'THE SCOTCH TWINS' FIRST JUNIOR PLAY

Juvenile Section of Players' Club To Open Season on Saturday, October 17

The 1936-1937 season's program of the Players Club Junior Committee promises more laughs, thrills and genuine enjoyment for the children of Swarthmore and surrounding suburbs than ever before. With Eleanor E. Perkins' "The Scotch Twins" to open this season on Saturday, October 17, and the Tatterman Marionettes in their version of "Jason and the Golden Fleece" scheduled for the Thanksgiving holiday, the Junior's program bids fair to rival the ambitious schedule of the adult group.

Mrs. C. W. McDowell, an experienced director and coach, is in charge of the opening production. Rehearsals have been under way for several weeks and Mrs. McDowell will shortly announce her cast which will have a liberal sprinkling of veterans from Junior productions of past seasons. The story of "The Scotch Twins" is well known; it deals with such important subjects as rabbits, measles, witches and wholesome, mirth-prevoking pranks of real boys and girls.

Two more productions will be staged by this group during the winter and spring—one in February and the other in April. Plays now under consideration for these months are "The Reluctant Dragon," "Sleeping Beauty," "Huckleberry," "Heidi" and maybe—maybe a real trained animal act.

Children who wish to take part in the plays, or who have not received their invitations to join the Junior group, should communicate with Mrs. George Warren, 327 South Chester Road.

Fortnightly Reopens Next Monday

The first meeting of the new Fortnightly year will be held at the home of Mrs. S. Milton Bryant, on Dickinson Avenue, next Monday, October 5, at 2.30 P. M.

The book for review is "Around the World in Eleven Years" written by now famous children "Patience, Richard and Johnnie." Coming out in the Atlantic people everywhere greeted it joyfully. Everything unusual—children bringing up their parents (successfully) and becoming educated in schools in many countries by distinguished people they met and by hardships at which they laughed. In short, one goes with these adorable children, laughing or crying with them and marveling at their attainments. Mrs. Arthur Dana will be the Fortnightly's guide in this charming journey.

Another journey will be described by Mrs. Albert Hill. In the past summer Mrs. Hill and her son, William, traveled to Germany and the members will see the country through Mrs. Hill's eyes.

The treasurer will be ready to receive dues.

KEEN INTEREST IN GIRLS' HOCKEY AT H.S.

Over One Hundred Report for Practice; Third and Fourth Team Schedules Arranged

Miss Virginia Allen, coach of girls' hockey at the high school, has just announced that because so much interest has been displayed in hockey this fall and so many girls have been trying out for the team, a third and fourth team schedule has been arranged. They will meet teams from Sacred Heart Academy, George School, Westtown, Ellis College and Wilmington Friends. The schedule is in addition to the varsity first and second team games and the class games already scheduled with other schools.

One hundred and fifteen girls have reported to Miss Allen for hockey practice this fall. Interest in this sport has grown to such an extent that it is important that all the girls have a chance to play in a real game. The newly formed third and fourth teams will provide this for a large group, and the enjoyment of the girls playing on these teams is just as keen as that of the members of the first and second teams.

The hockey season starts next Tuesday afternoon, when the ninth and tenth grade teams meet similar teams from Ridley Park High School, at Swarthmore. On Thursday the eleventh and twelfth grade teams play at Ridley Park. The first and second varsity teams will not open their schedule until Thursday, October 22, when they play Lansdowne at Lansdowne. Dates for the third and fourth team games will be announced later. All home games are to be played on the College Avenue school grounds.

Under the leadership of the local president, Mrs. William H. West, the Swarthmore directors are working energetically to make the annual collection this year the very largest and best.

Any member obtaining contributions from ten persons (or the equivalent, twenty-two articles) and one money member (no amount specified) becomes a director.

A directors' meeting was held at the Swarthmore Woman's Club on Wednesday of this week at 2 o'clock, when Mrs. Sargent Walter brought a report of the fifty-first annual meeting held at San Francisco, Cal., which she attended in May as the delegate from the Swarthmore Branch. The annual meeting was presided over by the national president, Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, the former Mrs. Grover Cleveland. It was the first time in the history of the Guild that an annual meeting had been held west of the Rocky Mountains, and it proved to be a privilege of which the western women eagerly availed themselves.

Pupils Quick in Fire Drill

To meet the requirements of the School Code and also to train the children to make a rapid exit from the building in case of fire, the first fire drill of the season was held last Friday morning for all of the pupils of the College Avenue School, including both high school and grades.

The exact time of the drill was not announced, but it was known that one would occur some time during the week. For several days previously the teachers had been instructing the pupils exactly how the lines should form and pass down the corridors and stairs, and which exits were to be used for fire drill. It is a great satisfaction to realize that the entire building was emptied in ninety seconds. This was done without haste or confusion and involved about seven hundred persons.

In a second drill, held on Monday afternoon, the time was eighty-two seconds, eight seconds less than that of the preceding drill. With more practice this time should be bettered.

W. B. DAVISON SPEAKS AT H. S. ASSEMBLY

Swarthmore Man Tells of South America, Where He Spent Twelve Years

Mr. Waldo B. Davison, of Harvard Avenue, delivered a very interesting talk on South America at the Swarthmore High School weekly assembly last Monday morning. Mr. Davison, who is district manager for the J. B. Ford Sales Company, has spent twelve years in various countries of South America and has an intimate knowledge of the land, people and customs.

Mr. Davison pointed out that many people today have the wrong conception of South America, thinking of it as a Spanish-speaking country only. He explained that in reality South America is divided into three parts—first, the northern section, best known to United States tourists, including Ecuador, Columbia and Venezuela; second, Brazil, in which Portuguese is spoken almost exclusively; and, third, the Spanish-speaking countries, including Argentina, Uruguay, Chile, Peru and Bolivia.

Mr. Davison commented on the size of Brazil, which covers an area as large as the entire United States, and told of the impossibility of contact between some sections because of the mountains.

He explained to the pupils that the South American people were in many ways similar to the people of the United States. They have the same enthusiasm, the same faith in the future, the same imagination, and sense of humor. He said that South American leadership is coming to the foreground.

Two thousand five hundred and thirty-eight books were taken out during the last monthly period. There are over 1500 readers' cards in use and more than 8600 books on the library shelves.

For the benefit of newcomers to the borough and as a reminder to other residents, THE SWARTHMOREAN prints below the "library hours." It is suggested that they be clipped out of the paper and filed for future reference.

Books may be returned at other than library hours and deposited in the box outside the library door, but renewal or transfer of books must be made personally during regular library hours.

W. B. DAVISON SPEAKS AT H. S. ASSEMBLY

Swarthmore Man Tells of South America, Where He Spent Twelve Years

Mr. Waldo B. Davison, of Harvard Avenue, delivered a very interesting talk on South America at the Swarthmore High School weekly assembly last Monday morning. Mr. Davison, who is district manager for the J. B. Ford Sales Company, has spent twelve years in various countries of South America and has an intimate knowledge of the land, people and customs.

Mr. Davison pointed out that many people today have the wrong conception of South America, thinking of it as a Spanish-speaking country only. He explained that in reality South America is divided into three parts—first, the northern section, best known to United States tourists, including Ecuador, Columbia and Venezuela; second, Brazil, in which Portuguese is spoken almost exclusively; and, third, the Spanish-speaking countries, including Argentina, Uruguay, Chile, Peru and Bolivia.

Mr. Davison commented on the size of Brazil, which covers an area as large as the entire United States, and told of the impossibility of contact between some sections because of the mountains.

He explained to the pupils that the South American people were in many ways similar to the people of the United States. They have the same enthusiasm, the same faith in the future, the same imagination, and sense of humor. He said that South American leadership is coming to the foreground.

First Day School Reopens Sunday

The Swarthmore Friends' First Day School opens next Sunday morning, October 4, at 9.45 o'clock. Classes for children from kindergarten to tenth grade inclusive are being organized under excellent leadership.

Mrs. Roy Delaplaine will again supervise the primary classes. The superintendent for the upper classes will be Mrs. Paul Furnas. All classes will meet in Whittier House as in previous years.

Parents and any interested in the Quaker Sunday School and its principles are to meet for an hour's discussion on "The Purpose of Religious Education," led by Mrs. Herbert Fraser. This class will start at 9.45 in the Meeting House.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1936 FROM ANOTHER "AULD LANG SYNER"

Old Timer's reference to Auld Lang Syne in THE SWARTHMOREAN of September 26, is very interesting to an Auld Lang Syner. The sad part of remembrances is that they lead us so often across the border line "to that strange country, the beyond." How many, many of those who laid the foundations of the present unmatched Swarthmore are now going on with the work for which they had fitted themselves in a "fairer place than even Swarthmore Town." And what a list of splendid names. If name some it still leave many others equally worthy whom we long to name. But we can name only a few. Doctor Magill of the college, whose character and name remains indelibly impressed on those early days. F. M. Simons, whose genius saw Swarthmore as it is now, and whose work and service made it secure. The foundation of the community thought of the Presbyterian Church, rested in his mind and in the mind of its first Pastor, Henry E. Jackson, an energetic christian whose work with the boys was passed on to the writer. Then there is the name of Charles Parker only recently lost to us in Real Estate, the able, energetic trusted lieutenant of F. M. Simons in the development of the Borough. The name of Henry Kent, in Real Estate of those formative days, will remain in the thought of those who knew him as a sturdy figure of honor and integrity. The honor roll could go on and on, but space forbids; but long or short it would always have the name of Gidton, who as Burgess, fought a good fight for ample sewers, and who saved Yale Avenue from becoming a second Swarthmore Avenue. He had the fore-sight to spend money and get the Borough in debt for necessary improvements which repaid the investment ten fold.

Of course there was always a skin-flint minority to miss opportunities. These spoiled the effort to obtain a magnificent playground of 13 acres adjoining the present High School property, for the sum of $13,000. The opportunity for a community house met the same fate. (It is not yet too late for that, but where is the unused, unhonored hero or hero's whose shoulders are broad enough to stand the abuse which must fall on those who try to broaden the life of a community. This, however, is a digression for which we beg pardon. This letter was started because Old Timer referred to Wilbur Hicks, and the writer wishes to endorse what O. T.

In the remembrance days the writer was honored with the office of Burgess. Of course we had chief of highways, etc., etc., in Council, but the de facto highway department for producing immediate tangible results was Wilbur Hicks and his faithful lieutenant Collins. The official highway department deserves full praise for good work. This praise is not withheld, but the real object of this letter is to honor two sturdy, faithful servants of the Borough of Swarthmore.

The official highway department deserves full praise for good work. This praise is not withheld, but the real object of this letter is to honor two sturdy, faithful servants of the Borough of Swarthmore.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1936 FROM ANOTHER "AULD LANG SYNER"

Old Timer's reference to Auld Lang Syne in THE SWARTHMOREAN of September 26, is very interesting to an Auld Lang Syner. The sad part of remembrances is that they lead us so often across the border line "to that strange country, the beyond." How many, many of those who laid the foundations of the present unmatched Swarthmore are now going on with the work for which they had fitted themselves in a "fairer place than even Swarthmore Town." And what a list of splendid names. If name some it still leave many others equally worthy whom we long to name. But we can name only a few. Doctor Magill of the college, whose character and name remains indelibly impressed on those early days. F. M. Simons, whose genius saw Swarthmore as it is now, and whose work and service made it secure. The foundation of the community thought of the Presbyterian Church, rested in his mind and in the mind of its first Pastor, Henry E. Jackson, an energetic christian whose work with the boys was passed on to the writer. Then there is the name of Charles Parker only recently lost to us in Real Estate, the able, energetic trusted lieutenant of F. M. Simons in the development of the Borough. The name of Henry Kent

HOME AND SCHOOL OPENS NEXT MONDAY

Howard Kirk, President of Association, Announces Interesting Subject for Year's Meetings Howard Kirk, incoming president of the Swarthmore Home and School Association, has chosen for the subject of this season's meetings, "The Use of Leisure." At the opening meeting next Monday evening, October 12, at 8 o'clock the problem of "The Obligations of a Gentleman" will be met. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the High School on College Avenue.

RESIDENTS SPEAK TO COUNCIL AT MEETING

Mr. Kirk gives as his reasons for choosing the theme for the year: Modern inventions, with shorter working hours, give the average man and woman more idle time. It is therefore important that they shall learn to employ such time, not only to best advantage, but also that it may give them the most enjoyment. This training in the use of leisure, however, must begin in childhood. School studies, plus athletics and other extra-curricular activities, make such demands upon a child's time, that he is not prepared for the self-direction that is needed when he leaves school. There is necessity for developing in this country a class of gentle-folk, trained not only in the humanities but in ancient standards of conduct—to the end that from such class we may draw the greater part of our leadership.

"THE SCOTCH TWINS" AT CLUB NEXT WEEK

Perkins, from the book by Lucy Fitch Perkins, is distinctly a child's story, designed for juvenile audiences and written in a clear dialogue that almost any youngster can understand. ANDERSON'S TALK AT L. W. V. IS STIRRING

Reveals Recent Personal Observations of Situations in Europe The fight for peace in this generation has been lost according to Dr. Troyer S. Anderson, Professor of History at Swarthmore. Anderson, who spoke before the Swarthmore League of Women Voters, on Tuesday afternoon, at the Woman's Club. He expressed the belief that it would be miraculous if peace lasted as long as five years. Dr. Anderson, who has recently returned from six months of observation in England, France and Germany, described the outlook as tremendously grim and depressing. He asserted that there were three times in the last half year when war might have come, the occupation of the Rhineland, the use of sanctions against Italy, and the rebellion in Spain. "I think the Germans do feel that they are in the last half year when war might have come, the occupation of the Rhineland, the use of sanctions against Italy, and the rebellion in Spain. "The whole military and political set-up in Europe will be influenced by the Spanish situation," he explained. "Sympathy with the rebellion is drawing together the British and awkward for the French. Organize New Girls' Group

Those who gathered at the home of Miss Ada Fuller, on North Chester Road, last Friday evening and formed a group of younger girls to organize along the lines of the Junior Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Church, of which Miss Fuller is president, included the Misses Sue Wolters, Alice Hadley, Varrell Drew, Frances Armistage, Barbara Campbell, Claiborne Steele and Nancy King. It was decided to hold a meeting at the home of Miss Wolters, 521 Cedar Lane, at 7 o'clock next Sunday evening, October 11, to elect officers and settle other matters in connection with the new organization. Miss Wolters was elected temporary secretary. All young ladies of the borough, from high school age through the first two years of college, are extended a cordial invitation to visit the meetings or to join the group. Those who met last Friday evening were intensely interested in the numerous and varied ways in which, at a minimum effort and with very little time and expense, cheer can be brought to many poor and ill persons in this and surrounding sections. The limitless possibilities include fields where those of every inclination can find enjoyment, education and other benefits to themselves while actually serving others.

WE PREFER LOCAL Loans

We prefer to lend money to our local customers for their seasonal use. Our chief reasons are—

1. We know the people—and character is most important in every loan.
2. We know the use to be made of the money.
3. The loan helps our community—which in turn helps us.

We welcome the opportunity to grant sound loans to qualified, local borrowers.

LARGE NEEDLEWORK GUILD MEMBERSHIP

Borough Workers Have Secured Over Seventy Local Directors in This Year's Drive

The Swarthmore Branch of the Needlework Guild of America has been very active through its directors, in canvassing all non-members in the Borough, as well as notifying all members that October 21 is the Annual Collection. This is Membership Week. Any person willing to contribute two new garments, preferably of the same size and kind, or a sum of money (no amount specified), may become a member. Garments may be purchased or made at home, but the plea is for practical garments, made of sturdy material, with two identical ones, if underwear is selected.

The Needlework Guild is probably the most efficient charitable organization of great size in the nation. Some of the directors have made it a practice for years to sew and knit throughout the entire year, while others exert their energies in collecting garments just before the annual ingathering. The result is that last year 2635 garments were assembled at the Woman's Club House on the morning of October 23, were sorted by a committee, and distributed to the tables designated for each of the nineteen charities which were the recipients. By noon of the next day, all garments had been delivered or had been mailed in the duffel bags provided for each institution. Hence a minimum amount is required for overhead, but it is important that all contributors have their garments in the hands of their directors before October 19 in order that the reports may be made out before the morning of the collection.

The officers of the Swarthmore Branch are: Honorary president, Mrs. Thomas S. Safford; president, Mrs. William H. West; first vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Winter Andrew; second vice-president, Mrs. J. H. McWilliams; acting secretary, Mrs. A. W. Preston; treasurer, Mrs. Charles A. Bunting. At the meeting of directors held last week, Mrs. Edwin H. Cox was elected secretary for the coming year.

Independent Tea Monday

Monday afternoon, October 12, at 2.30, a tea will be held at the home of Mrs. William Earl Kistler, 144 Park Avenue, to organize the Independent Coalition of American Women in Swarthmore. The Coalition ignores party lines and its membership is made up of both Democrats and Republicans working together for a common cause, and because it is non-partisan it especially appeals to women not usually interested in politics.

Mrs. John C. Marsh, of Haverford, who has been organizing the Coalition in Delaware County will speak on its objectives. An interesting program has been planned and the tea is open to all who are interested.

Soccer Team Loses Twice

Although the local high school football team got its season off to a good start, the soccer team did not fare so well. Saturday's game with George School resulted in a loss, 6-1, and Tuesday's game with Upper Darby was another loss, 3-1. Both games were played away.

THE PROFESSORS AT THE PUMP

Working a pump handle up and down, and carrying heavy buckets of water made people realize the bother of drawing water from wells. Dissatisfied with this primitive method, a group of Swarthmore College professors, back in the 1880's, decided to band together to obtain a system of running water.

They found a small spring, erected a toy pumping station and laid several hundred feet of pipe to their dwellings. With so little equipment the professors took a most important step in the development of Suburban Philadelphia.

The new "running water" became very popular. . . neighbors begged to share its benefits. So in 1896—just 50 years ago—the Springfield Water Company was incorporated. As whole communities asked to participate in their water supply, the professors decided it was too much for men who had chosen the classroom as their field of achievement.

Today their Company has grown into a water supply system which serves some 73,000 families over a territory of 300 square miles—considerably more than twice the area of Philadelphia. With its increased size it can now insure an interlocking supply of water taken from the best sources available.

and Madison Streets, Chester, for a traffic light to change and permit him to proceed. Mr. Foster was accosted by the two men who forced him at the point of firearms to drive them on a tour of deserted parts of the city, then stopped, bound and robbed him, took him for another ride and dropped him out in a lonely section near Brookhaven. It was 12:30 A. M. before Foster reached a house where he could telephone his wife, the former Miss Mary Child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Child, of Vassar Avenue.

Besides his watch, glasses and all the money he carried, Foster, who is a field executive of Valley Forge Council, Boy Scouts of America and in charge of Chester and Media Districts, lost valuable records and charts on Boy Scout activities. The latter were found in a brook in another locality a day or so later by some boys. Foster's automobile was recovered the day after the hold-up abandoned in Chester.

The bandits are believed to be the same who took a man from Marcus Hook across the Delaware line and robbed him a few days later, and also stole a Baltimore taxicab, bound the driver, threw him out on the Main Line, and discarded the cab in Swarthmore early this week. Police are working on clues.

Mothers' Groups Formed

The Fifth and Sixth Grade Mothers' Groups of the College Avenue elementary school held organization meetings last week. The sixth grade group elected Mrs. Arthur Pennell, of Wawa, as chairman for the coming year. The chairman of the fifth grade group for the year will be Mrs. William Thatcher, of College Avenue.

Receive State Appropriation

Under date of October 2, a State check in the amount of $11,759.14 was received by Mr. Roland L. Eaton, treasurer of the Swarthmore School Board. This represents approximately one-half of the annual state appropriation paid by the state to the School District, and is the portion usually paid in August of each year. The other half of the allotment is made in February.

HOLD NEIGHBORHOOD POLITICAL MEETING

Republican, Democratic and Socialist Parties Defended by Hancock, Kirk, and Holmes

In a neighborhood meeting presided over by Burgess John H. P. man, the claims of the three political parties were presented Monday night at the Swarthmore Friends' Meeting House by Dr. Francis Hancock, Howard Kirk and Dr. Jesse H. Holmes, speaking respectively for the Republican, Democratic and Socialist parties.

Dr. Hancock, who spoke first, declared that the Republican Party with London as its leader would reduce our national indebtedness, preserve individual freedom, and restore stability and confidence to business and industry. Mr. Kirk supported Roosevelt's social security program. Mr. Hull's constructive attitude towards international affairs, especially toward our South American neighbors, and stated that only by a vote for the Democratic ticket in Delaware County would corrupt machine politics be scored against. Professor Holmes assured the audience that it mattered little which candidate was elected, as the capitalist system in either case would be upheld, whereas by a doubling of the Socialist vote either of the candidates elected would be forced to introduce a large measure of legislation in line with Socialist purposes.

Girl Scout News

The girls of Troop 6 will meet at 9:30 tomorrow morning, Saturday, October 10, at the railroad station for a hike. They are to bring ten cents carfare.

Troop 16 met Wednesday last week at the Girl Scout House. A hamburger roast was enjoyed and the following patrol leaders and corporals were elected: Margaret Ann Dinmitt, Ruth Servais, Barbara Allison and Betty Landon, patrol leaders; Emily Smith, Margaret MacMillan, Beverly Doe, and Pauline Beatty, corporals.

Troop 194 will meet next Tuesday at 3 P. M., in the Girl Scout house.

DR. J. A. DETLEFSEN TO ADDRESS LEGION

Noted Physiologist Will Speak at Next Monday's Meeting of the Harold Ainsworth Post

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Harold Ainsworth Post of the American Legion, held on Monday night, October 5, in the Legion Rooms, Borough Hall, a schedule of meetings for the Legion year was adopted.

Commander Alben T. Eavenson has outlined plans which indicate a very active and interesting season. Routine business of the Post will be transacted in executive committee. The regular meetings will be given over largely to a series of talks by prominent citizens of Swarthmore.

Dr. John A. Detlefsen will speak at the next regular monthly meeting on October 19. His subject will be "The Physiologist Examines the Human Animal." Dr. Detlefsen is one of the outstanding physiologists in America. His teaching and research work has been carried on in some of the largest educational institutions in this country and in Europe. He was knighted by the King of Denmark in 1926 for his work in the field of physiology and services to the Danish people. He lectured for the Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minn., at the Mayo Foundation and Western Medical School, 1923. He organized, incorporated and directed the Philadelphia Mouth Hygiene Association, 1929-33, and at the present time is director of the Police School of Eastern Pennsylvania.

Dr. Detlefsen's address will be of great interest and a very complete attendance of all members of the local Post is anticipated.

November 13, Friday, has been chosen as the date for the annual Father and Son Banquet for ex-service men of the borough and their sons. It is planned to hold the dinner at 9 o'clock in the Social Hall of the Methodist Church. Entertainment will be specially designed to amuse the boys. Local Boy Scout Troops will be on hand to perform stunts afterward. Under the chairmanship of Frank R. Morry the committee in charge consists of Robert T. Bair, J. Paul Brown, Roy W. Delaplaine, Alexander M. Dryden, Roland Eaton, George Gillespie, Thomas A. Meryweather and L. J. Servais.

SWARTHMORE HIGH SCHOOL SETBACK AT MEDIA

Winning Start Broken But Boys Block Well During First Quarter; Meet Sharon Hill Today

Swarthmore High School suffered a 24-0 setback last Friday afternoon at Media High School's field. The Garnet Grids lost the game mainly through the accurate passing of John Elliott, the Meets half-back. His passes paved the way to Media's first two touchdowns.

Swarthmore played a defensive game interspersed with many kicks, including a sixty-yard quick kick by Bill Shay. Media scored 20-0 in the first quarter. The first pass paved the way to Media's first two touchdowns.

FIRST ELEMENTARY CONFERENCE SOON

To Take Place of Report Cards at Local Schools Next Week; Special Programs for Pupils

Each afternoon next week from 12:30 to 4:30 there will be held in the Swarthmore Elementary Schools the first series of the three-year-old conference between teachers and mothers. These conferences provide opportunity of discussing the child's development and problems in terms of his educational achievement, social, emotional, mental and physical growth, and his temptations, aptitudes, and appreciations. Several years' experience have offered convincing evidence that this method is the most satisfactory plan for reporting between home and school.

Instead of the children in grades one to six being required to attend regular afternoon sessions the week of October 19, activities of educational value are being planned by the school.

On Monday at 1 o'clock, Mrs. E. Grison, of Resby, well-known ornithologist, will speak and give an illustrated lecture on birds. On Tuesday there will be nature walks, led by various parents, leaving from each school at 1 o'clock. On Wednesday the Haines Marionettes will be presented in the high school auditorium at 12:50. The two presentations will be "Hansel and Gretel" and "The Circus." A nominal charge per child will be made. On Friday an "Amateur Hour" will be held, under the direction of Mr. J. A. Christian, master of ceremonies. Attendance at these activities is voluntary. Parents may wish to take their children to some of educational interest. Those who wish to take children individually or in groups to the Franklin Museum or the Planetarium may secure special suburban school tickets from the office at a reduction of forty per cent per ticket. Other places of interest might include visits to the Academy of Natural Science, Philadelphia Zoo, University City Museum, Parkway Museum, nearby farms, airports, boats, docks, or hikes in the country.

SWARTHMORE PLAY TOMORROW

Tomorrow at 2:30 and at 8:15 P. M., the first Junior play of the season will be produced at the Swarthmore Players Club—it is "The Scotch Twins," by Eleanor E. Perkins, Donald Rodgers, of Wilmington, and James Brady, of Chester, who will play bagpipes between acts, when the children's afternoon audience will join in singing Scotch songs.

The play is carried by the four children participating: James Smith, Marion Schatte, Alben Eavenson, Richard Davis, supported by the following adults: Walter C. Crouch, John R. Brownell, Mrs. Vernon M. Parry and Martha Keighton, under the direction of Mrs. C. W. McDowell. Older children are urged to attend the evening performance to make proper for the members over in the afternoon.

SPEAKER ON SWEDEN AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Next Tuesday's Program by Art Section, State Chairman To Speak

The Woman's Club of Swarthmore was entertained and enlightened at the regular meeting on Tuesday by Wilfred L. Husband, a well-known lecturer, who talked about "Good Times in Sweden." Mr. and Mrs. Husband have just returned from a summer spent in that country, where they took many pictures to illustrate the lecture. Some of the reels of beautiful colored moving pictures were developed on ship board in order to be ready for this talk.

Sweden resembles New England, Pennsylvania and Kansas, according to Mr. Husband, and the people, who have been Vikings for ten thousand years, are products of such environment—ruddy, healthy, industrious, clean, self-respecting. The many lakes and sea coast make boating a favorite amusement, with bicycles instead of cars to take the men to work in the steel mills and other industrial plants.

Mr. and Mrs. Husband visited Selma Lagerlof at Marbacka, where that first woman winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature was most gracious in sending greetings to her American friends.

The excellent living conditions for the working classes, the ten thousand study groups to which one hundred thousand people voluntarily go every year, and the Co-operatives, of which Sweden is famous, were of outstanding interest to Mr. Husband. The enlightened program of reforestation, which Sweden has followed for many years, is one which we are just beginning to enforce.

Mrs. Husband, dressed in a colorful costume from one of the provinces, assisted her husband at the lantern.

The admissions committee, of which Mrs. John R. Brownell is chairman, reported the following new members: Reinstated Mrs. George W. Warren, Mrs. Lewis M. McCurdy, Mrs. Frank D. Windell, Mrs. F. W. Leuhning. New members: Mrs. E. H. Dalaba, Mrs. A. B. German, Mrs. Edward R. Hopkins, Mrs. J. Harlan Jespersen, Mrs. H. M. Johnson, Mrs. Lewis M. Knobel, Mrs. Roy Latimer, Mrs. Charles L. Minor, Mrs. Lea P. Warner, Mrs. Howard G. Hopson, Mrs. Maurice Greist, Mrs. George Zimmer, chairman of committee.

BUSINESS ASSOCIATION MEETS

At the Swarthmore Business Association dinner meeting held Wednesday night at Strath Haven Inn, Mrs. Julia R. Hazard presided and gave an interesting address on the Swarthmore Souvenir Directory, and said that she expects to have it out within the next few weeks.

The Association decided to have the children's Halloween Parade sponsored and supported only by the Association members and the SWARTHMOREAN. President Charles Russell appointed Titus J. Ewig, chairman. Rodney Mills, Edward L. Noyes and Joseph Gilbert are on the committee for arrangements and finances. The parade will be held Halloween night, Saturday, October 31, and will start promptly at 7 P. M.

OCTOBER SESSION OF SCHOOL BOARD

Swarthmore Directors Transact Routine Business at Monday's Meeting

In order to bring the advantage of instruction in public speaking to the pupils of the Swarthmore schools, the Board of Directors, at the regular October session Monday evening, granted the use of a class room to Elizabeth W. Cornell, dramatic reader, to conduct private classes. Miss Cornell, who lives in Ivyland, Pa., has developed similar classes from among the students in nearby schools and has enjoyed considerable success in her profession.

The financial, tax duplicate, and lunchroom reports were submitted by Mrs. Thomas Luaders, secretary, showing that of a duplicate of $117,000, taxes amounting to $98,000 had already been collected, as much by October 1 this year as by February 1 last year, and the highest in many years.

Roland L. Eaton, treasurer, presented the statement of budget for date and current bills in the amount of $7,922.48 for approval of payment. Mr. Eaton informed the Board that $16,700 in temporary loans to tide over the summer had been paid off upon receipt of the state check. Interest due on bonds, Series F, on November 1 in the amount of $2,805.50 was ordered paid.

Several insurance matters were discussed by James H. Hornaday, but action was held over until the next meeting. Robert C. Disque, president, gave the report of the property committee in the absence of George Schobinger.

Frank R. Morry, superintendent principal, gave the monthly reports of enrollment, the Educational Costs Survey Commission, upon whose request it was completed.

Frank R. Morry, superintendent principal, gave the monthly reports of enrollment, tuition, and the nurses' and librarians' reports.

The Board authorized procedure, under suspension of the archaic, to remedy defective work in the construction of the gymnasium and cafeteria since the contractors, Robbins and Edelman, and the bonding company had evaded their obligations in the matter after sufficient notice. Unsatisfactory results include cracked windows and concrete and talking of interior. Mr. Morry was named delegate to the Secondary Schools' Conference to be held in Harrisburg on October 30 and 31.

OPEN HOME AND SCHOOL SEASON

Speakers on First Topic of Year's Theme Introduced by New President, Howard Kirk

The first meeting of the Home and School Association for this season was held in the High School auditorium on Monday evening of this week with the new president, Howard Kirk, presiding.

The subject chosen for discussion this year is "The Use of Leisure," and the first topic to be taken up under that heading was the topic of Monday evening's meeting. Introducing the first speaker, Victor Blakelee, of St. Davids, a graduate of the United States Naval Academy, Mr. Kirk announced he should be well qualified to speak on the subject, since all Naval Academy graduates were by Act of Congress officially designated as "gentlemen."

There followed a most interesting account by Mr. Blakelee of what he had found in his travels, constitutes a gentleman in different countries of the world. He touched briefly on Russia, Siberia, Japan, Italy, Austria and Germany.

In Russia there were no gentlemen during the revolution and even now the term is seldom heard, but the people are bringing up their children to be polite and the men are attending workers' clubs and trying to be gentlemen. There is little actual "leisure" for the people are too busy trying to improve themselves and their positions.

In the wildness of Siberia there is little chance for the people to develop a civilization of their own. Here, however, Mr. Blakelee encountered a youth who had gained a speaking knowledge of English in the schools and who approached him with a "Good evening, sir," and was most anxious to converse in English. This young man, he remarked, was on the way to being a gentleman.

GUILD IN-GATHERING NEXT WEDNESDAY

Needlework Garments Due for Annual Display at Woman's Club

"Go back to the needy, sweet Charity's bread,
For giving is living," the angel said;
"And must I be giving again and again?"
"My pitiless peevish answer ran,
"Oh, no," said the angel, piercing me through,
"Just give 'til the Master stops giving to you."

This poem, read at the annual meeting of the Needlework Guild of America last year by Mrs. Truman Newberry, honorary president, epitomizes the spirit of the Guild. At the annual in-gathering of garments which will be displayed at the Woman's Club next Wednesday, October 21, from 2 until 4 P. M., Mrs. William H. West and the directors will be glad to welcome all contributors who wish to see the kind and quantity gathered together in Swarthmore. Tea will be served and all Swarthmoreans are cordially invited.

As usual, the greatest number of garments will go to the Visiting Nurse in Swarthmore, officially known as the Community Health Center of Central Delaware County. The rest of the garments will be divided among the following: In Chester, Crozer Home for Incubables, Chester Day Nursery, State Tuberculosis Clinic, Chester Rescue Mission; in Media, Mothers' Assistance Fund, Children's Aid Society; in Ridley Park, Taylor Hospital; in Philadelphia, Babies' Hospital of Philadelphia, for Poor Children, Home Missionary Society, Lovers of Little Children, Methodist Episcopal Deaconess Home, Pennsylvania Industrial Home for Blind Women, Philadelphia Home for Infants, Protestant Episcopal City Mission and the Volunteers of America.

Two new beneficiaries have been added to the Swarthmore Branch this year by vote of the directors. The Kensington Hospital for Babies in Philadelphia and Sunnycrest Farm, a home for destitute colored boys in Cheyney, will each receive a donation this year.

Sewing which was done last summer, when a group of volunteers met regularly to sew on material donated by some of the department stores in Philadelphia, is on display in the window of the Noyes' Real Estate office. It is hoped to form

Ten tables were formed by those attending the opening meeting of the Thursday Night Bridge Club last week at the Woman's Club House.

North and South: B. H. Morrison playing first half with Mrs. Morrison and second with A. F. Robinson; second, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carvell; third, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Carol A. Bagby. East and West:

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Scates, of Jamaica, L. I., were the guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Scates, of Park Avenue, last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hopkins and two children, formerly of New York City, have moved into the Fellows house at 311 Harvard Avenue. Mr. Hopkins is connected with the Cheslyn Piece Dye Works, Chester.

Mrs. Edward A. Jenkins, of North Chester Road, is sufficiently recovered from injuries sustained in a fall two months ago which have confined her to bed for many weeks, to be able to be downstairs in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alban E. Rogers and family, formerly of Rose Tree Road, Media and Oaks, have moved into 319 Park Avenue. Mr. Rogers, an alumnus of Swarthmore College, is a brother of Mrs. William P. Hayes, of Yale Avenue.

The many friends of Mrs. E. H. Bossall, of Cornell Avenue, will be glad to know that her family hope she will be able to return home late in October. Mrs. Bossall has been confined to the Prince of Wales Hospital, Plymouth, Eng., since June 16, when Mr. Bossall and their family arrived abroad for an extended tour of Europe. The others were recently forced to return to this country without her as her illness not only prevented her from accompanying them further on this summer's trip, but necessitated her remaining in the hospital still longer.

Harrison Hartman, of Ogden and Swarthmore Avenues, has returned home after spending three months at the Rhode Island division of the textile firm of Collins and Ackman with which he is connected in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Peterson and family have removed from 133 Rutgers Avenue to York, Pa.

Miss Irene Geyer and her mother have taken the second floor front apartment in the Celia Building on Park Avenue. They formerly lived with Mrs. Geyer's daughter, Mrs. Rosalie G. Roberts, on South Chester Road.

History will be made for Pennsylvania in Upper Darby's "Miracle of Progress," scheduled to open October 25, and to run for five days and nights. This show is commemorating that Philadelphia suburb's one hundred fiftieth anniversary.

ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW AT SCHOOLS

Displays of Third to Seventh Grade Pupils Judged in Event Held in Class Rooms

Recently the class rooms of the two grade school buildings were converted into flower gardens for the children of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh grades of the Swarthmore schools.

Each child was invited to bring a display of fall flowers to his or her room. These displays were judged on arrangement, condition of flowers, and appropriateness of bowl or vase. Judges for the Rutgers Avenue building were Mrs. Schofield Clough and Mrs. George Zimmer; for the College Avenue building, Mrs. Joseph Taylor; third, Mrs. E. O. Lange. The best room display in the College Avenue building was arranged by the pupils of the sixth grade in Miss Weber's room, while Miss Moore's fifth grade room won the honors for the Rutgers Avenue building. An American flag was presented to each room. It is interesting to note that these two rooms also won first place last fall.

The best individual displays in each room were as follows: Third grade, Francis Taylor; fourth, Norma Hauger; second, Andrew Kirk; third, Mary Marshall; honorable mention, Thomas Wilcox. Third grade, Rutgers, first place, Marilyn MacEwe; second, Barbara Kruse; third, Constance Miller; honorable mention, George Gillespie. Fourth grade, College, first place, Elizabeth Beagle; second, Emily Rumble; third, Geraldine Dana; honorable mention, Mildred Loveland. Fourth grade, Rutgers, first place, Mary Duer; second, Francis Taylor; third, Dulcy Thomas; honorable mention, June Ullman. Fifth grade, College, first place, Robert Lange; second, Alma Henry; third, Judith Koch; honorable mention, Susan Thatcher. Fifth grade,

Rutgers, first place, Jessie Gilbert; second, Priscilla Giles; third, Mary Morse; honorable mention, Bonnie Donnelly. Sixth grade, College, first, Anne Perkins; second, Frederick Morey; third, Daniel Kirk; honorable mention, Elizabeth Pope and George Widdowson. In Japan are found some of the best manners in the world. In proof of which Mr. Blakeslee told of a Japanese ticket-seller in a theatre who, after sparing no effort to secure almost from row seats for him in an already sold-out theatre, at the conclusion of the performance left his station in care of another and walked over ten blocks with Mr. Blakeslee to show him the way to his hotel. In response to profuse thanks he replied, "Oh, it is nothing. I know that your Americans would do the same for me if I visited your country!"

PRESENTS PUPPET SHOW AT SCHOOL

Donald Darlington, Junior High Boy, Performs Hobby for Grade School Pupils

The children of the College Avenue grade school were most delightfully entertained this week with an original puppet show, made and presented by one of the Junior High School boys, Donald Darlington. He was assisted by Neal Durbarow, Arthur Jennings and John Scholinger.

The act opened with an announcer, Jo-Jo, who urged the children to greet him enthusiastically at each appearance. At his urging, and with a little practice, the enthusiasm was almost unbounded. The characters included a tap dancer and a tight-rope walker. The characters which made the biggest impression were Paderewski providing a concert at a miniature piano and Madame Butterfly, a coloratura soprano.

After the performance some of the audience were permitted to go behind the puppets and even operate them. This, of course, added doubly to the enjoyment of the entertainment.

Donald's interest in puppetry grew out of seeing Tony Sarg's performance and was developed by opportunities offered in camps to make the figures. His interest is so great and effort so well received that he is hoping some time in the future to have a car and trailer and an enlarged show to take about the country.

Ladies' Night at Bridge Club

On Wednesday evening, September 30, a pleasant and interesting meeting of the Swarthmore Bridge Club was held, it being Ladies' Night. There were many interesting hands played by the twelve pairs present.

S. F. Butler and David Shaw were high scorers, closely followed by Dr. and Mrs. John A. Murphy, Mrs. Irvin R. MacElice and Mrs. J. H. Hopkins tied with Richard Randall, Jr. and Andrew F. Robinson for third.

Others present included William Craemer and L. J. Servais, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Martin, John Bowditch and Maurice Griest, Mrs. William E. Soden and Mrs. Clarence Blye, Mrs. Harold Barnes and

The speaker mentioned being in Germany at the time of the death of Hindenburg when the people were both mourning his death and celebrating the rise of Hitler to the chancellorship. In Munich at the time he found all gentlemen taking part in this celebration.

Mr. Bikesle said he was in Japan at the time of Will Rogers' tragic death and he was informed of the tragedy by a Japanese who laughed uproariously all during the account.

In Italy, of course, there is much heard of gentlemen—Gentleman of Padua, Gentleman of Verona, etc. To Mr. Bikesle Venice presented the most beauty and the greatest charm.

In Austria the gentlemen are found in the cafes enjoying life. In 1932 they presented rather a sad spectacle, watching with envy every mouthful the more fortunate Americans took because they themselves had no money to buy food in the cafes. In 1934 there was a marked improvement.

The speaker mentioned being in Germany at the time of the death of Hindenburg when the people were both mourning his death and celebrating the rise of Hitler to the chancellorship.

Mr. Bikesle concluded by saying: "The term 'gentleman' is somewhat receding in value because of things we are going through. In all European countries, chivalry does not seem to exist any more."

Mr. Kirk introduced as the next speaker Miss Hannah Kirk, of the Swarthmore School faculty, who began by asking, "What are we going to do with leisure—as teachers and you as parents?" She went on to suggest that if they give children some matters they have a genuine great way toward filling leisure time. She suggested some of the fundamentals necessary were truth, honor, freedom and courtesy. By example, and by taking away the element of fear, more honorable children may be made. It is necessary to keep in children a spirit of freedom that will allow them to be themselves. Courtesy and serenity are essential in fine manners. In conclusion, Miss Kirk stated, "If we can go back to ideals of chivalry we can make our children lovelier people whom we will be happy to have about us."

PUPILS TOLD HOW TO CHOOSE COLLEGE

Professor of History at Goucher Speaker at High School Assembly on Monday

On Monday, Dr. Naomi Riches, Registrar and Professor of History of Goucher College, delivered a very interesting address on "How Shall I Select a College?" to the Swarthmore High School pupils at their regular assembly in the high school auditorium.

Dr. Riches first pointed out that many young people are irrational in selecting colleges, giving such amusing examples as that of selecting a college because it gave the student an opportunity to pass through a large town and to from vacations; or, as in her own case, because of the color of the red curtains on the college auditorium stage.

However, the speaker stated that there are many serious things to consider when selecting a college. First, the standing or rating of the college in question. Although many rating lists are printed, the A. A. U. list is by far the best source of information as to the academic position held by a particular college. For a college to appear on the A. A. U. list its academic standing must be very high. She urged the young people who plan to go on to college and get a B.A. degree, to get it from a good institution—one that has both permanency and prestige.

Dr. Riches went on to warn the students not to apply for a scholarship at any college before they were first assured of admission to that college.

She said: "Not only do you choose a college, that college must also choose you." In this connection she advised the students to learn how to study early in their high school careers, and to form good study habits early, because it is too late to start at college. A good foundation is needed first. A pupil's high school record is very important to the college and no one with a poor record from school is likely to succeed in an institution of higher learning.

The resignation of Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop, who had been secretary for ten years, was received with regret, for Mrs. Bishop has been untiring in her work for the Guild. However, she will retain her directorship and the arduous duties of secretary will be taken over by Mrs. Edwin H. Cox.

There are seventy-four directors of the Needlework Guild in Swarthmore, including the officers, each of whom collects the requisite number of garments (twenty-two or more). Open Republican Headquarters

Republican Headquarters were opened in Swarthmore last Thursday and are stationed in the Celia Building on Park Avenue, in the location formerly occupied by the Community Shop. Under the supervision of the county committeemen and women of the three local precincts, the headquarters are kept open for the distribution of the customary party publications and information. Next week, beginning October 19, Mrs. John H. McWilliams and Samuel M. Dodd, of the northern precinct, will be in charge and are eager for volunteers. Anyone who can spend even part of a day at the post is requested to communicate with Mrs. McWilliams or Mr. Dodd. This week Mrs.

Harvey R. Pierce and Frank Gettz, of the eastern precinct, have been in charge and the last week before election the western precinct officials, Mrs. Howard Dingler and George Corse, will direct the activities.

COUNCIL SESSION HELD WEDNESDAY

Routine Business and Several Minor Matters Front Last Regular Meeting of Month

The second October session of Borough Council convened on Wednesday evening of the 22nd.

The secretary was directed to reply to a letter from Howard Keyser, Jr., containing a request that Harvard Avenue be opened between Cresson Lane and Yale Avenue, saying that Council was not in a position at the present time to consider the proposal.

Dr. Johann H. Bruun appeared, presenting a petition for the paving of a portion of Riverview Road. Later in the meeting the highway committee was authorized to make temporary improvements to the road to permit residents who have recently located there to get to and from their properties at all seasons.

Mr. Hessebruch reported work had been started on the widening of the College Avenue culvert over the Little Crum Creek October 19, WPA labor having been furnished.

GUS AND SUZIE COMING MONDAY

Learn the details of the Halloween Parade direct from Gus Goblin and Suzie Spook, telling pumpkins, who will appear next Monday in the window of THE SWARTHMOREAN office on South Chester Road next to the bank.

We would give you some hint now but Gus and Suzie haven't even told us yet. They claim they will only break the news gradually, too, telling one feature of this year's event each day. So if you are sick in bed and can't get up to see this tantalizing couple yet, you'll just have to wait for next week's SWARTHMOREAN for the complete details.

BORO HALL FIRE, AND POST OFFICE ENTRY, STIR LOCAL EXCITEMENT

The past week-end was the most exciting for some time in Swarthmore. Two near calamities were, by the good will of fortune, prevented while in actual process. Prompt response of the Fire Department and the fact that the fire was discovered no later than it was about all that saved the frame structure from far greater and perhaps irreparable damage. One fire engine was already smoking from a burning ladder and hose and these with the scorched paint, the damage to the heating and electrical systems of the building and to the woodwork and structure contribute to a considerable damage figure. Estimates as to the exact amount of the detriment have not as yet been received.

The cause of the fire can only be speculated upon—some say it was a fault in the wiring, but the wires had just been gone over a short time ago and put in proper shape, so it is believed this could hardly be the case, especially since the burning seems to have originated lower than the wires, at a floor level in a tiny storeroom next to the stairs where dishes and other properties of the Fire Company were kept. If spontaneous combustion is plausible it may have been that although it is claimed there were no oily rags or like materials in the room.

William E. Brannon, janitor, and Mrs. Brannon were not at home during the afternoon, although it is doubtful if the fire would have been discovered early even had they been in their apartment above it, so well sheltered was the spot that burned. A small fire in a boys' hut at the rear of Dickinson Avenue was extinguished at 4:15 last Friday afternoon by members of the Fire Company, who had difficulty locating the minor blaze.

CONNIE NICKERSON IN "THE CHILDREN'S HOUR"

Connie Nickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Nickerson of Park and Harvard Avenues, is cast as Peggy Rogers in Herman Shumlin's presentation of "The Children's Hour," the most discussed play of the generation, which has just opened a three weeks' engagement at the Chestnut Street Opera House, Philadelphia.

Miss Nickerson, who has appeared in five recent productions of the Players Club of Swarthmore, has turned professional and a month ago secured her present role with an original New York company. The production ran for two years in that city. Making her Players Club debut in "Enter, Madame," other Club plays in which Miss Nickerson was cast, include, "The Far-Off Hills," in which her most outstanding piece of work was accomplished; "The Wind and the Rain," "The Ghost Train," and "The Piper," the latter a Junior Section production.

The past summer she has been with the Playshop Theatre at Point Pleasant, N. J., where she had one of the leading parts in "Squaring the Circle," and was also cast in "Personal Appearance." Two years ago she played with the Berkshire Players, a summer theatre at Stockbridge, Mass.

During the past two or three years "Fanny's First Play" has had a marked revival of popularity. It is one of Mr. Shaw's lighter and more amusing comedies. The playwright has called it "potboiling"—in the literary profession meaning something written solely for the sake of making money—but a reading or viewing of this delightful and imaginative play soon belies Shaw's own description: "Built about an aesthetic Irishman who refuses to accept the modern modes and standards of life and his daughter, who has been schooled at Cambridge, the play develops many amusing quirks and flips upon twentieth century customs and manners."

Mr. Gould has cast his play with a group of veteran and capable actors, who have entirely new to Players Club audiences. These new players, both members of the Club, are DeWitt C. Clement, who will appear as "Juggins"; John Dineen, who plays the role of Gobbo Gilboy, the young man who lands in jail after an altercation with the London police. Charles T. Deacon will play the role of the eccentric Count O'Dowd and "Fanny" will be played by Ruth Ann Sang. The famous quartette of London critics will be Stafford W. Parker, John R. Brownell, J. William Simmons and Robert Gillilan, Jr. Samuel Evans, Jr., will appear as Cecil Saweyard and William Whitney will play Mr. Knox. Jessie L. Lewis and Elizabeth Mae Roberts will be the Misses Glibby and Mrs. Knox respectively, while Joshua Glibby, the part of Margaret will be in the hands of Alice E. Jones and Carol Cleaver will play the famous part of "Dorothy Dora." T. Lawton Slough as Lieutenant Cavall, of the French Navy, and Morris E. Smith as the footman, complete the cast.

Invitations for Assemblies
Large Demand Makes Five Classes Necessary, Opening November 7 and 14
Invitations for the Swarthmore Assemblies, to be held in the Woman's Club House as usual, have been issued. This year there will be four classes, corresponding to the grades in school, and the Senior Assembly which will be attended by the young people of the Junior and Senior classes of the High School and college age.

Five Local Welfare Needs
The Welfare Division of the Community Health Society has received appeals for a small coal stove, an ice box, a baby cot, a wall washstand, and a live puppy dog. The latter requisite, although a trifle unusual, is thought by the psychiatrist to be the only solution in the case of a particular child.

S. was: Ends—Richards, Carlson, Dryden, Willits; Tackles—Hange, Hartman; Burmetts; Guards—J. Brown, Vint, Robinson; Center—Banto; Quarterbacks—Sweeney, Bick; Halfbacks—Helmuth, Polk, W. ACCIDENT OR RESULT???

"M. D." asks questions in last week's SWARTHMOREAN which can have no answer as long as we, the people, are so full of the devil of selfishness and carelessness regarding the welfare of our fellow-men. About three hundred thousand automobile accidents are reported every year. About thirty-six thousand are fatal. What is an accident? The definition in the dictionary is: "Something that happens undesignedly, etc." That definition is bunk. An accident is something that happens because human intelligence is unable to prevent it. Out of the hundreds of thousands so-called automobile accidents each year in the United States, how many are real accidents? Two hundred and fifty possibly. The rest are results.

Let us examine a few so-called accidents, big and little, with which we are familiar. The sinking of the Titanic, with its frightful loss of life, was that an accident? Not any more than was the torpedoing of the Lusitania. One was intentional, the other was unintentional. The results—and all tragedies were results, not accidents—were the same. The story of the Lusitania is kept in the records of hell, the story of the Titanic is kept in the lying records of human excuses. A slowing of speed or stopping when the field of icebergs was reached would have lengthened the time of the Titanic's voyage probably eight hours and saved sixteen hundred lives. Was the tragedy an accident or a result?

None of the above is intended as a reflection on the innocent imbeciles who think that danger is an imaginary thing with which they have no concern, but it is written in the hope of stirring up thought. Only thinking people are of any use in this highly-piggish world. The police cannot be everywhere. They are usually active, courteous, efficient and deserve commendation. They cannot furnish common sense to fools. Indeed, they sometimes need more for themselves. Most automobile and truck drivers are thoughtful, courteous and safe. Danger from automobiles is limited to a few careless, thoughtless, selfish, stupid drivers who produce results which are called accidents.

Mix two cups flour with one cup sugar, one-half teaspoon salt and three level teaspoons baking powder. Work in slowly one-quarter cup lard and when mixed add the fine chopped pulp of two ripe peaches. Beat one egg lightly and add to one-third cup milk and mix with the dough. Spread the mixture in an oiled cake pan and press large slices of ripe peaches into the top. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and cinnamon and bake. Serve with whipped cream or a thin custard. Apples may be used instead of peaches.

NURSING REPORT AT OCTOBER MEETING

Work Carried On in Spite of Short-Handedness During September

The October meeting of the board of directors of the Nursing Division, Community Health Society, was held October 8 in the Borough Hall, Swarthmore, with Mrs. A. F. Jackson, president presiding. After the reports of the secretary and treasurer, the committee chairman gave accounts of the work done in September.

Mrs. Jackson read a letter from the Community Fund requesting that a board member be appointed to attend the annual meeting on November 12. It was unanimously decided that Mrs. Jackson represent the board at that time.

Mrs. Nellie P. Cueno, supervising nurse, reported as follows: "During September, the total visits were 394; 219 of these were advisory visits. The remaining 175 were to patients who needed nursing care. Our health education program has suffered this month due to the fact that one nurse was away on vacation and the relief nurse who was familiar with the work became acutely ill during the month. Miss Christine Bauer, of Milmont, and Mrs. Abigail Barnes, of Swarthmore, were available for a part of our nursing program.

The total health center attendance for the month was 92, 10 being newly enrolled, and 38 were examined by the physicians. The September Avondale Health Center conference was cancelled due to stormy weather.

"Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Cueno attended a meeting of the Morton School Board in September to request the use of a school room in Morton for the Health Center which has previously been held in Avondale. This request was granted, as there is a vacant classroom in the Smedley School this year. We are very happy indeed to have the use of this room as the greatest number of children registered in the Avondale Center were residents of Morton and had to be transported by volunteers or buses every month.

"A letter of appreciation for the use of her building was written to Miss Leiper in Avondale.

"Cod liver oil has been ordered to start preventive care for some of the children in greatest need who would not receive it otherwise. This is to be provided through a small fund we have for the purpose.

"The part-time school nursing in Morton has been resumed. All children have been weighed.

"We are glad to report that the preschool and school children throughout our district who are brought to the nurses attention as 'behavior problems' may be referred to the Psychological Clinic sponsored by the Family Welfare Department of our Society for constructive treatments. Arrangements are made for medical and psychological examinations, and the parents are given the necessary aid in carrying out any treatments recommended.

"One child who was referred from one of our Health Centers to have the opportunity to attend a private kindergarten class this year; a school child who needs hand work will attend the Philadelphia School of Occupational Therapy twice weekly; a dancing class is being planned for some of these children. Although this clinic is fairly new we are delighted with the constructive work accomplished.

Soccer Team in Scoreless Tie

College Loses 14-6

Last Tuesday's soccer game between Swarthmore High and Haverford on the home field ended when both teams were unable to score, leaving a 0-0 record. The next game, with Upper Darby next Tuesday, will also be played at Swarthmore.

College loses 14-6. Like the local high school, Swarthmore College's initial victory of this football season was short-lived. A bit too powerful Hampden-Sydney team defeated the Garretts boys, 14-6, on their own field last Saturday afternoon. Tomorrow the game with Dickinson will be at Carlisle, but another home game will be played on October 31, Founders' Day, when the opposition will be furnished by Hamilton.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK OPENS SUNDAY

Local Director Voices Reminder of Delaware County Tuberculosis Association's Work

"In observing Girl Scout Week, October 25-31, parents, teachers and scout leaders need to remember that tuberculosis continues in first place as a destroyer of the lives of young women from 15 to 25 years of age."

This timely reminder was voiced today by Miss Virginia R. Hughes, local Director of Girl Scouts for the Philadelphia District, in referring to the effort of the Delaware County Tuberculosis Association to protect the health of the younger generation.

"In Pennsylvania last year 16.5 per cent of the tuberculosis deaths occurred between 15 and 24, inclusive," continued Miss Hughes. "In this group, from age 20 to 25, three girls to every two boys were killed by the disease, while from 15 to 20 of the deaths from the same cause among girls were twice as many as among boys.

"The wasting of so many young lives is one of the pressing problems for our community under the leadership of the Tuberculosis Society. The first Christmas Seals were sold to help in the work of saving children from this preventable disease and the work has continued since 1907.

"The efforts of the community and of the school should be adapted to the health requirements of the child. It is foolish to wait until a child has become sick or debilitated before providing health safeguards and needs. Prevention is always better than cure.

"The health measures for the undernourished and sickly child have brought about greatly improved provisions for all children. Through thirty years the Christmas Seals has stood in the forefront of a great movement to protect and maintain the health of our children."

INTERIOR DECORATING CLASS AT WORK

Redecoration of Rooms at School Practical Project of Local Pupils

The privilege of witnessing a demonstration on upholstery was the unique opportunity of the interior decorating class of the Swarthmore High School recently. Mr. William G. McDermott, an upholsterer from Chester, showed and explained to the girls of the class methods of cutting and stitching slip covers.

Mr. McDermott used the school sofa, and taking a large piece of blue pebble cloth, cut it into appropriate sections to fit the sofa. He then pinned these sections, forming one piece. As he worked he lectured upon the methods and processes. At the end of the hour he left things so organized that the girls of the class can and will finish the work of basing and stitching.

This class is one of the most active in the school at the present time, taking as practical projects for study the redecoration of certain rooms. The women's faculty room is newly being redecorated, and when finished, the class will exert its efforts upon the men's faculty room. Already the living room of the Homemaking Department is nearing completion, having been repainted and refurbished. In addition they are sanding and revarnishing the seven sewing machines. The lined and pleated drapes which they have finished have been regarded as being almost of professional excellence.

The class is undertaking these projects because it is agreed that the best way to learn is to do, and under the guidance of Miss Mabel Ewing, the teacher, they are exhibiting real skill and excellent taste.

Education Assoc. Meeting

A meeting of the Convention District of the Pennsylvania State Education Association on "Desirable Provisions in a Tenure Law" will be held at Hoston Hall, University of Pennsylvania, next Monday evening. All teachers and others interested are invited to attend.

Prominent speakers will address the meeting.

Martel Murals for Mary Lyon Paul Martel, Flemish portrait painter and internationally known mural artist, is completing a series of murals for the lining room of The Mary Lyon School. The fine figures depict scenes from Shakespeare's "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream," done in pastel shades. When the final touches are completed the faculty and students plan a reception to the artist and a public viewing of the work, which is already attracting favorable comment from many artists who have come to the school to observe Mr. Martel at work.

Recently Miss Ruth Haun, director of dramatics at Wildciff Junior College, gave a reading of excerpts from "The Miracle of Progress" celebration in Upper Darby, the committee, with the co-operation of the borough and school officials, has succeeded in arranging an unusual event for the afternoon of Thursday, October 29.

On that date the Upper Darby High School football team will play the Media High School football team at the Upper Darby High School Football Field, the game starting at 2:45 P. M. Both schools have arranged to dismiss the students in time to attend the game and each pupil is being encouraged to bring with him some member of the family.

In addition to the above the Upper Darby High School soccer team will play the Lower Merion High School team. This game will start at 3:15 P. M. The starting times of the games have been arranged so that spectators may see the first half of the soccer game during the intermission between the halves of the football game and then they may see the second half of the soccer game after the football game.

Bands from the schools will be present in addition to the entire student bodies, cheer leaders, and everything that goes to make for a wonderful afternoon.

PUPIL GUIDANCE PLAN AT SCHOOL

Teachers' Committee Arranges Individual and Group Conferences

The plan of the Teachers' Committee on Pupil Guidance was presented to the pupils of the Swarthmore High School last Monday morning by J. A. Christian, chairman of the committee. The plan proposes more attention to the individual and collective problems growing out of pupils' experiences than has heretofore been the case.

Briefly the committee has decided to undertake that type of guidance for which the committee and the faculty is perhaps best adapted. Individual guidance will be attempted through personal conferences at specified times and places, so that the individual student will have the opportunity to talk over privately and confidentially, with a teacher who does not have him for class work, any of his problems in or out of school life. These conferences will be conducted by members of the committee, it is hoped to establish a more intimate relationship between student and teacher, and to make available to the student personal advice and help not colored by classroom relationships.

"We feel that there are many problems," said Mr. Christian, "which young people do not feel free to discuss with their parents or teachers, but for which they would like a friend. It is in this and only this capacity that faculty members conducting such conferences wish to serve. Time and places for such conferences will be announced later."

Specifically the conferences might deal with personality clashes in or out of school, scholastic difficulties, ethical or etiquette problems, social adjustments, general health advice, advice regarding further training, aid in getting jobs after graduation, hobby suggestions, etc. It is anticipated that only a small percentage of the student body will need or want individual conferences. Some will want to come, some will be made to come, but in either event their numbers will be limited.

Group guidance will be conducted in the homeroom meeting where the chairman will take charge of discussion groups during the half hour period allotted for them. After giving precedence to organization, class, or business meetings, these periods will be spent in taking under advisement three general types of problems as follows:

First, those problems of Swarthmore High School life of which the student body is aware and for which serious discussion may provide a remedy. (Example: how to hold entertainments, dances, etc., so that all would feel free to take an active part.)

Second, those problems of Swarthmore High School life of which the student body is not aware, and for which serious discussion may provide a remedy. These problems are to be proposed by the teachers. (Example: what common courtesies are expected in every day school life?)

Third, the presentation of new ideas for which group approval is necessary; so that all may have a voice in the establishment of new student policies. (Example: discussion pro and con of the class ring vs. school ring question.)

News of Former Residents

At the Hedgerow Theatre

The week's bill of plays at Hedgerow Theatre offers a wide choice from fantasy and travesty on the one hand to comedy and tragedy on the other.

"The Devil's Disciple," Shaw's melodrama about Puritans in the early days of the American Revolution, will be presented tonight, Friday, October 23. This Shawian drama concerning conventions and prejudices might be deciphered to show that a clergyman can prove himself under stress to be first a human being; and an American "savag" can be heroic under duress. Alfred Rowe, Rose Henley, Ferd Nofor and Jay Davis have important roles.

"Getting Married," Shaw's gay, bantering indictment of the civil rights of marriage and divorce, with a sophisticated study of the characters concerned, is billed for Saturday, October 24. Eleanor Wilson, Harvey Welch, Betty Fuller, David Metcalf, Mabel Sheppard and Miriam Phillips have important roles.

After an absence from the repertoire of over three years, "Cast Up by the Sea," the Leacock-Farmer travesty on the melodramas of a past generation, will be re-entered on the schedule on Monday, October 25. It tends to excite laughter by its extravagant rendition of incidental ballads and recitations and other specialties. Prominent in a cast of about a dozen characters are Nancy Kelsey, Joseph Leberman, Ferd Nofor, and Miriam Phillips. "Cast Up by the Sea" will be repeated on Saturday, October 31.

The French fantasy, "The Anchor's Weighed" is shot through with youth and its dreams. Through their fertile imaginations the twins, Jean and Jeanne, are enabled to carry on as life brings its disillusionments. David Metcalf and Patricia Murray are the twins—Tuesday, Oct. 27. "One Way to Heaven," a drama of contemporary Harlem, will be repeated on Wednesday, October 28. Its author is Countess Cullen, negro poet.

UNDERGROUND RAILROAD

W. H. T. S. THIS ?

In the days before the Civil War many people in this region were organized in a secret enterprise—the "Underground Railroad." Their purpose was to aid negroes who were fleeing to freedom in the North and Canada.

Scattered along the roads that led northward were the "stations" of the "Railroad" . . . homes of ardent abolitionists. Here, under cover of darkness, fugitives were received and housed. Disguised in costume, they would be taken by wagon to the next stop, about 10 miles distant.

The northern route through Chester and Montgomery Counties was fed from Kennett Square and Wilmington, Delaware. From here it went to Harrisburg and, by the Susquehanna Valley, to New York State and Canada.

History tells us that one Enoch Lewis once sent his eldest son to Nixen's factory on Pickering Creek with a load of wool in a horse cart, and a colored woman and her children packed in behind the wool.

Much historic action has taken place in the region about Philadelphia. This is the territory today served with the purest, safest, most dependable water available.

In money alone there would be a saving of at least $100,000,000 annually to industry if correct sight conditions were provided for workers. This does not take into account highway lighting—where enormous savings in life, suffering and money are easily possible.

Ann Bonsall and Anne Warren, Swarthmore Hockey Fullbacks This Fall

Miss Ann Bonsall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Bonsall, Jr., of Cornell Avenue, has been chosen as a left fullback on the varsity hockey squad at Swarthmore College.

Miss Ann Bonsall has for the past three years attended Wooster College, Wooster, Ohio, from which she transferred this fall. She was graduated from Swarthmore High School, and was a prominent figure in sports there, playing on the varsity hockey team for two years, and on the varsity basketball team for three years. She was also associate editor of the school paper, The Garnet, and belonged to the school Dramatic Club. She has limited her extracurricular activities at Swarthmore to sports.

Miss Anne B. Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis V. Warren, of Walnut Lane, was also chosen to play fullback on the varsity hockey team at the College this fall.

Miss Warren was graduated from George School, where she was very active in sports. She was also a member of the Glee Club at school, and took part in two operettas given by the Glee Club.

News of Former Residents

Recent news from Mill Valley, Cal., will be of interest to the Swarthmore friends and former neighbors of Mrs. F. W. Paterson and family, who lived at 8 College Avenue until a couple of years ago when they removed to Marin County, Mill Valley.

Names of various members of the Paterson family appear in different places in the September 25 issue of the Mill Valley Record-Tribune-Belvedere Record. In the news notes we see that Mrs. Paterson has just left for a ten-day stay at Carmel, Del Monte, and Monterey; that she entertained three former school friends from San Francisco on the previous Wednesday; that she entertained about thirty young people at a surprise party for her son, Bill, on September 19, and that Patsy Paterson is a member of a group of young people from the Mill Valley Community church who will serve as messengers covering the grounds at the old Kent mansion (when it is opened to the public for the first time) at the 33rd Annual Grape Festival on the 26th gathering bits of news for the radio which will present music and bits of intimate gossip.

A letter received recently by a Swarthmore friend reveals even more of the life and changes in the Paterson family since they have been in California. Bill attends the Marion Junior assembly and is now half a head taller than his mother. He is seventeen and an honor student at high school and will go to college (probably the University of California) in one and a half years. Mrs. Paterson says although the children missed their Swarthmore friends so sadly at first that they didn't enter the life there with much enthusiasm, Patsy is quite as popular here as she was here. Six months after her arrival she was chosen Queen of the May. She is thirteen years old and will go to high school at Christmas, having skipped a grade since she went to California. A few weeks ago she was elected president at the school by a large vote over boy candidates for the office.

Jane, the youngest, now nine was the loneliest in overcoming her sadness at leaving Swarthmore, but has finally become acclimated in her new home although Mrs. Paterson says they would all move back to Swarthmore if she said a word.

Mrs. Paterson's letter also contains a description of the beautiful gardens, flowers, and homes which she saw on her visit to Carmel, Del Monte, and Monterey.

PUPIL GUIDANCE PLAN AT SCHOOL

The plan of the Teachers' Committee on Pupil Guidance was presented to the pupils of the Swarthmore High School last Monday morning by J. A. Christian, chairman of the committee. The plan proposes more attention to the individual and collective problems growing out of pupils' experiences than has heretofore been the case.

Briefly the committee has decided to undertake that type of guidance for which the committee and the faculty is perhaps best adapted. Individual guidance will be attempted through personal conferences at specified times and places, so that the individual student will have the opportunity to talk over privately and confidentially, with a teacher who does not have him for class work, any of his problems in or out of school life. Through these conferences, conducted by members of the committee, it is hoped to establish a more intimate relationship between student and teacher, and to make available to the student personal advice and help not colored by classroom relationships.

"We feel that there are many problems," said Mr. Christian, "which young people do not feel free to discuss with their parents or teachers, but for which they would like the advice and experience of an older friend. It is in this and only this capacity that faculty members conducting such conferences wish to serve. Time and places for such conferences will be announced later."

Specifically the conferences might deal with personality clashes in or out of school, scholastic difficulties, ethical or etiquette problems, social adjustments, general health advice, advice regarding further training, aid in getting jobs after graduation, hobby suggestions, etc. It is anticipated that only a small percentage of the student body will need or want individual conferences. Some will want to come, some will be made to come, but in either event their numbers will be limited.

Group guidance will be conducted in the homeroom meeting where the chairman will lead charge of discussion groups during the half hour period allotted for them. After giving precedence to organization, class, or necessary business meetings, these periods will be spent in taking under advisement three general types of problems as follows:

First, those problems of Swarthmore High School life of which the student body is aware and for which serious discussion may provide a remedy. (Example: how to hold entertainments, dances, etc., so that all would feel free to take an active part.)

Second, those problems of Swarthmore High School life for which serious discussion will provide a remedy. These problems are to be proposed by the teachers. (Example: what common courtesies are expected in every day discussion of new ideas for which group approval is necessary; so that all may have a voice in the establishment of new student policies. (Example: discussion pro and con of the class ring vs. school ring question.)

Soccer Team in Scoreless Tie

Last Tuesday's soccer game between Swarthmore High and Haverford on the home field ended when both teams were unable to score, leaving a 0-0 record. The next game, with Upper Darby next Tuesday, will also be played at Swarthmore.

College Losses 14-6

Like the local high school, Swarthmore College's initial victory of this football season was short-lived. In a bit too powerful Hampton-Sydney team defeated the Garnet boys, 14-6, on their own field last Saturday afternoon. Tomorrow the game with Dickinson will be at Carlisle, but another home game will be played on October 14, it is hoped. Day, when the opposition will be furnished by Hamilton.

Junior Art Section Meets

A meeting of the Art Section of the Junior Art Club was held on Tuesday evening at the home of the chairman, Mrs. William F. Cline, of Park Avenue. Topics for the year were discussed and it was decided to select the history of furniture as the basis of talks. Visits to museums and antique shops will be made.

At International Hockey Meet

On Wednesday afternoon over one hundred Swarthmore High School hockey players traveled by bus to attend the International Hockey matches, held at the Philadelphia Cricket Club. They were accompanied by Miss Virginia Allen, director of physical education, and several parents. Participating in these matches were picked hockey teams from England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, South Africa, Australia, and the United States. This group is touring the United States, playing exhibition games. These international games are held every three years in different countries, the last meeting having been in Copenhagen in 1943. Inaugurated to foster good friendship between women of the various countries, the games have been most successful in this respect.

Huge Cast in "Anthony Adverse"

The most difficult picture to cast in all the history of Hollywood was "Anthony Adverse" the Warner Bros. production which comes to the Manor Theatre on Monday for three days. Six hundred and twelve players were given photographic and dialogue tests.

Another 109 players were considered for various roles and discarded for one reason or another.

Mervyn LeRoy, who directed the picture, realized at the outset that casting would be one of the biggest problems that the 450,000 word novel presented.

Peasants, courtiers, professional men, actors, singers, soldiers, sea captains, clerics, men and women in every walk of life, form this highly diversified cast of characters.

French, English, Italian, African, Arabian, Spanish, Cuban and Scotch are represented, not as atmosphere, but with speaking parts. "Anthony Adverse" is a dynamic production, filmed on a colossal scale from the famous novel by Hervey Allen. Freddie March has the stellar role while others in the cast include Olivia de Havilland, Louise Lumsden, Claude Rains, Anita Louise, Louis Hayward, Gale Sondergaard, Billy Mauch, Donald Woods and Henry O'Neill.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK OPENS SUNDAY

Local Director Voices Reminder of Delaware County Tuberculosis Association's Work

"In observing Girl Scout Week, October 25-31, parents, teachers and scout leaders need to remember that tuberculosis continues in first place as a destroyer of the lives of young women from 15 to 25 years of age."

This timely reminder was voiced today by Miss Virginia R. Hughes, local Director of Girl Scouts for the Philadelphia District, in referring to the effort of the Delaware County Tuberculosis Association to protect the health of the younger generation.

"In Pennsylvania last year 16.5 per cent of the tuberculosis deaths occurred between 15 and 24, inclusive," continued Miss Hughes. "In this group, from age 20 to 25, three girls to every two boys were killed by the disease, while from 15 to 20 of the deaths from the same cause among girls were twice as many as among boys."

"The wasting of so many young lives is one of the pressing problems for our community under the leadership of the Tuberculosis Society. The first Christmas Seals were sold to help in the work of the Green Room Club of Franklin and Marshall College."

"The efforts of the community and of the school should be adapted to the health requirements of the child. It is foolish to wait until a child has become sick or debilitated before providing health safeguards and needs. Prevention is always better than cure."

"The health measures for the undernourished and sickly child have brought about greatly improved provisions for all children. Through thirty years the Christmas Seal has stood in the forefront of a great movement to protect and maintain the health of our children."

To Resurvey Swarthmore Streets

Authorization of a WPA project to resurvey borough streets has been received at the office of the Borough Secretary, Elliott Richardson, who expects the work will begin within the next week or two.

College Chrysanthemums To Be Shown in New York

A large selection of the best chrysanthemums from the various varieties on the Swarthmore College campus will be exhibited under the auspices of the Arthur Hoyt Scott Horticultural Foundation at the New York Flower Show on November 10-12.

This collection is one of the largest in the country. The main bed, which is south of College Avenue near North and Bond Halls, contains over two hundred varieties carefully chosen from the best known nurseries in this country. In previous years these chrysanthemums have been exhibited at flower shows in Philadelphia and its suburbs, and before the American Chrysanthemum Society meeting in Washington, D. C.

New Professors for Wildcliff

Announcement has been made of the appointment of three new professors at Wildcliff Junior College. Additions to the faculty of The Mary Lyon School which opened its twenty-fourth year were also announced.

Dr. Charles E. Werner, who received his doctorate in German at the University of Pennsylvania, is a new professor in modern languages.

Dr. Arnold Bennett, new professor of English and contemporary history, is the recipient of degrees from Yale University.

The author of books and articles on the United States Constitution, he will offer courses in political science, international relations and labor problems.

Mrs. Helen James, who received her master's degree from the University of Wisconsin, will offer courses in the history of the drama, play writing, and creative writing.

Mrs. Florence Temple, head of the English department in the Mary Lyon School, will offer a course in modern poetry in Wildcliff this year.

Miss Nancy Riddle, a graduate of the Sargent School of Physical Education at Cambridge, Mass., will have charge of the physical education work in both school and college and coach the athletic teams.

Miss Ruth Yates, M. A., Smith College, will teach history and English in the junior school of Mary Lyon.

A new course in merchandising will be offered by a series of lectures by visiting instructors during the winter, who will lecture on their particular fields.

INTERIOR DECORATING CLASS AT WORK

Redecoration of Rooms at School Practical Project of Local Pupils

The privilege of witnessing a demonstration on upholstery was the unique opportunity of the interior decorating class of the Swarthmore High School recently. Mr. William G. McDermott, an upholsterer from Chester, showed and explained to the girls of the class methods of cutting and stitching slip covers.

Mr. McDermott used the school sofa, and taking a large piece of blue pebble cloth, cut it into appropriate sections to fit the sofa. He then pinned these sections, forming one piece. As he worked he lectured upon the methods and processes. At the end of the hour he left things so arranged that the girls of the class can and will finish the work of basing and stitching.

This class is one of the most active in the school at the present time, taking as practical projects for study the redecoration of certain rooms. The women's faculty room is newly being redecorated, and when finished, the class will exert its efforts upon the men's faculty room. Already the living room of the Homemaking Department is nearing completion, having been repainted and refurnished. In addition they are sanding and revarnishing the seven sewing machines. The lined and pleated drapes which they have finished have been regarded as being almost of professional excellence.

The class is undertaking these projects because it is agreed that the best way to learn is to do, and under the guidance of Miss Mabel Ewing, the teacher, they are exhibiting real skill and excellent taste.

Haseltine College Actor

Fred Haseltine, of Rutledge, has been chosen to portray the role of Tallent in the play "The Late Christopher Bean," by Sidney Howard, which will be given by the Green Room Club of Franklin and Marshall College.

The Green Room Club is a dramatic organization under the direction of Professor Darrell Larson, instructor of public speaking and dramatic art. The club has produced many smashing hits in the past several years.

Haseltine distinguished himself as a fine performer in the plays given last season. He took part in the three performances given by the club in that year.

Haseltine is a graduate of Swarthmore High School, class of 1935, where he was prominent in dramatics and sports.

Current S. P. C. A. Report

At the October meeting of the Delaware County Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Media it was shown that 28 complaints of cruelty were handled during September, involving 48 animals. One deer-horse was humanely killed, and three motorists fined for injuring and deserting dogs and a horse. Six hundred and sixty-six small animals were cared for by the Rescue Department, new homes secured for 32, and 5 lost dogs restored. Since the first of this year the Society has rescued 604 unwanted animals, an increase of almost 500 more than during the same period last year. Three new grave lots were taken at the cemetery by owners for burial of pets. The humane education committee has prepared interesting talks on Kindness to Animals for school work this year, with illustrated slides. Nineteen residents have become life members of the Society. Handsome new uniforms have been ordered for distribution to junior members.

Football and Soccer Games at 150th Anniv. at Upper Darby

As a special feature of the Miracle of Process celebration in Upper Darby, the committee, with the co-operation of the borough and school officials, has succeeded in arranging an unusual event for the afternoon of Thursday, October 29.

On that date the Upper Darby High School football team will play the Media High School football team at the Upper Darby High School Football Field, the game starting at 2:15 P. M. Both schools have arranged to dismiss the students in time to attend the game and each pupil is being encouraged to bring with him some member of the family.

In addition to the above the Upper Darby High School soccer team will play the Lower Merion High School team. This game will start at 3:15 P. M. The starting time of the games have been arranged so that spectators may see the first half of the soccer game during the intermission between the halves of the football game and then they may see the second half of the soccer game after the football game.

Bands from both schools will be present in addition to the entire student bodies, cheer leaders, and everything that goes to make for a wonderful afternoon.

Needless Martyrs...

MORE than 100,000 persons were killed last year, through accidents, in this country. In industry alone, at least five per cent of these accidents—one in twenty—were directly due to faulty illumination. The National Safety Council found that, indirectly, poor visibility caused a much larger share.

In money alone there would be a saving of at least $100,000,000 annually to industry if correct sight conditions were provided for workers. This does not take into account highway lighting—where enormous savings in life, suffering and money are easily possible.

With increased emphasis on safety, public officials and the management of private industry are turning more and more to the basic remedy—LIGHT!

At the Hedgerow Theatre

The week's bill of plays at Hedgerow Theatre offers a wide choice from fantasy and travesty on the one hand to comedy and tragedy on the other.

"The Devil's Disciple." Shaw's melodrama about Puritans in the early days of the American Revolution, will be presented tonight, Friday, October 23. This Shavian drama concerning conventions and prejudices might be deciphered to show that a clergyman can prove himself under stress to be first a human being, and an American "swag." can be heroic under duress. Alfred Row, Rose Henley, Ferd Nofer and Jay Davis have important roles.

"Getting Married." Shaw's say, bantering indictment of the civil rights of marriage and divorce with a sophisticated study of the characters concerned, is billed for Saturday, October 24. Eleanore Wilson, Harvey Welch, Betty Fuller, David Metcalf, Mabel Sheppard and Miriam Phillips have important roles.

After an absence from the repertory of over three years, "Cast Up by the Sea," the Leacock-Farmer travesty on the melodramas of a past generation, will be re-entered on the schedule on Monday, October 26. It tends to excite laughter by its extravagant rendition of incidental ballads and recitations and other specialties. Prominent in a cast of about a dozen characters are Nancy Kelsey, Joseph Leberman, Ferd Nofer, and Miriam Phillips. "Cast Up by the Sea" will be repeated on Saturday, October 31.

The French fantasy, "The Anchor's Weighed," is shot through with youth and its dreams. Through their fertile imaginations the twins, Jean and Jeanne, are enabled to carry on as life brings its disillusionments. David Metcalf and Patricia Murray are the twins—Tuesday, Oct. 27. "One Way to Heaven," a drama of contemporary Harlem, will be repeated on Wednesday, October 28. Its author is Countess Cullen, negro poet.

WOMEN HEAR TALK ON WEDGEWOODS

Art Section Gives Program at Club; John Wister to Speak on Shrubs at College

The members and friends of the Women's Club of Swarthmore were delighted and entertained at the regular meeting on Tuesday, Eleanor Schofield Fawcett, in her piano recital, played Prelude by Arthur Whiting, an American composer, Chant d'Amour by Stojewski, and Caprice Espagnol by Moszkowski, with consummate skill and beauty. Mrs. Fawcett's faultless execution and authority make her a great favorite.

Mrs. James Bertram Hervey, state chairman of art, and vice-chairman of art, gave a fascinating talk on "Sarah and Josiah Wedgwood." There is one of the greatest love stories of the world. Josiah, lame and unprosperous in appearance as the result of small pox, labored for fifteen years in order to match her wealth, found for powder, for she was the daughter of a Cheshire cheese monger, while he was an apprenticed potter.

Experimenting with glazes and with crushed stone, Josiah Wedgwood evolved the pottery which has a delicacy of line which sets it above all imitators and competitors. The time was ripe for an ambitious and imaginative potter to succeed, too, for individual dinner plates were just coming into use among the middle classes.

Sarah and Josiah Wedgwood founded the art colony of Etruria in order to forward the culture of the Etruscans. Here Queensware was made and the Wedgwood pottery achieved great fame at the time of the American Revolution and subsequently.

Mrs. Hervey brought some rare and unusual pieces of Wedgwood which, with those brought by members of the Club, were discussed at the conclusion of the talk. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Henry Peirso, chairman of art, and co-chairman of the Circulating Picture Club of Delaware County. Mrs. William E. Kistler, county chairman of Fine Arts, and Mrs. Stanley L. MacMillan were hostesses.

On Tuesday, October 27, the Garden Section, Mrs. Earle P. Yerkes, chairman, will have charge of the meeting. John C. Wister, secretary of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, will speak on "The Development of Trees, Shrubs, and Flowers at Swarthmore College." Mrs. Arthur R. O. Redgrave and Mrs. Dana Bigelow will be hostesses. Mrs. Roland G. E. Ullman, president, will give the high lights of the Herald-Tribune Forum on Current Events.

The Delaware County Federation of Women's Clubs will meet Thursday, October 29, at 10:30 A. M. at the Haverton Township High School. Dr. Anna L. Lingebach, state chairman of International Relations, will be the principal speaker in the afternoon.

Club members who are interested in the formation of French classes, both beginning and advanced, are urged to notify Mrs. Ullman before the last of the month.

DEADLINE WEDNESDAY

It seems we must appeal again for the co-operation of those desiring items published in this paper.

Some time ago we printed a notice clearly stating all copy for both news and advertising must be in The Swarthmore office before 3:30 P. M. Wednesday (if typed) for publication in that week's issue. If the material is not typed it must reach the office before noon on that day.

Many telephone calls and last minute pleas on Thursday morning still persist and are a cause of critical confusion and delay necessary application and haste at a time which is already hectic. The drastic measure of refusing everything Thursday morning is being forced upon us.

The only exception to this rule is when an event occurs on Wednesday evening and arrangements have been made in advance with the office for its acceptance the next morning, in which case the copy must arrive before 9:30 A. M. and be typewritten or printed or in handwriting which is CLEARLY and easily legible.

Please let us have your co-operation. We appreciate your news and urge you to bring it to our attention always, we shall continue to publish it to the best of our ability, but we must do away with the untold rush on Thursday morning when we go to press.

FRIENDLY CIRCLE IN OCTOBER MEETING

Local Organization Bereaved by Deaths of Two Active Members This Month

Mrs. Julius Underwood, with Mrs. E. D. Brauns as co-hostesses, entertained the Friendly Circle at her home in Wallingford Hills last Thursday afternoon. As the president, Mrs. T. Harry Brown, opened the meeting, she asked for a few minutes of silence in memory of Mrs. Bernard Isfort and Mrs. Ivy Muehring, who have passed on since the last meeting. Mrs. Isfort was a charter member, and acted as secretary for four years for the Circle.

After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, reports from the various committees were received. Miss Vera DeMutt, chairman of the Sewing Committee, reported sewing for the Health Center and ten dresses, ten blankets and two gertudes ready for the Needlework Guild collection.

It was voted, in reply to a request from the Health Center, to supply new frames and a change in glasses for the "mirror reading" child the Circle has helped in the past. Work for an unemployed man and a puppy for an invalid child were other requests which were presented to the members.

Interest was invited in a card party to be held in the Women's Clubhouse on the evening of November 9. Mrs. J. Harlan Jessup is chairman. Mrs. J. E. Snyder is in charge of tickets; Mrs. Dwight Cooley, of tables; Mrs. E. D. Brauns, of refreshments.

The annual Silver Tea, at the home of Miss Mae Lynd, will be held on the afternoon of November 20. A social hour followed the business meeting.

RUBINOW IN THIRD ECONOMICS LECTURE

Patrick Malin to Deliver Fourth Talk of Series at Friends' Meeting House Sunday

"The N. R. A. was not composed of codes of labor protection, but of codes of fair competition; there was no guarantee of the rights of labor until they were written by the Department of Labor," stated Raymond I. Rubinow, in his lecture on "Labor" Sunday evening in the Swarthmore Friends' Meeting House.

Mr. Rubinow, who was a member of the staff of the labor advisory board for two years, was the third of five members of the economics department of Swarthmore College to speak on "The Economic Issues of the Campaign." Patrick Murphy Malin will discuss "Banks, Debt, and Taxation" next Sunday evening.

"The N. R. A. has become a big issue in the campaign," he said, "left a 'because of conflicting statements on the part of President Roosevelt, his son James, and Miss Perkins; Governor Landon calls for a statement from the President as to the stand he takes, but the Democratic candidate refuses to answer.'"

Although labor was not enthusiastic about the N. R. A., Mr. Rubinow believes that it would favor the re-establishment of new codes with the qualification of more participation in the drafting of the new agreements. The enthusiasm which labor showed for the minimum wages, maximum hours, and Section 7a of the N. R. A. soon waned when it found out that its benefits were not as great as it has been led to believe.

"Although there are warring camps within the group, the American Federation of Labor voices the opinion of organized labor," Mr. Rubinow said in discussing Samuel Gompers, the first president of the A. F. of L. "Gompers," he said, "left a strategic plan on American labor which is only today being thrown aside. . . . The federation is trying to remold American unionism to present-day economic forces."

Mr. Rubinow read selections which concerned labor from a summary of the platforms of the various parties compiled by Robert C. Brooks, professor of political science. The first divergence between the platforms of the Republican and Democratic parties stressed by the speaker concerned the constitutionality of "The Republicans," he said, "had planned to bring about their ideal conditions of maximum hour and minimum wage laws within the Constitution as it now stands; but Governor Landon stipulated in a telegram that if necessary, he would resort to constitutional amendment to insure these conditions."

"The Democrats," said Mr. Rubinow, "will also amend the Constitution in case the legislature will pass such a bill, but that if necessary, he would resort to constitutional amendment to insure these conditions." Mr. Rubinow was inclined to agree with the estimate of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, that 90 per cent of labor is behind Roosevelt.

In discussing the approach of the two candidates to the vote of the automobile industry, Mr. Rubinow stated that President Roosevelt holds a stronger position than Mr. Landon because "he recognized the difficulties of the industry, rather than commending the workers for resisting the N. R. A."

Mr. Rubinow was inclined to agree with the estimate of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, that 90 per cent of labor is behind Roosevelt.

PLAYERS CLUB TO OPEN NEXT TUESDAY

J. J. Gould and A. F. Jackson Co-Directing First Production of Season, "Fanny's First Play"

George Bernard Shaw's light comedy, "Fanny's First Play," under the direction of J. J. Gould, will open the twenty-sixth consecutive season of the Swarthmore Players Club next Tuesday night, November 3.

Heading the imposing array of famous plays he has directed in ten years, Gould and Dr. A. F. Jackson, who is assisting him, are expected to develop a production that will set a standard for the other directors of the club to follow.

"Fanny's First Play," built around an aesthetic Irishman who refuses to accept the changes in living wrought by the machine age, and his "schooling at Cambridge" daughter, develops many amusing situations handled in typical Shaw style, satirizing twentieth century customs and life. It is the first of Shaw's plays to be attempted by the Club.

The cast selected by Mr. Gould for the first play he has directed in ten years, consists of a group of veteran and capable actors. Charles T. Deacon will play the role of the eccentric Count O'Dowda and "Fanny" will be played by Ruth Ann Sang-DeWitt. C. Clement will appear as Jugias, and John Dineen in the role of Bobby Gilroy. The famous quartette of London critics will be Stafford W. Parker, John R. Brownell, J. William Simmons and Robert Gilliland, Jr. Samuel Evans, Jr., will appear as Cecil Saweyard and William Whitney will play Mr. Knox. Jessie L. Lewis and Elizabeth Mac Roberts will be Mrs. Gilbey and Mrs. Knox respectively, while Joshua Christian will be seen in the role of Mr. Gilbey. The part of Margaret will be in the hands of Alice E. Jones and Carol Cleaver will play the famous part of "Daphne Deane." T. Lawson Slough as Lieutenant Duvalier, of the French Navy, and Morris E. Smith as the footman, complete the cast.

JOHN C. WISTER AT CLUB LAST THURSDAY

Planting at Swarthmore College Under Arthur Hoyt Scott Foundation Described

The development of trees, shrubs and flowers at Swarthmore College was the subject of a discourse by John C. Wister, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, at the October 27 meeting of the Women's Club at the Clubhouse on Park Avenue.

Mrs. Earl P. Yerkes, chairman of the garden committee, introduced Mr. Wister, who has been with the Scott Foundation for six years. After explaining the Scott Foundation, with which most Swarthmoreans are familiar, as a gift made by the wife of Arthur Scott, a graduate of the class of 1895 of Swarthmore College, in his memory, to be used to put into practice one of Mr. Scott's cherished ideals—that of giving college students a chance to appreciate beauty as well as books and classical training. Mr. Wister described in a most fascinating manner the planting now being done on the college property. The first permanent planting in 1931 was the lovely lilacs leading up to the Friends' Meeting House, which many people have already enjoyed. The audience was able to visualize the plans of the foundation, and to appreciate with the speaker the lovely border of flowering shrubs leading from Chester Road to the Pennsylvania Railroad station; the dahlias, iris, peonies, chrysanthemums, etc., already blooming profusely in their respective months; the great collection of evergreens consisting of eight families near the fraternity houses, the thirty-five varieties of Japanese cherries, the flowering crabapples presenting a range of color from white to scarlet, the large magnolia collection (a gift from the Highland Park in Rochester), which promises in fifty years to be the high-light of the planting, and probably one of the two finest collections in America.

The Crum Creek woods, which has been transformed into a beautiful park in the past three years, came in for its share of description. Different sections of this wood are devoted to plants native to Delaware County, plants of other counties of Pennsylvania, plants native to other states and finally, plants native to other parts of the world. It is interesting to know that in nurseries on the campus plants are being grown for the future, and experimentation is being carried on whereby artificial light instead of sunlight is used.

Harry Wood, the college gardener, was highly praised by the speaker for his share in this work. The audience learned many gardening truths, such as to save money upon plants rather than soil fertilization and when home intending to accept the cordial invitation of the college to attend Founders' Day on Saturday, October 31, and to see for themselves this project which will eventually establish the Swarthmore College campus as one of the most beautiful in the country.

Preceding the speaker, the president, Mrs. Roland G. E. Ullman, gave a report of the Sixth Annual Forum held by the New York Herald-Tribune, which she and Mrs. Alfred Gray White attended as delegates for the Club. In her always entertaining style, she outlined the first day's program of the forum, which turned principally on "The New Way of Living." The theme thought in this program may be summarized as "Keep pace with the advance of Science—don't let it get a hundred years ahead of our thinking." Mrs. White gave the highlights of the second day's program, devoted principally to the political situation and the seven candidates for the Presidency of the United States.

Benjamin A. Israel

During the eight years he lived in Swarthmore he became known to the many friends of his son, who is city editor of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Private funeral services were held in Philadelphia on Monday.

Nearly Three Thousand Garments in 1936 Display at Women's Club House Last Week

The Swarthmore Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, under the direction of Mrs. William H. West, president, has again completed a satisfactory year marked by an increase of new garments collected. Two thousand, eight hundred and seventy-six new articles of wearing apparel and household linen were gathered in the Women's Club House last Wednesday, bettering the count of last year by two hundred and forty-one garments. Mrs. Charles A. Bunting, treasurer, reports over ninety dollars received from money members.

This is used to defray the small expense of mailing a few of the bags to more distant charities; the remainder goes to the national office in Philadelphia, where it is used for expansion, literature and clerical work.

The Needlework Guild is an organization which supplements charitable work which is being done, never supplants nor supercedes existing charities. Founded in England in 1882, by Lady Wolverton, the idea was brought to America in 1885 when the Needlework Guild of America was founded in Philadelphia by Mrs. John Wood Stewart, the former Laura Safford. Now the Guild is international in scope, with branches not only in England and the United States, but also in Canada, Scotland, Paris, Lyons, Panama and Honolulu.

The local officers and directors wish to thank the Swarthmoreans who contributed so generously to the success of this year's project. Much interest was shown, judging by the larger number of residents who came to see the exhibit. Tea was served by Mrs. Benjamin Collins and Mrs. Ellwood Garrett.

The directors also desire to express their appreciation to the borough merchants who co-operate so generously and efficiently in this charity; particularly to Miss Marsh and Mr. Buchner; to the Noyes Real Estate office for window space, and to the SWARTHMOREAN for publicity.

The Guild was delighted with the interest shown by the Girl Scouts of Rutledge, who, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Martin, of Linden Avenue, made part of a layette, the requisite number of garments to qualify as a director.

Home's Redheaver will sing one of the favorite hymns of which she was author, "Good Night and Good Morning," at the services which will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Presbyterian Church. Dr. John Elieley Tuttle, former pastor of the church, will officiate. The body will be on view for one hour before the service and Benjamin L. Kneeler, organist, will play selections from Mrs. DeArmond's hymns for fifteen minutes prior to the service. Homer Redheaver Company, Philadelphia, has just accepted a new hymn which she wrote, one week before her death, "The Same Wonderful Saviour."

Ella Lewis

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Oliver Bair's, Philadelphia, for Miss Ella Lewis, who died Sunday, October 25, at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whitecar, Sr., at Swarthmore Avenue and Cresson Lane. She was seventy-five years old. Interment was at Arlington Cemetery, Drexel Hill.

Miss Lewis came from old Quaker stock in Bucks County, Pa., and in 1903 purchased the first house Carroll Thayer built in this Borough, 302 Cornell Avenue, becoming a resident of Swarthmore even before Mr. Thayer. Five years ago she retired from her position with Buek and Company, Philadelphia, with which firm she had been connected for about forty years.

Mrs. L. M. Clevenger

The Swarthmore friends of Mrs. L. M. Clevenger, of Wallingford, will be sad to learn of her death on Tuesday afternoon, October 27, after a short illness. Before her marriage she was Edith H. Black and lived in Swarthmore until that time.

Besides her husband and six children, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Clarence Hannum, and a brother, Charles Black, both of Swarthmore. Services were held at her late residence last night.

Exhibition of Historic Antique Reproductions
A rare treat is in store for Swarthmoreans interested in the latest trends in home planning, furnishing and decoration.

With the co-operation of the General Electric Company, of Schenectady, N. Y., of John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, of Art in Industry, of New York City, and of William E. Witham, the latest home completed in Wallingford Hills is to be open for exhibition every day and evening throughout November.

This exhibit will have the two-fold purpose of demonstrating the new philosophy of home planning and the latest ideas in appropriate decoration and furnishing a home in harmony with its architectural type. Interest in this coming event is widespread.

After considerable research, in its customary thoroughgoing manner, the General Electric Company held a nation-wide competition in which some twenty thousand architects and designers participated. From their offerings and suggestions a new philosophy of home planning and design resulted.

In simplest terms this is stated as "a house planned from the inside-out," emphasizing utility, comfort, convenience, economy and beauty. Regardless of exterior style, it must incorporate the "Four Essentials of Modern Home Design and Construction." Any house built according to this code is designated a "New American" Home.

As a matter of local interest, the "New American" Home in Wallingford Hills had been planned and virtually completed when the General Electric Company learned of it and immediately endorsed it as an outstanding example of their new planning and construction code. It probably is unique among all the hundreds of thousands of "colonial" homes the country over. For it has a stamp of individualism seldom found in modest homes of moderate cost, yet substantial construction and adequate environment. There is a surprise in every room—even the bath rooms and basement.

And realizing that there is just as much interest in properly furnishing a home as there is in its planning and building, the co-operation of John Wanamaker was arranged to insure the best interior treatment procurable. In turn, Art in Industry, of New York City, was called in, together with some of the best furniture sources of the country, and engaged to make an individual study of this house and recommend appropriate decoration and furnishing.

It will be most interesting to observe the reactions of visitors to some of the ideas that have been developed recently. First impressions may startle; final judgment may be divided. Yet, little adverse criticism, if any, is anticipated of the faithful reproductions of authentic Colonial pieces, all clearly identified, that will be found in this remarkable collection.—Advertisement.

WHEW! SOME MAN!

G-men should have no difficulty in locating the fellow who broke into the local post office recently after the description of him which was printed in last week's SWARTHMOREAN, stating he was, among other things, "nine foot, seven inches in height."

How did he get that way? Well, one prominent local authority quickly pronounced, "He must have been fed on the New Deal pork barrel."

Several of the world's leading circus companies are waving contracts under the noses of local police and government inspectors, impatient to have this person of heightened importance sign on the dotted line. They are assisted in their co-operation with the investigators by scientists from far and wide who are anxious to determine just whether it was the pork barrel or not.

NOTICES OMISSION

The Republican display opposite Borough Hall is most instructive and inspiring. It cannot help but to convert the wavering.

A MOTHER SPEAKS

Through these columns I should like to remind the intelligent voters of this community who think it wise to vote the Democratic ticket on November 3 on account of theoretically upholding the old ideas of conservative Democrats that if they vote for President Roosevelt they are endorsing views which are contradictory to the best interest of American ideals.

CHOOSE YOUR POISON

The spirit of liberty comes from God, the source of all good. It is not changed, nor does it exist in Fascism, Bolshevism, Socialism, Republicanism, Conservatism, etc. All these can and do often degenerate to the lowest grade of demagoguery, a trail of human nature and supported by lies and selfishness. Out of these grows a partisan spirit miscalled patriotism, but in reality it is the spirit of a mob, senseless and bigoted.

This so-called patriotism, strong in ignorance and bigotry, vents itself in parades in which the bare and noise hide the tentacles of graft and corruption. Ignorance of the great and mighty power which the people of the United States have in themselves, allows them to be led around and handled by the goad of the boss. Just now the nation is sick, and to heal this sickness, the Democrats and Republicans, rival political physicians, are each offering a dose of poison made up of blab-blah and gang politics.

Several of the world's leading circus companies are waving contracts under the noses of local police and government inspectors, impatient to have this person of heightened importance sign on the dotted line. They are assisted in their co-operation with the investigators by scientists from far and wide who are anxious to determine just whether it was the pork barrel or not.

A WORLD-FIGURE PASSES

Swarthmore's most modest resident—and also the one with the widest outreach—has gone from us, in the death of Mrs. Lizzie DeArmond. Repeatedly, during her life, I took occasion to pay tribute to her, in print and in our local gatherings, and always she was overcome with embarrassment. She sincerely regarded herself as one of God's little ones; but who amongst us was ever so mighty as she?

Millions upon millions of persons, throughout the whole world, have sung her hymns, translated into many languages. She wrote hundreds of hymns, and continued to write to the very end of her phenomenally long life. To give tongue to one's personality in the lives of countless persons, old and young, and of all races and degrees.

MARY'S PET RECIPE
Lemon Pudding
3 tbs. lemon juice
1 grated lemon rind
1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
3 eggs, well beaten
Sliced bread and butter
1 cup milk
3 tbs. sugar
Pinch salt
Combine the lemon juice, rind and butter and cook, stirring over hot water for about 2 minutes. Add the sugar and eggs and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Cool. Spread the mixture on slices of crustless buttered bread and arrange these in layers in a lightly buttered baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over the bread. Set the baking dish in pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven for 1 hour. Serve with cream—or, if you wish, with a raisin sauce.

partly so good in the candidate of another party, no matter how high his character, we are not going to have good government. I have noticed with disgust the treatment of Roosevelt by political opponents. As I stand on the side-lines, it seems to me that Roosevelt has done his best. I note with the same disgust the abuse heaped on Landon. If the citizens could quietly measure up what the man for whom they will vote represents, irrespective of their happening to belong to either party, our government would soon be in fact, as well as in theory, the finest government ever devised on earth.

There are men running for office whom we know should be in the penitentiary, and some whom we know are utterly unworthy. What shall we do if they are elected? Go to jail with them? No, we must have our appointments. Talk patriotism, nay politics. Work for good—even pray that the unworthy may be given wisdom to see the honorable, true way of living.

Margaret Glenn, C.S.B., Lectures Here
A lecture on Christian Science entitled "Christian Science: The Revelation of Love as Divine Principle" was given Tuesday evening, October 27, in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Swarthmore, by Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, C.S.B., of Boston, Mass., member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Excerpts from the lecture follow: Christian Science brings the comforting assurance to all men that there is a correct solution to every problem, whether the problem be one of human relationship, of sickness, sorrow, lack, temperamental weaknesses, or sin. Jesus proved this fact twenty centuries ago, but because his life and works are looked upon as miraculous or as a personal accomplishment, rather than as the result of Science, humanity in general, and Christianity in particular, have been unable to repeat those works.

Christian Science is based on the Bible, but it does not require that the Bible be accepted simply because it is the Bible, for this blind belief in the Scriptures does not make them understandable nor practical. Christian Science shows that there is a Science of the Scriptures which not only makes plain the events and statements contained therein, but enables us to repeat the works of the prophets, apostles, and Jesus, and to prove for ourselves the great fact brought out in the Bible, namely, that God, good, is all and that evil and materiality are therefore powerless and non-existent.

of the Science of the Scriptures and the scientific religion which Jesus taught, in the following words: "There was never a religion or philosophy lost to the centuries except by sinking its divine Principle in personality. (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 117), and, "The religious departure from divine Science sprang from the belief that the man Jesus, rather than his divine Principle, God saves man, and that medicis medicina heals him" (Ibid., p. 348). In order, then, to solve in a scientific way the many problems which come into the experience of every individual, and to be happy, healthy, intelligent, unlimited, and free, we must understand God as divine Principle.

Isaiah, Zechariah, and Amos perceived and described God's exact, undeviating, absolute nature as Principle when they beheld Him expressed as a plummet or plumbline. Amos describes his concept of God as one with a plumbline in His hand, standing on a wall made by a plumbline, and as saying, "Behold, I will set a plumbline in the midst of my people Israel." That which is plumb is exact, level, true, and a plumbline is used for the measurement of perpendicularity or uprightness. Could Mrs. Eddy have found a better name than Principle to express this undeviating, exact, upright nature of God?

Much has been written within the last few years about the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, for the false impression seems to persist that the Christian Science movement was and is dependent on her personality. As long as the statements in her books can be and are proved to be true, the Christian Science movement will continue, and Mrs. Eddy's place as the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, as well as its Leader, will remain inviolate.

Should anyone care to know the salient events of her life which led her to this discovery and to the founding of this great movement, they will find her autobiography, "Retrospection and Introspection," most inspiring and instructive.

Well, you can't blame the little lady! She likes even home temperature—and who doesn't. But Friend Husband can't seem to get the knack. A wov at the office, he's a dud at providing heat.

Our sympathy goes out to this Mr. and Mrs. They're just like many who fret their way through winter. And they really could enjoy home life to the full—at least as far as temperature is concerned—if they would just turn over a new leaf and have clean, all-efficient, controllable gas heat. Then, they could set the thermostat at the temperature wanted and let the automatic control keep it at this point. We'll install either Janitrol or Welsbach Conversion Burners immediately on a small down payment. Price—$195 cash for either, installed. Slightly higher on budget plan—3 years to pay.

IMPORTANT!

Why One Thoughtful Citizen Has Changed from Roosevelt to Landon

"In 1933, I was for Roosevelt because it seemed that at last we were to have effective action toward alleviating the terrible distress caused by the depression.

"I HAVE CHANGED TO LANDON:

"BECAUSE I have ceased to believe in the sincerity of Roosevelt.
"BECAUSE Roosevelt cannot escape responsibility for the acts of Farley, Hopkins, Tugwell and others.
"BECAUSE millions of unemployables have been created by the bungling, wasteful methods of the WPA.
"BECAUSE of the wreckage of the principle of the Civil Service and the political exploitation of the hunger of millions of needy people.
"BECAUSE of the increasing cost of living, and the increasing burden on all types of business caused by ever-mounting taxation.
"BECAUSE I believe that the power and functions of the Supreme Court must be safeguarded.
"BECAUSE I believe that the centralization of power is becoming a real menace to our institutions.
"BECAUSE I abominate the persecution of people who are opposed to the New Deal.
"BECAUSE I believe Landon to be sincere, courageous, sagacious and fundamentally sound on social, economic and moral issues."

Margaret Glenn, C.S.B., Lectures Here
A lecture on Christian Science entitled "Christian Science: The Revelation of Love as Divine Principle," was given Tuesday evening, October 27, in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Swarthmore, by Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, C.S.B., of Boston, Mass., member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Excerpts from the lecture follow: Christian Science brings the comforting assurance to all men that there is a correct solution to every problem, whether the problem be one of human relationship, of sickness, sorrow, lack, temperamental weaknesses, or sin. Jesus proved this fact twenty centuries ago, but because his life and works are looked upon as miraculous and as a personal accomplishment, rather than as the result of Science, humanity in general, and Christianity in particular, have been unable to repeat those works.

Christian Science is based on the Bible, but it does not require that the Bible be accepted simply because it is the Bible. For this blind belief in the Scriptures does not make them understandable nor practical. Christian Science shows that there is a Science of the Scriptures which not only makes plain the events and statements contained therein, but enables us to repeat the works of the prophets, apostles, and Jesus, and to prove for ourselves the great fact brought out in the Bible, namely, that God, good, is all and that evil and materiality are therefore powerless and nonexistent.

Mrs. Eddy gives the reason for the loss of the Science of the Scriptures and the movement, they will find her autobiography, "Retrospection and Introspection," the most inspiring and instructive.

Well, you can't blame the little lady! She likes even home temperature—and who doesn't. But Friend Husband can't seem to get the knack. A wov at the office, he's a dud at providing heat.

Our sympathy goes out to this Mr. and Mrs. They're just like many who fret their way through winter. And they really could enjoy home life to the full—at least as far as temperature is concerned—if they would just turn over a new leaf and have clean, all-efficient, controllable gas heat. Then, they could set the thermostat at the temperature wanted and let the automatic control keep it at this point. We'll install either Janitrol or Welsbach Conversion Burners immediately on a small down payment. Price—$195 cash for either, installed. Slightly higher on budget plan—3 years to pay.

IMPORTANT!

Why One Thoughtful Citizen Has Changed from Roosevelt to Landon

"In 1933, I was for Roosevelt because it seemed that at last we were to have effective action toward alleviating the terrible distress caused by the depression.

"I HAVE CHANGED TO LANDON:

"BECAUSE I have ceased to believe in the sincerity of Roosevelt.
"BECAUSE Roosevelt cannot escape responsibility for the acts of Farley, Hopkins, Tugwell and others.
"BECAUSE millions of unemployables have been created by the bungling, wasteful methods of the WPA.
"BECAUSE of the wreckage of the principle of the Civil Service and the political exploitation of the hunger of millions of needy people.
"BECAUSE of the increasing cost of living, and the increasing burden on all types of business caused by ever-mounting taxation.
"BECAUSE I believe that the power and functions of the Supreme Court must be safeguarded.
"BECAUSE I believe that the centralization of power is becoming a real menace to our institutions.
"BECAUSE I abominate the persecution of people who are opposed to the New Deal.
"BECAUSE I believe Landon to be sincere, courageous, sagacious and fundamentally sound on social, economic and moral issues."

LOCAL H. S. GRIDDERS BADLY DEFEATED

Ridley Park Walks Over Swarthmore to Tune of 33-0; Game With Glen-Nor Here Today

Last Friday the Swarthmore High gridgers went down to 33-0 defeat by the Ridley Park football team. All through the game the Parkers stressed power and more power. Through the whole game Ridley Park threw only four passes. Ridley Park kicked off and Swarthmore ran three plays. Stan Hill's kick was returned by West to the Ridley Park 29 yard line. Polischuk, Ridley Park fullback, smashed off guard and ran fifty two yards before he was hauled down from the rear on Swarthmore's 19 yard stripe. A few plays after that West went off tackle for ten yards and just as he was being tackled he flipped a lateral pass to Duval who crossed the goal line standing up. West added the extra point with a placement kick. There was no scoring in the rest of the period.

In the second period, a 55 yard dash by West, around end, gave the Parkers a lead of 13-0 and when Polischuk's placement kick split the uprights, Ridley Park held a lead of 14 points. After the kickoff following the touchdown, two runs by Bill Polk gave the Garnet a first down on their own forty yard marker. However, the gains were to no avail, for on the next play an attempted lateral pass was intercepted by Barrett, Parker's end who ran 35 yards to a touchdown. Jack West made the score read 21-0 as he place kicked the extra point. The half soon ended with the score remaining the same.

The Swarthmore boys, refreshed, fought a nip and tuck battle for the third quarter and held Ridley Park scoreless. Swarthmore, however, did not threaten either.

In the beginning of the last quarter a penalty moved Swarthmore back in the shadow of its goal posts. Shay kicked and the ball was returned to Swarthmore's 20 yard line, where Ridley Park began a steady march toward the goal line which was culminated when Polischuk plunged over from the 4 yard line. His place kick was blocked, however, leaving the score 27-0. An intercepted pass started Ridley Park on its way to its last touchdown, which was made by Polischuk on a line buck. His place kick was wild.

Women Meet on Politics

Last Wednesday afternoon, a number of Republican women together with members of the Independent Coalition of American Women gathered at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Mitchell, of Wallingford. The speaker was Harry Carr, of Philadelphia, who spoke on "Business Under the New Deal." A lively discussion followed the interesting and informal talk.

Mrs. N. Myers Fidler, chairman of the Pennsylvania Independent Coalition, and Mrs. John C. Marsh, chairman of the Delaware County group were both present, and gave short talks on the aims of the coalition.

Mrs. Henry Marshall and Mrs. Francis V. Warren presided at the tea table.

On Thursday afternoon of last week, a similar group enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Carl W. Chaffee, of Swarthmore Avenue.

The speaker at that meeting was Dr. John R. Hart, of Moylan, writer and lecturer, well known to Swarthmoreans as former Y. M. C. A. leader at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Hart discussed the idealistic purpose which developed the present administration's reciprocal tariff treaties, and compared the excellent intention with the startling results of sharply increased American imports, reduced American exports, and resulting widespread injury to American farmers, laborers and industry of all kinds.

On Saturday the troop participated in a hike and treasure hunt.

The next meeting will be a hike tomorrow afternoon, Saturday, at 1.30.

The regular troop meetings will be held at Whittier House, beginning Friday, November 6. All boys twelve years of age or more are invited to join at this time.

Women Meet on Politics

Last Wednesday afternoon, a number of Republican women together with members of the Independent Coalition of American Women gathered at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Mitchell, of Wallingford. The speaker was Harry Carr, of Philadelphia, who spoke on "Business Under the New Deal." A lively discussion followed the interesting and informal talk.

Mrs. N. Myers Fittler, chairman of the Pennsylvania Independent Coalition, and Mrs. John C. Marsh, chairman of the Delaware County group were both present, and gave short talks on the aims of the coalition.

Mrs. Henry Marshall and Mrs. Francis V. Warren presided at the tea table.

On Thursday afternoon of last week, a similar group enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Carl W. Chaffee, of Swarthmore Avenue.

The speaker at that meeting was Dr. John R. Hart, of Moylan, writer and lecturer, well known to Swarthmoreans as former Y. M. C. A. leader at the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Hart discussed the idealistic purpose which developed the present administration's reciprocal tariff treaties, and compared the excellent intention with the startling results of sharply increased American imports, reduced American exports, and resulting widespread injury to American farmers, laborers and industry of all kinds.
