

"The Youngest" Proves Entertaining Production of Players' Club

Robert W. Graham Featured in Laugh Provoking Comedy; Unemployed To Benefit

Long ago it was decided that the chief aim of the Players' Club should be to entertain its members rather than to educate them or enlighten them on social questions or use them as an element in developing new ideas and methods in the Little Theatre movement. With this chief aim in mind, "The Youngest," Philip Barry's popular, three act play about a typical American home in which the youngest child is the center of distraction is one of the most successful plays the club members have seen in some time. Although little more than an hour and a half in running time, it is packed with as many if not more laughs than most of the Players' Club two hour and a half plays. As directed by Robert W. Graham, a veteran director of the club, and Charles R. Docherty, a newcomer who assisted Mr. Graham, the three acts dissolved smoothly and rapidly into an evening of amusement and interest which made everyone in the audience an active participant in the performance.

The first and second acts in particular sustained interest almost continually and impressed the audience with little evidence of the slowness and tendency to drag which marks most amateur performances, the Players' Club not excepted.

If the third act (at least on Monday night) had a good many people reaching for their coats before it was half over the responsibility no doubt rests with the author rather than with the players.

Mr. Graham evidenced a feeling of confidence in his own role and in the work of his fellow actors which always made the performance at its best when he was on the stage.

The work of William C. Pickett and Miss Elizabeth Hunter was particularly natural and at all times sustained interest while John E. Fricke as the oldest brother played a difficult role very convincingly.

Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop as the mother was sympathetic and understanding and admirably suited for the part in every particular. Dr. David Cramp and Miss Mildred Simpers as the married couple living at home added much to the performance and were excellent examples of good casting and direction.

Miss Dorothea Tetlow as the heroine who appears on the scene and plays an important role in the existence of everyone, was altogether charming in

FORTNIGHTLY TO MEET ON MONDAY

Mrs. Hervey Schumacher will entertain the Fortnightly at her home on Haverford avenue, on January 12th at 2:30 o'clock.

The newest of Mr. Galsworthy's works "On Forsythe Change" will be reviewed by Mrs. Clifford. In this book we meet many of the distinguished members of the famous Forsythe family. There is talk of many a happening in the early days—and one might think the family had assembled for an anniversary or a New Year's celebration.

Mrs. Schumacher will review an article by Ossip Gabrilowitsch and Mrs. Perry will contribute an anecdote.

JOHN F. CONWAY NEW FIRE CHIEF

John F. Conway, well known merchant of Swarthmore, was elected chief of the Swarthmore Fire and Protective Association at the meeting of active members Thursday night. Mr. Conway has been an active fireman for the past fifteen years and has assisted at all of Swarthmore's big fires.

Several years ago he served as assistant chief and has always been one of the most active workers in the Association. During the past year he served actively as the head of several committees.

GIRLS' HOCKEY TEAM ELECTS NEW CAPTAIN

Mary Cresson has been elected captain and Ann Bonnell manager of the Swarthmore High school girls' hockey team for 1932. This year's team which was one of the best the school has ever had will lose seven players by graduation this June: Edna Snyder, right halfback and captain; Ruth Brill, right inside; Ellen Pearson, left inside; Betsy Soule, left halfback; Betty Bonnell, center halfback; Clementine Gibson, right fullback; Harriet Matter, left halfback.

Bids are being sought for a sidewalk along one side of Rutgers avenue between Yale avenue and the new school building according to Frank N. Smith a member of the syndicate which expects to develop the ground just taken into the borough south of Yale avenue. While permanent improvement of the street will probably not be made this winter the syndicate is working on a plan for temporary improvement which will shortly be presented to council.

School Board Undecided On Building Gym This Year

Budget Being Prepared To Show Amount Available For Project; Seek Tax Cut

The next step on the building program of the Swarthmore school system and whether it should be taken at once or delayed, occupied the attention of members of the school board at the regular 1931-1932 general fund meeting. The budget for the school year of 1931 and 32 will be submitted at the February meeting by Supervising principal Frank R. Morey and no doubt will affect the decision of the board.

Frank N. Smith, president of the board, says that he is still definitely inclined towards the schematic plan illustrated and described in this week's paper. This plan would make use of the ground purchased from the College this year for $22,000 and would make possible a unit by unit enlargement of the present College avenue building.

At the present time with the Rutgers avenue building and the new shop building completed there is about $55,000

F. SCOTT McBRIDE TO SPEAK HERE

W. C. T. U. Sponsors Meeting at Methodist Church Wednesday Evening

ANTI-SALOON HEAD

Dr. F. Scott McBride, famed and widely publicized head of the National Anti-Saloon League of America, will speak next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist Church. The meeting is being held on Wednesday night to take the place of Prayer Meetings in the other churches of the borough and make it possible for everyone to attend.

Dr. McBride will talk on prohibition and will relate recent experiences to indicate the growing effectiveness of the prohibition law. Mrs. W. H. VanAllen, president of the Swarthmore W. C. T. U. will act as chairman at the meeting which is expected to attract a wide audience both those in sympathy with prohibition and also those opposed to it.

available for the gymnasium project. While the gymnasium unit in the schematic plan could be built for that it would probably make it necessary to pay for furnishings and any extras from the 1931-1932 general fund.

Other members of the school board failed to show any enthusiasm over the gymnasium project or the proposed solution. Sentiment was expressed that more classrooms were needed at the College avenue building before the gymnasium was begun.

It was suggested that in following the schematic plan proposed by Mr. Smith, the first unit should consist of the section fronting on College avenue and including four classrooms, a trophy room, and rooms for the two physical directors. It was pointed out that this building would provide classrooms that may easily be needed next fall and that the construction of this unit first will give the entire College avenue building an attractive street front while if the gymnasium unit is built first it will be set back and look out of place until unit 4 is built in front of it.

Other suggestions were to the effect that the project be delayed until enough additional funds had accumulated in the treasury to build a gymnasium without skimping. The construction of a temporary gymnasium "behind" the College avenue building was also mentioned.

Practically the entire board with the exception of Mrs. W. Carson Ryan, secretary, expressed a lack of interest in the gymnasium as a means of promoting competitive class and school spirit and stated that they felt that the project in the form of competitive class spirit would do more harm than good.

The board feels that the present tax rate of 27 mills should be reduced this year if possible and that under no circumstances should the gymnasium be undertaken if it will necessitate an increase in taxes.

There was some sentiment expressed that providing the new gym is decided upon favorably a number of architects should be considered before one is finally selected.

The board inspected a number of reproductions of oil paintings and purchased one for each room in the new Rutgers avenue building. A few extra pieces such as a screen for the fireplace in the Rutgers avenue building and benches for the locker rooms were also authorized.

LIBRARY BENEFIT TICKETS POPULAR

Tickets are selling rapidly for Jan. 19 and 20 when "Strictly Dishonorable" will be given at the Broad street theatre, Philadelphia, as a benefit for the Swarthmore Public Library. A percentage of the tickets will be secured by the Library, however, only when they are purchased from a member of the Library Board of Directors or some other Swarthmore person who has them for sale. They range in price from 75 cents to $2.50.

The annual meeting of the Library Association will be held Monday evening, Jan. 26. The terms of two directors expire and will be filled at this meeting.

Select School Seal

The Junior, Sophomore and Freshman classes at the High school have agreed upon a standard seal which will probably be used in all class pins and rings in the future as soon as it has been approved by the student council. This will cut down the expense of class jewelry as the design will be the same each year with only the numeral changing.

A Father and Son dinner and program will be given next Friday evening by the Methodist Church at the Strath Haven Inn. John Pitman is chairman of the committee working on the project and is being assisted by Jacob Meschter, George Detweiler, John H. Taylor, Charles A. Smith and the Rev. Lloyd Stevens. The committee is making no announcement of the program, but declare that it will consist of a big surprise for the boys.

ANTIQUES, SUBJECT OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Chippendale Furniture Discussed by Instructor at School of Industrial Art

ART COMM. PROGRAM

On Tuesday afternoon the Woman's Club of Swarthmore had the privilege of listening to an illustrated talk given by Mr. Edward Warwick, instructor at the Pennsylvania Museum School of Industrial Art on the makers of "The Chippendale Style in America."

After Mrs. Arthur G. Bye, who was chairman for the afternoon, had introduced the speaker, Mr. Warwick began by showing a picture of "Mount Pleasant" the interesting and elegant old mansion in the park. This mansion has been restored in recent years and is now completely furnished in American and for the larger part Philadelphia antiques.

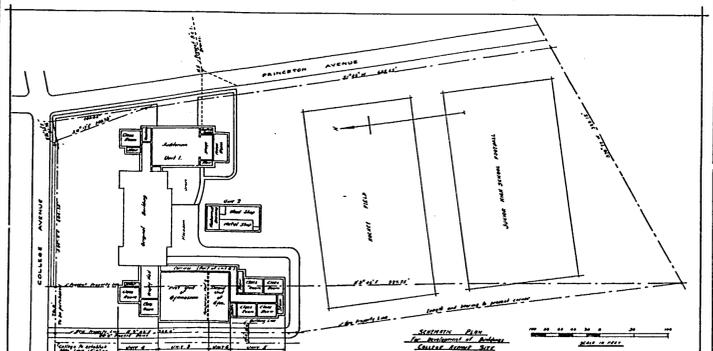

There was a period, Mr. Warwick said, not so very long ago, when Americans thought that their old valued pieces of furniture, which had been handed down to them from colonial times, must all have been imported from England. Today we realize, that some of the most exquisite pieces of furniture, now in the possession of some of our best families were made in this country and equal and even surpass in some instances, work done by the cabinet makers of the old country.

There is little doubt, that the old catalogues of furniture which were brought out for the trade by men like Chippendale and Sheraton were known in the colonial days of America, but the distinguished cabinet makers of the latter part of the eighteenth century carried out their original designs of decoration in the construction of the furniture made here.

Old labels found on chairs have perpetuated to this day names like Lavery and Randolph, both Philadelphia cabinet makers of unusual distinction. Some of the sample chairs which must have come down to this generation from the workshop of Mr. Randolph were recently sold at an auction sale at New York for the fabulous price of $33,000.

During Mr. Warwick's entire talk, those present realized, that as Philadelphians they had reason to be proud of the many beautiful objects of art which were constructed in the form of various pieces of furniture and which are preserved to this day in our Pennsylvania museums and private collections.

Proposed Plans For New School Gymnasium

Drawings of schematic plans for development of gymnasium and College avenue school buildings

The following schematic plan shows finished. Only the west wall would be of stone similar to the present building, the other three walls being either temporary or inside walls of a later unit.

Unit 1 as is shown on the plan would consist of four class rooms and a trophy room. The trophy room would then replace the wooden corridor to the gymnasium. Over the trophy room would be a room for the boy's physical director and the girls' physical director. Unit 4 would also consist of showers and locker rooms in the basement beneath the classrooms and the trophy room and would provide for finishing the basement of the gymnasium as a cafeteria. It would also take care of the necessary expansion of the heating system in the main building to heat the two new units.

This unit could be built out of school funds in the fall of 1933 and would cost about $71,000. There is some feeling now that this unit should come first with the gymnasium following in 1933.

Unit No. 5 would be a grade school complete in itself which would make possible moving all of the present grades from the College avenue building and maintaining it solely as a high school.

This unit would include a kindergarten room for beginners living north of the R. R., seven class rooms and a principal's room. There would be two toilets, and a stair at each end of the building.

Unit 6, which would complete the plan as it has now been worked out, would call for removing the south wall of the first unit of the gymnasium and replacing it with folding doors leading to a second

An Organ Recital of Christmas and Epiphany music will be given to-morrow afternoon at Trinity Episcopal Church at four o'clock by Lucius Rogers, Organist and Choirmaster. The program will include two Choral preludes on fifteenth century Christmas carols, by Bach and Brahms and three traditional Epiphany carols from the Flemish, German and English schools of music. Mr. Rogers will also play "Allergo risoluto" from the 6th Sonata, by Merckel; the "March of the Magi Kings," by DuBois; "Sortie," by Franck; a Prelude on "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," by Lutkin and a Christmas Offertory, by Barrett.

Chorus Rehearsal

The chorus of the Woman's Club will have their first rehearsal of the new year on the first Monday in February at two o'clock. Newcomers in Swarthmore who are interested in singing are cordially invited to call Mrs. Thomas E. Beddoe of 301 Yale Avenue for further particulars. Plans are already underway for the spring concert which will be held some time in April.

CIRCULATING PICTURE CLUB EXHIBITION THIS MONTH

Pilgrimages of women's clubs from counties adjacent to Philadelphia will be made this month to the annual exhibition of the Philadelphia Art Alliance Circulating Picture Club.

Plans will be made by these clubs for the enlargement of the picture-lending idea in their respective communities. An effort will be made to interest schools, libraries, community centers, manufacturers and business men in the movement.

The Delaware County Federation of Women's Clubs will visit the exhibition in a body Friday, January 9. After viewing the paintings they will listen to an address by Henri Marceau of the Philadelphia Museum of Art. His subject will be "American Art." January 13 the Drexel Hill Women's Club will visit the exhibition and on January 16, clubs of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women of Delaware, Chester, Buell's, Montgomery and Lancaster counties will pilgrimage to the Art Alliance. January 23 there will be a visit from the women's clubs of the South Jersey district.

Under the picture-lending plan of the Art Alliance Circulating Picture Club, schools, clubs, libraries, recreation centers, business men and private individuals may borrow paintings and etchings by the payment of a moderate membership fee. This picture-lending plan inaugurated by the Art Alliance has now spread to many cities and to England.

Mr. Walter D. Reynolds entertained at tea on Tuesday in honor of Miss Mary-Elizabeth Curtis, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schock of Mount Joy, and fiancée of Mr. Samuel Reynolds.

Miss Curtis may be known to many residents of Swarthmore as the daughter of the late Reverend and Mrs. Ed. E. Curtis of Harrisburg, and as the granddaughter of the late Dr. E. T. Jeffers of York, Pennsylvania.

She is a graduate of Wilson College and is now finishing studies for the doctorate of philosophy in zoology at Yale University. Mr. Reynolds was graduated from Swarthmore College and is now completing work in medical sciences in the Graduate School at the University of Pennsylvania.

The wedding will take place in the late summer.

The addition of 19 new members by the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, last Sunday morning, illustrates the remarkable way in which people are coming to Swarthmore from all parts of the land. The fifteen people received by letter from other churches represented three countries—the United States, Canada and Scotland, seven denominations and seven states. The denominations represented were the Presbyterian, Episcopal, Baptist, Christian, Congregational, Lutheran and Methodist. The states included were, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Minnesota, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Oklahoma, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland L. Eaton of Dickinson avenue entertained the Double Six bridge club last Saturday evening.

Aubrey Smith of Park avenue and Dartmouth avenue has been ill with tonsillitis during the past week.

arm in China and they have made a muddle of ruling Jerusalem.

"After Allen entered Jerusalem young British officers saw a chance to enlarge British industry and erected shops and plants. They also did this in Bagdad, but today, not one of these shops remain, conclusive proof that you can't ram down the throats of a people something they don't want."

Dr. Ellis was in Berlin when Hitler became prominent. The Swarthmore man mingled with the crowds in front of the Reichstag, after the election, and in this manner he was able to study at first hand the change that is coming over the younger people of that nation.

"These young people are thinking. They realize what conditions were during the reign of the Kaiser and are fed up on the former classification and social ostracism as practiced in pre-war days.

"The masses have been analyzing their government heads and know that too many statesmen have been bitten by the microbe of petty politics. They are trying to find a solution for the world depression and permanent peace and it is up to America to show the world the way out," the speaker concluded.

James C. Lawrence, Jr., and Logan Lawrence, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Lawrence, of "Maple Brae," have returned to Columbia, Missouri, where they are students at the University of Missouri.

The next meeting of the auxiliary of the Harold Ainsworth Post, No. 427, will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Dravo, on Westdale avenue, next Wednesday at 2 o'clock. The members will sew for the Base Hospital No. 49.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Comley, of Swarthmore avenue, entertained at bridge on Saturday evening. Among their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dyer Clyde, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bassett, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Brigham and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hanna.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Alice Meredith Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Williamson, and Mark Kenyon Dresden, son of Professor Arnold Dresden, of the faculty of Swarthmore College, and Mrs. Dresden. The marriage took place on September 11, 1930.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Buckman and daughter, of Baltimore, and Miss Myrtle Elmore were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Comley during the holidays.

"STRICTLY DISHONORABLE" OPENS AT BROAD

"Strictly Dishonorable," Brock Pemberton's production of Preston Sturges' enormously diverting comedy, that has proven to be one of the most conspicuously successful hits of recent years in the theatre, is to be given at the Broad Street Theatre, Philadelphia, starting Monday night, January 12th.

This production, personally staged by Mr. Pemberton and Antoinette Perry, who gave the original its adroit direction, contains a cast of high merit for its widely varying characters. Hailed as a masterpiece of deft playwriting, with a wealth of alert and intelligent humor, intriguing romance, and maintaining a sprightly buoyancy in its never-lagging merriment, the comedy has taken its place as a worthy and lasting contribution to the theatre.

The crisp dialogue of "Strictly Dishonorable," bubbles with shrewd and witty observations and glows with whimsical pleasantness among the humorous goings-on in a congenial, cozy speakery. The story chronicles the philandering of a bachelor opera singer and an innocent, but love-curious maid from the provincial Yokum, Mississippi. At this atmospheric drinking nook there assembles also the arrogant, outspoken fiancé of the girl, a philosophical judge, who enjoys alcoholic beverages during ex-office periods, a waggish policeman and Tomaso, the ebullient proprietor of the speakery.

Just as the Yokum miss, abandoned by her unbearably opinionated escort is preparing herself to be a martyr to love, music and experience, under the Neapolitan fascination of the opera singer in his apartment above the speakery, the author extricates, with ease and plausibility, his ingratiating characters—and does his extricating satisfactorily and with great fun. Among those who will have roles are Elizabeth Love, Cesar Romero, Willard Dashiell, Rudolph Baddaloni, Joseph McCallion, R. B. Williams, Leo Leone and Edward Hartford.

There will be two popular price matinees, Wednesday and Saturday. Mail orders will be filled promptly.

Hollyhock Seeds

Some hollyhock seeds from the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Hayes on the Brandywine have been placed in the Hollyhock Gift Shop, where they may be secured free of charge. The shades are rose-pink, maroon, lemon, saffron, and pure white. Plant 'em in May, and they'll be due to bloom in July of '32 for you, says Mr. Hayes.

O for a garden of the olden time
Where none but long-familiar flowers grow.
Where pebbled paths go winding to and fro,
And honeysuckles over arbors climb!
There would I have sweet mignonette and thyme.
With hollyhocks in gay and gallant row,
The hyacinth inscribed with words of woe,
The small blue-bell that beats a dainty chime
For elfin ears; and daffodillies, too,
The sleepy poppy, and the marigold,
The peony with petals manifold,
And ragged-robins, pink and white and blue.

All these and more I'd have, and back of all
A thousand roses on a mossy wall!

Birth Control Clinics Described In Swarthmore Woman's Book

The Swarthmorean has found it opportune this week, while scathing denunciations of birth control are being broadcast by Pope Pius XI, to call attention to the courageous and highly intelligent work on the same subject which has just been released in book form by a Swarthmore woman, Caroline Hadley Robinson.

The title of the book is "Seventy Birth Control Clinics" and its contents have been compiled by Mrs. Robinson as a result of visiting and studying seventy leading birth control clinics in the United States and Europe during the past four years.

A copy of the book is to be given to the Swarthmore Public Library in borough hall affording the people of Swarthmore an opportunity to read it.

Written as a thesis for her doctorate, it was refused without comment by one of the leading eastern universities leaving no other reason to be drawn than because of the subject matter. After the contents were approved by dozens of leading scholars and physicians here and abroad, it was accepted by the National Committee on Maternal Health and published as the first of a series of Monographs on the Medical Aspects of Human Fertility. It is published by Williams & Wilkins Company of Baltimore, Md. In Maryland the laws prohibiting the dissemination of information concerning birth control are not as strict as in Pennsylvania and other Eastern States. As it is, Mrs. Robinson admits that the book as published represents a technical violation of a federal law forbidding the use of the mails for distributing birth control literature. Conviction of violating this law carries with it a fine of $5,000 and five years imprisonment. Before the publishers accepted the book, Mrs. Robinson agreed to assume same responsibility for the $5,000 fine and the publishers agreed to risk going to jail.

No birth control methods are given in the book not only because of the delicacy of the subject but because selection of means is best undertaken by a physician. Nevertheless Mrs. Robinson admits that because her book is a directory by which the public may be informed of the clinics and how to reach physicians who will give advice on the subject, it is therefore technically a violation of the Federal law.

Mrs. Robinson is endeavoring to have a one dollar edition of the book printed. "This will represent my real opportunity to get information about the clinics to the people who need it most," she declares. For instance, there is one at 69th St. which should be better known."

The following quotations from reviews of the book are by people whose opinions are really worth-while and more authentic than anything this writer could say: "Says The Survey in discussing the book, 'The author brings to this still much misunderstood problem a Quaker competence and sweet reasonableness, accuracy, and moderation in expression, worthy of her talents and hard work.' 'The first part of the book,' says the review in the Survey, deals with the facts of the staff organization, costs, and statistics records of services of seventy agencies on the population; following is a chapter on the planning of clinics for present and future needs, and the medical and social factors determining the need of birth control information. The second part deals with laws, customs and opinions, and covers a critical discussion of quantity and quality of people and the benefits to them which may be expected from a liberalizing of the permitted practices and uses of well-supported information."

In conclusion, Haven Emerson, M. D., the author of the review in the Survey says, "We have here a scholarly contribution to social practice, suitable for class and library use, well expressed, free of all offense, and helpful to any who are blinded or deafened by tradition and superstition reverence for ancient blunders."

The volume is issued as the first of a series of publications on the "Medical Aspects of Human Fertility," sponsored by the National Committee on Maternal Health. This committee is headed by Samuel W. Lambert, M. D. Gertrude M. Pinchot is treasurer, and Robert L. Dickinson is secretary.

In a foreword to the volume, Mr. Dickinson the secretary says: "The author, Mrs. Louis M. Robinson, wife of the well known criminologist is primarily a student of economics with a particular interest in the problems of population. A graduate of Swarthmore College, she took her M. A. in economics at Columbia. The material for this book was gathered in connection with her preparation for a doctorate."

The following is reprinted from "Eugenics," official organ of the American Eugenics Society, Inc. "So much has been said about the merits of adequately supervised birth control, especially for the poor and the ill, that the inevitable question arises in the minds of all interested in the subject either directly or indirectly—where can trustworthy advice on birth control be obtained?"

"Caroline Hadley Robinson has undertaken to answer this question in her book, 'Seventy Birth Control Clinics, A Survey and Analysis,' which is expected to leave the press almost simultaneously with this article. The first half of the book describes the work of centers giving birth control advice in the United States and Europe, including a directory of street addresses, number of hours open, and the auspices under which the work is conducted. This section also includes a survey and evaluation of the clinic situation throughout the world, insofar as such information can be obtained. The particular audience addressed is that of social and health workers in family welfare groups and in medical centers, who are in direct contact with those strata of society which stand most sorely in need of contraceptive advice. But in addition to this main purpose, the book contains much that will prove of interest to the economist, the sociologist, the eugenicist, and the intelligent layman. The probable future development of the birth control clinic is outlined, and summed up as follows:

"This portion of the book was contributed by Dr. Robert L. Dickinson and Dr. Louise Stevens Bryant, of the National Committee on Maternal Health."

THE GREAT AMERICAN VALUE

At the National Automobile Shows

Chevrolet wins

first place

for the fourth time

First place at the National Automobile Shows—a position granted on the basis of annual sales volume—is again awarded to Chevrolet.

This is the fourth consecutive time that Chevrolet has achieved this honor. And the reason lies in the exceptional value which Chevrolet cars consistently provide.

This year, in its bigger and better Six, Chevrolet is offering an outstanding example of the value which has brought it such record success.

In fact, no previous Chevrolet car has ever represented such a high degree of quality and advancement, and sold at such low prices as today's Chevrolet Six.

H. AND S. MEETING MONDAY EVENING

The January meeting of the Home and School Association will be held Monday evening at the High School auditorium and will consist of a program arranged by the Education Committee. More than 300 children will participate. By means of this program parents will have an opportunity to observe what is being done along organized educational lines for their children outside of school hours. First will come a program given by the Knighthood of Youth which is an organization for small children. This will be followed by a Brownie demonstration by girls slightly under the Girl Scout age.

Special awards will be given to a number of Swarthmore Girl Scouts, giving the people an opportunity to see the members of that organization. The awarding of the Bear Badge ceremony will offer an opportunity to see what the Cubs are doing and learn more about that organization for boys just beneath the Boy Scout age of twelve years.

There will also be a demonstration by the Boy Scouts as well as the giving of several Boy Scout Special Awards.

Dr. E. L. Ternan as chairman of the education committee is in charge of the program and is being assisted by Miss Thera A. Young and Miss Margaret Hamel, teachers in the public schools. Mrs. A. P. Jackson, Dean Raymond Walters, Mrs. Leonard C. Ashton, Dr. John H. Pitman, Mrs. William Jaquette, J. Bernard Walton and Dr. A. F. Jones.

The other three homes are located at Strath Haven and Cornell avenues. Although they have not been entirely completed, they are open for inspection and give an idea of design and size. They vary in size from three bedrooms and two baths to five bedrooms and three baths. Each has a two car garage. Prices range from $17,000 to $22,000.

INTERESTING LEGAL OPINION DESCRIBED

A legal opinion of unusual interest to motorists is reported in the January issue of Keystone Motorist, official publication of the Keystone Automobile Club.

J. Borton Weeks, President of the Club, quotes an opinion by Judge Albert Dutton MacDade, of Delaware County, holding that a non-resident motorist who operates his automobile in Pennsylvania and is involved in an accident may be sued in any county of this state, regardless of where the accident occurred. In the case decided by Judge MacDade action was brought in Delaware County against a West Virginia motorist as a result of an accident occurring in Bedford County.

SONGS IN COSTUME AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Old songs and ballads of Spain, Russia, France and England will be sung in costume next Tuesday at the Woman's Club by Madeleine Chauveau, accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Frazer. Madame Chauveau is a French singer of wide experience and reputation and has been a resident of Swarthmore for the past year. This will mark the first opportunity that Swarthmore people have had to hear her sing. Guests tickets may be procured for fifty cents. The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Francis V. Warren and Mrs. J. Archer Turner.

Vol. III, No. 2 Swarthmore, Pa., January 17, 1931 $2.50 Per Year

WOMEN WRITERS OF SWARTHMORE WILL SPEAK

Literary Committee in Charge of Program Next Tuesday

WILL DESCRIBE METHODS

For those members interested in literature, the program of the Woman's Club of next Tuesday will probably be the most interesting of the season. Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop, chairman, has invited five of the women writers to be the guests of the club alphabetically, they are Mrs. E. H. Bonnell, who edits an Episcopalian quarterly and has written several books on biblical subjects. Perhaps the best known is "Famous Hymns, with Stories and Pictures". Dr. Isabelle Bronk, who was connected with Swarthmore College, has written several books, among them "Children of Versailles." Dr. Bronk also contributes so many well known magazines.

Grace Livingston Hill, has lived at 215 Cornell avenue for many years and who's who credits her with many "best sellers" dating from 1894 to the present. The titles include many volumes we have all read.

Jean Lilly (Mrs. Scott B.) of 133 Ogden Avenue has written "The Seven Sisters" and her most recent book "False Face" which won the Dutton Mystery Prize of the month in which it was published.

Isabel Briggs Myers (in private life Mrs. Clarence G. Myers of 321 Dickinson) won the prize offered jointly by the Frederic A. Stokes Company and McClure's Magazine for her novel "Murder Yet To Come". The prize was $7,500 and the story ran as a serial in Smart Set due to the consolidation with McClure's Magazine.

Mrs. Harold Goodwin, Chairman of Education of the Woman's Club, called a meeting of her committee at her home last Friday and plans were made for future work. It was decided to meet the first Friday of each month at the homes of the members. Mrs. Earl P. Yerkes was chosen secretary for the group. The Edmonds act was chosen as the subject for study and investigation for the winter.

Mrs. Goodwin has procured Dr. Mary Wentworth McConaughy, Mental Hygiene Consultant, Mt. Holyoke College, and Lecturer in Psychology and Mental Hygiene, Swarthmore College, in a course of four lectures on the subject of "Everyday Child Management Problems." The first will be held on the evening of January 20th; Mrs. Louis L. Servais, Mrs. Oscar J. Gilcrest and Mrs. Herbert Paul will be the hostesses.

The committee also decided to ask representatives from the Rose Valley School if they would speak before the Woman's Club members on some phase of Progressive Education.

Sarah U. Burnley

Word was received here yesterday of the death of Mrs. Sarah Updegraff Burnley, 78, widow of the Rev. Charles W. Burnley, formerly of Swarthmore. She died Sunday in Evanston, Ill., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James M. Stifler. Interment was at Williamsport, Tuesday.

Mrs. Burnley was a lineal descendant of a family which settled in Germantown in 1682. She is survived by only one of her three children and by six grandchildren. Her husband at one time owned a great deal of real estate in Swarthmore in the vicinity of the Grange.

"Tom" Best

Word has been received here that "Tom" Best died last Saturday in a hospital in Wichita, Kansas as the result of burns received in an automobile accident.

"Tom" attended Swarthmore College and later lived in the Shire building and worked in this vicinity. He was unusually large in size and played on the line with the College football team.

It is reported that in the auto accident which caused his death, "Tom" was thrown free of the car and was uninjured but received fatal burns when he endeavored to rescue two of his friends in the blazing car.

Miss Helen K. Taylor of Riverview avenue has completed her course at the Pierce School of Business, Administration and will be graduated at the Academy of Music next Wednesday evening.

NO STORY HOUR DURING JANUARY

At the request of the Health Centre there will be no Story Hour for the children of Swarthmore during January. All programs for the next four months, have been planned and are as follows: February, a Birthday Hour for "Famous Friends"; March "An Opera in Music and Song"; April "A Surprise"; and May "Interesting China." The committee assures the disappointed ones this month (for several appeals have come in) that this January program will be given at some future date when thought advisable. The children of Swarthmore sent a great deal of Christmas joy to the children in adjoining districts with the gifts which were brought to the Woman's Club at the last Story Hour in December.

JANE ADDAMS GUEST OF DR. AND MRS. HULL

Jane Addams

Jane Addams, founder of Chicago's Hull-House, has been the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. William I. Hull, of Walnut Lane, this week while here on the speaker before the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom. Miss Addams is president of the League and spoke at Friends' Meeting House, Fifteenth and Race streets, last night. On Thursday she spoke at Collection at Swarthmore College.

Miss Addams, whose work for the uplift of the poor won her as far back as 1910 the distinction of being the first woman to receive an honorary degree from Yale, has spent more than forty years in Social Service Work.

LEGION CHARITY BALL REMARKABLE SUCCESS

A brilliant and colorful assembly attended the annual Legion Benefit dance last evening at the Mary Lyon School auditorium, where beautiful surroundings, charming people, and delightful entertainment conspired to provide a most enjoyable evening, and stamped the effort of the Harold Ainsworth Post to aid local relief, in large letters, with the word SUCCESS.

The following communication was received from the Post Commander George Corse:

"The members of the Post and the Ladies Auxiliary unite in thanking our fellow citizens for their whole hearted co-operation and generous support, and take this occasion to specifically thank Mr. H. M. Crist for the large share he contributed to the success of the event by generously donating the facilities of his school for the dance. Mr. Crist's friendliness to our Post has been conspicuous in the past, and it is a matter of pride and a real joy to count him among the number of our staunch supporters. The Post also desires to thank most heartily the individuals who furnished the attractive posters."

The dance committee, headed by Robert T. Bair, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Post, and those individuals who, in addition to subscribing, aided in supplying the refreshments deserve all credit and praise for their trojan work in making the dance successful from every angle.

"Announcement of the results accruing to the Legion's relief fund will be made soon, and any requests or demands on this fund should be made direct to the Community Health Society, whose investigation and recommendation will govern disbursements. The Legion desires to confine the benefits strictly to local needs in Swarthmore and the immediate vicinity, but will investigate and consider any need, within the limits of the fund, brought to its attention."

Girl Scouts

Girl Scouts wishing to join Troop II please meet at the Woman's Club House at 9:30 Saturday morning or telephone the new Captain, Mrs. Ross Marriot, Swarthmore 34.

Eighty Girl Scouts attended the Fly Up ceremony last Saturday when Dorothy Paulson was welcomed to the Scout Troop from her Brownie Pack.

Every Effort Being Made To Control Mumps and Measles

The Board of Health Committee wishes to make further appeal to the public in helping check the present outbreak of measles and mumps. Special attention should be given each child morning and evening in order to note suspicious symptoms. It is also advised that children be kept from large gatherings. Parties, club meetings, etc., should be postponed.

"To those who have become alarmed at the spread of these diseases we wish to say that we have had conferences with several local physicians and all have said that nothing further can be done to prevent the spread of the infection," health officers state.

SCOTCH ARTIST-POET TO LECTURE HERE MONDAY

On the evening of January 19th, at 8 o'clock, in the Friends' Meeting House on the college campus, an able and interesting Scotchman, Prof. Ian Holburn, will lecture on "The Need of Art in Life."

As architect, poet, city-planner, painter and sportsman, Prof. Holburn has a varied appeal. He not only discourses on art, architecture, poetry and the like, but by his own practice in these fields he speaks with freshness and authority.

To lovers of the picturesque he is a romantic figure—a world traveler who has journeyed over a million miles; a survivor of several shipwrecks, one being that of the "Lusitania"; and lastly, he is the Laird of Fughley, a wild and lonely island off the coast of Scotland.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to hear the lecture.

HOME AND SCHOOL MEETING POSTPONED

The Home and School meeting scheduled for last Monday evening was postponed on account of the amount of illness among children in the borough.

On January 26, a general meeting of officers and chairmen and members of committees of the Association will be held at the high school building. The first part of the meeting will be devoted to making those present better acquainted, while the latter part of the meeting will consist of committee meetings to discuss the work of each group.

Trinity Church Notes

The annual meetings of the Women's Auxiliary of Trinity Church and of the Women's Guild were held last week. Reports were made of the work done by the women during 1930 and much progress was shown. The officers of the Auxiliary for 1931 are: President, Mrs. Frank Colton Irvine; Vice-president, Mrs. Albert Hill; Secretary, Mrs. Edna M. Dickinson; Mrs. William H. Brcarley was elected Treasurer to succeed Mrs. George DuBoise, who resigned. The officers of the Guild were re-elected: Mrs. Lovett Frescoln, President; Mrs. E. O. Lange, Vice-President; Mrs. F. P. Byerly, Secretary; Mrs. Charles A. Stern, Treasurer.

The women of the parish have resumed their All-day meetings at "The Lodge" and are sewing every Thursday for the poor of the vicinity.

The members of Trinity Guild for Older Girls have changed their meeting night from Tuesday to Thursday. They are sewing for the needy, under the direction of the Community Center.

Council approved the replacing of the present telephone box system for communicating with policemen throughout the borough with an electric light flasher system. The present bells will be replaced with these lights so that when an officer is in the residence part of the borough is wanted, the light will flash. The bell system was inadequate in that it could not be heard from any distance while a light may easily be seen.

Mrs. George Ashton was lately in New York where she heard Mary Strickler play. Mary was a pupil of Mrs. Ashton's and has now won a scholarship in the Juilliard Foundation for Piano Playing.

McBRIDE PRAISES WORK OF DRYS

Anti-Saloon Head Pleads With Swarthmoreans to Uphold Constitution

SAYS PROHIBITION WORKS

F. Scott McBride

F. Scott McBride, leader of the Anti-Saloon League in this country, urged Swarthmoreans Wednesday evening to observe and uphold the Eighteenth Amendment as the most fitting celebration of the Eleventh Anniversary of Prohibition this year. The meeting was held at the Methodist Church under the auspices of the Swarthmore branch of the W. C. T. U. and replaced the Prayer Meeting Services in the churches of the borough.

Dr. McBride, who is a fiery orator, gave an address intended to revive the enthusiasm of his listeners for prohibition and convince them of its success. He declared that the Wets have nothing to propose but the abolishment of prohibition. The chief recommendation of the Wets is a program similar to that in Canada where Liquor is controlled by the Government.

"The plan in Canada is not the success that the Wets would have you believe," Dr. McBride declared. "Government control of liquor means liquor control of government. This system in Canada is bringing about the greater sale of liquor than ever before. We cannot solve the liquor problem by a system which brings about the greater sale of liquor."

Dr. McBride declared that the principal of prohibition is fundamental because it prohibits at the source instead of trying to effect a cure. Prevention is the fundamental remedy for any undesirable condition.

Dr. McBride further traced the reasons why Prohibition should be supported by pointing out that the people were behind it and trying to make the movement from small meetings in rural communities to the point where it was ratified by the different states.

"The Wet press has a great influence in this country and is trying to make people believe that Prohibition is not wanted. The manner in which the Amendment was brought about, however, shows that it was more universally desirable than any other amendment to the constitution."

"Without prohibition we would have no constructive move and the saloon system would have gotten worse," Dr. McBride declared. "It is impossible to have light wines and beers without having saloons. There is nothing to stop saloons today, anyone can put up a bar in his home or on the street corner. The prohibition of liquor is the only thing that can destroy the evil influence of the saloon."

Hirst-Pfeil

A very attractive wedding was solemnized on Saturday, January 10th in the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church when Miss Beatrice Elizabeth Hirst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hirst, became the bride of Mr. Adolph H. Pfeil, Jr., of Philadelphia, Pa. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. William G. Phillips, eldest sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mr. Ralph Pfeil, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Ellery Tuttle, D. D. After a short honeymoon the newlyweds will reside in West Philadelphia.

Its substantial beauty of line and color is apparent at a glance. Long, continuous service emphasizes the value of its simplicity of design and the high quality that has been built into every part. The new Ford accelerates quickly and it will do 55 to 65 miles an hour. It is an easy-riding car because of its specially designed springs and four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. It has fully enclosed four-wheel brakes and the added safety of a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield. Operation and up-keep costs are low and it has the stamina and reliability that mean thousands of miles of uninterrupted service.

See the nearest dealer and have him give you a demonstration ride in the new Ford. Check up every point that goes to make a good automobile and you will know it is a value far above the price.

LOW PRICES OF FORD CARS $435 to $660 F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at small cost. You can purchase a Ford on economical terms through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the Universal Credit Company.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Louis King for the afternoon and Mrs. George Zimmer for the evening classes assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Brownell, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Underwood, Rev. George W. Wellburn and Mrs. Wellburn, Mr. and Mrs. Phelps Soule and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Snow.

Mrs. Edward M. Bassett, of North Chester road, entertained at luncheon this week. Among the guests were: Mrs. Archie Turner, Mrs. Thomas H. Ingram, Miss Margaret Tuttle, Mrs. Arthur Bassett, Mrs. Horace W. Avery, Mrs. Leonard Ashton, Mrs. Joseph Bates, Mrs. William Allen Brown, Jr., Mrs. Frank Warren, Mrs. Harvey Schumacher, and Mrs. A. E. Lukens.

Rev. Ellery Tuttle and Mrs. Tuttle entertained last evening in honor of Rev. Dr. L. M. Dimmitt and Mrs. Dimmitt and Rev. Dr. James P. McNaughton newcomers in Swarthmore. Rev. George L. Face" also that another book is almost ready for the press.

Mrs. Isabel Myers told of her first book "Mystery Yet Came" which won a $7500 prize. She related how she had had several plots written out and when she saw the prize advertised, simply got out an old plot and made herself write the story. Mrs. Myers was very interesting, telling her audience that when the book came out it seemed as if it were not her book at all. She could not see herself in it until much later. Now she is supposed to go on and write more books and she is at work on one trying to fulfill that belief.

Caroline Hadley Robinson (Mrs. Louis N.) who has recently published "Twenty Birth Control Clinics," had really started out to investigate the causes of poverty, then became interested in another "kind of slavery."

Mrs. Robinson gave many interesting statistics, among them that more money is spent on our delinquents and defectives than on the public schools.

Margaret A. (Mrs. Alfred) Fassitt of 420 Riverside avenue gave the members of the club many pleasant minutes with her rhymes for children. "Animal Town and other rhymes," "Sunny Rhymes" and "Durwood Dreams" are the names of three books of poems she has had published. Mrs. Fassitt has something of the charm of Whitcomb Riley; also of his understanding of children. Having had a small son who was an invalid for ten years before he was released, Mrs. Fassitt, it seems to this writer, was given the power to understand the soul of a child, as few are. Her rhymes amused the child, and upon advice of friends, she sent them to a publisher; they were accepted and the son had the pleasure of seeing them printed in book form. Also a musician set eight of these first ones to music, and a clamor began for more, and she has been writing them ever since. She also writes stories for children, and has sold several stories to magazines.

2nd ANNUAL MEETING OF PUBLIC LIBRARY; OFFICERS REELECTED

President Barnes Tells of Growing Success of Project During Past Year; Two Directors Reelected to Board

The annual meeting of the Swarthmore Public Library association was held Monday night in the library rooms in borough hall. The program was featured by the reading of the annual report by Harold Barnes, president. Mrs. Sewell Hodge and Mrs. Jesse H. Holmes, whose terms on the board of directors expired, were reelected. The present officers, Mr. Barnes, president, Roland L. Eaton, vice president, Mrs. Sewell Hodge, secretary and Claude C. Smith treasurer were also reelected.

Mrs. Barnes' report was as follows: "As President of the Swarthmore Public Library Association I herewith submit the second annual report regarding the condition and development of the library for the year 1930," said Mr. Barnes.

"By way of reminder I may say that the library was opened to the public on May 17, 1929—some what less than two years ago. It has progressed in a steady, normal manner and is beginning to be a public institution that will prove of much value and profit to the citizens of the community.

"During the year ending December 31, 1930, there has been an accession of 720 adult books and 274 juvenile books, making a total of 994 books added during the year 1930.

"There are now a total of 3682 volumes in the library.

"The total circulation of books during 1930 was 13,927, of which 10,356 were adult and 3571, juvenile. The total circulation of books for 1929 was 8005, showing an increase in during 1930 of 5922 over that of 1929.

"There are 581 adult readers cards, and 404 juvenile readers cards, making a total of 725 readers cards were issued in 1929. 591 members contributed to the library fund in 1930.

"There is one shelf in the library which contains only volumes written and published by Swarthmore authors. This shelf contains 77 volumes at the present time. It is a well established fact that Swarthmore, in proportion to her population, contains more books in 'Who's Who' than any other community in the country.

"Up to the present time the library has been maintained principally by the two dollar annual membership fees. Small contributions have been made occasionally during the past year by interested patrons, one patron contributing twenty dollars. A group of women at Christmas time gave contributions totaling twelve dollars. One member of the library association has, during the year, bought and presented to the library some ten or twelve excellent books. A goodly number of members have given one or more books to the library within the past year. Several book cases have been donated and other articles of furniture and equipment. These have been gratefully received and we take this opportunity of publicly extending our thanks and appreciation.

"On the nights of January 19 and 20, 1931, the proceeds from two benefit performances of a play netted the library $185. Tickets for the play were sold by members of the library board and a third of the proceeds from all tickets sold went to the library.

"In December, 1930, the Borough Council of Swarthmore voted the sum of $200 to the library. The members of the library board are keenly appreciative, not only of the amount contributed, but also for the hearty endorsement by the Council of the library as a community institution.

"The library is growing in a sane and healthy manner. More people of the community are becoming interested in it each month. Miss Grace Lindale, our efficient librarian, is conducting the library on a modern, up-to-date basis, and it is principally due to her insight and management that it is an excellent and growing asset to the entire community. With the small appropriation at her command, she has been able to hunt for books 'wherever' she can find them and gets many first class books at reduced prices. She keeps posted in the library lists of books on various subjects such as best fiction, religious books, general education books and graded lists of juvenile books. One who also find posted, new items of living authors, the most important theatre notices in various other interesting items regarding current events and happenings of an educational nature.

"In regard to the types of books read Miss Lindale notes that fiction comes easily first but biography and travel are growing rapidly in favor.

WORKING WOMEN TOPIC OF MEETING

Swarthmore Women Voters Urged to Support Bill for 44-Hour Week

NEARBY CONDITIONS CITED

The Swarthmore League of Women Voters held its regular meeting on Tuesday in the Woman's Clubhouse, Mrs. J. Barnard Walton, chairman, presiding.

Mrs. Evelyn B. Binns, Secretary of the Women's Trades Union League, who was scheduled as guest speaker on the subject of the day, "Women in Industry," was unable to be present, being detained in Harrisburg in connection with Mrs. Pinchot and members of the State Legislature concerning state industrial problems. In Mrs. Binns' absence, a member of her staff, Miss Kazor, addressed the meeting.

Miss Kazor made an earnest plea for general and vigorous support of a bill for a 44 hour week for women in industry, as such a bill is very likely to be presented at the current session of the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Mrs. Pinchot has endorsed the 44 hour week, and fifteen other states are sponsoring similar legislation. Such a law cannot be passed until the textile workers, as during the last year, textile workers have averaged only about thirty hours a week; but the 44 hour week, made up of the eight hour day, and five and a half day week, is recommended alike by physicians and efficiency engineers, to counteract the nervous strain caused by the tremendous speeding up of production, due to the increased use of machinery. The factory girls are not the only sufferers in this speeding up process. Meters are now being placed on typewriters, and the typist who can not keep up to the established average loses her job too.

In the last seven years, production has increased 36 per cent with three million less workers. There are now in the United States five million unemployed, resulting in the vicious circle of: no wages, no purchases; no purchases, no orders; no orders, no work; no work, no wages.

An interesting sidelight on what can be accomplished in industry through intelligent planning and cooperation was expressed in Miss Kazor's personal experience in the textile mills in Salem, Mass., where Pequot sheets are made. For twelve years this organization has been managed by active cooperation between employers and employees, under the intelligent guidance of efficiency engineers. During that time this particular firm has been able to increase wages, shorter hours of labor, increase production, increase profits, and at the same time give the employees the best possible social and sanitary environment.

There was much interested discussion among the local women present regarding women in industry generally, as well as concerning conditions in the vicinity of Swarthmore. Miss Crewe, Mrs. Martin B. Young and Mrs. George M. Hughes, among others, gave information with regard to nearby industrial and unemployment problems.

"THING CALLED LOVE" AT PLAYERS' CLUB

"This Thing Called Love," a comedy by Edwin Burke is to be the Players' Club production for February. In addition to being given five times next week at the Women's Clubhouse, the play will be presented twice in Ridley Park and twice in Lansdowne.

Roy C. Comley and Dr. A. F. Jackson are directing the production, which includes the following Swarthmore players: Helen E. Reed, Helen E. Comley, Thomas W. Leuders, Thea Rutherford, Deane N. Brigham, Conrad C. Lesley, Helen Brigham, Ann J. Cochran. Mr. Comley and Dr. Jackson also take part in the play.

HEALTH AND WELFARE PROGRAM FOR H. AND S.

The Public Health and the Public Welfare committees will have charge of the February Home and School meeting a week from this Monday evening. Dr. E. Leroy Mercer is head of the Public Health Committee and William Craemer is chairman of the Public Welfare Committee.

On Monday evening of this week the officers and members of the committees of the Home and School Association met at the High school for a round table discussion of Home and School work. The meeting was called by Dr. J. S. Heberling, presidents of the Association, and was successful in securing a variety of opinions as to the program during the balance of the year.

RED CROSS APPEAL BRINGS RESPONSE HERE

The efforts of the Red Cross workers in Swarthmore who are seeking funds for the Starvation Relief Fund, have met with considerable success this week according to Mrs. John Howard Taylor, chairman of the work here. A number of "check" have been sent to the Swarthmore National Bank which is acting as headquarters and other cash contributions have been placed in the box at the bank for that purpose.

To Elect Officers

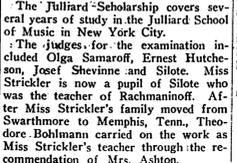

The election of officers and annual meeting of the Swarthmore Business Men's Association will be held Tuesday noon at 12:45 at the Strath Haven Inn. Every member of the organization is urged to be present.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Mary Strickler, daughter of Professor Strickler formerly of Swarthmore College, has won a Juillard Foundation scholarship in piano. She was one of the eight most successful candidates. The competition covered the whole United States. During the second year of Mary Strickler's study with Mrs. Ashton she won the Stowkowski first prize in the children's orchestra concerts.

The Juillard Scholarship covers several years of study in the Juillard School of Music in New York City.

The judges for the examination included Olga Samaroif, Ernest Hutcheson, Josef Shevline and Silote. Miss Strickler is now a pupil of Silote who was the teacher of Rachmaninoff. After Miss Strickler's family moved from Swarthmore to Memphis, Tenn., Theodore Bohluann carried on the work as Miss Strickler's teacher through the recommendation of Mrs. Ashton.

Mary Strickler, pupil of Mrs. George T. Ashton, wins a Juillard Scholarship in piano.

EFFORTS TO AID UNEMPLOYED IN THIS VICINITY MEETING SUCCESS

Names of Job Applicants Being Filed at Health Center; Committee Named and Paid Secretary Employed

Relief work for the unemployed has been going on steadily during the past week with the committee concentrating their efforts on securing jobs or work of some kind for those in need rather than making them outright gifts of money, food and clothing.

About 35 of Swarthmore's most prominent citizens representing organizations, churches and borough council, attended the meeting last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leonard C. Ashton for the discussion of unemployment relief. The work being done was discussed at length, suggestions for more work were offered, and the following committee was named to direct the volunteer efforts: Mrs. William T. Johnson, chairman, Mrs. Ellwood B. Chapman, treasurer, Mrs. Leonard C. Ashton, Mrs. A. F. Jackson, Mrs. William A. Jaquette, Mrs. Philip Jewett, Mrs. H. Wall Olmes, and Mrs. J. DeLancey Verplanck.

Miss Catherine Armstrong, an experienced secretarial worker, has been employed to take charge of headquarters for the work at the borough hall along with the Community Health Center and will keep records of all those who apply for work and solicit work from people in the borough.

Anyone having odd jobs around the house or lawn will aid the work of the committee by calling Sw. 362 and describing the nature of the work to Miss Armstrong. She will go through her card index and secure the man who is best suited for that particular work.

Already a great many Swarthmore people have made use of this service which makes it possible to have work done very inexpensively and at the same time provides employment for someone, Mrs. Johnson, the chairman points out.

Ten men from the Plush Mills have continued to find employment in the Crum woods behind the college and on Thursday six additional men from other parts of Swarthmore in this vicinity were added to the force making a total of 16 men employed. Along with the work of clearing the woods of underbrush the men are being set to work sawing cord wood which the college will sell and immediately place the entire returns back into hiring more men.

Before recommending workers sent out in response to calls, each applicant is investigated to find out if he is actually unemployed, and actually in need of what small amount of money he can earn. This eliminates any danger of jobs being secured for men who really are in the area of need of funds or who could get work elsewhere if they tried.

Mrs. Johnson's committee is now endeavoring to secure small trees from the state which can be transplanted to parks and lawns where they are needed and desired. This will furnish work for a number of men removing old trees around the borough and replanting new ones. It will also work a great improvement for the borough which in years to come will be a reminder of the efforts made by local citizens to aid the unemployment problem in the winter 1930-31.

FASHION SHOW AT JUNIOR CLUB

Living Models Show Members Difference in Styles of Dress

CLUB MEMBERSHIP GROWS

The Junior Section of the Swarthmore Woman's Club staged a unique and clever exhibit of old and new fashions at their get-together card party given last Monday night at the Club House. This was the second meeting of the year to be held by the members, who have just recently reorganized into an active and enthusiastic group.

The officers of the club are: Miss Mildred Bond, president; Miss Anna Doctor, vice-president; Miss Jean Jeffords, secretary, and Miss Ruth Reynolds, treasurer.

Monday night, at the end of the bridge playing, the members were treated to a rare exhibition of contrast in modern and old time wearing apparel. Miss Mildred Bond, the president, introduced each model as she appeared, and Miss Betty Hunter played the accompaniment as the models came down the steps from the stage and walked about the room. Miss Mary Brower, the first model, caused a lot of laughter as she darted about the room in a long-sleeved, high-necked nightgown, her hair braided into two severe plaits, and carrying in her hand a lighted candle, from behind which she peered eerily.

Next a difference to behold next Miss Mildred Simpser, nonchalantly (Continued on Page Six)

"GOOD WILL" DINNER AT INN FEBRUARY 17

Invitations are being sent out this week to about thirty Swarthmore men including members of borough council, members of the school board, representatives of the college and private schools, and heads of numerous organizations to attend the Good Will dinner to be held Feb. 17 at the Strath Haven Inn by the Business Men's Association.

W. W. Mitchell, general manager of the Ford plant in Chester and a resident of Swarthmore has been secured as the principal speaker of the occasion. Mr. Mitchell is one of the youngest and most aggressive men at the head of the huge Ford organization in this country. Before coming to Chester to take over the active head of that plant, which is among the largest Ford plants in the United States, he was in charge of other plants and at one time was head of the entire national advertising department of the Ford Motor Company.

He has been active in chamber of commerce work and other organizations of business men and is known as an extremely forceful speaker with a vast fund of actual experience in all parts of the country to draw from.

Nearly a hundred men are expected to attend the dinner. Elric Sproat will act as toastmaster.

BOARDS OF HEALTH CONTINUE FIGHT ON MUMPS AND GRIPPE

The Swarthmore Board of Health headed by Anna M. Brice continues to carry on the fight against grip, flu, mumps and measles which are now confining many Swarthmoreans to their homes.

Mrs. Brice reports the finest cooperation from everyone concerned with the work. The Community Health Centre has arranged to have every public school child examined each day and every precaution is being taken to safeguard the health of the children of the borough.

The school authorities are cooperating in that Junior and Senior High school pupils will have to take examinations only in courses that will be discontinued at the close of this semester. This step is being taken according to Frank R. Morey, supervising principal of the schools, because many children will be unable to attend school due to illness and because other children just recovering from illness will be tempted to return for examinations before they are physically able.

Mr. Morey in a memorandum to the teachers gives the following general rules for avoiding grip:

Get plenty of rest.

Eat moderately.

Exercise moderately.

Get medical attention promptly if a cold trends.

Avoid crowds.

Other steps that are being taken in the borough to decrease the amount of illness include the closing of the Sunday schools in which the churches have cooperated; the discontinuance of the Children's Story Hour during January; and the discontinuance of the children's dancing classes.

2nd ANNUAL MEETING OF PUBLIC LIBRARY; OFFICERS REELECTED

President Barnes Tells of Growing Success of Project During Past Year; Two Directors Reelected to Board

The annual meeting of the Swarthmore Public Library association was held Monday night in the library rooms in borough hall. The program was featured by the reading of the annual report by Harold Barnes, president. Mrs. Sewell Hodge and Mrs. Jesse H. Holmes, whose terms on the board of directors expired, were reelected. The present officers, Mr. Barnes, president, Roland L. Eaton, vice president, Mrs. Sewell Hodge, secretary and Claude C. Smith treasurer were also reelected.

Mrs. Barnes' report was as follows: "As President of the Swarthmore Public Library Association I herewith submit the second annual report regarding the condition and development of the library for the year 1930," said Mr. Barnes.

"By way of reminder I may say that the library was opened to the public on May 17, 1929—some what less than two years ago. It has progressed in a steady, normal manner and is beginning to be a public institution that will prove of much value and profit to the citizens of the community.

"During the year ending December 31, 1930, there has been an accession of 720 adult books and 274 juvenile books, making a total of 994 books added during the year 1930.

"There are now a total of 3682 volumes in the library.

"The total circulation of books during 1930 was 13,927, of which 10,356 were adult and 3571, juvenile. The total circulation of books for 1929 was 8885, showing an increase during 1930 of 5042 over that of 1929.

"There are 581 adult readers cards and 404 juvenile readers cards, making a total of 725 readers during 1930. In 1929, 591 members contributed to the library fund in 1930.

"There is one shelf in the library which contains only volumes written and published by Swarthmore authors. This shelf contains 77 volumes at the present time. It is a well established fact that Swarthmore, in proportion to her population, contains more names in "Who's Who" than any other community in the country.

"Up to the present time the library has been maintained principally by the two dollar annual membership fees. Small contributions have been made occasionally during the past year by interested patrons, one patron contributing twenty dollars. A group of women at Christmas time gave contributions totaling twelve dollars. One member of the library association has, during the year, brought and presented to the library some ten or twelve excellent books. A goodly number of members have given one or more books to the library within the past year. Several book cases have been donated and other articles of furniture and equipment. These have been gratefully received and we take this opportunity of publicly extending our thanks and appreciation.

"On the nights of January 19 and 20, 1931, the proceeds from two benefit performances of a play netted the library $185. Tickets for the play were sold by members of the library board and a third of the proceeds from all tickets sold went to the library.

"In December, 1930, the Borough Council of Swarthmore voted the sum of $200 to the library. The members of the library board are keenly appreciative, not only of the amount contributed, but also for the hearty endorsement by the Council of the library as a community institution.

"The library is growing in a sane and healthy manner. More people of the community are becoming interested in it each month. Miss Grace Lindale, our efficient librarian, is conducting the library on a modern, up-to-date basis, and it is principally due to her insight and management that it is an excellent and growing asset to the entire community. With the small appropriation at her command, she goes about her hunting for books wherever she can

On Monday evening of this week the officers and members of the committees of the Home and School Association met at the High School for a round table discussion of Home and School work. The meeting was called by Dr. J. S. Heberling, presidents of the Association, and was successful in securing a variety of opinions as to the program during the balance of the year.

RED CROSS APPEAL BRINGS RESPONSE HERE

The efforts of the Red Cross workers in Swarthmore who are seeking funds for the Starvation Relief Fund, have met with considerable success this week according to Mrs. John Howard Taylor, chairman of the work here. A number of "check," have been sent to the Swarthmore National Bank, which is acting as headquarters and other cash contributions have been placed in the box at the bank for that purpose.

To Elect Officers

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Mary Strickler, daughter of Professor Strickler formerly of Swarthmore College, has won a Juilliard Foundation scholarship in piano. She was one of the eight to be successful candidates in the competition which covered the whole United States. During the second year of Mary Strickler's study with Mrs. Ashton she won the Stowkowski first prize in the children's orchestra concerts.

The Juilliard Scholarship covers several years of study in the Juilliard School of Music in New York City.

The judges for the examination included Olga Samaroff, Ernest Hutcheson, Josef Shevintse and Silote. Miss Strickler is now a pupil of Silote who was the teacher of Rachmaninoff. After Miss Strickler's family moved from Swarthmore to Memphis, Tenn., Theodore Bohluann carried on the work as Miss Strickler's teacher through the recommendation of Mrs. Ashton.

Mary Strickler, pupil of Mrs. George T. Ashton, wins a Juilliard Scholarship in piano.

Names of Job Applicants Being Filed at Health Center; Committee Named and Paid Secretary Employed

Relief work for the unemployed has been going on steadily during the past week with the committee concentrating their efforts on securing jobs or work for those in need rather than making them outright gifts of money, food and clothing.

About 35 of Swarthmore's most prominent citizens representing organizations, churches, and borough council, attended the meeting last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leonard C. Ashton for the discussion of unemployment relief. The work being done was discussed at length, suggestions for more work were offered, and the following committee was named to direct the volunteer efforts: Mrs. William T. Johnson, chairman, Mrs. Elwood B. Chapman, treasurer,

FASHION SHOW AT JUNIOR CLUB

CLUB MEMBERSHIP GROWS

The Junior Section of the Swarthmore Woman's Club staged a unique and clever exhibit of old and new fashions at their get-together next party given last Monday night at the Club House. This was the second meeting of the year to be held by the Juniors, who have just recently reorganized into an active and enthusiastic group.

The officers of the club are: Miss Mildred Bond, president; Miss Jean Doctor, vice-president; Miss Anna Jeffords, secretary, and Miss Ruth Reynolds, treasurer.

Monday night, at the end of the bridge playing, the members were treated to a rare exhibition of costume in modern and old time wearing apparel. Miss Mildred Bond, the president, introduced each model as she appeared, and Miss Betty Hunter played the accompaniment as the models came down the steps from the stage and walked about the room. Miss Mary Brower, the first model, caused a lot of laughter as she darted into two severe plaits, and carrying in her hand a lighted candle, from behind which she peered eerily.

Next what a difference to behold next Miss Mildred Simpkins, nonchalant.

BOARD OF HEALTH CONTINUES FIGHT ON MUMPS AND GRIPPE

The Swarthmore Board of Health headed by Anna M. Brice continues to carry on the fight against grip, flu, mumps and measles which are now common with Swarthmoreans to their homes.

Mrs. Brice reports the finest cooperation from everyone concerned with the work. The Community Health Centre has arranged to have every public school child examined each day and every precaution is being taken to safeguard the health of the children of the borough.

The school authorities are cooperating in that Junior and Senior High school pupils will have to take examinations only in courses that will be discontinued at the close of this semester. This step is being taken according to Frank R. Moray, supervising principal of the schools, because many children will be unable to attend school due to illness and because other children just recovering from illness will be tempted to return for examinations before they are physically able.

Mr. Moray in a memorandum to the teachers gives the following general rules for avoiding grip:

Eat moderately.

H. S. BASKETBALL QUINTETTE MEETING STIFF COMPETITION

With an inexperienced team on the floor the Swarthmore High School boys' basketball team is meeting stiff opposition in its game this year. Out of six games played, two have been won and four lost. On Tuesday the team meets Eddystone at the Prep School gym.

Schuyler Simmons, captain of the team and the only member who also played with the varsity team last year is filling the center position very effectively. The only man on the team who will not be lost by graduation this year is Henry Hanzlik, forward, a Junior who is doing excellent work.

The other three members on the varsity team are Al Madison, forward, Kenneth Christie, guard, and Sam Wisdom, forward. The second team is making out better than the varsity in the games with other second teams and consists of Millard McLain, Erv Kahler, Bill Madison, Bill Dodd and Charles Gerner.

The local school team is a member of the county Basketball League, Class C and is in second place, being led only by Collingdale.

W. C. Ziegenfus is coaching the team this year and is directing the work very efficiently, as well as lining up some good material for next year. Practice is being held at the Prep gym between 5 and 6.30 every afternoon.

CHAS. ANDES NAMED FOR MAGISTRATE VACANCY

Charles Andes, of the Baltimore pike, had Riverview avenue has been appointed Justice of the Peace of Swarthmore to fill a vacancy which has existed for several years. The borough has always been entitled to two justices but at the last election no candidate was named for the office. Mr. Andes' appointment was made by Governor Fisher near the end of his term and approved by the present Senate last week.

The State law provides that hearings should take place before the magistrate whose office is nearest the scene of the arrest or the law violation which is charged.

Swarthmore people charged with violating the State vehicle code, will in the future be taken before either Magistrate Andes or Magistrate David Ulrich in borough hall, depending on the place where the violation occurred.

Squire Andes says that he does not expect to concentrate his attention on the magistrate work to the neglect of his real estate business, but that he has certain theories about people who disregard the stop sign entering the Baltimore pike just outside his office that he expects to try out.

Squire Andes also says that he will not be above performing marriage ceremonies should the occasion arise.

CHESTER CONCERT COURSE PROGRAM ON WEDNESDAY

The next number of the Chester Concert Course, consisting of an evening's entertainment by the Cossack Chorus will be held next Wednesday, Feb. 4 at the New Century Club in Chester. Tickets may be secured at the door and a large number of Swarthmore people are expected to attend and swell the number of regular patrons who subscribe to the entire series.

The Swarthmore subscribers for the entire series include: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Bye, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Thayer, Mrs. Hanna Hinkson Long, Dr. and Mrs. George H. Cross, Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Guenther, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Foshinder, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bardwell Lincoln, Mrs. Gertrude McClure, Dr. and Mrs. George B. Sickle, Dr. and Mrs. Michael Kovalenko, Mr. and Mrs. Louis King, Mrs. Albert Hill, and Mrs. Emily Mustin.

Election Postponed

Small attendance at the meeting of the Business and Civic Association Thursday evening necessitated the holding over of the election of officers until the next meeting. In the meantime a meeting of the board of directors will be called by J. V. S. Bishop president of the Association for the discussion of plans for the coming year.

Builders of HOMES
GEORGE GILLESPIE & CO.
Old Bank Bldg. Sw. 1129

LOOKING FORWARD —an announcement

IN anticipation of the coming forward movement of real estate in Swarthmore, Wallingford, Moylan-Rose Valley and the surrounding district, it is necessary, in order to conserve time, to establish an independent Swarthmore office. Here we shall be glad to handle real estate matters at any time or make appointments at the convenience of our clients.

We shall continue, also, as the exclusive representative of WM. H. WILSON & CO., and thus give Swarthmore all the advantages arising from direct contact with Philadelphia's oldest and largest suburban realtors.

POLICY

The policy demanded by a professional code of ethics and procedure will be strictly adhered to.

We do not own, and never have owned, directly or indirectly, any houses excepting our own personal residence. We feel that we cannot fairly represent either the individual owner or the prospective purchaser if we are tempted to place our own interests in competition. Honest comparison of values is the real estate salesman's strongest asset.

FINANCING

We shall continue to obtain first mortgage funds for purchasers of homes at established, legal interest rates, without cost or brokerage fees.

We have access to several millions of dollars for mortgage investment. We consider it unethical to charge for a service so simple.

HOUSE PLANNING SERVICE

For the prospective home builder we offer our experience in engineering and our acquaintance with the saleable types of residences in the planning of new homes.

Every home built must, eventually, be sold to a second or third party. The real estate man learns, by experience, what kinds of homes more. Where the sale of a lot is involved, we will gladly contribute our experience in planning and designing new homes and give impartial information as to the comparative merits of trustworthy, competent and responsible builders.

We always have available for inspection, in various suburbs, completed homes illustrating all the phases of plans, materials, conveniences and the thousand and one items entering into this fascinating adventure. We have recently completed a new home in Swarthmore Crest that incorporates all the latest improvements in home construction and equipment. This is open for inspection of prospective home builders, by appointment.

We can save the home builder much time, trouble and expense.

GROUND

We do not own any scattered or individual lots. We do, however, buy and develop large tracts of ground such as Swarthmore Crest and Wallingford Hills, ready for the builder. We also have listed for sale the building sites of other developers as well as scattered lots of individual investors. These we are prepared to offer competitively.

Frank H. Worell

Frank H. Worell of Baltimore, Maryland, died at his home in that city on Tuesday, Jan. 27, and was interred in the cemetery in Chestertown, Friday. Mr. Worell was one of Swarthmore's pioneer citizens and took an active interest in local matters until about six years ago, when he bought a farm in Chestertown and moved there. Thus he departed another one of the men who had helped to shape the destinies of our borough and bring to pass some of the measures which we now enjoy.

Efficiency in Government. Miss Fredrick of Washington, who is an authority on this subject, will conduct the meeting. The morning session will be devoted to problems of organization. At the afternoon session a special study of the proposed Pennsylvania Election Code will be made.

All who care to attend either or both sessions, please communicate promptly with Mrs. J. Passmore Cheyney, Swarthmore 590R.

"Just Imagine"

El Brendel is transferred to a world five years from today. This world is astounding, synthetic food, air speeds of 500 miles an hour, 200 story buildings, one's life companion chosen by court and imagine the styles of fifty years from now. See "Just Imagine" at the Media Theatre today.

Mr. Oscar M. Miller and family are guests at the Seaside Hotel in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Tricker and daughters of Park avenue have rented the house of Mrs. Fred Robinson, on Haverford avenue, and will occupy it about the first of the month.

A son, Prescott, Jr., was born to Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Willis, of Columbia avenue, on Sunday, January 18.

Everyone interested in our young people is invited to hear Dr. Parker, who is the leading speaker of the American Social Hygiene Association.

Juniors' Fashion Show

ently strolling forth garbed in a modish suit of silk pajamas.

The success of the evening was the sight of Mrs. Aline Luff tripping coyly out dressed in a pair of stays of long past vintage, with fingerless mitts on her hands, and a squat little mushroom hat perched airily on her head. She carried over her shoulder a tiny black silk parasol, and to complete the outfit, wore a pair of high buttoned shoes and white cotton stockings.

Jeannette Bair, as the fussy, squeamish bather of 1890, completely covered by long black stockings and full flowing bathing suit, carrying an immense sun-shade, was a direct contrast to the appearance of Mary Fullerton in a 1931 beach pajama suit, with stylish sun-tan back and clattering wooden beach sandals.

For sports wear, Anne Jeffords, in a voluminous, be-ruffled and petticoated spidery waisted gown of white, demonstrated how milady of yesteryear decked herself out to engage in the strenuous sport of croquet; while Dorothy Brower, as our modern maid off for a brisk canter, and Mildred Simpers in golf togs, were typical of sports of today.

Arleen Snyder was winsomely charming in a grey tailored suit of flowing skirt and tiny waist-line. The hat she wore was complete in itself, with its mass of pink roses, and pretty little face veil. May Keech, in dark green, exemplified the tailored mode of our times.

A succession of beautiful evening and dinner frocks, both new and old, were shown, and the final display was that of the bride of yesterday, Mrs. Aline Luff, in a gorgeous ivory satin wedding dress with long train and veil, held by her page, Catherine Hershey, accompanied down the aisle by her two bridesmaids, Arleen Snyder and Muriel Mann.

Last, in a final burst of glory, to the tune of the famous wedding march played with the speed of a hurdy-gurdy, the bride of 1931, portrayed by Mildred Simpers, came dashing in, rushing her reluctant groom, Frieda Snyder, to the altar.
