MICHAELS BEGIN SHOP RENOVATION ExtensiveRemodeling

Proceeds at Drug Store

The first postwar remodeling project in Swarthmore's business district was started this week by Michael's College Pharmacy.

Now under construction at "the corner druggie" facing the railroad station is an Acousti-Celotex ceiling designed to absorb sound and alleviate to a great extent the noise at the various busy times of the day. This is only one of the many new features which will contribute to the shopping pleasure of the store's patrons and to the enjoyment of those who pause there for refreshment.

The installation of complete new fixtures will include new booths in the smaller section of the store and arrangement of fixtures which enable a better display of goods in the main section.

Those boroughites who find the Philadelphia area humidity oppressive will be hieing to Michael's for longer siestas when they hear about the cooling system which pumps fresh air through the store every three minutes and keeps it continually comfortable.

Completing the "ceiling to floor" improvement a whole new floor will be laid as a final remodeling gesture.

Seek Memorial The Swarthmore Post War Service Committee will meet at 7:30 next Tuesday evening. The commit_ tee is anxious to have all veterans of World War II attend and express their views on the type of memorial to be erected in honor of those men and women of Swarthmore who gave their lives.

'To date the ideas suggested include: adoption of a town in France and care of all kiddles in that town; erection of a recreational building to be used by Swarthmoreans; outdoor swimming pool.

The Recreation program for younger children is in full swing at Rutgers avenue. Favorite activities among three-year-olds are climbing on the "Merry Play," playing in the House-keeping Corner, and riding tricycles, pulling wagons, etc. A road of blocks has been built across the room to the fountain. Rhythm favorites are "jumping," "parade," and "boats."

The four-year-olds are finding the big recreation room a wonderful place for dramatic plays, music, blocks, and arts. The high spot so far was popcorn making on a rainy day. Another memorable day was a picnic and swimming in Rose Valley Pool.

The five and six-year-olds are

Services, were conducted here at 2:30, Tuesday afternoon, for Mrs. Maria Heyburn Marshall, widow of Henry Cooper Marshall, who died at her home on South Chester road Sunday night, June 30.

Changes

Mrs. Marshall was born in Birmingham Township, Delaware County, in 1859, the daughter of the late John Brinton Heyburn and Sarah Gilpin Heyburn. She and her husband came to Swarthmore in 1912 to make their home at Youlgrave on South Chester road. Eight years ago Mrs. Marshall removed to the residence at 312 South Chester road.

She is survived by four grandchildren, David Ham Marshall of Louisville, Ky., ' Mrs. Malcolm David West Irving of London, England, Mrs. Allan Hunter, Jr., of Bryn Mawr, and Miss Marianna Chapin Marshall of Philadelphia, and by a great grandson Alan Maurice Marshall Irving.

The Rev. William J. Alberts, Rector of Christ Church, Media, officated at the services at . Mrs. the Burial Ground of the Birmingham Friends Meeting.

Clamp Prices Here Robert Honeyford, president of the Swarthmore Business Association, in a statement to The Swarthmorean announces that local merchants have pledged cooperation in President 'Truman's effort to keep prices down. Although in some branches town business folk have been forced to increase charges to patrons by rising costs during the war years, a number have steadfastly refused to move them up even at an economic setback themselves.

The town is now determined to do whatever is in its power locally to confine prices to their present level as long as it is possible.

PHOSPHORUS SETS SCHOOL AFIRE Luckily Chemical's Bark Is Worse Than Bite

The lesson of "an irresistible force meeting an immovable body" would have been illustrated most explosively to local high school students had classes been in session on Monday of this week. As it was, scholars recessing on sum-Marsball's home. Interment was in mer vacation also missed the opportunity to put their fire drills into real action at the scene of the spontaneous combustion.

At about 3 o'clock in the afternoon phosphorus in a cabinet in the school's chemistry store room ignited undetermined gases existing in the room, blowing out a Club. window with a loud noise and shaking the entire building. Phosphorus fires are extremely difficult to control but the Borough Fire Company chipped out the storage cabinet and kept the blaze check_ ed while of necessity, allowing it to burn out. Used to make smoke bombs phosphorus lacks combatative agents. Although dense smoke traveled 306 North Chester road into an through the whole building actual Memorial services were conducted Wednesday night in the Presbyterian Church by Dr. David Braun for Mrs. Frank R. Morey who died suddenly at her home on Yale avenue, Tuesday morning. The President of the Woman's Club of Swarthmore, she had completed one year of a two year term of of_ fice. During her faithful administration the club had reached peak membership and activity.

Born Edith Swan in Buffalo. N. Y., Mrs. Morey graduated from 'Teacher's College, Columbia University, and remained there to teach. She maintained a deep interest in nutritional problems and studies throughout her life. Sae came to Swarthmore 16 years ago when her husband was appointed Supervising Principal of the Swarthmore Public Schools from Camp Hill, Pa. Her interest and friendliness have been generously spent in the community.

Mrs. Morey was a member of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church active in its Church School and in its Women's Association in which she had just ended two years as corresponding secretary. She was the Historian of the American Legion Auxiliary and had served that organization in many other capacities. She was a former officer of the Swarthmore Music

RESERVE HERE Wallingford Man Is C. O. of New Local Unit

Commander William H. Collins. USNR, of Brookside road, Wallingford, temporary commanding officer of Division 11 (organized Naval Reserve) under appointment of Vice Admiral J. L. Kauffman, a good time at College Avenue USN commandant of the Fourth Naval District, announces the results of the unit's activation meeting held Monday evening in the Legion Room, Borough Hall.

A selection board of six officers sat from 7:30 until 10 o'clock to interview Naval Reserve Lieutenants (junior and senior grade) and ensigns, not over 35 years of age, and within the D. DE, C. E, SC, DET, MC, C or suffix R, X, or N classifications. A recommendation for the Division 11 staff was made to Admiral Kauffman and will be announced upon his approval.

Monday's session followed one ten days earlier in Chester and two held at Collins' home last week by senior Reserve officers of the area to review papers of interested junior officers and preliminary screenings.

Commander Collins told The Swarthmorean reporter the Division is happily reflecting the possibility of using the Mary Lyon School gym as an armory.

The primary group is making a Betsy Ross flag. The boys are specializing in carpentry work. The girls are experimenting with color and design in preparation for stamping material.

About 60 children are having School: Because of rain they are square dancing, playing checkers and games in the gym.

Down at the Heel

Swarthmore was in the grip of a unique epidemic in June. One that required no quarantining of the patients but automatically placed strong restrictions on their activities, the incidence of broken heels in this community was prob_ ably never before paralelled.

Dr. George P. Warren, of S. Chester road, is on crutches with the injury he sustained in a 10 to 12 foot fall when the support broke while he was helping to repair the backstop for the boys' baseball team.

Donald W. Poole, of Swarthmore avenue, damaged his foot while engaging in the "harmless" sport of golf.

Dr. Winthrop R. Wright, of Whittier place, spent several days in a hospital and 'underwent an operation for the heel break he sustained in a fall from the trap Police in the Philipines for a year, ladder of his attic as he was packhas received his discharge and has joined his family on North ing for the family's annual vacation in New Hampshire.

MANOA, IN MUD Friday's 13-7 Score Is Season's 7th Victory

Playing on a rain soaked field that made ball handling next to impossible, the Swarthmore Hornets trimmed the league-leading Manoa nine last Friday evening to chalk up their seventh victory of wan, Dick Jones, and Bob Morethe season. The score was 13_7. Wet grass and muddy basepaths prevented both teams from putting on their best performance and were responsible for most of Manoa's nine and Swarthmore's four vard avenue entertained Wedneserrors.

The localities took a one-run in the first when Dana Swan singled and drove in George Swan from third. Three more tallies were added in the second on three successive hits by Streeter, Bradford and Bird, supplemented by an error and a base on balls. The fifth run was scored in the third frame on Bullock's safety, two stolen bases and a wild throw at the plate.

There's Security in a Job with Bell Telephone

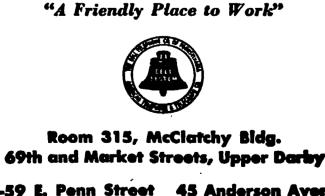

When you start your business career with the telephone company, you are secure in the knowledge that even though circumstances may make it necessary for you to move away some day, there will usually be a job waiting for you with the telephone company near your new home.

This security is but one of the many advantages that go with a Bell job. Wages are good right from the start, and a regular system of frequent raises makes rapid advancement certain. Bell pays particular attention to clean, light offices and quiet, well-furnished rest rooms-the "little" things that make working more pleasant. Friendly supervisors help you get ahead as fast as your ability permits. Sickness and accident benefits, a modern medical department, recreational programs, vacations and holidays with pay, and a liberal pension plan are some of the other reasons why a job with Bell is a good bet for any young girl.

Some jobs provide many leisure daytime hours—a feature especially attractive to girls who have household duties or who like to be out of doors in the daytime.

Friendly interviewers at any of the offices listed below will be glad to discuss these opportunities with you in greater detail. They are trained to help you make the best possible start on your career. Arrange such an interview soon.

THE SWARTHMOREAN

Is Season's 7th Victory

Playing on a rain soaked field that made ball handling next to impossible, the Swarthmore Hornets trimmed the league-leading Manoa nine last Friday evening to chalk up their seventh victory of the season. The score was 13_7. Wet grass and muddy basepaths prevented both teams from putting on their best performance and were responsible for most of Manoa's nine and Swarthmore's four errors. The localities took a one-run in the first when Dana Swan singled and drove in George Swan from third. Three more tallies were added in the second on three successive hits by Streeter, Bradford and Bird, supplemented by an error and a base on balls. The fifth run was scored in the third frame on Bullock's safety, two stolen bases and a wild throw at the plate.

In the meantime, Thorbahn's steady pitching held Manoa to one run in the first, one in the third, Mr. George Blessing of Rose Valbut in the fifth they added three ley drove to Brooklyn, N. When Telephone Traffic is

HEAVIEST

These days, traffic is heavy most of the time at the telephone central office. It seems, however, that traffic is heaviest from 6 to 8 in the evening and from 9 to 11 in the morning. At these peak hours particularly, it's cometimes impossible for the operator to answer your signal without a slight delay.

We hope you'll understand. And we assure you that this situation is only temporary. New facilities, now on order, will make your service better than ever. Thank

Glendale Project Has Enlarged Scope, Uses

Situated at Knowles Avenue and MacDade Boulevard in Glenolden the Glendale Child Care Center, formerly a government project operating on federal funds, is now under the Delaware County Child Care Association on funds appropriated by the Philadelphia Community Chest and is open to all county children from two to 12 years of age, who need some supplement to home care.

Mrs. Charles S. Paul, former director of the Institute Nursery School in Philadelphia and the Child Study School of Louisville, Ky.; was appointed director when the County Association took over the administration of the center on July 1. When the war ended and federal funds were withdrawn, parents using the center had such great need for its service that they formed the Glendale Nursery Association and operated it themselves for a while. This system was too expensive and members also lacked the time to give the center the kind of supervision they wished, since they were all working parents.

Through an appropriation by the Community Chest. a Red Feather Service, the association hopes not only to continue work kept going by these earnest and enthusiastic parents, but to broaden its scope so that it may serve more people in more ways.

The reasons for supplementary care are many and varied. Both parents may work: homes broken for various reasons often meansthat one parent needs assistance: there may be no children of the child's own age in his immediate vicinity: a child may present a problem which can be worked out with the group; the shy child who needs the contact of his contemporaries under an understanding adult. All these are situations where the center can be of help and service.

All parents wishing to use the center first discuss the situation with the director and plans are made with the parents for a program at the center and at home which will be most helpful for that particular child. In the summer, a play and craft program is carried on for the older children for the entire day. In the winter, school age children are cared for before school in the morning and after school in the afternoon The school is open from seven in the morning to six o'clock in the evening. This is to accommodate people who need to use the center at various hours. It is not advocated that children stay at the center for such long hours.

The charge is calculated on a sliding scale according to the in come of the parents. The day's activities include opportunity for both group participation and individual development.

A large playroom and playground provide ample space for the children to partake in both free and directed play. The group children are grouped for play according to their stages of development. Periods for hand work, music and stories are provided. A large covered porch on the side of the building makes an ideal spot for these activities.

"When I graduated from High School I was certain of one thing: When I wanted to work. So I applied for my first job at The Bell Telephone Company. I had heard that Bell paid good wages right from the start, even while you were in training . . . and that a system of regular raises would make advancement rapid and certain.

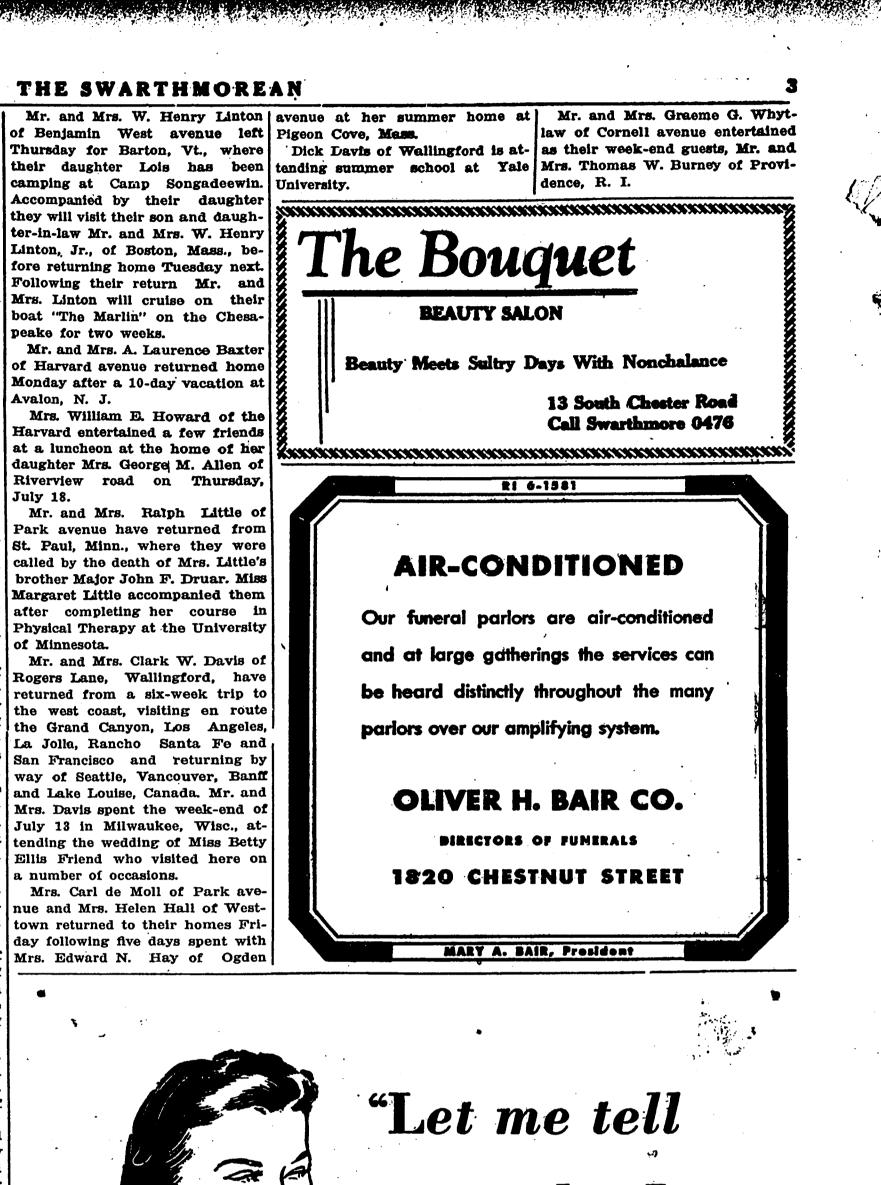

"Perhaps my ideals were high, but there were other things I wanted from my job besides good money. I wanted to be able to like the people I worked for. I wanted to get started with a company I could stick with because I knew I could get ahead faster than if I changed from one company to another every few years. I wanted to work for a company that looked upon me as a person rather than as just another employee-a company that had a plan for my present welfare and my future, too.

"Those were some of the reasons I picked Bell for my first job. After I came here, I found lots of other reasons, just as important, for staying. I like my work. I like the people I work with. I'm making headway. My future is secure. Won't you join me? At least come in and talk it over with me at one of the employment offices listed below."
