Recreation Poll to Be Completed Sunday

The Swarthmore Recreation Association Board is taking a poll, Sunday, to determine what recreational program Swarthmoreans desire for their community, and to learn what support townspeople will be willing to give to such a program. A duplicate of the questionnaire distributed today by boys using the Prep School Gym is printed in this paper. You are urged to study the questions before you answer them and to consult with all members of your household, so that a family opinion may be expressed.

The Recreation Board asks you to consider how two communities, comparable to Swarthmore in size, have met their year-round recreational needs. Dalton, Mass., has a Community House situated on a site of one and one-half acres near the center of town. The first floor contains rooms for meetings and clubs, a gymnasium with knock-down bleachers and a portable stage. In the basement is a swimming pool, four bowling alleys, and a club room with pool tables. This building erected in 1923 cost $123,000. On the other hand, Hastings on Hudson supports a year-round program that utilizes existing facilities, athletic fields, playgrounds, two tennis courts, two gymnasiums, a boys' club on the second floor of the fire station and various rooms. Most of the $6000 supplied by a town appropriation is paid out to leaders—a director, an athletic supervisor and a girls' supervisor. Use is made of the county park recreational facilities, nearby points of interest for trips, and the program reaches every age group and in 1938 had 1800 different participants.

MARKLEY GEN'L SALES MANAGER

Former Councilman Advanced by Sun Oil

Appointment of former councilman Frank R. Markley as General Sales Manager of Sun Oil Company has been announced by Samuel B. Eckert, vice president in charge of marketing. Mr. Markley, formerly manager of the company's industrial products department, will serve as assistant to Mr. Eckert in the conduct of all sales activities.

In announcing the appointment Mr. Eckert said "Mr. Markley has had many years of close contact with the refining and development departments in the production of new products, has served as foreign sales manager, and has built up our splendid industrial products department from its inception."

After joining Sun Oil Company as a lubrication engineer in the New York district in 1920, Mr. Markley became New York manager of industrial oil sales, and later special representative in the general sales department in Philadelphia. In 1933 he was appointed general manager of the export department, directing the company's marketing activities throughout the world. During this period he spent a large part of his time in Europe. He speaks both French and German. In 1937 he was recalled to the United States to organize the industrial products department.

Judd Urges Consistent U.S. Policy to Avert Disaster

Minnesota Congressman's Plea for Full Understanding of Chinese Is Clue for Peace

Elect Mrs. Dickinson Chairman Red Cross

Mrs. Walter H. Dickinson was elected chairman of the Swarthmore Branch of the American Red Cross at the annual meeting Friday morning, January 25. Mrs. Dickinson succeeds Mrs. Sewell W. Hodge, whose able guidance led the branch through the critical war period.

Mrs. Howard W. Newnam was named vice chairman; Mrs. C. MacDonald Swan, secretary, and Mrs. Fred R. Wilson, treasurer.

Directors named to three-year terms were Mrs. Francis V. Warren, Mrs. George M. Allen and Mrs. Walter F. Reese. Elected for two-year terms were Directors Elric S. Sproat and Sylvester Koelle. Dr. Harold Roxby and Mrs. John F. Daley were chosen to serve as directors for one year.

The United States must begin at once to maintain a firm and consistent policy in China, if we are to prevent explosion and disaster in Asia, Dr. Walter Judd, Representative from Minnesota told an audience of nearly 500 at the High School Auditorium on Tuesday.

Such a policy, he continued, is dictated not by sentiment for the Chinese, but by the hard practical consideration of our own national security and the world's peace.

If we withdraw now from the Asiatic situation, Dr. Judd warned, one of three things will happen; (1) China will go back to colonial status with a subsequent rebellion of all Asia against the European empire makers; (2) Japan's scheme of "Asia for the Asiatics" will be revived under new leadership with the colored peoples of the world rising as a block; or (3) Asia will go Communist. This last would have wide repercussions, for so long as Asia leans toward democracy, the preponderance of world influence is with the democrats, but if Asia joins with the Communists, there will be a balance of power between Communism and democracy with the inevitable antagonisms and final building of defences against Russia.

Partnership Ideal

Although the aim of the Chinese Communists is the conquest of all Asia, Dr. Judd said that the Chinese are so opposed to Communist philosophy that they would never embrace it by choice. "You could as easily persuade Herbert Hoover and Winston Churchill to become Communists," he said, "as you could persuade the land-owning Chinese (and most of them own some land, however little) to give up what they own and throw it into a common lot as the Communists would have them do."

The speaker warned that the Communist plan in China, however, is to encourage capitalism at this time, so that the people will become stratified. Later they hope to take over the lower and unemployed classes. Nevertheless, the present Communist group in China is so small that its purposes can be thwarted, Dr. Judd pointed out, if the United States can keep its hand in affairs there and work out a true partnership with China as we did with the Philippines.

Concerning our relations with Russia he said; "I do not subscribe to the idea that we have only two alternatives—to go to war with Russia or to appease her. Russia's attitude, I think, is well expressed by a remark made to me by a young Russian in this country when I once protested about Russia's behaviour. He said 'We never take any seats that aren't empty. But if the seat is empty and we take it, don't try to push us out.' Now are we going to take the empty seat in China? If we don't and Russia takes it no one can criticize her. But if we are firm and stop changing our minds so often in foreign affairs, Russia won't quarrel with us simply to back a little derelict bunch of Chinese Communists."

"On matters of foreign policy, we have been acting like an adolescent boy," Mr. Judd remarked, "We say, 'What will England say?' or 'What will Russia say?' Why don't we stand up and say what the United States will say? We have been the great question mark in foreign affairs. People don't need to ask where our foreign policy is going, they don't even know where it has been. It is time we acted with maturity on foreign affairs."

The speaker bitterly assailed the inconsistency of our foreign policy (Continued on Page 8)

RIFLEMEN WIN

On Wednesday, January 23, the Swarthmore Rifle and Pistol Club defeated the Chestnut Hill Rifle Club on the latter's range by the very close score of 1354 to 1351. Although the local club had beaten the Chestnut Hill group previously by a topheavy score, when the standing position was eliminated for this match the teams were much more nearly equal. The course of fire consisted of 10 shots each in the prone, sitting, and kneeling positions. Due to the closeness of the scores, the match provided thrilling suspense, for the issue was in doubt until the last shot was fired. The last man on Swarthmore's last relay, Bill Hale of Chester, needed to make a score of 266 to win. Conversation dropped to whispers as each shot was matched, with every effort being made to keep him from knowing the score, since under match pressure "Duck Fever" is more common on the rifle range than when hunting. However, Bill came through in good shape, scoring a 268, two points more than the winning minimum.

The individual record scores are given below.

YOU DECIDE FROM THE FACTS

Whether Higher Transit Wages Are Possible

The Transport Workers Union (CIO) is demanding from PTC a general wage increase of $2-a-day. This, together with the Union's 28 other demands, would cost the Company $15,000,000 a year. During the past two years our employes have received wage increases totalling $4,700,000 annually. On January 9, 1946, after a series of collective bargaining discussions, the Company advised the Union, and explained to the public in a statement reproduced below, that any further wage increase is impossible at the present level of transit revenues.

1945, the Company's peak year, produced total revenues of	$57,620,000
Here is where the $57,620,000 went:
To employes—for wages, uniforms, pensions, sick benefits, bonus and life insurance	$31,330,000	54½c
To pay for electric power, gasoline, materials and other operating expenses	10,940,000	19c
To National, State and City Governments—for taxes	4,500,000	7¾c
To City of Philadelphia and Delaware River Joint Commission—for rental of subway-elevated lines	3,310,000	5¾c
To replace worn-out cars and buses and other equipment	3,160,000	5½c
To pay interest on money borrowed (bonded debt)	2,880,000	5c
Left over after expenses and available for dividends on Company's 1,466,000 shares of stock owned by 40,000 men and women	1,500,000	2½c

It must be plain to anyone from the above table that, under our present revenues, a general wage increase is simply impossible.

The Union has demanded that the Company use its reserves to pay wages that cannot be met from current earnings. The reserves which the Company has built up to make good the wear and tear of war and to resume its modernization program calling for 870 new cars and buses, cannot and must not be diverted from that purpose.

The Company's first duty is to the Public—to maintain service. We are continuing negotiations over a number of the Union's demands which do not involve a general wage increase. We accept the participation of the State Government in continuing efforts to help solve this transit problem.

We are fully conscious of the disastrous effect of a transit strike upon the citizens and the industries of Philadelphia and we will continue to do everything within our power and ability to prevent that catastrophe.

Our Public Statement of January 9, 1946

PTC has been confronted with 29 separate demands by the Transport Workers Union (CIO), ranging from a demand for a $2-a-day wage increase to free transportation for employes' wives. Meeting the demands of the Union would increase the cost of operation by $15,000,000 a year—10 times the Company's earnings in the peak year of 1945. To obtain this staggering sum, gross revenues 27% greater than last year would be required.

The Union's demands would wreck the Company's modernization program, undermine vital postwar transit service, and bring Philadelphia face to face with the immediate need for greatly increased fares.

During the past two years PTC has given the Union wage increases and adjustments totalling $4,700,000 annually.

Total wages on the system have climbed from $16,900,000 in 1940 to $31,000,000 in 1945. Since January 1941 average hourly earnings and allowances of PTC employes, including overtime and vacation pay, have increased 40%. Average weekly pay has increased by 49%—from $34.58 to $51.46.

The work of transit employes will become less exacting as wartime tempo gives place to a normal pattern of employment and travel. At the same time the Company's revenues will be reduced. In the face of such facts, the Union's demands are as unjustified as they are impossible of fulfillment.

Because nothing is more important to the Company than serving the public, PTC is anxious to continue its efforts to reach an agreement with the Union, based on the dollars-and-cents realities of Philadelphia's transit pocketbook.

SCHOOL NEWS

REMEMBER TRUMPH Coach George Reimer bowed out of the position of Swarthmore High School Basketball Coach with an overwhelming 50-29 victory over a weak Ridley Park Squad last Friday on the loser's floor.

The victors took the lead in the early minutes of the contest as "Goose" Goslin dunked in a pivot shot from the center spot, closely followed by a two-pointer by Calvert Melton when he intercepted a Ridley pass and laid up a nice shot. Although the Garnet led by only a slight 21-16 margin at half-time, in the third period, Harold

"Reds" Barr added 8 points to his teammates 12, to outscore the Parkers 20-2 and put the game safely in the win column. High scorer for both teams was Barr, who, after being bedridden all week, scored 7 goals from the floor, plus 2 free tosses for a total of 16 points. Clint Goslin scored 10 markers, while Stevenson was group for Ridley Park with 9 points. Melton, starting his first game, played well, sparking the SHS five on the defense. Andy Kirk also played a sparkling game from his guard post. Barry Patton and Bill Huey led the JV's to a thrilling 25-25 win over Ridley's reserves.

Citizenry Will Reveal Opinion

The Recreation Board asks you to decide whether Swarthmore needs a Community House that would be a focal point for the celebration of holidays (Halloween and the Fourth of July parades, Christmas festivities), for the practice of hobbies, crafts, music, dancing, sports, for lectures, movies, exhibitions, and for meeting rooms and work rooms of various organizations? Does it need a center to provide recreational facilities for children, teen-agers, the young working men and women and the older members of the town? Such a Community House would necessarily have to provide leadership—imagination, trained leadership to plan an overall program and to coordinate the periodic efforts which crop up from time to time, but die out for lack of permanent leadership. Volunteer leadership would be made far more effective and Swarthmore has infinite possibilities in a variety of talented volunteer leadership—in nobles, sports, music, art.

Last year the Recreation Association consulted with possible leaders for the proposed reconversion of the "Prep Gym" as a community center. A plan submitted included for boys and girls after school and Saturdays: bowling, wrestling, tumbling, boxing, pool, quiet table games, ping pong, in-door horse shoes, basket ball, volleyball, badminton, shuffle board, square dancing; and on Friday and Saturday evenings, dancing, movies, exhibition matches, as well as bowling and the other games. This plan was restricted by the building already in existence, and the board felt it unwise to spend a large sum of money on a building which does not belong to the borough.

A new building and program could be constructed, supplying the particular needs and desires of this community. The Women's Club, the Players' Club, the Library, the Rifle Club and High School have excellent facilities which need not be duplicated unless duplication is desirable.

Any type of program and plant must be an answer to the needs of a community, and the question the Recreation Association wishes you to answer through this poll is, — What are Swarthmore's needs? A member of the Swarthmore Recreation Association will call Swarthmore tomorrow to collect the questionnaires.

HEADS BURGI AGAIN Swarthmore's Burgess John H. Pitman was re-elected president of the Delaware County Association of Burgesses at its annual meeting held in East Lansdowne Borough Hall. Other officers named were vice-president Charles W. Spedel, Burgess of East Lansdowne; and secretary-treasurer Benjamin F. Moore, ex-burgess of Prospect Park.

H. B. Fletcher, special agent in charge of the Philadelphia office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, addressed the burgis on methods of cooperation of local police forces and the F. B. I. in handling cases of stolen cars, bad checks and people who had left the state to avoid prosecution for offenses. The talk was particularly timely since many of the 50 burgesses and councilmen present were serving for the first time.

Mr. Fletcher also told of various methods of decreasing juvenile delinquency cases which are not a police problem but a social problem of the whole community. He stated methods found highly successful in some communities were great value in others, and that the only real method was to determine from the young people what they desire and not try to force a program upon them.

Richard A. Lappe, Third Mate officer in the Merchant Marine is on his way from the west coast and is due to arrive today at his home on Yale Avenue. Lieutenant Colonel and family are back at their home on Michigan Avenue after having lived in Alexandria Va. while Colonel Bogardus was with the Engineering Board at Fort Belvoir. He has been discharged from the service and returned to his work with Scott Paper Company, Chester where he is an engineer in the development department. Joyce is a student in the second grade Rutgers Avenue school. Jane, three and a half, was born after the family left Swarthmore.

VARIETY REIGNS IN RECREATION POLL

Returns Completed 90%, Urge All to File Now

Herman M. Bloom, president of the Swarthmore Recreation Association, reports highly interesting results to the Association's questionnaire circulated last week-end.

There were those who favored a borough recreation building but were not willing to pay for it through increased taxation or contribution.

It merely wants to further what-over project local residents desire, and is not personally interested in whether the present program is enlarged and a building constructed or whether all recreation outside of that provided by schools and other borough organizations be dropped entirely.

In fact, if results of the survey, in final tabulation, expected next week, show that the majority of residents do not favor summer recreation as heretofore provided, that program may be dropped.

There are still about 10 per cent of the questionnaires out. Those who have not returned theirs as yet are urged to fill out the blanks and get them into the mail this week-end.

His subject is of vital interest to all parents, who are cordially invited to attend.

Second Lieutenant Rex I. Gary, Jr., stationed in Japan with the Army Air Forces for the past three months, is playing on one of the organized basketball teams of the A.A.F., which are touring the country.

Capt. Guenther Froebel, Jr., recently received his promotion and is assigned commanding officer of the 14th Ordnance Bomb Disposal Squad, Seventh Army, and of the Allendorf Ammunition Depot, captured enemy material, Germany.

CHARLES HIRST PASSES AWAY

Charles E. Hirst of 1 Park avenue passed away on January 30 after an illness of 15 weeks. He was 61 years old and had been a resident of Swarthmore for 57 years.

BLACKFRIAR'S IN PLAY TOMORROW

Charles Keenen Has Lead in Annual Production

After seeing the matinee performance of the Blackfriars' play, "Beat Foot Forward," one can well say that Hofmann has done it again! The evening performance for this production will be held in the high school auditorium at 8:30 P. M. tomorrow night.

Carrying the main role of Bud Hooper is Charles Keenen, who has had considerable acting experience at the Players Club, but is a new member of the Blackfriars'. In the supporting cast are Corbett Ack- bold as Hank Hoyt and Bill Huey as Dutch Miller, roommates of Bud Hooper at Winsock. Bob Thor- bahn as their pal, Chuck "Greenie" Green, is very amusing. His blind date is played by Jean Gavetti, who meets him at the annual Win- sock dance.

"My dear Mrs. Bishop:—

"I wear a patent at the Convent home for a period of three months. During this time I was quite pleased to find a Cookie Jar, which was always filled with cookies, that only mother's know how to bake. To many people this may seem a very small item, but around 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. we sure would have missed those good homemade cookies."

"What I really am trying to say is thanks a million. We really have appreciated the time, money and effort put into the baking of the cookies. I am sure that patients coming there in the future will find the Cookie Jar always filled with 'Mom's' own cookies."

"Sincerely yours,
William C. Spanglu, Y 2/c

THOU SHALT NOT KILL!

When those sacred words become the safety motto of every driver—traffic tragedies will end.
And the toll steadily is mounting
Thousands of people sacrificed to bad driving judgment. Recklessness. The mania to get "there" fast. That extra drink or two. Driving a car not fit to operate.

ON TERMINAL LEAVE
Major Samuel D. Clyde, Jr., who has been serving with the American Division in Japan since September 8, has joined his wife and young son Samuel D. Clyde, 3rd, at their home, Heatherhold, Wallingford, City.

Then there will be no haunting memories of sudden, horrible, needless death or injury. No anguish and remorse that traffic tragedies bring. Grief is just one of two penalties you shall pay if you are at fault.

Dear Editor:
First I want to express my thanks to all who made the delivery of the Swarthmorean possible.

Government protection
The other penalty will be prosecution to the full extent of our state laws. Your state government will protect 10,000,000 Pennsylvanians. If you disobey traffic rules... if you are at fault in an accident... you face the loss of your driving license... heavy fines... jail sentences. Pennsylvania will not relax in this effort to conserve the lives of our citizens. Our laws are on the side of that sacred commandment—THOU SHALT NOT KILL! ARE YOU?

General Bradley of the Veteran's Bureau has already met with executives of the life insurance companies for advice on how your G. I. insurance can be changed to better meet your needs. We feel that it will be only a short time before lump sum payments, endowments and the other features you wish will be available.

Should you wish further information—I shall be glad to send you a booklet of FACTS concerning your National Service Life Insurance that will enable you to make an intelligent decision.

GIVE ME HEALTH AND A DAY

Give me health and a day and I will make the pomp of emperors ridiculous was Ralph Waldo Emerson's terse but eloquent opinion of the value of health.

The vibrant, glowing health of which he speaks is seldom an accident of birth. Its price is constant vigilance, with proper regard for rest, fresh air, exercise, and diet.

At the first sign of illness see your family physician. He is your skillful and never-failing ally in the preservation of health. If, in his judgment, medication is needed, bring your prescription to us.

L.W.V. VIEWS NEW PENAL PROSPECTS

Dr. Robinson Heard by Local Women Wednesday

Dr. Louis N. Robinson, former chairman of the State Board of Parole, speaking at the meeting of the Swarthmore League of Women Voters held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Raymond Donworth on Elm avenue, opened his talk by recalling the often-quoted remark of the late Dr. Jesse Holmes, who used to say, "If it was new it wasn't true; if it was true it wasn't new," which might also apply to remarks about jails and their problems.

or it seems that with criminals, as with fingerprints, there are no two alike. They range from morons to high I. Q. men; from insanity to super-normal consciousness; from the emotionally unstable to the completely rational.

"Looking at them," says Dr. Robinson, "you wonder whether they are in prison because of heredity or environment. Many you can tell about immediately, but there are many it is impossible to decide about.

But it seems there is no "typical criminal." If there were such a man the matter of punishment would be less complicated. Always there has been the effort to fit the punishment to the crime. Only the crime was considered, both in earlier times and now.

According to Dr. Robinson, "This has been the prevailing theory for punishing criminals, and this is what we're trying to get away from. In the study of newer methods the theory is to make the punishment fit the criminal, rather than fit the crime. The reason for this is that you are dealing with an infinite variety of people, not fitting a punishment to just one type of person.

"Two reasons for slow progress in using this newer method are: first, that we are conditioned to the earlier one, and second, the sheer mechanical difficulty involved in the working out of the newer method, as care of the variety of cases involved takes more costly machinery and more intelligent personnel.

"The Warden of Eastern Penitentiary has been made chairman of a committee working on this idea. The first problem of the Stanley Ashe Committee was to sort out categories of criminals such as those easy to handle, or difficult. Then to find the various reasons why this is so, with each person. The attempt is made to classify men in prison according to whether they will run away or freedom, rather than classify according to how dangerous a man is.

"Through such classifying you can begin to cut down the cost of institutions. Fewer heavily barred, expensively built institutions are needed, as by this method fewer men are found who must be held behind bars. More medium security prisons can be used, with fewer maximum security prisons. This classification makes possible larger numbers of men given a greater degree of freedom.

Dr. Robinson wound up this talk by adding that this newer method of trying to fit the punishment to the man, not to the crime, is also a method of trying to deal with what the man is, rather than what he has done.

WOOD HONORED AT RIFLE CLUB MEET

Sadler Cites Value Club Course for Inductees

The Swarthmore Rifle and Pistol Club held its regular meeting Thursday, February 14, at the Club Range. Special feature of the evening was the presentation of War Service Awards to those of the members who had served as instructors in the pre-induction marksmanship training course sponsored by the Club.

In recognition of these services, the National Rifle Association, with which the Club is affiliated, supplied insignias which were presented to nine of the members, awards signifying outstanding merit were presented to R. Ruthenford, K.C. Sadler and F. E. Day. Other awards were made to J. Blackman, R. Engle, B. Kneeder, F. N. Landon, and A. Schoff.

In recognition of his services in organizing the Club, obtaining its first range, and untiring efforts in constructing and improving the Club's shooting facilities, an award of outstanding merit was made to A. C. Wood.

The Club also received a Certificate with 10 stars, each representing an instruction unit, as a record of the group's part in the pre-induction training program.

The awards were made by J. R. Sadler, who has recently been released from the Armed Services. He pointed out the advantage of having some previous rifle training, since 98% of the inductees were unfamiliar with rifle marksmanship, and basic training schedules provide very little time to remedy the lack of skill. Mr. Sadler reported that his basic training included only 30 shots with the 30 caliber rifle, after which he was supposed to be ready for overseas service. In contrast, during the course sponsored by the club, about 200 shots were fired by each student.
