A POETIC ANSWER Dear Editor: I see a piece here in your paper, from somebody called "Just a Taxpayer." And I thought if folks would take the trouble To get out on their walks and shovel Off the snow off, and chop the ice off, Why then the walking would not be so rough.

Spring's on the way. Yesterday I heard The warbling of a blue bird, Or red one maybe, I don't know which, But anyhow it sounded rich, That there bird.

It called to mind when I was a boy, Riding a bicycle out in Illinois. I stopt to take a little rest, And there as I sat on the fence A yellow bird began to sing, And was I homesick? By jing, I never passed, not me, till I come once more Straight home to old Swarthmore! HEZZA NUTT.

A POINTED QUESTION TO SWARTHMOREANS

A problem confronts some of us who live in the neighborhood of Ogden Avenue and Walnut Lane which we, the undersigned, have decided to take to the first court of appeal—the common sense and good-will of the neighborhood—because we believe that it is a situation similar to others in the borough. Within half a dozen blocks of our homes, there are six or more large dogs—Great Danes, Police dogs, etc.—Recently a mother was waving from the window to her little boy on his way to Sunday School. Suddenly one of these dogs came from behind, took the child's hand in his great mouth, pulled off his glove and through the glove, had broken the skin with his teeth. The child had to return home to have his hand disinfected, and although never before afraid of dogs, is now afraid of all of these large dogs in our neighborhood. Most of us grown-ups have been annoyed by them, and in order to avoid them have had to pick and choose the streets we walk on, and the houses we pass. One of us was attacked (in play, of course!) and his face pawed and scratched, one had her fur coat pawed shoulder high; in the fall, our bulbs were dug up, another's vegetable garden has been frequently destroyed, another's porch torn up by the dogs in search of rabbits, while all of us have suffered from such small matters as having rubbers and galoshes torn beyond repair, having been taken from our front porches, and from being kept awake at nights and afternoon rests by deep barking.

One of our neighbors, not so near as the owner of these dogs, have mentioned,

TOT LOT FORMED ONE MONTH AGO TODAY

Swarthmore Workers Have Already Reached Over Tenth of $500.00 Goal

One month ago today the Swarthmore Junior "Tot Lot" Association was organized under the direction of Mr. Samuel Fleisher.

The interest among the children has increased each week and the industry and business ability of various boys and girls is being developed.

On Monday evening, February 11, the men of the parish will have a smoker at the rectory at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Tuttle's course of regular sermons on "Jesus" in connection with two meetings of the young people on the same subject.

On the Honor Roll this week are: Mary Christine Stricker (Chestnut School), who presented the "Tot Lot" with the $1.00 reward she had offered for recovery of her lost eye-glasses.

The industry of Louis DeMolle involved the contribution of Mr. Black, one Swarthmore plumber, of discarded lead pipes which were melted, soldered and painted by the young artist and sold for five cents each.

Speaking of business ability—one young man in the fifth grade has rented his bank for an adult for one penny a week.

Dr. Wayne Channell will preach in the morning service at 11 o'clock on "The Last Resort," and in the evening at 7:45 on "A Prophecy Concerning Abraham Lincoln That Failed."

The regular meeting of the Sunday School Board will be held in the parsonage on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

LETTERS TESTAMENTARY on the above who request all persons having claims or demands against the estate of the decedent to make known the same, and all persons indebted to the decedent to make payment, without delay.

He was known to all as "Honest Abe." His deeds still live on.

This bank tries in its own way to carry on the fine example which Lincoln has set for us.

WHITWELL ATTACKS TVA IN SPEECH HERE

Yardstick Called Unjust by Utilities Man in Reply to Morgan

Condemning its power aspects as unbecomingly and unfair in competition with private management, and citing examples of other unsuccessful attempts at public operation in the utilities field, Mr. George E. Whitwell, vice-president in charge of sales of the Philadelphia Electric Company, delivered a slashing attack on the Tennessee Valley Authority last Sunday evening in Clabrier Memorial, Swarthmore College, before an audience of about 500.

Mr. Whitwell, speaking in place of Mr. Horace Liveridge of the same company, in reply to the address delivered here last month by Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the TVA, was introduced by Mr. Howard Cooper Johnson, vice-president of the Board of Managers. He entitled his address "The Social and Economic Aspects of the Tennessee Valley Authority," and launched into an attack on the high cost not included in TVA's rate base, the exemption of such federal projects from taxation, and the subsidy necessarily contributed by federal taxpayers, as unjust in constructing a supposedly fair "yardstick" for the private companies. He cited the overexpanded productive capacity already existing in the Tennessee Valley, and the publicity campaigns waged by TVA at government expense to increase consumer use of electricity, and proceeded to the twenty-five year old publicly owned Ontario Hydro-Electric project, which is falling far short of expectations, he said, and incurring deficits every year.

Mr. Whitwell began his address with the statement that as between his stand on the utilities issue and that of Dr. Morgan, "the goal is the same"—to achieve "all of the possible social improvements to all of the people in all parts of the country . . . It is in the manner of approach to that goal which difference of opinion exists."

He approved Dr. Morgan's statement that social systems are based on economic systems, and that the economics of any step must be sound before it can result in any lasting social improvement.

The accuracy of the "yardstick" in TVA was attacked by the speaker, who also said the utilities are often accused of having overbuilt their generating capacity. But according to one southern utility president, there is at the present time "an excess of private generating capacity of 66 2/3% in the Tennessee Valley, an amount sufficient to supply all the needs for electricity of the City of Philadelphia."

And the TVA, he said, is adding greatly to this excess capacity.

Condemning its power aspects as uneconomic and unfair in competition with private management, and citing examples of other unsuccessful attempts at public operation in the utilities field, Mr. George E. Whitwell, vice-president in charge of sales of the Philadelphia Electric Company, delivered a scathing attack on the Tennessee Valley Authority last Sunday evening in Clothier Memorial, Swarthmore College, before an audience of about 500.

THE SWARTHMOREAN FEBRUARY 15, 1935

with its new projects—which is in direct contrast to "the vague generalities which describe how this excess of power is to be readily disposed of in the territory of the Tennessee Valley."

The attempted avoidance of regulation by utility holding companies is offset, Mr. Whitwell claimed, by the refusal of TVA to accept the jurisdiction of state commissions or even of the Federal Power Commission. Propaganda by utilities against public ownership has often been cited by critics of the private companies; but the speaker claimed that one are mere attacks in comparison with that which has been done by the TVA, and all TVA mail incidentally, has the benefit of the franking privilege.

SHIRER PURCHASES OLD BANK BUILDING

Victor D. Shirer has purchased the old Bank Building and is having it moved to the first of his three adjoining 60-foot lots on Rutgers Avenue. The purchase was made from Pastore and Sons, sub-contractors for Hadley Contracting and Construction Company, of Philadelphia, who are the general contractors to whom $200,000 was originally allotted in the contract for removal of the building.

DOG BITE RESULTS IN JOHN ROCHE'S DEATH

Tonight, Friday, February 22, is the night of the big Community Ball given by the Harold Ainsworth Post of the American Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary, and all is ready to make this dance even larger success than the four preceding affairs.

DOG BITE RESULTS IN JOHN ROCHE'S DEATH

Bitten by his own dog when he attempted to fight near his home in the Swarthmore Apartments, he suffered serious lacerations of the body and was rushed to the hospital, where for several days his injuries were not considered serious. The streptococcus spread rapidly and he failed to rally. He was 28 years old.

DOG BITE RESULTS IN JOHN ROCHE'S DEATH

Mr. Roche was the grandson of John B. Roche, the shipbuilder, and the son of the late William McPherson Roche and Julia Hidalgo Roche, member of a noted Mexican family. He was born in Mexico City, his mother dying in childbirth. Brought back to Chester, he was educated both at the Tome School and Pennsylvania Military College. At the time of his death he was connected with the Philadelphia Electric Company.

DOG BITE RESULTS IN JOHN ROCHE'S DEATH

His widow, Elizabeth Hall Roche, and a six-year old daughter, Claire Collier Roche, survive. Services were held at the home of F. Farwell Long, a cousin of the deceased, at 700 Kerlin Street, Chester, at noon on Monday. Interment was private.

TOT LOT NEARS ONE-FIFTH OF $500 GOAL

Another Grade Conducting Second Ice Cream Sale This Week-End

On Thursday morning of last week the boys and girls of the sixth grade of the Rutgers Avenue School gave two original plays, directing them, and planning and making the costumes themselves. Mrs. McDowell's contribution was a treat in the form of moving pictures. The children of other grades were the audience, having paid an admission fee of ten cents. The money came in so fast that door tenders "pinched themselves" (as they explained) "to be sure it was true," and found the management and counting of such small treasures (coins) a little difficult. This was a voluntary effort on the children's part to present a program for the "Tot Lot's" benefit.

On Wednesday morning the College Avenue School's fourth grade made domestic history for this same project by baking 218 dozen cookies, for which they had orders. Forty strong, they worked, cheerfully and industriously, with results that cause the "Tot Lot" fund to soar rapidly. Mr. Fleisher, the sponsor of this campaign, receives the SWARTHMOREAN weekly and will certainly be convinced of the children's sincerity in their work for future social upbuilding.

On February 23 and 24 the Second Ice Cream Week-End will be observed and this time by the fifth grade of the Rutgers Avenue School. The same rules will be applied as were used last week, no orders being received after Thursday.

On the Honor Roll this week are: Lars Soderberg, marionette show, 50 cents; Gordie Douglas, shoveling, 35 cents; Girl Scouts, Troop No. 16 (from their treasury), $3.00; George Earnshaw, Patricia Scott and Betsy McReynolds, for editing The Town-Gossip with colored cartoon, 2 cents per copy—16 cents; Sixth Grade Ice Cream Week-End Sale (20 cents per quart profit contributed by Mr. Michael, of the College Pharmacy), $4.20 (Robert Bair selling two quarts; Dween Lingle, two; Doris Lackey, five, and David Gilcrest, five); Fourth Grade Sale of Cookies, $17.12 (their own baking, at 10 cents per dozen), David Torrey selling and delivering 42 dozen. This makes a total of $25.33 to be added to the "Tot Lot" fund this week.

On Wednesday last, the contents of the children's banks were collected by Mrs. C. F. Noyes and Mrs. Charles D. Mitchell. A report will be made next week concerning these.

Swarthmore boys and girls, the trend is upward—$83.26.

Re-Examined for Life Saving

Miss Betty Bonsall, a senior at the College of Wooster, is one of the group taking the Red Cross Life Saving Examiners' tests in the college pool this week.

The examination will be given to two groups, one of fourteen senior swimmers and the other twenty-eight examiners who are taking the required re-examination. Miss Bonsall is in the examiner group.

She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Bonsall, of Cornell Avenue, Swarthmore, and is major in the department of history.

High School Basketball News

Swarthmore High School has lost one and won two basketball games in the last two weeks.

Lansdowne again took the winning hand in the second game played with them by a score of 28-20. Glen-Nor and Springfield were not quite so lucky. The former being crushed 28-21 and the latter 31-20. In the Lansdowne game the home towners were behind by only one point but when the final gun was shot they were on the tail end of a large score.

Powell Richards led the scoring in the first half of the Glen-Nor game making two field shots, however, as the second half rolled around Charles Innis flashed with three goals which aided in clinching the game. By winning this game the garnet quintet is now in second place in the league. The reserves won their game 20-19.

Springfield arrived very confident but this was soon taken out. They started strong in the first period but between Captain Richards and Ted Cook, they were soon discouraged. The first game with Springfield, the Swarthmoreans were nosed out by one point.

DR. MEAD LECTURES ON PRIMITIVE FAMILY

Tells of Life in New Guinea in Talk at College Friday Evening

Miss Margaret Mead, well-known writer, traveler and assistant curator of ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History, gave a complete picture of Arapesh family life in a talk last Friday evening in the Friends' Meeting House. Miss Mead was introduced by Dr. Robert MacLeod, head of the psychology department of Swarthmore College, under whose auspices the lecture was presented.

In starting her lecture, Miss Mead said that she would confine herself to the Arapesh group of New Guinea. Since primitive peoples have only one thing in common, lack of a written language, the speaker stated it would be better to talk about one particular people.

Miss Mead told of the relationship between the people and their educational system, and concluded her address by answering questions.

She said that the religion of the Arapesh was very slight. "Their life is a life of the living," and ended by explaining the cult system, chaperonage, and absence of inter-marriage.

Award Poster Prizes

The pupils in the Senior High School and the seventh grade art classes competed in the Legion Poster Contest recently held. The purpose of the contest was to develop original poster designs advertising the Community Ball. The best of the posters were to be displayed in the village. After careful consideration the committee selected the following as winners of the contest: Senior Division—First Prize, Lydia Lodge; Second Prize, Alice Nickerson; Third Prize, Margaret Mellon; Fourth Prize, Ruth Schwartz; Honorable Mention, Mary Hitchcock, Lydia Rewis and Nora Thomas. In the Seventh Grade Division, First Place went to Alice Craemer, Second to Gertrude Schobinger, Third to Jack Corse and Honorable Mention to Fred Simmons.

The committee of judges included Miss Claudia Hancock, Mr. Louis W. Wheelock and Mr. Frank R. Morey.

On Jewish Reconstruction

Moving pictures of the Jewish Reconstruction Work in Palestine will be shown in the Senior Department of the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, February 24, from ten to eleven o'clock, by Mrs. Rose Glider, of Philadelphia, who has recently visited Palestine.

The Jewish people are setting an example to the rest of the world by the way in which they are buying their land and are working against tremendous odds to make it fertile. Irrigation projects, factories, roads, hospitals, schools and universities are being built with regard to future needs. Americans are particularly interested in the reforestation of Mount Carmel, one section of which is called the George Washington Forest. One dollar and a half will plant and care for a tree in this forest. The planting of ten trees entitles the donor to have the group named for him. It is hoped that Swarthmore may have a section in this forest.

All who are interested in knowing of the latest developments in this work of reconstruction are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Eaton Reports On January Work

drop considerably: only 49 were present, 8 of them new registrants and 30 received examinations by clinic physicians.

"A new baby scales for the Ridley Park Center, donated by the Ridley Park Woman's Club through our Health Chairman, Mrs. Bassett Ferguson, has greatly delighted all, especially the nurses, who have carried the heavy trunk scales each month for so long.

"A compliment was paid to our child health clinic program through the visit to our office of Mrs. Phalen, a Board member of the Wayne Neighborhood League. She asked if our health center work might soon be observed by herself and others from the League. They are interested especially in health center management, records and volunteer transportation.

"In January, more time was spent by the Morton School Nurse. Besides the usual calls to children who were absent from school several days, many visits were made to parents of first grade children found by a recent medical examination to have remediable defects and to parents of some of the children who had lost weight.

"Eight children and three adults were referred to various clinics during the month. Three of the children were transported to the Kiwanis Clinic, Chester, for eye examinations. We also heard of the excellent results obtained for one of our school girls by the School of Optometry in Philadelphia, where eye muscle exercises were given.

"Miss Lois Bausman, one of our staff, attended the conference at the Red Cross Headquarters in Philadelphia. As a former teacher of nursing technique in a hospital she was especially interested in the demonstration of 'Communicable Disease Technique in the Home' ably given by Miss Abby Choate, the Instructress of Nurses at the Municipal Hospital for Contagious Diseases, Philadelphia, and in the questioning by district nurses which followed. Miss Bausman has since presented an excellent report upon this meeting at our Staff Education Conference. A meeting of the public health and school nurses of Delaware County was attended by the Supervising Nurse, Miss Charlotte Eaton, as was the annual meeting of the Visiting Nurse Association of Eastern Delaware County, at which Mr. Charles Kurtzwalz, of the Delaware County Tuberculosis Association, was the principal speaker. His subject, 'Some Health Problems of Delaware County' proved to be both a timely and interesting one to health workers and board members as well."

CITIZENSHIP SCHOOL MEETS NEXT FRIDAY

L.W.V. Discussion Luncheon to Follow at Media Woman's Club

The Citizenship School of the Delaware County Federation of Women's Clubs and League of Women Voters will meet at ten thirty o'clock on Friday, March 1st, at Media Women's Club, to consider Legislation in Congress, National trends, and vital public questions of national importance. The subject of "Criminals and Paroles," will be discussed briefly, as well as the Sterilization legislation, by members of the Federation. In response to many requests to the Chairman, Mrs. Hopwood has announced that the last half hour of the period, from eleven thirty to twelve, will be given over to the discussion of current State legislation and questions of State importance. The School is rapidly resolving itself into an enthusiastic Open Forum group where various points of view are brought out by the members. The matter of a woman from Delaware County as a member of the Constitutional Convention, should there be one, has been widely discussed by this group and it is inclined to take active steps to that end when the time comes.

Following the School at twelve thirty in the Media Women's Club the Delaware County League of Women Voters will hold its regular Discussion Luncheon. Mrs. Homer K. Emmons, Chairman of the Department of Government and Its Operation, will present a speaker on "Current Legislation and Proposed Changes in the State Constitution." Luncheon reservations should be sent to Mrs. George Linn, Bowling Green, Media, not later than Wednesday, February 27th.

BING CROSBY heads the cast in "Here Is My Heart," playing Friday and Saturday at the Lansdowne Theatre.
