'ERSTWHILE SUSAN' OPENS CLUB ON 5TH

Next Tuesday's Performance Initiates Twenty-fifth Season of Players' Club

Next Tuesday night the curtain rises on the twenty-fifth season of the Players Club of Swarthmore with a revival of Marian deForest's "Erstwhile Susan," based upon the novel "Barnabette" by Helen R. Martin. First presented by the club in 1931 in the Woman's Club, so many requests for a revival of this play of Pennsylvania Dutch life have been received by the club that its presentation as the first bill of the new season was decided upon by the club management. This year's production will be marked by two features, it will present J. William Simmons in the role of director and the presence in the audience of Mrs. Martin, the author.

Mrs. Martin has been invited to attend the premier performance as the guest of the club. She has written her acceptance to Mr. Simmons, but said she could not definitely say which performance she would attend because of illness in her family.

As previously announced, substantially the same cast as appeared in 1931 will appear this year. Helen Robey Glenn, who played "Erstwhile Susan" herself four years ago, has come from her New York home to again assume this role. While she has been in Swarthmore for rehearsals she has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin M. Scheibley, at Strath Haven Inn.

Two new players will make their bow to club audiences at the Tuesday evening performance. They are Helen L. Evans, who replaces Mrs. John Dolman, Jr., in the role of Jennie Getz, and Geraldian Eirich, who takes Marguerite Michener's role of Helen Meredith. F. Norton Landon will replace Morris E. Smith as Governor Marsh, while Samuel Evans, Jr., will appear in J. William Simmons' role of Judge Jordan. Thomas H. Leuders succeeds Elmer Melick as Joseph Yoder and Roland K. Harrison, who made his debut last year in Twelfth Night, takes Robert Glenn's place as Abe Wacknagle. Margaret Powell will be seen in Marjorie F. Kay's old role of Alice Winthrop, and Lydia F. Sinclair assumes the role of Mrs. Winthrop, originally played by Helen B. Parker.

Of the original cast John Dolman, Jr., will appear as Barnaby Dreary; Barbara C. Dolmah as Barnabette; James H. Hornaday, Emanuel Dreary; Stafford W. Parker, Jacob Dreary; Robert W. Graham, Abel Buchter; Helen Deihl, Tillie Schwenkfelders; Sarah H. Stabler, Em Wacknagle; Robert C. Powell, Absolum Puntz.

During rehearsals Mrs. O'Brien substituted for Mrs. Glenn and John P. Dolman assumed "Bobby" Graham's part in addition to their own roles, making their work doubly hard, but insuring presentation of the play should any eventuality have kept Mrs. Glenn and Mr. Graham from appearing. Mr. Graham has been ill.

The story of the play revolves about the trials and tribulations of the Pennsylvania Dutch family of Barnaby Dreary, living in a small community lying between Lebanon and Reading, and the advent of a "step-mom" who is Erstwhile Susan. She is a woman of staunch resolution who by her presence gradually changes the family's mode of living.

MRS. T. J. MYERS TO ADDRESS LOCAL LWV

"The Limitations of Public Relief" to Be Subject at Tuesday's Meeting

Mrs. T. Jeddson Myers, Executive Secretary of the Delaware County Welfare Council, will speak to the Swarthmore League of Women Voters on next Tuesday, at 2:30 P. M., at the Woman's Club. Her subject will be "The Limitations of Public Relief," and she will discuss the need of private charities in spite of the huge spending program of the national administration. There will be also a discussion of local charities, such as: The Friendly Circle, the Needlework Guild, Red Cross and Community Health Center. The meeting will begin promptly and close early on account of election.

"The Women of Swarthmore are urged to vote early," said Mrs. J. Passmore Cheney, president, at a meeting of the executive council, "in order to clear the polling places for the commuters on the later afternoon trains."

Large Attendance at All-Partisan Meeting in Spite of Rainy Weather

In spite of rain, the All-Partisan Meeting in the Friends' Meeting House on Tuesday evening was well attended by a very appreciative audience.

Dr. Brand Blanshard, of Swarthmore College, as Presiding Officer, opened the meeting by naming the offices to be filled and stressed his desire to vote for candidates of integrity and ability rather than to adhere to party regularity.

Paul Smith, a social worker among the desperately poor of Chester, referred to the fact that neither the Republican nor the Democratic party has a definite platform as does the Socialist party. That since the World War, the trend in all countries is toward Collectivism; that the old parties are built on outgrown individualistic thinking. While Socialism embraces the present day needs of America, to carry out these principles, courageous men and women have been nominated for office in Delaware County.

Winfield W. Crawford, of Wayne, the Republican candidate for Register of Wills, named the unusual qualifications of the nominees on the Republican ticket. He reviewed what his party has accomplished in Delaware County during the past forty years, in building fine roads and bridges, the Court House, the Poor House, and the County Prison. That nineteen million dollars had been rendered to the taxpayers by the last Register of Wills and that one tax rate had been reduced from 6½ to 4 mills, the second lowest rate in the state; that these facts should be considered by the voters.

Albert Maris, of Lansdowne, as a Democrat, said the issue was not one of economics, but of morals: whether Delaware County wishes to be set free from the control of John J. McClure, who, in spite of his record, took his place as our Representative in the State Senate. The two most important officers are those of the District Attorney, whose duty it is to eliminate vice and crime, and the County Commissioners, the business managers who levy our taxes, build bridges and have charge of our election machinery and the appointment of between one hundred and fifty and two hundred county officers. He traced the business relationship between Senator McClure and the present candidates for these offices and then gave the qualifications of the Democratic nominees.

For the Prohibition party, C. Wilfred Conard, of Lansdowne, candidate for District Attorney, said he would not speak

The prize winners of the Halloween parade will be announced in next week's issue. Scheduled for last evening, it was impossible to publish the results in this week's paper.

TO OPEN PHILOSOPHY SERIES THIS SUNDAY

Maurice Mandelbaum to Give First of Four Public Addresses at College

Maurice Mandelbaum, of the Philosophy department of Swarthmore College, will speak on "The Fascist Ideal" at 8 o'clock this Sunday evening in the Friends' Meeting House.

This talk will be the first of a series of four lectures by members of the philosophy department on modern social philosophies. In each case the lecture will be a statement and criticism, followed by general discussion.

Professor Brand Blanshard will give the second lecture on November 10, on "Karl Marx and Communism," followed on November 13 by John W. Nason on "The Socialist Evasion." The following Sunday Jesse H. Holmes will close the series with a talk on "The Tired Liberal."

This series of lectures continues the policy of the philosophy department of the past several years of giving a number of addresses, either in the fall or spring, which will be open to the public. While last year's group dealt with the personal beliefs of the members of the department, this series will be in the nature of an attack on four outstanding schools of thought of today.

Vote Next Tuesday

The local polls will be open next Tuesday, November 5th, from 7:00 o'clock in the morning until 7:00 in the evening.

Housewives are urged to vote during the day so that the early morning hours and those after 4 o'clock will be free to accommodate commuters. Considerable confusion can be avoided if those who can vote during the day will co-operate in this way.

Residents of the Western precinct will vote at the Rutgers Avenue School; Eastern precinct at Borough Hall, and Northern precinct at the High School.

POLICE NEWS

On October 25, John F. Wolfenden, of Woodlyn, appeared for hearing and was discharged with a warning. He was apprehended on October 13, for reckless driving.

Harry Ginsberg, of Marcus Hook, also appeared that evening and was fined $10.00 and costs. He was arrested on October 20 for improper passing in the underpass.

On October 28, a willow tree which fell across Rutgers Avenue, just south of Rumsey's garage, was removed by Borough workmen.

At 12:40 P. M. the same day an accident occurred on Park Avenue between Dartmouth Avenue and the railroad. A car owned and driven by Cecil Smith, of Philadelphia, backed out of a parking space into a passing car driven by Miss Betty Sara Quinn, of Girard Avenue, Swarthmore. Both cars were damaged. Miss Quinn received a slight contusion of the forehead.

At 6:15 P. M. that day John Stamm, of Walnut Lane, while driving through the underpass dropped a suitcase from the running board of the car. When he returned to pick it up it was gone. If anyone knows anything of the incident or the whereabouts of the suitcase, we are sure Mr. Stamm will appreciate a communication from him.

At 11:45 P. M. also on the 28th, Bernard Kolinsky and Nathan Frank, both sixteen year old runaways from Philadelphia, were apprehended by the police and held until their parents, who had been notified, called for them at 2:45 A. M. on the 29th.

REPUBLICANS IN PRE-ELECTION MEETINGS

Colonel Pusey Propounds Veterans' Policy; Big Mass Meeting and Dinner Tonight

This has never been forced upon the party by demands of political expediency, but in accordance with National patriotic sentiment.

"Every veteran, mindful of the record, policies and purposes of the Republican Party in Nation, State, and County should vote the Republican Ticket at the coming election, the fore-runner of the National election next year."

Judge Horace Stern, Republican candidate for the Supreme Court, will be the guest of honor at a dinner in the Media Inn tonight at 6 o'clock to be given by members of the Delaware County Bar.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1935 AN INCREASING PROBLEM

To the Editor: With the highways given to automobiles and trucks and the sidewalks heaving the bicyclist, what is left for the humble pedestrian coming from market with her basket of provisions?

Some blocks of sidewalks are worse than others. Between Yale and Harvard Avenues on Chester Avenue is an especially bad piece of walk and a favorite of bicycles. Two members of the writer's family have narrowly escaped accidents and a neighbor has had her wrist broken in being struck by a small boy on a bicycle.

One incident occurred at dusk when suddenly, from out of the dark shadow dashed a grown boy, just grazing the shoulder of the passerby. None of the bicycles seem to have bells or front lights, but if they did and they were in working order would these boys and girls have the judgment to know what to do? This big boy was frightened, too. Would he have known what to do to prevent a collision? The person walking was within her rights. Shouldn't all bicycles have lights showing after dark and shouldn't the boys and girls be taught to use their warning bells? But would they, upon a second's thought? The number of bicycles seems to be increasing. What is to be done about this serious and growing problem. They are a hit-and-run menace, too. You may have noticed that the Western Union messengers use the highways while on duty.

Housewife. Methodist Church Notes The Holy Communion will be celebrated in the Methodist Episcopal Church at 11 o'clock. In the evening at 7:45 there will be a special musical service.

Mrs. B. W. Collins is inviting chaperons for each evening and it is hoped that the parents for whose children these assemblies are arranged will be quick to co-operate with her and share the pleasure which is planned for the young people of Swarthmore.

THE PROBLEM OF... DELIVERING WATER

More than a thousand miles of pipe, out of sight and under ground, form the arterial system that furnishes Suburban Philadelphia with a plentiful supply of fresh, pure water. Laid in a straight line, this pipe would reach from Philadelphia all the way to New Orleans. This intricate network must be constantly kept in order.

Great pumps must also be kept working day and night with reserve pumps always ready in case of emergency. This is because both high and low points in this area (some of which are over six hundred feet above sea level) must be constantly supplied.

If the water sent through these pipe lines every day were to be transported by railroad, it would require a train of tank cars twelve miles long.

This is the twenty-third of a series of instructive narratives dealing with the wonders of nature and human accomplishments which make it possible for you to have a plentiful supply of water at all times. Look for the next narrative in this paper two weeks from today.

'PUBLIC RELIEF' SUBJECT AT L.W.V. MEET

Mrs. T. Jeddson Myers, Executive Secretary of County Welfare Council, Speaker

"Do we want the government to take over the whole relief service, as in Russia, or do we wish to keep the private agency as a pioneering group, which fills a need the public agency can never do?" was the question Mrs. T. Jeddson Myers, Executive Secretary of the Delaware County Welfare Council, left with the Swarthmore League of Women Voters at the meeting last Tuesday. Mrs. Myers, who spoke on "The Limitations of Public Relief," emphasized that the private agency must develop public opinion to certain standards which we must demand of public service.

The low income family has not yet been taken care of by Federal funds, the hospitalization of those on sanitarium waiting lists has not been accomplished and the care of those in need under age requirements of certain service has been impossible for the public agency. Mrs. Myers pointed out. Many questions will come before us in the next two or three years, she continued, but there is still need for the private agency.

"In Delaware County The Poor Board and the Emergency Relief Board have worked in such close conjunction that there was no problem of unemployables on the relief lists, as in some larger communities," she asserted.

At her invitation the members interrupted Mrs. Myers when they had any questions. Mrs. John Marshall, chairman of the Department of Government and Economic Welfare, introduced Mrs. Myers. On December 3, the Swarthmore League will hear Dr. Paul M. Pearson speak on "The Virgin Islands under the United States Sovereignty." A luncheon will precede the meeting at the Woman's Club.

Exhibits Drawings in Phila.

Mrs. Lucretia Blankenship, who introduced Mrs. Stratton in receiving on Thursday, Mr. Stratton, who has made his home here in the Swarthmore Apartments, for the past few years, was for many years head of the School of Industrial Art of Philadelphia. His recent exhibit was recently shown at the National Gallery of Art at Washington, D. C.

Firemen to Purchase New Truck

It is the aim of the Swarthmore Firemen to replace the chemical truck which was purchased by them eleven years ago, with a combination booster and foamite generator, carrying four 200 foot lengths of one and one-half inch hose which has been found very effective in fighting roof fires and lessening the water damage about seventy-five per cent on all fires at which it has been used. Foamite has been found to be the only effective chemical for use on oil burner and automobile fires. The firemen have about two-thirds of the money needed to make this change to give to Swarthmore the best in modern fire protection, and it is hoped that they will receive the support of everyone who has Swarthmore as his home, renter and home owner alike. You never know when it will be a case of saving your own life, 1936 membership cards will be mailed to all who send in their fee of $5.00 now, thereby assisting the boys to accomplish this new undertaking for the betterment of the local company.

Forty Prizes Given in Halloween Parade

(Continued from Page 1) car and Emily Noll both as old fashioned bunnies tied for second place. Third prizes went to Stephen Spencer, who characterized an "old fashioned grandmother," and Judith Koch, an old fashioned girl. Evidently the judges had a soft spot in their hearts for "the good old days." Fritz Fries as a clown in red and white, and J. Francis Taylor as the high priced inhabitant of most farm yards—the pig, were winners of fourth prizes. Elizabeth Shanklin as an Egyptian Lady and Windy Park as a Wooden Soldier captured fifth prizes in this section which also presented sixth prizes to Margaret Sheppard and Betty MacDonald, who represented Hawaiian girls.

The end of the long parade was formed by the Miscellaneous Division in which Mrs. James F. Bogardus and children, Kristina and Taddy, left no room for competitors to first prize. The Bogardus family clearly demonstrated either the well dressed steeple walker is wearing, or the properly prepared retiree. Jerry Dana as Raggedy Ann was second third; Emily Smith as "Pop Eye," Jimmie and wheeled "Selsassie's Twintlets" in a coach, fourth; Richard Armitage, a wooden soldier, fifth; David Stewart, Dutch soldier, sixth; and Louise Bowman as a Zouave, eighth.

In addition to the special prizes for the best costumes in each section, there was a miniature loaf of bread and a large round of ham for each child. The bread was contributed by Martel Brothers and the ham by Frank, the barber. Green's Coal Service provided paper bags printed with the names of the Business Association members and particulars of the parade. Each child was given a bag in which to carry the various gifts he received. Toy squawlers were given out by the Association to all the children. Shirer's Swarthmore Pharmacy presented each child with a package of lollipops. Michael's College Pharmacy also distributed lollipops. The committee in charge of this year's parade consisted of E. M. Buchner, Frank Masselli, C. R. Russell, C. E. Hannum and T. J. Ewig.

Townpeople Witness Dedication of Swarthmore's Fine New Post Office

Lovely Modern Building Open for Inspection After Close of Exercises Saturday Afternoon

Although the lovely weather of last Saturday enticed many to the various football contests and holiday week-end excursions, there was still a considerable large gathering of interested citizens at the dedication of the new Swarthmore Post Office on Rutgers Avenue. During the entire program the afternoon rays of the sun concentrated on the beautiful central doorway of the building with an effort which made even more pronounced the true loveliness of the architecture. The speakers' platform was erected directly in front of the building, on the steps approaching this main entrance.

Opening the services at 2 o'clock the Rev. John Ellery Tuttle, pastor of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, made the invocation, following the playing of "America" by the Boys' Band of the Swarthmore Post Office. The invocation was followed by the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the Swarthmore Post Office. The flag was raised by Robert T. Bair, of the Harold Ainsworth Post, American Legion, while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

Beverly Steele, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Steele, of North Chester Road, is recovering from a severe case of scarlet fever.

A fine private office for the postmaster opening off the handsome lobby, up-to-date apparatus behind the counter, and throughout the building, additional floor space, a raised loading platform, as well as good-looking relaxation rooms for the use of employees when off duty, are only a few of the facilities which have been incorporated into this new edifice to which scarcely an improvement could be conceived.

One of the items of greatest interest to those who examined the building on Saturday afternoon, was the inspector's check on the lower floor, from which a door leads into a darkened passage with blackened walls running up through the building with "peep holes" at intervals wherefrom it is possible for an absolute check to be kept on the affairs of the establishment completely unbeknown to the other members. The inspector can arrive by a private side door at any time without his advent being known, and the "peep holes" are so constructed that a person looking into one can not detect one looking out.

The huge soft coal burning furnace also caught much interest especially among the husbandry. One versed in such matters said that it was capable of heating the entire business section of the borough. With this new building, Mr. Smalley assures the community that a great deal has been accomplished toward the betterment of the postal service here, and adds that he will be in his new office to receive aid in every way possible the people of the town who have any postal problem and will allow him to co-operate by presenting it to him there.

WOMAN'S CLUB IN INTERESTING MEET

Entertained by Newton Coal Trio at Club House on Tuesday Afternoon

Enthusiastic singing or the State Song of Federated Women's Clubs of Pennsylvania opened the November stated meeting of the Swarthmore Woman's Club at the clubhouse on Tuesday afternoon, the 12th. The singing was directed by Mrs. Jacob Meschter, with Mrs. Lloyd E. Kauffman at the piano. Mrs. Alfred Williams, Secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved.

The Treasurer's report by Mrs. C. C. West followed, after which the President, Mrs. Roland G. Ullman, called for reports of the various chairmen alphabetically.

Mrs. Katherine H. Brownell, chairman of the Admissions Committee, submitted the names of new members: Junior members, Miss Florence Hadley, Miss Margaret Little, Miss Jane Lonsbury, Miss Kathryn Smith Meschter, Mrs. Edward G. Kelley, Miss Margaret McCracken, Miss Louise P. Wagner; Senior members, Mrs. J. S. McCay, Mrs. H. S. Robertson, Mrs. Horace R. Hatch, Mrs. Frances Taylor; Reinstated members, Mrs. Arthur W. Kent, Mrs. William M. Park and Mrs. E. LeRoy Mercer.

Mrs. Elliott Richardson, Chairman of the American Home Section, announced a second meeting of the Interior Decorating Class to be held at the clubhouse on November 20th, 9:45 A. M. She reported a large attendance at the first meeting of this class and extended an invitation to interested members to be present at these instructive sessions in future.

Mrs. Stanley McMillan announced a trip to be made Wednesday morning, November 20th, to the Academy of Fine Arts to view the annual exhibition of water colors. Those wishing to go should communicate with Mrs. McMillan or Mrs. H. A. Pierson, and be prepared to leave the clubhouse by 9:30 A. M.

A most interesting meeting of the Drama Section was announced by Mrs. C. A. McDowell, chairman of that section, for November 14th at 8:15 A. M., at which Kate Curling Wall (Mrs. Joseph Wall) of Sycamore Mills, for eleven years with the Abbey Players, would be present at that meeting and entertain the guests with her experiences. Mrs. Roland Eaton will also talk on the Irish Drama.

Mrs. Phelps Soule, chairman of the Literature Section, urged members to attend a meeting of that section on Thursday morning, November 21st, when Mrs. Oscar Gilcrest will read the book "Mary, Queen of Scotland and the Isles" by Stefan Zweig. This work portrays the life of the unfortunate queen whose career was so interesting and puzzling to historians.

Mrs. J. Passmore Cheyney, chairman of the Department of Legislation, reported a meeting at Wayne last Friday, and announced meetings to be held on the first and third Fridays of each month at the clubhouse in Media, beginning with November 15th.

Mrs. William I. Hull, National President of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, read the mandate of twenty-four peoples to their governments, and urged that each and every member not only sign the mandate, but have a copy in their homes so that friends might be requested to append their signatures and thus help reach the goal of fifty-million signatures in the United States.

At the request of Mrs. William I. Ullman, a motion was made and seconded that the Woman's Club of Swarthmore go on record as joining the vast number of organizations supporting the mandate.

Introduced by Mrs. Meschter, the Newton Coal Trio entertained with a most fascinating half-hour of music. This was the third occasion upon which the members of the Woman's Club have had the pleasure of listening to these notable artists. The trio consisted of Messrs. Morris Braun, violinist; Thomas Elmer, violinist, and Clarence Fuhrman, pianist.

After the meeting was adjourned a delightful tea was served by Mrs. Harold Griffin and members of her hospitality committee.

Next Tuesday a lecture and demonstration of aesthetic and rhythmic dancing will be given by Miss Alice Kraft.

Cercle Francais Opens Season
The Cercle Francais held its first meeting of the season on Monday evening of this week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. Jermain Creighton, of Elm Avenue, when Mr. Leon Wencellus spoke on "Rembrandt, the Portrait Painter."

Miss Isabelle Bronk, the new president of the group, after a preliminary remarks, introduced Mr. Wencellus, a member of the faculty of Swarthmore College, who had just returned from an extended vacation trip in Europe and from studying in the museum, especially of Amsterdam and London, and was therefore well qualified to speak upon the subject he had chosen. At the conclusion of the address, interesting observations were contributed by Mrs. Arthur E. Byr, of Harvard, and Strath Haven Avenue, a compatriot of the great painter.

The next meeting of the club, in December, will be held at the home of Mrs. Philip Snow, of Wallingford.

LOCAL CLUB WOMEN IN WEEKLY MEETING

Miss Alice Kraft Demonstrates Rhythmic Exercises and Dancing at Tuesday's Session

Miss Alice Kraft, well known as a teacher of rhythmic exercises and dancing, held the undivided attention of members of the Swarthmore Woman's Club at its meeting on Tuesday afternoon, November 19.

After these very artistic demonstrations Miss Kraft discussed the purpose of her work and gave several beginning exercises for adult classes, which exercises are designed for relaxation, correct breathing, correct posture, to obtain balance, poise and coordination.

Mary T. Ervin Parker has made her home in Swarthmore since 1918. She is a member of the Woman's Club and very active in the garden section of the club. For two years she was home economist with the Philadelphia Electric.

SUPPORT H. S. TEAM THANKSGIVING DAY

Local Lads Deserve Backing in Annual Contest at Lansdowne

The Swarthmore High School football team has had tough breaks this year, but never before have the town and the students supported the team so royally. With such support, with Bud Troxell, the triple-threat-man, kicking, passing and running at his best; with Gordon Findlay surpassing his usual ability; with Vic Troxell, captain and backbones of the line, giving his best to the game (and his best is best); and with the whole team giving everything it's got to that game, there's no reason why Swarthmore can't or won't shove the top in the Thanksgiving Day game with Lansdowne.

It is planned to have a hand out on the field to help pep up the game in general, so come on out and sing some of the old songs you haven't sung since you graduated.

NEW TOWEL SERVICE FOR SCHOOL GYM

Students Provided with Clean Towels for Showers After Physical Exercises

The School Board has just contracted with a towel service company for the furnishing of clean towels for all of the Junior-Senior High School boys and girls for use in gymnasium classes.

One of the requirements of Physical Education teachers is that after the boys and girls have had the vigorous exercise of a gym class they should take a good hot shower. This is a great health stimulant and when followed by a cold shower, prepares the pupils to adjust to outdoor temperatures and to less vigorous exercise.

To remove this confusion and have towels available for every child when needed, the School Board has arranged a plan by which a clean towel will be assigned to each pupil to keep in his or her gymnasium basket. After taking a shower the pupil exchanges the wet, soiled towel for a clean one at the towel window, in charge of the instructor. This novel dispensing system was arranged at the time the gymnasium was built. The gymnasium is designed to accommodate just this type of service. When the pupil has secured his clean towel, he puts it, together with his gym clothes, into his basket and everything is ready for the next class period.

An added benefit is that this service will save parents the problem of trying to help the boys and girls to take towels to school, and it will also save wear and tear on the home towel supply. The plan is working successfully in a number of other schools and has already received the favorable commendation of a number of parents here.

Thanksgiving Holidays

The Swarthmore public schools will close at noon on Wednesday, November 27, for the Thanksgiving holidays and will re-open on Monday morning, December 2, at the usual time.

Emma M. Michael and Joseph Reynolds Wed

Several Marriages of Interest in the Borough Announced This Week

A lovely wedding was performed at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, November 20, in Trinity Church, Swarthmore, when Miss Emma May Michael, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Michael, of Park Avenue, became the bride of Joseph Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reynolds, of Haverford Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. J. J. Guenther, assisted by Dr. Maurice Samson, of the Olivet Reformed Church, Logan, of which the bride's family are members.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in ivory satin fashioned on princess lines, with train and veil of her own design. She carried calla lilies.

Miss Elizabeth Michael, sister of the bride, wore rust colored velvet with matching accessories, as maid of honor. Her small French hat with a veil had a tulle crown. She carried a spray bouquet of mixed flowers.

John Reynolds acted as best man for his brother. Ushers included: Alfred G. Brown, of Chadds Ford; William T. Brown, of Swarthmore; John Beck, of Swarthmore College and Kenneth Dilks, of Philadelphia. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride.

Upon their return from a two weeks' wedding trip to Nassau, the couple will spend the winter at the home of the bride's parents, on Haverford Avenue.

The bride graduated with last year's class at Swarthmore College where she was a star all-round athlete, being captain of the girls' hockey team, and a member of the swimming and golf teams.

Mr. Reynolds is a graduate of Swarthmore Prep School. An informal reception will follow the ceremony. Miss Turner, who is a graduate of Swarthmore High School, has many friends in Swarthmore, having resided with Mr. and Mrs. Told for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael entertained at dinner on Tuesday in honor of their daughter and Mr. Reynolds, when in addition to the members of the bridal party the guests were: Mrs. Alfred G. Brown, of Philadelphia; Miss Frances Burhop, of New York City; and Miss Leslie Underhill, of Hartsville, N. Y., the last two of whom were the Michael's house guests for the week.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Katherine Louise Sanderson, daughter of the Rev. William C. Sanderson, of Philadelphia, and Ephraim K. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris E. Smith, of Cornell Avenue, on Saturday, November 16, in the Silem Methodist Episcopal Church, Philadelphia.

The couple will make their home in Ridley Park.

Miss Barbara E. Turner, of Rose Valley, daughter of Rev. George T. Turner and Mrs. Turner, of Ambler, and William H. Driehaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Driehaus, of Media, will be joined in holy wedlock at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Saturday, November 23, at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Peter E. Told, of Park Avenue, Swarthmore.

The ritual will be performed by the father of the bride, J. S. Turner, of Frederick, Md., who will give his sister in marriage.

Patsy Told, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter E. Told, will be flower girl.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ruth, of Union Avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite, and Edwin M. Humphreys, son of Mr. Harry Humphreys, of Parkside.

The announcement was made on November 13 at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Mitchell, of Girard Avenue, in honor of Miss Mitchell's birthday.

THANKSGIVING

Thank God that He has given us hands that can be tender with loving service to those who are carrying heavy burdens.

Thank God that our eyes may show the pleasure we feel in being with people like ourselves; good, bad or indifferent. Our hearts may be hollow with self-value, or full, with rich, overflowing love of those with whom our lot is cast.

Thank God that we can, if we will, value at the true value those whom the world calls common people.

The Young Men's Club held one of the most interesting meetings of the season at the home of Benjamin and Charles Kneeler last Tuesday evening.

The speaker was Earl H. Taylor, of Harvard Avenue, assistant editor of The Country Gentleman and a journalist of wide and successful experience, who spoke on the

THANKSGIVING

Thank God for those doctors and nurses whose hands are compassionate, whose choice spirits are exalted by loving service.

Thank God for the men who, like birds in the air, are conquering time and space. Thank God for those men who say to the ear, "Hear," and to the eye, "See," and we hear and see to the uttermost corners of the earth.

Le Cercle Francais to Present Annual "French Cabaret Night"

Le Cercle Francais, of Wildcliff Junior College, Swarthmore, is presenting its annual French Cabaret Night this Saturday, November 23, in the form of a transatlantic tour aboard the S. S. Normandie.

The college gym has been decorated by the art students, under the direction of Paul Martel, to represent the deck of the famous steamer, with deck chairs, life boats, deck games, a bridge and even realistic waves. During the progress of the trip the Wildcliff Chorus will sing French mariners' ditties, songs and chants; the passengers will witness the antics of Guignol (Punch and Judy), have a chance to participate in the travel pool, play deck tennis, dance to music by the ship's orchestra and enjoy the cabaret attractions.

Foremost of these will be dances by Reni Martel, leading dancer of the 1935 Mask and Wig production, and by Ellen Subers, featured soloist with the Cowanová dancers; Eleanor Craig and Sue Sagen-dorph and skits by various members of the club.

Dr. Marcel Brun, of Swarthmore College, will act as commander of the cruise; Mary Crist will be chief purser and Carroll Johnson will be chief steward. Souvenirs of the S. S. Normandie, supplied by the French Line, will be presented each guest and French refreshments will be available. There will be many entertainments available for the voyagers who do not wish to dance. All those interested in an unusual evening aboard a French liner are invited to embark before 9 P. M., the hour of departure.

In Brilliant Football Career

William Kurtzhal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kurtzhal, of Park Avenue, is one of ten Dickinson College lettermen who have seen action in every Red Devil contest this season and for whom Saturday's game with Muhlenberg will end a brilliant football career. Kurtzhal, who plays guard on the team, will graduate from the college in June.

Girl Scout News

On Saturday, November 16, Troop No. 6 met at the Woman's Club House for hand-craft. Some of the girls are making Girl Scout buckles, wooden plates, napkin rings, etc. Mrs. John Foster led in songs and afterward Marjorie Dinsmore directed games. Troop No. 6 will meet at the Woman's Club again tomorrow at 9:30 to plan and rehearse the Christmas pageant.

It is desired that persons having Girl Scout uniforms not in use, take them to the home of Mrs. Albert N. Garrett, Garrett and College Avenues, where they may be purchased by local girls in need of uniforms and the sale price remitted to the original owner. The price desired should be marked on the garment.

Miss Martha Taylor, of Yale Avenue, former lieutenant of Troop No. 16, has been assisting with signalling in that troop. Troop 16 will meet at the Girl Scout House at 9:30 tomorrow morning.

Troop No. 194 went on a luncheon hike last Saturday to Leper's Quarry with Mrs. Herman Bloom, captain, and Miss Betty Watson, lieutenant. Hot dogs were the main culinary interest, but all survived from congeniality.

The troop plans to aid the Junior Section of the Woman's Club at their next meeting by contributing various canned foods, which will be properly distributed to needy families at Thanksgiving by Miss Olive Cleaves, of The Club's Philanthropic Department.

Projects for the next month in scouting work were planned in a recent Court of Honor.

PLAN THANKSGIVING PROGRAM AT SCHOOL

Eleventh Grade American Culture Course in Charge of Next Tuesday's Entertainment

Next Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 the students of the eleventh grade, American culture course of the Swarthmore High School, will present a Thanksgiving program in the high school auditorium. Since these students have been studying the correlation of art, music, English and social studies, the program will be on "Our New England Heritage."

Ted Hannum, presiding chairman, will open the program with the reading of President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving Proclamation, which will be followed by the singing of "The Prayer of Thanksgiving" by the audience. A talk on "Colonial Costumes" will be given by Barbara Bagby, followed by Constance Heg and John Delaplane, who will speak on "Furnishings" and "Furniture," respectively.

Next on the program will be a discussion of "Colonial Music" by Clara Jean Alton. At this point, Walter Scott, as preceptor, will lead the audience in the singing of "The One Hundredth Psalm" in the old lining style. Since the literature of the period plays an important and fascinating part, Elizabeth Smith will read some selections. Robert Piper will add a humorous touch by talking on the social customs. All those taking part in the program will wear colonial costumes. Janet MacDonald having charge of this committee.

The High School Chorus will contribute to the performance by singing "The Landing of the Pilgrims," of which both words and music were written by Americans. The High School Orchestra will play immediately before and after the program.

Along with the participants mentioned above are those who, although not in evidence, have done their share in planning for the exercises. Every member of the eleventh grade has taken part in the preparation in one way or another. The chairman of committees are as follows: Elaine Bradford, stage; Dwight Cooley, lighting committee; Lala Albert, art committee; Doris Pitman, typing committee; Victor Troxell, head usher, and Thomas Littlefield, properties committee. Not only are the students responsible for

FRIENDLY CIRCLE IN ANNUAL SILVER TEA

Fifth Yearly Event Held at Home of Miss Mae Lynd, on Princeton Avenue

The fifth Annual Silver Tea of the Friendly Circle on Thursday, November 21, was a gala event, largely attended by members and friends who sympathize with the object and aims of the organization.

As customary for a number of years, Miss Mae Lynd was hostess for the occasion at her home on Princeton Avenue. Miss Lynd was assisted in receiving by the president, Mrs. T. Harry Brown and the other officers of the circle. A short business meeting was held early in the afternoon. Reports were made on the various activities being continued—help given a man to prepare him for future employment, milk sent a family of children, lapsed insurance paid for a needy family—being a few of the cases assisted. Large baskets were placed at the door as the members entered and before all arrived several were overflowing with Thanksgiving contributions to be distributed where most needed this week.

After the business meeting a beautiful program was presented: Mrs. Jacob Meschter gave a group of piano solos—Barcarolle by Stiehl; Intermezzo by Szallir and Au Matin by Godard.

Following the music, Mrs. Clarence McClung spoke on her trip to Japan where she recently spent a year with her husband, Dr. Clarence McClung, who was there in an official capacity, on a biological mission.

Mrs. McClung illustrated her talk with many souvenirs of her trip and all present were enchanted with her delightful portrayal of the life and habits of these interesting people.

zines, books, and encyclopedias. His two books on co-operation are "Co-operative Democracy" and "What is Co-operation?" These books have been translated into German, Japanese, Chinese, and other languages, and are widely used as text books in colleges and universities.

Dr. Warbasse has travelled extensively observing and studying co-operative societies and economic conditions. He has visited many countries and his lecturing and organization work have taken him into all the states of the United States. He has presided at each of the biennial congresses of the Co-operative League and attended as a delegate all of the Congresses of the International Co-operative Alliance since the Glasgow congress in 1913. As fraternal delegate he has attended the congresses of several foreign countries, and has lectured on co-operation in England, Germany, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, and Canada. Since 1921, he has been a member of the Central Committee of the International Co-operative Alliance.

The efficiency of the executives of the Co-operative League has made it possible for Dr. Warbasse to relinquish executive responsibilities and permit the heavier burden of work to fall upon other shoulders during these later years. He has been President of the League since its organization in 1915.

Combining his sociological work with medicine, he is now creating a new specialty to be taught in the medical colleges—medical sociology. He is lecturer on this subject at the Long Island College of Medicine in New York. His approach to this problem is from the standpoint of the consumer—the patient. In this field he is promoting the organization of co-operative health protection, established on Rochdale principles. He believes that clinics, hospitals and laboratories, owned and controlled by the patients and prospective patients should be created upon the basis of the prevention of disease as the primary purpose. His new book, "The Doctor and the Public" appeared in October, 1935.

FRIENDLY CIRCLE IN ANNUAL SILVER TEA

Fifth Yearly Event Held at Home of Miss Mae Lynd, on Princeton Avenue

The fifth Annual Silver Tea of the Friendly Circle on Thursday, November 21, was a gala event, largely attended by members and friends who sympathize with the object and aims of the organization.

As customary for a number of years, Miss Mae Lynd was hostess for the occasion at her home on Princeton Avenue. Miss Lynd was assisted in receiving by the president, Mrs. T. Harry Brown and the other officers of the circle. A short business meeting was held early in the afternoon. Reports were made on the various activities being continued—help given a man to prepare him for future employment, milk sent a family of children, lapsed insurance paid for a needy family—being a few of the cases assisted. Large baskets were placed at the door as the members entered and before all arrived several were overflowing with Thanksgiving contributions to be distributed where most needed this week.

After the business meeting a beautiful program was presented: Mrs. Jacob Meschter gave a group of piano solos—Barcarolle by Stiehl; Intermezzo by Szalir and Au Matin by Godard.

Following the music, Mrs. Clarence McClung spoke on her trip to Japan where she recently spent a year with her husband, Dr. Clarence McClung, who was there in an official capacity, on a biological mission.

Mrs. McClung illustrated her talk with many souvenirs of her trip and all present were enchanted with her delightful portrayal of the life and habits of these interesting people.

zines, books, and encyclopedias. His two books on co-operation are "Co-operative Democracy" and "What is Co-operation?" These books have been translated into German, Japanese, Chinese, and other languages, and are widely used as text books in colleges and universities.

Dr. Warbasse has travelled extensively observing and studying co-operative societies and economic conditions. He has visited many countries and his lecturing and organization work have taken him into all the states of the United States. He has presided at each of the biennial congresses of the Co-operative League and attended as a delegate all of the Congresses of the International Co-operative Alliance since the Glasgow congress in 1913. As fraternal delegate he has attended the congresses of several foreign countries, and has lectured on co-operation in England, Germany, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, and Canada. Since 1921, he has been a member of the Central Committee of the International Co-operative Alliance.

The efficiency of the executives of the Co-operative League has made it possible for Dr. Warbasse to relinquish executive responsibilities and permit the heavier burden of work to fall upon other shoulders during these later years. He has been President of the League since its organization in 1915.

Combining his sociological work with medicine, he is now creating a new specialty to be taught in the medical colleges—medical sociology. He is lecturer on this subject at the Long Island College of Medicine in New York. His approach to this problem is from the standpoint of the consumer—the patient. In this field he is promoting the organization of co-operative health protection, established on Rochdale principles. He believes that clinics, hospitals and laboratories, owned and controlled by the patients and prospective patients should be created upon the basis of the prevention of disease as the primary purpose. His new book, "The Doctor and the Public" appeared in October, 1935.
