HORNETS IN TWO WINS AND ONE TIE

Beat Collingdale 3-0, Media Elks 3-2, Tie Brookhaven 5-5 in Unfinished Game; to Play on College Field

By Allen W. Harris

The Hornets' 3-0 win last Friday against the experienced Collingdale Club topped a fine week in which the local boys added a shut-out, a 3-2 victory, and a 5-5 tie to the year's tally.

With Ted Smith returning to pitch the fast Collingdale game, the Hornetmen seemed to get renewed vigor and pep, and played on the whole the best ball of the season. Particularly good was Ralph Shelly's slugging which led to a total of six hits in the week's contests.

The Hornets began the week with a 3-2 victory against the Media Elks, which proved the Swarthmore team to be consistently expert in both batting and field work. Abernathy's twirling showed a marked improvement, and was smoother and faster than in previous games.

The Media club had a fast, hard-pitching southpaw for moundsman, and kept the Hornets working hard to gain the final slim victory. With some keen fielding, and some clever hitting, however, the Swarthmoreans came through with the traditional flying colors.

The Collingdale game was another clear victory for the Hornets. With Ralph (Sluggo) Shelly and Weiss each batting two good hits and Dingle and McWilliams knocking out one each, the local men gained a shut-out and a real win. Weiss alone was responsible for a double and a triple.

The "hero of the day" was undoubtedly Smith whose return was the occasion for some fast, keen, intelligent pitching which was closely reflected in the shut-out victory gained by the Hornetmen. The Collingdale team got only five hits, all short singles which were easily taken care of by the Hornets' smooth fielding and excellent work on the initial and keystone sacks.

Tuesday's Brookhaven tie was called in the sixth because of rain, but the Swarthmore team was obviously the superior and would have won in all probability had more time been available. Ralph Shelly again led the batting with two nice singles. Abernathy pounded out two good ones also.

All future games will be held on the college athletic field opposite the underpass and the business district of town. Swarthmore College has kindly permitted the Hornets to use the field on the condition that the property be protected, and that the shrubs and plants be unharmed. Coach Porter Waite requests that visitors at the games be careful of the College grounds.

Mrs. Eliza J. Moore

Mrs. Eliza J. Moore, mother of William J. Moore with whom she made her home at 213 South Swarthmore Avenue, passed away Monday night, June 29, after an illness of five months. She was sixty-eight years old on December 23.

Mrs. Moore, who was an active member of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church and the Friendly Circle was highly esteemed by a host of friends in this community. Her outstanding cheerful and happy disposition endeared her to all who met her. Although born in Philadelphia, she had lived here for many years.

Services were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Thursday, at the funeral parlor of Rowland and Son, Philadelphia. Interment was in the German Lutheran Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Council Sits in July Meeting to Settle Community Matters

Howard W. Borden applied to Council at the July meeting on Wednesday for a permit to erect a four-car garage at the rear of his property on Park Avenue at Drexel Road. The proposed building to be forty feet long by twenty-four feet, and about eighteen feet high at the peak, to be constructed of concrete block or brick, and to be placed in such a position on his lot that it would conform with the zoning ordinance. Since by Borough regulation no garage exceeding a three-car capacity is permitted, the matter was referred to the public safety committee to study and to report a recommendation at a future scheduled or special meeting of Council.

A letter from Charles F. Eggleston, attorney for the W. H. G. Gould Estate, was received requesting the zoning restriction on the lot at the northeast side of Cornell Avenue one hundred feet northwest of Strath Haven Avenue be removed. Upon consideration the matter was held for the attention of Solicitor Myers when he returns from his vacation.

Mr. Miller read the bond of the tax collector which was presented in person by Mr. Dodd and it was the opinion of Council that the bond was acceptable. The warrant for the collection of taxes was then read and the proper borough officers given authority to sign same. The warrant and tax duplicate were ordered turned over to Mr. Dodd.

Mr. Hessenbruch reported the completion of Lafayette Avenue at a total cost of $3,711.65 ($1,128.80 below the original estimate) of which the borough share is $402.08. Already $301.21 of the two-thirds due from property owners has been received.

Mr. Hessenbruch also reported the re-surfacing of streets under the contracts awarded at the last meeting would cost between $1,300 and $1,400 and would be done this month. He also stated that Haverford Place had been regraded by borough workmen and rolled. The ceiling of the hall on the first floor of Borough Hall is being replastered this week by WPA labor. Later in the meeting Mr. Hessenbruch brought up the subject of the conversation of old houses into apartments here in the borough. This has been a matter deliberated by Council for some time and it was decided that the members should study it carefully and be prepared to discuss it at a later meeting.

Mr. Meschter said the question of forming a Park Commission, in his opinion, should be postponed until the return of the solicitor, since it involved certain legal points and he was not ready to take any

MAKES STRIDES IN OKEFENOKEE STUDY

Dr. Francis Harper Adds Scientific Records with Last Winter's Personal Observations

A glimpse of the rare charm of the Okefenokee, a swamp within a wilderness in southeastern Georgia, was gleaned by a most interesting interview with Dr. Francis Harper, Swarthmore biologist, who with his wife and three children spent last winter in the locality.

Leaving their home on Yale Avenue last October the Harpers lived on the mainland most of the winter because of the necessity of a fresh milk supply which was not available in the Swamp.

During the last few weeks, however, they camped out on Chesler's Island, inside the edge of the Swamp, while their permanent cabin was being built there.

Although Dr. Harper had made nine previous trips to the Okefenokee and had thrice been accompanied by Mrs. Harper since the late winter of 1927, his last four months' duration. Last winter was extended to a period of over six months. Dr. Harper has devoted more time to the section than any other biologist.

action at this time. His thought was upheld by the other members.

The public safety committee reported the purchase of tires for Captain Roger's car. Mr. Eavenson read the police report and brought out the fact that highway accidents in the borough were fewer than for the corresponding period last year.

The secretary's financial report was accepted after having been examined by Mr. Pittenger and certain questions which arose had been satisfactorily answered. Mr. Pittenger was asked to secure from the insurance broker, Peter E. Told, a complete schedule of borow insurance now in force. He then presented preliminary plans for alterations which Swarthmore College proposes to make on the former Pre School building at the northwest corner of Harvard Avenue and South Chester Road. Since it is the wish of the College to start the work soon, Mr. Pittenger was anxious to determine if a special permit was necessary. It was decided that no special action was needed, but that the permit could be secured in the usual way.

Motions to reimburse special account in the sum of $243.83 and to pay current bills amounting to $1,572.38 were passed. Following a brief discussion of such matters as a traffic survey at the south end of the underpass, the dog quarantine, present and future condition of Cornell Avenue, gasoline and automobile repair bills, the customary method of collecting fines from magistrates, and a report of the Borough Convention at Shiloh, by Secretary Richardson, who attended the meetings recently, Council adjourned.

THE SWARTHMOREAN

Robin Hood Theatre

The Robin Hood Theatre at Arden, Delaware, opened its sixth season on the evening of July 1 with the famous comedy, "It's a Wise Child." The play was written by Laurence E. Johnson, author of many Broadway successes, and was one of the biggest hits produced by the late great David Belasco.

The resident cast of professional actors is headed by Stucky Cooper, a leading lady famous in Dutch both here and on the Pacific coast. Miss Cooper's varied experience includes film work also, as well as personal successes in the New York productions of "Courage," "Little Spiffie," "The Clutching Claw" and "Married—And How."

The remaining members of the Robin Hood troupe are all seasoned players. Some of them have appeared at the Arden playhouse in previous summers, others are new to the organization. The roster includes: Bigelow Sayre, Herbert W. Fisher, Virginia Kelly, Edwin Ross, Laura Barrett and Robert C. Schmitzer.

The Robin Hood will continue to present recent Broadway successes only. This season's schedule includes: "Fresh Fields," "Labourum Grove," "Kind Lady," "On Stage," "Her Master's Voice," "Biography" and "Personal Appearance."

THE SWARTHMOREAN

Fireworks Display

At 9 o'clock a surprisingly large turnout proved the drawing power of the inauguration of a community fireworks display in Swarthmore.

The athletic field at the Rutgers Avenue School was lined on both sides by automobiles and the banks at the rear of the school building were packed with children and grown-ups to investigate this new contribution to an annual celebration.

Needless to say the impressions received were very favorable. One full hour of sky-rockets, red, green and other colored lights, fountains, Roman candles, huge firecrackers, pinwheel, squealers and various other types of fireworks satisfied the most noise and glare thirsty.

The prizes awarded in the events were contributed by the following: Cash for prizes from—Mason Builders Supply Company, Swarthmore Garage, Dew Drop Inn, E. L. Noyes, Woodward Jackson & Black, THE SWARTHMOREAN, prizes—George Mitro & Sons, Bretz Newsstand, N. Walter Sunley, Victor D. MONDAY WAS DOGS' DAY IN SWARTHMORE

Local Canines Drop Shackles of Quarantine and Meet Friends at Show

Coming from all directions with their masters and mistresses, some on foot and some arriving in large automobiles, the canines of Swarthmore and vicinity proceeded to the Dog Show held on the grounds behind the local High School at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, July 13 by the SWARTHMOREAN. A more fitting close to the 100 day quarantine which expired last week could not be imagined.

In 1931 at a similar show there were thirty-five dogs entered. On Monday there were well over fifty. Perhaps it would have been easier for the judges had pedigree counted. As it was there were so many dogs who, although their histories were more or less dubious, were so appealing in a number of ways that the judges, loath to discriminate sufficiently to award the prizes, Postmaster Alfred P. Smalley, Elric S. Sprout, cashier of the Swarthmore National Bank and Trust Company, and Mrs. George Plowman had an unenviable task that afternoon. However, judges must make some decision so they finally awarded the nineteen prizes as follows:

"Lucky," harlequin great dane, owned by E. Z. Dimitman, of Elm Avenue, was the winner in two classes, "largest" and "most spotted." "Diogenes," seven weeks old Boston terrier, owned by Mary Alice Lilly of Elm Avenue, was undisputedly the "smallest" dog. His brother, "Monte," took the prize for the "youngest" dog in the show. The honey-brown cocker spaniel, "Spot," belonging to Emily Smith, of Park Avenue, was adjudged the "prettiest," his lovely color brought out even more by a pale green ribbon bow on his harness. "Bang," pet of Virginia Perkins, of Cedar Lane, a mongrel with cairn terrier, the prize for the "ugliest" dog. Betty Morse's four months old Boston terrier, "Crickit," another resident of Elm Avenue, was acclaimed the "cutest." A mongrel with the descriptive name of "Riff-raff" received the prize for the "friendliest" dog. "Riff-raff" is owned by Caroline Sinclair, of Harvard Avenue. Honors for the "best trained" canine went to "Happy," German police pet of Betty Douglas, of North Chester Road. Neil Durbarrow's cocker spaniel approx. 18 months old, was declared the "blakest" dog. Nell lives in Haverford Place. There also was no doubt as to the "whitest" dog—"Muggsy," Eskimo-spitz, owned by Richard Tunis, of Princeton and Lafayette Avenues. "Spot," a mongrel, was declared the "fattest" dog. He was accompanied by his owner, Mrs. Walter H. Luff, of Haverford Place. To "Sherwood Anderson," of the Hedgerow Theatre, went the distinction of being the "most aristocratic." "Sherwood" is a black and tan pointer, and competed with "Lucky" for the "largest" dog. An Irish setter, "Rex," at the ripe old age of fourteen years was very dignified as his owner, Dorothy Hoopes, of Rutgers Avenue, collected his prize for the "oldest" dog. "Flash," six months old—part greyhound—part pointer, belonging to Gordon Bierman, of South Chester Road. "Firecracker," so named because his birthday is on the 4th of July, was exhibited by his little mistress, Patricia Ann Edmiston, of Rose Valley, and took the prize for the "most forlorn looking." "Firecracker" is a scalyham. The last prize was awarded to the dog with the shortest tail, "Sissy," owned and shown by John Scholinger, of Swarthmore Avenue. "Sissy" had less than no tail.

The prizes were all things which the dog himself could enjoy. There were collars, leashes, chains, dog food of various kinds, playthings, special soaps and powders, dog feeding dishes, etc., donated by the following local business firms: Michael's College Pharmacy, Madison Brothers, Shirer's Drug Store, Supple's Hardware Store, George Mitro and Sons, American Store, A. & P. Store, Marsh's Utility Shop, Martel Brothers and M. Parker. Each dog entered in the show received a dog biscuit as a consolation prize.

SWARTHMORE DAY AT CAMP NEXT WEEK

Thornton Camp for Undernourished Children of County Requests Donations The second week of the third year of Camp Sunshine has passed, and ninety-six little girls (ages between 7 and 12 years) have enjoyed very much this vacation at Delaware County's Manufluctury Camp at Harton. Mrs. T. Harry Brown and the committee ask that you please help to keep the new group, which has just arrived, there another week, and the boys who will follow them for their two week vacations. These little ones are undernourished and underprivileged. You can help bring some sunshine into their hearts by sending a donation. Four dollars will keep a child in Camp for one week, and eight dollars for their allotted time of two weeks. A considerable sum of money is needed to meet the expenses of the Camp and carry it through this season.

Next Wednesday, July 22, will be Swarthmore Day at the Camp. You are urged to go out and see for yourself the wonderful work which has been and will be accomplished by the interested and more fortunate ones in this county.

The Counsellors' Cabin has just been completed—to make it attractively livable, possibly you and your friends would like to take out some cushions, books, lamps and tables, and such—that have been "crowded out" by new acquisitions! No matter how modest the donation, a lot of them will make a pleasing total—and the fine young women and men, who are giving so much of themselves, will find the busy day's finale more restful. These "furnishings" may be taken at any time.

HORNETS RALLY BY WINNING TWO GAMES

Hornets' Slump Seems Ended as Local Club Defeats Morton, 4-2; Norwood, 9-0

By Allen W. Harris

The Morton Republican Club and the Norwood A. C. were added this week to the Hornets' list of wins. The Swarthmore club played good ball, and seemed to have recovered from its temporary slump.

Last Thursday's game with the Morton team stands as the only real Hornet battle of the week. Won by a score of 4-2, the contest was hard and called for good hitting and keen pitching. Twirler Smith hurled a clean game, and did much to win the victory for the local boys.

All four Hornet runs came in a miraculously fast second inning when the Swarthmore club used five long singles to score. Ralph Shelly played his second advantage. Ralph Shelly played his last game with the Hornets, and made his usual fine record. "The Swarthmore Slugger" knocked out two nice hits, and did some excellent work as catcher.

Ralph has gone to Baltimore for the summer, and his lively playing and real enthusiasm will be greatly missed by the Hornets. Shelly was a founder of the Hornets, and shared with "Bud" Manning, Bill Shelly, and Art Cheyney the honor of being on the team for the five years of its existence.

It was Reshaw who was chosen to take Ralph's place in Tuesday's Norwood game. Reshaw did a good job, but time alone will show whether he can catch his predecessor's ability.

Certain it is that the Norwood game was no test of Hornet skill. The local club romped through the A. C. boys without apparent effort, and settled the opposing team's fate early by running up four runs in the first two innings. The final tally of 9-0 for the Hornets indicates the marked superiority of the Hornets.

Art Cheyney pitched his best game in weeks. The Norwood club got only one hit—and that a single. Cheyney struck them out regularly and quietly. He had excellent control, and seemed untroubled by any grandstand noise or field problems.

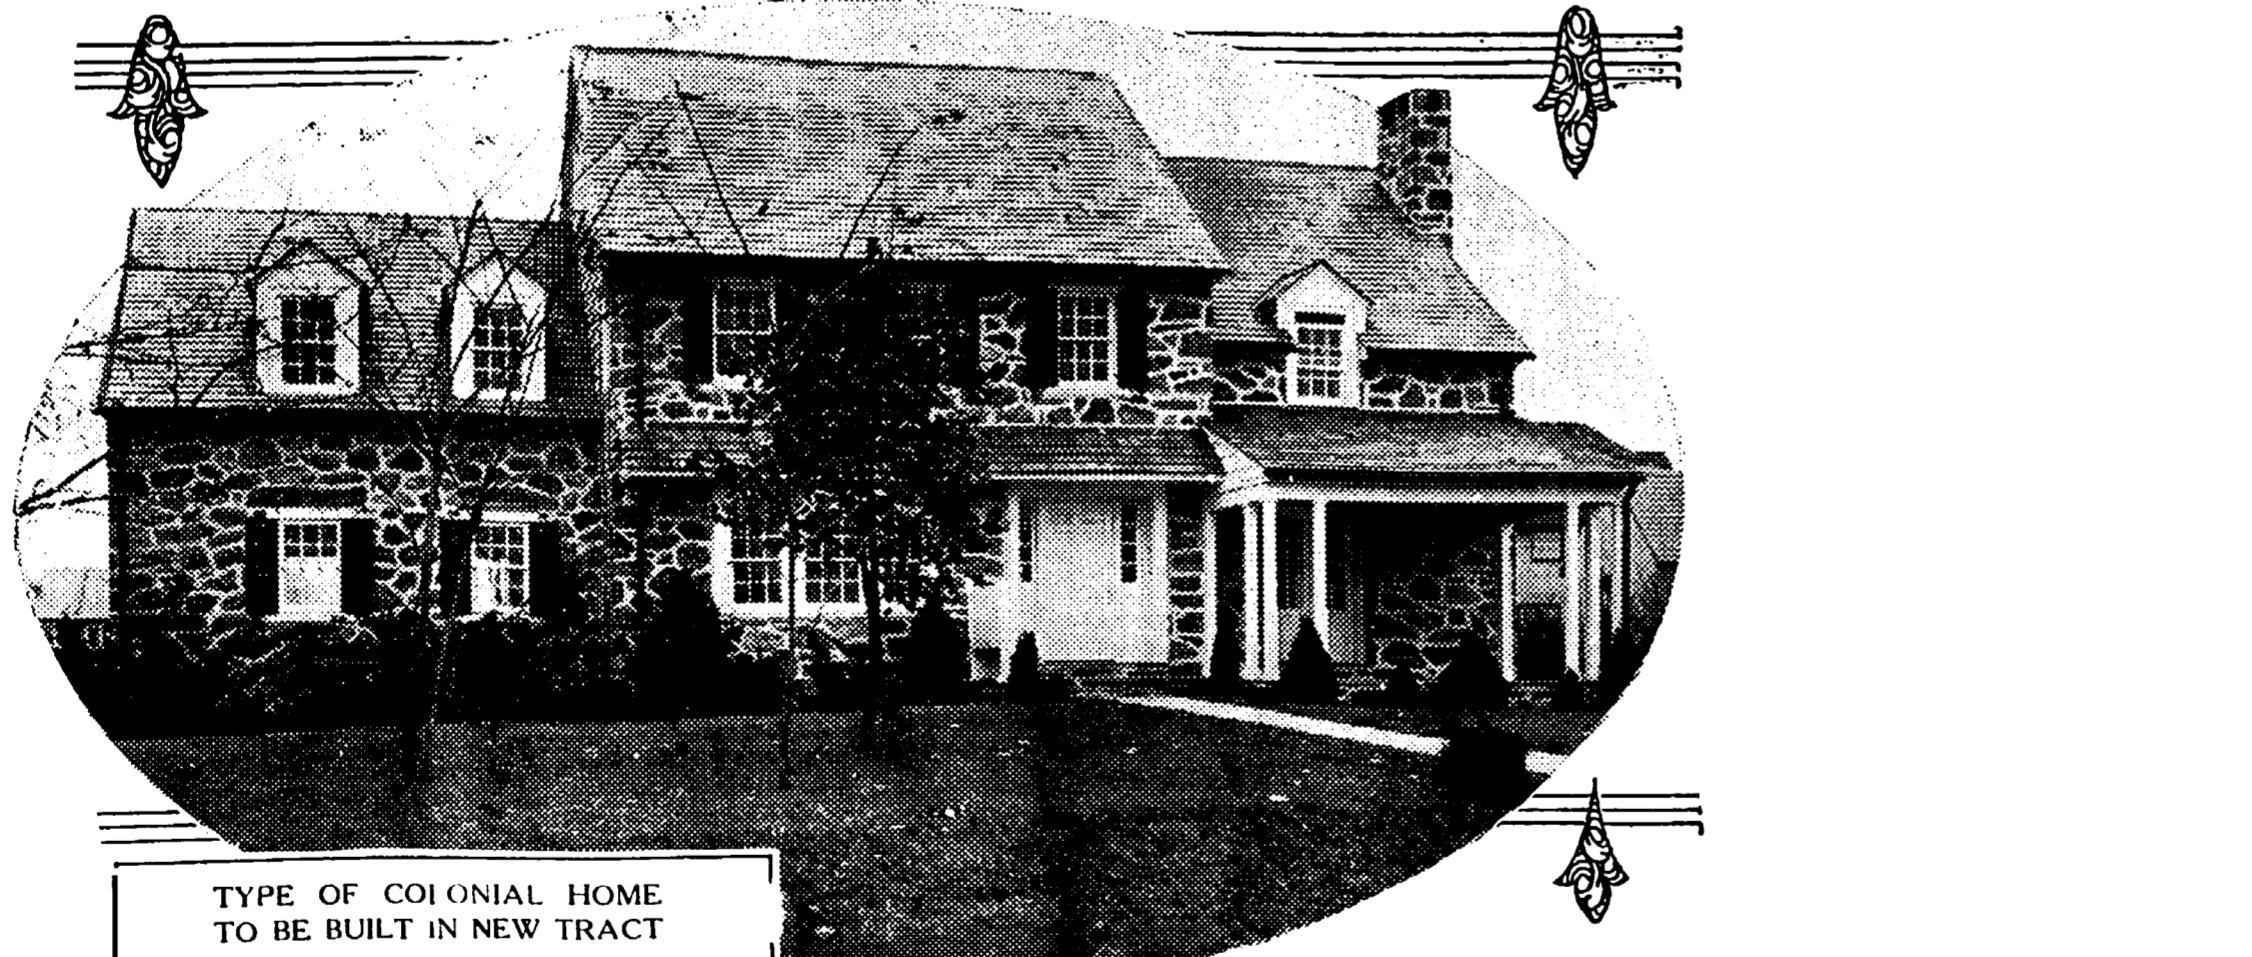

Prettiest play in many a game was the double out in the second. With clock-like precision the Hornets' fielders and basemen handled the ball, and nailed two surprised Norwood men on first base and the keystone plate. This play ended the Norwood threat of grand bases.

The Hornets showed improvement in pep and spirit this week after having recovered from the defeats of the Holiday games and the Elk's game of the 7th.

$6.00 Is All The contributions of Leonard Ashton, H. E. B. Specht, Robert Reed, Wallace McCurdy and James Hanna have reduced the amount needed to reach the goal of the Baseball Club to $6.00. Six more contributors this week will do the job!

At the Lansdowne

Fred MacMurray and Carole Lombard, favorite screen sweethearts, starred again in "The Princess Comes Across," opening Friday at the Lansdowne Theatre.

The story of "The Good Fairy" concerns a young lady of Vienna whose one aim in life is to make people happy, and who lets no moral scruples interfere with her good-natured plans. Her efforts to bring good fortune involve a very ethical lawyer, a very unethical business man and a very handsome head-waiter in a series of ludicrous situations.

Dulcy Cooper will play the name role, originated by Helen Hayes. As the lawyer whose immoral wife she pretends to be, Charles Francis will play a part which he has already done in New York with great success.

Others of the Robin Hood Theatre troupe in the cast will be Robert C. Schmitzer, Virginia Reilly, Brant Gorman and Alva Bixey. Mr. Francis will play the male lead and direct as well.

The program for July 29, 30, 31 and August 1 will feature "Her Carboard Lover."

FORTY-SIXTH ANNUAL COUNTRY WEEK PICNIC TO BE HELD HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Mothers and Children of Philadelphia Poor Districts Once Again Will Enjoy Hospitality of Borough Residents Who Still Keep Time-Honored Custom

At 9.05 next Wednesday morning, August 5, a special train will leave the Broad Street Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Philadelphia, laden with five hundred mothers and children bound for a holiday in Swarthmore.

Arriving here about 9.30 the visitors will be welcomed at the local station by Chairman E. M. Buchner and the members of his transportation committee who will conduct them in automobiles to the picnic grounds at Emmons Grove where the event has been held for some years past. Here they will be served with fresh milk and amuse themselves in various ways—the women and some children reclining in hammocks stretched between trees, others playing games or riding the ponies which will be available.

At noon the many sandwiches, rice puddings, cakes, ice cream, and coffee, for which the committee has engaged in earnest solicitation these last few weeks, will be disposed of with great rapidity and zest.

Of the five hundred guests, selected each year by the Philadelphia Country Week Association to attend the picnic given by the Swarthmore Country Week Picnic Association, about four hundred are children. They come from the various poorer sections of Philadelphia to enjoy a valuable day in the country with rest, fresh air and good wholesome food abundant.

It is always a lot of work for the local Chairman, Harvey R. Pierce, and the committee heads and members to prepare for the picnic but, each year, when the day comes at last and they see the genuine appreciation of the mothers and children for the brief holiday, they are amply repaid and ready to start out on the next year's plans. And, after forty-six years, it is only the very newest residents of the Borough who do not look forward to making their contribution as part of the routine of each summer. Those who go away and are therefore unable to donate home-made rice puddings, cakes or cookies, send cash to help defray the many expenses necessarily incurred. Mr. Pierce will be happy to receive any delinquent cash contributions or they may be left at the SWARTHMOREAN Office.

The services of many persons are also needed at the grounds each year. However, Swarthmore mothers are urged to keep children under twelve years of age away from the picnic in order to avoid undue confusion.

Mrs. Edward A. Jenkins is in charge of making the sandwiches at the Friends Meeting House and desires volunteers to aid in this branch of the work.

Mrs. Harold Griffin, Mrs. J. Paul Brown, Mrs. Charles Thatcher and Miss Sarah Barr have directed the soliciting. John Friel will be in charge of the grounds.

A final meeting for last minute changes and the arrangement of details will be held at 8 o'clock next Monday evening, August 3, in the Council Chamber at Borough Hall.

The train conveying the people back to Philadelphia is scheduled to leave Swarthmore at 5.11 P. M. In case of rain the picnic will be held the first clear day following.

PIRATES CHAMPIONS OF JUNIOR LEAGUE

Pirates Defeat Sluggers and Eagles to Rank Tops in Junior Ball

With a golden opportunity before them to hand out a smarting defeat to the Pirates and thus tie the unbeaten club, the Sluggers muffed their chance last week and handed the Pirates the game by their foolish base running and poor fielding.

Because of this win, The Pirates won the first half-championship of the league. Although defeated, the Sluggers have the distinction of being the only team to knock twirler Dickson out of the box. Led by Thorpe, the Sluggers' centerfielder, the defeated team managed to roll up a formidable tally of hits. Thorpe alone rated a fine triple and a long single.

Clayton, Sluggers' pitcher, did a good job of fast ball and his sharp breaking hook did serious damage to Pirate batting. Friday's game between the Eagles and the Pirates saw the Pirates rating another close call. Going into the sixth inning they trailed the Eagles 4-2, but managed to scrape together four runs on the basis of one hit, three walks, and an error to nose out the Eagles 6-4.

Gillian featured with a homer and a double to lead his team, the Eagles, in hitting. Clarkson, the Eagles' twirler, did a fine job and limited the opponents to three hits. Although their fielding was excellent and pitching good, the Eagles missed their chance in batting and thus lost the game.

On Monday, August 3, the second half of the junior baseball series opens, and promises to be a hard-fought contest with Cubs, Eagles, and Sluggers doing their best to scrape together four runs on the basis of one hit, three walks, and an error to nose out the Pirates.

"Pinafire" and Fountains at Longwood Gardens
Ever since 1932 a midsummer musical highlight at Longwood Gardens, the P. S. duPont estate, near Kennett Square, has been the appearance of The Brandwinners' group of Wilmington singers in a Gilbert and Sullivan revival. Thousands recall with pleasure the presentations of "The Pirates of Penzance," "Holanthe," "The Gondoliers" and "Princess Ida."

"Pinafire," considered the most popular Gilbert and Sullivan classic, has been announced for August 6, 7 and 8 with a chorus of one hundred voices. Frederick W. Wyatt is musical director and W. W. Laird, Jr., production manager. The featured duPont electric fountains will be displayed after the open-air musical stagings, which are again a benefit for the Boys' Club of Wilmington.

LINWOOD WIN MARKS HORNET HIGH POINT

Five Sixth Inning Rally Rank as Good End to Triple-Win Hornet Week

By Allen W. Harris

The Hornets' sensational sixth inning 6-3 win over Linwood on Tuesday brought to a close a highly successful week in which the local club defeated Morton 3-2 and Chester 14-0.

The Linwood battle probably ranks as the best Hornet playing of the season, and its sixth inning rally in which the local men hit four singles, two two-baggers, and a triple stands out as the finest example of Hornet ability and courage.

With the tally 3-1 against them, the Hornetmen rallied suddenly, and started pounding out long one after long one until five men had come in over home plate. Smith's triple was the highlight of a game, and proved vastly encouraging to the Hornet club.

Cheyney deserved much credit for the Linwood win. He pitched good ball, and allowed the visitors only three hits. In addition, he was responsible for a triple and a two-bagger himself, and did some good base running for the local team.

Other batters of note were Renshaw whose neat double popped high out into the outer garden and caught Linwood New Hat-footer, McWilliams with two clean singles, and Smith whose lovely sixth inning triple has been mentioned.

The Hornetmen had a moral start in the Linwood game. The first four innings were scored for them, and in the fifth they rated only one run. Their opponents, however, had batted out two runs in the second, and one in the fourth.

Then came the sixth in which Hornet batters walked away with the Linwood mound, and pounded over the initial and keystone sacks and the hot corner in rapid succession. Wolfe pounded out a single, Renshaw a double, McWilliams, Weiss, and Abernathy hit singles, and Cheyney and Smith a double and triple respectively.

The Linwood victory came merely as a conclusion to an already successful week. The Hornets 14-0 clean-up against the Smedley team for Chester was indicative of the trend of renewed vigor and ability. Abernathy pitched a nice game in which the Chester boys rated only three singles. Shelly and Weiss added their support by knocking out two hits each in the sixth inning which marked the Hornets' highpoint of achievement. Smith again rated a triple and Renshaw hit out a lovely double. Jennings, whose playing shows distinct improvement, pounded away with the Linwood.

The Morton game was hard-fought in every way. It called for the best in Hornet hurling, fielding, and slugging. Smith hurled a nice game although the Hornetmen slammed out seven of his twirls, and Weather in the Streety, McCumbeys, and Bill Shelly had a long run of hits.

The past week rates definitely as one of the best of the season. Renshaw, Smith, and Shelly did particularly fine work with the other Hornetmen doing their part well. The "nightmare" game, August 4, promises to be one of the year's most interesting contests.

Wanted: One Lone Contributor
If only one more public spirited citizen had joined Frank E. Williams and W. S. James in contributing to the Baseball Dollar Club last week the goal of $150 would not be attained instead of just $100 away.

Who will be the last contributor to the fund to support the local Hornets team through this season?

Renovate Borough Hall Interior
A great improvement can already be seen as a result of the last three weeks' progress on the interior of Borough Hall. With about seven WPA workers on the job the upper and lower floor halls have received new plaster ceilings and the walls have been cleaned and repainted.

In another two weeks' time the work will be complete, and floors will have been installed in both halls. The Council chamber, the police department, oak treasuries on the stairs, and the woodwork re-finished. The entire renovation will be completed a most decided turn for the better in the appearance of the inside of the building.

HARD-FOUGHT SETS MARK TENNIS MEET

Buckman Beats Brown; Lingle Loses to Tomlinson; Ewing Wins

By Allen W. Harris

Swarthmore's mid-summer tennis tournaments under the direction of Fawcett and Longwell came to a close this week when Pres Buckman defeated Bill Brown 6-4, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3 to gain the junior tennis prize, Helen Tomlinson best Petra Lingle 6-3, 6-2 for the girl's award, and Ewing won over H. Buckman 6-4, 2-6, 7-5 in the boy's contest.

Hard-fought semi-finals led up to the championship matches which were held Sunday under a warm sun and with a strong breeze framing the College Avenue courts. Johnny Nasby played good tennis in his first set, and saw one or two of his opponent's balls in the final rounds.

"Petra" Lingle played Ellen Viebover in the semi-finals and won after a well-played match. Betty Douglas lost to "Henric" Tomlinson 2-6, 1-6 to give Helen her chance in the finals.

Thus it was that the finals came about with Brown against Buckman, Lingle against Tomlinson, and Ewing pitted against Harry Buckman.

The junior matches held Sunday showed Pres Buckman and Bill Brown evenly matched. After a show start, Brown picked up and played beautiful tennis in the third set to win over Buckman 7-5. Where Brown slipped up was on his net game. His drive and serve were equal to Buckman, but his net game was weak and lazy and undoubtedly lost several games for him.

The strong wind impeded both Brown and Buckman, and kept them from playing their best games. The same wind was much to blame in the Tomlinson win over Lingle. Petra's hard drive seemed uncertain, and the shifting winds did little to aid it. The girls' finals were well-played by both Tomlinson and Lingle, and showed keen ability on both sides.

The boy's contest between H. Buckman and Ewing was particularly interesting and unusually hard-fought. The final 6-4, 2-6, 7-5 victory for Ewing indicates the closeness of the contest.

Ewing had a smoother drive and a slightly faster serve which gained him his win. Buckman, on the other hand, played a keen net game and showed remarkable speed on the courts.

Considerable crowds of Swarthmoreans watched the various tennis matches, and seemed well satisfied with the playing of the contestants.

To date over a thousand names are signed up as having played on the Swarthmore courts, Fawcett and Longwell announced yesterday. This shows the popularity of the local courts, and their importance in sports life.

A doubles tournament was announced for next week. Application for admittance to the tournament should be made to Bill Fawcett.

LIBRARY TO CLOSE AFTER TOMORROW

Special Leniencies in Effect to Cover Recess from August 3 to 17

Tomorrow morning and afternoon, Saturday, August 1, will be the last times the Swarthmore Public Library will be open until the regular afternoon and evening hours of Monday, August 17.

The issuance of double the number of books ordinarily permitted on one card is being allowed this week.

Books taken out this week may be kept until the last day on which the Library has hours during the week of the 17th without penalty, or in the case of pay-shelf books without additional charge being made for the period when the Library is closed.

Not only is this a good opportunity to have plenty of time to enjoy that book you have been wanting to get, but it will also be of great advantage to the school children of the Borough who are now working on their summer reading lists and who will find the many books contained therein especially separated on the shelves of the local Library as published in the SWARTHMOREAN last week.

Whether your taste in summer reading runs to light or heavy fiction, the detective story or something like the "tragedy of Nijinsky"; you can satisfy it at the Swarthmore Public Library. So close is the judgment of the book committee to that of popular approval as registered by book sales throughout the country, that the local shelves have nineteen of the twenty-one novels currently listed as best sellers. That is pretty near to a perfect score and if you haven't read the new books listed below, you have two chances, today and Saturday, to withdraw one or more to hold over the week.

The Library will be closed for the summer recess. Recently acquired titles are:

PA. FOLK FESTIVAL AT BUCKNELL UNIV.

Large and Varied Program Begins Next Thursday and Continues Until August 2

Sprightly French folk ballads, mournful spirituals of the Negroes, strangely beautiful prayer songs of the Seneca Indians, ballads of the Scotch, Pennsylvania Germans, Connecticut wagoners, and hymns composed in Pennsylvania will all be heard in the Pennsylvania Folk Festival at Bucknell University which opens at Lewisburg, Pa., next Thursday, July 30, and continues until Sunday evening, August 2.

Pennsylvania's greatest tournament of traditional lore and minstrelsy will include a tribe of twenty-five Indians from the State's only reservation, numerous chorals, representatives of the early trades, and occupations of the Commonwealth, and of the various races and peoples which make up a cross-section of Pennsylvania. More than eight hundred will participate in the four-day Fete.

The Indians will open the program Thursday evening, after which folk songs of the Pennsylvania races will be sung. Ukrainian coal miners will perform native dances, 50 Clearfield County Negroes will sing spirituals, French folk from the same county will sing folk tunes, Pennsylvania Germans will perform games and dances, and will sing ballads and lullabies of the race.

On Friday afternoon, mountain tunes will be played, and ballads of the Pennsylvania German, English, Scotch, and Western Pennsylvanians will be sung by seventy-four-year-old Mrs. Hannah Sayre, of Pittsburgh, a descendant of Dutch doctors. Indians will perform two more dances, followed by pioneer Pennsylvania lumberjacks, river raftmen, and bituminous coal miners, and by 100-year-old George Kirk, a river raftsman. Jig dancers and fiddlers, now over 75 years of age, will perform.

Stephen Foster's works will be sung by a close friend of his family Saturday afternoon, and river rafting tunes will be played. German folk songs are to be heard, and more than 100 Boy and Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls of the Susquehanna Valley area will be admitted into the Indian tribe, receiving real Indian names. Saturday evening will feature a contest for the square dancing championship of the state, and numerous other state-wide competitions. A grand hymn sing Sunday afternoon will close the festival. All of the events will be held in the Bucknell Stadium.

Group to Sew at Mrs. Walter's Next week's meeting of the Needlework Guild Sewing Group will be held at the usual time, 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, at the home of Mrs. J. Horace Walter, on Cedar Lane.

Robin Hood Theatre Bill "The Good Fairy," one of the greatest comedy hits of both stage and screen, will be the bill at the Robin Hood Theatre, Arden, Del., on the evenings of July 22, 23, 24 and 25. The author, Fretz Molnar, is famous as Europe's cleverest writer of highly humorous farce.

The story of "The Good Fairy" concerns a young lady of Vienna whose one aim in life is to make people happy, and who lets no moral scruples interfere with her good-natured plans. Her efforts to bring people good fortune involve a very ethical lawyer, a very unethicial business man and a very handsome head-waiter in a series of ludicrous situations.

Dulcy Cooper will play the name role, originated by Helen Hayes. As the lawyer whose immoral will she pretends to be, Charles French will play a part which he has already done in New York with great success.

Others of the Robin Hood Theatre troupe in the cast will be Robert C. Schmitzer, Virginia Reilly, Brant Gorman and Alva Briley. Mr. Francis will play the male lead and direct as well.

The program for July 29, 30, 31 and August 1 will feature "Her Cardboard Lover."

REPORT SHOWS ACTIVITY OF S. P. C. A.

Rescue Department Removed and Cared for 747 Unwanted Animals in One Month

There being no Board meetings of the Delaware County Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals at Media during July and August, reports of activities and work accomplished in June were submitted to the department chairman by the Superintendent. It was shown 26 complaints of cruelty were received, investigated and adjusted according to conditions found, involving 7 horses, 3 cows, 4 calves, 13 dogs, 8 cats, 10 rabbits, 4 birds, and coops of poultry. Inspections were made at 9 riding academies, where horses found with sore backs or thin were ordered not to be used. Poultry markets were visited, to relieve overcrowding and lack of fresh water. Aid was given in several cases of human horses, in one case requiring the humane disposal of a horse. A fine of $10.00 and costs was paid by a man who ill-treated a dog.

In the Rescue Department 747 unwanted animals were removed and cared for, including 483 cats, 261 dogs and 3 birds. New homes were secured for 20, and 4 lost dogs restored to owners. The ambulance responded to 317 calls, traveling 1499 miles. At the cemetery several new grave lots were procured by owners for burial of pets. New photos of the Shelter buildings and grounds were secured for 20, and 4 lost dogs restored to owners.

The Society was greatly heartened by the receipt of several unexpected contributions from animal lovers in Philadelphia and Delaware State. Owing to recent heavy expenses in ambulance and Shelter

Shaw Festival at Hedgerow

Continuing the annual Shaw Festival at the Hedgerow Theatre, the play "Candide," first play in the Hedgerow repertory. This year's cast has Miriam Phillips (in the role formerly essayed by Ann Harding), supported by Harry Shepard, David Metcalf and Robert Hanley.

The thirty-fifth performance of "Saint Joan" closes the first week of the Third Shaw Festival on Saturday night. Shaw's official biographer, Archibald Henderson, proclaims it "the greatest play in English since Shakespeare." It has been in Hedgerow's repertory since its introduction in 1934. Catherine Rieser now plays Saint Joan.

Monday, July 27, sees the opening of "Getting Married," seventh Shaw play in the festival (eleventh in the entire repertory). The action of the play is continuous for two and a half hours; but Director Deeter has arranged for one audience intermission. The marriageable couples are played by Eleanor Wilson and Harvey Welch. Rose Henley and Harry Shepard; while spice is added by the presence of a marital triangle in which Betty Fulton plays the divorcee, Alfred Rowe being the ex-husband and David Metcalf, the new attachment. Others in principal roles are Mabel Sheppard and Ferd Norer, Jay David and Miriam Phillips. The play will be repeated Tuesday night.

"Heartbreak House"—Shaw's story on English themes in the Russian manner, is the attraction Wednesday night. Jasper Deeter plays Captain Shotover. The time is during the late World War in England. Thursday's offering is Shaw's satire on war and service, "Arms and the Man." Original Strauss music from "The Chocolate Soldier" is being introduced in this new production of an old comedy favorite that has been in the schedule since July 1927. Helen Alexander, Mary Escherich, Harry Sheppard and Jasper Deeter are the comedians of this production.

The second performance of "The Devil's Disciple" closes the festival on Friday night, July 31. This stirring play of early American patriots and Tories, has in its cast Alfred Rowe as Minister Anderson, Rose Henley as his wife, Ferd Norer as the doctor, Catherine Rieser, Betty Fulton, Herbold Walton, Walter Williams, and Marshall Gatchell.

On Saturday night, August 1, "Kit Marlowe," by Maria Cose, a modern dramatization of Elizabethan England, whose characters include Queen Elizabeth, Sir Walter Raleigh, Lord Francis Bacon and the Earl of Essex, will be given with all its romance, intrigue and mystery.

FORTY-SIXTH ANNUAL COUNTRY WEEK PICNIC TO BE HELD HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Mothers and Children of Philadelphia Poor Districts Once Again Will Enjoy Hospitality of Borough Residents Who Still Keep Time-Honored Custom

At 9:05 next Wednesday morning, August 5, a special train will leave the Broad Street Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Philadelphia, laden with five hundred mothers and children bound for a holiday in Swarthmore.

Arriving here about 9:30 the visitors will be welcomed at the local station by Chairman E. M. Buchner and the members of his transportation committee who will conduct them in automobiles to the picnic grounds at Emmons Grove where the event has been held for some years past.

At noon the many sandwiches, rice puddings, cakes, ice cream, and coffee, for which the committee has engaged in earnest solicitation these last few weeks, will be disposed of with great rapidity and zest.

Of the five hundred guests, selected each year by the Philadelphia Country Week Association to attend the picnic given by the Swarthmore Country Week Picnic Association, about four hundred are children. They come from the various poorer sections of Philadelphia to enjoy a valuable day in the country with rest, fresh air and good wholesome food abundant.

It is always a lot of work for the local Chairman, Harvey R. Pierce, and the committee heads and members to prepare for the picnic but, each year, when the day comes at last and they see the genuine appreciation of the mothers and children, the work seems well repaid.

PIRATES CHAMPIONS OF JUNIOR LEAGUE

Pirates Defeat Sluggers and Eagles to Rank Top in Junior Ball

With a golden opportunity before them to hand out a smarting defeat to the Pirates and thus tie the unbeaten club, the Sluggers muffed their chance last week and handed the Pirates the game by their foolish base running and poor fielding.

Because of this win, The Pirates won the first half-championship of the league. Although defeated, the Sluggers have the distinction of being the only team to knock twirler Dickson out of the box. Led by Thorpe, the Sluggers' centerfielder, the defeated team managed to roll up a formidable tally of hits. Thorpe alone reared a fine triple and a long single.

Clayton, Sluggers' pitcher, did a good job. His fast ball and his sharp breaking hook did serious damage to Pirate batting. Friday's game between the Eagles and the Pirates saw the Pirates rating another close call. Going into the sixth inning they trailed the Eagles 4-2, but managed to escape together four runs on the basis of one hit, three walks, and an error to nose out the Eagles 6-4.

Gillian featured with a homer and a double to lead his team, the Eagles, in hitting. Clarkon, the Eagles' twirler, did a fine job and limited the opponents to three hits. Although their fielding was excellent and pitching good, the Eagles missed their chance in batting and thus lost the game.

On Monday, August 3, the second half of the junior baseball series opens, and promises to be a hard-fought contest with Cubs, Eagles, and Sluggers doing their best to wipe up the Pirates.

"Pinafore" and Fountains at Longwood Gardens Ever since 1932 a midsummer musical highlight at Longwood Gardens, the P. S. duPont estate, near Kennett Square, has been the appearance of "The Brandyvines" group of Wilmington singers in the Gilbert and Sullivan revival. Thousands recall with pleasure the presentations of "The Pirates of Penzance," "Holanthe," "The Gondoliers," and "Princess Ida."

"Pinafore" considered the most popular Gilbert and Sullivan classic, has been announced for August 6, 7 and 8 with a chorus of one hundred voices. Frederick W. Watt is musical director and F. W. Laird, Jr., production manager. Nick Carter, center fielder, is the featured soloist. The musical will be displayed after the open-air musical "Gaieties," which are again a benefit for the Boys' Club of Wilmington.

LINWOOD WIN MARKS HORNET HIGH POINT

Fine Sixth Inning Rally Ranks as Good End to Triple-Win Hornet Week

The Hornets' sensational sixth inning 6-3 win over Linwood on Tuesday brought to a close a highly successful week in which the local club defeated Morton 3-2 and Chester 14-0.

The Linwood battle probably ranks as the best Hornet playing of the season, and its sixth inning rally in which the local men hit four singles, two two-baggers, and a triple stand out as the finest example of Hornet ability and courage.

With the tally 3-1 against them, the Hornetmen rallied suddenly, and started pounding out long one after long one until five men had come in over home plate. Smith's triple was the highlight of the game, and proved vastly encouraging to the Hornet club.

Cheyney deserved much credit for the Linwood win. He pitched good ball, and allowed the visitors only three hits. In addition, he was responsible for a triple and a two-bagger himself, and did some good base running for the local team.

Other batters of note were Renshaw whose neat double popped high out into the outer garden and caught inwood new bat-fodder, McWilliams with two clean singles, and Smith whose lovely sixth inning triple has been mentioned.

The Hornetmen had a mournful start in the Linwood game. The first four innings were scores for the visitors and they rated only one run. Their opponents, however, had batted out two runs in the second and one in the fourth.

Then came the sixth in which Hornet batters rallied and won with the Linwood moundmen, and rebounded over the initial and key-tone sacks and the hot corner in rapid succession. Wolfe pounded out a single, Renshaw a double, McWilliams, Weiss, and Abernathy hit singles, and Cheyney and Smith a double and triple respectively.

The Linwood victory came merely as a conclusion to an already successful week. The Hornets 14-0 clean-up against the Smeltzites made of Chester was indicative of the trend of renewed vigor and ability. Alternately pitched a nice game in which the Chester boys rated only three singles. Shelly and Weiss added their support by knocking out two hits each.

As in the sixth inning which marked the Hornets' highpoint of achievement, Smith again batted a triple and Renshaw hit out a lovely double. Jennings, whose playing shows distinct improvement, pounded a single.

The Morton game was hard-fought in every way. It called for the best in Hornet hurling, fielding, and slugging. Smith hurled a nice game although the Morton men shammed out seven of his twirls, and he was responsible, too, for two long hits. Bill Shelly had a nice single.

The past week rates definitely as one of the best of the season. Renshaw, Smith, and Shelly did particularly fine work with the other Hornetmen doing their part well. The "nightmare" game, August 4, promises to be one of the year's most interesting contests.

Will Play "Nightmare" Game With Former Ball Players Next Tuesday Evening By Allen W. Harris

"My team will certainly win," emphasized rival coaches Porter Waite and Bill Shelly in referring to the famous "nightmare" baseball game to be played at 6:30 next Tuesday evening, August 4.

The combatting teams are the modern Hornets under Shelly's control, and the "oldsters," a group of former baseball players under Coach Waite's authority. Waite states that he is sure that his "experienced" team will wipe up the field, and Shelly is equally positive that the Hornets will "kick the pants off the other game."

In addition to their promises of victory, both sides charge that their opponents have brought in "rinners" to help them in this historic baseball struggle.

Be that as it may, spirit runs high in both camps, and all concerned are making furious preparations for the coming seven inning free-for-all.

Bucky Harris, pitcher for the oldsters, threatens to hurl a no-hit game, but other members of his team, it is said, have pledged with him to allow the Hornets at least one short hunt. He may give in. Bill Ziegenfuss in the oldsters' left field is doing his part to gain a great victory over the young Hornets. He has, it is definitely stated, been practicing hundred yard dashes the last few weeks in case the Hornets accidentally hit one out his way. Which does were a welcome addition to the garage next to the Fire House.

In another two weeks' time the work will be complete, oak floors will have been installed in both halls, the council chamber has been cleaned, the public department, oak treads placed on the stairs, and the woodwork finished. The entire renovation will accomplish a most decided turn for the better in the appearance of the inside of the building.

LIBRARY TO CLOSE AFTER TOMORROW

Special Leniencies in Effect to Cover Recess from August 3 to 17

Tomorrow morning and afternoon, Saturday, August 1, will be the last times the Swarthmore Public Library will be open until the regular afternoon and evening hours of Monday, August 17.

The issuance of double the number of books ordinarily permitted on one card is being taken out this week may be kept until the last day on which the Library has hours during the week of the 17th without penalty, or in the case of pay-shed books without additional charge being made for the period when the Library is closed.

Not only is this a good opportunity to have plenty of time to enjoy that book you have been wanting to get, but it will also be of great advantage to the school children of the Borough who are now working on their summer reading lists and who will find the many books contained therein especially separated on the shelves of the local Library as published in the SWARTHMOREAN last week.

Whether your taste in summer reading runs to light or heavy fiction, the detective story or something like the "tragedy of Nijinsky," you can satisfy it at the Swarthmore Public Library. So close is the judgment of the book committee to that of popular approval as registered by book lists throughout the country, that the local library shelves have ministers of the twenty-one novels currently listed as best sellers. That is pretty near to a perfect score and if you haven't read the new books listed below, you have two chances, today and Saturday, to withdraw one or more to hold over the next two weeks when the Library will be closed for the summer recess. Recently acquired titles are:

- Light Fiction: Baldwin, Private Duty; Holton, Stormy Weather; Loring, Give Me One Summer; Rinchart, Doctor; Rosman, Mother of the Year; Tracy, Fly Away Blackbird; Wheatley, Saturday at Hazledins. Detective Stories: Allingham, Flowers for the Judge; Child, Diamond Ransom Murders; Dyer, Catalyst; Jub; Goldman, Judge Robinson Murdered; King, Profile of a Murderer; Queen, Halfway House; Sargent, McCannister; Applewhite; Shanks, Dark Green Circle; Teibelt, Feather Cloak Murders; Vandercook, Murder in Fiji; Walling, Corpse with a Dirty Face. Serious Novels and Non-Fiction: Hildegarde Chasman; Bourman, Tragedy of Nijinsky; Grant, Islands; DeKalb, Far Enough; Frost, Further Range; Goldhaus, Stubborn Roots; Jacob, Honor Come Back; Jarrett, Strange Accidents; Johnson, Spring Storm; Kelley, So Fair a House; Lehmann, Warbler in the Streets; McCormack, "Blaze Country; Malraux, Days of Wrath; Mann, Stories of Three Decades; Mitchell, Gone with the Wind; Niles, Day of Immense Sun; Phillips, Home in Vienna; His drive and serve were equal to Buckman, but his net game was weak and lazy and undoubtedly lost several games for him. The strong wind impeded both Brown and Buckman, and kept them from playing their best games. The same wind was much to blame in the Tomlinson win over Lingle. Petra's hard drive seemed uncertain, and the shifting winds did little to aid it. The girls' finals were well-played by both Tomlinson and Lingle, and showed keen ability on both sides. The boy's contest between H. Buckman and Ewinc were particularly interesting and unusually hard-fought. The final 6-4, 2-6, 7-5 victory for Ewinc indicates the closeness of the contest. Ewinc had a smoother drive and a slightly faster serve which gained him his win. Buckman, on the other hand, played a keen net game and showed remarkable speed on the courts. Considerable crowds of Swarthmoreans watched the various tennis matches, and seemed well satisfied with the playing of the contestants. To date over a thousand names are signed up as having played on the Swarthmore courts, Fawcett and Longwell announced yesterday. This shows the popularity of the local courts, and their importance in sports' life. A doubles tournament was announced for next week. Application for admittance to the tournament should be made to Bill Fawcett.

Remodel Spare Brothers

The continual steady growth of business has made it necessary for Spare Brothers, Seventh Street and Edmont Avenue, Chester, to remodel the entire store in a manner that will permit the enlarging of almost every department. The work of remodeling has already begun, and in an interview, Nathan Spare, proprietor of the well known local department store, said that it will take at least two to three months to complete all the operations which will transform his store into vastly improved and attractive quarters.

Preliminary work, of one kind, began about two months ago, when a well was drilled on Welsh Street to provide a source of water for the air-conditioning system to be installed in the renovated store. This cooling system will provide a comfortable temperature in summer weather, said Mr. Spare, without the clammy chill of certain other air-cooled systems. The entire store will be air-cooled by this process.

In addition to the general remodeling throughout both floors, a new basement will be constructed, and certain departments will be moved there where they will enjoy larger quarters. New rest rooms for the convenience of shoppers, children, and store employees also will be provided in the newly built basement. Extra steel girders and other supports are being installed to take care of the new construction, and an extra new basement has been made at the Welsh Street side of the store to take care of the electrical transformer which will provide the store with the power for its increased electricity needs.

Last week workmen removed the old corrugated iron awning over the Edmont Avenue entrance, and began boarding up the windows preparatory to remodeling the exterior of the store. New windows and new entrances will be installed. The windows will be of artistic design, trimmed with var-color marble, and the two new entrances will be on Edmont Avenue and facing Seventh Street.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Moore, of Vassar Avenue, arrived home on Saturday from a trip in the west during which they visited the Centennial at Dallas, Texas. They were called home earlier than planned on account of the illness of their sons, Charles and Billy, who had been left at camp. The children are now recovering at their home.

Suggests New Automobile Official

A "Safety Speedometer" on the cover of this month's Kryston Motorist, official publication of the Keystone Automobile Club, is attracting wide attention and already suggestion has been made that the idea be incorporated in speedometers of motor vehicles.

The speedometer facsimile reveals at a glance the distance covered in feet per second, at various speeds, the average braking distance at those speeds, the reaction time in terms of feet per second, and the average stopping distance.

"It should be emphasized," said Howard J. Gallagher, Manager of the Delaware County Division of the Club, "that the stopping distance is the braking distance, plus the reaction distance. This vital factor is almost universally overlooked by motorists, who regard braking distance as the most important consideration in controlling a car. Reaction time is really 'thinking distance'—that is, the distance traveled before the body translates into action the first mental impulse to stop. Some drivers react more quickly than others, but the average as shown on the 'Safety Speedometer' has been determined accurately through many scientific tests."

The Keystone dial shows that 20 miles per hour a car travels 29 feet per second. The average braking distance is 28 feet, making the stopping distance 57 feet.

At 40 miles per hour, or 59 feet per second, the braking distance is 109 feet, the reaction distance 45 feet and the stopping distance 154 feet. At 60 miles per hour a vehicle covers 88 feet per second, and the stopping distance is 312 feet—made up of 248 feet braking distance and 66 feet reaction distance.

Beyond 60, it's all guesswork. As explained by the Club: "Human frailty is too great; physical materials too imperfect to permit science to measure with accuracy your stopping distance and braking distance at such a terrific speed."

The reaction distances alone at speeds in excess of 60 are shown to be 72 feet at 65 M. P. H.; 79 at 70, 83 at 75, 88 at 80, 94 at 85 and 98 at 90.

Suggestions for the incorporation of the idea in motor vehicle speedometers comes from Emanuel Gorfine, Speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates, who wrote to the Club: "I think that if manufacturers of automobiles do not adopt the use of a dial of this kind for future automobiles, that an attempt should be made to have legislation enacted in the various states making it compulsory to use such dials."

Robin Hood Theatre in Sixth Season

The Robin Hood Theatre at Arden, Del., presents "Her Cardboard Lover," opening Wednesday of this week and continuing tonight and tomorrow night.

This will be the sixth production of the sixth season of the Robin Hood Theatre. The ten-week season will be complete just before Labor Day.

A few of this season's features are a leading lady famous in New York and Hollywood (Dulcy Cooper); a director from America's leading repertory company (Thema Chandler); a full professorial resident cast; ten of the best of recent Broadway plays; an apprentice group of prize drama students.

Miss Cooper's name, both in New York and on the Pacific Coast, is synonymous with all that is best in her craft.

Her New York triumphs include outstanding successes in "Little Spifire," "Courage," the thrilling mystery, "The Clutching Claw," and the uproarious farce, "Married and How" in all of which she carried the leading female roles. In stock she was leading lady for Henry P. Duffy, master of Pacific Coast producers. Under Duffy's management, Miss Cooper appeared for an entire season at the glitzy Hollywood Theatre in Los Angeles, and prior to that, as leading lady of his Seattle stock company. Her West Coast experience also includes leading roles opposite the well known Edward Everett Horton. With him she appeared at the Maritime Theatre in Los Angeles in "Overboard" and "The First Year." The "movies," too, are no strange medium to Miss Cooper, her most recent one being "The Mask," with the young English-born star, Brawley Fletcher.

Thema Chandler, for four years, has been associated with Eve Le Gallienne in the Civic Repertory Theatre.

Miss Chandler has stage managed and acted as co-director for Miss Le Gallienne in such notable plays as "Cradle Song," "Romeo and Juliet" and "Alice in Wonderland," along with the dozens of other productions in the organization's repertoire.

In past summers she has held similar posts at the Festival Theatre, Plymouth, Mt. Kisco, and at the Westport Country Playhouse, where Lawrence Langner, of the N. Y. Theatre Guild, holds forth.

Edwin Ross and Robert C. Schnitzer are again co-managers at the Robin Hood.

Mr. Ross has just completed a triumphal tour of "Cyrano de Bergerac" with Walter Hampden. During his six years' association with that distinguished actor-manager, Mr. Ross has played dozens of parts from "Carrying Waits" to major roles and has trod the boards in every important city in the United States and Canada.

The coming season will be his sixth at Arden also, as he founded the Robin Hood upon the opening of his first year as a professional actor.

Mr. Schnitzer has been continuously busy in the legitimate theatre since his graduation from Columbia University in 1927. For seven seasons he has been Assistant Stage Manager as well as actor for Walter Hampden. He has also stage managed such stars as Henry Hull, Katherine Hepburn, Blanch Yurka, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Norma Terris, Edith Barrett. As an actor he has appeared with Katharine Cornell,

LOCAL BOYS ATTEND CLINCH RIVER CAMP

John Wright and John Jaquette Working at Friends' Volunteer Camp in Tennessee

John Fisher Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Wright, of Whittier Place, is a member of the Clinch River Friends Service Committee Volunteer Camp near Tazewell in Tennessee. Mr. Wright is a sophomore at Swarthmore College. Last year he was active on the Freshman Soccer team. He graduated from Westtown School in 1935. At Westtown he was on the varsity basketball, baseball and soccer team.

John Joseph Jaquette, of Elm Avenue, is one of the forty-five volunteer workers selected to attend the Emergency Peace Campaign's T. V. A. camp at Clinch River. Mr. Jaquette, who has been in camp since June 26, is a sophomore at Haverford College. He graduated from Westtown School in 1935.

At Haverford Mr. Jaquette is active in soccer and cricket. He also belongs to the Haverford Liberal Club and Glee Club.

Sarah Sargent, one of the workers for the peace committee American Friends Service Committee, is at present active in the Clinch River Volunteer Work Camp. Miss Sargent is a graduate of Swarthmore College in the class of 1932. She was a teacher at the International School in Geneva, Switzerland.

The Volunteer Work Camps are one of many synchronized peace activities being maintained by the Emergency Peace Campaign, whose aim is to keep the United States from going to war, and war out of the world.

The Clinch River Camp is the largest of seven similar ventures. Under the active leadership of Wilhelm and Maria Hubben students interested in social problems of our national life, from schools all over the continent have assembled at Clinch River to build dams for erosion control and to provide fish-rearing ponds for the territory. Along with the actual physical work of improving the soil, the volunteer campers are working in close co-operation with the T. V. A. Study of co-operative, rehabilitation projects and methods of carrying them out adopted by the T. V. A. are under consideration. Many of the Authority officials are helping in teaching their particular fields of work.

F. B. Francis Says:

"In Daniel Boone's day the careful man always kept his powder dry, regardless of what else got wet. Our reputation has taken years to build . . . it must ever be considered in the pricing of our USED CARS . . . or, like the neglected powder, it would soon be rendered useless."

That family which has always wanted a new car, yet has felt the price a bit high . . . will be tickled skinny with the 1935 Deluxe DeSoto Touring Sedan, which we traded in on a new 120 a day or so ago.

We have a 1935 Six-Cylinder Chrysler Convertible Coupe that will make some young fellow's eyes pop! Very few miles are on it . . . it can't be told from new . . . and is anxious to get back on the open highway again.

A 1935 120 Sedan wants a new home. It's worthy of it . . . and will go thousands of miles to prove it.

A 1932 Nash Sedan will fit the needs and pocketbook of some deserving family. We have it here for your inspection.

A 1931 Hudson Sedan with plenty of carefree miles can be had at a very low price.

A 1931 Hupmobile Sedan awaits the early buyer.

There's a 1931 Packard Sedan ready to go anywhere in the United States. At a price which will give you fire sale ideas.

"These cars are all in fine condition, and can be seen at our place anytime. All prices are plainly marked . . . price mistakes are impossible!"

AUTOMOBILE CLUB OUTLINES ROUTES

Cites Best Roads to National Guard Camp and Pennsylvania Folk Festival

Pennsylvania's National Guard in camp at Indiantown Gap and the Pennsylvania Folk Festival will attract many motorists from this area, said Walter N. White, manager of the Travel Bureau of the Automobile Club of Philadelphia, A.A.A.

Songs, dances and other amusements of the pioneer settlers of Pennsylvania will be presented at the Folk Festival being held July 30 to August 2 on the campus of Bucknell University. This festival, planned as an educational event, will furnish its visitors with a variety of entertainment that can be seen nowhere else and is expected to revive many old arts that are fast becoming forgotten. Five regional folk festivals were held in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Wilkes-Barre, Altoona and Allentown and from these has been assembled the best ballad singers, old-time fiddlers and jig dancers and square dancers in the State to appear at Lewisburg.

The best route to Lewisburg at the present time is U. S. Route 30 to Lancaster, U. S. Route 230 to Harrisburg, U. S. Route 11 along the Susquehanna River to a short distance north of Shamokin Dam, where State Route 404 is taken to Lewisburg, 161 miles.

Another route passing the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation where the 28th Division of the Pennsylvania National Guard will be encamped until July 31 is to take U. S. Route 422 out Germantown Avenue through Norristown, Pottstown, Reading and Lebanon. Here take State Route 72 north to U. S. Route 22, turning west on U. S. 22 to Harpers Tavern and the camp. Leaving the camp, follow U. S. 22 to Harrisburg and take U. S. Route 11 and State Route 404 to Lewisburg. This route is somewhat longer, it being 94 miles to Harpers Tavern and 176 miles to Lewisburg.

Three afternoons and evenings were set aside for the presentation of folk-lore material. Thursday evening was devoted to racial folk-lore, such as that of the Cornplanter Indians, the Pennsylvania Germans, the French pioneers and the Welsh, Scotch, Negroes and Ukrainians.

Occupational folk-lore will be presented tonight, Friday. The legends and ballads, tunes and dances of the coal miners, river raftsmen, lumberjacks, canal boatmen, stage coach drivers, oil well drillers and Conestoga wagoners will be revived by old-timers in these almost forgotten occupations. Nearly all of this material is native to Pennsylvania.

Saturday will be contest night when jig and clog dancers, figure callers for square dances, auctioneers, street criers and ballad singers will compete for medals. The feature will be a competition by five teams of square dancers from the various regional festivals for the State championship and a cash prize.

On Saturday afternoon there will be reunions of veteran miners, raftsmen, lumberjacks, railroaders, canal boatmen and other survivors of early occupations.

In connection with the Festival there will be an exhibition of native Pennsylvania folk arts. The outstanding feature will be an authentic Indian village erected by the Cornplanter Indians of Warren County. They will wear their traditional costumes and practice their native arts and crafts just as they do on their reservation. This may be the last chance to see these Indians together as a proposed PWA flood control project will, if carried out, flood their reservation and scatter the Indians.

EXHIBITS OF MERIT AT FRANKLIN INST.

Museum and Fels Planetarium Educational As Well As Fascinating

An interesting and beneficial trip these summer days may be made to the Museum at the Franklin Institute, Parkway and Twentieth Street, Philadelphia. The next time you are in town a delightful interval from shopping or a restful filler for some unoccupied period of the day, will be yours if you plan to visit this "Wonderland of Science" which is too vast for brief description. Its many sections provide fascinating demonstrations and experiments in physics, chemistry, engineering, graphic arts, aviation, astronomy, and other branches. Most exhibits are operated by the visitors themselves at the turn of a handle or touch of a button; others by competent guides.

Unique in America, it entertains, instructs and fascinates young and old. To see it is to enjoy and to learn science in every-day life.

There are special demonstration lectures every day. The subjects are changed at frequent intervals.

Open from 2 P. M. until 10 P. M. on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday, the schedule of hours for Saturday and holidays is 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. The Museum is not open on Monday and Tuesday.

And then there is The Fels Planetarium, reached from the entrance on the Parkway. Demonstrations lasting about forty-five minutes are given at 3 P. M. and 8:30 P. M. every day except Monday and Tuesday. On Saturday there are also demonstrations at 12 M. and 4 P. M. and on Sunday at 4 P. M.

The demonstrations are accompanied by explanatory talks. During July the subject has been "Evening Skies of Summer." August's topic will be "The Moon."

Hedgerow Theatre Schedule

More and more Hedgerow Theatre is making use of musical and other sound interpolations during its play productions. During its Shaw Festival this has been especially noticed with the introduction of records of Oscar Straus' music composed for "The Chocolate Soldier," the musical version of Shaw's "Arms and the Man."

On Thursday, July 30, and Friday, July 31, the final performances of the Third Annual Shaw Festival take place, when Hedgerow presents "Arms and the Man" and "The Devil's Disciple" respectively.

On Saturday, August 1, "Kit Marlowe," Coxie drama of Elizabethan times, will be shown with Walter Williams in the title role. Others in the large cast are Catherine Corcoran, Miriam Phillips, Eleanor Wilson, Rose Schulman, Ferd Nofer, Herbert Walton, Alfred Rowe and Helen Alexander.

Shaw's "Arms and the Man" will be repeated for the fifty-fifth time on Monday, August 3. In the cast are Mary Escherick, Ferd Nofer, Alfred Rowe, Helen Alexander, Harry Sheppard, Miriam Phillips and Jasper Deeter.

On Tuesday, August 4, Anderson's drama of small-town folks, "Winesburg, Ohio," will be played.

On Wednesday, August 5, the newest Shaw addition to the Hedgerow repertory of 118 plays, the comedy-drama, "Getting Married," will be repeated with Eleanor Wilson, Harvey Welch, Rose Henley, Harry Sheppard, Betty Fuller, Alfred Rowe, Jay Davis, Mabel Sheppard and Ferd Nofer, John Bartram and Miriam Phillips in the cast. This play, which more than satisfied full houses on two nights last week, Monday's premiere and again Tuesday, is really worthwhile.

"An American Tragedy" (Dreiser-Piscator), the stylized drama of modern times, in the Greek manner, having a speaker (Harry Sheppard) interpolate explanatory lines, will be given on Thursday, August 6.

Friday, August 7, sees the fifth presentation of the new play introduced on June 29, "The Lonesome West," by Lynn Riggs. In the cast are Cele McLaughlin, Jay Davis, Hugh Graham, Mabel Sheppard, Helen Laird, Adrienne Bancker, Harry Sheppard and Jasper Deeter.

On Saturday, August 8, Shaw's comedy-debate, "Misalliance," revised for the Festival, will be repeated, with Catherine Rieser, Harry Sheppard, Mabel Sheppard, Maria Coxie, Harvey Welch and Ed Pettit.
