What to do with penniless transients who arrive in Swarthmore about night-fall and seek a place to sleep without cost is getting to be quite a problem.

At a recent meeting of Borough Council, the police report showed that many of these transients were being classed as undesirables and escorted to the borough limits.

However, the stories told by others had a truthful ring, which prompted police officers to allow them to sleep in the basement of borough hall, where two persons can be accommodated on bunks in the cell-room and four to eight men can sleep on benches.

Then arose the question of whether or not they should be given breakfast before starting another day's tramp. And as an answer to this problem, Jim Macklin, janitor for borough hall, offered to make coffee and provide bread and butter and jam, in his quarters over the fire house. The Employment Relief Bureau agree to reimburse Jim for the food purchased.

At the beginning of this year, the Employment Relief workers came to Borough council with the statement that they did not think this work came under their jurisdiction since they were delegated to furnish employment. Council upon being informed that the bill for food for all last year only amounted to sixteen dollars, volunteered to assume the responsibility for 1933.

Now it develops that the number of men spending the night in Swarthmore's jail was on the upgrade towards the end of 1932, and during the past month forty-one men both slept in borough hall and had their breakfast there in the morning.

Furthermore, it seems that these itinerates are eating more than last year, for while breakfasts only cost an average of 5c each last year, this year the average cost is 12c each. The total bill for food served by Jim the janitor during January just passed was $5.

Five dollars for the first month indicates that the $16 estimated to take care of the entire year will not go far. So last night borough council was scheduled to discuss this problem at length.

Jimmie, the janitor, is not backward in calling attention to another phase of the situation either. For the task of providing breakfast for the ever increasing number of lodgers is not in line with the very substantial salary cut which he suffered this year.

SCOUT LEADERS MEET IN PHILA.

The Annual Scout Leaders meeting and dinner for the troops of Delaware and Montgomery counties was held last Saturday afternoon and evening at the Bellevue-Stratford. Among those who attended were: John Detlefsen; Prescott Willis, scoutmaster of Troop 2; Dr. E. Fullerton Cooke, Committeeman of Troop 3; D. Curry Armstrong, committeeman of Troop 1, and chairman of the Court of Honor for the Media District, also merit badge counselor on the four year Scout group, and Wallace Steigelman, scoutmaster of Morton Troop 1.

Mr. Armstrong, well known Swarthmore mail carrier, received the Silver Beaver award for distinguished service to boyhood with a long period of service. Four other men received this award. Only five other Silver Beavers have ever been awarded.

Delaware and Montgomery Counties council received the Hoover award for an increase in Scouts of over 25 per cent. Swarthmore Troop 1 received the twenty year service emblem for their flag.

PROPOSED SCHOOL LEGISLATION TO BE HOME AND SCHOOL SUBJECT

At the Home and School Association meeting next Tuesday night, February 8 in the High School auditorium, the theme of the evening will be "The Crisis Facing the Public Schools." The problem will be ably presented from the State, from the County, and from the local point of view.

The significance to this meeting of the State-wide point of view was indicated in the columns of The Swarthmorean last week in the interview with Roland L. Eaton, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Swarthmore School Board.

There is ready for presentation to the General Assembly when it reassembles next Monday night, a revised School Code embodying changes in school district lines, and formulating new bases for the distribution of state subsidies to local school districts. Contemplated revisions of the Edmonds Salary Act will be presented at a later date. A number of State organizations, including the State Chamber of Commerce, the State Taxpayers League, the State Grange, the State School Directors Association, and the State Education Association are advocating different measures and in some cases are opposing these measures.

Dr. James Herbert Kelley, Executive Secretary of the State Education Association, will speak upon the phases of the State program affecting the so-called "common schools."

The possible actions on these measures have potentialities of grave difficulties for school directors, business men and taxpayers, in maintaining the standard of schooling desired by parents for the children, and the same time doing so with utmost economy in line with the system provided by the school laws. School districts have been created by the Commonwealth, and school directors are limited in their actions by the specific provisions of the Act of the General Assembly.

Freas B. Snyder, member of the Upper Darby School Board, business man, and noted speaker, will present an able discussion on this phase of public school activity.

County Viewpoint

Dr. Carl G. Leech, Superintendent of the Delaware County Schools, will report on an exhaustive study he has made, showing the effect of the contemplated program upon the various school districts of this County. The total loss in state appropriation to the local districts amounts to over $250,000. In Swarthmore, the loss would be equivalent to about 2½ mills, an amount that would have to be raised before any reduction in this year's tax rate could be passed on to the property owner. No matter how much local tax reduction is provided, the degree of the withdrawal of state support is thereby eliminated from local tax relief.

Swarthmore citizens cannot fully grasp the significance of the problems of local school finance to be presented at the March meeting of the Home and School Association, without a full comprehension of the underlying problems which are to be presented at this February 8 meeting.

From the importance of this meeting, there should be present every one of the nineteen hundred taxpayers of Swarthmore.

At eight o'clock, preceding the general meeting, the Blackfriars will present an one-act tragedy, with locale in Ireland, unique in the fact that it has an entire male cast, composed of the following high school students: Leroy Wilson, John Brownell, Benjamin Keller, and John Murrell.

FEB. PLAYERS CLUB SHOW NEXT WEEK

Two hours of delightful entertainment are in store for Players' audiences next week (Monday, February 6—10 inclusive) when Thompson Buchanan's comedy, "Civilian Clothes," with its side-splitting situations, and the fourth production of the Players' season, opens at the Clubhouse under the direction of Roy C. Comley.

"Civilian Clothes" is not a war play, but a decidedly amusing and well-developed plot built around the "trappings" of war, which requires a well-balanced cast. Mr. Comley has been unusually successful in his selection. As his leading lady, Mr. Comley has chosen Beatrice S. Gillespie to interpret the charming but family-proud Florence Lankham; William F. Baker takes the part of one of her admirers, Billy Arkwright, a late Lieutenant of the A. E. F., Helen B. Parker, that of Nora, a maid; Frank N. Smith, General McInery, U. S. A.; James H. Hornaday, Jack Rutherford, late N. A., both Florence's suitors; Mary R. O'Brien, as Mrs. Lanham, Florence's aristocratic mother; Jane Hendrickson, as Elizabeth Lanham, Florence's sister; Mr. Comley, Sam McGinnis, Jr.; Helen E. Comley, Mrs. Margaret Smythe, fascinating young widow and friend of the Lanhams in search of further marital adventures; Ada P. Fuller, Miss Bessie Henderson, another friend of the family; D. Malcolm Hodge, Zack Hart, astute business associate of Mr. Lanham, and "picker" of leaders; Stafford W. Parker, as Florence's father; Frederick W. Luchring, Sam McGinnis, Sr., and William Ward, 3d, as bell hop.

The action takes place in the lovely home of the Lanhams in Louisville, Ky., and then moves suddenly to the Hotel Greenwald in New Orleans.

The settings were prepared under the direction of Dr. A. F. Jackson, William Brown, and Mr. Comley. Mrs. Edith Inglis Cuskoden, and Mrs. A. S. Wickham are in charge of the decorations.

The fifth play of the season, in March, will be under the direction of Charles D. Mitchell, President of the Club.

Dr. Jesse H. Holmes, who has recently returned from a lecture tour through New York State for the League For Industrial Democracy, will open the series with the subject, "Our Heritage From the Frontier."

It is hoped these meetings may become of county-wide interest, and all are invited to attend and participate in the discussions.

HOME ROBBED; AUTO STOLEN

Thieves forced their way by a back window into a Swarthmore home on Tuesday evening and made away with jewelry and several suits of clothing.

The house that was ransacked is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace B. Passmore, 545 Strath Haven avenue. Entrance was gained by raising a window to the kitchen and crawling in.

When Mr. and Mrs. Passmore returned to their home shortly after midnight, they found the entire house in a state of disorder. Upon calling the Swarthmore police, they were notified that the officers were already at work on Strath Haven avenue a few doors from their home where the car of James A. Cochran, of 314 North Chester road, had been reported stolen from in front of the home of Marvel Wilson, 621 Strath Haven avenue.

The natural assumption is that the thieves who robbed the Passmore home made their getaway in Mr. Cochran's car.

Mr. Cochran's car was recovered in Claymont, Del., on Wednesday. It was not damaged.

Gov. Study Class

On Wednesday, February 8, at 10 a. m. the County Government study class will meet with Mrs. B. W. Isfort, 119 Princeton avenue.

Tax Meeting

The community meeting for the discussion of taxation, scheduled to be held at the Woman's Club House, Thursday, February 9, at 8:15 p. m., has been postponed until Thursday, February 16, at 8:15 p. m., owing to the fact that February 9 is the date of the date of the Cooper Foundation Concert at the Clothier Memorial. Club members are specially asked to note this change of date on their club calendars.

Well informed speakers are being secured who will be able to present this vitally important subject of taxation in a most comprehensive way, and a forum for general discussion will follow the talks.

Hosts to Bible Class

Dr. E. Fullerton Cooke and Dr. J. P. McNaughton will entertain the members of the Men's Bible class of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church at a reception at Dr. Cooke's home on Cople's lane, Wallingford, next Thursday night.

WOMEN HEAR OF WORK FOR BLIND

One of the most appreciative audiences of the year greeted Mrs. Harrison Eustis, President of "The Seeing Eye", when she explained the workings of her organization to members of the Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon. Colonel Morris S. Frank, totally blind, with his "eye", the German shepherd dog, Buddy, accompanied Mrs. Eustis to Swarthmore.

The speaker explained how those interested in the training of dogs for this project had studied the intelligence of the animals. Having seen them work in the mountains of Switzerland, it seemed that just a bit more work might train them for the task of leading the blind.

Consequently the school for training teachers was established. After a three years course, the teachers start the training of the dog. The female dog seems more easily trained and having been trained for years in tending herds of sheep, the same instinct leads them to guide and protect their master. Mrs. Eustis explained how the dog-guide had restored self-respect to the blind, made him see his blindness as a handicap, but not an affliction.

A farm has been established near Morristown, New Jersey, where these dogs are being trained and where those seeking a dog must go and study, so they will understand the dog and the methods of handling. These dogs sell for $300 and the society has scholarships which are given to men and women who are unable to pay for their dogs. Of course these cases are minutely studied and investigated.

Colonel Frank then came forward with his dog, "Buddy", which, by the way, had barked his approval at each bit of hand-clapping, and gave his own reaction to the idea. He had had a paid guide who didn't always want to go the same way, neglected to come now and then, but "Buddy" always wants to go where his master does and is happy doing so. As an example of just what it meant to be free of guides he explained how, when he needed a hair cut, the family had to go into conference as to who should take him to the shop and he'd probably have to wait a couple of hours for another member of the family to come and get him, he now simply picks up the harness attached to his dog, which is a sort of U shaped strap with a bar at the top, and goes alone to the barber shop. Cheerful obedience seems to be the dog's creed.

Following the talks a moving picture was shown in which the audience could follow the training of the dog as to its response to "left", "right", "forward" and its own initiation in setting down to show a curb and using his own eyes to see when it was safe to go across a busy street.

Questions were permitted at the close and the following facts were brought out. There are nine dogs in use as guides in Philadelphia. The French-Swiss men make the best teachers. The school now has three teachers and four apprentices. They have only failed with two men in teaching them to handle a dog, and neither of these men were the type to understand a dog of any kind. A dog of fourteen months is a good age to train. There are a hundred dogs working in America and the working life of a dog is ten years.

Everyone present not only was greatly interested, but will feel they have a greater understanding of the handicap and would like to further the work of this school who train dogs to be the "seeing eye" for mankind.

DR. VIEHOEVER ONE OF "SCIENCE DAY" FOUNDERS

A Swarthmorean, Dr. Arno Viehoever, is one of the founders of "Science Day" which was held on Tuesday at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy in Philadelphia. His picture was used on the program showing him at work at his laboratory table. The purpose of this exhibit is to show the variety of scientific apparatus and equipment which is in use every day for class room instruction and in research work in industrial as well as organic chemistry. Recently Dr. Viehoever was the guest of honor and speaker at an "Institute of Chemists" held in the Harrison Laboratory at the University of Pennsylvania when he used the subject "Living Materia Medici". The largest audience ever assembled at one of these meetings greeted the speaker. Since that time he has been asked to repeat the lecture many times.

The female dog seems more easily trained and having been trained for years in tending herds of sheep, the same instinct leads them to guide and protect their master. Mrs. Eustis explained how the dog-guide had restored self-respect to the blind, made him see his blindness as a handicap, but not an affliction.

A farm has been established near Morristown, New Jersey, where these dogs are being trained and where those seeking a dog must go and study, so they will understand the dog and the methods of handling. These dogs sell for $300 and the society has scholarships which are given to men and women who are unable to pay for their dogs. Of course these cases are minutely studied and investigated.

Colonel Frank then came forward with his dog, "Buddy", which, by the way, had barked his approval at each bit of hand-clapping, and gave his own reaction to the idea. He had had a paid guide who didn't always want to go the same way, neglected to come now and then, but "Buddy" always wants to go where his master does and is happy doing so. As an example of just what it meant to be free of guides he explained how, when he needed a hair cut, the family had to go into conference as to who should take him to the shop and he'd probably have to wait a couple of hours for another member of the family to come and get him, he now simply picks up the harness attached to his dog, which is a sort of U shaped strap with a bar at the top, and goes alone to the barber shop. Cheerful obedience seems to be the dog's creed.

Following the talks a moving picture was shown in which the audience could follow the training of the dog as to its response to "left", "right", "forward" and its own initiation in setting down to show a curb and using his own eyes to see when it was safe to go across a busy street.

Questions were permitted at the close and the following facts were brought out. There are nine dogs in use as guides in Philadelphia. The French-Swiss men make the best teachers. The school now has three teachers and four apprentices. They have only failed with two men in teaching them to handle a dog, and neither of these men were the type to understand a dog of any kind. A dog of fourteen months is a good age to train. There are a hundred dogs working in America and the working life of a dog is ten years.

Everyone present not only was greatly interested, but will feel they have a greater understanding of the handicap and would like to further the work of this school who train dogs to be the "seeing eye" for mankind.

"SCIENCE DAY" FOUNDERS

A Swarthmorean, Dr. Arno Viehoever, is one of the founders of "Science Day" which was held on Tuesday at the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy in Philadelphia. His picture was used on the program showing him at work at his laboratory table. The purpose of this exhibit is to show the variety of scientific apparatus and equipment which is in use every day for class room instruction and in research work in industrial as well as organic chemistry. Recently Dr. Viehoever was the guest of honor and speaker at an "Institute of Chemists" held in the Harrison Laboratory at the University of Pennsylvania when he used the subject "Living Materia Medici". The largest audience ever assembled at one of these meetings greeted the speaker. Since that time he has been asked to repeat the lecture many times.

Correspondence

To the Editor of The Swarthmorean:
In a recent issue of the Swarthmorean it was stated that the March meeting of the Home and School Association would be devoted to a discussion of the tax rate for 1933-34; and that the Board felt that this meeting would be very helpful in determining just what the people of Swarthmore want done with their school system next year.

It is respectfully suggested, in view of the great interest in this subject, that the Board publish the present 1932-33 budget, together with its proposed 1933-34 budget, in the Swarthmorean previous to the date of the meeting. This would give those who are interested an opportunity to compare the various items, and would also save time at the meeting.

Furthermore, the publishing of this information would bring the matter to the attention of those who are taxpayers in the Borough, but who do not ordinarily attend meetings of the Home and School Association.

Very truly yours,
FRANK V. BREWSTER.

PROGRESSIVE EDUCATION CONFERENCE HELD

The Philadelphia Regional Conference of the Progressive Education Association will be held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel today and tomorrow. Classford will talk on "Education for Industrialism," and Dr. Rugg will speak on "America Enters a New Era."

Sessions will be held on Saturday in the morning, afternoon and evening.

Swarthmore Welcomes Revision of Philadelphia Electric Co. Rates

A general revision of electric rates which will reduce the revenues collected from its customers during the coming twelve months by at least $1,800,000 was announced Monday, January 30, by the Philadelphia Electric Company.

The new rate schedule was filed with the Public Service Commission at Harrisburg and will become effective on March 2. It provides for reduced charges for electric service to all classes of customers in Philadelphia and the Delaware, Main Line, Schuylkill and Eastern divisions, which comprise the entire territory served by the company.

"Increased efficiency and economy of operation and a revision in the practices, rules and regulations of the company make possible the lower tariff schedules, which constitute the eleventh major rate reduction to customers of the Philadelphia Electric Company since 1922," says a statement issued by the company.

"The practice of supplying free electric lamp renewals to customers of the company will be discontinued under the new regulations. However, any additional expense incurred by a majority of customers because of the discontinuance of this practice will be far more than offset by the decrease in rates for electric service."

"In making these rate reductions, the company is counting upon an up-turn in business, since, while it is proper for the savings in the operations of the company due to the withdrawal of the practice of free lamp renewals to be passed on to the public, it would hardly be justified in making the further substantial reductions which it has if sales continued to decrease at the same rate as they did in 1932, when they dwindled by a total of $2,800,000.

"It is estimated that the bills to customers who use the domestic rate will be reduced approximately $700,000 annually under the new program. This reduction is to be accomplished by lowering the rate in the second block from 6 cents to 5½ cents per kilowatt hour, and by adding a fourth block applicable to residence customers at 2½ cents per kilowatt hour as a new rate feature, in order to stimulate a greater use of household electrical appliances.

"The benefit of this item of rate reduction will be received by domestic users of electricity in homes throughout the company's territory when the consumption exceeds the minimum charge.

"The present rates for general lighting services and for retail power service, referred to in some parts of the territory as commercial lighting service, have been combined and simplified in a new light and power rate which will reduce the annual bills to consumers as a class about $305,000. This new rate will operate in the entire city and schedule, William H. Taylor, president of the company, said:

"The Philadelphia Electric Company has long operated under the policy that the rewards of efficiency and economical operation should be shared with the customers, and their voluntary reductions are made with that ideal in mind. Months of study have been devoted to the revision, adjustment and modernization of our various schedules. The growing multiplicity of uses for electric appliances have out-dated certain tariff practices established years ago.

"It is true that in their operation some of these adjustments may tend to

PHILADELPHIA ELECTRIC COMPANY

Announcement and Notice of Changes in Rates and Practices Resulting in Substantial Savings to Its Electric Customers, Effective March 2, 1933

- ¶ New tariffs have been filed with the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania which make decreases in rates and revisions in tariff practices, rules and regulations.
- ¶ Residence rates are reduced.
- ¶ Charges for lighting service supplied on other rates have been decreased.
- ¶ Retail commercial light and power rates are combined and the prices reduced. In the application of the rate as revised, a limited number of bills will be unavoidably increased.
- ¶ The practice of supplying free lamp renewals is discontinued.
- ¶ The forthcoming change of rates represents the eleventh major voluntary revision downward since 1922—an average of one each year. Within the past five years, two of these reductions were notable—$1,888,000 in 1929 and $1,864,000 in 1930.

The new tariffs will affect the costs of electric service of the Company's customers in the City of Philadelphia; Delaware, Main Line, Schuylkill and Eastern Divisions—or the entire territory served by the company in Philadelphia and suburban areas.

Residence rates, Commercial Lighting rates and rates for lighting furnished with Wholesale Power service have been reduced. The Retail Power rate has also been reduced.

In the Residence Rate, a change has been made in the length and the price of the second step or block. This rate, now 6 cents, has been reduced to 5½ cents per kilowatt hour. In addition to this change, a fourth step carrying a rate of 2½ cents per kilowatt hour has been provided. The latter rate will be a new feature in the rate applicable to residence customers. It is estimated that the receipts from this class of customers, in the greater Philadelphia area, will be reduced by approximately $700,000.

The new Retail Light and Power Rate supersedes the former rates for general commercial lighting service and retail power. The new rate is changed in form and in price, its availability is defined, the basis of assessing the demand changed, a new minimum charge established. A quantity discount for bills in excess of $10 is an added feature. The new rate will operate in the entire city and suburban territory served, and will result in a reduction in the receipts from this class of customers of approximately $805,000.

Lamp Renewal Service

The free lamp renewal service is discontinued. Due to the abuse to which this privilege has been subjected; the increasing difficulty in restricting its benefits to legitimate customers of the Company; the fact that stores where lamps may be purchased are now convenient to every neighborhood, and that many of our customers do not use the lamp exchange privilege, and also use electricity for other purposes than light—these are among the reasons for the discontinuance of the lamp renewal practice.

Copies of the new tariff and notices of the exact changes are posted and on file in all Philadelphia Electric Company commercial offices . . . and are open to inspection by the public.

Swarthmore Taxpayers Study School District and County Rates

MORE LIGHT ON TAX PROBLEMS

A comprehensive picture of what has happened and what might have been expected to happen to the tax bill of the Swarthmore School District is contained in a communication to The Swarthmorean which is printed herewith. George F. Fenno, of 309 Swarthmore avenue, has illustrated his statements with a very informative chart which is also reproduced.

The attached graph shows the variation in our taxes for the principal items for the years 1925 to 1932 inclusive. I have only considered those items which cover what would generally be considered a normal period, a boom or a period of depression. The solid lines show the taxes and are self-evident.

Both this year and last year the borough budget in actual figures was a subject of discussion at the meetings of council and in the columns of The Swarthmorean over several weeks. Taxpayers were informed at all times of just what council proposed to do and this condition gave them an opportunity to express themselves either for additional or less tax.

	1926	1932	% Increase
County	10.1	6.75	65%
Borough	10.1	11.5	15%
School	21.5	25	163%
Library	—	5	—
	35.6	43.75	22.9%

The above table shows that the total tax has increased 22.9% in this period. Inasmuch as there has been practically no change in assessment, the comparison is fair. In thinking back, I believe that most of us were satisfied with our 1932-33. We believe that this is an erroneous pre-supposition.

So far no consideration has been taken of the increased purchasing power of the dollar. Line C in the graph is from U. S. Department of Labor figures. The figure for 1932 is taken as an average of the first ten months of 1932, which were the only figures I happen to have available. This shows that our 1932 dollar was worth about $1.53 as compared to our 1926 dollar, and naturally these 1932 dollars should have more in the way of services, supplies, etc. If business picks up, as we all believe it will, probably the purchasing power will be even greater.

ON PREPARING THE SCHOOL BUDGET FOR 33-34

Editorial Comment

At the School Board meeting last night a letter was read suggesting that the proposed budget of the School Board for 1933-34 be printed in The Swarthmorean before the Home and School meeting.

In response to this suggestion the members of the Board last night pointed out that it would be improper for them to present a proposed budget at this time.

"Such a step would mean that we would be asking the taxpayers what they wanted us to do after we had already decided upon our course," declared Dr. Bassett, president of the Board.

We cannot agree entirely with Dr. Bassett. Unless the School Board point out at the meeting or before the meeting that as a result of their budget study they propose to cut this item 20 percent or drop this department or to add that economy feature, the taxpayers will be forced to take in generalities to which the school board members may nod their heads in approval without a specific understanding of the public mind on these certain problems.

The people of Swarthmore will look back to last year and to the early part of this year they will observe just this difference in the discussion of proposed budgets of the school district and the borough.

Both this year and last year the borough budget in actual figures was a subject of discussion at the meetings of council and in the columns of The Swarthmorean over several weeks. Taxpayers were informed at all times of just what council proposed to do and this condition gave them an opportunity to express themselves either for additional or less tax.

Elec. Co. Rates Cut

increase slightly the bills of certain customers, but these increases need not occur in all months of the year, and this result is inescapable if we are to have a system of modern, uniform and equitable practices.

"As an evidence of the manner in which the company has held to its policy of rate reduction, the record speaks clearly. Since January, 1922, these important rate reductions have been made, based upon annual revenue returns: 1922, $1,200,000; 1923, $900,000; 1924, $1,500,000; 1925, $241,000; 1926, $1,544,000; 1927, $1,220,000; 1928, $377,000; 1929, $1,888,000; 1930, $1,864,000. The figures for 1929 embrace three separate reductions, making a total of eleven in all, or an average of one per year since 1922.

"However, we are forced to place a stipulation in the new bill, providing that the revised rates as announced might necessarily have to be adjusted upwards should the taxing authorities, federal, state or local, impose additional tax burdens not now foreseen. Tax levies are obviously a part of the expense of our operation and can only be met through the revenues received from our customers.

"When taxation reaches a point where savings and economy in operation, as fast as they are made, are absorbed by additional taxation, it seriously affects our customers because the company is then unable to share these economies with them by lowering its rates.

"We are making the reductions announced in the face of conditions which might easily have combined to justify delay. Federal taxes alone, in 1931, were increased in our case more than $400,000, while in 1932 there was a further increase in Federal taxes of about $548,000, even in the face of a decline in operating revenue of $2,800,000 as compared with 1931, and it is obvious that taxation has become a serious factor where rates are concerned."

those who have to pay them, then we should expect further reduction of 30% or a total tax of 161 mills. This seems like an absurdly low figure but it does probably represent somewhere near the correct figure for 1933 taxes if the fact-decreased earning power of our citizens is a figure worth shooting at in the present emergency and does not seem so low when we consider that many of the great industries of the country are not taking into consideration the reduced earning power of our citizens.

bers of the school board will no doubt point out among other things that while the purchasing power of the dollar has increased in many commodities, the purchasing power of the interest dollar has not increased—and payment of interest on bonded indebtedness and reducing the school district's indebtedness is a very significant item on the school budget.

SUGGESTS "HELPING HAND" COMMITTEE FOR LOCAL RELIEF

Editorial Comment

Since the provisions under which State Unemployment Relief funds are distributed in Central Delaware County, demand that those receiving food orders do an equivalent amount of public work providing it is assigned them, it seems that these men who work would greatly increase the feeling of cleanliness of the sidewalks and street crossings following the heavy snow fall last week-end.

Lack of proper clothing and shoes is given as one reason why these beneficiaries of the State Relief fund do not appear on the scene when their work would be most appreciated by the public. Here is an opportunity for study of a local situation which if remedied would greatly increase the feeling of friendliness on the part of many Swarthmoreans, towards the people whose existence has for some time depended on the state's generosity.

Editor Swarthmorean: Dear Sir—Some of the finest people we have in Swarthmore are carrying heavier burdens of this depression than is their due. Of course, there is much to be explained of the cause, progress and ending of this time of distress, but all of that does not help the man who is being crushed under the burdens which are all about to bear.

Suppose we effect an organization, call it any name—"Helpers"—would do, and each person in it give every week, or month, as much as they possibly can into a fund kept at the Swarthmore National Bank, to help those whose burdens are too heavy for them. This fund could be administered by two or three of our choicest citizens, say for instance—Doc. Shiner, Charles Smith, Doctor MacNaughton, E. C. Walton.

The operation could be made very simple. The people who are bearing the heaviest burdens could be grouped into a Welfare Committee for aid, only in desperation. The men of this Committee would know where the burden was heavy. We will suppose that one of our citizens carrying too much burden has a friendly call on the telephone from one of this Committee, or a word on the street, to come in, that they have something they want to talk about.

He would imagine he has responded to the call. Frankly and quietly, one of the Committee would say to him, we know you are carrying more than you ought and that you are unable to pay your taxes, building-and-loan, bills, and that you have always paid promptly, we want to offer you an opportunity to clear off these things that are burdening you too much. Let us know how much you can get along with and the amount every week or month as you wish. No note will be taken and no interest will be charged. It is a matter of honor and desire to help. When you are able to pay it back, all right—if the time never arrives when you are able to pay it back, forget it.

Taxes and Poor Relief Are Uppermost in Thoughts of Public

U. OF P. ECONOMIST ANALYZES ECONOMIC TRENDS IN BOROUGH

Dr. Paul F. Gemmill, prominent member of the faculty of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, at the University of Pennsylvania, threw his hat into the tax arena of Swarthmore this week. In a letter to The Swarthmorean he attacks the process of reasoning by which another resident of the community reached the conclusion that local taxes should be reduced from 35.6 mills to 16.1 mills as described in last week's issue of this publication.

For some time taxpayers have been complaining that the only solution of present day tax problems is a magician who can pull tax funds out of thin air. Little did they think that their prayer would be answered so near at home, for Dr. Gemmill is known in Swarthmore as a skillful magician as well as a highly recognized economist.

In his reply to George Fenno's letter of last week however, magic is left entirely out of the picture and a penetrating analysis of current economic trends is given. The letter is as follows:

Mr. George F. Fenno, in discussing the Swarthmore tax situation in your issue of February 10, comes to the conclusion that "taxes are entitled to ask that the 1926 figures be taken as a basis, and that all expenses for salaries, supplies, maintenance, etc. be adjusted to the purchasing power of the dollar, or divided by 1.4." In reaching this conclusion, he makes an ingenious, but scarcely permissible use of index numbers.

The chief criticism to be made of Mr. Fenno's method is that he employs in his calculations, the wholesale commodity price index of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics. Admirable as this index is for some purposes, it has no necessary relationship to the situation which Mr. Fenno is examining. It is first of all a commodity index, whereas Mr. Fenno is dealing, as is indicated by his own words, with "salaries, supplies, maintenance, etc." and with "a fixed interest on funded indebtedness." Salaries and fixed charges form a very large part of the expenses of the Borough, but are not included in the index used by Mr. Fenno. Furthermore, his index is a wholesale index, and in this respect is objectionable, as its application to such commodities as may be included in the term "supplies," unless it can be shown that all purchases by the Borough are (Continued on Page Six)

Jurors for March The following Swarthmoreans have been chosen for the March term of the court: Charles E. Hirst for the week of March 20; J. Wilbur Hoff, Mary Blades and Frank C. Irwin for the week of March 27.

RENOVIZE DRIVE COMES TO CLOSE The Renovize Campaign in Swarthmore has been virtually completed with pledges of work to be done totaling $53,015.00. Majors Kistler and Bair have been giving their team workers honorable discharge papers this week.

A single worker was reported A. W. O. L. during the same campaign, declared Major Bair yesterday.

Mrs. William Earle Kistler, the other Major in charge of the Swarthmore forces, reported particular pleasure in the number of secondary pledges made by people who called in team workers to increase the amount of work originally subscribed.

Although the women's teams were reported ahead last week in the amount subscribed, Major Bair contends that the men's teams forged ahead and were responsible for the largest amount of pledges at the end of the drive.

At the present time with more pledges to come, Mr. Bair's team has secured subscriptions totaling $29,215 and Mrs. Kistler's team, $23,800.

FINAL RED CROSS DRIVE RESULTS GIVEN Results of the 1933 American Red Cross Roll Call in Swarthmore and vicinity are now available. In view of the serious need for funds this year, special efforts were put forth by the workers to secure the largest possible membership as well as generous donations.

Their labors were rewarded by securing a total approximately equal to that of last year. This achievement reflects great credit upon the entire corps of Roll Call workers who were under the leadership of Mrs. E. P. Yerkes, Chairman, Mrs. G. H. Ebing, Vice-Chairman, Miss Margaret S. Tuttle, Treasurer, and the following lieutenants: for Swarthmore, Mrs. Frank N. Smith, Mrs.

Arthur W. Kent, Mrs. Howard Kirk, Mrs. George Schobinger, Miss Margaret S. Tuttle, Mrs. Earl H. Weltz, Mrs. John Dolman, Jr., Mrs. John H. Fawcett, Mrs. William S. Evans, Mrs. Walter S. James, for Springfield and vicinity: Mrs. J. S. Weltmer; for Folsom: Mrs. F. L. Mann and Mrs. Mary E. Rumford; for Milmont and Woollyn: Mrs. Edith D. Cox.

A considerable portion of this money is allotted for use in this immediate locality, and this portion is all used for the relief and other activities conducted by the local community center, concerning which full reports have appeared in these columns recently.

The Red Cross is also active in local work in other ways. Swarthmore has shared in the wheat and cotton distribution made possible this year by acts of Congress. During 1932 and thus far in 1933, 2500 bags of flour of 24 1/2 pounds each have been distributed by the local Community Center. Clothing cut from cloth made from Federal Farm Board cotton has been procured through the Red Cross, and about 1200 garments have been sewed and finished by Swarthmore women under the leadership of Mrs. Francis V. Warren. A considerable number of these garments have also been distributed by the local Community Center. Both of these activities are still under way, and it is hoped that they can continue as long as the present dire need exists.

CROONING

What has happened to modern song? Something has done it a terrible wrong. Singing used to be wholesome and jolly. Now it is morbid and melancholy. Crooning has turned good music around. To a blatant, slithery sprawl of sound. I wonder sometimes if this weird obsession has something to do with the long depression. It is no wonder we long today. For the old sweet songs, in the old sweet way. May we all e'er long be granted relief. From this ever present howling or grief. If an end may come to this era of croon, Let it be soon, Oh, let it be soon. E. C. W.

GIRL SCOUTS ARE SUBJECT OF PROGRAM

The meeting of the Woman's Club on Tuesday was devoted to a program in the interest of the Girl Scouts and Brownies of Swarthmore. Mrs. George Zimmer, chairman of the Committee on Citizenship, presided and the principal speaker was Miss Julia Williamson, National Director of Brownies for Philadelphia. Miss Williamson referred to Scouting as training for citizenship. She dwelt on the larger purpose of service which lies behind the coveted Merit or Efficiency badges. "A Girl Scout has only proven herself worthy of the rank she has reached when she has helped another Scout and passes on the knowledge she has gained," said Miss Williamson. Last summer Miss Williamson traveled in Europe and attended the opening of "Our Chalet", the International Girl Scout House at Adelboden, Switzerland. This headquarters was given to the Girl Scouts by an American woman, Mrs. J. Storror. The activities of the Girl Scouts observed in Europe by Miss Williamson, differed as greatly as their countries. In some countries, activities are planned so as to mobilize forces for caring for children in case of another war. In England where Girl Scouts are termed Girl Guides, many Trails of Service are carried on. Each Scout brings a pound of food or clothing to an appointed spot where a motor lorry meets the group and distributes the articles in twenty pound lots to needy families. Miss Gertrude Gold, Field Captain of District Six and contact officer between National Headquarters and the Girl Scouts of Delaware County, spoke at length upon the new 136 acre Girl Scout camp near Honey Brook, Pa. On this new site are 36 acres of woodland and a mile of the beautiful stream which gives the camp its temporary name. A permanent name will be selected by the girls who camp there. Miss Gold dwelt upon the wonderful possibilities of a large lake for boating and attractive features of the new camp site. Miss Williamson conducted a "Fly-Up" ceremony for the following Brownies: Phyllis Simpson, Margaret Sheppard, Ann Robinson, Frances Turner, Dorothy Wilson, and Joy Price. Four girls received their first class awards. They are Betty McGarrath, Barbara Bassett, Jane Richardson and Doris McIntyre. The District Girl Scout House at Drexel Manor, will celebrate its first birthday on Wednesday, March 1. The house will be opened in the afternoon and all Girl Scouts and others interested are invited to be present.

ginning Friday, March 10th, these services will be held on Friday afternoons at the same hour, followed by the Children's Confirmation Class.

Correct the cause of Halitosis! Bad breath is most commonly caused by failure of the bowels to carry off body wastes. Contipation forces nature to seek another outlet for these wastes. They are absorbed by the blood stream, which carries them to the lungs. And the lungs exhale an unpleasant odor. The first step in permanently destroying bad breath is to destroy the poisonous bacteria present in all cases of constipation. To do this, use Lacto-Dextrin—a corrective food used and endorsed by the famous Battle Creek Sanitarium. At the same time use Battle Creek White Peppin—a harmless little seed, which supplies the bulk and lubrication essential to regular and easy elimination. This store is local headquarters for all Battle Creek Health Foods. Come in and ask about them. Intended particularly for your needs.

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet March 8 at the home of Mrs. Herbert T. Bassett of North Chester road. Dr. and Mrs. Cole Coolidge were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. F. DR. WM. BLAISDELL ADDRESSES FORUM On Monday evening, Walter Cocke, will speak on Technocracy at the regular Forum in Whittier House at 8 o'clock. Nationalization of banks, with control centralized in the Federal Government, while not a cure for the depression, would be the greatest single preventive of future depressions. Prof. William Blaisdell of Temple University told the Forum at Whittier House on Monday of this week. Dr. Blaisdell began by saying that fluctuation of the gold market, even though its value is stable, undermines the credit and price structure. He then gave a short explanation of the proposed substitutes, Bi-metalism or silver coined in some settled ratio to gold say 16 to 1 its market value is approximately 70 to 1 now might possibly raise it, but its immediate effect would be to enrich the owners of silver. The Gold Exchange system enables countries of the gold standard to secure drafts on countries which are. The Compensated Dollar would reverse the valuation method used at present. Instead of stabilizing the content of the dollar it would stabilize prices shifting the content of the dollar by means of an index number. Control of the production of new gold by the countries which produce it, and controlled paper currencies are two other methods along the same lines, all of them designed to regulate money in order to stabilize prices. To a limited extent this is being tried today. Our gold standard is not the purely classical one, and business claims are met by bank credits, which checks largely replace other forms of currency. Dr. Blaisdell thinks we must go deeper than any of these in order to remedy the situation. We must have centralized control of credit in the Federal Government, through nationalization of banking. The Federal Reserve System was a step in this direction, but it has been demonstrated that its power did not reach far enough and credit was over expanded with disastrous results. Only when this vital control is placed in the hands of the government, whose perspective comprises the nation as a whole, not parts of single individuals, may we avoid catastrophes like 1929 and the ruinous years that have followed. MUSICIANS HONORED AT STORY HOUR On Thursday, February 23, the Children's Story Hour program for February was given at the Woman's Clubhouse. MRS. PRINCE AT SCHOOL CODE HEARING

Among those who addressed the members of the Education Committee of the House of Representatives on Tuesday afternoon at the hearing on the proposed School Code was Mrs. David C. Prince, of Swarthmore. Mrs. Prince is chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters. Some of her remarks which stated the position of the State League in reference to the proposed code, were very applicable to Swarthmore.

Her statement was as follows:

The Pennsylvania League of Women Voters appreciates this opportunity to discuss its point of view regarding the proposed school code.

The modified county unit is in line with the established policy of the League to reorganize government in the interests of economy and efficiency. Undoubtedly the larger administrative unit will make for economy in purchase of supplies, in accounting services, in the supervisory staff, and in the development of differentiated curricula. The League is heartily in favor of the modified county unit.

The modified county unit is bitterly opposed in some quarters due to the fact that certain parents fear that their children's schools will suffer. They are right. Some schools would be forced to reduce their standards if the present proposals are accepted as a whole. Yet few if any of the schools of the State are as good as we know how to make them and we need the very best schools that our creative judgment can devise.

But the parents are mistaken who believe it is the principle of the larger administrative unit that would lessen the effectiveness of their schools. The responsibility for that lies with those who are cutting state appropriations for schools in the belief that it is economy. It is not generally understood that the cut of $10,000,000 in the Budget from the amount that would have been required on the 1931-3 basis will necessitate drastic pruning of state aid whether or not the Edmonds Act is retained or modified. If state aid is reduced, real estate taxes must increase or the schools must lower the quality of their service. Few of us believe that real estate taxes can be increased. It is possible for the larger unit to spread the leadership that has given us our best schools, so that the general level may be raised rather than lowered. But it cannot be done with greatly reduced state funds.

Section 1413 sets $1100 as the minimum cost of an instruction unit on the basis of which the state will allocate its funds. Much of the opposition to the county unit would disappear if adequate state aid were to be provided. It is well to remember Pennsylvania's relative position in the matter of financing schools. According to the estimates of the Research Division of The National Education Association which are based on the figures of the National Industrial Conference Board for 1930, Pennsylvania in that year was spending 2.72% of its income for education. North Dakota was spending 6.09%; New Jersey, simultaneously with its tremendous highway expansion, was spending 4.21%; Connecticut, New York, Massachusetts, Ohio, Illinois with long established school systems comparable to that of Pennsylvania, all spend a larger proportion of their income for schools than does Pennsylvania.

The League of Women Voters emphasizes economy and efficiency in government. But it is necessary to distinguish between essential common services, properly the function of government, which cannot be cut, and those less essential demands of the community, usually enumerated as cosmetics, chewing gum and baseball. As incomes decrease, the percentage of the income that goes for necessities increases. This is evident in every budget, whether it be in business or in the household.

In Pennsylvania we are operating our common services on revenue obtained from an antiquated system of taxation. It may be necessary to face that fact and act accordingly in order to provide revenue for government functions with which we cannot dispense.

Unquestionably the reason that anarchy, call it kidnaping and racketeering if you will, has been thus far, far less wide spread in the United States than during the past decade of Europe's social revolution especially in Russia, is because our population is so largely literate and aware of what is going on in the world. Movies, motor cars and the public schools have stabilized the temper of the people.

Our greatest insurance against a breakdown in orderly processes of change and the cataclysmic loss of wealth, especially of private wealth, involved in violent upheavals is the continued democratization of educational opportunity and the development of effective literacy for everyone.

However, governmental waste must be eliminated as far as possible. The League believes in centralizing the collection of all taxes and the abolition of the fee system of remuneration. The proposed school code is timid in these respects.

To sum up, The Pennsylvania League of Women Voters endorses the modified county unit as outlined in Article IV of the proposed school code. It gravely questions the sufficiency of the proportion of school cost to be paid by the State under Section 1413, which sets $1100 as the minimum annual cost of an instruction unit. Section 853 limiting the compensation of school tax collectors to 1 1/2% of the amount collected, and 2% of the delinquent taxes, does not go far enough in establishing a salary basis of compensation, nor does Section 820 go far enough in centralizing the collection of taxes.

Frank R. Morey and Roland L. Eaton also attended the hearing in the interest of Swarthmore. Mrs. Warren Marshall, secretary of the Springfield Township School board, was also present.

Presbyterian Notes

Vespers will be omitted next Sunday and in place of them will be held an evening service of song at eight o'clock, arranged by the following committee appointed by the Session: Dr. E. Fullerton Cook, Mrs. Leonard C. Ashton, Mr. Benjamin L. Kneeder, choirmaster and organist. The Church Choir leads, and will sing a requested number. Many hymns, both evangelistic and from the great hymns of the Church Universal, have been suggested to the committee. Dr. Tuttle gives a brief talk on the significance of evangelistic hymns as used in the meetings conducted in his church in Boston by the great evangelist, Dwight L. Moody.

The Endeavor Society has given ten dollars to The Swarthmore Welfare Association to assist a young girl of the borough in regaining her health.

The trustees of the church, R. Chester Spencer, president of the Board, are making extensive preparations for the annual every member canvass of the congregation for pledges for the new church year both for the support of the work of the church and its missionary undertakings.

The Young Men's organization held a highly successful meeting in celebration of Washington's birthday last Tuesday evening. The President, Jack R. Hanna, presided. The guest-speaker was Lawrence C. Hickman, Esq., of Philadelphia, president of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, whose subject was "Washington and Contemporary Philadelphia." The Club appointed the following members to act as ushers at the service of song at the church next Sunday evening: Harlan R. Jessup, John F. Spencer, Benjamin L. Kneeder, Jr., William Sherwood, Vincent G. Matter.

"Silver Dollar"

At Media Theatre

In addition to being a highly spiced romance of the adventurous days of the gold rush and silver strike of Colorado, "Silver Dollar," a First National picture starring Edward G. Robinson now showing at the Media Theatre, is of unusual interest and importance because of its historical background and the score of relics used which have been handed down from the days of HAW Tabor.

These relics, some of which are originals, and others replicas, are intimately associated with the life of the colorful Silver King, Yates Martin, whose spectacular career is pictured by Edward G. Robinson. Among these relics are telegraph instruments used to notify Tabor of his election as Lieutenant-Governor, and the baby carriage in which he wheeled his daughter, "Silver Dollar", about the streets of Denver.

The lamps, clocks, books, curtains, drapes, wall paper, walking sticks, kitchen utensils and other objects from the historical Tabor mansion are reproduced in their exactness, as is also his office furniture in the famous Grand Opera house of Denver which still bears his name. Included in these office furnishings are a mahogany side board trimmed in silver and covered with decanters of silver and cut glass, a desk inlaid with pearl and ivory on which repose gold inkstands, pens, pencils, etc., and elaborately carved chairs.

Historical buildings and their interiors, such as the Tabor Grand Opera House, The Willard Hotel of Washington, the Hotel Windsor of Denver, his Denver mansion and many other spots are reproduced with accuracy.

Tabor's dazzling rise from poverty to fortune, and his subsequent crash, are excitingly depicted in the screen play which was adapted by Carl Erickson and Harvey Thew from David Karsner's book. Bebe Daniels portrays the part of Martin's dashing and beautiful second wife, whose marriage to the 30-day Senator was the sensation of Washington, while Aline MacMahon has the role of the first wife, whom he deserted after acquiring wealth, to the scandal of the nation. The picture was directed by Alfred E. Green.

"JUST MARRIED" AT PLAYHOUSE

Next week the Playhouse Professionals are offering a show that should certainly prove a sure cure for the blues. From beginning to end "Just Married" is chock full of hilarious situations and funny lines. The setting, that of a ship at dock, is one of the most unusual ever staged.

"Just Married" enjoys the unique distinction of having played consecutively three theatres in New York. After it had played out the time assigned to it at the Comedy Theatre and the public, through box office demand, was showing a decided demand for more, the play was moved to the Shubert and later to the Nora Bayes Theatres, and it remained on Broadway for two solid years.

After this sensational run, the play was sent to Chicago, then to Boston and Philadelphia, and for six years in all, it toured the United States and all the English-speaking countries of the world.

"Here is a farce comedy by the authors of "Abie's Irish Rose" and "Scrambled Wives" that is rich in fun, clean and wholesome, with a laugh in almost every line; timely to a degree, and filled to the brim with clever business and laughable situations that make for happiness in the theatre.

The play is all about a bibulous fellow

No amount of description could do justice to the fun that this fast-moving farce offers. To appreciate it, one must feast his eyes on Miss Virginia Curley's loveliness in the role which Vivian Martin created; and one must see Mr. Cledge Roberts in the Lynne Overman part.

Flag Presented

A delightfully patriotic program was held at the Swarthmore Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday evening, the occasion being the presentation of a beautiful silk American flag to the church by Morton Camp 634, P. O. S. A., and also by the presentation of a beautiful Christian flag by a family intimately connected with the church. William Zeising, Grand Master of the Order, in a brief and appropriate speech, presented the flag, and Mr. George Detweiler, an officer of the church, appropriately accepted the same. The Men's Community Chorus provided a very acceptable musical setting for the exercises.

FRIENDLY CIRCLE HOLDS MEETING

The February meeting of the Friendly Circle was held at the home of Mrs. J. Warren Paxson on the afternoon of February 16, with thirty-seven members present.

Mrs. Wm. J. Moore and Mrs. Joseph Seal gave out over three dozen infant garments to be made. Many of those present were knitting squares for afghans.

Mrs. Jeffries requested anyone who had magazines which they had read to notify her or have them at the Co-operative Shop so that they may be sent to the Seaman's Institute where they are always in demand.

It was also decided to give money for clothing as well as household furnishings to a needy family. Money will also be given to the Emergency Relief to buy shoes which are urgently needed.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Paxson and Mrs. Wm. A. Johnson served refreshments during a pleasant social hour.

Gabriel L. Hines

Many of our citizens will recall Gabriel L. Hines when he came to the Swarthmore Prep School to teach music. He attracted us from the first by his rare gifts as a musician and composer and by the simple sincerity of his character. He felt drawn to the Friends' Meeting and joined in membership here. In recent years he enjoyed success as a composer and musical director of various Philadelphia theatres. He always kept his love for Swarthmore and the news of his early death brings sadness to all who knew and admired him.

FAREWELL TO GABRIEL HINES
Though flowery May alike with wild November
Pass down the drowsy corridors of dream,
Yet thee and thy warm heart I shall remember
Like music heard beside a haunted stream.

GARNET FIVE TO MEET HAVERFORD

Meeting Haverford in its annual court encounter this Saturday, the Garnet quintet stands in a most favorable position to inflict the third of a series of victories over the Scarlet and Black started in 1931 after a run of five straight losses. Inasmuch as the Swarthmore gym does not afford ample seating capacity for the crowd expected, the game will be played on the court of the Lower Merion High School, located at Montgomery avenue and Church Road, Ardmore. Buses will leave Swarthmore in time to arrive before the varsity game scheduled for 8:00 P. M. It is earnestly requested by those in charge that all those intending to go by bus sign the notices posted in order that sufficient bus room may be obtained.
