continued from Page One) passage. However, it would not add to the beauty of the community. Mr. Temple said that he believed the damages which would be sought from property owners along South Chester road, providing the bridge were built, would bring the cost of that plan to nearly the same amount as the cost of the tunnel.

Aside from the matter of expense, those present felt that the underground passageway would be much more desirable than the bridge. Mr. Krause pointed out that in almost every instance where a bridge is built it tends to divide the community while a tunnel is not apparent and does not have that effect. Several of the men present said that they thought a bridge would only be temporary as it would be so unattractive that the people would demand its removal within ten years.

It was also pointed out that the tunnel plan would keep through traffic off Chester road thus relieving traffic congestion. At the same time the complete passageway around the tunnel south of the railroad would make it possible for traffic to move about freely throughout the Chester road business section.

Following Mr. Temple's description of the two plans, Mr. Krause called upon different representatives of the various groups to tell how they felt about the two plans. Most of those who spoke seemed unqualifiedly in favor of the underground passageway providing the cost were not too much greater than the cost of building a bridge.

The meeting was adjourned with the understanding that within the next month Mr. Lamb should confer with the college board of managers and find out how they felt about the two plans and the changing of the parking space north of the railroad from the west to the east side of Chester road.

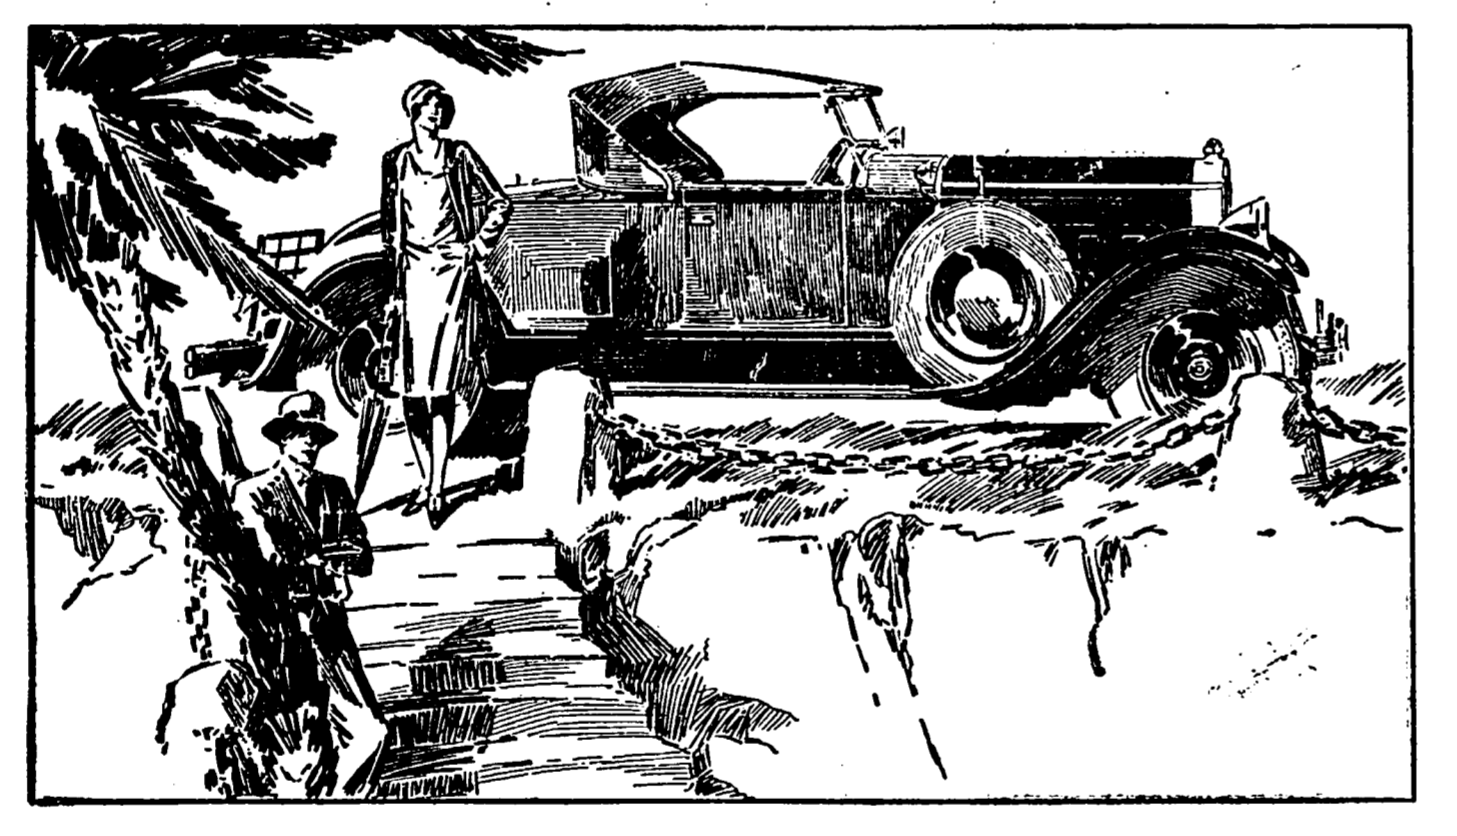

The meeting was attended by County Commissioners Harry M. Birney, Charles Drewes and James A. Desmond; County Solicitor Albert Williams; Edward B. Temple, of the Pennsylvania R. R.; two representatives of the State Highway Department from Harrisburg, Mr. Jackson and Mr. Staples; H. Roger Coleman, of the Business and Civic Association; L. D. Krause and Robert Haig Jr., of the Public Service Commission; Robert Lamb, Nicholas Pittinger and Andrew Simpson, of the College, Borough Councilmen Freedley, McCurdy, Bassett and Reitzel, President of Borough Council J. Horace Walter, Albert N. Garrett, Borough Solicitor, and Ellwood Chapman.

Greatest Spring Sales in History

PACKARD sold more cars in the month of May than in any May in the company's history. April before it was the greatest April that Packard has ever enjoyed.

After all, the motoring public is the final judge of merit—and the greatest spring business in Packard's history can only be a tribute to the quality and reputation of Packard cars.

Even more important is the tribute to Packard supremacy found in the records of Packard ownership.

Two-thirds of all Packard Standard Eight business comes from those who give up other makes of cars. This is most significant when country-wide records indicate that ninety-six per cent of all Packard owners remain in the Packard family—replace their old Packards with new ones.

If you are considering the purchase of a new car, investigate the three Packard Straight-Eight lines—Standard, Custom and DeLuxe. Prices range from $2275 to $5985 at the factory. Our facilities for handling used cars are excellent. When may we appraise your present car and put a Packard Eight at your disposal for a demonstration drive?

If you prefer to buy out of income, you will find the Packard Payment Plan most attractive. Many take possession of their new cars without any cash outlay—because the used car allowance equals or exceeds the down payment.

CHILDREN'S EVENTS, BICYCLE RACES, BASE BALL, TENNIS AND AQUATIC SPORTS ARE TO FEATURE CELEBRATION OF 4TH HERE

All in Readiness for All-Day Program Next Thursday

BASEBALL BOTH MORNING AND AFTERNOON

Arrangements for this year's Fourth of July celebration have been completed by the committee in charge of the program. At a meeting Tuesday evening plans were drawn up for the children's parade, the town baseball game, the swimming meet and the other events that have made the Fourth of July program a Swarthmore institution.

It is hoped that as many persons as are in Swarthmore over the holiday will take part in the events, and that others will be induced to remain at home for the biggest town event of the summer. All whose post office address is Swarthmore are eligible to compete for the prizes and awards.

The program will open with the patriotic decoration of all homes by their owners. This can be made to be one of the most attractive features of the day if all residents will cooperate.

The children's events will be started off with the annual children's parade, which will form in front of Borough Hall. This will be followed by the children's events and games, which will be held at the playground, the field of Swarthmore Prep School. The committee in charge of the children's parade and events is Mrs. Herbert Frazer, chairman; Mrs. Harold Griffin, Mrs. A. H. Reavis, Mrs. Harry Piper, Mrs. Roy P. Lingle, Mrs. Charles Shaw, Mrs. Florence Hoxsey, Mrs. Lyle Whitset, Mrs. Glenn Tucker, Mrs. O. J. Gilchrist, and Mrs. Roy Delaplaine. The judges will be Mrs. A. C. Wood, and Raymond Walters. Every one in the borough from one to fifteen years of age is cordially invited to participate.

Awards will be made by these judges for the following classes and events: (1) Best decorated baby carriage, (2) Best decorated girl's bicycle, (3) Best decorated boy's bicycle, (4) Best decorated floats, (5) Prettiest doll coach, (6) Best decorated kiddie-car, (7) Best decorated velocipede, (8) Prettiest costume, and (9) Most original costume. Please assemble promptly at the starting place, so that the parade may begin on time.

An award will be made for the scout (Continued on Page Eight)

EMMONS' POOL RELIEF IN WARM WEATHER

Emmons' pool is now open regularly to residents of Swarthmore and their out-of-town guests. There are three open days each week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The pool is in the charge of John P. Milligan, an athletic director at the high school. The open hours are from nine in the morning to nine at night.

Over 100 tickets have already been sold, and the sale is still steady. The ticket's cost $2.00, and may be obtained from Mr. Milligan at the pool. The pool is not run for profit, and the money derived from the sale of tickets pays only the expenses of the director. According to Mr. Milligan, an average of one hundred Swarthmoreans swim in the pool on each of its open days.

Louis Cole Emmons, the owner of the pool, has added a great deal of shrubbery this year, has built a wall along the terrace about the school, and has beautified the grounds in many ways.

As usual, the swimming events of the Fourth of July program will be held at the pool on the afternoon of the day. Details concerning the events which will be held, and steps necessary to enter them are printed elsewhere in this issue. A very large attendance is expected at these events as usual.

It has been suggested that some of the men coming to the pool stay in the dormitory, and spend the morning in the morning and spend the whole day swimming and playing about in the water. The best effects of a swim are gained by a short stay in the water.

PROGRAM OF EVENTS—4TH OF JULY

PLAYGROUND TO OPEN JULY 3d

Supervisors Not Yet Selected—New Committee Named.

SEEK PUBLIC SUPPORT

Swarthmore's public playground will open July 3 according to present plans outlined at a meeting of the playground committee on Tuesday evening at the college avenue school building. No supervisor or assistant had yet been selected Tuesday evening but several candidates had applied for the position and by this week-end it is hoped that the two workers will have been chosen.

Harold Ogram was elected treasurer of the organization at Tuesday evening's meeting and Louis Cole Emmons was named an additional member of the committee. The name of Mrs. Herbert Frazer, who has been active in the work, was inadvertently omitted from the list last week.

Mr. Emmons, Howard M. Buckman, and Mrs. Helen Hall were named to serve on a committee to select the equipment for the playground. Next Tuesday the committee will make a final report to the school board.

Howard Kirk presided at the meeting on Tuesday evening which was attended by a large number of the committee despite the inclement weather. The only share at the present time is in the selection of supervisors. So many applications have been made for the work that it has been difficult to make a selection.

A sum of $500 has been appropriated by the Swarthmore School Board towards buying equipment and paying the salaries of the employees.

The playground will be held at the College avenue school and will be open during the afternoons in July, so as not to conflict with the Summer Bible School and during the mornings in August. It is planned to open the grounds on July 3.

The ground and equipment will be for children from 6 years of age up and showers at the high school building will be purchased. A large number of contributions have already been offered by people of Swarthmore.

The complete committee which will work with the supervisors consists of Howard Kirk, chairman, Mrs. Roy Lingle, secretary, Harold Ogram, treasurer, Louis Cole Emmons, Mrs. Herbert Frazer, Mrs. Samuel Palmer, S. E. Simmonds, Rev. Lloyd R. Stevens, Mrs. Roland G. E. Ullman, David N. Ulrich, Mrs. William Johnson, Howard Buckman, H. Roger Coleman, Roy Delaplaine, Dr. Arthur W. Ferguson, Mrs. Harold Griffin, Mrs. Helen Hall, J. S. Heberling, Dr. Earl Kistler, and Rev. Walter Matos.

TRANSPORTATION TO BIBLE SCHOOL

Will Arrange to Send Children by Autos.

OPENING ON MONDAY

The opening of the Swarthmore Vacation Bible School is scheduled for Monday, July 1, at 9:15 a. m. at Whittier House on the Swarthmore College campus. The school will be held on mornings of week-days except Saturday throughout July. A new plan will be tried this year in that all classes will be held out of doors as far as is practicable in the woods behind Whittier House.

Thus far over forty children have indicated their intention to attend the school, and many more will doubtless join at the last minute. The average attendance last year was sixty-five, and it is expected that by the time the school gets into full swing more than this number will be enrolled. The chairman of the Daily Vacation Bible School, John H. Pitman, requests that all parents who intend to send their children to the school this summer inform him immediately so that he may make arrangements for them.

Since the location of the school this year is not in the center of the town, plans have been made for the transportation of the children to the school by automobile. Many persons from all sections of the town have offered their services, and so it will be possible for every child to be called for if it is desired in order to carry out this plan, however, it is necessary that Mr. Pitman be notified so that he may make arrangements for transportation.

The school this year will work in co-operation with the public playground, which will be open every afternoon. The assistant at the playground will be in charge of the recreation at the Bible school. Both the playground and the school contribute toward her salary. (Continued on Page Eight)

T. E. HESSENBRUCH CHOSEN TO FILL VACANCY IN COUNCIL

Busy Meeting Attended by Large Number of Citizens

DISCUSS ANNEXATION

T. E. Hassenbruch, of Yale avenue, was appointed a member of Borough Council at the regular meeting last Thursday evening to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Ralph F. Channell. Mr. Channell had previously been appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Thomas B. McCabe. Mr. Hassenbruch is vice-president of the Architects' and Builders' Service, Inc., Otis Building, Philadelphia, and is an engineer of wide experience. For twenty years he was an engineer with the Pennsylvania R. R. and for ten years he was with the Westinghouse Company.

Protection for the Swarthmore avenue crossing of the P. R. R. is assured in the near future in the form of electric signal lights which will flash on and off at the approach of a train. The concrete bases for these lights have already been placed and the lights will be installed soon.

It was suggested that Charles A. Smith, owner of land on the southwest corner of the intersection be requested to cut down the hedge along his property so that a clearer view of the railroad could be had. Burgess Tayer was instructed to have borough employees remove the hedge if Mr. Smith failed to do so.

A petition was presented at the meeting regarding the action of F. M. Scheibley purchasing a home on Union avenue to be occupied by colored people. A number of the petitioners were present at the meeting and asked that council take steps to prevent the use of this house by colored people in as much as the houses on each side are owned and occupied by white families.

Council reported that nothing could be done about this matter unless Mr. Scheibley had violated the building code or the zoning ordinance in remodeling the interior of the house. Since the meeting however the house has been inspected by the borough secretary who reports that no borough ordinances have been violated by Mr. Scheibley.

The movement for the annexation of a tract of land in Ridley township at the end of Park avenue was delayed until further facts regarding the assessed value of the property could be secured. The borough solicitor was instructed to draw up agreements and secure the signatures of all the property owners in the tract for the adjustment of indebtedness, etc.

A report was received at the meeting, from the borough tax collector, Martin B. Young, pertinent to the exemption of a number of names of tax payers from the 1928 lists, who have either moved from the borough or have died since the last collection.

BASEBALL TEAM NEEDS SUPPORT

Financial Aid Sought to Meet Usual Expenses

WIN TWO GAMES

Swarthmore's baseball team is now waging a campaign for financial support. Season tickets for all games, selling at five dollars a piece, are obtainable from Fred Pine, and E. C. Walton. Thus far the sale of the tickets has not been very satisfactory. The expenses of the team amount to about fifty dollars a week, and if the team is to continue the season as planned, more money must be secured. Instead of "passing the hat" as formerly, this year tickets costing twenty-five cents are sold at the games. The receipts from Thursday evenings on the athletic field

A Local Solution For A World Wide Problem

How many people who live in Swarthmore have ever driven down Union avenue? How many know even where it is?

Some evening, early, driven east on Yale avenue from Chester Road. Turn to the right at the first street on the other side of Hannum's grocery store, which stands at the foot of Kenyon avenue.

This is Union avenue. No street is more beautifully shaded by trees; few avenues boast of better kept lawns. Some of the houses do need paint, here and there a screen or porch needs repair, but in any other community than Swarthmore the impression would be very favorable.

Eight years ago every house on the street was occupied by a white family; today the majority of the homes on the West side of the street and several on the East side are owned and occupied by colored families.

Yet Union avenue has not suffered in appearance by the change. Perhaps it is the Wesley A. M. E. Church, on a side street, that has made Swarthmore's colored people such quiet, unobjectionable citizens. Perhaps they have tried to emulate in their own lives some of the characteristics they have observed in the white people about them here in Swarthmore.

Within the past few weeks three homes on Union avenue have changed hands and either already are, or soon will be, occupied by colored families. When the first colored families moved on Union avenue, the fact was scarcely noted. Now that houses close to Yale avenue are being purchased, a situation has arisen which might profit by a little frank discussion.

That the people of Swarthmore are unusually unprejudiced and sympathetic towards the colored people of the Borough has been demonstrated over a period of years. Ruff, at the college gym, holds the respect and esteem of every man who ever knew him; Joseph, at the Presbyterian Church, David at the Woman's Club, a number of the men who drive for families in the borough, can all attest to the kindness and thoughtfulness which they have received.

To try in any way to keep the colored people from enjoying a home life as rich as may be enjoyed in any home of white people would be the last thought of a community as democratic and as intelligent as Swarthmore. From a social standpoint, and even more, from a religious standpoint, it is unthinkable that Swarthmore should seek to exclude colored families from owning homes in the Borough.

But the exercise of the same amount of intelligence which has made Swarthmore a pleasant home for many colored families cannot bring the conclusion that every interest is better satisfied, every purpose better served, by the encouragement of a separate and distinct community for members of each race.

Our problem, then, is to encourage both races to do their part in bringing about a more desirable community for their own people. This can be done only by creating mutual understanding, respect and sympathy.

There are intelligent, unselfish leaders among the colored people of Swarthmore who can do more to promote friendly relations which will serve as a better basis for harmony between the two races here than can the expenditure of any amount of money or the enactment of any amount of legislation.

The people of Swarthmore who have contributed towards the Wesley A. M. E. Church have helped establish an institution among the colored people which will be a splendid influence in gaining the end of friendly understanding between representatives of the two races.

Perhaps the most tangible way that this understanding can be further fostered is by the quiet functioning of two groups of leaders representing each race made up of sympathetic, intelligent men and women. We hope that in an official manner, this condition, perhaps through the medium of the churches and the schools, may be brought about.

Correspondence

To the Editor of The Swarthmorean: The Memorial Day Exercises have been discussed in two previous letters to The Swarthmorean, written from opposite points of view. I feel impelled to present yet another reaction, from the standpoint of one of the participants; entirely "unofficial", however, so far as the American Legion is concerned.

I think the fear of Militarism apparent in the second letter referred to, need not be taken seriously. The principal complaint I have to make, after six years of participation in the Memorial Day performance, is the pathetic absence of a military exercise: order and dignity. I am sure Cox's Army was more soldierly outfit than the conglomeration of veterans, children, bicycles and dogs, that go to make up a typical Memorial Day parade in Swarthmore. This year children trotted alongside of veterans in the ranks streamed along either side of the column (if such it might be called), or in front, or in between units, gleefully cavoring as if a circus had come to town. Can you blame them, when our small but inconsequential band, (that sets us back $100 each year,) regaled them with "The Old Gray Mare"?

It needs no argument to demonstrate that such an attitude misses the whole significance of Memorial Day. Another Fourth of July! There are even sounds like popping fire crackers! And prized, smoking shells to fight for after each volley fired over the graves!

Personally I favor chucking the noisy little band and along with the motley assemblage of stragglers, decorated bicycles and dogs and the Station Square theatrics. Why can't those of us who deem it a pleasure and an obligation to meet together once a year to recall this grimmest aspect of citizenship, and rejoice in the memory of those who gave a good account of themselves in the show-down with reality, assemble without ostentation at Borough Hall or elsewhere, and quietly march out to East-lawn Cemetery and there quietly hold suitable exercises in keeping with the solemnity of the day?

It will, of course, be less entertaining for the children,—including my own, but then Memorial Day is not a very entertaining thing anyway.

Most earnestly,
Clarence G. Myers

To The Swarthmorean: The letter of Mrs. George H. Strawbridge, recently published in the Philadelphia papers, was sent by her to one of our townswomen. Mrs. Strawbridge evidently felt that her example might be followed in Swarthmore.

This is a fine adventure of Mrs. Strawbridge and is worthy of earnest consideration. In the name of National patriotism, every woman in the Community would do well to determine that she will serve no liquor either upon her table or at any social function.

Surely mothers and sisters and all hostesses have a heavy responsibility in this vital matter of law enforcement. As the boys rallied to the colors in 1917, let us now rally to our standards, to the assistance of our President, and to the obedience of our Country's laws, not because it is becoming unfashionable to drink, but because it is right and safe and patriotic NOT to drink.

It would be a fine thing for Swarthmore, and a splendid example for other Boroughs, if all women in our town would join this movement for law observance. I am interested to learn the opinion of women of our community on the subject of law enforcement and wish there might be an expression in The Swarthmorean.

HEALTH SOCIETY NURSES FETED

Poem Read in Their Honor at Whittier House Luncheon

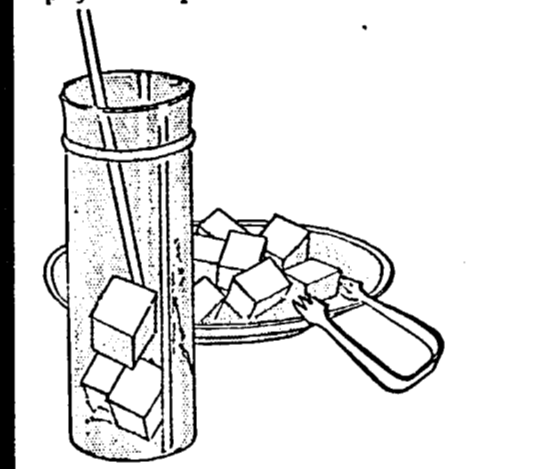

The nurses of the Community Health Society were entertained recently at luncheon by the Friends, at Whittier House, in Swarthmore. The luncheon was very delicious, and was enjoyed by everyone. During the course of the meal, a poem was read, dedicated to the nurses, and composed by Mrs. J. DeL. Verplanck.

Poem to the Nurses
We are mighty glad to greet you,
Precious angels of the Borough,
For too long we haven't pulled your front door bell
For this we cannot blame you,
For the only reason, mind you,
Is that you've kept us all so very well.

At least a sudden mishap,
Or the rheumatics should rap tap,
We'd just like to get acquainted with you now.

There seems to be a little misunderstanding about the work done by the Community Health Society, in that many are under the impression that the nurses' services are only for charity cases. They are graduate registered nurses, and must continue to take public health courses in order to be versed in the most up-to-date methods of public health nursing. Their services are available to those in all walks of life. For those who are able to pay, the regular charge per visit is $1.00, up to an hour. For a visit lasting over one hour, the charge is made according to the extra time. Sunday calls and night calls are $1.50. Care to mother and baby is $1.25 per visit. Operations and deliveries are $3.00 to $5.00, according to the time. For those who cannot pay full charges, the cost is whatever they can pay. For those who cannot pay at all, the service is free. All charges are based on a study made each year by which they determine exactly how much it costs for the nurse to make a visit.

The Community Health Society wished to call the following to the attention of physicians and Boards of Health: The nurses of the organization, and of all public health organiza-

NASH '400'
Leads the World in Motor Car Value

This is the Sedan you will buy, if you Compare in the $900 Field

WE will not need to urge you to buy the Nash "400" Standard Six Sedan if you only compare it to other Sedans in the $900 field. First of all, it is a Nash, built in the traditional Nash manner, with precision workmanship in every part. And second, it is a Nash "400", and that means something in today's line-up of motor cars. It means more powerful, more durable, more enjoyable motor performance. The engine in this sedan is a new high compression type with 7 bearings instead of 3 or 4, with aluminum alloy (Invar strut) pistons instead of cast iron pistons, and with full pressure lubrication to every single bearing point. Even the connecting rods in this Nash engine are rifle drilled, to supply oil under pressure up to the wrist pin bearings. Other "400" features which this car brings to you are the world's easiest steering—a luxury and refinement of interior decoration far beyond expectation at its price—size and capacity for five full grown passengers—riding ease attained by alloy steel springs individually designed for its size and weight, plus outboard mounted, Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers. And finally, no extra charge for bumpers, front and rear, Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, spare tire lock and tire cover. There's nothing except a spare tire to buy—none of these other items, customarily charged for as "extras" at retail prices, to pay for, when you buy the Nash "400"!

Price Range (f. o. b. factory) of 23 Nash "400" Models, $885 to $2190 including Touring, Roadster, Coupe, Cabriolet, and Sedan Models

Success to the Playground

The approval of the Public playground project by the Swarthmore School Board is a credit to that body. To those who have followed the Board's steps since the playground was first proposed it is evident that Swarthmore is represented by as conscientious and open-minded a group of citizens as could be desired. The care with which the Board decided upon the playground matter increases our confidence in the way they must attend to matters which do not come to our attention. Likewise their approval of the project and their appropriation of $500 indicates their willingness to take steps in such directions as the general public approves and according to their own careful analysis.

The committee chosen to work with the supervisors is made up of people who have by past activity shown their interest in civic affairs and particularly in affairs dealing with children.

It seems that the activities of the Playground Committee during the summer should work in more properly with the work of the Story Hour Committee during the winter than with any other organization. Story telling should certainly provide a part of the summer program at the playground and it is well that at least one member of the Children's Story Hour is also a member of the Summer Playground Committee.

The motorist takes his back-seat driving spouse for a game of golf: "Now look out, Jack, don't drive to hard, or you'll hit all those people down there!"

Then there was the Scotsman who was so tight he couldn't swallow.

"My roof DOESN'T LEAK anymore"

Little leaks growing into big ones may cost you many dollars for replastering or repapering. Unless you stop them forever—by reroofing with Eternit Asbestos Shingles.

Then you'll say, "My roof doesn't leak any more," and you could very safely say, "It will never leak again." Your roof troubles are over. You'll have years and years of service from your Eternit roof because it's rock. Only two indestructible materials are used in making these shingles— asbestos rock and Portland cement. That's why they're everlasting.

One out of every seven fires last year was caused by sparks on roofs. Only a fireproof roof should be considered. Traveling sparks are the third greatest cause of all fires. Insurance companies recognize this by granting lower rates.

Your home represents an investment. It deserves a good roof, one that enhances its beauty. Just as a coat of paint increases the price of a used car, so a new roof enables you to mark up the value of your home.

ETERNIT ASBESTOS SHINGLES

are applied right over your old shingles. The old system of tearing off the old roof has been abandoned because it wastes time. It fills the house with dirt. Covered with Eternits, the old roof provides an extra thickness of insulation to keep your rooms cooler in summer and warmer in winter.

of the Prep school. This year, it plans are carried through, all games will be played at home. This is in line with the team's policy of giving Swarthmore a regular summer institution.

If games were alternated, and the team played home but once a week, the expenses could be reduced by the guarantees given to the visiting teams, but the local team thinks it is best to play at home regularly, even though the expenses incurred are higher.

A game will be played on the morning of July 4th as part of the annual Fourth of July program. The games will continue regularly throughout the summer, and will be brought to a close by a game on Labor Day. The games will be announced in future issues of the Swarthmorean. If you should care to buy a season ticket, send your five dollars to the Swarthmorean office, and we will see that you receive it.

As usual there will be four departments to the school, the kindergarten, the primary, the junior and the intermediate classes.

The money for the teachers is paid by the participating churches, and the materials are paid for by contributions from the families of the children. This year, as in the past, it is requested that a small contribution be made by each family toward this fund. This contribution is small so that everyone may feel that he is doing something to support the school.

It is hoped that the school will receive hearty co-operation by the town in general, and more particularly by the children whose interest and presence can make this summer's school better than ever before.

ALL IN READINESS FOR JULY 4 PROGRAM

troop presenting the best appearance as well as the individual in each troop who has the best marching appearance. As usual, the quoit tournament will be held in the field across from the old bank building. Dr. Shirer will be in charge of this event, and persons who intend to participate should communicate with him at once. The tournament is scheduled to begin at nine thirty.

The bicycle race will be held on the track in back of the Prep school at ten thirty. This race is open to boys between the ages of nine and sixteen. Mr. Roy P. Lingle is in charge of this event.

The town baseball game will be held at eleven o'clock on the Prep School field. All baseball enthusiasts are asked to bring their gloves and come out. Although the game is expected to last five innings, the players are not expected to last that long, so everyone will have a chance to play. The two teams will be organized on the Old-Timers and Newcomers basis, or the North and South sides, whichever plan seems to be the better. John Patterson will be in charge of this game.

The finals of the tennis tournament will be played on the morning of the Fourth. There have been many entries, and the first game was played off yesterday. The record of the matches will be kept in Shirer's drug store. Morris E. Lee, captain of the Swarthmore Tennis club, is in charge of the tournament.

In the afternoon, at two o'clock, the swimming events will take place at Emon's pool. Awards will be made for men's championship, women's championship, boys' championship (up to eighteenth birthday), girls' championship (up to eighteenth birthday), and the children's birthday (up to the thirteenth birthday).

The town baseball team will play Frankford A. A. at three o'clock. This is one of the regularly scheduled games of the team's season, and is certain to be a game worth seeing. It will be held at the Prep school field, where there are facilities to accommodate a crowd.

Arrangements are being made for a program in the evening, at which awards of prizes and cups won during the day will be made by Carroll Thayer, Burgess of the borough. When this paper went to press, plans had not been completed for the entertainment and presentation of prizes in the evening. It has been impossible to secure the Methodist Social Hall, due to fire regulations. The place and time of the awarding of the prizes will be announced later, at the various events during the day, and on bulletin boards throughout the borough.

Citizens are asked to help defray the expenses of the program by contributing to the fund. Contributions should be sent to Harold Ogram, at the Swarthmore National Bank and Trust Company.

Persons who won the cups last year are requested to return them to Fred Pine, so that they may be put on display in the window of his store. This of course does not include the permanent cups, which belong to the winners.

Trophies donated by the following Swarthmore concerns will be awarded at the Fourth of July events:

H. B. Green, Mason Builders' Supply Co., Business and Civic Association, Hannum and Waite, Fred M. Pine, Chautauqua Association, Highland Dairy, John Conway, Riverview Farms, George W. Gregory, Harris and Co., Cameron Donato, Carroll Thayer, E. M. Buchner, Clifford Rumsey, N. Sandberd and Son and John L. Patterson.

Dr. W. W. Speakman, who has had a short sojourn at the Scranton Hospital, is now recuperating at his lovely cottage, at Buck Hill Falls, under the able care of his wife and daughter.

Mrs. Harold Barnes, of N. Princeton avenue, entertained the morning contract bridge club on Thursday.

Mrs. Joseph Perry, of Thayer road entertained recently in honor of Mrs. Reynolds who is making her home in Swarthmore. Mrs. Reynolds is the mother of Mrs. Henry Cookman, of College avenue.

Packard Values Its Customers

A car of class and distinction, and a leader in the aristocratic car field for over 30 years.

You do not have to fear constant model changes. Packard appreciates a customer's patronage to such an extent that they maintain their lines, thus enhancing the value of your Packard in the future over other cars in the same class.

More than 90% of all manufacturers in the whole world now accept the straight eight as the first eight cylinder motor. Packard being one of the first to establish this custom of a finer and simpler motor.

The steering wheel of a Packard is always still in your hand and does not fight or shimmy. If you desire, your car can be delivered with shatter-proof glass.

Packard riding is recognized to be supreme over all others, in that the shock absorber is built exclusively by Packard and installed on the car at the factory. It has a hydraulic shock absorber.

You no longer, as in the days of old, go to the well to draw water for your home use. Your home is equipped. Likewise with the Packard, owners have not had to grease their car periodically every 250 or 500 miles. The chassis lubrication does this, and saves you many dollars.

Regardless of where you buy your car, Packard rates are standard throughout the country. Because of the simplicity of its motor and chassis lubrication, Packard maintenance is less than any other car.

Therefore we invite you to inspect our Chester Service Station which is most convenient.

If you are considering the purchase of a new car, investigate the three Packard Straight-Eight lines—Standard, Custom and DeLuxe. Prices range from $2275 to $5985 at the factory.
