COLLEGE BRINGS MET. OPERA STAR

Russian-Born Basso Will Feature Mozart, Brahms and Native Folk Songs Tonight

This evening, Friday, at 8.15 under the auspices of the William J. Cooper Foundation and the music department of the college Alexander Kipnis basso of the Metropolitan opera will give a free-recital in Clothier Memorial.

Called "one of the real mastersingers of the twentieth century," as a youth in Russia Mr. Kipnis sang coloratura soprano arias at musical gatherings but now has one of the lowest pitched voices in the entire world.

He studied singing and conducting in Warsaw and Berlin and came to America with a Wagnerian festival company after touring the continent for many years.

He has become a citizen of this country and upon his debut with the Metropolitan Opera Company two years ago was acclaimed the most notable acquisition of the season. Among his singing roles have been leads in "The Marriage of Figaro," "Lohengrin," "Die Meistersinger," and "Fidelio." He recently appeared in concerts with Arturo Toscanini in Buenos Aires, and has made recordings for Victor and Columbia.

Accompanied by W. Rosé, Mr. Kipnis will present the following program here this evening:

Aria: "In diesen Heiligen Hallen" from "The Magic Flute," Mozart; Aria: "Madamina" from "Don Giovanni," Mozart; "O wüsst ich doch den Weg zurück," "Sonntag," "Feldensankt," "Verrat," "Vergleiches Ständchen" all by Brahms; Aria: "Il lacerato spirito" from "Simon Boccanegra," Verdi; Aria: Finale from the "Second" Act of "Rosenkavalier," Strauss.

After an intermission Mr. Kipnis will sing a group of Russian folk songs — "Rainbow," "The Ring," "Night," "Solomon's Song," and the following: "The Captive," by Shostakovich; "The King Goes Forth to War," Koenemann; "The Captive," Gretchaninoff; "Death Scene" from "Boris Godunov" by Moussorgsky.

FONDA FILM AND VARIETY SHORTS

College Resumes Week-End Moving Pictures With Full Program Tomorrow

"Blockade" starring Madeline Carroll and Henry Fonda will be the feature picture at the college movies tomorrow night, Saturday, January 9, at 7 and 9 o'clock in Clothier Memorial. On the same program will be an assortment of shorts: "Little Hiawatha," one of Disney's finest cartoons; "Bomber" and "Tanks," two government documentary films; "Laughing Gas," a Chaplin short subject and "Les Housards de la Garde," a French surrealist cartoon. The movie programs are open to residents of the borough and other friends of the college.

"Blockade" is acclaimed Hollywood's only important film to date to be based on the Spanish War, "For Whom the Bell Tolls" having not yet been released. With story by John Howard Lawson and music by Kurt Weill, it was produced by Walter Wanger and directed by William Dieterle. Although this 1938 film seems tepid in its denunciation of Fascists, at its time it took courage to produce it. Actually the Loyalists' and Fascists' leaders are not named, but the light of recent occurrences it has little guessing to tell who represents who in the picture. Based on the raids on Madrid and the siege of the Basque country, the film yet places the emphasis to a large degree on the war behind the lines rather than at the front. The love story which is the core of the picture is conventional and melodramatic. Henry Fonda plays a young patriot and Miss Carroll a spy.

On Saturday evening of next week a Russian film "We Are from Kronstadt," a story of the attack on the fortress defending Leningrad, will be shown.

NAVY PATIENTS BROUGHT HERE

Service Branch Takes Over Fashionable Girls' School Units

Following purchase of the Mary Lyon School and Junior College properties on Harvard and Yale avenues last week by the United States Navy, some 80 to 85 girl boarding and day students and about 20 full-time members of the faculty of the girls' institutions will return from holiday vacations Monday to hurriedly pack their possessions and leave that evening to finish their term in New York where the schools are establishing new headquarters. The Navy moved in on Wednesday with the first 30 patients to be quartered at this new convalescent branch of the Philadelphia Naval Hospital. It is reported that "Hillcrest," one of the schools' dormitories, across the street from the main administration building, will be converted into a nurses' home.

Founded in 1913 by Haldy Miller Crist and his wife Frances Leavitt Crist who died within the past year, the two schools until the current term were called The Mary Lyon School and Wildcliffe Junior College. They comprised a total of six large stone buildings covering dormitories, classrooms, studios, study halls, gymnasium, swimming pool, tennis courts on a high bluff overlooking a rocky, wooded section of the Crum Creek.

Mrs. Mary Crist Fleming, daughter of the founders of the school who has been acting as assistant director, will take an apartment in Philadelphia with her husband William and young daughter Gay for a month or so before rejoining the school organization.

It is said the gym, pool and studios will be used by the Navy for occupational work, that there are accommodations for around 300 men in the dormitory buildings which are being prepared for their new use.

KITE HEADS INSURANCE CO.

W. Stanley Kite was named president and director of the Manufacturers' Casualty Insurance Company at a meeting held in Philadelphia late in December. For the past two years Mr. Kite has been vice-president of the Ohio Casualty Insurance Company and had charge of its eastern department. For 18 years before that he was Philadelphia manager of the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Company. He is a past president of the Casualty Underwriters' Association and the Surety Underwriters' Association of Philadelphia, and was president of the Insurance Society of Philadelphia in 1937 and '38.

Mr. Kite resides with his wife and two daughters on Ogden avenue here.

Navy League Mans Local Headquarters

Local "Nells" Trained to Suitable War Industry

The Navy League Service will officially open its Swarthmore Branch Headquarters, Friday, January 8 in the Old Bank Building. Headquarters will be open between the hours of 10 A.M. and 4 P.M. from Monday through Saturday.

Women interested in either paid or volunteer war work may call here for any information concerning the many and varied activities of the "Nells."

In view of the crying need for women war workers to replace men who have gone into the service this new suburban headquarters will undertake to interview and register women for the various vocational schools where pre-employment supplementary free training is given in the operating of milling machines, drill presses, power saving machines and welding apparatus. Still other courses open are radio inspection, army signal corps, drafting, ship fitting, blueprint reading, detailing and tracing. If any preliminary training has already been had, anyone registering will be referred to either the U. S. Employment Service, the Navy Yard, or the Civil Service Commission. Anyone 18 or over may apply. For older women, with little education who do not know just what they would like to do, there is the Trainee Acceptance Center, whose address will be given upon inquiry.

Women interested only in the volunteer service, may by joining the "Nells" assist in any or all of the following activities: knitting, selling of War Bonds and Stamps, the Transportation Corps which serves the army and drives convalescent service men, the Hospital Corps for nurses' assistants with no preliminary training, collecting of salvage, jobs as hostesses at the Officers' Club at the Bellevue and Day Nursery work.

Any one having salvage, including old silk stockings, magazines and books, playing cards, old furs, may leave them here between these hours. Navy League Service gadgets and War Saving Stamps and Bonds will also be available here.

Mrs. William H. Collins of Wallingford is chairman of the work with Mrs. W. E. Hetzel of Thayer road as co-chairman.

REPORTED JAPANESE PRISONER

Mrs. Gilbert E. Youmans of North Chester road received word Saturday that her son Lt. Joseph MacArthur Youmans, a cavalry, is a prisoner of war of the Japanese government in the Philippine Islands.

Coincidentally this word was received one year from the day on which Mrs. Youmans had last heard directly from her son. At that date she received his letter telling of his escape from Manila on New Year's Eve and his joining the Army.

On the last Sunday in January, 1942 Arthur Van Landingham, author of "I Saw Manila Die," told Lt. Youmans' wife, who with their year-old son lives in South Orange, N.J., that he had talked to Lt. Youmans on Batavia. In April Mrs. Youmans received official word from the government that her son was reported missing.

Another son, Lt. Edgar E. Youmans, is serving with the U. S. Army abroad.

In Africa

Mr. and Mrs. R. Chester Spencer of Swarthmore avenue received a letter during the holidays from their son Lt. Robert C. Spencer, Jr. who is in the northern part of Africa with the Photo Reconnaissance Squadron.

Anderson Named Trinity Rector

Vestry Announces Appointment of Chester Clergyman in Quick Action

The Rev. George Christian Anderson acting rector at St. Paul's Church, Chester until January 1 has accepted the election to the rectorship of Trinity Church, Swarthmore, which was announced late Wednesday night by the vestry of the local church. Mr. Anderson will fill the place of the Rev. J. J. Guenther whose resignation placed in the hands of the vestry six weeks ago was accepted at Christmas time to become effective January 31.

The vestry which is responsible for this quick action is composed of: George W. Casey senior warden, William B. Bullock junior warden, Harry C. Barr secretary, Sergeant B. Brewster treasurer, Samuel D. Clyde, William L. Cleaves, Guenther H. Froebel, Richard G. Haig, W. Minton Harvey, Louis W. King and J. Burris West.

Installation of the new rector will be made Tuesday evening, February 2, by the Most Rev. Bishop Francis Taitt who himself was rector of St. Paul's, Chester for many years before becoming bishop of the diocese. This date will be the 60th anniversary of the bishop's own ordination as an Episcopal rector and it is interesting to note that his first rectorship was at a church called Trinity, too. He has known Mr. Anderson since boyhood.

Born in Liverpool, England, Mr. Anderson came to this country at the age of six and was educated in the public and private schools of Philadelphia, graduating later from the University of Pennsylvania and the Philadelphia Divinity School. After his ordination he established a new church called St. Anne's at Willow Grove.

For three years he was rector of St. Giles', Upper Darby, resigning that post to study at Oxford University, England. While in England he was assistant rector of St. Michael's at the North Gate, the ancient historic church of Oxford, and also master of religious education at Dragon School, one of England's famous schools for boys.

Returning to the United States a few days before the outbreak of war in 1939 he was assistant rector at St. Paul's when the Rev. Stanley V. Wilcox's leaving for the Army made him acting rector.

Mr. Anderson is vice-president of the Delaware County Welfare Council, president of the Board of Visitation, chairman of the House of Detention Committee, and a member of the County Court Special Citizens' Juvenile Advisory Council. During his rectorship at Upper Darby he was president of the Township Family Association and an honorary member of the Upper Darby Rotary. He is a bachelor.

Lt. Robert B. Little of Park avenue is now stationed at Camp Tanforan, San Bruno, Cal.

Will Take Old Christmas Cards

As for many years past The Swarthmore office will receive discarded Christmas cards which are periodically collected and used for work among shut-ins and convalescents.

FOUR FILE FOR LIBRARY BOARD

Prominent Citizens on Ballot for Two Vacancies to be Filled Late in Month

Four Swarthmore residents have agreed to stand for election by members of the Swarthmore Public Library Association to the two vacancies to be filled on the Library Board. Mrs. Sewell W. Hodge and Guenther E. Froebel present incumbents are standing for reelection. Mrs. Henry L. Hoot and Dr. Charles E. Shaw complete the ticket which reflects community-wide interest in the growing operation of the Library. Election will take place Saturday, January 23 during Library hours and Monday, January 25 from 2 until 5:30 P.M. and 7 until 8 P.M. when the annual meeting will be called to order.

Mrs. Hodge was a founder of the Public Library in 1939 and has served continually on its board since that time as secretary and as chairman of adult books.

She heads the work of the Red Cross in Swarthmore. Mr. Froebel has served the Library Board as its president for the past five years. In his first year on the board he was chairman of properties. Mr. Froebel lives on Swarthmore avenue here and is an executive with Baldwin's as Sales Manager of Ordnance and General Products.

Dr. Shaw is the Swarthmore College Librarian. He is a founder of the Philadelphia Metropolitan Library Council which includes 154 libraries, having served as its president for one and a half years ending last October. He is a member of the Council of the American Library Association and vice-president of its Association of College and Reference Librarians. He is a past member of the Association's College Library Advisory Board as well as its editorial committee.

For five years he has taught a course in College Library Administration in Drexel University's Graduate School and for 12 summers he has taught in the Department of Library Science of the University of Michigan's Graduate School.

Mrs. Hoot is a graduate of Swarthmore College in the class of '18. She taught English in the Junior High School of Ridley Park and social studies, biology, and public speaking in the Swarthmore Schools, doing Junior Chautauque work with the former Swarthmore Chautauque for six summers. She is a substitute teacher in the schools here and a tutor. She has been superintendent of the junior department of the Methodist Church School for the past 12 years. She and her husband have five children of whom the eldest Polly is a junior at Oberlin College and the youngest Billy is in the second grade of the local schools.

According to the articles of incorporation and the by-laws all residents of the borough who signed the by-laws on file at the Library before December 31, 1942 are eligible to vote.

HEALTH BULLETIN

Because of the recent outbreak of Smallpox, all individuals who have not been vaccinated within five years should be re-vaccinated. Infants who are three months or over can safely be done.

Because the communicable diseases will probably be prevalent this year, it is felt advisable to call attention to the rules of the Borough of Swarthmore:—

"All children under school age and all persons attending any public, private, parochial, or other school or educational institution, who live in any household where there are persons suffering from Measles or Whooping Cough, and who have not had these diseases, shall be quarantined as follows:—

Measles — For a period of 10 days between the 7th and 17th day after exposure to such disease. (Placard shall be posted.)

Whooping Cough — For a period of 14 days between the 7th and 21st day after exposure to such disease. (Placard shall be posted.)

No restrictions are imposed on household contacts of German Measles, Chicken pox, or Mumps. (No placard shall be posted.)

Admiral Writes Former Teacher

Dr. Samuel C. Palmer, professor emeritus of botany at Swarthmore College, received the following reply to a Christmas letter to Admiral Halsey, whom he taught years ago at Swarthmore Prep School:

South Pacific Force

of the United States Pacific Fleet

Headquarters of the Commander

Dear Dr. Palmer:

It is particularly interesting to have a letter at this distance and under the circumstances from someone who has had a part in my early education. I want to tell you that the confidence and support of you people back home is a constant inspiration to all of us out here and I appreciate very much your good wishes.

Sincerely,

W. F. HALSEY,

Admiral, U.S. Navy.

Last Three Homes Purchased

ONE TOUCH OF NATURE

For the time being my motives led me ever more to the haunts of unknown water birds, and one evening late in the following May I found that I could no longer endure the land-bird migration.

The Shawhnee River, flowing through bottom lands near school, attracted just enough swamp-dwelling birds to remind me of coastal bays and swamps. Rare American Bitterns or "Thunder Pumpers" stalked frogs among cattail beds in sluggish reaches of the Shawhnee. While Red-winged Blackbirds dominated such areas, the Bitterns never let me forget the wealth of their tribe that could be seen where small streams merged into large ones.

The transient Yellowlegs that settled on Shawhnee's few mud bars several days previously called wildly to my school-bound conscience, asking why Ipswich should belong merely to the blind sun-dappled cottagers.

So the next day I arrived in Newburyport, close to the Old-Squaws' Thanksgiving frolic, though the weather was now mild and the sea lapped the edge of a continent as gently as if land and water were no more than diminutive phenomena.

Once again a grebe greeted by arrival by its fortuitous presence. This time it was a Horned Grebe or rather four Horned Grebes, two pairs of them swimming in the surf close to shore. The males were in bright spring plumage, bearing ornamental tufts of russet feathers on either side of their heads. I had scarcely realized before that instant how beautiful grebes could be. Grebe hats in the nineties were adorned merely with the birds' white breasts, their value being found in the close-grained arrangement and light-reflecting lustre of the hair-like feathers. But these Newburyport birds were brilliantly colored, quite as attractive in the water as at the summit of a human female, which remark is a true tribute to grebes, since it ascribes them their beauty apart from a novel setting.

N. B.—This is the eleventh installment of Chapter I in Lt. G. Brooks Worth's unpublished book "A Coastal Migration."

Churches Honored

On the occasion of its annual Christmas Party, which was held in the Church parlors for the first time in four years, the Scott Paper Company honored its Grand Old Man of the paper industry, Harry Liebeck. Mr. Liebeck actually celebrated his fiftieth year of active service with the paper concern last April, at which time a party was given in his honor and many attractive gifts were presented to him. As a part of the Christmas Party program, however, Mr. Liebeck was presented over four hundred oil portraits admirably executed by Maurice Molarzky, prominent Philadelphia portrait artist. One of these portraits of Mr. Liebeck was reserved for his personal use, the others being hung in Scott Paper Company's Chester mill.

Harry Liebeck, who resides on Park avenue has been a heavy contributor to the progress of the entire paper industry, particularly the tissue division, and such is recognized and respected throughout the United States. Responsible for wide, high-speed paper machines running over 1500 feet per minute in a day when anything which ran faster than 1000 feet per minute was considered wildly fantastic, Mr. Liebeck pioneered the design and engineering of such machines in 1915. He was instrumental in introducing even wider and faster machines in 1921, at which time Mr. Liebeck's startling designs included placing ball bearings on these at a speed meeting at 400 to 120, with a huge machine for the first time, reducing the horsepower required for their operation from 400 to 120, with a comparable reduction of their operating cost.

Mr. Liebeck went with Scott Paper Company on April 2, 1892, when the organization was located in Philadelphia.

Deeply moved at the time of the unveiling of the two portraits, Mr. Liebeck was the recipient of a rising ovation which fittingly expressed the sentiments of everyone present at the Christmas Party.

ENGINES OF WAR!

Lined up here, in smart military formation, is a "squad" of the mighty locomotives that work night and day for Uncle Sam.

Passenger engines, their specific job is to move troops. And, with the aid of other locomotives, they are doing this at a rate of over a million troops a month!

To the right are their comrades-in-arms, freight locomotives. Their job is to haul war materials. And they are moving 1,250,000 tons of freight a mile every minute of a 24-hour day!

Of course, to keep up a war pace like this requires the railroads to give right-of-way and a very large part of their passenger and freight equipment continuously to the war effort.

Naturally, under the circumstances, service to the public cannot be all that either you or we would like it to be. Trains may be late. Accommodations and seats may be hard to get. But—with the cooperation of travelers and shippers, the Office of Defense Transportation, the Army, the Navy and Government agencies—the railroads are doing, and will continue to do, everything within their power to provide the best service possible to the public in the midst of the greatest war civilization has ever known.

Today's freight locomotives can haul much heavier loads than the engines that served the nation in the last war.

HATTER ROUSES' CREATIVE URGE

Clubwomen Rush Home to Dig Out, Remodel, and Adorn Old Headgear With Salvage Trim

Dorothy Nugent, Philadelphia hat designer, delighted her audience at the Women's Club on Tuesday with her clever ideas and thrifty suggestions in creating artistic hats. After a gorgeous display of millinery and bags made from all sorts of left over materials beautifully modeled by Mrs. Nugent, old felt hats brought in by members were revamped to their owners wore fine new models home.

Mrs. W. F. C. Swann, program chairman, presented Mrs. Nugent and a chorus of club members who sang old fashioned songs about hats. Mrs. R. Chester Spencer wrote the words for one of the songs and directed the group. Men appear to have started the fashion of wearing decorated hats; women through the ages have copied ancient fillets of the Chinese and Greeks, the snoods, wimples and hoods of the middle ages and the high crowns of the Puritans. The modern touch is wearing the hat at the proper angle. Mrs. Nugent is the author of "Hats Created Not Dated".

Mrs. John H. Pitman won the prize for the silliest hat and Mrs. George Zimmer carried off the honors for the best looking old hat.

Junior Red Cross Drive Nets $175 for Local Service Fund

The Junior Red Cross reports a net total of $175.32 secured from its membership drive conducted in November. A total of $183.32 was collected. $13 was retained by the National Red Cross for enrollment on the basis of $1.00 for every hundred students in the High School and 50¢ for each room in the Elementary Schools. All rooms and grades contributed, the High School's donation reaching $123.76, the elementary schools' $64.56. The service fund of $175 will be used to meet the needs of children in Swarthmore and to purchase materials used by the juniors in their Red Cross projects. In addition to this fund the Junior Red Cross has also for use in the community a fund of $78.67, a contribution to the organization by the Mothers' Mutual Exchange.

Plans are to be adopted for the expenditure of the fund at an early meeting of the advisory committee at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Raymond K. Denworth.

Start Second Series

The second class in the Creative Approach to Music which is being taught at the home of Mrs. S. D. Clyde on Ogden avenue by Dr. Frederick Schlieder of New York City will begin on January 13 at 10 A. M.

Members of the first class have benefited greatly from Dr. Schlieder's unique philosophy of music. They have learned to improvise in the simpler forms and several are now writing in canon form. Any person interested in joining the groups can get information from Mrs. Roy Delaplaine, Mrs. Herbert Fraser, Mrs. Guy Deming, Mrs. Henry Ford of Chester or Mrs. Clyde.

Study Government Housing

The Woman's Roosevelt Club of Swarthmore met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Carl de Moll of Park avenue. After the election of officers, Mrs. Henry Gouley addressed the meeting on "What is the Federal Government doing in our country to house the influx of workers?"

Mrs. de Moll was named president, Mrs. O. J. Gilcrest first vice-president, Mrs. Louis N. Robinson second vice-president, Mrs. Robert Allison secretary, and Mrs. William F. Hanny treasurer.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holman of College avenue entertained eight guests from Lansdowne.

Owing to overworked Postal Clerks, and many hours of help to the present crisis, interrupted by illness, we refrained from sending Greeting Cards this Holiday Season. We take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors for those received and to wish them, and the whole world, a HAPPIER NEW YEAR

New Book by Dr. Harper Traces Journey of Quaker Naturalist

Dr. Francis Harper of South Chester had the first of his books on the famous Bartrams, early Quaker naturalists, published on Wednesday of last week. Appearing as Volume XXXIII, Part 1, 1942 of the Transactions of the American Philosophical Society the large sized, paper-bound book called "Diary of a Journey Through the Carolinas, Georgia, and Florida from July 1, 1765 to April 10, 1766" contains nearly 1500 pages (equivalent to 400 pages of ordinary octavo book paper).

Dr. Harper who is research associate of the John Bartram Association of Philadelphia which sponsored the work, has devoted this first book to John one of the first notable naturalists of this region, and to the diary which he kept during his journey through the Carolinas, Georgia, and Florida from July 1, 1765 to April 10, 1766. The original spelling and punctuation have been retained but following an introduction covering circumstances, and the diary itself Dr. Harper has added explanatory sections of his own. One of these is an annotated index containing names of all plants, animals, persons, and localities mentioned in the diary with suitable definitions, supplying current titles for many which even modern botanists might otherwise fail to recognize. Another section features geographical and historical comments required to describe Bartram's route which Dr. Harper, during two trips in 1939 and 1940 covering in all five months and extending as far as central Florida, was able to trail for hundreds of miles without deviating even a few feet from the ancient track.

The Bartram Gardens on the Schuylkill near here are a memorial to John Bartram and his son William (or Billy) author of the immortal "Travels" (1791) on whom Dr. Harper is now completing a second similar volume to appear about April. It is planned to bind this "Travels in Georgia and Florida 1773-74" with the first volume and offer the works complete in cloth cover.

Dr. Harper's initial interest in the Bartrams grew out of his own family's 15-acre tract in the heart of the vast Okefenokee swamp and wilderness of Florida. One of the earliest accounts of this area was given by William Bartram who neverthless never touched it. During a period of living in his cabins within the Okefenokee however Dr. Harper was able to be an eye witness to the very extraordinary performance of the alligator bellows which William Bartram had mentioned but at which folks scoffed. This reptile is so extremely shy that although hundreds of persons have heard the bellows few men even among the natives have been able to get close enough to see it.

Having already done a bit of research on his own in regard to the father-son botanists Dr. Harper began serious work on them in 1939. His late 1942 publication bespeaks the painstaking scientific effort of several years and is one which will be of great value in its field as well of your family and thousands of other American families. In these difficult times, we believe we can be of greater service than ever before.

We are arranging, for instance, that a supply of appealing, tasty Supplee Homogenized Milk and most other products be available in a store in every neighborhood to supplement your regular deliveries.

Our laboratories and the Sealtest Kitchen are diligently using our extensive research facilities to perfect new products which will take less from the butter-fat stock-pile. One of these may help to answer the cream problem at your house.

Shortly we will announce a quick, inexpensive new method we have developed to double your butter volume without loss of flavor. With so much of all the butter being made today earmarked for the Army and the Navy, you can imagine what a "find" that will be for every housewife.

No cost or obligation, naturally. Be sure to include your name and address, and send to Supplee-Wills-Jones Milk Company, 1523 N. 26th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Now you are hearing talk of an American "butter-fat stock-pile." Heavy cream has already gone into it—off the market. There are restrictions on supplies of butter and ice cream.

If you weren't informed, you might suppose that this means an actual mountain of butter is being piled up somewhere, like the gold at Ft. Knox. But actually it simply means that your Government and the Dairy Industry must look at all the butter-fat in all the milk products in America as a single source or "pool."

For our part, we are pledged to most strenuous effort for the continued good living and nourishment

Miss Margaret Little who has a teaching position in Cleveland, Tenn. spent last week-end visiting her parents on Park avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Collins of North Chester road will entertain a few friends informally at lunch today at her home.

Elsie Reuning daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Karl Reuning of Amherst avenue underwent an operation for hernia on Wednesday morning in the Taylor Hospital and was reported doing favorably when we went to press.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Jackson of North Chester road left on Wednesday to vacation in Florida. They will visit Mr. Jackson's brother and sister in Orlando, spend some time in Highland Park, and visit friends in St. Petersburg and Palm Beach before returning soon after the middle of February.

Mr. Richard Thatcher of Chattanooga, Tenn. was the guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Thatcher of College avenue.

Lt. Benson Bowditch spent two days this week with his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Bowditch, Jr. of Cedar lane while transferring from Quantico, Va. to Monmouth, N. J.

Lt. Sumner P. Jones who received his commission as Second Lieutenant last Wednesday at Fort Benning, Ga. is spending a ten-day furlough with his parents Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Jones of Yale avenue before leaving for his next assignment.

Roland G. E. Ullman, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Ullman of Harvard avenue has returned from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Porrett, Jr. on their farm near Manchester, Vt. and reported for active duty with the Coast Guard on Monday. "Pete" was a third year student at the "School of Industrial Arts in Philadelphia. He will receive his basic training at the Manhattan Beach Coast Guard Station at Long Island, N. Y.

Mr. William H. Hickson and children Jane and Bill of Dartmouth avenue left Wednesday last week for Washington, D.C. where they attended the opening of Congress and heard the President's address on Thursday. Mr. Hickson who has been living in Washington during the week since his appointment as assistant tally clerk to the House of Representatives on November 1, accompanied them home on Friday.

The Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae Association will meet at the home of Mrs. Daniel S. Morse, 315 South Chester road on Tuesday, January 19, to sew for the American Friends Service.

Mrs. J. Harace Walter of the Sparthmore Apartments will be hostess to a meeting of her luncheon and bridge club today.

Miss Ruth Child who was home from Middlebury College.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hornaby of Yorktown entertained Saturday evening, January 2, to announce the engagement of their daughter Marian Jeanette and Lt. Willis H. Bowditch, U.S.N.R. son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bowditch, Jr. of Cedar lane. The marriage will be performed at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, January 23, in Seaford, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Bernard of Yale avenue announced the engagement of their daughter Elsie Frances to Brown E. Wiggs, Jr., Seaman 1/c of Louisville, Ky. son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiggs of Louisville, Ky.

Miss Bernard is a graduate of the Swarthmore High School and is at present employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Paulson of Park avenue announced the engagement of their two daughters, Dorothy Grace to Private Wesley Van France, and Helen Louise to Mr. Vahey S. Kupell of Akron, Ohio.

The announcement party was held on Saturday evening, January 9, being the birthdays of both girls and was attended by 65 friends and relatives. The games of the evening were under the direction of Miss Grace Denetriadis of Upper Darby, organizer of many young people's groups.

A short musical was also part of the program in which Mr. Martin Hatch of Drexel Park sang several baritone solos, and Miss Ernestine Pirimian of Springfield rendered several songs. A trio, consisting of three sisters—Misses Diana, Pauline, and Grace Sober of Drexel Hill at the piano, violin, and cello respectively, concluded the musical portion of the evening's events.

Miss Dorothy Paulson and Private France both graduated from Houghton College, Houghton, N. Y. in the class of 1941. Previous to his entrance to Houghton College, Pvt. France attended Elmira Business College. He is now stationed at Camp Kilmer, New Brunswick, N. J. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jason H. France of Jasper, N. Y.

Miss Louise Paulson is now attending the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music where she has held scholarship for three consecutive years under Madame Olga Semaroff Stowkowski.

Mr. Kupell is a graduate of the University of Akron and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a member of the Sigma Tau, American Aeronautical Engineer's honorary fraternity, and at present is associated with the Good-year Aircraft Company of Akron, Ohio. He is the son of Mrs. V. Kupellian of Akron and the late Dr. Kupellian.

Among the out of town guests present at the party were Mrs. Mary Kupellian of Akron, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hlad of Norfolk, Va., and Pvt. A. Leonard of Fort Eustis, Va.

No immediate plans have been made for the weddings.

Peirson — Winant
The marriage of Miss Shirley Mason Winant daughter of Mrs. Mary Kupellian and Mr. Winant of Springfield road and Mr. John Whiting Peirson, aviation cadet United States Army son of Mr.

Henry Armstrong Peirson, Sr. of Lafayette avenue and the late Mrs. Peirson was performed in the rectory of the Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Morton by the Rev. Joseph B. Gibson, assistant rector.

Vows were exchanged in the presence of members of the immediate families with Dr. Ruth Helen Winant of Philadelphia acting as maid of honor for her sister and Mr. J. Henry Wellburn of Swarthmore in the position of best man.

The bride wore a two-piece semi-tailored model of lightweight natural colored wool with a jaunty fall-feathered hat of the same material. Her stitched leather pumps were in British tan and she wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

After the ceremony the wedding guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents at the end of a ten-day furlough which the bride will remain temporarily at the home of her parents while her husband at the end of a ten-day furlough returns this week-end to finish his Army Air Corps training at Fort Myers, Fla.

The bride graduated from the Mary Lyon School in June, 1941. Mr. Peirson attended Swarthmore High School, class of 1935.

Some time with Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Smith, Sr. of Michigan avenue.

A second son John Grier Poole was born on Monday, January 11, in the Lying-In Hospital, Philadelphia to Lt. Donald W. Poole, U.S.N.R. and Mrs. Poole of Swarthmore avenue.

The Men's Bible Class will have as their speaker this Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock Dr. Paul C. Payne, whose subject will be "A Project for Swarthmore." All men are urged to attend this meeting and listen to this interesting discussion.

The Senior Department of the Church School will have as their topic this Sunday morning "The Modern Creed." Virginia Bonnet and Robert Ewing will be the leaders.

The High School Fellowship will meet this Sunday evening at 6 o'clock, with the Community Young People's Fellowship at this church. Fay E. Campbell, a member of the Board of Christian Education in Philadelphia will speak.

Circle III meeting scheduled for today was cancelled. The next meeting will be the third Friday in February.

The Young People's Choir will rehearse Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Church.

Circle I, Mrs. Frank Reynolds chairman, will meet Wednesday, January 20, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank Gillespie, Harvard and Chester roads. Mrs. Elizabeth Worrell Plummer of the Family Service will speak on "Trailer Camp Conditions in Delaware County."

Circle VII, Mrs. George M. Karns chairman will meet at the home of Mrs. J. H. Jessup, 243 Haverford avenue at 11 A.M. on Wednesday, January 20. Dr. Sheridan will speak on "Pan American Friendship." Members are asked to bring their own sandwiches.

Trinity Parish Notes
The Young People's Fellowship will meet with the Interdenominational group at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday. On the following Sunday, January 24th, all young people of the Parish are asked to attend the early service and to remain for breakfast as this will be the last meeting when Mr. Guenther will be present.

The College Discussion Group will hold its final meeting under Mr. Guenther's leadership on Sunday evening.

The women will meet on Tuesday for the regular Red Cross sewing.

The Men's Fellowship had one of the largest attended and most enthusiastic meetings last Monday evening when Ensign William Robertson, U.S.N.R., was the speaker. Mr. Robertson was graduated from Annapolis only about six months before being assigned to the USS "Boise". He gave a graphic description of the preparations on shipboard for the battle in which the "Boise" played such a distinguished role. He commented upon the quiet and efficient manner shown by all the officers and men and, after his speech, generously answered many interesting questions which were asked him by members of the audience.

ONE TOUCH OF NATURE

Let one be led to suppose that grebes are a drug on the ornithological market, I must explain that my significant early experiences with birds only happened to be associated with this family of fast-catchers. After making acquaintances with Pied-billed and Horned Grebes, I may have seen a Holboell's Grebe in New Jersey, but following that episode there were several unproductive grebe years in my life. The first three kinds brought my list to the half-way mark so far as the United States was concerned, and it was a long time before I saw the other three in Wyoming, California, and Texas.

At Newburyport, however, I began to feel that grebes were rather a plague, and I thirsted for stranger birds. I wanted them to be not only rare but also outlandish in their shapes and activities. To credit grebes in physical peculiarity, however, one must almost revert to the contemplation of fossils. Such birds as Ichthyornis long ago became such expert swimmers that they lost the ability to fly and their legs were over-developed into huge paddles. One might say "All misny were Cretaceous birds. And the divers out-grebe." But I was forced by the practical facts of extinction to abandon evolutionary nostalgia and to search among living birds for satisfying experiences.

Takes Student Work Poll
The report of Mrs. Waldo E. Fisher of Guernsey road vocational counsellor at the West Philadelphia High School on pupils working part time has brought to the fore many interesting statistics which are considered typical by officials of other public schools. Of West Philadelphia's 3300 students it was discovered 43% of those over 16 years of age are working anywhere from one to 40 hours a week outside of their school studies. More boys than girls are working and a considerable percentage have both parents working also.

Concludes Race Series Sunday
On Sunday, January 17, at 9:45 A.M. Maurice Mandelbaum of the philosophy department of the college will give the third of his series of talks on "The Problem of Race" at the old forum of the local Friends Meeting. His topic this week will be "The Flight of the Negro."

Christian Science Church
"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 17. The Golden Text is: "The gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23).

The local Committee for the Relief of Refugee Children in Switzerland will hold its second quarterly meeting next Tuesday at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Cameron P. Hall, 230 Park avenue when a report will be made on the progress of the work by the chairman and treasurer.

Almost 1200 dollars has been raised since the committee was organized three months ago by Mrs. A. M. Boshardt of Park avenue. One hundred patronesses and twenty donors have been listed.

The local Committee for the Relief of Refugee Children in Switzerland will hold its second quarterly meeting next Tuesday at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Cameron P. Hall, 230 Park avenue when a report will be made on the progress of the work by the chairman and treasurer.

Among new patronesses are: Mrs. John W. Nason and Mrs. W. H. Brown. A donation was also received from the Camden Rotary Club.

The committee consists of the following officers: chairman Mrs. A. M. Boshardt, co-chairman Mrs. Herbert Fraser, Treasurer Mrs. Helen S. Harris, secretary Mrs. Rosalie Elliott, advising secretaries Mrs. Cameron P. Hall, Mrs. W. Earle Kistler, Mrs. J. Burris West, and Mrs. Sargent Walter, and publicity chairman Mrs. J. H. Pitman.

L.W.V. Holds 6-County Conference
Mrs. E. N. Hay of Ogden and Swarthmore avenues chairman of government and education of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters will preside at the morning session of a six-county League conference on Wednesday, January 20, in Philadelphia. Mrs. Daniel Goodwin regional director and Mrs. Earl Harrison are other local women who are taking part in the all-day event which will feature many outstanding speakers on vital problems both before and after luncheon.

Hostess to Parent Group
Mrs. Howard G. Hopson will entertain mothers of the fourth grade of the Rutgers avenue school Monday afternoon January 18 from two until four at her home on Rutgers avenue.

Mrs. Steven M. Spencer chairman of the Home and School Grade Group committee will be the group's guest at the meeting which will discuss informally fourth grade interests. Mrs. Hopson is the group's chairman.

Women "Man" Posts for Bus Lines
Many traditionally masculine jobs are being filled, for the duration, by the fairer—if not weaker—sex.

Latest such posts to tickle the ladies are those of three pack agents in the Travel Bureau of the Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Company, located in its 69th Street Terminal.

Red Arrow Lines are also using women for the duration on certain bus and car cleaning operations formerly performed by men now engaged in the war effort.

The company anticipates that, in addition to the jobs where women have already replaced men, a number of other posts could, if necessary, be manned by women.

Inn Speaker on "Water Works"

This Saturday evening at 7:45 at the Strath Haven Inn the public is invited to join the Inn guests in hearing K. C. Armstrong discuss "Water Treatment." Mr. Armstrong recently returned from South America where he had been engaged in water work for 13 years. He spent several months at the Inn until his wife joined him and they moved to Wallingford. He will demonstrate with actual experiments and will tell of his experiences in South America.

On Wednesday evening one of the regular round table game nights was enjoyed by house guests at the Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Wood Stuart of Vassar avenue entertained informally at their home last Sunday evening.

Friendly Circle Meets

The Friendly Circle will meet Thursday afternoon, January 21 at 2 P. M. at the home of Mrs. Otto Kraus, 15 Benjamin West avenue. Mrs. T. Harry Brown and Mrs. Adolph Wuest will be co-hostesses.

Gets High Scout Award
Ned Rutherford son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour S. Rutherford of Strath Haven avenue was made an Eagle Scout at a Boy Scouts of America court of honor held at the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church last Friday evening.

Major Robert H. Douglas returned to Camp Van Dorn, Miss. Thursday last week after spending a 10-day furlough with his family on Michigan avenue.

How to DOUBLE your Butter
Take 1/2 lb. of Butter—Have the butter soft. (Keep it at room temperature about two hours. Do NOT melt the butter by cooking.) Cream the butter with an electric mixer or hand beater. If an electric mixer is used, whip it at medium speed and gradually increase to high speed.
Plus 1/2 cup of exclusive Supplee Devon Style Cream—Add 1/2 of a measuring cup of the Devon Style Cream to the butter, a tablespoon at a time, until the butter absorbs all of it. Salt to taste, then put in the refrigerator until hardened. Mold or cut into patties when serving.
You'll get 1 lb. of delicious Butter Spread—You double the butter volume with none of the butter flavor lost. And it's far less expensive, too! You'll find it wonderful on toast, in mashed and baked potatoes and other cooked vegetables.

USE the rest of the Devon Style Cream on your salads and in pastries. It's rich, spoon-thick and mild in flavor—so different! Available in half-pints and pints. Order from your Supplee milkman or your neighborhood store. Ask for the Devon Style Cream Recipe Folder if you order by telephone: CHESTER 2-5721

MISS HOSKINS AT MOTHERS' CLUB

Specialist School Reading Specialist Lists Causes and Remedies of Reading Troubles

The Swarthmore Mothers' Club held its regular monthly meeting, Friday, January 8, in the Woman's Club House.

Miss Hoskins dealt with the main problems which confront parents and teachers in teaching children to read, and what can be done to prevent them.

THE WEEK'S CALENDAR table with columns for Saturday, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, listing various events and times.

NURSING SERVICE IN YEARLY MEET

Nurses Made 6,378 Visits in Past Year Which Presented Challenging Problems

Providing adequate public health nursing service to Central Delaware County in wartime was discussed from many angles at the annual meeting of the Community Health Society held in Borough Hall, January 14.

Interesting and stimulating reports were presented by the various committee chairmen on their reports.

Miss Hoskins emphasized the fact that there should be no stigma attached to the child who is not able to read well.

Other reading problems, according to Miss Hoskins, are usually caused by emphasizing some particular method.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Mrs. Paul Fetzner president, Mrs. A. F. Jackson first vice-president, Mrs. Walter E. L. Irwin second vice-president, Mrs. D. Malcolm Hodge recording secretary, Mrs. Norman Krass treasurer, and Elric S. Sprout assistant treasurer.

The Board of Directors and staff expressed sincere appreciation for the donations and services rendered to the agency by innumerable individuals and groups of loyal citizens doing their part in this crisis.

The Post's regular monthly meeting will be called to order at 8 P.M. on the same date but will adjourn promptly for the picture.

TO LAYOUT 1943 UNITED CAMPAIGN TUESDAY

A rally of United War Chest captains and workers also to be attended by various teams from surrounding communities, will be held at 8 P.M. sharp Wednesday, January 20, at the Woman's Club.

Moving pictures will be shown and general instruction issued as to conducting this year's campaign which will extend from January 24 to February 8.

T. E. Hessebruch local chairman stresses the extreme importance of the presence of all those interested in the campaign, at this session.

During the drive the secretary will be stationed at headquarters in the Bank from 1:30 until 3 P.M. weekday afternoons and from 9 until 12 o'clock Saturday mornings to receive reports and contributions of various workers and residents who find it more convenient to leave their donations there.

The Post's regular monthly meeting will be called to order at 8 P.M. on the same date but will adjourn promptly for the picture.

Legion Shows War Movie

The Harold Ainsworth Post No. 427 of the American Legion invites all interested Swarthmoreans to its showing of the official R.A.F. sound movie "Target for Tonight" at 8:30 P.M. Monday night, January 18 in the Legion room, Borough Hall.

The Post's regular monthly meeting will be called to order at 8 P.M. on the same date but will adjourn promptly for the picture.

and avoid crowds

NATURALLY we are doing all we can to accommodate everyone, but there are certain things that we should like to point out to our patrons.

In the first place, we are carrying large numbers of workers during the morning and evening hours. These quickly fill up seats and the aisles, too.

Therefore, if you are going shopping—or into town for any other purpose—it will be more comfortable for you to do your traveling over our lines between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Then more seats are available, there is more room for your packages.

In these wartime days, when it is not possible for us to add new cars and buses, cooperation is the best means of assuring smooth and comfortable service for you. Not only shall we appreciate your help, but on all occasions we think you will find it to your advantage when you travel over our lines. Thank you.

Swarthmore Red Cross Reports Active Volunteer Services in '42

Mrs. Hodge, All Officers and Directors Relected as Hard Worked Chairmen Face Combined War Fund, Roll Call Drive for Humanitarian Relief March 1

Swarthmoreans actively engaged in volunteer service under the direction of the Red Cross achieved tremendous humanitarian services in 1942 according to the annual reports of Red Cross chairmen made Friday morning at the home of Swarthmore's chairman Mrs. Sewell W. Hodge.

Announcement was made by the chairman that she had offered the services of her organization to Captain James D. Rives at the local Convalescent Annex of the Philadelphia Naval Hospital and was now awaiting requests from him which she would relay to the proper chairman.

Twenty-nine Gray Ladies are at work in Philadelphia hospitals with five more enrolled to take the next training class according to the report of Mrs. Thomas H. Ingram chairman of Gray Ladies. She added that recently new services had been opened to this section, among them acting as hospital receptionist, filing x-ray records, handling floor telephone desks.

Mrs. George L. Armitage, chairman of canteen, reported 41 local women who had graduated in March and had contributed 2249 hours of volunteer work since then in hospitals, in high school and college cafeterias, in work on the three parties for sailors. Swarthmore is represented at the Red Cross Saturday canteen each week in the year.

Mrs. A. Ludlow Clayden reported the completion during July and August of a supply of surgical dressings for the borough made with materials bought with the $35 given by the American Legion and its Auxiliary for that purpose and sterilized by the Chester Hospital. These are now stored in the five local first aid stations. She reported the completion of 4586 dressings in 2303 1/2 hours of work since Borough Council's cooperation made possible the opening of the Surgical Dressings room in Borough Hall on September 2. She contrasted this 4 months' achievement with the completion of 3250 dressings by Swarthmore women working in the Media headquarters during the entire year of 1941.

Fifty-five women work regularly in the local room with six instructresses in charge. She praised highly the cooperation of her staff, the Motor Corps, and the Community Health Society.

Lists 5 Blood Donor Days Mrs. Clayden followed her report as Surgical Dressings chairman with her annual record as Blood Donor chairman. The Mobile Unit of the Blood Donor Service of the Southeastern Branch of the Red Cross has come to Swarthmore five times in the past year, three times to the college, twice to the borough, for 520 donations. Eleven persons have served three times as donors. For their cooperation (Continued on Page Four)

W.C.T.U. Calls Special Session The Swarthmore branch of the W.C.T.U. will hold a special meeting at the home of Mrs. George Van Alen on Park avenue next Tuesday, January 26, at 10 A.M. A full attendance is urged. Members should bring sandwiches. The hostesses will serve coffee and tea.

Mr. Bengé is a graduate of the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Applied Psychology. He is the author of numerous books and articles on management and vocational subjects. He is a member of many of the principal management associations, and is president of Bengé Associates management engineers of Chicago.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting by the fourth grade mothers of the Rutgers and College avenue schools.

WORKERS OPEN DRIVE SUNDAY

Borough Ready for Two-Week Campaign for Annual Campaign Plus War Agencies

The United Campaign which opens a two-week drive here on Sunday this year has assumed additional obligations in established agencies created by existing war conditions. Among these are the U.S.O. and the British War Relief.

A mass meeting of workers Tuesday evening in the Woman's Club House prepared those upon whose shoulders rests the responsibility of collecting sufficient funds to cover the increased work of the agencies in this year.

The complete personnel of the 1943 campaign is as follows: Director—T. E. Hessebruch, associate director—Ellwood B. Chapman, secretary—Mrs. J. Donald Gibson, assistant secretary—Mrs. Thomas H. Lueders, and captains and workers—Eric S. Sprout, captain (business district); E. L. Noyes, John Michael, Harry Tryens, Leslie Pyle, Isaac Darlington, captain (Strath Haven Inn), Robert T. Bair, captain; Mrs. Hugh O. Thayer, Mrs. Ferris W. Mitchell, Mrs. Floyd Nickerson, Mrs. W. Gordon Scott, Mrs. E. Fay Campbell, Byron Ebersole, and Mrs. Glenn R. Morrow, Walter Moore, captain (colored section), Maurice M. Reynolds, captain; Frank G. Keenan, Howard J. Talley, Robert P. Kroon, John M. Broomall, A. C. Boshardt, H. (Continued on Page Six)

The program is arranged by the chairman Mildred Spencer Hutcheson who will play as the first number the Bach-Busoni "Chaconne in D Minor." Irma Carels contralto will sing a group of songs as follows: "Les Berceuses" by Faure, "The Snow-drap" and "The Nightingale" by Grieg, "Tides of Fundy" by Mildred S. Hutcheson, "The Fisher's Widow" by Clara Edwards.

The following group of two piano pieces, played by Mrs. Clyde and Mrs. Hutcheson will conclude the program: "Solfergetto" by C. P. E. Bach; "Tambourin" by Gossec (arranged by Elizabeth Gest); "Menuet Antique" and "Danse Negre" by George F. Boyle.

Mrs. Henry R. Harris is chairman of the hospital committee and will be assisted by Mrs. Phelps Soule and Mrs. Ernest Heg.

President Nason listed as the war's five major impacts upon colleges by which higher education has suffered greater blows than at any time since the founding of Harvard University: priorities which make it difficult to get materials with which to make repairs or to operate; a shift in curriculum from the humanities in the direction of technical subjects which makes the maintenance of the necessary balance between the number of students and the number and types of faculty a constant problem; the rapid loss of most of the made students (as quoted from former Swarthmore Dean Raymond Walters' two-year survey which before the lowered draft age listed a drop in the enrollment of higher educational institutions in the United States of 18 per cent); the turning of many campuses into armed camps for the duration as the Army and Navy select certain institutions for technical training under military control in curricula specified by them; the financial effect upon all colleges of these changes but especially upon those with relatively small endowments to which the loss of students means the difference between solvency and bankruptcy.

Swarthmore College which faces a drop from the largest enrollment to the smallest within 15 years, barring developments which will bring students here in, according to Dr. Nason "far better off than most" since it is coeducational and highly endowed.

Nason Says Colleges Will Face War Responsibilities Willingly

Capacity Audience of League of Women Voter and Woman's Club Members Cheer Swarthmore College Head's Vision for Colleges' Contribution to War and Peace to Come

"It is the business of education to be farsighted and to build a better world" Dr. John W. Nason, president of Swarthmore College, declared as he outlined a forward looking post-war program for higher education Tuesday afternoon when he addressed a joint meeting of the League of Women Voters and the Woman's Club in the latter's clubhouse.

"Putting total war together is fully as important as waging it. The total result of this war will not be known until the steps we took to put the world on a stable basis are written into history. I know that if we don't win the war we won't have much to say about the peace, but if we don't win the peace it is not going to matter much whether we won the war."

Earlier he had concisely historicized war. "War today is different from anything ever known. No group, no business, no institution is safe from the effects of total war. No college can remain aloof from its effect."

President Nason listed as the war's five major impacts upon colleges by which higher education has suffered greater blows than at any time since the founding of Harvard University: priorities which make it difficult to get materials with which to make repairs or to operate; a shift in curriculum from the humanities in the direction of technical subjects which makes the maintenance of the necessary balance between the number of students and the number and types of faculty a constant problem; the rapid loss of most of the made students (as quoted from former Swarthmore Dean Raymond Walters' two-year survey which before the lowered draft age listed a drop in the enrollment of higher educational institutions in the United States of 18 per cent); the turning of many campuses into armed camps for the duration as the Army and Navy select certain institutions for technical training under military control in curricula specified by them; the financial effect upon all colleges of these changes but especially upon those with relatively small endowments to which the loss of students means the difference between solvency and bankruptcy.

Defense Council Bulletins

Office: Borough Hall—Telephone 6261 Open Weekdays 1:30 - 3:30 Daily

In the near future a census of Swarthmore will be undertaken. This is to supplement the census taken by the Air Wardens last year. Pertinent data will be used for a Swarthmore Directory.

We would like to have a card for each and every resident of each dwelling. We would like to know if you have a fire extinguisher and if so what type? Due to the increased importance of Victory Gardens in view of food rationing, we would like to know if you would be interested in operating such a garden if conveniently located or if you have a garden on your own property?

From time to time the Defense Council is asked to set up new committees for new projects. If you are not already actively engaged, would you be able and willing to serve if called upon? Mrs. Albert Hill of College avenue has accepted the chairmanship of this committee.

RECTOR J. J. GUENTHER ADDRESSES FIREMEN AT ANNUAL MEET

President Harry Hanby, Vice-President Charles E. Black, Secretary-Treasurer Peter Told, officers of the Swarthmore Fire and Protective Association, Burgess John H. gift in appreciation of his long and valued services. The active firemen had as their guests the auxiliary firemen whose cooperation during the past year they have greatly appreciated.

MISS HOSKINS AT MOTHERS' CLUB

Sproggell School Reading Specialist Liets Causes and Cures of Reading Troubles

The Swarthmore Mothers' Club held its regular monthly meeting, Friday, January 8, in the Woman's Club House. Beatrice Hoskins of the Sproggell School, Media spoke on "Teaching the Child to Read."

Miss Hoskins dealt with the main problems which confront parents and teachers in teaching children to read, and what can be done to prevent them. She stated that much trouble begins because adults impose adult standards on children.

Before teaching the child to read, one should be sure he is physically and mentally ready for it. Six-and-one-half to seven years is the average age when the child's eyesight is strong enough to concentrate on print.

The tendency to reverse is quite common among young children, Miss Hoskins said. It is only when the child reaches the second grade that normal cases can be separated from reversal cases and special training given.

Other reading problems, according to Miss Hoskins, are usually caused by emotional factors. The main thing to avoid is a sense of failure in the child. Reading clinics will help avert this.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Mrs. Paul Petzer president, Mrs. A. F. Jackson first vice-president, Mrs. Walter E. L. Irwin second vice-president, Mrs. D. Malcolm Hodge recording secretary, Mrs. Norman Kruse treasurer, and Elric S. Sproat assistant treasurer.

Mrs. Thomas S. Safford honorary president served as chairman of the nominating committee. The Board of Directors and staff expressed sincere appreciation for the donations and services rendered to the agency by innumerable individuals and groups of loyal citizens doing their part in this crisis.

Mrs. Mabel J. Neal who has been secretary of Mary Lyon for 28 years is retaining the business office in connection with her home in Media.

WAVES Expected Here Soon A number of WAVES are expected to arrive in the borough in the near future for duty in connection with the new suburban Convalescent Annex of the Philadelphia Naval Hospital.

NURSING SERVICE IN YEARLY MEET

Nurses Made 6,378 Visits in Past Year Which Presented Challenging Problems

Providing adequate public health nursing service to Central Delaware County in wartime was discussed from many angles at the annual meeting of the Community Health Society held in Borough Hall, January 14.

Interesting and stimulating reports were presented by the various committee chairmen on their activities. The supervising nurse reported "the influx of population (largely defense workers' families) has resulted in an almost overwhelming uprush of health problems. To provide adequately for such necessities as communicable disease control, maternal and child care, sanitation, adjustment of disrupted family life requires the wisdom and use of all the resources of the community. A total of 6,378 visits to 1,350 cases were made by the nursing staff during 1942. A fine staff of volunteers share with us the responsibility of meeting this increased call for nursing service."

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Mrs. Paul Petzer president, Mrs. A. F. Jackson first vice-president, Mrs. Walter E. L. Irwin second vice-president, Mrs. D. Malcolm Hodge recording secretary, Mrs. Norman Kruse treasurer, and Elric S. Sproat assistant treasurer.

Mrs. Thomas S. Safford honorary president served as chairman of the nominating committee. The Board of Directors and staff expressed sincere appreciation for the donations and services rendered to the agency by innumerable individuals and groups of loyal citizens doing their part in this crisis.

Mrs. Mabel J. Neal who has been secretary of Mary Lyon for 28 years is retaining the business office in connection with her home in Media.

WAVES Expected Here Soon A number of WAVES are expected to arrive in the borough in the near future for duty in connection with the new suburban Convalescent Annex of the Philadelphia Naval Hospital.

Crum Creek Card Club Winners East and west winners at the weekly meeting of the Crum Creek Bridge Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Kniskern of Riverview road on Montview evening were Mrs. Sargent Walter and Mrs. John Bates first, Mrs. Franklin Gillespie and Mrs. Joseph Blakiston tied with Richard Sellers and William Craemer for second and third.

North and south winners were Mrs. Irvin MacElwee and Mrs. Margaret Marsh first, Mrs. Philip Kniskern and Bayard H. Morrison, Sr. second, and Mrs. L. Rankin and L. G. Luckie third.

TO LAYOUT 1943 UNITED CAMPAIGN TUESDAY

A rally of United War Chest captains and workers also to be attended by various teams from surrounding communities, will be held at 8 P.M. sharp Wednesday, January 20, at the Woman's Club.

Moving pictures will be shown and general instruction issued as to conducting this year's campaign which will extend from January 24 to February 8.

T. E. Hessenbruch, local chairman stresses the extreme importance of the presence of all those interested in the campaign, at this session. During the drive the secretary will be stationed at headquarters in the Bank from 1:30 until 3 P.M. weekday afternoons and from 9 until 12 o'clock Saturday mornings to receive reports and contributions of various workers and residents who find it more convenient to leave their donations there. As the campaign advances the secretary will be on hand during the major part of the day.

Legion Shows War Movie

The Harold Ainsworth Post No. 427 of the American Legion invites all interested Swarthmoreans to its showing of the official R.A.F. sound movie "Target for Tonight" at 8:30 P.M. Monday night, January 18 in the Legion room, Borough Hall. Ralph Ashton Nixdorf will introduce the picture which is considered one of the foremost war movies to date. It runs 48 minutes and is presented through the courtesy of the Bell Telephone Company.

The Post's regular monthly meeting will be called to order at 8 P.M. on the same date but will adjourn promptly for the picture.

Borough Nears 50th Mark

In March 1893, Swarthmore Borough Council organized and held its first meeting. On Wednesday night a committee consisting of Burgess John H. Pitman, president of Council D. W. E. Morgan, Borough Secretary Elliott Richardson, president of School Board Roy W. Delaplaine, president of Swarthmore College John Nason, president of Woman's Club Mrs. J. Paul Brown, president of Players Club Malcolm Lodge, president of Library Board Guenther Froebel, president of Fire Company Harry Hanby, president of Business Men's Association Harold Ogram, president of Rotary Club Edward Noyes, and the Editor of The Swarthmorean Peter E. Told met in the Council room to formulate plans for a suitable celebration.

Announcement of plans will be made at a later date.

Red Cross Board to Meet

Swarthmore Red Cross Reports Active Volunteer Services in '42

Mrs. Hodge, All Officers and Directors Reelected as Hard Worked Chairmen Face Combined War Fund, Roll Call Drive for Humanitarian Relief March 1

Swarthmoreans actively engaged in volunteer service under the direction of the Red Cross achieved tremendous humanitarian services in 1942 according to the annual reports of Red Cross chairmen made Friday morning at the home of Swarthmore's chairman Mrs. Sewell W. Hodge. Announcement was made by the chairman that she had offered the services of her organization to Captain James D. Rives at the local Convalescent Annex of the Philadelphia Naval Hospital and was now awaiting requests from him which she would relay to the proper chairman.

Twenty-nine Gray Ladies are at work in Philadelphia hospitals with five more enrolled to take the next training class according to the report of Mrs. Thomas H. Ingram chairman of Gray Ladies. She added that recently new services had been opened to this section, among them acting as hospital receptionist, filing x-ray records, handling floor telephone desks.

Mrs. George L. Armitage, chairman of canteen, reported 41 local women who had graduated in March and had contributed 2849 hours of volunteer work since then in hospitals, in high school and college cafeterias, in work on the three parties for sailors. Swarthmore is represented at the Red Cross Saturday canteen each week in the year.

Mrs. A. Ludlow Clayden reported the completion during July and August of a supply of surgical dressings for the borough made with materials bought with the $35 given by the American Legion and its Auxiliary for that purpose and sterilized by the Chester Hospital. These are now stored in the five local first aid stations. She reported the completion of 4586 dressings in 2303 1/2 hours of work since Borough Council's cooperation made possible the opening of the Surgical Dressings room in Borough Hall on September 2. She contrasted this 4 months' achievement with the completion of 3250 dressings by Swarthmore women working in the Media headquarters during the entire year of 1941. Fifty-five women work regularly in the local room with six instructresses in charge. She praised highly the cooperation of her staff, the Motor Corps, and the Community Health Society.

Lists 5 Blood Donor Days Mrs. Clayden followed her report as Surgical Dressings chairman with her annual record as Blood Donor chairman. The Mobile Unit of the Blood Donor Service of the Southeastern Branch of the Red Cross has come to Swarthmore five times in the past year, three times to the college, twice to the borough, for 520 donations. Eleven persons have served three times as donors. For their cooperation (Continued on Page Four)

WORKERS OPEN DRIVE SUNDAY

Borough Ready for Two-Week Campaign Plus War Agencies

The United Campaign which opens a two-week drive here on Sunday this year has assumed additional obligations in established agencies created by existing conditions. Among these are the U.S.O. and the British War Relief Fund. Money raised in this joint campaign will care for the usual welfare needs of this area as well as being used to extend to men and women in the armed forces some of the comforts to which they are entitled.

A mass meeting of workers Tuesday evening in the Woman's Club House prepared those upon whose shoulders rests the responsibility of collecting sufficient funds to cover the increased work of the agencies in this war year. Every citizen is urged to show his patriotism in this small way by contributing as much as possible to the United War Chest Fund. For the convenience of those who will be away from home when the solicitor in their neighborhood calls headquarters are being maintained at the Swarthmore National Bank. Here too all cards and contributions received by the collectors are to be turned over to the secretary.

The complete personnel of the 1943 campaign is as follows: Director—T. E. Hessenbruch, associate director—Ellwood B. Chapman, secretary—Mrs. J. Donald Gibson, assistant secretary—Mrs. Thomas H. Lueders, and captains and workers—Elric S. Sproat, captain (business district); E. L. Noyes, John Michael, Harry Tryens, Leslie Pyle, Isaac Darlington, captain (Strath Haven Inn), Robert T. Bair, captain; Mrs. Hugh O. Thayer, Mrs. Ferris W. Mitchell, Mrs. Floyd Nickerson, Mrs. W. Gordon Scott, Mrs. E. Fay Campbell, Byron Eberole, and Mrs. Glenn R. Morrow, Maurice Moore, captain (colored section), Walter M. Reynolds, captain; Frank G. Keenen, Howard J. Talley, Robert P. Kroon, John M. Broomall, A. C. Bosshardt, H. Ernest Heg.

He is a member of many of the principal management associations, and is president of Bengie Associates management engineers of Chicago.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting by the fourth grade mothers of the Rutgers and College avenue schools.

W.C.T.U. Calls Special Session The Swarthmore branch of the W.C.T.U. will hold a special meeting at the home of Mrs. George Van Alen on Park avenue next Tuesday, January 26, at 10 A.M. A full attendance is urged. Members should bring sandwiches. The hostesses will serve coffee and tea.

In the near future a census of Swarthmore will be undertaken. This is to supplement the census taken by the Air Wardens last year. Pertinent data will be used for a Swarthmore Directory.

We would like to have a card for each and every resident of each dwelling. We would like to know if you have a fire extinguisher and if so what type? Due to the increased importance of Victory Gardens in view of food rationing, we would like to know if you would be interested in operating such a garden if conveniently located or if you have a garden on your own property?

From time to time the Defense Council is asked to set up new committees for new projects. If you are not already actively engaged, would you be able and willing to serve if called upon? Mrs. Albert Hill of College avenue has accepted the chairmanship of this committee.

Nason Says Colleges Will Face War Responsibilities Willingly

Capacity Audience of League of Women Voter and Woman's Club Members Cheer Swarthmore College Head's Vision for Colleges' Contribution to War and Peace to Come

"It is the business of education to be farsighted and to build a better world" Dr. John W. Nason, president of Swarthmore College, declared as he outlined a forward looking post-war program for higher education Tuesday afternoon when he addressed a joint meeting of the League of Women Voters and the Woman's Club in the latter's clubhouse.

"Putting total war together is fully as important as waging it. The total result of this war will not be known until the steps we took to put the world on a stable basis are written into history. I know that if we don't win the war we won't have much to say about the peace, but if we don't win the peace it is not going to matter much whether we won the war."

Earlier he had concisely historyed war. "War today is different from anything ever known. No group, no business, no institution is safe from the effects of total war. No college can remain aloof from its effect."

President Nason listed as the war's five major impacts upon colleges by which higher education has suffered greater blows than at any time since the founding of Harvard University: priorities which make it difficult to get materials with which to make repairs or to operate; a shift in curriculum from the humanities in the direction of technical subjects which makes the maintenance of the necessary balance between the number of students and the number and types of faculty a constant problem; the rapid loss of most of the male students (as quoted from former Swarthmore Dean Raymond Walters' two-year survey which before the lowered draft age listed a drop in the enrollment of higher educational institutions in the United States of 18 per cent); the turning of many campuses into armed camps for the duration as the Army and Navy select certain institutions for technical training under military control in curricula specified by them; the financial effect upon all colleges of these changes but especially upon those with relatively small endowments to which the loss of students means the difference between solvency and bankruptcy.

Swarthmore College which faces a drop from the largest enrollment to the smallest within 15 years, barring developments which will bring students here is, according to Dr. Nason "far better off than most" since it is coeducational and highly endowed.

Must Contribute to War Effort "On the other hand, colleges like all individuals, like all institutions ought to make the maximum contribution possible to the total military effort. They must (Continued on Page Four)

CAREER CHOICE TO BE H. & S. TOPIC

E. J. Bengie Will Tell How to Select Vocation on Basis of Individual Assets, Liabilities

The next meeting of the Home and School Association on Monday night, January 25, in the school auditorium, will be on a topic of great interest to parents and their older children Eugene J. Bengie the speaker has had long experience in finding round holes for round pegs and square holes for square pegs. Mr. Bengie's talk will deal with ways of determining choice of an occupation. He will discuss the dependence of success on abilities and interests. Among the abilities he will consider are those of physical, mental, mechanical and social development, including habits and skills in these areas. The importance of interests will be dealt with also; interests in people, in ideas and in things.

The ever-increasing importance of skilled guidance in choice of a career will be emphasized and Mr. Bengie will point out the part which the school and the home can play in this process of choosing. He will dwell on the part that parents can play in providing proper guidance for children not only in junior and senior high school, but also in elementary schools.

Mr. Bengie is a graduate of the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Applied Psychology. He is the author of numerous books and articles on management and vocational subjects. He is a member of many of the principal management associations, and is president of Bengie Associates management engineers of Chicago.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting by the fourth grade mothers of the Rutgers and College avenue schools.

W.C.T.U. Calls Special Session The Swarthmore branch of the W.C.T.U. will hold a special meeting at the home of Mrs. George Van Alen on Park avenue next Tuesday, January 26, at 10 A.M. A full attendance is urged. Members should bring sandwiches. The hostesses will serve coffee and tea.

RECTOR J. J. GUENTHER ADDRESSES FIREMEN AT ANNUAL MEET

President Harry Hanby, Vice-President Charles E. Black, Secretary-Treasurer Peter Told, officers of the Swarthmore Fire and Protective Association, Burgess John H. Pitman and Borough Council's Chairman of Public Safety Frank R. Markley and Fire Chief Robert Allison listen with varied mien as the Fire Company's esteemed Chaplain responds to its farewell gift in appreciation of his long and valued services. The active firemen had as their guests the auxiliary firemen whose cooperation during the past year they have greatly appreciated.

The Music of a Different Drummer

Even in the midst of the pre-Christmas rush few Swarthmoreans failed to read "This is Starvation" in the December Reader's Digest. Although its author was not named an editorial preface promised that the material had been "carefully checked". They read there of the present struggle by humanitarian agencies to save Greece "a whole nation brought to his knees" to write in filth and expire of hunger. The plea is not to relieve malnutrition and hunger, but to save a people from prevent an entire nation from being exterminated. It did not have to state that that nation had demonstrated over and over again in its history its courage, its passionate devotion to freedom, its creative love for the arts.

A Swarthmore woman read it and she looked at her own healthy, happy, intelligent children and pitied from the bottom of her heart Greek mothers who watched their children starve. They haunted her. She wrote to one of the three agencies listed in the article, the Near East Foundation, because she lay awake at night wondering how to help. Finally because she had to be sure she went to New York to talk with agency heads:

She learned these definite facts: that Greek children and adults are being fed by the Red Cross in conjunction with the Near East Foundation and the Greek War Relief Society; that any funds, no matter how small will reach the most needy sufferers through these agencies; that the Red Cross in Greece now takes into the hospitals as many starving children as it can, builds them up; sends them home, and then takes in a new group; by experience it has learned that those sent home survive unless fed extra rations the first few weeks; that from gifts which poured in after publication of the article which had aroused her many hundreds of children had been given the slim chance for survival.

She came home eager to help. She had no spare funds having shared for years with lonely, hungry people her income and her energetic housework. She knew that individuals and organizations were besieged with appeals which they generously answered, so she had two naively simple suggestions. She thought each family in this town capable of doing a little might contribute one penny per family member per day from its own menu, sending the amount each month to its chosen relief agency. She thought that educational organizations would gladly relinquish their "in-between" meal refreshments using the funds thus saved to pull starving Greeks back from death. What she did not know was that organizations' plans once made stand for the year, starvation to the contrary.

Her search for a group to start the snowball growing was without avail. To date no one has adopted her valiant, naive plans. She admits that people find her a little odd. To those who know her self-styled 'oddity' is as near nobility as human beings attain. She "hears the music of a different drummer" and she will yet save some starving Greeks.

If you would like to help, your contribution allocated to Greek Relief may be sent to Mrs. Walter A. Schmidt, treasurer of the Swarthmore chapter of the American Red Cross, or to the Near East Foundation, 17 West 46 Street, New York City, or to Greek War Relief, 730 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

WOMEN ORGANIZE TO AID NEW HOSPITAL HERE

Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop was hostess to a newly formed Hospitality committee at a luncheon meeting regarding the local Convalescent Annex of the Philadelphia Naval Hospital, on Wednesday at her home on Harvard avenue.

The committee wishes to be a clearing house for the hospital, so that any resident of Swarthmore who desires to entertain the boys who are recovering here, may contact Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop, Swarthmore 0627-J, chairman. In this way the committee will act as intermediary in order to avoid needless confusion in making arrangements with the busy hospital.

Served Firemen Last Week

Among those whose volunteer help added to the contributed services of Mrs. Charles Kurtzbalz and Mr. and Mrs. William Kurtzbalz of The Inglenook made last Thursday evening's delicious banquet of the Fire Company a memorable feast, were: Mrs. William Campbell, Mrs. William Kurtzbalz, Mrs. Dal Jenkins, Betty Gray, Antonica Fairbanks, Esther Gene, Violet Larson, Eudora Sprout, Phyllis Simpson (as waitresses); John Larson, Roland Stratton (bus boys); and Mrs. George Glaeser who set up tables in the afternoon.

Assistant Postmaster

Bessie Deuthwaite of Baltimore, Md. who has been employed at the Swarthmore Post Office for 22 years has been made assistant postmaster here to act until the return of Edward Whitegar from active army service.

Trinity Parish Notes

All young people of the Parish are asked to attend the early service on Sunday morning and to remain for breakfast. All who expect to come are asked to notify Betty Ann Hulms, telephone Swarthmore 0609-W.

The Red Cross sewing group will meet on Tuesday, as usual.

Christian Science Church

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 24. The Golden Text is: "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name" (Psalm 86:11).

Tolles' Forum Speaker

At the Friends' Sunday morning forum, January 24, Frederick B. Tolles, director of the Friends' Historical Library at Swarthmore College, will give the first of a series of four talks on Quakers in Reconstruction and Relief.

Spirit of 1943!

Modern methods, modern efficiency—but the same old flaming spirit of 1776. What else could give men the vitality to produce tanks, guns, planes, armaments in such enormous quantities? What else could enable the railroads of America to handle millions of troops with such precision and smoothness... to haul twice the tonnage of war materials pre-war experts estimated them capable of... to take over the great oil and miscellaneous cargoes of coastwise shipping, and yet keep war transportation rolling? That spirit, as much as mechanical excellence and natural resources, is America's strength. Its "secret weapon". Pennsylvania Railroad is proud to pay tribute to it, and to be a part of it.

"JIM DANDY" AT PLAYERS CLUB

Surrealist Play in Sympathetic Interpretation From Dolman Directed Cast Wins New Saroyan Admirers

The open forum which followed Wednesday night's performance was a generous innovation which answered for a whole year and sent them home eager to see and read more Saroyan. That, this reviewer believes, is no small feat. The Players Club is to be congratulated not only for the superb quality of the production itself but for the vision which backed the two experimental extras Tuesday and Wednesday evening. To Director John Dolman, Jr. and his enthusiastic cast will go an increasing gratitude, not only for their introduction to Saroyan but for a glimpse into the study, research, and feeling which go into a good show.

Barbara Dolman Spencer's settings enjoyed last year give stronger pleasure reason perhaps because there is greater freedom to feel their humor and rightness. Philip R. Whitney's Fishkin is so powerful as to be uncomfortable. Mrs. Spencer's Flora is excellently done. Gretchen Van De Be's dancing fits the beauty of the words into a rhythmic whole. Dr. Dolman's Jim Dandy is beautiful in its simplicity and Stafford Parker's Jim Crow has a strange pathos which comes only with a sincere performance. Paul Campbell's Johnny has grown in the year since his scene with the delightful Little Johnny have a genuine tenderness. Two newcomers Thomas Sweeney as Jack and Thomas H. Luaders as the bewildered Letter Carrier carry out the cast's general excellence. Mrs. Sweeney's dancing is very nice. John Irvin Shaw's reading of the lines last year gave them clearer poetry.

The play continues tonight and tomorrow night at the Forum road show. Seeing it enlarges the theatrical horizon and is well worth the bus trip or the walk or whatever is your favorite method of locomotion these days.

Working for New Mobile Blood Bank

Swarthmore's Legion Women Vote Aid to $2500 Project For Red Cross

At the January session of the American Legion Auxiliary on Monday afternoon a new project, that of raising $2500 by 48,000 Auxiliary members to provide a mobile blood unit for the Red Cross, was announced. All Swarthmoreans are asked to cooperate with the local Auxiliary's share in this project by saving coupons from certain products. These coupons can be cashed in toward the blood unit if given to Mrs. Herbert Bassett of North Chester road or left at the Gilchrist vestibule at 318 Harvard avenue.

Mrs. Harrison Smith, the national Auxiliary's chairman of Pan-American study, addressed Monday's meeting on "Pan-American study" with particular attention to the Japanese problem in Lima.

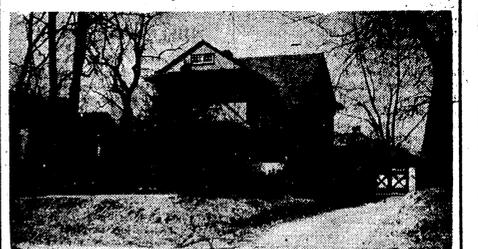

PRESIDENTS WIFE TO SPEAK HERE AGAIN

America's First Lady will make a second visit to Swarthmore on March 18. Mrs. Roosevelt, who spoke here two years ago under the auspices of the International Group at the college, returns under the sponsorship of the Swarthmore Student Union. It is planned to have the address given in Clothier Memorial and is anticipated that, as on her earlier local appearance, any available space not required by faculty and students will be systematically allotted to folks outside the college.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Russell Smith of Elm avenue entertained their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Smith of New York and infant son at their guests last week-end.

Red Cross Home Nursing Class Organizing

A Red Cross class in Home Nursing is being formed to begin its course of 24 hours instruction as soon as its quota of 20 members is enrolled. The importance of the Home Nursing course is everywhere more widely recognized as the war calls more doctors and nurses into the service of their country. Women know that they must learn to keep themselves well, recognize the early symptoms of illness, be prepared to give nursing care to members of their own families, and in an emergency help a neighbor in need. The National Red Cross aims to have at least one woman trained in Home Nursing in every home. The course will continue for six weeks. Since no uniforms and no volunteer hours of graduate service are required, there will be a small fee for the course which is open to every woman. Mrs. M. C. Neal chairman for the Swarthmore Red Cross Home Nursing can be called at Swarthmore 2156J, to enroll.

WHAT ABOUT

ICE CREAM IN WARTIME?

ICE CREAM for many years has been America's favorite dairy food. And nowhere has its traditional goodness been more celebrated than in the area served by your own dairy firm, Supplee.

Now that we are in a total war, everything we buy must be analyzed for its relation to the war effort. Many parts of the food picture have changed almost overnight. So with ice cream.

There may be some who have thought of ice cream as a delicacy, occasional treat or just a fill-in. Today we know it is a vital food. Because ice cream contains, in considerable quantity, butter-fat. And butter-fat, with its unmatched content of vitamin A; as you know, becomes a strategic material in wartime, second almost to the vital metals that make our planes and guns.

FROM the "stockpile" of all the available butter-fat in America, in all of the forms of milk products that contain it, must now come not only the basic requirements of your family and all American families, but all the needs of our enormous, rapidly increasing armies, of our underfed fighting allies, of the helpless people we rescue from the Dictators' sentence of starvation.

January have been cut to one-half of the amount in October, 1942, this is not as severe as it might seem. People eat less ice cream in January than in October, so there will be a substantial amount available.

You can regard this supply of rich, wholesome ice cream as a serious contribution to your family's war diet, both for grand morale effect and for important nutritional values.

For not only does ice cream give you a share of your butter-fat requirements, including precious vitamin A, but its milk solids also contribute much to your daily nutritional needs. You get milk products of high quality, valuable calcium, phosphorus and other minerals, thiamin, riboflavin and other food elements essential to vigorous health.

Even though flavors are necessarily limited, we believe you will find an appealing selection at a convenient store in your neighborhood. We will make regular deliveries of fresh supplies during each week this month. So, if your favorite is occasionally sold out, your dealer will have it again in a day or so. Supplee-Wills-Jones Milk Company.

FLAVOR-OF-THE-MONTH

Supplee Sealed Orange Sherbet Royale is a flavor for gourmets, calculated to make you forget "while it's going down" all of the less perfect facts of existence. Rich, creamy vanilla ice cream laced with sparkling, tangy orange sherbet. Order from your nearest dealer.

Wallingford Musician Announces Four Illustrated Lectures at Woman's Club

Mrs. George T. Ashton, who has given adult courses in music here for several seasons, announces a course of four illustrated music talks for young people.

Mrs. Ashton has had many years of experience as a teacher, pianist and lecturer. She studied piano in both the United States and Europe. She has taught piano and in music schools. Her approach to young people is through narrative, slides and musical illustrations. The subjects she has chosen are adaptable for any age as the music will be stressed through these means.

CUBS STAGING HOBBY DISPLAY

Junior Boy Scouts Open Four-Point Program at January Session Tomorrow

The Swarthmore Cub Pack will hold its monthly pack meeting on Saturday afternoon, January 30, at 1:30 P. M. at the Presbyterian Church. The meeting will be conducted by John C. Moore of Amherst avenue who is the Swarthmore Neighborhood Commissioner and is also acting in the role of Cub Master, and Leroy T. Wolfe chairman of the Cub Pack committee.

The feature of this meeting will be a hobby display by the various Cub Scouts of the Den. The boys have been actively engaged in preparing displays of their various hobbies, which is part of a four-point program which the Cub Pack is following this year. If this four-point program is completed during the year the Swarthmore Cub Pack will be entitled to an appropriate award.

Community Dinner Monday Night Honors Rev. and Mrs. Guenther

The Rev. J. J. Guenther, whose 13-year service as rector of Trinity Church ended January 31, and Mrs. Guenther will be the guests at a community dinner in their honor Monday night, February 1, at 6:30 P. M. in the Presbyterian Church Parish House.

Has War Job

In addition to the local women listed in last week's issue as being engaged in war work is Miss Mildred Bond of Yale avenue who is with the Heppner-Eddy Corporation as an inspector.

Faces Trial for Offense Here

This morning at 11 o'clock in criminal court session at Media the case of William F. Kingston of the Delaware County Trailer Camp, Woodlyn will be tried. Kingston is listed on a public indictment charge for offense committed in Swarthmore on January 5. Accused by several of the junior high school girls who witnessed the offense while walking along the railroad cinder path from school, he was apprehended by local police on the 7th. Upon questioning by Patrolman Ellis Lindsay he confessed and was identified by the students. In default of $500 bail he was committed to the county jail following hearing under Magistrate Morris E. Smith.

Boro Nells Sponsor Junior Navy League

Following in the footsteps of the Philadelphia Navy League Service's recently organized Junior Group, the Swarthmore Branch is sponsoring a local group of girls between the ages of 14 and 18 for much needed volunteer war work.

Defense Council Bulletins

Congratulations to the boys, girls and teachers of the 7th Grade. They did a fine job last week when they picked up two truck loads of processed tin cans. All householders should properly prepare their tin cans and keep them in a dry place until the next collection which will be in about two months from date. Due notice will be given before the next collection.

Consumer Service Bulletin

Everyone is interested in point rationing which will go into effect soon. There will be two colors of stamps, blue for canned and processed foods and red for meats later, according to O.P.A. The letter on the stamp will designate the ration period. The number on the stamp will indicate its point value.

When applying for War Ration Book No. 2 the individual signs a Consumer Declaration form stating exactly the total weight (lbs. and oz.) which is given in each man) of canned and processed foods on hand. Baby foods and cans less than 8 oz. except soups, do not have to be declared. Canned meat-and-salmon are not included in the present rationing set-up.

MANY BRAVE FOG TO HEAR BENGEE

Home and School Lecture on Career Bents Proves Highly Informing

Neither heavy fog nor gas restrictions deterred members of the Home and School Association from gathering in good numbers to hear Eugene J. Bengee, president of Bengee Associates discuss "Choosing your career on the basis of your assets and liabilities" in the High School auditorium Monday evening.

Basing his discussion on the premise that success follows ability plus interest, Mr. Bengee stated his own belief that personality success is more important than financial success and the consequence that complete adjustment to a job always incurs a higher degree of success. In illustration he told of an interview with a man discharged from his position. "What do you enjoy doing?" he was asked. "Grow roses," the man replied. "Then grow roses," he was told and two years later he returned to Mr. Bengee as a changed personality. He was growing his roses and doing it with great success.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. S. Milton Bryant and family are occupying their newly purchased home, the former Marshall farm on South Chester road. Mr. and Mrs. William Webb have moved from Cornell avenue into the Bryant house which they purchased on Dickinson avenue.

Mrs. Thomas Jenkins and her sisters Mrs. J. Campbell Robinson and Miss Eudora Megill will leave Monday to spend three months in Winter Park, Fla. During their absence Mrs. Jenkins' home at 611 Ogden avenue will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Delmuth. The Delmuths have been living in West House on the college campus while the Harold March has been in New England on a semester's sabbatical. Mr. and Mrs. March return February 1.

Mr. Robert C. White son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gary White of Washington, D.C. formerly of the United States Marine Base at San Diego, Cal. with his wife, Lt. and Mrs. White are belatedly honeymooning en route at New Orleans and the Grand Canyon after ten weeks' of housekeeping.

Official word has been received here that Lt. J. G. David Prescott Hall, U.S. N.R. formerly of Benjamin West avenue was wounded by shrapnel in the battle of the Solomon Islands on November 13 while attached to the light cruiser Atlanta which was so badly damaged that it was sunk by our torpedoes the next day, after the removal of her officers, men and wounded. Lt. Hall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Howe Hall who purchased 611 Strath Haven avenue and moved here last September from Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. David Hall and David, Jr. have been living in Coronado, Cal. where they purchased and remodeled a home when they were transferred from Swarthmore last April. Among misfortunes to befall the family since Lt. Hall's departure for foreign duty was the near demolition of this house by fire on Saturday night, January 9, when many valuable pieces of silver including irreplaceable wedding silver were reduced to a molten metal mass.

Mrs. Charles V. Thackara, Jr. and son Pat Francis are in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. where they went early in the year to join Ensign Thackara who is stationed at Port Everglades and live at 840 N.E. 17th Terrace. Virginia Francis is staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Clyde of Swarthmore and Ogden avenues, and finishing school here. The Thackaras' former apartment at Yale and Haverford avenues is now being occupied by Mr. George C. O'Brien and two daughters who came from Packanack Lakes, N.J.

On December 28 Mr. Thomas G. Casey was transferred from the Harrisburg offices of the War Manpower Commission to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, U. S. Department of Justice, in Philadelphia where he has been appointed to the position of Chief Recruiting Placement and Training. This service, which carries on the work of Immigration and Naturalization and Border Patrol, also administers many enemy alien detention stations, such as those located at Hershey, Pa., Gloucester, N.J., and Montreat, N.C.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Casey will live at the home of Mr. Casey's parents Mr. and Mrs. George W. Casey of Harvard avenue.

Miss May I. Groves of Allentown arrived Saturday for a week's visit to Mrs. Ellen Van S. Cleveland of Park avenue. Mrs. Cleveland entertained Wednesday evening at dinner and bridge and will give a luncheon and bridge party today at the Inn for her guest. Among the other parties held for Miss Groves was a dinner at the Inglewood before the Music Club meeting Tuesday evening when the hostesses were Mrs. A. U. Fairbanks and daughter Miss Antonica Fairbanks of Park avenue.

Mrs. Oliver G. Browne of Middletown road, Media will entertain at dessert-bridge tomorrow afternoon for her sister

Miss Mary Kistler of Open Doors, Park avenue whose marriage to Ensign James Harold Conner, U.S.N. will take place on Saturday, February 13. The guests will include Misses Katherine Fussell, Betty Jeanne Pitman, Clara Jean Alston, Alice Redgrave, Mrs. H. Elizabeth Wensink to David Ulrich Ullman son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland G. E. Ullman of Harvard avenue.

Miss Wensink, who spent her freshman and sophomore years at the college, will graduate from the University of Michigan in June while Mr. Ullman will complete his course in Mechanical Engineering at Swarthmore and receive his degree on February 7.

Will Wed Tomorrow
Miss Beatrice Scott daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter J. Scott of Chestnut avenue will be married to Mr. Edward Schmidt, United States Coast Guard son of Mr. and Mrs. August J. Schmidt of Lansdowne, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the St. Philomena's Catholic Church of Lansdowne.

No invitations have been issued but all friends are welcome to attend the ceremony.

Robert Carl Messner, United States Army son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Messner formerly of Chester Heights has been set for Wednesday, February 10, and will be performed at 8:30 P.M. in the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church. Lt. Messner is stationed at the Port of Embarcation, Newport News, Va. where the couple will have an apartment.

Bowditch — Hornsby
Miss Marian Jeanette Hornsby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hornsby of Yorktown, Va., became the bride of Lt. Willis Henry Bowditch, U.S.N.R. son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bowditch, Jr. of Cedar lane, on Saturday, January 23, in the Zion Methodist Episcopal Church in Seaford, Va., at a beautiful candlelight ceremony at 8 o'clock in the evening. The Rev. Mr. Clark, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a Medieval gown of ivory satin with a wreath of pearls around the drop shoulder line. The full skirt which ended in a long train was embellished in sprays of the pearls. Her veil of Duchess Rose Point lace was held in place by a Marie Antoinette headpiece of the same lace. She carried a prayer book holding white orchids.

There were nine bridal attendants including little Jeanette Hornsby, a niece of the bride, who acted as flower girl. Miss Elizabeth Bowditch of Cedar lane, sister of the bridegroom, attended as one of the bridesmaids, all of whom wore gowns of white faille and carried white velvet muffs which held pink camellias. Their headpieces were also of camellias.

Lt. John Bowditch 3rd, of Ft. Belvoir, Va. acted as best man for his brother and another brother, Mr. Robert Shaw Bowditch of Worcester, Mass. was an usher.

Survey of Local Welfare Study

Need of Well Supervised Day Care for Children Cited as Mothers Engage in Industry

Some interesting fact came out of the study group just conducted by Mrs. John Marshall chairman of welfare for the local League of Women Voters and Mrs. S. H. Hemenway welfare chairman of the Woman's Club.

At the opening meeting Mrs. Hobson Jones of the Pennsylvania Charities Association gave a survey of state welfare agencies, stressing the need of establishing a children's bureau as a representative unit of the Department of Welfare. A staff of competent workers should be selected by Civil Service, she claimed, also stating standards in Delaware County are fairly high but in other parts of the state are relatively low. Proper supervision would place Pennsylvania more on a par with states which excel in supervision for children's institutions.

At the second session Eleanor May supervisor of the Department of Welfare of the Children's Aid in Delaware County, a well-run agency with its supervision and placement of children in foster homes. Here foster care has proven worthwhile and many happy and wholesome adjustments have been made for children most of whom are referred to the Children's Aid because of broken homes, partial orphanage, juvenile delinquency due to lack of home supervision. Funds for this agency are granted by the county commissioners. A need for licensing these homes in Pennsylvania and for more uniform state regulations is seen.

Mrs. Hemenway as a member of the Volunteer Committee on Day Care and also of the committee under the O.C.D. was able at the third meeting last week, to tell those present of the work of these committees. Realizing the need for a study of the necessity for more adequate provision of day care, a committee was formed to survey county agencies in regard to health, child welfare and recreational facilities and also as to what they could do in wartime. The various agencies include Children's Aid in Delaware County, Chester Children's Aid, Wallingford Orphanage, Chester Day Nursery and Boarding Home, Wilson Memorial Day Nursery for Colored Children. Most of these were crowded and needed volunteer help varying from assistance with cleaning, planning meals, recreational work, to secretarial duties. Last fall the O.C.D. founded a day care committee with Mrs. William A. Jaquette acting chairman, and started a service of counseling for mothers done by Family Service workers. The committee also interviewed industrialists in regard to the number of women needed in industry. Questionnaires as to the care of the children involved were sent through parent teachers' associations to mothers in defense work.

Out of this study came the realization that this is the third largest defense area in the United States and the great need for day care of children whose mothers are in industry. A class for volunteers to help with day care nurseries is to be started Tuesday, February 23, at 10 A.M. in the Municipal Building at Sixty-ninth street.

Guest Preacher at Colleges

The Rev. David Braun of the Presbyterian Church delivered last week a series of lectures at Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va. during "Religious Emphasis Week" at the Institute. He was the guest preacher Sunday morning in the college chapel, and returned Monday to Swarthmore.

On Sunday, January 17, he was the guest preacher at Hamilton College, Clinton, N.Y.

Sugar, Shortening for Soldier Cookies

Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop of Harvard avenue brings to attention the fact that the plain of Swarthmore women who make cookies for soldiers stationed nearby can get a pound of sugar for this purpose at the Co-op and may also obtain needed shortening there if it becomes a rationed product. On account of the morale boosting nature of this work the Ration Board allows this distribution without coupon.

Mrs. Reginald Harding of Westdale avenue accompanied by her children Peter and Lucy have left for Washington, D.C. where they will live. Mr. Harding is with the British Raw Material Mission in Washington.

Apprentice Cannan and Mrs. Leonard Peck have moved from Park and Dartmouth avenues to 3412 Spring Garden street, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Taylor of South Chester road moved to the Ridley Manor Apartments, Ridley Park, recently.

ONE TOUCH OF NATURE

Near the Horned Grebes swam a powerful but less specialized cousin — a Great-Northern Diver, or simply a Loon. Much has been written about the voice of this bird. Our literary men have allowed their speculations to run freely through the Check-list of North American Metaphors, resulting in a variety of descriptions which embrace all the most depraved moods of humanity. Scientists, on the other hand, can detect only a few loon-emotions in a loon-laugh (even they use the word, "laugh," but in this sense they refer to a type of sound vibration, not to a loon's being amused). It has been proven, for example, that Loons are not crazy. Nor are they noticeably more stupid than many other birds. They make use of their vocalization in fact, much more judiciously than most people do, confining their utterances to mating calls and similar biological needs.

In winter Loons are silent birds. The one in the surf at Newburyport went about its fishing and preening with noisiness order. Only once have I heard a Loon bathing beaches, to our transient discomfort, the lives of ocean-going birds are constantly threatened by the viscous floating material. Should the plumage of a bird be touched in one spot by a glob of oil, it is not long before many of the feathers soak up the entire adherent mass. If the wing feathers are involved, the bird will be unable to fly, and it will surely die a lingering death on the waves. But if only the body plumage becomes saturated, the bird will fly to the nearest shore in hopes of drying out.

The Loon of which I am writing was in the latter condition and had selected

SECURITY

Time was when discussions of a funeral fund were not even given consideration until actual need, but today serious-minded men and women have changed all this and a great sense of security comes to those who have provided for their funeral arrangements in advance.

How are banks serving in the war?

American banking is in the fight on many fronts, four of the most important being: financing of war production and plant expansion, sale of U. S. Defense Bonds and tax notes, cooperation with the government in its control of consumer credit, and collaboration with the Treasury in the control and freezing of alien funds. Not every bank can serve in every way, but all — like ours — are ready and eager to help in every way possible.

MUSICIANS IN SKILLED EVENT

Lively Two-Piano Group, Nicely Varied Song in Pleasant Contrast to Bach, Brahms

Despite the icy haze of walking Tuesday evening's session of the Swarthmore Music Club in the music room of the Samuel D. Clyde home on Swarthmore avenue found a greater number of club members and friends in the audience than is usual.

Mrs. Mildred Spencer Hutchison contributed largely to the entertainment with an opening piano number "Chaconne in D Minor" by Bach-Busoni and by accompanying Mrs. Robert E. Carls in the following contralto solos: "The Snowdrops" and "The Magnolia" by Grell-chamant, "Les Berceuses" by Faure, "Tides of Eurydy" by Mildred S. Hutchison, and "The Fisher's Widow" by Clara Edwards.

Mrs. Spencer also shared with Mrs. Samuel Dyer the appreciation of several two-piano numbers in conclusion: "Soffiegietto" by C. P. E. Bach; "Tambourin" by Gossec (arranged by Elizabeth Gast); "Menuet Antique" and "Dance Nègre" by George F. Hout.

Cyrl Gardner violinist played Brahms' "Sohata in A Major" with Mrs. Clyde at the piano.

An intermission in the program enabled those present to hear first-hand the mysterious news scoop which was announced by radio at that time.

Mrs. Clyde announced that the services of the Music Club had been volunteered for programs at the local Naval Hospital Annex through Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop.

Advocate Marks Time

The Delaware County Advocate established as a weekly nearly a century ago by John Spencer (founder of the Chester printing firm where The Swarthmorean is printed) and five years ago converted into its county-monthly picture magazine by its grandson, John A. Spencer, of Yale avenue, has suspended publication for the duration.

Their typesetters, printer, pressmen, personnel, material, and production time influenced The Advocate's owners to make the decision.

Library Lists Peak Turnover

(Continued from Page One) had been necessary to increase the vacation period from two weeks to four weeks which required a change in the library's summer policy.

The library was kept open two days a week during August by Mrs. Hodge, Miss Barber, Mrs. Franklin S. Gillespie, Mrs. Peter Todd, assisted by two High School girls. The chairman expressed appreciation of this sacrifice of time by the women board members.

She reported also that in July 1942 the board became a charter member of the Delaware County Library Trustees Association. She thanked Mrs. A. M. Lackey for the exhibits of local artists which have brightened the library during the year, Lola B. Green for the continuation of her help to the librarian, and Allan M. Smith of Macrae-Smith for the gift of the original Shoemaker illustrations for Heidi which hang on the library's entrance wall.

Miss Hunter's report disclosed that the circulation broke down into 17,860 volumes; listed a juvenile circulation of 9267; reported the acquiring of "The Junior Natural History Magazine" a long-felt need; and thanked all who had made possible the success of the spring and fall book week celebrations each attended by over 200 children and friends.

Thanks Mrs. Hodge After the report of tellers Mrs. Harold C. Griffin and Mrs. Elliott Richardson which disclosed Charles B. Shaw and Mrs. Henry I. Root elected to the board of trustees, she thanked Mrs. M. Morris Library Board thanked Mrs. Hodge for her 15 years of valuable service to the library.

"Your community will long be grateful to you," she stated, then spoke of the growth of the library under Mr. Froebel's guidance.

Mrs. Franklin S. Gillespie, secretary and John F. Spencer, treasurer presented their reports.

An organization meeting which followed the annual meeting. Mrs. Shaw was named president, S. S. Rutherford was vice-chairman, Mrs. Gillespie secretary, and Mrs. Hoot treasurer.

After a discussion of the 1943 budget, a letter was read by Mr. Rutherford to secure new shelving to relieve the overcrowded sections, the meeting adjourned until February 14. The gift by Oppenheimer, 35 volumes of light fiction published by Macrae-Smith was acknowledged with gratitude and the secretary was instructed to write a letter of acknowledgment.

The Swarthmorean Swarthmore, Pa.

The Swarthmorean has been coming to me for several weeks now and I think it is high time I told you and I think the Swarthmorean's Association what a joy it is to receive it.

Dear Sirs: I have meant to write for some time and through you express my appreciation to all concerned for sending me the Swarthmorean.

It has served as a weekly letter from the community and the doings of the people thereof. I look forward to each issue and enjoyment of reading the news.

With best wishes to all, L. (J.G.) Thomas F. Baird, U.S.N.R.

Appreciates Newspaper I wish to thank you and the Business Association for sending me the copies of The Swarthmorean. As you can imagine, it gives me a great deal of pleasure to read about my friends and neighbors when I'm so far from home and have no prospects of seeing it until my schooling is complete.

As you know I am with the Army Air Forces and am now taking a course in radio operation and mechanics. Thanks a lot for the news of home and perhaps I'll be seeing you soon. R. Boone Dinsmore.

A Breath From the South Dear "Swarthmorean" I am enclosing my check to renew my subscription. While many changes have occurred since I lived in Swarthmore I enjoy keeping in touch with my old home town.

Last Sunday in attendance at our Friends' Meeting were several Swarthmoreans: Mrs. Vincent Pownall, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Walton, J. Russell Hayes and myself.

This apartment at Winter Park, Fla. is four miles from Orlando. We taxied over to attend a lecture by John Martin, L.L.D. on the subject "Winning the War What Has Been Won Up Till Now." After the lecture it was warming to see our old friends Dr. and Mrs. William T. Ellis.

The weather is ideal, like May, and the flowers glowing.

New Year's Greetings, Ann Travilla Speakman

Pauline Beatty who is attending Cedar Crest College, Allentown, spent last week-end visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Beatty of Highland avenue, Morton.

Swarthmore is represented this week-end in the largest group of mid-year graduates in the 75-year history of the University of Illinois by William H. Hay, II of Ogden avenue, a candidate for the degree of Ph.D. in philosophy.

PLAN BOY SCOUT CELEBRATION

Local Troops Arrange Anniversary Program Events for Early February

The Boy Scouts of America, including Cub Scouts, will celebrate the 33rd anniversary of their founding during the week February 6 to 12. Swarthmore boys, their parents, leaders and friends of Scouting, will begin the week by attending in a body, services to be conducted by the Rev. David Baun at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning, February 6, at 11 A.M. Next year the group will attend the Methodist Church and, the following year, will join with the Friends at the Meeting House.

Another highlight of the anniversary week celebration will be a Scout and Cub program to be held at the Presbyterian Church on Friday night, February 12, from 7 to 8:30 P.M. A program has been arranged centering around Swarthmore's Scout troops and the Cub Pack with its three Cub dens and should be of general interest. At the conclusion of this program, refreshments will be served.

The many and varied activities of the Scout organization in Swarthmore are perhaps not entirely known and appreciated. Substantial contributions have been made by a number of citizens who have been devoting time and effort to the program as leaders and as Merit Badge Counselors. The mothers of all Scouts and Cubs also play an important role in providing not only the necessary leadership but individual guidance for this phase of the program. These citizens merit a great deal of credit for the fine accomplishments of the boys during the past year. A cordial invitation is extended to all friends of Scouting and Cubbing to join with the boys and their leaders in the celebration of the 33rd anniversary during the week.

Navy League Meets February 2

The regular monthly meeting of the Navy League Service will be held Tuesday, February 2, at 2 P. M. at the home of Mrs. Donald Crosset, 321 North Swarthmore avenue.

Clubwomen Learn War Uses for Rayon After Seeing Viscose Film

Good entertainment and instructive talks dispelled the dark and rainy weather for club members on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. William E. Bradley of the College department of dramatics gave a very interesting survey of costumes through the ages for the Drama Section.

A talk on "Rayon" by Eleanor Bowers of the American Viscose Corporation followed a film telling the story of the manufacture of rayon yarn which was very timely since only cotton is used more than rayon as a textile today. Miss Bowers displayed lovely materials of various weights and weaves from the rayon yarns. The uses which war production has found for rayon are varied and important. Of special interest were suggestions for the care of garments and furnishings made of rayon.

Mrs. Harold Goodwin reported on current motion pictures after attending the Motion Picture Forum meeting in Philadelphia.

Don Rose Here Tuesday

Don Rose well known lecturer and columnist is the speaker for next Tuesday, February 2, at 1.30. His topic will be "My Own Four Walls" and lantern slides will illustrate it.

New members are welcome to join the club for the remainder of the year if they will call Mrs. Harold G. Griffin.

OPENING DANCE FOR NAVAL PATIENTS HERE

Among the Swarthmore girls who attended the first dance to be held at the new Swarthmore Convalescent Annex of the Philadelphia Naval Hospital on Monday evening of this week were: Joyce Orem, Doreen McConechy, Marion Schatte, Mary Wood, Antonica Fairbanks and Helena Shenkle.

The dance at which 50 girls from this borough and nearby towns entertained 125 patients and members of the local hospital staff, was sponsored by the Red Cross and Gray Ladies of the main hospital in Philadelphia. The Philadelphia Naval Hospital orchestra supplied music and refreshments added to the enjoyment of the two-hour evening of dancing which ended at 10:30 P. M.

Dr. James F. Bogardus of Cornell avenue has been confined to his home with an attack of grippe for several days of this week.

COUNTY CO-CHAIRMAN

Leonard C. Ashton of Elm avenue who is co-chairman of the Central Delaware County Division of the United War Chest, announced last week that Central Delaware County must raise at least $30,000 if the area is to do its fair share toward reaching the War Chest's goal of $7,300,000. The Division includes Swarthmore, Morton, Rutledge, Springfield Township, and Ridley Park.

Mrs. A. Francis Jackson of Park avenue is acting as division co-chairman with Mr. Ashton, and sharing the responsibilities of the job.

Held After Motor Collision

Robert F. Justison of Chester following a head-on collision with John W. Flood of South Chester road at 1 A.M. Sunday was pronounced under the influence of intoxicating liquor by Dr. William Earl Kistler and held under $500 bail for county court by Magistrate Morris E. Smith. Justison was traveling south on Chester road between Harvard and Yale, and Flood's car was headed in the opposite direction. The latter was treated at Chester Hospital for contusions of the left leg and minor lacerations. The following day John, a Westinghouse employee, was x-rayed at the Methodist Hospital with a reported wrenched back. Tom McCormack of Thayer road who was a passenger in the Flood car received a cut forehead.

Local Navy Leaguer Sets City Record

Mrs. Samuel Hanna of Maple avenue, a member of the Swarthmore branch of the Navy League, has received a special letter of commendation from the Treasury Department for her record-breaking sale of $360,000 in War Bonds on a recent Friday when she manned the Union League booth of the Philadelphia Navy League. This is said to be the largest amount to be sold by any individual in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Chester Spencer of Swarthmore avenue entertained 12 guests at dinner and bridge last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Spencer was hostess to the Reading Group at a luncheon meeting on Thursday. The members are continuing reading "Van Loon's Lives" and discussing current events.

HELP THE FIRE COMPANY PROTECT YOUR FAMILY AND HOME

During the past few days you have received the annual notice of dues of the Swarthmore Fire and Protective Association. The Swarthmore Fire and Protective Association is a volunteer organization working for the benefit of our community. Support of the Fire Company is an investment in low Fire Insurance rates. It takes the co-operation of the entire community to maintain these low rates.

If the volunteer firemen are willing to pay $2.00 dues and give their time, day or night, and risk life and limb protecting your property, are you not willing to give $5.00 a year as an associate member in your own interest?

If you do not receive a notice and care to join and contribute leave your membership fee at The Swarthmorean office or mail your check to the
