PARADERS TURN OUT EN MASSE

Cleverly Costumed Youngsters (And a Few Oldsters) Cavort in Festive Spirit

Last Saturday evening's town Hallowe'en parade in the college field house was unanimously proclaimed one of the finest and best conducted of these events to be held during the many, many years they have been sponsored here by the local Business Association.

A separate encircling of the ring by prize winners alone gave the large number of spectators an opportunity this year to clearly discern those whose costumes had warranted prizes.

Many of the winners, however, have still to call at The Swarthmorean office to collect their War Stamp prizes, having been given coupons at the parade in order that the tiny, sticky stamps would not be tragically missing when their winners emerged from the melee.

The well-drilled High School Band added greatly to the high spirit of the parade, heading the line of march with full regalia and musical snap. Afterward its members enjoyed candy and fruit.

Each participant in the parade received a whistle favor, a rosy apple, a sanitarily wrapped lollipop, and a tiny loaf of bread (the latter donated by Martel's) which they carried in conveniently handled paper bags (contributed by Tasty Kake).

Among the prize winners were:

ORIGINAL — First prizes: Ann Broomall (ceiling prices — on stilts), Frances Pearson, Betty McCahan, Vonny Ryan, Blyth Barnes and Gayle Hodge (Victory gardeners and their crop of corn, tomato and carrot), Roger and Chucky Russell ("after taxes"), Pauline Beneke (War ration book), Louise Hindle and Ann Mandelbaum (stamps), Valerie and David Worth (Mexican girl and boy), Judy Pennock; second prizes: Ann Mary Fussell, Joyce Greenhow (apple tree) and Ann Lukénis (boy with sign "Don't sit under the apple tree"), Nancy Grier (farmer with basket and shovel), Don Dickinson, Teddy Campbell, Faber McKernan (a realistic cow), Marjorie Lang, Teddy Bogardus (letter — "Don't forget the boys — write often").

I-MADE-IT-MYSELF — First prize: Donald MacElwee, Carolyn Wilcox (tree), Carol Livingston, Phil and Dorcus Reeves (farmerette and corn stalk), Andrea Wilcox (fisherman in boat), David Dibbell, Billy Fischer and George Swan ("The Three Little Sisters"), Jeryl Faulkner; second prizes: Harold Ogram, Jim Bullitt (ghost), Ellen Jenkins (Huckleberry Finn), Cynthia Homire, Avery Blake (Old Black Joe), Judy Ammerman, Louise Wittmyer, Billy and Barbara Ziengenfus (red, white and blue float — Naval officer and Miss Peace), Patricia Giles, Mary Corse, Marvel Wilson (hunter), Nancy Terry (nurses' aid), Jack Land.

The Red Cross Talks

The Swarthmore branch of the Red Cross urges local residents to tune in the 15-minute radio program of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter on Saturdays at noon over KYW for up-to-the-minute news of the Red Cross here and abroad. The program also keeps listeners abreast with current work and new projects of all the chapter services.

111 RESIDENTS DONATE BLOOD

Red Cross Thanks Many Citizens Whose Cooperation Enabled Successful Event

One hundred and eleven residents of this community donated their blood Monday afternoon to give wounded men in the Armed Forces of this nation a fighting chance for life. The largest number yet to register, 138, was reduced by the prevalent grippe to 118 who reported at the Woman's Club with such promptitude that there was no waiting and the booked appointments were completed as scheduled. The Blood Donor Unit of the Southeastern Chapter of the American Red Cross appeared in good time for the afternoon's work.

Mrs. A. L. Clayden Red Cross Blood Donor chairman thanks Swarthmoreans for their "grand cooperation which made the day the community's most successful to date." She thanks particularly the Woman's Club of Swarthmore which made the day possible by the loan of its clubhouse, its dishes, its fuel, and its janitor. Mrs. Phelps Soule booking chairman worked with Mrs. Clayden throughout the day as did several branches of the local Red Cross.

Eight donors now have received their silver buttons which signify that they have served in this capacity three times: Mrs. Walter Scott, Mrs. W. A. Schmidt, (Continued on Page Five)

SWARTHMORE TO BUY BOND PLANE

Borough Organizing to Provide Pursuit Plane for American Fliers

Swarthmore has answered the call for more airplanes and is starting a drive to sell enough Defense Bonds in one month to buy a Pursuit Plane for use by our armed forces. More and more this is becoming a war for supremacy in the air. Planes are needed in ever increasing numbers and we, in Swarthmore, want to do our part in keeping our fliers flying.

Swarthmore is one of the first Boroughs in Delaware County to organize for the purchase of a $50,000 Pursuit Plane, which will then be marked with a plaque on which is engraved the name SWARTHMORE.

All Defense Bonds sold in the Borough of Swarthmore for one month, starting November 11, will be credited toward the purchase of this plane, so if you are planning to buy any bonds in the near future, BUY YOUR DEFENSE BONDS IN SWARTHMORE.

If for any special reason, it is necessary for you to buy some Series F or Series G Bonds in another locality, they can be credited to Swarthmore if you will only stop at the Swarthmore Bank and procure a receipt blank which can be filled out by the person selling you the Bonds and then returned here by you.

Remember, this is not asking you to dig in your pockets and make a contribution. It's merely wanting you to invest your money in Defense Bonds in Swarthmore. BUY A BOND TO BUY A BOMBER.

Junior Player Try-Outs

Swarthmore Players Club will hold try-outs for its junior membership on Saturday, the 14th, at 2 P. M. at the club house on Fairview road. These will be try-outs not only for the approaching play "The Christmas Nightingale" but also for the two following plays "The Little Princess" and "Oliver Twist".

WANTED: VOLUNTEERS FOR CANVASSING
We need a group of workers organized to canvass the Borough for different purposes. The immediate job in the offing is to sell $50,000 worth of War Bonds. Please phone your name to the office or send post card to the Swarthmore Defense Council, Borough Hall.

BOYS AND GIRLS — THANKS

The boys and girls of Swarthmore are to be congratulated on their cooperation during the Hallowe'en festivities, including mischief night. No serious damage was done. No acts of vandalism committed as has occurred in previous years. The Saturday night program was carried out in excellent fashion and the younger members of the community called at the homes and received Hallowe'en favors of various kinds. This kind of fun adds to the joy and community spirit of Swarthmore.

Dedication of Honor Roll and Service Flags Armistice Day

Borough Organizations Unite in Public Program for Those Serving in World War II

At 3 P. M. on Armistice Day, November 11, at the corner of Rutgers avenue and South Chester road an honor roll will be unveiled and service flags dedicated on behalf of those from this borough now serving their country.

A special program has been planned by a committee representing the Harold Ainsworth Post No. 427 American Legion and its Auxiliary, the local branch of the Red Cross, the Swarthmore Business Association, Company H home military training unit, the Woman's Club, the public schools, the borough, and the Scouts. Frank R. Morey supervising principal represents the schools, Burgess John H. Pitman the borough, and John C. Moore the Scouts on this committee.

The tablet was originally built by Charles E. Fischer of Yale avenue for Company H and then for a while nothing was done about its painting and lettering. At the Legion Post's request the school adopted the job as a project in the war effort. Shop and drawing classes cooperating to the fullest extent have been working on the tablet's decoration. Claudia Hancock and members of her art class are painting the names on the board.

Next Wednesday afternoon school pupils will march to the scene of the dedication exercises accompanied by the school band. The Rutgers avenue entrance to the underpass will be blocked and the space from the bank front to Martel's will be reserved for the families of the men and women whose names appear on the honor roll. The space in front of the stores on Chester road will be reserved for the band and school children, Rutgers avenue for other organizations and the public in general.

Invitations are being issued this week to members of the families of the people named on the honor roll. Boy Scouts will help block the streets into various sections. Girl Scouts will distribute programs. All organizations participating will be in uniform. Company H will police the area and assist invited guests to reach the section assigned to them. The two service flags were donated by patriotic citizens.

Red Cross Sewing

The Red Cross Sewing Group will continue sewing at the Woman's Club House on Monday, November 9, at 10 A. M.

Offers Children's Rhythmic Dances

Anyone interested in a class in rhythmic dancing for children aged 9 to 12 or thereabouts, or for younger children aged 4 to 6, may communicate with Alice Gates at Swarthmore College, or call Swarthmore 2534-W for further information.

Armistice Day Program

- "Attention" — Bugler of School Band.
- "Invocation" — Rev. David Braun.
- "America the Beautiful" — led by Alice Blodgett of the school. First and third verses sung by all, second verse by High School Chorus.
- Address of Dedication — Burgess John H. Pitman.
- Unveiling of Honor Roll and Raising of Flags.
- Prayer of Dedication — Rev. J. Jarden Guenther.
- "Star Spangled Banner" — led by the band, first and third verses sung by all, second verse a solo by Flora Lee student.

MRS. de ANGELI LIBRARY GUEST

Favorite Author Will Speak in Program Celebrating Book Week

The annual Book Week celebration of the Swarthmore Public Library will be held Thursday afternoon, November 12, at 3:30. The guest of honor will be Mrs. Marguerite de Angeli whose charming stories and beautiful illustrations are favorites of all their readers, both children and adults.

Mrs. de Angeli's new book "Up the Hill", the story of a hard-working, warm-hearted Polish family in a Pennsylvania mining town — where families from across the seas, from Bohemia, Wales, Slovakia and Poland lived together — the American way of life, has been received at the Library and will be a special feature among over a hundred new juvenile books any of which may be reserved then and during the remainder of the week for circulation beginning Monday of the following week — national Book Week.

An additional pleasure will be the first opportunity to enjoy the newly-framed original Shoemaker illustrations of Spyri's "Heidi", presented to the Library by Allan Smith of McCrae-Smith Publishing Company.

The Library is extremely fortunate to secure this nationally known author and illustrator and the afternoon promises to be a delightful occasion. All children and their parents, and other friends of the Library are cordially invited.

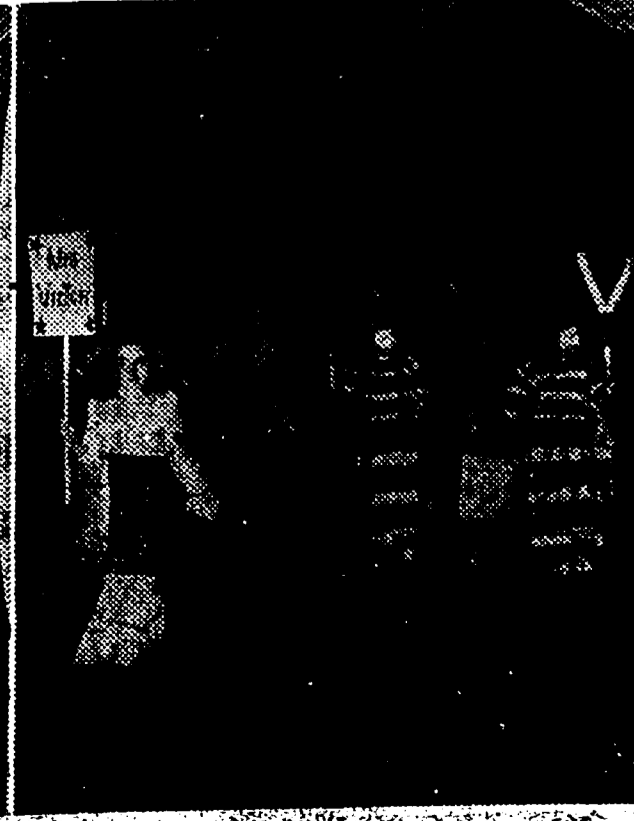

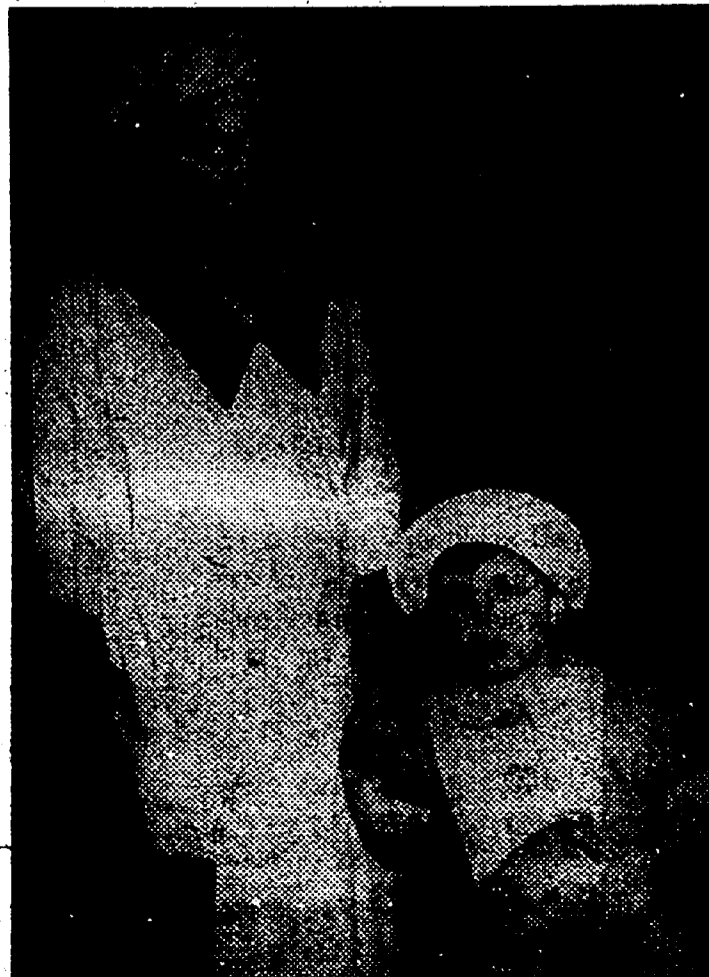

Junior Club Meets Tuesday

A stated meeting of the Junior Club will be held at the club house next Tuesday evening, November 10, at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be followed by an interesting program on the American Home. Mrs. Robert Allison is in charge.

A cash contribution will be taken at this meeting for the soldiers at Fort Dix. All members are urged to attend as this is considered a very important meeting.

ONE TOUCH OF NATURE

Just why some persons should be endowed with a faculty for bird-appreciation is a mystery. No one has yet explained the mental processes by which birds achieve their attractiveness in these cases but the mental conditioning must have some unique attributes, since there are relatively few people who reach a position in their intellectual lives which birds suddenly assume great significance. After the arrival of an intuition that birds are important, these chosen individuals cannot be swayed from their conviction. Henceforth each named the birds called colloquially a "life-liter," brings an added facet to that human's understanding and integration of the knowledge forces in Nature.

The girls' choir will meet Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church in the Parish House. Dr. E. Fay Campbell will be the speaker.

The Board of Trustees will meet Tuesday evening, November 10, at 8 P. M. in the church office.

On Tuesday evening, November 10, at 8 o'clock the third of the Church Family Dinners on Inter-American Relations will be held.

The women of the Parish are continuing their sewing for the Red Cross every Tuesday from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 in the afternoon. There is much work to be done and more women are needed to help.

On Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock there will be a small supper meeting for college students at the rectory to plan for a series of discussions dealing with the Christian interpretation of present-day problems.

BORO SUPPORTS NEEDLEWOMEN

Cooperation in Annual Collection of National Guild Branch Generally Aids Local Charity

The Swarthmore branch of the Needlework Guild is delighted to report that on October 23 its annual ingathering day 2419 garments and $79.80 in cash were collected, and distributed. It was a busy but well-managed day.

The committee was glad to welcome an unusual number of visitors who came for the tea and "to look-and-see". The Guild is grateful for this indication of increased interest in its work.

It is a peculiar fact that new birds bring pleasure as soon as the proper mental conditioning is set up, before the potential energy has even been learned.

In this connection I remember spending many boyish afternoons in winter looking for coconuts in my mind I had named all the roads and lanes after coconuts. I still think occasionally of "Polyphemus Trail" and know each tree along the way, although the real name of the street must be Poplar Avenue.

With some doubts I tried the experiment, and through beginner's luck I called the birds which I had named in my mind. I found that they were in my neighborhood.

MRS. VIEHOEVER ADDRESSES CLUB

Delights Former Neighbors With Description of Last Few Years in Thailand

Mrs. Arno Viehoever thrilled a large audience with a comprehensive lecture of her three-and-a-half year residence in Thailand at the Tuesday afternoon session of the Woman's Club.

Prior to Mrs. Viehoever's address Mrs. A. M. Bosshardt of the club spoke in behalf of the Swiss refugee project and presented Mrs. Louis Biddle who gave first hand observations of the arrivals of refugee children in the various Swiss stations abroad.

Statue Meeting, Guatemalan Program on 10th

At 2:30 next Tuesday afternoon the regular stated meeting of the club will be held. Following will be a novel program presented by the art-section chairman Mrs. Arthur W. Binns. Mrs. Caroline Gibbons Granger will tell of her experiences among the Indians of Guatemala using as illustrations a number of paintings she made of the natives and an exhibition of materials woven by the Indians.

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. Harry W. Scott and Mrs. Allen M. Smith. At the conclusion of the program Mrs. J. B. Barnd will present and Mrs. Melvin F. Wood will preside.

appears to have been an interesting experience till changed by war. Mrs. Viehoever was introduced to the club audience by Mrs. R. G. E. Ullman.

While in Bangkok Mrs. Viehoever taught English in a university while her husband was engaged in the scientific service of the Thai government. Her vivid descriptions of the history, language, customs, climate and Buddhist religion revealed an interesting culture. The colorful clothing, beautiful temples, exotic plants and unique ceremonies presented a picture of a happy land.

In Thailand one's first birthday is celebrated at the twelfth year, the second at the twenty-fourth and so forth. A fifth birthday is a racy and calls for a real feast lasting four days. Weddings and funeral ceremonies are exhausting rites several of which were participated in by the Viehoevers who had made many close friends among the natives.

Bangkok with its lovely canals and colorful buildings is called the Venice of the East. Its temple bells are pieces of tin loosely fastened so that the wind may blow them about. In spite of insects, heat and sudden rains life there

BORO ENGINEER DIES SUDDENLY

C. M. Broomall Had Long Record of Service Here and in Media

Carolus Morton Broomall, civil and mechanical engineer, died Sunday, November 1, of heart failure at his home in Media. He was 72 years old. The youngest son of the Hon. John Martin and Caroline Louise Larkin Broomall, he was a member of the Providence Meeting of the Society of Friends.

Mr. Broomall was admitted to the Delaware County Bar in 1891. He taught civil engineering at the Drexel Institute in Philadelphia for twelve years, was Borough Surveyor for England from 1895 to 1920 and Borough Engineer from 1920 to 1940. He was also Borough Engineer for Swarthmore until his death. In addition he maintained a private practice in civil and chemical engineering.

Mr. Broomall was a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and of the Delaware County Institute of Science. He was successively treasurer, vice-president and president of this Institute, and participated actively in the work done there in physics, chemistry and mathematics in several languages. He was president of the Delaware County S. P. C. A. for several years.

Surviving are his wife Henrietta Kraker Broomall and one daughter, Carlota Broomall Matienzo.

PARENTS ACT AS PUPILS AT H. & S.

Attending Classes and Seeing Youth Movies Takes Ma and Pa Back to Own School Days

In Monday evening's Home and School Association session at the high school parents cooperated nicely in playing "pupils" and recapturing their lost youth. Colored moving pictures of the summer recreational activities of the nursery and kindergarten groups helped in the rejuvenation.

Guenther Proebel the photographer had cleverly chosen interesting and amusing shots of the children at work on the jungle gym, painting, playing games and ploughing their victory gardens. Mrs. J. B. West chairman of the recreation program reported last summer a success and hoped that next summer would be an even greater one.

Dr. Horace Hopkins scholarship committee chairman presented his report on the recent cash income of $421.57 including the sale of candy. Expenses of the evening $74.78 upon deduction left a net total of $346.79. Dr. Hopkins gave credit to Bill Mitchell who sold 130 tickets and Pete Myers whose total number was 95.

After these reports Supervising Principal Frank R. Morey explained to parents the schedule for the evening and warned them "that order must be maintained in the halls while passing between classes". When the bell sounded the parent-pupils were excused to go to their respective lessons concerning the plans of the year. The evening was successfully closed with parents being rewarded for their good behavior by refreshments served by the seventh grade mothers' group in the cafeteria. Officers and members of the Home and School Association are grateful for the faculty cooperation extended the meeting.

Borough Runs True to Form

The Swarthmore vote was in keeping with the balloting at large on the entire ticket, with the exception of the O'Rourke-Woffenden contest. In the latter instance the Borough exhibited a neighborly reaction by splitting the ticket in favor of a fellow townsman, to give him a lead of 378 votes.

MOTHERS' CLUB MEETING TODAY

Mrs. Ebel Livingston to Discuss Character Building Through Play

The regular monthly meeting of the Swarthmore Mothers' Club will be held on Friday, November 13, at 2:45 P. M. in the Woman's Club House. The speaker will be Mrs. Ebel Livingston, whose topic is "Building Character and Personality Through Play and Toys". Mrs. Livingston is interested in the great possibilities for character and body building that play offers. She intends to show how parents can guide their children's play without doing too much for them, through the use of proper toys and the foresight to give way when necessary to the child's plans. There will be a tea and social period following Mrs. Livingston's talk. Members are requested to bring money with them for the annual Fathers' Night Dinner which will be held in December this year.

Officers for the 1942-1943 season are: president, Mrs. Russell C. Jenkins; vice-president, Mrs. William E. Uthe; recording secretary, Mrs. Winthrop Wright; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Alfred D. Cox, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. Rein Kroon. Chairmen appointed are: chairman of the business committee, Mrs. William E. Trickle; of the membership committee, Mrs. William E. Danforth; of the program committee, Mrs. William F. Uthe, and of the library committee, Mrs. Robert Cadigan.

FALSE SOLICITATION

It has been reported that some children are going from house to house in Swarthmore asking for contributions to the Red Cross. No funds from such source have been received by the Red Cross. The school has endeavored to make it clear to Swarthmore children that solicitation of funds is not a function of the Junior Red Cross. Parents are asked to cooperate by helping their children to understand that Junior Red Cross members are not to solicit from other funds for the Red Cross either during the membership drive or at other times. The combined enrollment and War Fund drives of the Senior Red Cross will take place in March.

BIG BOND DRIVE BEGINS WITH BANG

Borough Scurries to Place $50,000 Nameless Pursuit Plane in the Fight

On Wednesday of this week this community began a $50,000 bond drive to pay for the Pursuit Plane "Swarthmore" within the next 30 days. A splendid start was made Wednesday, Armistice Day, and yesterday by workers out urging Borough citizens to buy a share in Swarthmore's own special fighting unit in the American Air Force. If the same pace can be maintained the plane should be paid for by the end of November.

The committee headed by Mrs. William H. Thatcher is organizing volunteers to call in every home in Swarthmore and has for its goal selling at least one bond per family. In addition workers will be stationed at the bank to visit stores and the railroad station so that no one may miss an opportunity to buy a share in the pursuit plane which will carry its name plate to one of our fighting fronts.

Places of operation may not yet have been assigned to different areas—one to the East and one to the West.

The Swarthmore Pursuit Plane Bond Committee also includes Elic Sprout, Mrs. Walter A. Schmidt, Mrs. Argyle Geo. L. Corse, Mrs. Albert T. Eavenson, Mrs. George Allen, W. H. Thatcher, John E. Michael, N. O. Pittenger and P. J. Smalley.

Honor Roll and Service Flag Now Symbols on Boro "Front"

Community Cheers for U. S. Forces Everywhere as it Pauses on Armistice Day to Dedicate Tribute to Local Men

On Armistice Day in commemoration of those who fought for a final peace which did not last but is being rewon today by a new generation, Swarthmore unveiled an honor roll of its residents now actively engaged in World War No. 2.

The handsome board erected on the bank plot at Rutgers avenue and South Chester road is topped with a cut-out V banked by color depictions of a sailor, a Marine, a pilot, a tank crew, and a gunner, with the accompanying artillery. On the white board, painted in raised maroon letters, are 193 names corresponding with the number which appears on a service flag that was also raised to community exercises attended by service men's families, school children and all borough organizations at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Names are arranged on the board according to the first letter of the surname and ample space has been left to accommodate considerably more of each letter without disrupting the unity of the system. The flag is the red bordered one with white numeral on a blue star centered of white that is being used generally until an official design is set by presidential bill. When the latter occurs the flag will be altered to conform. It now flies above the head wall of the underpass near the spot at the railroad platform where Company H in New York to San Francisco, appearing in Philadelphia on January 30 of this year.

Before joining the quartet, each of the musicians was a artist in his own right. The quartet is comprised of Josef Roismann, first violin; Alexander Schneider, second violin; Boris Kroyt, viola, and Mischa Schneider, violin solo. The program for the concert at Swarthmore College is as follows:

Quartet in D major, Opus 76, No. 5, Haydn; Quartet, Opus 49, Shostakovich, and Quartet in F major, Opus 59, No. 1, Beethoven.

New Names to be Listed—As explained by Legion Commander F. Stuart Brown in presenting Burgess John H. Pitman who made the dedication address, the committee is aware that not every one is on the honor roll as it stands; some names must have been unavoidably overlooked and it is possible other names appear which should not be on the board. FAMOUS STRING QUARTET HERE

Budapest Four at College Tonight; Leaders in Chamber Music

The famous Budapest String Quartet will give a concert at Swarthmore College, Thursday, November 19. There will be no charge of admission since the program is under the auspices of the endowed Cooper Foundation and the college department of music. The concert will start at 8:15 P. M. in Clothier Memorial on the college campus.

All over the world the Budapest String Quartet is known as the superlative interpreter of chamber music. It made its American debut in 1930, although the name of the organization goes back many years in European musical history. Last season it gave 84 concerts across the country from New York to San Francisco, appearing in Philadelphia on January 30 of this year.

Quartet in D major, Opus 76, No. 5, Haydn; Quartet, Opus 49, Shostakovich, and Quartet in F major, Opus 59, No. 1, Beethoven.

Some parents have neglected to join the association, Mrs. Walter M. Reynolds chairman of the membership committee has planned a campaign for the rest of the dues. Members of her committee are as follows: Mrs. Duncan Foster, Mrs. Walter B. Keighton, Jr., Mrs. F. LeRoy Wright, Margaret Price, and Frederick Lang. Dues may be paid at the door of the next meeting or mailed to Mrs. Reynolds, 219 South Chester road. Every parent is urged to cooperate with this committee and join now.

NAMED WAR CHEST LEADERS

John B. Thayer, chairman of the District "A" Department of the United War Chest, announced on Monday the appointments of Leonard C. Ashton of Elm avenue and Mrs. A. Francis Jackson of Park avenue as co-chairman of the Central Delaware County Division. Mr. Ashton and Mrs. Jackson will organize and direct the War Chest appeal to residences and small businesses throughout Swarthmore, including Rutgers, and in addition Springfield Township and Ridley Park.

Mrs. Jackson is the president of the Community Health Society of Delaware County and a member of the board of directors of the Family Service of Western Delaware County, both United Charities agencies.

In making his announcement, Mr. Thayer stressed the fact that the United War Chest is vital war work. "Most of the workers who have enrolled are already busy men and women," said Mr. Thayer. "They are working harder and longer as a result of war and in addition many of them are doing other types of war work as volunteers."

"Yet they have accepted the additional responsibilities of a United War Chest worker," Mr. Thayer continued, "and they are gladly giving their time and effort in the drive."

HOME AND SCHOOL BOARD MEETS AT GEMMILLS'

Dr. Paul F. Gemmill president of the Swarthmore Home and School Association held a meeting of the board of directors at his home on Thayer road, Friday, November 6. The various committee chairmen reported the activities of their groups and discussed the responsibilities and duties for the coming year.

Edward Hay chairman of the program committee promised a very interesting meeting for December.

A Refresher Course

A local group who completed a First Aid Course under Dr. Florence Magilton last year by mutual request is taking "a refresher course" in order that the members may keep up to date on new techniques arising from time to time. Meetings are on the second Wednesday of each month at the Strath Haven Inn at 7:30 P. M.

The Swarthmore Unit of the Newtown Square Branch of the Navy League Service held its monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock November 10 at the home of Mrs. Maurice Grist of 603 South Chester road.

Car Owners Must Register

The owners of motor vehicles are required to register their cars and tires on November 19, 20, 21. The registration should be done at the High School on College avenue. Registration blanks can be obtained at all gasoline stations. Gasoline dealers may obtain a supply of registration blanks at the local ration board, 33 East Baltimore pike, Clifton Heights (telephone Decatur 1888).

Defense Council Bulletins

Attention of all members of the defense units is called to a lecture by Dr. Hubley Owen of the Philadelphia Defense Council on the subject "Civilian Defense in England compared to that in this country". The lecture will be held in the lecture room of the Martin Biological Building on Tuesday evening, November 24 at 7:30 P. M.

All are invited and Dr. Owen will answer questions at the end of the lecture. If the course too small, the meeting will be held in a larger room and you will be notified when you come.

Fair Fisher Match For Any Waltonian After Stay at Unique Canadian Camp

Nothing that the winter ahead has to offer can dismay Dottie Dana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Dana of Elm avenue. For Dottie has tucked tidily away in her heart and in the confident strength of her toughened muscles the healthy memory of six perfect weeks last summer spent on Bear Island in Lake Tangamag, Ontario, Canada.

There with a few of her schoolmates, among them Helen Stabler of Wallingford, she camped under the careful and stimulating guidance of Henry Woodman, George School teacher who casts a wary eye over all applicants to his Camp Cayuga and knowing the real work ahead, weeds out any likely to find the going too hard or uninteresting.

Dottie and Helen left on July 19 for base camp, going by way of Toronto by train to Temagami and then by boat to Bear Island. The boat captain warned them that the "climate made one so hungry that the only way the natives could tell they were full was by tying a string around their waists — when it snaps they are full." They visited the final Hudson Bay Post and then went by motor boat three miles up the lake to the base camp, which is educational. When they arrived at noon on the 21st, the boys were off on their two weeks' trip by canoe and portage through uncharted lakes. On their first evening they went trolling for trout after dinner. "The sun doesn't set until 10:30 so the evenings were long and delightful," Dottie wrote in her diary, from which excerpts quoted here are taken.

"All the animals on this island are tame. The birds hop right into the kitchen. The woodchucks and grouse will let you walk right up to them." Once when trolling for trout they saw a loon with "her little baby swimming across the lake. The baby got scared and let go of mamma's tail. We chased the baby in our canoe and finally caught it. It was the cutest thing, so soft. Sort of looked like a pelican. The mother cut all kinds of capers about our boat trying to get our attention away from the baby which we finally put back in the water." She records four nearby large forest fires and adds "they have been fying men and supplies over all day. The law here permits conscription of any men to fight fires. Even the boys here are liable."

Then on July 28 they were off on their two-week trek. They lived on the fish they caught and the berries they found, supplemented by canned stores.

The first day they covered 22 miles and early the next morning Dottie caught a five-pound pike in "water so clear I could see the bait swimming around in it." Incidentally, she filleted her pike, too. On another day they climbed a bluff with a sheer drop of 200 feet. "The view was something to behold. While we rested the chief rolled several huge boulders over the edge of the cliff. It sounded like thunder. Then he felled a few large trees which sounded like the crack of a rifle when they hit. 'Comes man and destruction,' I couldn't help think.

She learned that even in a heavy rain they were "very dry in tent and sleeping bag"; that getting up very early was well worth it to see "a golden path spread right up to our feet." Once when they had walked one-and-a-half miles over the trail very quietly to see some game they saw a moose, and another time they watched a mother bear and her cub. Dottie made the prize catch of the season, a 5½ pound bass and cooked bannock for supper, washed her clothes in the lake, found the islands to abound in blueberries. Small wonder that when she left on August 28 to return to civilization she felt able to meet anything, but sighed for next summer with longing.

LEGION LADIES TO PLAN ANEW

Veterans of New War Need Share in Cheer This Christmas

Promptly at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon the American Legion Auxiliary will be called to order to open the business part of its November meeting. Members are urged to attend the annual Christmas Gift Shop for Coatesville veterans will be enlarged upon by Mrs. J. Howard McCay of Springfield, county Auxiliary officer. Approximately 65 present war veterans from foreign shores are already in the Coatesville Hospital as temporary mental cases. The Auxiliary stresses attendance at Monday's session that members may learn how to better bring comfort to these men who constitute a real responsibility.

The Perry Point Veterans' Hospital with 45 added mental cases from present military camps in this country urges the community's response with candles, silk pieces, old neckties and victrol records (classical, band music and recent popular songs). Old records may be left with Commander F. Stuart Brown of the Legion at his home on Vassar avenue.

All friends of the Auxiliary who wish a bit of fun and to help the veterans, are asked to plan to attend the Auxiliary's Christmas party at 2 o'clock Friday, December 4, in the Legion room in Borough Hall.

The Auxiliary expresses thanks to the 18 industrious Senior Girl Scout Marbles and their leaders Mrs. T. W. Crossen, who collected many articles salvage in large quantities on Tuesday, October 27. It was a deep regret to the girls that their "old Dobbin" and wagon could not call at every house in the village in one day.

Those having materials ready and not collected are asked to kindly leave them with Mrs. W. E. Hertz, Mrs. Crossen or Mrs. O. J. Gilcrest.

The outstanding offerings to the Mariners were: seven fur coats, fur pieces, a muff, a fur foot warmer, a thousand stockings and Christmas cards, a mandarin, victrols, two radios, much tinfoil and many stamps. The musical offerings went to the U. S. O. and the rest to the Navy League.

In October over a thousand magazines and 195 checks of playing cards were distributed from the Gilcrest vestibule. These articles which had been left by local donors were sorted by Mrs. Frank R. Morey, Mrs. George Gillespie and Mrs. E. J. McGeehan. They went to Perry Point Veterans' Hospital, Merchant Marine and Coatesville Hospital, 4 pounds of candy for Coatesville was a personal gift. A friend of the Auxiliary sent in total blackouts such as we have never experienced and in their life so different from that here, long for mail from home. It sees it as each one's duty to write as often as possible to keep those abroad acquainted with proper news of this country, and from a distance to make their lives more cheerful.

The present demand is for boys clothing, sizes 8 to 18, in fairly good condition; also offerings of novelty jewelry, bracelets, pins and such in good condition, which can be sent to the Coatesville Christmas Gift Shop. The veterans will choose gifts for their families from this shop.

The usual salvage articles, except empty spoons, match boxes and Christmas cards, are welcomed at the Gilcrest vestibule on Harvard avenue.

The Auxiliary asks everyone to remember that American service men on foreign shores in total blackouts such as we have never experienced and in their life so different from that here, long for mail from home. It sees it as each one's duty to write as often as possible to keep those abroad acquainted with proper news of this country, and from a distance to make their lives more cheerful.

Opera Singer and Pupil in Joint Recital

By Laura M. Gilder

Among events of musical interest locally is the operatic recital given by Muriela Cianci of Park avenue, with a program of arias and art songs in Rose Valley on Tuesday night, November 10, assisted by Cora Stroger, also of Park avenue, soprano and Violet Crandall pianist.

The artists were warmly approved by an appreciative audience which thronged the hall and called for many encores. Miss Cianci's numbers included works from the early period of Pergolesi and Paradisi through that of Mozart, Schubert, Brahms, Bizet, Verdi and Mascagni, art songs by the last three sung in costume reminiscent of Miss Cianci's successful tour with the famous basso Tito Ruffo of Metropolitan Opera repete.

Her voice is now in the prime of its rich development possessing both dramatic power and lyric skill, of authoritative quality, and echoing its transition from the coloratura range and character of earlier days to its present maturity of a dramatic soprano with great width of scale and color. In its command of nuance and versatility in execution it caught with ease the vivacious of Brahms, the noble reserve of Bach, the felicities and beauty of Mozart and Schubert as well as the lofty verve of Verdi.

Miss Cianci's earnest devotion of her art has enhanced the promise of her youth with which the writer is long acquainted. Her work has received recognition from those high in the musical world. Her lately developed accomplishment in the art of portrait painting has added new concept and a new mastery to her singing as evidenced in her own work and that of her pupil Miss Strother who appeared with her on this occasion in lyric roles with songs by Gretry.

Miss Strother shows sensitive feeling and a pleasing quality of voice, giving promise of growing command of vocal resources. At the piano Miss Crandall plays with accompanist and soloist making a delightful tonal background and interlude.

Muriela Cianci a native of Swarthmore is the wife of the well-known artist Harry Johnson of this town whose paintings have had meritorious award and recognition in exhibitions. Immersed in the arts, these two have collaborated in musical composition recently.

County D.A.R. Here Monday

Intimate glimpses of D. A. R. approved schools will be presented by Helen Cleaver, state chairman, at the meeting of the Delaware County Chapter, D. A. R., on Monday, November 16, at the home of Mrs. Henry J. Welland, 222 Rutgers avenue.

Mrs. Howard W. Newman and Mrs. Lovett Prescoll will be co-hostesses. Members are requested to bring or send their Christmas donations of dolls, toys, books or wearing apparel for these schools to this meeting.

Urge B.W.R.S. To Sign Under U.S.C.S.C.

The United States Citizens Service Corps of the Philadelphia Council of Defense has invited all Volunteers of the British War Relief Society, working for Britain, to become members of this Corps. All work done for the British War Relief Society will then be considered as a contribution to the United States' own National Defense.

To become a member of this Service Corps the requirements are as follows: Registration at the Civilian Defense Volunteer Office, 16 South 15th street; that fifty hours of volunteer service has already been given; and this service must be continuous to the extent of 100 hours per year.

New members of the U.S.C.S.C. will be granted the privilege of wearing the emblem, uniform and insignia. A membership card will also be given. Members who wish to do so may wear the B.W.R. Society emblem on their lapel to show for whom they are working in the National Defense.

On completion of the above requirements the official oath should be "subscribed to" in the presence of Mrs. Francis R. Strawbridge.

The officers of the British War Relief Society consider joining the U.S.C.S.C. a most necessary step and hope all members will be interested in doing so. Any Swarthmore member of the B.W.R.S. who wishes to join may initiate the necessary application blank from Mrs. Percival Armitage, 314 Harvard avenue.

have left their business for the duration in the hands of their father, George Rumsey and William J. Amick, who has been with them as mechanic for nine years.

DAILY, including Sundays and Holidays

Says Major General C. P. Gross, Chief of Transportation of the United States Army: "Transportation is the life blood of this great Army."

"Night and day the railroads have been on the job, consistently meeting increasingly difficult requirements, for freight and passenger equipment and service. They have done a superb job."

Yes, night and day, including Sundays and holidays, the railroads of America have been speeding troops to wherever the Army commands!

In the first ten months alone, they have moved approximately 8,000,000 troops, not counting soldiers on leave.

That's over three times as many as they carried in the same period of the last war!

For all this, the credit goes jointly to the railroads, the War Department and the Office of Defense Transportation—it's a job of perfect coordination. When the need for quick mass movement of troops came, a plan, which experienced railroad men had been developing for twenty years, went instantly into operation. That's why Uncle Sam's war machine rolls!

The Perry Point Veterans' Hospital with 45 added mental cases from present military camps in this country urges the community's response with candy, silk neckties and with records of records (classical, band music and cent popular songs). Old records may be left with Commander F. Stuart Brown of the Legion at his home on Vassar avenue.

All friends of the Auxiliary who wish a bit of fun and to help the veterans, are asked to plan to attend the Auxiliary's Christmas party at 2 o'clock Friday, December 4, in the Legion room in Borough Hall.

The Auxiliary expresses thanks to the 18 industrious Senior Girl Scout Mariner and their leader Mrs. T. W. Crossen, who collected small article salvage in large quantities on Tuesday, October 27. It was a deep regret to the girls that their "old Dobbin" and wagon could not call at every house in the village in one day.

Those having materials ready and not collected are asked to kindly leave them with Mrs. W. E. Hetzel, Mrs. Crossen or Mrs. G. J. Gilchrist.

The outstanding offerings to the Mariners were: seven fur coats, fur pieces, a muff, a fur foot warmer, a thousand stockings and Christmas cards, a mandolin, victrola, two radios, much tin foil and many stamps. The musical offerings went to the U. S. O. and the rest to the Navy League.

In October over a thousand magazines and 195 packets of playing cards were distributed from the Gilcrest vestibule. These articles which had been left by local donors were sorted by Mrs. Frank R. Morey, Mrs. George Gillespie Helen Glesner, state chairman, at the meeting of the Delaware County Chapter, D. A. R., on Monday, November 16, at the home of Mrs. Henry J. Wieland, 222 Rutgers avenue.

Mrs. Howard W. Newnam and Mrs. Lovett Prescoln will be co-hostesses. Members are requested to bring or send their Christmas donations of dolls, toys, books or wreaths prepared for these schools to this meeting.

Opera Singer and Pupil in Joint Recital

By Laura M. Gildner

Among events of musical interest locally is the operatic recital given by Muriela Cienci of Park avenue, with a program of arias and art songs in Rose Valley on Tuesday night, November 10, assisted by Cora Strother, also of Park avenue, soprano and Violet Crandall pianist.

The artists were warmly applauded by an appreciative audience which thronged the hall and called for many encores. Miss Cienci's numbers included works from the early period of Pergolesi and Paradisi through that of Mozart, Schubert, Brahms, Bizet, Verdi and Mascagni with arias by the last three sung in costume reminiscent of Miss Cienci's successful tour with the famous basso Tito Ruffo of Metropolitan Opera repete.

Her voice is now in the prime of its rich development possessing both dramatic power and lyric skill, of authoritative quality, and echoing its transition from the coloratura range and character of earlier days to its present maturity of a dramatic soprano with great width of scale and color. In its command of nuance and of versatility in execution it caught with ease the vividness of Brahms, the noble reserve of Bach, the felicities and beauty of Mozart and Schubert as well as the lofty verve of Verdi.

Miss Cienci's earnest devotion of her art has endeared the promise of her youth with which the writer is long acquainted. Her work has received recognition from those high in the musical world. Her lately developed accomplishment in the art of portrait painting has added new concept and a new mastery to her singing as evidenced in her own work and that of her pupil Miss Strother who appeared with her on this occasion in lyric role with songs by Grieg.

Miss Strother shows sensitive feeling and a pleasing quality of voice, giving promise of growing command of vocal resources. At the piano Miss Cienci's accompaniment and soloist making a delightful tonal background and interlude.

Muriela Cienci a native of Swarthmore is the wife of the well-known artist Harry Johnson of this town whose miniature have had meritorious award and recognition in exhibitions. Immersed in the arts, these two have collaborated in musical composition recently.

Senior Service Scouts Number Five Five local senior high school girls qualified last Tuesday evening to be Senior Service Scouts, a defense program for older high school girls set up throughout the United States. These girls have trained to be useful in their own community under emergency conditions. Their aim is "to be prepared at all times to serve and to take a responsible part in the defense of our country when called upon." In less than a year these girls have covered a large area of training.

Laura Lee Hopkins, Ruth Gay, Mary Frances Dimmitt, Betty Ann Hulme, Charlotte Maas, have completed courses of instruction in the following subjects: Home nursing, first aid, bicycle mechanics, Morse code, junior or senior life saving, primitive outdoor living and cookery, satisfactory health certificates, map leads of Swarthmore, story telling, and child care. Each subject was taught by a specialist in the field. In less than a year, the entire course has been covered. S.S.S. insignias were presented by Emlyn Hodge Delaware County program director of Girl Scouts.

Win Mariner Pins Also on last Tuesday evening witnessed by mothers and the pilot committee of M. S. "Trade Winds," Mrs. Howard Jenkins, acting chairman of the pilot committee presented Mariner pins to the following new Mariners who have qualified this year: Babsy Sichel, June Spackman, Barbara Ann Crossen, Frances Jenkins, Marjorie Black, Peggie Keenen, Jane Matthews, Patsy McCahan, Mary Virginia Cordray, Virginia Bonnet, and Betty Jane Brownell.

Urge B.W.R.S. To Sign Under U.S.C.S.C.

The United States Citizens Service Corps of the Philadelphia Council of Defense has invited all Volunteers of the British War Relief Society, working in Britain, to become members of this Corps. All the work done for the British War Relief Society will then be considered as a contribution to the United States' own National Defense.

To become a member of this Service Corps the requirements are as follows: Registration at the Civilian Defense Volunteer Office, 16 South 15th street; that fifty hours of volunteer service has already been given; and this service must be continuous to the extent of 100 hours per year.

New members of the U.S.C.S.C. will be granted the privilege of wearing the emblem, uniform and insignia. A membership card will also be given. Members who wish to do so may wear the B.W.R.S. Society emblem on their lapel to show for whom they are working in the National Defense.

On completion of the above requirements the official oath should be "subscribed to" in the presence of Mrs. Francis R. Strawbridge.

The officers of the British War Relief Society consider joining the U.S.C.S.C. a most necessary step and hope all members will be interested in doing so. Any Swarthmore member of the B.W.R.S. who wishes to join may obtain the necessary application blank from Mrs. Percival Armitage, 314 Harvard avenue.

Honor Roll Flag Now on Boro "Front"

The service was furnished by The Swarthmore which has made every attempt to get every eligible person on its files for free service copies of the weekly paper. Only those who are actually residents of Swarthmore Borough or whose families are residents here are put on the board, and only those now in active service. Those who have enlisted in the various reserve corps or who are members of ROTC will be added to the roll as they are called for active duty.

The honor roll will be revised every couple of months in order to add those names which materialize since last Sunday's deadline for its completion. The only way a positive list may be maintained is through the cooperation of the individuals' families. If they will report to The Swarthmore any names which should be entered on the roll the records and the board can be kept up to date. Commander Brown publicly thanked Supervising Principal Frank R. Morey for making all the facilities of the high school available for work on the roll. Robert M. Sauter head of the shop, and the boys of the shop and senior drawing class who worked hard to prepare the frame, letter and paint it; Claudia Hancock and her senior art class for inscribing the names on the board and painting them and for the beautiful decorative work on top of the stand; Borough Secretary Elliott Richardson for his assistance in obtaining and placing the service flag poles and having the honor roll set up; the bank for its permission to erect the honor roll on its ground; and the many others who gave so generously of their time to aid the project.

Fitman Speaks
The biggest, who incidentally heads the local Civilian Defense, in a fine address affixed with tribute to the service men, listed facts of active fighting and home front assistance in each war and took to task any remaining few who might allow personal concern to sidetrack them from wholeheartedly cheering our fighting forces. He said in part: "Just as surely as the breakdown of the morale of the German citizens behind the lines finally destroyed the effectiveness of the German armies in the last war, so did the breakdown of the morale of the citizens of this country and its allies break down the possibility of a lasting peace."

223 Pints Blood Given Nov. 11th

The College Medical Corps gave invaluable assistance throughout the day. The woman's squad under the leadership of Olive Jones furnished messenger service. A men's squad directed by Warner Love attended to arrangements under the able oversight of Otto Hebel custodian of Martin Laboratory. The Athletic Department excused all donors from the day's requirements. Miss Carr, College dietitian produced an innovation of a diet table for donors to provide for them a fat free diet since blood containing fat cannot be used for plasma.

Red Cross Motor Corps members Elizabeth Bassett, Mrs. Walter A. Schmidt, and Mrs. John R. Bates were on duty steadily. Red Cross Antennae members Mrs. Carlos F. Noyes, Mrs. D. C. Storrs, Mrs. Thomas Simpers, Mrs. Elliott Richardson, and Mrs. Horace E. Passmore served juices and coffee to donors and nurses during rest periods in the afternoon. Nurses' Aides Mrs. Edwin W. Crosby, Mrs. Warren Tyson, and Mrs. J. Paul Brown were on 7-hour duty.

Staff members of the Community Health Society of Delaware County headed by Mrs. Elizabeth Worrell Plummer proved themselves invaluable as always to the Blood Donor project. Mrs. George Seeger of Springfield also helped with the nursing. Mrs. Phelps Soule booking chairman checked the donors and assisted Mrs. A. Ludlow Clayden chairman of Red Cross Blood Donors for Swarthmore with her multiple duties. The Red Cross special services contributed valuable aid to the day which moved smoothly to its successful achievement.

Brownie Activities
The Brownies enjoyed their different hikes Wednesday through the College woods and hope to repeat this sometime soon. This week a joint meeting of the two Brownie packs was held at the Presbyterian Church for the initiation ceremony. Two new members were taken into Mrs. Samuel Trepp's group, June Hobbs and Julianne Kross. Five new members were taken into Mrs. Frank Holman's group, Mary Ellen Hopper, Mary Jane Soden, Ann Denworth, Cecile Theiss and Valerie Worth. Next week the Brownies are entertaining their mothers at a joint meeting at the Presbyterian Church at 3:30 P. M.

SCHOOL NEWS

London Throwing Record
Last Friday Swarthmore's recently undefeated and undefeated football team met its first defeat of the season as it was defeated by Yeaton 13-0.

Two costly game blunders in the first quarter afforded the visitors their scoring opportunities. Early in the game a fumble by Rogeri was recovered by Yeaton in Swarthmore's territory. Just nine plays later, Inster crashed over from the 3 yard line for a touchdown.

Following the kickoff, Yeaton attempted a quick kick which was blocked and Vaughn of Yeaton picked up the ball and raced 20 yards down the sideline for another touchdown.

Through the greater part of time remaining in the game Yeaton kept Swarthmore in its own territory. In the last quarter Haig grabbed a long pass from Hoot and ran 40 yards for a score. However an official ruled that Haig had stepped out of bounds on Yeaton's 34. Before the game ended Swarthmore drove down to Yeaton's 3-yard line but failed to score.

Numerous tumbles and misplays were traced to Swarthmore's first defeat of the season.

Band at Today's Game
The Swarthmore High School Band will play at the Pennsylvania Military College Prep game on Friday afternoon, November 13, at the Rutgers campus field.

"A WALTZ DREAM" TO OPEN TUESDAY

Players Club Comes Through With Strab's Musical After Years of Spoken Drama

The Players Club next week presents its first full-length musical production in 15 years. The popular Oscar Straus operetta "A Waltz Dream" is being offered to the club's large following in response to a persistent and increasing demand that its program should be somewhat more varied to satisfy the wide interests of its members and friends.

Musical entertainment is one of the stated purposes of the Players Club and there has been much of it in the past from its first vaudeville, minstrel and variety shows, its engagement of Victor Herbert, Nelson Eddy and other artists, on down to recent appearances of the Swarthmore Symphony Orchestra, Henry Hotz's Madrigal Singers and various glee clubs and quartets. But not since "Flanore" in 1916 and Charles S. Morgan's full vaudeville performance in 1927 has the club undertaken such an ambitious presentation as "A Waltz Dream."

Through the operetta is done almost entirely in music with very little dialogue there is a story with a love interest involving most of the principal characters. Princess Helene of Sylvania is betrothed to Niki a lieutenant of the Austrian Hussars who feels duty-bound to obey the wish of his emperor that he go through with the marriage, until he meets Kay Robinson an American artist who is also a beautiful singer. Two rival suitors for the hand of Princess Helene are Sigismund and Rupert who not knowing of the affair with Kay hope to bring Niki from marrying Helene by kidnapping him and shipping him off to London in a plane.

Helene prefers Rupert anyway but his long absence on a secret mission for his country had led her to believe he was lost to her. She is overjoyed at this return and the success of his mission gaining him the necessary royal consent to their marriage. Meanwhile Niki escapes from his captors and finding himself released from his royal obligations is free to marry Kay so that a double wedding is in prospect as the curtain falls on the stirring finale.

KEEP PLENTY OF EXTRA FUSES HANDY

Fuses are the "safety valves" of your electrical circuits. When a wiring circuit is overloaded or "shorted", the fuse blows.

Keep a supply of extras on hand (30 amperes for main current; 15 amperes for branch lines). It takes but a few minutes to restore service if you follow these suggestions.

(1) Know where your main and branch circuit fuse boxes are located in your home. (2) Before replacing a fuse, disconnect the appliance you think caused the fuse to blow. (3) Look for the blown fuse... usually the mica window is smoke-blackened. (4) When removing or inserting a fuse, grasp just the rim between the thumb and forefinger. (5) Replace the blown fuse with one of proper size.

Soiree Parisienne Tonight, Tomorrow

Free French Fighters and Navy League to Benefit From Annual Gala Occasion

Interest in the struggle of the Free French Fighting Forces and their efforts to regain French possessions with American aid add special significance to the annual Soiree Parisienne at Mary Lyon Junior College in the Miller Crist Auditorium this Friday and Saturday evenings, November 13 and 14. The beneficiaries are, as usual, the Free French Forces, and the Navy League Service.

A huge backdrop of Paris streets and roof-tops, red and white striped awnings, blue and white checked covers for the small tables placed in typical sidewalk cafe manner, and an array of the flags of all the Allied Nations give the setting an authentic touch. The floor shows again feature the traditional French Can-Can, with flared-dorats, pink and black skirted flairs five yards wide, black gloves, and black silk full-length tights.

Marij Schaefer, whose dancing is well-known to Swarthmoreans, is teaming with Dorothy Wald Phillips and Eddie Dawes, the latter as Master of Ceremonies, to stage the floor show. These three have worked together in Walker Wear, the annual Sky-top Club summer revue, and have been responsible for it the past seven seasons. Marij has trained choruses of hula, military tap, the Paris in the Spring Waltz, a ballet, and the Can-Can, and will dance the solo in the ballet and hula. An Apache Dance is also included.

Jean La Roche, who won the Pennsylvania State Music contest when at Lower Merion High School in 1941, is singing in two spots on the show, as is Martha Eidam of Hazelton. Food, so essential to the Frenchman's happiness, will be served at a midnight supper. There will be dancing between shows.

The patrons and patronesses include: Honorary patrons — Dr. and Mrs. Frank Aydelotte, Mrs. William Jackson Clothier, Mrs. George H. Earle, Jr., M. et Mme. Eugene Houdry. Patrons and patronesses — Mr. and Mrs. Claude G. Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Ashton, Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Young Marine Couldn't Wait

One of Uncle Sam's latest and most determined "Fighting Dogs" is 17-year-old Private Curtis Eldridge who left his studies in the junior class of Swarthmore High School to enlist in the Marines. Eldridge, an orphan who has been living with his aunt, Mrs. George Bradford of Yale avenue for the past two years, insisted upon being allowed to postpone his studies and get into the battle now lest the war be over before he graduated or became 18 next August and was eligible for draft. He left Wednesday of last week to report to the Customs House in Philadelphia and sent his new address, Parris Island, N. C., to his relatives here early this week. The boy's mother, who was Mrs. Bradford's sister, died in 1935, two years after her husband's demise. Before coming to Swarthmore he lived with another aunt in Northampton, Pa.

Eight Draftees to Go Armistice Day

Those leaving from Draft Board No. 3, Lansdowne, for New Cumberland on Wednesday, November 11, were: Bruce Shaffey Cook, Copples lane; Harvey Marshal McNulty, Fairview road; Alton Parker Smith, 1 South Chester road; Keith Waldow Chalmers and Adolph Ernest Meister, Swarthmore College; Earl Age Gunnar Strand, 152 Park avenue; Donald Robert Towers, Mary Lyon Junior College; William Flexer Clark, 404 Park avenue.

"A Waltz Dream" Recalls Many Past Players Club Musicals to Loyal First-Nighters

The Players Club's confirmed first-nighters were all rewarded on Tuesday evening by being the first to enjoy "colorful" and light-hearted musical performance such as the Club has not experienced for 15 years. The production by J. William Simmons of Oscar Straus's tuneful operetta "A Waltz Dream" charmed and delighted all—particularly our favorite first-nighter and Club charter member, "Tommy" Andrew, who chortled throughout and applauded loudly. He had no doubt nostalgic memories of his own appearance many years ago as Admiral Joseph Porter, K. C. B., in the Club's production of "Flanore."

That Mr. Simmons succeeded so well in whipping up a show out of the fast dwindling ranks of active players is no accident. He and Otto Kraus have toiled and groaned and toiled again ever since August, when first chorus rehearsals began. No one who sees the show for the first in performance could know how much blood, sweat and tears those two men have shed in the cause, and how near the whole idea came to abandonment when, just a few weeks ago, the show still lacked several principals and half the chorus.

What the audience will see, however, is a gay and picturesque performance not without flaws, but with several thrillingly full-bodied chorus effect for so small a group. The fine orchestra assembled by R. C. Disque and W. F. G. Swann supports the singers well, and gives a professional finish to the show. Dr. Swann does an excellent job of conducting the score.

Settings Impressive

The imposing palace setting which features Corinthian columns and pilasters against a rich curtain background was the result of a gift from the American Visiting Corporation, through the kindness of Walter Giles. The handsome columns are permanent additions to the Club's stock of scenery, and should be useful in many future productions. The colorful cafe garden of the second act made a pleasing contrast to the formal palace setting, and a good background for a constantly shifting pattern of bright uniforms and brighter gowns of the citizens of "Sylvania."

Agnes Spicker, the Princess Helene, reveals with her first notes a magnificently rich soprano voice, sweet and sure, and of good volume throughout. Though this marks her debut as an actress Miss Spicker makes the Princess a believable character, and gains the sympathy of the audience from the first.

Swarthmore Namesake Gets Flying Start in Week; Looks Like Bomber

If the rate set by the first week of Swarthmore's special 30-day bond drive is maintained, the plane to be named Swarthmore may well turn out to be a bomber of the B-25 type which costs $150,000.

The drive was started on Armistice Day and the fast pace of the intervening week was being maintained when The Swarthmorean went to press.

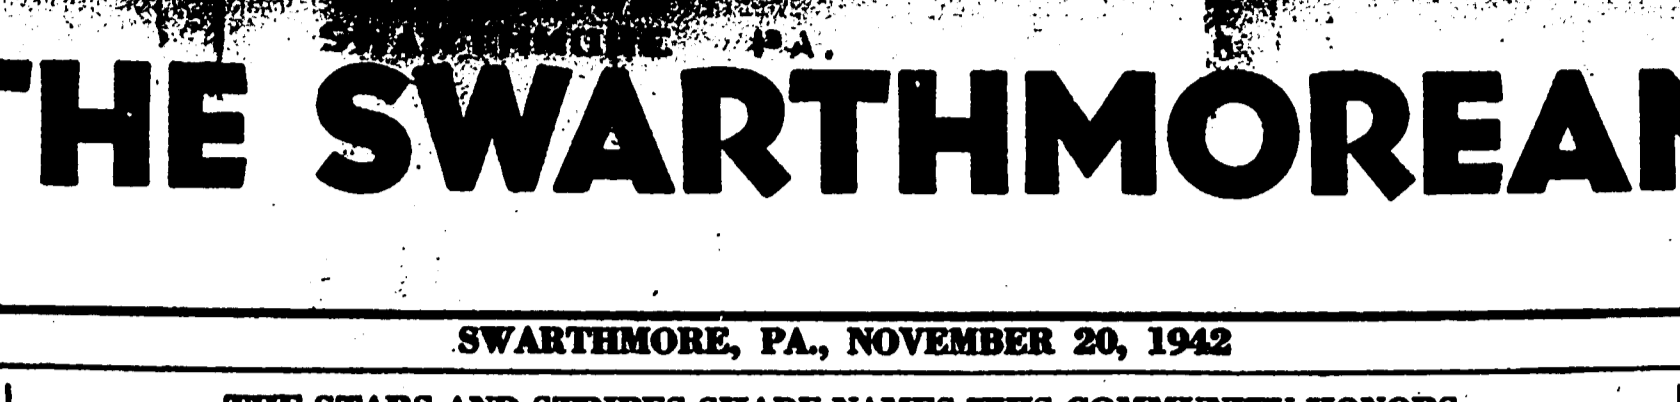

This step-up from the original goal of two $50,000 fighter planes is in keeping with the Swarthmore tradition and would put the Borough in the same class with cities of 20,000 to 25,000 population.

The committee is having a letter liveread to every home in Swarthmore and is confident that the sights have been raised only to conform to the mounting enthusiasm which greeted the first announcement of the drive.

The B-25 is a medium bomber with two engines and is of the same type which raided Tokyo and which has rendered such excellent service in the North African campaign and in the Middle East.

A silhouette of the plane is being prepared and will be set up on the corner by the Swarthmore National Bank. As the money comes in the outline will be filled in so that everyone can watch the progress in bond sales by the plane.

Bond buyers are cautioned that although Bonds bought anywhere (except 10% payroll deduction at places of employment) can be credited to Swarthmore's campaign, but it is necessary wherever a Bond is purchased, even in this Borough to secure and sign a receipt form. November 13, in the Women's Club, can be credited to Swarthmore's campaign, but it is necessary wherever a Bond is purchased, even in this Borough to secure and sign a receipt form. November 13, in the Women's Club, can be credited to Swarthmore's campaign, but it is necessary wherever a Bond is purchased, even in this Borough to secure and sign a receipt form.

The camera of Ernest R. Laws caught the Honor Roll soon after its unveiling by the Harold Ainsworth Post of the American Legion on Armistice Day. More names are soon to be added to keep up with the rapidly growing number of free men who "stand between their loved homes and the war's desolation."

HAMBURG SHOW AT COLLEGE TONIGHT

This year's Hamburg Show at Swarthmore College, set on by the class of 1944 under the sponsorship of KWINK managerial society aims to be a variety show of high tone skills. It will be held at 8:15 tonight in Clothier Memorial.

Proceeds will be divided among the College Chest Fund, the U.S.O., and a fund for band uniforms.

Skits include ones by the Modern Dance Group, the Boys' Glee Club, the College Band, a small dance band of students, KWINK Chorus (a la Maxine Cole), Gimpie girls' managerial society, and will be highlighted by an act done by a group of professors.

At the close of the evening's performance which is returning to its original type after several years of circus effect held in the field house, there will be a pep rally and bonfire on the football field in anticipation of the morrow's fray with Elvertown.

PHILANTHROPIC BRIDGE AT CLUB

South American Films Feature of Next Tuesday's Meeting of Club Women

On Tuesday, November 17, the health, welfare and educational sections of the Woman's Club held a delightful dessert bridge. The welfare committee was under Mrs. Seymour Hemenway, Mrs. Raymond Denworth and Mrs. William DeCaindry. Mrs. Edward Rollhaus was ticket chairman and Mrs. Russell Phillips, chairman of food sale. Mrs. John Esslinger and Lillian Lloyd, Mrs. Harold Ogram and Mrs. William Morrow arranged the sale of candy and nuts.

All door prizes were contributed by members except one. These were won by Mrs. R. Mixdorf, Mrs. A. A. Luder, Mrs. C. B. Adams, Mrs. W. C. Allen, Mrs. F. R. Morey, Mrs. J. F. McKernan, Mrs. J. H. Pitman, Mrs. H. R. Johnson, and Mrs. R. Farr, Mrs. H. R. Johnson.

Next Tuesday November 24, the program will be presented by the motion picture section under the direction of Chairman Mrs. John C. Moore. The program will consist of a showing of inter-American films with views of Brazil, Venezuela, Buenos Aires, and Columbia. There will also be given a patriotic film entitled, "Ring of Steel." The hostesses will be Mrs. Kendall C. Sadler and Mrs. Anthony Ventner. Mrs. C. Percy Webster and Mrs. Joseph N. Walton will serve at the tea-table.

MRS. LIVINGSTON AT MOTHERS' CLUB

Constructive Play, Toys Studied; Group Plans Annual Dinner For Spouses

The second regular monthly meeting of the Swarthmore Mothers' Club was held Wednesday, November 13, in the Woman's Club. Mrs. Ethel Livingston spoke on "Building Character and Personality Through Play and Toys" and the meeting was followed by a tea and social.

According to Mrs. Livingston, the members' parents had just as many responsibilities and worries as they do, but did not realize how to interfere with their children's growth and happiness. She said, "There will always be parents' problems, but there will always be children playing. The main things for parents to provide for their children are a specific time and a specific place for play, proper playthings, and playmates.

Toys are constructive builders of personality: through toys the child can grow mentally and physically."

Mrs. Livingston showed toys that she and her husband had made and which she had found to be extremely satisfactory for certain ages of children. A great many new members attended the meeting of the club which has been expanded this year to cover not only mothers of pre-school children but of all young children. Anyone who is interested in joining should get in touch with Mrs. William E. Danforth or one of the other members of the membership committee.

Members are again reminded of the annual Father's Night dinner which will be held Friday night, December 11, when the Rev. David Braun will speak. Those who have not taken care of their obligations should do so immediately with Mrs. William C. Trickle, Wallingford. Officers and others who wish will wear long dresses, but this is not compulsory. Those members whose husbands are not available because of the war should feel perfectly free to attend the dinner without them.

The monthly panel discussion groups were held Wednesday, November 13. Those members whose children's ages ranged from birth to four years met at the home of Mrs. John Taylor on Yale avenue, while those members with children over four met at the home of Mrs. William A. DeCaindry, 801 Westdale avenue. The topic under discussion was "Discipline."

"A WALTZ DREAM" TO OPEN TUESDAY

Players Club Comes Through With Stru's Musical After Years of Spoken Drama

The Players Club next week presents its first full-length musical production in 15 years. The popular Oscar Strauss opera "A Waltz Dream" is being offered to a persistent and increasing demand that its program should be somewhat more varied to satisfy the wide interests of its members and friends.

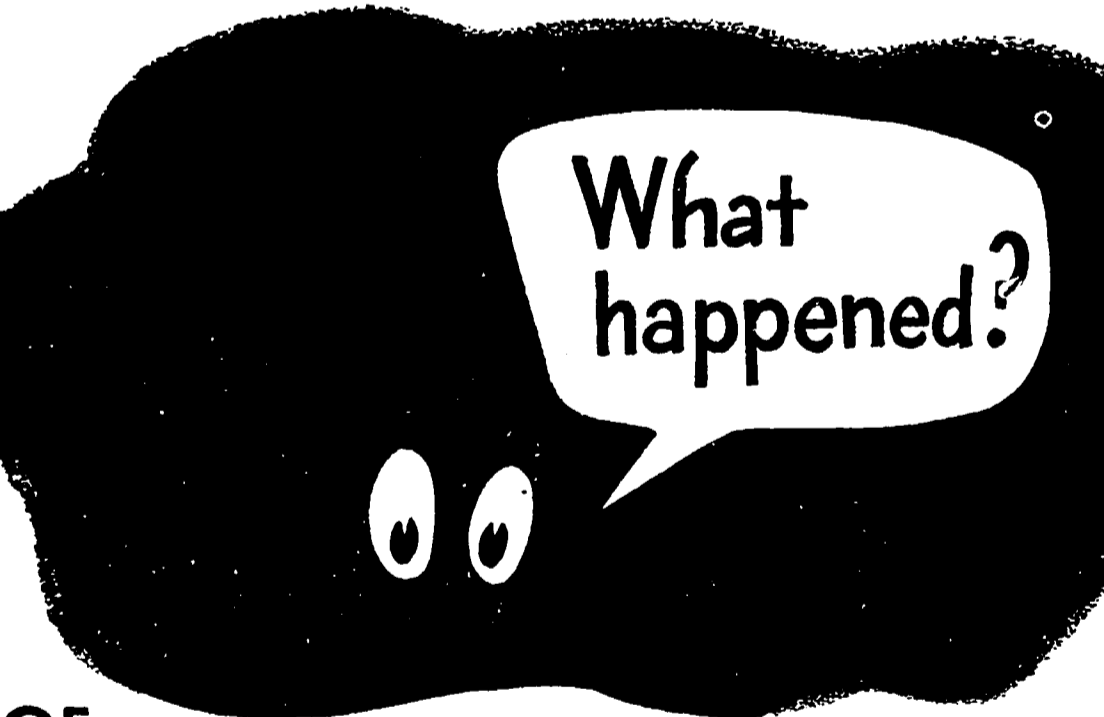

Musical entertainment is one of the stated purposes of the Players Club and there has been much of it in the past from its first vaudeville, minstrel and variety shows, its engagement of Victor Herbert, Nelson Eddy and other artists, on down to recent appearances of the Swarthmore Symphony Orchestra, Henry Hotel's Madrigal Singers and various glee clubs and quartets. But not since "Pinafore" in 1916 and Charles S. Morgan's full vaudeville performance in 1927 has the club undertaken such an ambitious presentation as "A Waltz Dream."

Though the opera is done almost entirely in music with very little dialogue there is a story with a love interest involving most of the principal characters. Princess Helene of Sylvania is betrothed to Niki a lieutenant of the Austrian Hussars who feels duty-bound to obey the wish of his emperor that he go through with the marriage, until he meets Kay Robinson an American artist who is also a beautiful singer. Two rival suitors for the hand of Princess Helene are Sigmund and Rupert who not knowing of the affair with Kay hope to prevent Niki from marrying Helene by kidnapping him and shipping him off to London in a plane.

Helene prefers Rupert anyway but his long absence on a secret mission for his country had led her to believe he was lost to her. She is overjoyed at this return and the success of his mission gains him the necessary royal consent to their marriage. Meanwhile Niki escapes from his captors and finding himself released from his royal obligations is free to marry Kay so that a double wedding is in prospect as the curtain falls on the stirring finale.

COOKIE EATERS NEED CHAIRS, TABLES, RADIOS, RECORDS

Last August under the direction of Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop a group of 12 local women was organized to form a cookie chain and each is responsible for supplying 500 or more cookies once every three months. The men who receive the cookies are fed by the chain women and depend mostly on old tin cans for seats in their tents while on plane watching, bridge guarding or water works protection duty between here and Camden and beyond.

The local women are anxious to secure tables and chairs, rather recent records and radios to make these men passively comfortable at their outposts. Those having such items to contribute should bring them at the home of Mrs. S. Milton Bryant, 218 Dickinson avenue, or telephone Mrs. Bryant (Swarthmore 1457-W) to arrange to have them collected.

Last Saturday's cookies were baked by Mrs. Bryant's workers: Mrs. John Rawsett, Mrs. Percy Gilbert, Mrs. Alton Marjorie, Mrs. Philip Snow, Mrs. Roland G. E. Ullman, Eva and Annabelle Cresson, Mrs. Arthur Grover, Mrs. Henry Piper, Mrs. E. Millay and Mrs. S. J. Bockette. Other ladies who recently baked cookies for the soldiers are Mrs. Joseph B. That Mr. Simmons succeeded so well in whipping up a show out of the fast-dwindling ranks of active players is no accident. He and Otto Kraus have toiled and grunted and toiled again ever since August, when first chorus rehearsals began. No one who sees the show for the first in performance could know how much blood, sweat and tears those two men have shed in the cause, and how near the whole idea came to abandonment when, just a few weeks ago, the show still lacked several principals and half the chorus.

What the audience will see, however, is a gay and picturesque performance, not without flaws, but with several thrillingly good voices, and a surprisingly full-bodied chorus effect for so small a group. The fine orchestra assembled by R. C. Disque and W. F. G. Swann supports the singers well, and gives a professional finish to the show. Dr. Swann does an excellent job of conducting the score.

Settings Impressive The imposing palace setting which features Corinthian columns and pilasters against a rich curtain background was the result of a gift from the American Viscose Corporation, through the kindness of Walter Giles. The handsome columns are permanent additions to the Club's already full-bodied chorus and are useful in many future productions. The colorful cafe garden of the second act made a pleasing contrast to the formal palace setting, and a good background for a constantly shifting pattern of bright uniforms and brighter gowns of the citizens of "Sylvania".

Agnes Spieker, the Princess Helene, reveals with her first notes a magnificently rich soprano voice, sweet and sure, and of good volume throughout. Though this marks her debut as an actress Miss Spieker makes the Princess a believable character, and gains the sympathy of the audience from the first.

The camera of Ernest R. Laws caught the Honor Roll soon after its unveiling by the Harold Ainsworth Post of the American Legion on Armistice Day. More names are soon to be added to keep up with the rapidly growing number of free men who "stand between their loved homes and the war's desolation."

HAMBURG SHOW AT COLLEGE TONIGHT

This year's Hamburg Show at Swarthmore College put on by the class of 1944 under the sponsorship of KWINK managerial society aims to be a variety show of high tone skills. It will be held at 8:15 tonight in Clothier Memorial College Chest Fund, the U.S.O., and a fund for band uniforms.

Skits include ones by the Modern Dance Group, the Boys' Glee Club, the College Band, a small dance band of students, KWINK Chorus (a la Mask and Wig), Guimp girls' managerial society, and will be highlighted by an act done by a group of professors.

PHILANTHROPIC BRIDGE AT CLUB

South American Films Feature of Next Tuesday's Meeting of Club Women

On Tuesday, November 17, the health, welfare and educational sections of the Women's Club held a delightful dessert bridge. The welfare committee was under Mrs. Seymour Hemenway, Mrs. Raymond Denworth and Mrs. William DeCaindry. Mrs. Edward Rollhaus was ticket chairman and Mrs. Russell Phillips, chairman of food sale. Mrs. John Esslinger and Lillian Boyd, Mrs. Harold Ogram and Mrs. William Morrow arranged the sale of candy and nuts.

All door prizes were contributed by members except one. These were won by Mrs. R. Nixdorf, Mrs. A. A. Luder, Mrs. C. B. Adams, Mrs. W. C. Allen, Mrs. F. R. Moray, Mrs. J. F. McKernan, Mrs. J. H. Pitman, Mrs. Edwin Keatley, Mrs. R. Farr, Mrs. H. R. Johnson.

Next Tuesday November 24, the program will be presented by the motion picture section under the direction of Chairman Mrs. John C. Moore. The program will consist of a showing of inter-American films with views of Brazil, Venezuela, Buenos Aires, and Columbia. There will also be given a patriotic film entitled, "Ring of Steel." The hostesses will be Mrs. Kendall C. Sadler and Mrs. Anthony Ventner. Mrs. C. Percy Webster and Mrs. Joseph N. Walton will serve at the tea-table.

Tri Deltas Honor Founders

The Philadelphia West Suburban Alliance of Delta Delta Delta, together with the Philadelphia North Suburban Alliance, the Psi Alliance, and the Psi Collegiate Chapter, will hold the annual Founders' Day Luncheon in Philadelphia on Saturday November 21, at 12:45 P. M.

Beth Cummings, Women's Editor of "The Farm Journal," will be the principal speaker at the luncheon. Any unaffiliated Tri Deltas wishing to attend are asked to notify the chairman, Mrs. Clarence R. Haas of St. Davids.

Mrs. D'Angeli H. Carré

Mrs. Martha A. Carré widow of D'Angeli H. Carré died Monday, November 16, in her 91st year at her home in the Swarthmore Apartments. Services were conducted Wednesday by the Rev. David Braun at the home of her daughter Mrs. J. Archer Turner, 801 Harvard avenue. Also surviving is another daughter Mrs. Thomas H. Ingram of the Swarthmore Apartments.

School Thanksgiving Holiday

Swarthmore Schools will close at noon, Wednesday, November 25, for Thanksgiving vacation, to re-open at the regular hour on Monday, November 30.

Swarthmore Namesake Gets Flying Start in Week; Looks Like Bomber

If the rate set by the first week of Swarthmore's special 30-day bond drive is maintained, the plane to be named Swarthmore may well turn out to be a bomber of the B-25 type which costs $150,000.

The drive was started on Armistice Day and the fast pace of the intervening week was being maintained when The Swarthmorean went to press. This step-up from the original goal of two $50,000 fighter planes is in keeping with the Swarthmore tradition and been raised only to conform to the mounting enthusiasm which greeted the first announcement of the drive.

A timetable of the plane is being prepared and will be set up on the corner by the Swarthmore National Bank. As the money comes in the outline will be filled in so that everyone can watch the progress in bond sales to buy the plane.

Bond buyers are cautioned that although Bonds bought anywhere (except 10% pay-off deduction at graduation) can be credited to Swarthmore's campaign, but it is necessary wherever a Bond is purchased, even in this Borough to secure and sign a receipt form to be returned to the Swarthmore National Bank. The money should be handed in at the Bond Booth in the Swarthmore Bank.

MRS. LIVINGSTON ATMOTHERS' CLUB

Constructive Play, Toys Studied; Group Plans Annual Dinner For Spouses

The second regular monthly meeting of the Swarthmore Mothers' Club was held last Friday, November 13, in the Woman's Club. Mrs. Ethel Livingston spoke on "Building Character and Personality Through Play and Toys" and her presentation was followed by a tea and social period.

According to Mrs. Livingston, the members' parents had just as many responsibilities as their own as they do, but did not allow them to interfere with their children's growth and happiness. She said, "There will always be parents' problems, but there will always be children's playthings. The main things for parents to provide for their children are a specific time and a specific place for play, proper playthings, and playmates. Toys are constructive builders of personality; through toys the child can grow mentally and physically."

Mrs. Livingston showed toys that she and her husband had made and which she had found to be extremely satisfactory for certain ages of children. A great many new members attended the meeting of the club which has been suspended this year to cover not only members of pre-school children but of all young children. Anyone who is interested in joining should get in touch with Mrs. William E. Danforth or one of the other members of the membership committee.

Members are again reminded of the annual Fathers' Night dinner which will be held Friday night, December 11, when the Rev. David Braun will speak. Those who have not taken care of their obligation should do so immediately with Mrs. William C. Trickle, Wallingford. Officers and others who wish will wear long dresses, but this is not compulsory. Those members whose husbands are not available because of the war should feel perfectly free to attend the dinner without them.

The monthly panel discussion groups were held Wednesday, November 18. Those members whose children's ages ranged from birth to four years met at the home of Mrs. John Taylor on Yale avenue, while those members with children over four met at the home of Mrs. William A. DeCaindry, 801 Westdale avenue. The topic under discussion was "Discipline".

BRUNTO ACT AS TOASTMASTER

Popular Presbyterian Pastor to Direct Local Football Banquet Jovially

The Citizens Sponsoring Committee of the High School Football "Honor Banquet" to be held Friday evening, December 4, at 6:30 P. M. in the high school cafeteria is extremely enthused to be able to announce the acceptance of their invitation to the Rev. David Braun of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church to preside as toastmaster.

The committee has given considerable thought to obtaining a dynamic personality to serve as toastmaster as well as uphold the tradition of past committees in that "the speakers be selected because of their high personal characteristics and ideals of manhood, as well as their personal appeal not only to the adults in attendance but to the students and honored players."

It feels that in Mr. Braun it has found the spark that will start off the evening of tribute to one of the greatest football teams in the history of Swarthmore High School with a bang, and that the balance of the program now being formulated will keep up the fast pace that will be established by the toastmaster.

Year after year after the banquet there have been comments that people thought it was for men only, and were surprised to learn that mothers and sisters were present. The committee wishes to emphasize that this year, as in the past, this is an Evening of Community Good-Fellowship for All, set in the background of the numerous honorary awards and tribute that have been won by the high school football squads.

MUSIC CLUB'S NOVEMBER PROGRAM NEXT TUESDAY

The next meeting of the Music Club will be held on Tuesday evening, November 24, at 8:15 o'clock in the library of the Bartol Foundation. Mrs. William F. G. Swann has arranged the program for the evening.

A piano duet will be played by Mrs. Roy W. Delaplaine and Mrs. Clarence Campbell. Songs will be sung by the choral group while Mrs. S. Caldwell Harris will be the vocal soloist. Chamber music will be rendered by the string section of the club.

W.C.T.U. Meeting

The regular meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs. George A. Marr, 143 Park avenue on Tuesday, November 24, at 3 P. M. Members and friends are cordially invited to attend.

LEGION WOMEN AID BOND DRIVE

Also Take Over Maintenance of Honor Roll at Monday Afternoon's Session

At the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary on Monday it was voted to buy a $1000.00 co-operation with the Buy-a-Bomber Campaign in Swarthmore.

The Auxiliary has taken the responsibility of the Honor Roll of Swarthmore with Mrs. Alexander Ewing in charge. Only boys in the active service and whose homes are within the borough limits are considered. Families of those eligible are asked to communicate with Mrs. Ewing as to suggestions and new names for the monument which was dedicated on Armistice Day.

A small donation was voted for the Past Presidents' Parley in Norwood the proceeds of which are used for disabled nurses at Perry Point Veterans' Hospital.

A sum was put aside to buy yarn for friends of the Auxiliary who are crocheting and knitting afghans for veterans' hospitals.

The Christmas Gift Shop for the families of 600 needy veterans at Coatesville is the present concern of the Auxiliary. Any members or friends who wish to contribute good used pieces of novelty jewelry may leave them with Mrs. Oscar J. Gilchrist.

A knee afghan contributed by Mrs. Ewing and a large one knitted mostly from scrap by Mrs. M. Seymour and Mrs. J. Dolman were given to the Auxiliary in Philadelphia. To these will be added playing cards, puzzles and Readers Digests from incoming salvage.

A box of cards, Christmas cards, cartoons, pictures, silk and cotton pieces was given to Mabel Ewing of the high school faculty for work there among the Junior Red Cross members.

Reservations for the county Auxiliary luncheon and meeting in Lansdowne at 12:30 P. M. December 2 should be telephoned to Swarthmore 1638-J before November 23.

On December 4 at 2 P. M. the organization's Christmas party will be held in the Legion room in Borough Hall. Cards will be played. Refreshments and prizes are on the program.

Roll out the dough and buy a share of Swarthmore's plan—a flying ship to drop a bomb on Hitler's hair.

Or blast the brutal little Nip. (Details on Page 1)

Gets Eagle Award

This evening Norman Hulme will be awarded an honor which only about one Boy Scout in a hundred receives. Ellsworth Dougherty, chairman of Brandywine District Advancement Committee will present the Eagle Badge to Norman, the highest rank a Boy Scout can achieve.

The Scouts of Troop No. 3 join in wishing Norman the same success as a student at the University of Pennsylvania and in any venture he may undertake, that he has enjoyed in Scouting.

Those in this section interested in hearing first-hand information on the vital part of "Dogs in War" are cordially invited to an open meeting of the Philadelphia Great Dane Club on Tuesday evening, November 24, at 8:30.

The club changed its meeting date from the usual third Monday this month in order to secure Lt. John M. Creighton of the United States Coast Guard to speak on this timely subject.

The meeting will be held in the regular meeting room at the General Wayne Inn, Montgomery avenue and Havertford avenue, Merion.

Letter From ? You Guess!

Dear Editor: Just a hasty note from away out here to let you know that I'm still receiving The Swarthmore regularly, even if belatedly. I appreciate it now more than ever before. Tell all of Swarthmore that "the Maries have landed and the situation is well in hand."

Sincerely,
E. C. Aiken,
(Capt. E. C. Aiken, U.S.M.C.)

Poetry Circle to Meet Monday

The Poetry Circle will meet on Monday afternoon, November 23, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Lusk of North Perry street. W. H. Auden, lecturer in English at the college, will be the speaker of the afternoon.

JOSEPH MOORHEAD
Joseph Moorhead, father of Mrs. H. Weston Clarke of Yale avenue, died Wednesday, November 11 at the home of his daughter where he had lived since the death of his wife 12 years ago. He was 92.
Services were conducted by the Rev. David Braun in Philadelphia on Saturday, November 14.
In addition to his daughter, a grandson H. Weston Clarke, Jr., survives him.

WILLIAM G. MINICH
William G. Minich of Madison, N. C. died on November 12 and was buried Monday, November 16 at Marysville, Pa.
Mr. Minich removed with his family from Swarthmore only one year ago, having sold his property at University Place and Cornell avenue.
He is survived by his wife the former Victoria Hipple, a daughter Peggy, and twin sons Billy and Jimmy.

Gardner Art in Cloisters Gallery
The present exhibition at the Cloisters Gallery of Swarthmore College is a one-man show of works of Cyril Gardner, one-time resident of Swarthmore now living and teaching in Wallingford. The exhibit which opened on Tuesday, November 17, and extends through Monday, November 30, is in line with the Gallery plan to show young, contemporary artists. Those of Mr. Gardner's paintings on exhibit include two children's portraits, a still-life and several landscapes.
Due to shortening winter days and heavy student curricula, the schedule of hours when the Gallery is open to students and the public has been changed slightly. Monday through Friday hours will be from 2 to 5 P. M., and on Saturdays and Sundays from 2 to 6 P. M. as in the past.

Call for Used Toys
All who have new toys or playthings to be reconditioned for this year's Christmas Toy Shop of the local Welfare Service are asked to leave them at the Nursing Service office in Borough Hall if possible, otherwise to have them ready by this Saturday for collection by Boy Scouts of the borough. Volunteer painters and menders are needed and any who can aid the project in this way should notify Mrs. A. A. Jackson, telephone Swarthmore 0871 or Mrs. Harry Miller (240-W).

Deadline — Tuesday Noon
Since the Thanksgiving holiday falls on The Swarthmorean's normal press day next week, it will be necessary to prepare the paper on Wednesday, thus moving the deadline on news and advertising copy up to Tuesday noon.

Women Needed for Bond Booth
Workers are needed for the Woman's Club Bond and Stamp Booth at the bank. All borough women who enjoy selling and clerical work are urged to volunteer by calling Mrs. Alban T. Evenson, telephone Swarthmore 0478. Two women are needed for each morning and two for each afternoon. The booth is open 9 A. M. to 12:30 P. M. and 12:30 P. M. to 3 P. M. daily and 9 to 12 noon on Saturdays.

There's a Dealer in Your Neighborhood who offers this 8-Point Service Plan

Because of the scarcity of new electrical equipment, you'll want to keep your present appliances on the job for the duration. To help you do this, many approved electric repair dealers are offering a new 8-point service plan.

Call the Electrical Association of Phila., RIT. 7771, for the dealer in your locality. Here's what he'll do for a reasonable service charge:

- Inspect your major electric appliances, such as range, washer, refrigerator, cleaner, etc., giving estimates if repairs are necessary. And while at your home he will also . . .
- Inspect and clean (on outside) your small electric appliances—toasters, irons, coffeemakers, fans, etc.
- Oil your motor-driven appliances.
- Inspect your floor and table lamps.
- Repair your lamp and appliance cords (if repairable).
- Check your lamp bulbs.
- Make recommendations to improve the lighting of your home.
- Examine the fuses in your home.

Loved Author's Answers to Young Readers' Questions Entrance Many Hearers

Marguerite De Angeli shared with 200 young readers of the Swarthmore Public Library the creative impulse, the research, the loving craftsmanship by which a book comes into being on Thursday afternoon, November 12. Mrs. De Angeli had graciously consented to answer any questions they might ask concerning her nine well-loved books for children. In addition she captivated them with a surprise showing of dolls which a friend had created from her book children, two of the most popular proving the gayly-dressed Anielia and Cecilia from her tenth book, "Up the Hill," which has just been published.

The afternoon, which proved to be as delightfully informal and friendly as any the library has sponsored, would have been impossible without the strenuous work of Alice Barber, chairman of the Library committee of the Library Board under whose deft touch the Library took on with aid of candlelight, fall flowers, warm coppers and brass an hospitable air. Mrs. H. Lindley Peel and Mrs. Lorene McArdle assisted her in this task as did Bettina Hunter, librarian. Mrs. John M. Pearson brewed the delicious fruit Wassail which with Chinese rice cakes provided the simplified "party" conclusion. Library assistants Betty Laws, Jane Davis, Barbara Davis, Mary Dimmitt, Frances Evans, Betsy Hornaday and Anne Cochran served and ushered. Mrs. Paul F. Gemmill, whose "Joan Wanted a Kitty" was illustrated by Mrs. DeAngeli, provided transportation, an important item in these times — for the speaker.

Mrs. De Angeli's ardent young readers showered her with questions of a surprising range. Many of the more carefully considered reflected the interest of classes of Mrs. Josephine Walters, elementary school Art teacher. Several of her pupils were concerned with the models for Mrs. De Angeli's beautiful illustrations, with the materials she used and their increasing scarcity. In answer to these she explained that she had children of her own but that her eyes were always watching and remembering faces, that she used water colors, and that materials were harder to get.

She was asked why she chose to write about children rather than adults and she answered simply "I guess it's because I love them." In answer to questions she told why she had written about a little teacher girl, Anielia, French Canadian Suranne, Swedish Elin, and now her Polish children. Her readers wanted to know how long it took her to write a book; she replied one year. One young man asked a straight-to-the-point poser "Do you write for fun or to make money?" Mrs. De Angeli laughed as she answered, "I do it for both, but I should not go on with it if it were not fun."

Finally one bright-eyed lass said, "And now we'd like to know where you come from" and for her Mrs. De Angeli told how at 13 she had come to Pennsylvania from Michigan and fallen in love with the rolling hills of this state. "I expect I love it better than some of you who never knew any other place," she said.

Many children crowded around afterwards, their arms full of their own books to be autographed and Mrs. De Angeli was kept so busy that grown-ups present waited willingly for opportunity to meet and talk with her. Many among them admitted being "ardent readers" also.

The original illustrations of Edna Cook Shumacher for the Macrae-Smith edition of Heidi hung on the front library wall added beauty to the afternoon. Appreciation was expressed to Allan M. Smith, whose gift to the Library they were.

Adding a note of excitement yet to come were the 160 new children's books on exhibit which went into circulation Monday for Children's Book Week. The appreciation of the Library Board is extended to Lola B. Green, who contributed many hours' work of accessioning and cataloging in order that the books might be ready for the exhibit. Worth Abbe arranged the flags of all nations which spotlighted the

to her credit, suddenly reveals a voice of such richness and power that the audience is electrified. Her role — that of Kay Robinson, American artist, singer and dancer — is a difficult one, but she makes of it a triple triumph.

Another surprise comes when Washington ("Tony") West, last seen as a struggling young actor in "Out of the Frying Pan," bursts forth as the dashing Lieutenant Niki, Helene's unwilling consort, and proves to have a pleasing baritone voice as well as a delightful personality.

Already familiar as singers in the melodrama "Pure as the Driven Snow," Edna T. Hornaday and Sally McFadden as Princess Louisa and the scanty Annerl made much of their parts. Charles T. Deacon doubled as soldier and tourist, adding his familiar tenor to the chorus, while Stafford Parker supplied much of the comedy with his portrayal of the American efficiency expert, Bertram Budget.

Stephen Mucha made a personable Prince Rupert, and showed more ease and freedom of movement than do most fledgling actors. Thomas Sweeney as the swaggering, double-dealing Count Sigismund did a creditable job of acting in musical-comedy style, and had the most powerful speaking voice in the cast. Both these young men show promise, and undoubtedly the Club's directors hope they will be available for future parts.

Lewis Goodenough as the distracted King, Alan Vogel as his equally distracted but more practical sister, and Barron Helmuth as Count Lothar, all veteran soloists of the Rose Valley Chorus, rallied to the aid of Mr. Simmons, who has frequently directed their shows, and gave commendable performances in their first appearance under the Players Club banner. Mr. Goodenough played before in "Pure as the Driven Snow," but in a speaking part only.

Other Rose Valley Chorus members who helped in the ensemble were Vera Schoff, Allen and Rosemary Warrington, Anne McDonough and Elaine Holmes. Additional members of the chorus were Lillian and William Turner, Maxine Ramsten, Peggy Saville, Jack Howells, Teresa Erlich, Philip Park and Helen MacLew.

Dr. Swan's work with the orchestra and the fine work of Otto Kraus in training the singers. J. Burriss Hest served as stage manager, David Seymour as electrician, Mrs. J. Warren Pearson, Mrs. Lewis Goodenough and Mrs. George Ewing as the committee on properties.

Performances tonight and Saturday will conclude the production.

Christmas Seal Volunteers Ready

Dorothy Waldo Phillips, well-known Youth Guidance Counselor, has again assumed the responsibility of organizing women volunteers for the Annual Christmas Seal Sale which opens on Monday, November 23. Women's clubs, civic, church and school societies will be represented in this work. Campaign plans and materials to the local chairmen at the annual luncheon held in the Inglenook here last Friday.

"Our part in the campaign," said Mrs. Phillips, "is that of publicity and presenting to the public the need for purchasing seals. Through personal contacts and the presentation of programs we have been able to make this a good-will as well as an educational program. In this way the message of the Christmas Seal is brought to every community in its dynamic and vital form."

"With many willing workers and with our constant support of all that you are doing, we feel that we shall make this the best Christmas Seal Campaign to date."

The list of local chairmen is rapidly nearing completion. In charge of Swarthmore are Mrs. David Wadleigh and Mrs. Samuel Ayers.

Quite a number of Christmas Seals have already been purchased for use on packages and letters going to men in the armed forces in other countries.

The 1942 Seal shows a farm scene on a bright winter day and bears the words, "Merry Christmas." It shows the double-barred cross which is the world-wide symbol of the fight against tuberculosis.

The sale this year is particularly significant since the proceeds are to be used to keep Americans healthy and safe from the increase in tuberculosis which has followed all wars.

Mrs. J. Albright Jones of Cedar Lane is nursing a broken right arm which resulted from a fall last Friday in Bryn Mawr.

Marguerite DeAngeli Stars Library Fete

Loved Author's Answers to Young Readers' Questions Entertain Many Hearers

Marguerite De Angeli shared with 200 young readers of the Swarthmore Public Library the creative inspiration by which a book comes into being on Thursday afternoon, November 12. Mrs. De Angeli had graciously consented to answer any questions they might ask concerning her nine well-loved books for children.

Kitty" was illustrated by Mrs. DeAngeli, provided transportation, an important item in these times - for the speaker. Mrs. De Angeli's ardent young readers showered her with questions of a surprising range. Many of the more carefully considered reflected the interest of classes of Mrs. Josephine Walters, elementary school art teacher.

Several of her pupils were concerned with the models for Mrs. De Angeli's beautiful illustrations, with the materials she used and their increasing scarcity. In answer to these she explained that she had children of her own but that her eyes were always watching and remembering faces, that she used water colors, and that materials were harder to get.

She was asked why she chose to write about children rather than adults and she answered simply "I guess it's because I love them". In answer to questions she told why she had written about a little Quaker girl, Amish children, French Canadian Suzanne, Swedish Elin, and now her Polish children. Her readers wanted to know how long it took her to write a book; she replied one year. One young man asked a straight-to-the-point question "Do you write for fun or to make money?" Mrs. De Angeli laughed as she answered, "I do it for both, but I should not go on with it if it were not fun."

Finally one bright-eyed lass said, "And now we'd like to know where you come from" and for Mrs. De Angeli, she told how at 13 she had come to Pennsylvania from Michigan and fallen in love with the rolling hills of this state. "I expect I love it better than some of you who never knew any other place," she said.

Many children crowded around afterwards, their arms full of their own books to be autographed and Mrs. De Angeli was kept so busy that grown-ups present wanted willing opportunity to meet and talk with her. Many among them admitted being "ardent readers" also.

The original illustrations of Edna Cook Stumacher for the Macrae-Smith edition of Heidi hung on the front library wall added beauty to the afternoon. Appreciation was expressed to Allan M. Smith, whose gift to the Library they were.

Tuneful Straus Operetta Opens

to her credit, suddenly reveals a voice of such richness and power that the audience is electrified. Her role—that of Kay Robinson, American artist, singer and dancer—is a difficult one, but she makes of it a triple triumph.

Another surprise comes when Washington ("Tony") West, last seen as a struggling young actor in "Out of the Frying Pan", bursts forth as the dashing Lieutenant Niki, Heleme's unwilling consort, and proves to have a pleasing baritone voice as well as a delightful personality.

Already familiar as singers in the melodrama "Pure as the Driven Snow", Edna T. Hornaday and Sally McFadden as Princess Louise and the saucy Anneli made much of their parts. Charles T. Deacon doubled as soldier and tourist, adding his familiar tenor to the chorus, while Stafford Parker supplied much of the comedy with his portrayal of the American efficiency expert, Bertram Budgett.

Stephen Mucha made a personable Prince Rupert, and showed more ease and freedom of movement than do most fledgling actors. Thomas Sweeney as the swaggering, double-dealing Count Sigismund did a creditable job of acting in musical-comedy style, and had the most powerful speaking voice in the cast.

Lewis Goodenough as the distracted King, Anne Voigt as his equally distracted but more practical sister, and Barron Helmuth as Count Lothar, all veteran soloists of the Rose Valley Chorus, who has frequently directed their shows, and gave commendable performances in their first appearance under the Players Club banner. Mr. Goodenough played before in "Pure as the Driven Snow", but in a speaking part only.

Others in the chorus were members who helped in the ensemble were Vera Goodenough, Estelle Jarden, Constance Schoff, Aileen and Rosemary Warrington, Anne McDonough and Eloise Holmes. Additional members of the chorus were Lillian and William Turner, Maxine Ramsten, Peggy Saville, Jack Howells, Teresa Eirich, Philip Park and Helen MacEilwee.

"Too much cannot be said for Dr. Swan's work with the orchestra and the fine work of Otto Kraus in training the singers. J. Burriss West served as stage manager, David Seymour as electrician, Mrs. J. Warner Paxson, Mrs. Lewis Goodenough and Mrs. George Ewing as the committee on properties. Performances tonight and Saturday will conclude the production.

Christmas Seal Volunteers Ready

Dorothy Waldo Phillips, well-known Youth Guidance Counselor, has again assumed the responsibility of organizing Christmas Seal volunteers for the Annual Christmas Seal Sale which opens on Monday, November 23. Women's clubs, civic, church and school societies will be represented in this work.

Mrs. Phillips presented campaign plans and materials to the local chairmen at the annual luncheon held in the Inglenook here last Friday.

"Our part in the campaign," said Mrs. Phillips, "is that of publicity and presenting to the public the need for purchasing seals. Through personal contacts and the presentation of programs we have been able to make this a good will as well as an educational program. In this way the message of the Christmas Seal is brought to every community in its dynamic and vital form."

Quite a number of Christmas Seals have already been purchased for use on packages and letters going to men in the armed forces in other countries.

The list of local chairmen is rapidly nearing completion. In charge of Swarthmore are Mrs. David Wadleigh and Mrs. Samuel Ayers.

Mrs. J. Albright Jones of Cedar lane is nursing a broken right arm which resulted from a fall last Friday in Bryn Mawr.

ONE TOUCH OF NATURE

What a bleak Thanksgiving Day it was the first time I visited Ipswich! Or else how thinny clad I was! The effect of one such circumstance is still part of my memory, though the exact cause has become somewhat cloudy.

It seems now that I had on a heavy sheepskin coat and that a cold wind was blowing down from the Newfoundland Banks. But coat or no coat, I earned on this day that area brimmed in wintry weather can suck calories out of clothing no matter how tightly one attempts to confine them.

I was soon trying to warm myself by shivering, and from this time on the birds danced accompaniment in my binocular.

There was a large grassy hill overlooking the bay behind Plum Island. From its summit I was able to look down at the water and through the day was cloudy, I could see a few light-colored birds to great advantage against the dark liquid background. There were many flocks of duck-like creatures flying about the water and through their wings were brown or black. With a newly developing caution I hesitated to call any of them ducks until I was certain of their exact identities. Besides it was so far above them that they seemed no larger than sparrows, and it is a wonder I had any luck whatsoever that day.

Birds are so varied in their markings and actions that there is usually some doubt as to the species of the birds. In this case the Old-Squaw—my first wild sea-duck—flashed an unforgettable black and white checkerboard pattern under my eyes each time it spread its wings in flight. One could have seen and recognized the design almost as far as the bird was visible at all. This was fortunate for me, because the other ducks merged with their background until most of them were blotted out at rest and sometimes difficult to detect even on the wing.

Among all the birds on the bay there were only a few Old-Squaws. These occurred among large flocks of the darker kinds and seemed to follow them in their inexplicable wheelings and changes of position. The "Old-Wives" maneuver never kept together amongst themselves, but wandered about singly or in pairs. It was very hard to keep track of even a few of them.

ACTIVITIES

Mariners braved the wintry blasts last Saturday to board the boat in the Delaware. Weather proved too rough for them to cruise, so they enjoyed a snug cabin at anchor.

With Christmas cards collected on their 'Mercy Cruise' they are fashioning 200 Christmas menu cards for the Seaman's Institute Christmas dinner. A committee of mothers, headed by Mrs. Matthews of Elm avenue, is preparing old linens collected for Mariners to make surgical pads for Taylor Hospital, an obligation accepted by Delaware County Girl Scouts.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Review Adamic Thesis Mrs. Harold G. Griffin will review "Two Way Passage" by Louis Adamic this morning at 10 o'clock. The International Relations Section, Mrs. A. M. Bosshardt chairman, plans to attend the lecture by Louis Adamic at Mitten Hall, Temple University, Wednesday.

TO FEAST PHILADELPHIANS THE AIR-CONDITIONED SUBURBAN CAFE and Cocktail Lounge

American Merchant Marine were shown at the Woman's Club on Tuesday. Mrs. Harold Goodman delighted the audience with her report of the Philadelphia Motion Picture Forum which she and Mrs. John C. Moore, club chairman, attended.

Mrs. S. H. Hemenway reported $148 profit from the card party for the club's philanthropic and scholarship fund. Mrs. Samuel Caldwell Harris sang "Jesu Bambino" by Yon and "The Pilgrim" by Tschalkowsky. Mrs. Mildred Spencer Hutchinson played the accompaniment.

Mrs. Moore Wins Prize The necklace and bracelet worn by Betty Davis in her recent picture, "Now and Then" was presented to Mrs. John C. Moore, Amherst avenue, at the autumn luncheon of the Philadelphia Motion Picture Forum which was held Monday in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Moore, who is a member of the board of the Motion Picture Forum and chairman of the motion picture section of the Swarthmore Woman's Club as well as of the motion picture division of the Federated Clubs of Delaware County, was awarded this unique prize because of her outstanding work in securing new members for the Forum during the months of September and October.

SEAL BOOSTERS IN EARLY START

Local Leaders Rush to Top T. B. Christmas Sticker Record; Urge Support of All

Mrs. David Wadleigh and Mrs. Samuel Ayres, co-chairmen of Swarthmore in the 1942 seal drive of the Delaware County Tuberculosis Association, are gratified to hear people already remarking, "Looks like Christmas. I see that the tuberculosis seals are on sale again."

They respond, "Yes, tuberculosis seals do make us think of Christmas. This year we think not so much of a MERRY Christmas, but more of a COURAGEOUS Christmas — courage to cope with what has gone before; courage to meet whatever is to come."

"The tuberculosis seal is a symbol of this courage. It is a very small messenger who goes with our letters and packages to assure others that all of us are working and helping to keep up that courage."

"This year more than ever before, the Delaware County Tuberculosis Association needs your cooperation. Rejections on account of tuberculosis throughout the county have been about one out of every hundred men examined. There were 5,965 of them from November, 1940 to July 1942. This has reduced the tuberculosis problem in the armed forces but it has increased the civilian problem. Not only the men themselves but their children, their neighbors and in fact anyone with whom they have come in contact should be examined and in many cases treated. It is your money through the sale of seals which makes this possible.

"There are many of you who receive seals through the mail and we hope you will use them. However, due to defense work, there are a great many newcomers in the community and the Booths are primarily for the benefit of these people who have not had the opportunity of getting them elsewhere."

"There will be two permanent Booths in Swarthmore — one in the Post Office and one in Borough Hall."

"And now about Bangles — Everyone is familiar with the gay red double-barred cross which is the international symbol of our fight against tuberculosis. These will be on sale wherever seals are sold, and one is yours for as much or as little as you wish to give. Buy one and wear it proudly to tell the world that you recognize the evil of tuberculosis and are striving to stamp it out."

ESKIMO FILM HERE TOMORROW

Moving Picture at College Features Native Actors; Several Short Subjects Added

"The Wedding of Palo", a lively story of the life of the Greenland Eskimos, will be the feature of the moving pictures at the College, in Clothier Memorial on Saturday night, November 28, at 7 P. M. and at 9 P. M. This film was written and produced in Greenland by Knud Rasmussen assisted by Friedrich Dalsheim. Although not released in the United States until 1937, "The Wedding of Palo" was made in the spring and summer of 1933. Rasmussen made a special expedition to Greenland to make this picture and while engaged in its production, was stricken by the disease which took his life on Christmas Day, 1933.

The film is a notable documentary picture, an accurate and absorbing study of the Eskimos. The cast throughout is a native one, there are no professional actors. The story is simple, that of the rivalry of Eskimo hunters for the hand of a girl. Around it are woven strands showing the life and habits of the natives of the Angmagssalik region, their hunts and fishing methods, their hut-building, their cookery or lack of it, their fights, their idea of humor, their concept of crime, and other phases of their life. The Kayak sequences are probably the most notable in the film.

On the same program will be a Disney cartoon "The Grasshopper" and a number of shorts, "Mediterranean Milestones", "Arctic Exploration" and "Zoo Babies".

Both the 7 o'clock and the 9 o'clock shows will be open to residents of the borough and other friends of the college. Guests are asked, however, to be more patient than usual with this production. As the Navy has taken over the projectors rented by the college in the past, it has been necessary to shift from 35 millimeter to 16 millimeter films. It is hoped, however, that the use of the smaller size film will prove successful.

Next week on Saturday evening, December 5, the feature picture will be the English film "Rembrandt" starring Charles Laughton, Gertrude Lawrence and Elsa Lanchester.

HEADS BRITISH-AID BAZAAR

Mrs. J. H. Gordon McConechy of Harvard avenue is chairman of the annual Christmas bazaar which the Daughters of the British Empire in Pennsylvania will hold in Philadelphia next Wednesday for British War Relief and the Victoria Home of Aged. Mrs. McConechy, who is vice-president of the state D.B.E., is being assisted with the project by Mrs. Agnes Haig Sheldon of Ogden avenue, who is president of the Pennsylvania organization.

The opening ceremonies will be conducted at noon by Lawrence Robinson, British consul in Philadelphia. Stevenson Newhall, head of British War Relief in this state, will be on the platform. Other notables are expected.

Plum puddings, English fruit cakes and other British goodies as well as fine fancy work, toys, pictures, paintings and the many other interesting items which always appear at the bazaar will be there this year in abundance.

Cub Pack to Open Saturday

The first meeting of Cub Pack No. 1, Swarthmore, Boy Scouts of America, will be held at 1:30 P. M. tomorrow, Saturday, November 28 in the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church. Parents of all Cubs are expected to attend this meeting.

Christmas Mailing Deadlines Early

Entering the most gigantic task in its history — the movement of a deluge of Christmas packages, cards and letters while maintaining a regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world, in addition to War Bond and Stamp business, and the usual private mailings and other important services — the United States post office is asking the fullest cooperation of every citizen.

Swarthmore's Postmaster Alfred P. Smalley brings to local residents' attention the following cautions which should be heeded by those who wish their mail to arrive at its destination before Christmas:

Gifts and cards should be carefully addressed and return-addressed.

For pre-Christmas delivery in California, Oregon and Washington states, mail not later than December 1; Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming, by December 2; Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas by the 3rd; Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Wisconsin not later than the 5th; Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, North or South Carolina, Tennessee by the 7th; Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont by the 10th; and Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Washington, D. C. and West Virginia by the 12th.

the county have been about one out of every hundred men examined. There were 5965 of them from November, 1940 to July 1942. This has reduced the tuberculosis problem in the armed forces but it has increased the civilian problem. Not only the men themselves but their children, their neighbors and in fact anyone with whom they have come in contact should be examined and in many cases treated. It is your money through the sale of seals which makes this possible.

"There are many of you who receive seals through the mail and we hope you will use them. However, due to defense work, there are a great many newcomers in the community and the Booths are primarily for the benefit of these people who have not had the opportunity of getting them elsewhere."

"There will be two permanent Booths in Swarthmore — one in the Post Office and one in Borough Hall."

"And now about Bangles — Everyone is familiar with the gay red double-barred cross which is the international symbol of our fight against tuberculosis. These will be on sale wherever seals are sold, and one is yours for as much or as little as you wish to give. Buy one and wear it proudly to tell the world that you recognize the evil of tuberculosis and are striving to stamp it out."

ESKIMO FILM HERE TOMORROW

Moving Picture at College Features Native Actors; Several Short Subjects Added

"The Wedding of Palo", a lively story of the life of the Greenland Eskimos, will be the feature of the moving pictures at the College, in Clothier Memorial on Saturday night, November 28, at 7 P. M. and at 9 P. M. This film was written and produced in Greenland by Knud Rasmussen assisted by Friedrich Dalsheim. Although not released in the United States until 1937, "The Wedding of Palo" was made in the spring and summer of 1933. Rasmussen made a special expedition to Greenland to make this picture and while engaged in its production, was stricken by the disease which took his life on Christmas Day, 1933.

The film is a notable documentary picture, an accurate and absorbing study of the Eskimos. The cast throughout is a native one, there are no professional actors. The story is simple, that of the rivalry of Eskimo hunters for the hand of a girl. Around it are woven strands showing the life and habits of the natives of the Angmagalik region, their hunts and fishing methods, their hut-building, their cookery or lack of it, their fights, their idea of humor, their concept of crime, and other phases of their life. The Kayak sequences are probably the most notable in the film.

On the same program will be a Disney cartoon "The Grasshopper" and a number of shorts, "Mediterranean Milestones", "Arctic Exploration" and "Zoo Babies".

Both the 7 o'clock and the 9 o'clock shows will be open to residents of the borough and other friends of the college. Guests are asked, however, to be more patient than usual with this production. As the Navy has taken over the projectors rented by the college in the past, it has been necessary to shift from 35 millimeter to 16 millimeter films. It is hoped, however, that the use of the smaller size film will prove successful.

Next week on Saturday evening, December 5, the feature picture will be the English film "Rembrandt" starring Charles Laughton, Gertrude Lawrence and Elsa Lanchester.

HEADS BRITISH-AID BAZAAR

Mrs. J. H. Gordon McConechy of Harvard avenue is chairman of the annual Christmas bazaar which the Daughters of the British Empire in Pennsylvania will hold in Philadelphia next Wednesday for British War Relief and the Victoria Home of Aged. Mrs. McConechy, who is vice-president of the state D.B.E., is being assisted with the project by Mrs. Agnes Haig Sheldon of Ogden avenue, who is president of the Pennsylvania organization.

The opening ceremonies will be conducted at noon by Lawrence Robinson, British consul in Philadelphia. Stevenson Newhall, head of British War Relief in this state, will be on the platform. Other notables are expected.

Plum puddings, English fruit cakes and other British goodies as well as fine fancy work, toys, pictures, paintings and the many other interesting items which always appear at the bazaar will be there this year in abundance.

Honored at Drexel

Anne Lingle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy P. Lingle of Cornell avenue, who is a member of the senior class at the Drexel Institute of Technology, was recently elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, National Honor Society.

Henry Linton, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Linton of Benjamin West avenue, who is a junior in the Chemical Engineering Department at Drexel Institute, was recently made a member of Tau Beta Pi, National Honorary Fraternity in Engineering.

Cub Pack to Open Saturday

The first meeting of Cub Pack No. 1, Swarthmore, Boy Scouts of America, will be held at 1:30 P. M. tomorrow, Saturday, November 28 in the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church. Parents of all Cubs are expected to attend this meeting.

Christmas Mailing Deadlines Early

Entering the most gigantic task in its history — the movement of a deluge of Christmas packages, cards and letters while maintaining a regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world, in addition to War Bond and Stamp business, and the usual private mailings and other important services — the United States post office is asking the fullest cooperation of every citizen.

Swarthmore's Postmaster Alfred P. Smalley brings to local residents' attention the following cautions which should be heeded by those who wish their mail to arrive at its destination before Christmas:

Gifts and cards should be carefully addressed and return-addressed.

For pre-Christmas delivery in California, Oregon and Washington states, mail not later than December 1; Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming, by December 2; Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas by the 3rd; Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Wisconsin not later than the 5th; Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, North or South Carolina, Tennessee by the 7th; Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont by the 10th; and Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Washington, D.
