SPRING CONCERT AT CLUB TUESDAY

Women to Sing in Annual Program; Girl Scouts Paid Yearly Visit to Club Last Tuesday

The Woman's Club Chorus will present their annual spring concert at 2.30 P. M. on Tuesday, April 5, at the Club House. The program is in charge of Mrs. Lloyd Kauffman, chairman of music with Henry Hotz, of Philadelphia, director. The chorus will be assisted by Harold Mecklin, violinist. Mrs. R. Chester Spencer will give a brief history of the music section of the Club.

The literature section of the Club will meet at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, April 7. Mrs. Clifford Buck will review Kipling's "Something of Myself."

The Girl Scouts of Swarthmore held center stage at the Woman's Club on Tuesday, March 29, opening their program with a march and the salute to the flag.

The Brownies, under the capable direction of Mrs. J. Paul Brown, entertained with singing games, which were followed by the Brownie "Fly-Up." By this ceremony three girls, Mary Elizabeth Evas, Frances Evans and Patsy McCahan, were initiated into Troop 16 of the Girl Scouts. They were welcomed by the troop leader, Mrs. George Zimmer.

The play, "Specialities", originally written in Swedish by Charlotte Blensdorf, was presented by Troop 16. Those taking part were Betty Ann Kite, Carol Maud Froebel, Lois Landon, Jean Flaherty, Betty Ann Hulme, Jane Schoff, Mary Frances Dimmitt and Barbara Kent. The play was directed by Miss Irma Zimmer and was announced by Nancy Hoot.

Troop 2, Mrs. Henry Hanzlik, Captain, presented the playlet, "S. O. S. Girl Scouts", written for the occasion by Mrs. Alan Carpenter of Swarthmore. Mrs. W. R. Huey assisted Mrs. Carpenter in the production. The cast consisted of Ruth Lipman, Mary Gary, Dulcie Thomas, Betty Moseley, Ann Bradford, Martie Jean Crosby, Jean Gehring, Jean Storrs, Edith Thatcher, June Ullman, Betty Ellen Littlefield, Nancy Van Alen, Patty Tunis and Helen Worst.

Troop 6, of which Mrs. Frederick Child is Captain, concluded the program with the dramatization of the ballad, "Auld Robin Gray." Ruth Child sweetly and effectively sang a solo, which was later pantomimed by the following girls: Ruth Child, Betty Broadbent, Dorothy Wilson, Virginia Craemer and Janet Harris.

The program was in charge of the Club citizenship chairman, Mrs. E. R. Laws. Mrs. Raymond Littlefield was the accompanist for all the musical numbers. Refreshments of punch and pretzels were served. Mrs. Rex Gary and Mrs. Albert Sidney Johnson were hostesses for the day.

Among those attending the preview of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm", held at the Boyd Theatre in Chester on Tuesday, March 29, were: Mrs. Alfred Gary White, Mrs. Harold Griffin, Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. Henry Peirson, Mrs. C. C. West, Mrs. Charles Bolton, Mrs. E. D. Brauns, Mrs. Robert Shepard, Mrs. John Brownell, Mrs. Anthony Venturini, Mrs. Roland Eaton, Mrs. J. Warren Paxon, Mrs. M. S. Strieby, Mrs. Arno Viehover, Mrs. R. M. Richmond, Mrs. Harvy Whitaker, Mrs. T. Harry Brown, Mrs. Ralph Dinsmore, and Mrs. Harold Goodwin.

Swift for first and second honors, with Mrs. John Bowditch and Mrs. Fred Wilson, third.

BARNSTORMERS PRESENT "ACCENT ON YOUTH"

The Ridley Park Barnstormers presented Samson Raphaelson's comedy "Accent on Youth" as this year's exchange performance before Players' Club audiences, March 24, 25, and 26.

Produced under the direction of Jane W. Hoffman, the play, woven about a May-December love, was well staged throughout. Frank S. Given's portrayal of Flogdell, the most companionable, sympathetic, and useful of butlers, was outstanding.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Passmore playing opposite each other as Stephen Gaye and Linda Brown complemented each other's work nicely. Charles Rickards played the immature juvenile lead, "Dickie Reynolds", with considerable speed and impetuosity. In contrast to the slow tempo in which the production was geared, Mr. Rickard's tempestuous exits had the effect of a sudden storm.

William Asprey as the frankly middle-aged "Frank Galloway", Ruth Metzler as the glamorous actress "Genevieve Lang", and Helen Mac Elwee as "Miss Darling", contributed consistent characterizations. "Butch" (Hubert Verhey) and "Chuck" (John Dempsey) were satisfactory stock characters.

Mr. Raphaelson is evidently convinced that the roughness of love's course is not varied by the age of those smitten and that good comedy can be built upon so slight a foundation. "Accent on Youth" is that comedy and must carry the burden of proof.

Makes Biggest Miami Catch

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Liebeck will return Sunday to their home on Park avenue after a six weeks' vacation in Miami, Fla. Mr. Liebeck made the largest catch there last week—a 62 pound sail fish.

There will be no charge of admission and friends of the College are cordially invited to attend.

Creeps Nearer to National Championship

Ruth Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wilson, of Ogden avenue, came close to capturing the national table tennis championship last Friday night when she was defeated in the semi-finals by Emily Fuller, of Bethlehem, number two player of the United States. Ruth Hughes Aarons, 1937 champion, not defending the title, Miss Fuller is now the first lady of table tennis in this country. This was the fourth time Miss Wilson had met Miss Fuller.

Ruth Wilson came out of the national tournament, held at the Broadwood Hotel, Philadelphia, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, rating fourth, having defeated two seeded players. Dolores Keunz, of St. Louis, Mo., 16-21, 21-18, 21-12, and Jane Stahl, of Providence, R. I., who was ranked eighth, 12-18, 12-15, 21-17.

DR. PEARSON DIES

Career of Former College Professor, Chautauqua Director and Governor of the Virgin Islands Ends Quietly

Dr. Paul Martin Pearson, former Governor General of the Virgin Islands and Swarthmore College Professor, died in the Stanford Hospital, San Francisco, California, Saturday night, March 26, where he was taken on February 28 after he suffered a stroke while sleeping in the early morning. From 1902 to 1932 Dr. Pearson resided in this village and with his family was closely identified with its community life. His death brought to a close a long career of public service.

Dr. Pearson was born near Litchfield, Illinois on October 22, 1871, the son of Samuel Martin and Ellen Cameron Pearson. Early in his boyhood he drove with his family in a prairie schooner to Cherryvale, Kansas, where he secured his elementary education. He worked his way through Baker University by giving lecture recitals, receiving his A. B. in 1891. After graduation he continued his work in Public Speaking, taking graduate work at Northwestern University and at Harvard and earning his A. M. in 1895. Baker University awarded him the degree of Litt. D. in 1909.

Dr. Pearson was among the country's foremost teachers of speech. He returned to Cherryvale in 1891 and taught in the High School there until 1894. On June 11, 1896, he married Edna Wolfe, of Parsons, Kansas, whom he had met at Baker University. From 1896 to 1901 he taught at Northwestern University and in 1902 he became Professor of Public Speaking at Swarthmore College, a position which he held until 1919. He edited "The Speaker", "The Lyceum Magazine", wrote "Intercollegiate Debates" and compiled "Extemporaneous Speaking" and "Humorous Speaker."

Dr. Pearson was known and loved in thousands of small towns all over the United States as a Chautauqua and Lyceum Lecturer. Two of his lecture recitals, "Paul Lawrence Dunbar" and "James Whitcomb Riley," were especially popular.

In two thousand small towns along the Atlantic seaboard from Canada to South Carolina he was known as the organizer and president of the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association. Organized in 1912, this association operated until the fall of 1930, serving its towns honorably, giving livelihood to countless employees, adding to the business and reputation of this community. From 1921 to 1923 he was Director and President of the Lyceum and Chautauqua Association of America.

In 1931 Dr. Pearson was appointed by President Hoover to be the first civilian Governor of the Virgin Islands.

HODGE DIRECTS APRIL PLAY

English Court Play, "The Unguarded Hour," Opens at Players Club Next Tuesday

The April production at the Players' Club of Swarthmore will be Bernard Merivale's "The Unguarded Hour," a play based on the German "Kopf in Der Schlinge" of Otto Bastian. Produced and directed under the skillful hand of D. Malcolm Hodge, this piece is the second play whose theme and action revolves about a lawyer, which he has presented to Swarthmore audiences. There is every reason to forecast that a most excellent performance will be the outcome of the Director's experience with this type of play. It will be remembered that he produced "Counsellor-at-Law" three years ago.

"The Unguarded Hour" was originally written in two acts and five scenes, but Mr. Hodge has adapted it to four acts with two settings, in order to better suit the facilities of the stage of the Clubhouse. The play enjoyed a long run at Daly's Theatre in London and appeared under the same name as a moving picture with Franchot Tone, Loretta Young, Lewis Stone and Roland Young heading the cast, but its appearance as the April production in Swarthmore will constitute its American debut on the legitimate stage.

With the action taking place in a Court Room of the "Old Bailey," London's famous criminal court, and in the presiding judge's library in Queen Anne's Gate, and with the participation of characters bearing titled names, as well as the head of Scotland Yard, an entirely authentic and suitable English atmosphere will be created. There has always been an interest—even a fascination—surrounding trials held at the Old Bailey, and when it is a murder trial, with the evidence all circumstantial, and with the prosecuting attorney suddenly finding himself in the same position as the defendant about whom he has woven the chain of condemning circumstances, it is not strange that a series of extra special thrills awaits audiences of "The Unguarded Hour."

It is not necessary to have a wide experience of Players' Club productions to realize that the casting committee has so expertly placed roles in the hands of capable and talented players as to assure in advance a most successful performance. Allen C. Wood is "Lord Selfredge," the presiding judge. John David Narberth portrays "Metcalf," the defendant on trial for his life, and Mr. Hodge, himself, plays "Sir Francis Dearden, K. C.," the Kings Prosecutor who knows how to handle a relentless cross-examination. Roland G. Harrison will be "Wyndham Brown," attorney for the defendant, and Willard V. Markey has the part of "Clerk of the Court." A new-comer to Swarthmore audiences, Mr. Markey has had considerable experience with the Crossroads Players in Washington, D. C.

Isabel Briggs Myers plays "Diana Lewis," a witness, and Alexander Dryden is cast as "Sergeant Atkins," both being parts for which they are eminently suited. James B. Douglas, Jr., interprets "Pewson," the faithful butler, as his initial appearance behind the footlights. In the capable hands of Robert W. Stabler will be the part of "Colonel William Mason," the head of Scotland Yard. Mr. Stabler has also assisted in directing the play.

Catherine Gayle Hodge appears as "Yvonne," the Barrister's wife, a role very similar to others which she has handled so successfully, while Stafford W. Parker as "Sir Thomas Grainger," the Court Pathologist, and Dr. A. Francis Jackson as "Lord Henningway," both have parts which will bring out the peculiarly inimitable qualities of these two seasoned players. Lilla Herman as "Lady Henningway," and Clarence G. Myers as "Inspector Wallace" of Scotland Yard, will interpret roles which are also similar to parts which they have taken in the past with much distinction. The spirit of English Youth will be represented by two newcomers, Philippa Herman as "Lillian Berendt," and D. Cameron Bradley as "George Fleming." Miss Herman has had experience in broadcasting, and Mr. Bradley played with the Mustard and Cheese Dramatic Club while attending Lehigh University.

Thus the cast provides an interesting mixture of old and new faces, and should be a sufficient drawing card to pack the clubhouse auditorium on the nights of April 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9.

A MOTHER FOR A MINUTE
It was close to midnight. At the switchboard in a small town telephone office sat a lone operator answering an occasional call. "Number, please?" . . . "Thank you, number, please!" But on this call, no request for a number was heard. Instead, a child's voice sobbed, "Mummy, please come home. Come home, mummy, I've scared!"

Noting the telephone number, the operator said, "All right, dear, you go back to bed. I'm coming home right away."

Then—quickly—she looked up the address of the telephone . . . then the number of the telephone next door. She called that number. Did the neighbor know where the child's mother might be? She did . . . oh, she was right there? Then—but you can guess the rest—except this:

That operator of ours is mighty proud of a letter she received from a very grateful mother of a little child who was "scared".

And it occurs to us that even a grown-up can feel a little safer—a little more secure both day and night—when there's a telephone in the home. The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

BORO COUNCIL IN ROUTINE SESSION

Interested Citizens Attend Public Hearing on Proposed Zoning Exceptions

Leonard C. Ashton and Ellwood B. Chapman, members of the Board of Adjustment, appeared before Borough Council assembled for its regular meeting Wednesday, April 6, and asked Council for suggestions as to the procedure to be followed in making exceptions to the zoning ordinance. Council refused advice on grounds that until the zoning ordinance was amended it had no authority in the matter and the Board had sole responsibility for decisions made. A large group of citizens appeared at the meeting to hear the discussion.

At the close of the public hearing, a discussion of the off the street parking ordinance occurred but no action was taken. Borough Solicitor Myers reported on the law suit instituted by Dr. Kistler in regard to the refused motion picture house.

Routine reports were given by the Finance, Highway and Public Safety Committees and the meeting adjourned. All Councilmen were present except N. O. Pittenger and William R. Argyle.

SPORTS REVIEW

Lacrosse Teams of College and High School Play Lone and Stellar Roles During Week

Local sports activities, during the past week, were limited to the activities of the lacrosse teams. The Swarthmore College team reported two victories and the girls' team of Swarthmore High School played an exhibition game.

The College team swirled out of March like a lion, by defeating Williams on the local field on the last day of the month. The final score was Swarthmore 10, Williams 6. The Garnet jumped into an early lead and never headed. The score was 3-0 at the end of the first period; 4-2 at half time; and 6-3 at the three quarters mark.

Saturday, the Garnet rang up the second win of the week, when they defeated the Philadelphia Lacrosse Club, by the score of 15 to 8 on the local grounds. The visitors had several Swarthmore players in their lineup; but whose presence could not prevent Swarthmore from rolling up a half time count of 10 to 2. During the second half the visitors had a slight scoring edge but could not overcome the first half lead.

The girls' team of Swarthmore High School in conjunction with the Friends' Central team put on an exhibition game on Tuesday. Personnel of the two teams were mixed in order that school rivalry should not enter into the event; which was for the purpose of instructing spectators from various schools that anticipate the formation of girls teams.

The regular season for the girls' team starts on April 20, when they play Friends' Central on the local field.

LISTS SCHOOL PLAYGROUND NEEDS

Needed apparatus for body development of children is a challenge to a whole community. The fact that sports are needed for older children is generally accepted and educators have known for years that one of the most important factors in child care is its strongly developed bodies.

Under the Chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Spiller, a Parent-Teacher committee composed of Miss Lillian Hughes, of the Rutgers avenue School, Miss Jane Hoffman, of the College avenue School, and Mr. Robert Gerner, teacher of Physical Education and Science in the Junior High School, has scrutinized the needs of the school playgrounds. It finds that Swarthmore school equipment can accommodate about one-third of a school grade and that there are often grades on the playgrounds; consequently many children never use the small equipment provided, even though every child should have an opportunity for such growth.

The committee considers the first important need to be resurfacing of the playgrounds. No day passes on which children are not hurt by these cinders, which may carry infections, says Mr. Gerner. "This means resurfacing." Mothers who visit kindergarten complain of cinder hazards.

Flying Rings are needed. They add to strength of back muscles. A standard of four rings costs $10.

A Sturdy Outdoor Table comes next on the list. It would open up great pleasure and profit to children in play work which contributes much to their creative capacity.

Miss Price of the Kindergarten has long wished for "very large covered sandboxes for all Kindergarten children." Creative joys in childhood and freeing of nervous tensions all come from the universal fun of sand play for children. Sympathetic citizens can place them at each school for from $10 to $15 apiece.

There is a need for such equipment as bats and balls for all children in schools to borrow at recess periods. Parent-Teacher Associations all over the country are contributing such equipment. Mr. Gerner suggests that baskets for basketball be installed for the 5th and 6th Grades, for which there are no present facilities. Other obvious needs are for more horizontal bars and ladders (for those back and arm muscles) for various age levels. Miss Hughes asks for a good sliding board at the Rutgers avenue School. (Anyone could get a group of friends to contribute about $22 for it.)

Costs are mentioned in this report because Mrs. J. Paul Brown's Committee, now engaged in filling the Players' Club for the April 23 evening performance of "Little Women" is finding that fathers and mothers are adding several dollars apiece to guest card costs because that performance can only net about $125 and the school play equipment needed will cost several hundred dollars.

The Committee wishes to add that such luxuries as sturdy playhouses, for each school, great high double slides, to tempt the more courageous children, slides made of brass rollers, such as seen in other playgrounds, would delight Swarthmore children for many years. Swings innumerable would be welcomed. At present, there are three swings for thirty children (if only one grade is out at a time). Swings provide most delightful experiences and should be available in quantity.

In the matter of luxury—the finest gift in our schools would be two fine big jungle-gyms to last for children of all ages for many years. There are playgrounds with great circular shoot-the-shoots-to-give thrill on thrill, the sort of thing to make one forget those long hours of sedentary drill in a school room. $200 would give our playgrounds only a meager start in the health equipment of Swarthmore children. The committee urges that every Swarthmorean either support "Little Women" or send a few dollars extra to Mrs. J. Paul Brown, for good will toward our small children.

Students Stage Spectacular Stunts In 1938 Gym Night at High School

The annual Gym Night of the Swarthmore Junior and Senior High Schools, held last Friday evening, was an outstanding improvement over all previous physical education exhibitions of the school and drew lively applause from stands crowded with parents and friends in the gymnasium.

Originality and spectacular effects characterized the program. The eleventh and twelfth grades led off with games. Ruth Wilson, state champion and fourth ranking player of table tennis in the United States, was given good singles competition in ping pong by John Naisby. Ted Dingle and Billy Ann Mitchell played doubles with John Richards and Peggy Van Duser. At the same time two mixed doubles of badminton were in progress and a game of volleyball. Badminton players were Walton Nason and Betty Douglas vs. Louis Dethloff and Mary Donsall; Calvin Gerner and Anna Wood vs. William Gorman and Harriet Wickham.

The eighth grade lads appeared next in marching tactics followed by races. Next the girls of the seventh grade gracefully executed a German folk dance, after which the boys of the same grade entertained with more unique races and stunts. The eighth grade girls continued the show by dancing "Skipping Rhythm." The sixth number of the evening—the bicycle drill was one of the cleverest and most unusual parts of the program. Mounted on bicycles gaily decorated in red and white, boys of the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth grades rode a drill arrangement that is often done by cavalry units. The procedure required perfect timing and concentration and the fact that it was carried through without error is a credit to the youngsters and their training.

Tap and clog dances, "Eliza Jane," "Waltz Clog" and "Juneteenth," were presented by the seventh, ninth, eleventh and twelfth grade girls. The costuming of all the dances added greatly to their success. The boys of the ninth, tenth and eleventh grades gave a well directed athletic drill.

Ninth and tenth grade girls next rendered a Danish folk dance.

The boys of the Senior high school gave a remarkable fine assortment of acrobatic, apparatus and pyramid specialties as the program neared a close.

Borough Youngsters Expected to Turn Out En Masse for Egg Hunt

Swarthmore's annual Easter Egg hunt will be held Saturday morning, April 16, unless it rains in which case the Hunt will be postponed until later. Children twelve years old and under are to meet at Borough Hall Plaza at 10 A.M. promptly to hear the location of this year's hunt announced. Two sites have been chosen: one for children under seven so that they may have a fair chance to find the eggs; and one for children 7 years through 12. After the announcement there will be a rush from Borough Hall to the places where thousands of jelly eggs wrapped in wax paper are hidden. The packages will look alike from the outside but some of them will contain slips of paper. These will entitle the lucky finders to present them to the Swarthmore office where they will be replaced with the many prizes donated by the local merchants.

This will be the seventh year the Egg Hunt, sponsored by the Swarthmore Business Association and The Swarthmore, has attracted children in this vicinity. "Very small children should be accompanied by an adult. No prizes will be issued to children over the age limits.

Warns Personal Tax Delinquencies

To the Editor of The Swarthmorean: Dear Sir:

May I take the opportunity through the Swarthmorean to call the attention of the Borough tax payers to a few facts having to do with 1937 real estate and personal taxes.

Of interest to all real estate owners is the fact that 1937 real estate taxes unpaid as of May 1, 1938 will be turned in to Morris E. Smith, Justice of the Peace for collection.

Personal taxes for the year 1937, which include security taxes payable to the County, Borough occupation taxes and School per capita taxes, are a direct charge against the tax collector. Reminders have been sent out from my office to all of those delinquent on these 1937 personal taxes. In the near future those which have not been paid will be turned over to Mr. Morris E. Smith, Justice of the Peace for collection.

The total School Duplicate for 1937 real estate and personal taxes is $128,090.37. To date there has been collected $112,422.00 which approximates 88% of the Duplicate.

Borough real estate and occupation taxes of 1937 total $60,870.40 of which date $54,454.06 has been collected.

Very truly yours, SAMUEL M. DONN.

Senior Play Decided Success

The Senior class of the High School presented Philip Barry's sparkling comedy, "The Youngest," in a highly entertaining and professional manner on Friday evening, March 25th. The play moved swiftly, the conflict was lively and exciting while the boys and girls of the cast never missed an opportunity to make the most of Barry's subtle humor. Crawford Fetter carried off high honors in portraying the juvenile lead. Marjorie Tomlinson played opposite Crawford in the role of a man-managing debutante from New York, giving an excellent performance. Sustained praise goes to Grace Dodd who portrayed the difficult part of a peace loving mother, so badly up by her wrangling children. Kitty Brill, as the clever younger sister, played her part very capably, as did Marguerite Getz, in the role of the married sister with a fuming temper. Richard Paisrevice and Robert White handled their parts with finesse. Charles Davidson gave an excellent portrayal of his wife and his in-laws. Anne Wray appeared in the role of a well-trained maid who knew her place and how to fill it.

Actors and audience both united in their praise of Miss Hannah Kirk, who coached the performance and of Miss Borgwald and the school orchestra who contributed music between the acts.

Girl Scout News

There will be no meeting of Troop 16 tomorrow. The next meeting of the troop is scheduled for 2:30 P. M. Friday, April 22, in the Girl Scout House when Miss Frances Brown, of Lansdowne, will pass girls on first class signalling.

PARENT-TEACHERS COLUMN

College Avenue First Graders

The seventeen little first-graders arrive at the College Avenue school full of vitality and enthusiasm. They busy themselves with articles, books or pencils until Miss Abbott calls them to bring their chairs into a circle.

They then begin by telling of any bit of information they may have picked up, or of any unusual event that has occurred. Six-year-olds must talk, but Miss Abbott is gradually teaching them that talking once at a time permits lower voices and larger audiences. A little boy stands up to tell about his haircut, a little girl is proud of a new dress, a bit of writing done at home is exhibited with equal pride, and three little boys are bursting to tell about the railroad track they have just built with the blocks. Many a father would be surprised to find himself a hero in the eyes of the first grade because he played football with his son for a few minutes the previous evening.

The group then makes a plan for the day. The children suggest what they should do during the morning. Miss Abbott always makes sure that the proper amount of time is allotted to reading and writing; but as to whether their creative work should be painting, crayoning, or folk-dancing, that is left to the children to decide. The blocks are almost always used some time during the day, for they give a good opportunity for group activity. Miss Abbott reports that many a "block pig" has been turned into a co-operator; while replicas of the Empire State Building are admired and critiqued with equal frankness. A boy explained on one occasion that he had made a dead-end road because a girl was building her house next to his railroad and wanted that space for her garden!

Writing follows along naturally for children after they are accustomed to pencils and crayons for drawing. The use of the manuscript form simplifies later reading, for the children learn to write the letters as they will see them printed in books. They soon learn to copy words from the blackboard with great speed and skill. Sometimes they copy a story which Miss Abbott has written or one of the children has told. Reading combines the other activities with the fascinating work-books, which accompany the reading-books. Here are the new words of the story to be learned as they are cut out in strips and pasted in their proper places in the word-books; here is a picture about the story to be crayoned. Each child, while the others are busy with the work-books, has a turn reading individually to Miss Abbott. Perhaps one of the most noticeable signs of progress in modern education is the reading-book itself. The bright pictures of active children on every page make the boys and girls eager to read "Rides and Slides", for it is thus made a part of their own experiences; it is even dramatized in the schoolyard at recess time. There are other books besides the text-book. The first grade is proud of its library. Books may be taken out during free periods or overnight. One of the children is appointed librarian, and thus has developed in him a sense of responsibility to see that the books are brought back from home.

When the children begin to show strain, Miss Abbott calls for a quiet time. Heads go down on the tables to rest, while a victrola record is played. The children listen relaxed as "To a Wild Rose" or something equally soothing; then they guess what instrument was used. The creative arts, such as painting, drawing, and acting in little plays, etc., give the children a chance to express their individuality, and have an important place in the day's program.

In all these ways the first-grade children keep up a keen desire to learn and simultaneously have an opportunity to express their own thoughts and interests.

ral, at St. Bartholomew's in New York City on Wednesday, April 13, and returned home last night. Mrs. C. Kush, of New York City, is spending the Easter holidays with her daughter, Mrs. Bigelow.

DRAMA SECTION ENDS YEAR

Beatrice Beach MacLeod, Mrs. Robert H. MacLeod, director of dramatics at Swarthmore College, was the guest speaker on Thursday morning, April 14, at the closing meeting of the Drama Section of the Woman's Club.

A large group of members and their friends were fascinated by Mrs. MacLeod's story of her summer theatre at Whitefield, New Hampshire, where she directs the "Forty-Niners", a company of about twenty players, all members of the Actor's Equity Association and a student group of not more than twelve chosen from a great number of applicants.

This little theatre puts on a different play each week during the summer months and after Mrs. MacLeod's enthusiastic account of their work many club women expressed the hope that they might visit the "Forty Niners", this summer at Whitefield.

Mrs. Ullman then introduced the play "Just Women", a comedy in one act by Colin Clements. The scene is laid in Victorian England, the young queen is discussed and modern improvements are depicted. The stage was attractively set with antiques and the costumes worn by the cast were relics of the "eighties" and "nineties".

Mrs. Warren, of Northampton, played the part of the chairman, Mrs. Roland G. E. Ullman.

Miss Shirley Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David T. Shaw, of Walnut lane, arrived yesterday from Sweet Briar to spend the week-end with her parents. She brought her roommate, Miss Margaret Glicerit, of Savannah, Ga., with her.

HOME & SCHOOL HEARS MATHEWS

Mrs. Spiller and Robert Garner Expound Need for Playground Equipment

Parents and teachers met in the High School auditorium on Tuesday evening, April 12, for the regular Home and School meeting. Willard P. Tomlinson, the President, presided.

Mr. Robert Garner and Mrs. Robert Spiller spoke of the need for safe and sound equipment to give all children something to do on the playground. Ways of earning some of the money are in progress and it is hoped that sliding boards, seesaws, travel rings, basketball baskets and covered sand boxes can be provided.

The Nominating Committee submitted the following report for officers for 1938-39: President, Willard P. Tomlinson; Vice-president, Horace Hopkins; Secretary, Mrs. William T. Clay; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Lisle Whitist.

Mr. Horace Hopkins read an analysis of parents' and children's interests prepared by Mrs. George Allen from the questionnaires previously sent out. Mr. Tomlinson then introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Robert A. Mathews, of the psychiatric clinic at Jefferson Hospital, who discussed the topic, "Preparation for After School Life."

Dr. Mathews developed the points that from the time we are preparing for after school life or maturity, we know physical activity and intellectual growth are necessary, but the need for emotional maturity is often overlooked by parents and children themselves. Some adults remain emotionally unstable, for maturity is the capacity to fit ourselves into business and the home and things beyond our control, to accept success and failure, criticism and disappointments. He feels that self guidance is based on insight and foresight and a helpful kind of hindsight, and that there is a need for personal elasticity, as we live in a changing world, and that the security, sought by all, does not lie in fixity but adaptability. He believes that life will be successful or not as we accommodate ourselves to internal and external changes, for a balanced life consists of time for work, rest and play.

In closing Dr. Mathews gave these rules for mental hygiene: First—accept adaptation as necessary and possible. Adjustment toward almost any situation can be made; Second—see situations as they are, not as you think they should be; Third—budget daily activities to provide time for rest, exercise and play; Fourth—utilize spare time for performance of serious, satisfaction, giving work; Fifth—restrain or ignore self-pitying feelings, jealousy, suspicion, envy and revenge; Sixth—cultivate confidence, loyalty, courage and kindness; Sixth—use intelligence. Develop it by serious intellectual pursuits so that it may be ready when the need arises.

This program, he declared, can be the individual's contribution to the sick world and used on a large scale it would materially advance general human happiness.

Legion Auxiliary Next Thursday

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Harold Ainsworth Post, has been postponed one week on account of the usual date falling on Holy Thursday. Members will meet at 2 P.M. on April 21 in the Legion Room, Borough Hall. This is a correction of the notice which appeared in last week's issue of "The Swarthmorean" stating wrong days due to misinformation.

Moving Pictures at College

The second bill of moving pictures at the College this spring will be shown in Clothier Memorial Auditorium this Saturday night at 8:15. The feature picture will be Robert Donat and Madeline Carroll in "The 39 Steps." This will be preceded by a Silly Symphony, "Familiar Penguins," and by a three-reel version of "Man of Aran."

"The 39 Steps" is a British-Gaumont production which first appeared in 1935. It is an excellent example of swiftly moving melodrama. The story is by John Buchan, now Lord Tweedsmuir and Governor General of Canada.

The version of "Man of Aran" is a documentary film of the primitive life on the Aran Islands off the western coast of Ireland. The only story is of man's attempt to wring a living from the sea and from the stony islands. The main interest of the picture lies in its magnificent photography.

These pictures at the college are open to residents of the Borough of Swarthmore as well as to the students, faculty and alumni of the college. There will be only one performance, which will start promptly at 8:15 on Saturday night, April 16. No admission will be charged.

The third and last bill of moving pictures at the college for the present academic year will be Saturday night, May 7.

THE SWARTHMOREAN

Musical Fortnightly

The April meeting of the Fortnightly will be held at the home of Mrs. Samuel D. Clyde, of Swarthmore and Oden avenues, next Monday afternoon at 2:30 when Mrs. Clyde assisted by Mrs. Robert E. Carols, vocalist, will give an informal musical lecture recital.

Presents Pupils in Recital

The third in a series of monthly recitals being given by pupils of Dorothy Paul, was held at the home of Mrs. Fredrick Lang, on Riverview road, Saturday afternoon, April 2. Duets and solos were played by Jane Penfield, Patsy Morrow, Carolyn Wilcox, Alan Hunt, Andrea Wilcox, Frances Jenkins and Eben Lang. Carolyn Wilcox and Eben Lang were awarded prizes in the scale-playing contest. A violin solo was played by Patricia Paul.

Gives Dance Recital

Mrs. A. P. Whitaker, of Elm avenue, and her Hispanic dance group presented a program of Spanish and Mexican dances before the Faculty Tea Club of the University of Pennsylvania last Tuesday afternoon, April 12. The group, composed of Mrs. Whitaker, Nana Whitaker, Mary Anne Hook, Genevieve Reavis and Polly Hunt, was accompanied by the Hispanic string group with a guest soloist, Antonio Perez, first guitarist for Argentina before her death.

The series, which was divided into two parts—Mexico in 1938 and Spain in 1933, was very well received by the club not only for the splendid execution, by the entire group, of the difficult and intricate dances, but also for the clever staging and spirited music.

McDONALD TALKS TO JOINT GROUP

The Swarthmore branches of the Women's International League and the League of Women Voters held a joint meeting on Wednesday, April 6, at 2:30 in the Friends Meeting House.

Dr. James G. McDonald, member of the editorial staff of the New York Times, addressed the meeting on the Far Eastern Conflict. He brought out the fact that China, though a vast country with four or five million people, has never been a unified nation until the present time. He stated that this unification, brought about by modernization, nationalization and centralization, has caused the nation to become a menace to Japan. Militaristic aggression and ambition is, according to Dr. McDonald, only the expression of Japan's absolute need for new territory for her overcrowded, restless population. He feels that where she has failed in its underestimating China's unification and pugnacious determination not to yield.

Dr. McDonald raised the problem, "What can the United States do in the Far Eastern Conflict?" His answer gave two alternatives, either boycott Japan or assert and maintain our rights in China, and he questioned whether the public could be made to realize where such ultimatum would lead.

Friendly Circle Meets on 21st

Mrs. Joseph H. Perkins will be hostess to the April meeting of the Friendly Circle at 2 o'clock next Thursday afternoon, April 21, at her home, 530 Cedar lane.

J. J. News

Since the next regular meeting date of the J. J.'s falls on Easter the meeting has been canceled. On May 1 Harriet Wickham, of North Chester road, will be hostess to the group.

Those who participated in the play, "Entertaining Ed," given at the April 3 meeting at the home of Florence Garrett on Princeton avenue were: Mr. Leonard—Doris Rowand; Mrs. Leonard—Joan Kilgore; Mildred—June Morrison; Bruce, Theo. Hulme; Westley—Grace Brewster; Dorothy—Margaret Sheppard; Ed—Joan Dickson; Polly—Wilhelmina Van De Boe; Aunt Casey—Jane Schoff. The announcer was Carol Maude Froebel and Florence Whitsitt was in charge of properties.

WOMEN'S INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE AND LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS HEAR FAR EASTERN CONFLICT DISCUSSED

The Swarthmore branches of the Women's International League and the League of Women Voters held a joint meeting on Wednesday, April 6, at 2:30 in the Friends Meeting House.

28 WIN PRIZES IN ANNUALEGGHUNT

Swarthmore's sixth annual Easter Egg Hunt last Saturday morning added zest to the holiday season for children of the Borough and their Easter guests as they engaged in a contest for a large number of prizes than had ever before been assembled for the occasion.

Each year over two hundred children eagerly await this event sponsored by the local Business Association and The Swarthmorean and last week the number was swelled by the inclusion of children aged 11 and 12. The age limit for participation in previous Hunts has been 10 years.

An improved feature which also varied this year's Hunt was the restriction of a special site for children under 7. Hundreds of wax paper packages of jelly eggs were distributed in the plot behind the Women's Club in the little ones while others were put in the lot between Borough Hall and the Methodist Church, on Park avenue, for the elder youngsters.

Many bearing Easter baskets, the children gathered at Borough Hall Plaza for the revelation of the locality of the Hunt waiting impatiently until 10 o'clock when the scheduled announcement was followed by a stampede to the chosen spots. In the excitement of the search every child was rewarded by at least one small package of eggs while twenty-eight were overjoyed to discover prize winning slips of paper enclosed in the packages they found.

Hastening to The Swarthmorean office each child holding a slip was greeted with a large Easter egg or other Easter gift contributed by the following Swarthmore businesses: American Store, Martel Brothers, Michael's College Pharmacy, Media Drug Company, Joseph's Barber Shop, A. W. Sherrill, Strath Haven Inn, Supple's Hardware Store, M. Parker, Hannum & Waite, H. B. Green, Edward L. Noyes, Swarthmore National Bank and Trust Company, Harris and Company, Peter E. Told, Mason-Builders Supply Company, Ingeneuk, Russell's Service, Buchner's, Victor D. Shirer, Hollycock Shop and The Swarthmorean.

Second Club Music Hour Held

A music-loving audience which filled to overflowing the capacious living room and hall at the home of Mrs. George Taber Ashton, in Wallingford Hills, heard Monday, April 11, the second of three music appreciation hours given by the Women's Club of Swarthmore. This was a piano recital by Jane Veasey, of Boston Conservatory of Music. Mrs. Ashton assisted Miss Veasey for the final number, presiding at a second piano.

Mrs. Ashton made brief comment prior to each number of the program, which added much to the interest and enjoyment. Mrs. Lloyd Kaufman, chairman of music, greeted the guests and expressed appreciation as the concert closed.

While a student at Swarthmore College, Miss Veasey studied piano with the former Miss Mildred Spencer, of New York, an accomplished pianist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Spencer, of Swarthmore. Following Miss Spencer's marriage, Miss Veasey studied with Mrs. Ashton (Mary Mitchell Ashton), widely-known pianist and teacher. For the past three years she has devoted her entire time to music, at Boston Conservatory.

The first of this series of music hours was given in February by Mrs. Leonard Ashton and Mrs. Everett Hunt. Next month, Mrs. Kaufman announced a recital at the clubhouse by advanced music students of Swarthmore and vicinity.

Holiday Fun for Children Planned by Local Merchants and The Swarthmorean

Swarthmore's sixth annual Easter Egg Hunt last Saturday morning added zest to the holiday season for children of the Borough and their Easter guests as they engaged in a contest for a large number of prizes than had ever before been assembled for the occasion.

Each year over two hundred children eagerly await this event sponsored by the local Business Association and The Swarthmorean and last week the number was swelled by the inclusion of children aged 11 and 12. The age limit for participation in previous Hunts has been 10 years.

An improved feature which also varied this year's Hunt was the restriction of a special site for children under 7. Hundreds of wax paper packages of jelly eggs were distributed in the plot behind the Women's Club in the little ones while others were put in the lot between Borough Hall and the Methodist Church, on Park avenue, for the elder youngsters.

Many bearing Easter baskets, the children gathered at Borough Hall Plaza for the revelation of the locality of the Hunt waiting impatiently until 10 o'clock when the scheduled announcement was followed by a stampede to the chosen spots. In the excitement of the search every child was rewarded by at least one small package of eggs while twenty-eight were overjoyed to discover prize winning slips of paper enclosed in the packages they found.

Hastening to The Swarthmorean office each child holding a slip was greeted with a large Easter egg or other Easter gift contributed by the following Swarthmore businesses: American Store, Martel Brothers, Michael's College Pharmacy, Media Drug Company, Joseph's Barber Shop, A. Challenges Public to Debate

Dear Editor: The Friends World Conference last September at Swarthmore, in one of the sessions for the discussion of methods of achieving economic justice, I made the following statement, thinking it a self-evident and generally accepted truth:

"The profit objective requires that goods shall be relatively scarce. Therefore one of the curses of the present economic order in the United States is that the maintenance of scarcity becomes one of the chief objectives of producers."

The statement was challenged by two highly esteemed personal friends of the speaker. One was a Race Street Friend, and one was a Five Years Meeting Friend. Owing to the pressure of program there was not time to go into the matter at the World Conference.

The question is one of vital importance for the understanding of our present economic situation. If there are any Friends or non-Friends who wish to take the opposite side and make it a discussion, I shall be glad to devote time with them. If there are no volunteers, I shall give a lecture on the above topic, at the Swarthmore Friends Meeting House, May 1, at 8 P. M.

J. RUSSELL SMITH. Victim in Local "War"

To the Editor: The recent observation that a local movie theatre would result in an invasion of the rabble, leads me to wonder if we are not too late. I believe they are already upon us and if you don't come up on the hill practically any afternoon.

Here the private properties of peaceably inclined citizens are subject to attacks and counter attacks of a small army of prides and joys of persons unknown whose devastations must make the Chinese "scorched earth" policy seem mild in comparison. Rare is the property which is not the scene of several engagements in the course of an afternoon between warring battalions of these little ones. Everything movable which might serve as weapons is grabbed up as the vendetta ebbs and flows, which is all done with a precision that a kleptomaniac might well envy. The detachments are usually accompanied by vast herds of sundry and assorted canines who would keep an abattoir busy for several months at least. And I heartily wish that's where they were.

Parentetically, the hand of Communism propaganda can be seen in the fact that where the rabble, leads me to wonder if we are not too late. I believe they are already upon us and if you don't come up on the hill practically any afternoon.

one afternoon that I thought Generalissimo Franco's bombers had been over and strongly considered asking the American Friends Service Committee to set-up a relief station on Ogden Avenue. We are of course, resigned to the destruction of our shrubs and flower beds. Next I presume, we will be obliged to quarter the troops in our houses. This will be hard as our property is bitterly contested and changes hands several times an afternoon, but in wartime we must be thankful at having escaped with our lives. Comment on Local Artists' Exhibit

The Exhibition of Paintings by Swarthmore residents, which has been on view at the Women's Club since last Tuesday, continues throughout today closing at 9:30 this evening.

This exhibition has become an annual event, and since works previously shown are not eligible, most of the pictures have been produced during the past year, and stand as an interesting record of individual growth.

The present group includes pictures by both men and women and maintains an exceptionally high standard, as many of the painters have now won professional recognition.

The pictures represent 36 artists and show an interesting balance of portraits, still life, flowers and landscapes. Miss Constance Cochrane, a member of "The Ten Philadelphia Painters," is the Guest Exhibitor and her three canvases show the scope of her talent. She is perhaps best known for her pictures of surlounding on a rocky coast and "Fog and Spray" is a fine example of this subject. "Betty's Garden" must surely be in Monhegan, where Miss Cochrane maintains her summer studio, for a riot of summer bloom has, for a background, a rocky hillside. Many visitors have enjoyed particularly her dramatic landscape.

It is a privilege to have Miss Cochrane with us but the pride and admiration we feel for our local exhibitors is not dimmed.

The exquisite beauty of Nellie McCracken's still life with flowers, "The Dish" is what we have come to expect of her. On the other hand, Florence Foote Gardner surprises us with a very striking oil as a change from her equally fine watercolors. "The Old Man" by Cyril Adams is a sympathetic and striking likeness of a person familiar to many Swarthmoreans.

Dorothy Curtis Kent has given us three interpretations of the swamps of the south.

Mrs. Ellice McDonald (Ann Heebner) whose portraits are always interesting has a particularly charming head of a child. A joyous note runs through the three sketches by Susan Darrah Wolters.

Another painter, Harriet Butler, whose point of view is often expressed by a pictorial selection of objects for a still life is charmingly represented by "Emperor." Her "Zinnias" is also a lovely bit of color and design. There are flowers painted with realistic beauty by Josephine Raulph de Bayeux Bye's two studies of woods and streams and Margaret Goodard's "Chester Skyline." Mrs. William B. Forbush, a new exhibitor, shows her love of the rich color of autumn woods.

Charles D. Mitchell wins one's admiration for his skillful handling of crayon pencil in representing textures and for a deeper quality of character delineation in his two illustrations.

The Women's Club is to be congratulated for sponsoring an event of such value to all Swarthmoreans. MARY HECHNER DE MOLL.

Presbyterian Church Notes

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the pastor will preach on "Found and Lost." The Young People's Fellowship will meet Sunday evening at 6. Plans are being completed by the committee for a series of spring meetings to be held out-of-doors. The Tennant College annual luncheon will be held on Friday, April 22, at 1122 Spruce street, Philadelphia. Tickets for members of the congregation may be obtained from Mrs. George L. Van Alen or Mrs. George P. Williams. New Ruling Elders elected at the annual meeting of the congregation on Wednesday evening, April 20, will be installed Sunday morning during the church worship.

The Women's Association missionary meeting will be held Wednesday, April 27, at 2:30 P. M. at the home of Mrs. Earle P. Yerkes, 19 Princeton Avenue. Devotionals will be conducted by Mrs. Martin Young. Dr. Charles J. Turck, general director of the Department of Social Education and Action of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, will speak. His topic is "The Social Ideal of Christianity." Dr. Turck was formerly president of Centre College, Danville, Ky., and professor of law at the Universities of Tulane and Vanderbilt. He served as Dean of the Law School in the University of Kentucky for a number of years. His work in the church deals with international friendship, world peace with interest and temperance, race relations and industrial justice. All friends of the church and congregation are cordially invited.

Trinity Parish Notes

The first meeting of the classes for confirmation instruction will be held at the church on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Everyone interested in discussing the matter with the rector is asked to attend. After this meeting there will be classes for those of various ages.

Over two hundred individual Easter plants were contributed by the Parish for Easter decorations and later taken to the wards of the Philadelphia General Hospital.

At the Congregational Meeting on Monday evening the following vestrymen were re-elected for a term of three years: Harry C. Barr, William Cleaves, Samuel D. Clyde and W. Barker Keighton.

The rector, vestry and Church School presented a copy of Audubon's paintings of birds to Mr. Keighton in recognition of forty years service in Trinity Mission and Church. Mr. Keighton has served for that length of time on the vestry, as treasurer of the Parish and as a teacher in the Church School.

Christian Science Church

"Probation after Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in All Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 24. The Golden Text is: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live" (John 5:25).

Methodist News Notes

The candle light communion service on Holy Thursday was very impressive. The sacrament of baptism preceded the administration of the Lord's Supper.

The Easter service was well attended and a large class was received into full church membership, while others united by letters of transfer. The floral decorations were most beautiful and the choral selections well rendered.

The church school meeting at 9:45 A. M. will have as its lesson topic, "Receiving Vision for Service."

The monthly Junior Church service will be held at 11 o'clock when the "Parable of the Talents" will be portrayed by a group of young people and Holy Week ribbons will be presented. There will be an object sermon by the pastor and New Testaments will be presented by the church and Sunday School to members of the Easter membership classes.

The church nursery is the recipient of several gifts. One donor gave twenty dollars for additional nursery equipment. The nursery functions simultaneously with morning worship thereby enabling parents to attend church.

The Senior and Intermediate Leagues will hold their meetings at 7 P. M. Sunday in their respective rooms. Evening worship will be at 7:45 P. M. with sermon. At 8 P. M. Monday, April 25, the young Women's Auxiliary of the Ladies Aid Society will hold its business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. Maurice M. Haworth, 811 Westdale Avenue.

Wednesday, April 20, at 2:30 P. M. the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Clarence F. Carter, 131 Park Avenue. Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock prayer service will be held in the chapel.

Needlework Guild Hour Monday

Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop will be hostess to the biweekly meeting of the Needlework Guild sewing group at her home, 736 Harvard Avenue, at 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon, April 25.

PARENT-TEACHERS COLUMN

Rutgers Avenue Second Graders

Swarthmoreans in the making! Some of them are the pupils in the second grade of the Rutgers avenue school. What busy and interested children they are! Their conception of citizenship has been molded by their first project of the year; Swarthmore, as a community. This study grew out of a joint discussion between the pupils and their teacher, Miss Janet Krall. In pursuance of it the children made visits to local institutions and gained information which answered many questions of how and why.

Their first trip of interest in the borough was to the post-office and what a thrill it was to really get behind the scenes and see all the workings, and see just where their very own mail was placed before delivery and watch the stamping of letters. A natural consequence of this visit was planning building their own post-office in the school room. Everyone had his letter-box with his name under it, and watched eagerly to see whether any mail had been left in it.

Next the group visited the police department and finally the firehouse where the different siren blasts were explained. Of course every bit of the fire apparatus was inspected.

A trip to the Swarthmore R. R. station ended this project and started the grade on a new tangent for the remainder of the year. At the station the group found out the number of trains that come into and go out of Swarthmore during the day. Having the schedule of trains from here to Philadelphia, it became a simple problem of arithmetic to find the number of minutes required. From this evolved the study of "means of transportation." Scrap books are very much in evidence, and the search is on for trains, buses, airplanes and boats.

After the new year, an invitation was extended to the grade for the pupils to visit Broad Street Station and inspect various railroad equipment. It was eagerly accepted and at least the eventual day came. Teacher, pupils and some mothers for helpers, entrained for Philadelphia where they saw pullman cars, a dining car, a club car and a stream-lined engine. They exhibited proudly the message they received which had been written by an automatic pencil.

Proceeding with this study, more trips are planned, one of them to the Navy Yard to see the Schoolship Annapolis and to view the Navy airplanes. In May, a trip will be taken to the Esington Yacht Yard, where the pleasure craft will be visited. By the end of this term, the second grade will have acquainted itself with the machinery of good citizenship and the channels of modern transportation.

Mrs. Joseph H. Perkins, of Cedar lane, entertained at luncheon on Tuesday in honor of the birthday of Mrs. J. Warren Paxson, of Vassar avenue.

Single, English Dept., West Chester State Teachers' College, and Dr. Joseph D. Coppock, Economics Department, Swarthmore College.

WE TAUGHT THE FARMER HOW To Turn Cleanliness into Cash

To provide dependably safe milk for babies, we introduced in 1914 an entirely new method of milk production—rigid sanitation on the farm, under expert instruction and laboratory control.

To reward the farmer for his extra cleanly care, we originated our famous Cash Bonus plan. This new system resulted in a partnership with the farmer that produced the first milk of "A" Grade in Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey—pure, wholesome milk, always safe for babies and children.

Why didn't somebody TELL me?

Weren't the next twelve months, some 300,000 motorists are going to buy cars at or about the price of a LaSalle—and still not get a LaSalle.

Many of these, we are convinced, will do this because they do not appreciate how little a LaSalle costs. They assume that LaSalle's price is high—because its quality and reputation are so high. But this isn't true!

As a matter of fact, you can pay more for certain models of eleven other cars than it costs to get a new LaSalle V-8.

If you expect to pay more than $1,000 for your next motor car—go on up and get a LaSalle. You ought to do this because there is really no substitute for Cadillac quality, Cadillac safety and Cadillac prestige.

Why not come in sometime soon for a demonstration?

FREE WHEELING

The traffic light flashed green and a young mother started across the busy intersection. With one hand she wheeled a baby carriage filled with groceries and, with the other, she guided her little son.

As she crossed the car tracks, a front wheel of the carriage caught in a trolley switch. Growing excited, she jerked and twisted the carriage with all her strength. Off came the wheel—just as the light again changed and mid-day traffic, headed by a telephone company truck, moved forward. Completely confused, the young woman reached for her child, tripped over the carriage and fell.

The telephone truck stopped and its crew jumped to the ground. While one man grabbed the frightened child and guided the nervous mother to safety, another picked up the wheel and coach and carried them to the sidewalk. Then he turned and shouted, "Hey, Fred, bring the truck over here."

The truck was backed to the curb. Wire and tools were produced. Then, relates a witness, the crowd which had gathered watched a telephone crew repair the broken carriage.

Although fixing baby carriages has nothing to do with good telephone service, this incident well demonstrates the spirit of service which is characteristic of this entire organization. The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Lauda Community Worship

Editor Swarthmorean: Sir:- Sometimes the most important news does not appear in headlines, and the deeper, finer, richer events have only casual notice.

In the last issue I had of the Swarthmorean I found a paragraph which stirred my memory deeply. This was the item referring to the Easter service in which the ministers of the Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian churches united.

Nearly forty years ago when I came to Swarthmore I thought its finest achievement was the Union Thanksgiving service, but then there was not enough brotherly love and community interest to reach all the churches and one remained isolated. But love is stronger than man's theology and brotherhood has no division.

Such a service as Swarthmore's, with (and many other places) shows that humanity is beginning to hear the voice of the Son of God, "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another."

Shade Simmonds.

CIRCLE TO AID CAMP SUNSHINE

Members of the Friendly Circle met at the home of Mrs. Joseph H. Perkins, Cedar lane, on the afternoon of Thursday, April 21. Mrs. Henry A. Peirsol was co-hostess. Mrs. Arthur R. O. Redgrave, president, presided.

This summer Camp Sunshine, Delaware County's Camp at Thornton, for undernourished children, will need an electric refrigerator and cementing of its pool. Members expressed their willingness to canvass their streets for donations toward these acquisitions.

A layette will be provided for a new baby whose father, a W. P. A. worker, was killed.

Appreciation was expressed for Easter gifts and for glasses provided a woman last month.

Appeals from the local Nursing and Welfare Services were read. It was decided to give $15 to the Poor Fund of the Nursing Service which was exhausted. This fund is kept up by small donations and used for prescriptions, medical supplies, car fare for clinic patients, etc.

It was thought best to continue milk for undernourished children for another month at a cost of $10.88.

A family owning a bungalow in this district but having no insurance recently had part of its home destroyed by fire. The father can make repairs himself but has no money for lumber. The Circle will give $5 toward the project and hopes that others in the community may want to help by contributing lumber or money.

Mrs. J. Horace Walter has generously offered the use of her lawn on Cedar lane again for the annual picnic luncheon which will be held on Tuesday, June 14.

SPORTS REVIEW

The girls lacrosse team of Swarthmore High School defeated Friends' Central last Wednesday by the score of 8 to 0. The "wonder" girls, so styled by a contemporary paper—maintained even scoring pressure throughout the game and scored 4 goals in each half. The JV team likewise put on an impressive show of power, scoring a decisive 4 to 0 triumph over the JV team of Friends' Central.

Leroy Evans won the high jump for all the points scored by the track team of Swarthmore High School at the Union A. A. meet on the Lansdowne High School field last Saturday. He cleared the bar at 5 feet 8 1/2 inches. The Upper Darby team won the Delaware County championship; Ridley Park was second and Lansdowne third.

The High School tennis team won its second match in a row by routing North Providence 4-0 on Wednesday, April 27, carrying through to the suburban championship.

The College baseball team dropped three this week, to run their string of losses to four straight. Stevens won, Wednesday, by the score of 3 to 2; Hamilton took a 5 to 4 decision, Friday, and Johns Hopkins smothered them Saturday, 10 to 4.

The JV's lost an 11 inning thriller to Brown Prep last Thursday, by the count of 8 to 5.

The college track team lost a hard-fought meet to Johns Hopkins, last Saturday. The final tally was Johns Hopkins 64, Swarthmore 62.

The Swarthmore College lacrosse team struck rough going at Baltimore, Saturday, and emerged from a grueling battle with Johns Hopkins on the short end of a 10 to 4 score.

The college tennis team emerged from the activities of the past week with two victories and one defeat. Triumphs were scored over Johns Hopkins and Muhlenberg by the identical scores of 7 to 2, but sandwiched between these triumphs was a 5 to 4 defeat by Lafayette.

The golf team eked out a 5 to 4 victory over Haverford on Monday. Bill Haversick was eliminated in the semi-final round of the southern intercollegiate golf championship. Tommy Barnes, of Georgia Tech, the new champion, accomplished this feat on his way to his crown.

The women's golf team of Swarthmore College got away to an inauspicious start in dropping their opening match to Cedarbrook Country Club, last Friday, by the score of 6 to 4.

Soph Hop at H. S. Next Friday

The class of '40 at Swarthmore High School is now preparing for the annual Soph Hop, Norman Hughes, class president, has announced the date as May 9 and the place, the High School gym. Bud Bradford's orchestra, in which there are several alumni, will be entertainers. A program dance is planned with several novelties and a floor show during the intermission.

Vocal Pupils in H. S. Program

The first part of the amateur program presented at the High School assembly Monday morning, April 25, was devoted to vocal music interpreted by pupils of Signor Donato Colafemina. The following program was presented: 1—"Oh, Ask the Stars, Beloved," a Mexican folk song arranged by La Forge, sung by Mary Wetten, Beth Allyn and David Morgan; 2—the aria, "Un di Felice," from Verdi's opera, "Traviata," sung by Beth Allyn and Signor Colafemina; 3—"Carita" by Winne, sung as a solo by Mary Wetten, who responded to requests for an encore with "de Mai non Duet" by Donaudy; 4—the final number from Verdi's "Traviata," "Parigi O Cara," sung by Thelma Hughes and Signor Colafemina.

The program was very well received both for its diversity and its excellent rendition. Miss Wetten will be remembered as having won first prize in a musical scholarship contest last November.

The second portion of the program was introduced by Edward Best as master of ceremonies. A trio consisting of Jimmy Bowditch, Dave Brown, and Page Bullock sang "Clementine," then Stanley Hill, Leroy Evans, and Wendell Dunn harmonized on the "Love Bug" and "Blue Heaven." This was followed by Edith Kniskern who played "The Moon of Manakora," "Bei Mir Bist du Schon," and "The Old Apple Tree," on the accordion. Evelyn Dyke Van De Bosc sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Who'll Play with Me," Genevieve Reavis accompanied her. Leroy Evans and Doris Polk showed the new dance, "The Rug Cut." As an encore Leroy did a tap dance. George Gray followed, and imitated leading orchestras by playing "Sugar Blues" in Clyde McCoy's manner and "Star Dust" in Tommy Dorsey's style.

Turner Robinson sang "Mother McCree." Then came the world premiere of Joe Cole's orchestra which played "Please Be Kind" and "Marie." The members are Jimmy Wagner, Ted Dingle, Bud Sweeney, Nicky Brown, Stanley Lee, and Louis DeHoff. Marjorie Schaefer did two tap-dances. The last number on the program was a demonstration of magic by Henry Linton.

Mrs. Phillips Advises Mothers

"Except ye become as little children" was suggested by Mrs. Dorothy Waldo Phillips, as the theme of the talk given at an open meeting arranged by the Fourth Grade Mothers Group of the Rutgers avenue school last Friday. Mrs. Phillips designated the years before adolescence as those in which the child is growing up to the world, in which he sees the adult world as something far beyond him and consequently takes refuge in a beautiful world of imagination in which he is always the center and always the leader. Mrs. Phillips told the mothers if they expect to accomplish anything with their children they must go into that world, they must see with the children's eyes the rules, prejudices and conventions which govern the adult world. If the rules seem senseless, why conform when there is this means of escape where one can follow without the magic key of imagination? "You can't go into the child's house unless you go up his street."

Many of the problems of later emotional mal-adjustment have their foundations in these early difficulties. Mrs. Phillips claimed, and suggested that the ideal method in dealing with children is to show no emotion whatsoever. If that is an impossible state to achieve, one should try to make the acts she puts on when the child has been good as dramatic and interesting as those she stages when the child has been bad. Rewards for good behavior are always more effective than punishment for bad behavior.

Local Group Gives Dance Recital in Hershey

The Hispanic Dance Group performed in Hershey, Pa. on Saturday, April 23, at the State Convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs. Mrs. A. P. Whitaker is the counselor of this group which has 20 members and Mrs. C. H. Paul is the official accompanist. Miss Camilla Fairbanks, however, accompanied the Hershey performance.

The dance program consisted of 5 Spanish dances. The group members talking part were Genevieve Reavis, (President), Polly Hoot (Secretary), Anne Kraus (Treasurer), Mary Anne Hook, Jean Baird and Nena Whitaker.

Several mothers drove some of the performers of the group to the performance and Mrs. Whitaker and Mrs. Otto Kraus took the cast, leaving early in the morning and returning after the performance.

The primary and grammar grade members of the Group gave two performances Thursday, April 21, when they appeared at each of the schools for the entertainment of the pupils.

GARDEN SECTION GIVES PROGRAM

Spring Flower Show For Members, Appropriate Speakers Prove Entertaining

The Garden Section of the Woman's Club, of which Mrs. H. A. Peirsol is chairman, sponsored a delightful program on Tuesday, April 26. "Timely Plans for the Spring and Summer Garden" was the subject of the talk given by Henry Putz of Henry A. Dreer Company. May was cited as the month during which the gardener's attention is occupied with sowing and planting. A great variety of annuals was suggested and, contrary to the opinion of many people, red flowers were deemed worthy of a place in the garden.

During the second half of the program Dean H. E. B. Speight, of Swarthmore College, showed beautiful motion pictures in color of the Arthur Hoyt Scott planting on the College campus. Dean Speight explained that the pictures were taken with an eye to pictorial effect rather than botanical, and the results shown were most effective. "Aristotle had the idea that education should take place in the midst of lovely things," said Dean Speight, "and four years in the loveliness of the Swarthmore campus ought to make a difference in the lives of the young men and women there."

Attractive arrangements of spring flowers were displayed about the club house. The judges made the following awards: Class 1, Semi-Miniatures—Mrs. H. Reynolds, first; Mrs. J. Warren Paxson, second; Mrs. E. A. Longwell, third; Mrs. Ross W. Marriott, honorable mention. Class 2, Flowering Shrubs—Mrs. H. A. Peirsol, first; Mrs. J. S. Seal, second; Mrs. George Zimmer, third; Class 3, Medium Arrangement—Mrs. R. W. Marriott, first; Mrs. H. Reynolds, second; Mrs. E. A. Longwell, third; Mrs. H. A. Peirsol, honorable mention. Class 4, Large Arrangement (Garden Grown)—Mrs. George Zimmer, first; Mrs. Irvin MacElwee, second. Large Arrangement (Hot house)—Mrs. Arthur Redgrave, first; Mrs. J. Detlefsen, second.

Mrs. Joseph Perkins and Mrs. Charles Israel were hostesses for the afternoon and Mrs. Leonard Ashton and Miss Hazel Whitcomb presided at the tea-table.

Mrs. R. Richmond, Mrs. Norman Krase, Mrs. George Ewing, Mrs. Harold Goodwin, Mrs. Joseph Perkins, Mrs. J. Warren Paxson, Mrs. Frank Brewster, Mrs. Roland L. Eaton, Mrs. Dwight Cooley and Mrs. Rudolph Banks attended the Philadelphia motion picture Forum last Monday. They enjoyed a special showing, "Joy of Living", at the Boyd Theatre and luncheon at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel when Mrs. J. Bartram Hervey spoke on "Movies and Peace" and Ralph Nolan, distributor of the R. K. O. "March of Time" gave an interesting address.

At 2:30 next Tuesday afternoon the various chairmen will submit their reports at the annual meeting of the Woman's Club.
