SWARTHMORE H. S. BASKETBALL TEAM FINISHES SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Swarthmore has many things to be proud of, one of them being the Swarthmore High School basketball team, which won the championship of the newly organized Delaware County High School Basketball League. The league included Swarthmore, Morton, Lansdowne, Darby and Chester High Schools.

The local quintet won 6 out of its 8 games, having an average of 75.0 on the whole schedule of 18 games. The boys won 14 games.

Credit is given to the loyal support of the student body, to the efforts of the members of the team and also to the scrub team. The success can be mainly attributed to Mr. Hinman's untiring efforts as well as to the manner in which the players co-operated in all points of the game.

WOMAN'S CLUB CHORUS GIVES DELIGHTFUL CONCERT

A capacity house greeted the members of the Woman's Club Chorus last week. Tuesday evening, at the Club House, upon the occasion of the only concert offered by them during the year, a policy that this most successful event from both a musical and financial standpoint seemed indeed to justify. The work of the chorus, under the leadership of Miss Barry was up to its usual high standard. The "Rondelet" by Chadwick and Nevin's "Woodpecker" seemed to especially tickle the fancy of

COLORED MOTION PICTURES

Regarding color as applied to motion pictures, Harlowe Hare writes in a recent issue of the Boston American: "Color in motion pictures is the great problem which has been vexing producers since the film was invented. I had the pleasure the other day of seeing 'The Beloved Vagabond,' the picturization of William J. Locke's famous book. This picture, I am informed, was made in America and shipped to France, where every inch of the six thousand feet was artistically colored. The result was wonderful. Landscapes and attractive scenes, no longer black and white, but beautiful in their natural colors." The "Beloved Vagabond" will be shown this Saturday, March 11, at the Ideal Theatre, Morton, afternoon and evening.

NOTICE

Oh come, thou young and skittish thing,
By smooth tongued poets labeled spring!
Come from thy violet wreathen bow'rs,
Come with thy nesting birds and flow'rs,
But thou, grey, cold, forbidding shade,
Of chills and ills and storm clouds made,
A travesty of spring thou art,
Ten thousand miles from us depart!
A. C. H.

AN EDITORIAL SHOCK NOT A SHOCKING EDITORIAL

There are red letter days in an editor's life that stand out with startling clearness, such as one occurred on last Saturday morning when the mail brought a check of $400 for two years' subscription to the Swarthmore News. From a reader whose subscription does not expire until September, which means practically a three years in advance. The editor rubbed her eyes and exclaimed: "Is it a dream or a job? Well, well, 'Sleep' should be added to his near, 'read' as possible—some of the most difficult things to accomplish in chorus work. So on the whole the chorus struck a high average of excellence, and equilibrium. This expression of good-will considered her for the loss of subscribers who failed to make good and it also proved that her efforts to keep this little sheet up to certain ideals was appreciated by some of the good FRIENDS in the community.

A PRAISEFUL SUGGESTION

All parents and teachers in the borough should attend the next meeting of the Home and School Association, and take part in the discussion "Should We Have Military Drill in Our Public Schools?" Whether we approve of military training or not, we must all see the advantages of the discipline which is a great part of this training. The lack of respect and obedience as shown by the average American child is very noticeable. Why not train soldiers of peace along the same lines as the soldiers of war, using the magic wands of friendship and good-will instead of rifles?

A leading journalistic authority recently stated that in "comparing the leading professions in New York City, in Philadelphia and in Boston, for example, the lawyer gets the largest salary; the surgeon and physician get the next largest; the engineer and the architect the next; with the rare exception of a few very large salaries, the clergyman and journalist chief editor and managing editor receive about the same and rank next, the income of the clergyman including his salary and fees.

THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The missionary meeting of the Presbyterian Church will be held at 3 o'clock on Friday, March 17, in the church parlor. The following is the program: Devotional—Glorifying God Through Praise, Mrs. Mearns. Our Church—Its Governing Principles, Mrs. Ferguson. China—Home Life and Making a Living, Mrs. Theobald. These meetings, so full of interest and information, are attracting a large attendance. All are welcome. M. H. P.

A dramatic critic, if successful, will begin at $50 and rise to $150 a week. A musical critic, if successful, will match those figures, but the number of musical critics is very much smaller.

The editor of a big Sunday supplement receives quite as much as the city editor; the work requires a more special ability. On the advertising side, salaries are higher than they were in the past. They run in Chicago for instance, from $250 to $750 up to $200 a week.

The salaries of special writers like Colp or Irwin run from $7,500 to $25,000 a year. Publishers' Auxiliaries.

WOMAN'S CLUB CHORUS GIVES DELIGHTFUL CONCERT

If the chorus really desires a word of honest criticism, it might be kindly ventured that there were ragged spots at times. The attack was not always a series of hisses marked the presence of the troublesome finals, and lack of definite shading, for which a composition like Lohrer's "Sleeping Beauty" offers marked opportunity, was at times evident. The news, "She Sleeps" would naturally not be uttered in tones that would wake the dead by a chorus supposed to have the inside track on that special event, for the benefit of the audience. Nor would it be "honest" criticism to say that the chorus in this special instance did this.

It would be as exaggerated as to say that the "waves rode mountain high" when every one knows that there never was nor will be a wave as high as a mountain. It is simply a figure of speech to suggest that the chorus "She It a dream or a job? Well, well, 'Sleep' should be added to his near, 'read' as possible—some of the most difficult things to accomplish in chorus work. So on the whole the chorus struck a high average of excellence, and equilibrium. This expression of good-will considered her for the loss of subscribers who failed to make good and it also proved that her efforts to keep this little sheet up to certain ideals was appreciated by some of the good FRIENDS in the community.

FOR BETTER BABIES

Approximately the State-wide campaign for "better babies," which is now being waged in nearly every city, county and community in Pennsylvania, from March 1-11, the Delaware County Woman's Christian Temperance Union has prepared the following statistics. From these it will be seen that the infant mortality in our county is appalling and measures must be taken to remedy this alarming condition. The shortest way to decrease the number of deaths is to instruct mothers how to properly care of young children, as the largest percentage of deaths of babies occur at the age of one year and less.

Statistics of birth rate and death rate of children under one year in the State of Pennsylvania—1914 and 1913 per 1000 that is, one baby under one year dies out of each 8.12 born, Delaware county. One death out of 7.5 and a fraction, or 72.5 per 1000. In Kansas where the women vote, that is a prohibitory law, there is a rate of one out of 11. In New Zealand where women vote; it is one in 150. In the United States as a whole it is estimated to be one in 10 or 100 and a fraction, per 1000. These have been verified by the Health Board.

INSTRUCTIVE TALK ON BIRDS

Dr. Joseph Kallifus, Secretary of State Game Commission, Harrisburg, gave a most instructive talk at Media on Wednesday, March 1st, about birds everywhere the great need there is for preserving them and boxes for their eggs. The ravages of insect pests are so widespread and devastating that it is almost beyond our comprehension, and farmer everywhere seem to lack knowledge respecting the debt they owe the birds. The title of a farmer who had been arrested for killing twelve robins, and in his defense he said "They put my cabbage plants in the ground, and I had a right to kill them." The magistrate referred to Mr. Kallifus to take the side of the robins. So he went to the patch and there lay the cabbage plants. Well, he came down in each hill and brought out a lot of worms. He took a hand full of these worms and showed the farmer that they were what the robins were eating up, and the cut worms had filled the cabbage plants. Every kind of bird has a mission that no other kind can do. Some can eat hairy caterpillars like the robins, some catch tiny insects on the wing like the gold finches and night hawks, and knights and pine warblers. A few big birds are now almost extinct because the balance of nature is in some way being disturbed by man. These are the blue jays and crows and hawks and purple grackles. The latter are the fellows who loiter about the garbage cans. Every kind of bird should be allowed to shoot them. They would be good food and it would benefit the South, where they are making a make trouble. Our little blue jays are becoming scarce" each year. He has her "Little Quaker" She is a bird. The sparrows have departed from our porches, and the coming up of the soft places in trees is a very little place for nesting. He says as to place boxes for them, a bird's nest that is a worn box with the hole on top, as the blue bird likes to sit down to her nest. She used to sit on old holes made by the flickers. The hole is soft. He says—won't you put a piece of fresh pork in your nest for the birds, and do not keep the nest to be frustrated, even the best and best fed. I hope we may see Dr. Kallifus in Swarthmore.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Three entertainments are given yearly at the Home by this Conference, and in the hope that all in attendance will choose one old person as the recipient of cheery greetings by mail now and then. Just a post card from the outside could do wonders.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A birthday and progressive novelty party was given last Saturday evening by May Brown to several of her friends.

Many of them loaned to sew on buttons, an art that will be useful in later years; some of them retained the old maid card, an important prospect for such beautiful "hatteries" as they are.

A number of the little ones performed very well on the piano, and the evening new as swiftly that "cats" was announced before the fun had half begun.

Those present were: Mrs. Jessie Hay, of Collinswood, N. J.; Virginia Melick, of Modia; Marcia and Olive Perry, the Bond sisters; Edith Manning; Frances Warrell; Della McClung; Rosalie Seaber; Marion Chaffee; Carolyn Heare; and Dorothy Sheppard. Marjorie Ross, of Rutledge, was unable to be present on account of sickness.

MEETING OF THE MOTHERS' SECTION

The Mothers' Section of the Woman's Club met Tuesday, March 17, at 8 P. M., for giving information in regard to the Baby Saving work.

Mr. J. H. Deardoff, of the Bureau of Child Research, will speak on "Babies and Statistics." There will be a special feature by Mrs. Jesse H. Holmes and Mrs. F. Howard Reber, of Ridley Park.

The reference to this all-important subject concerning babies, Miss Julia C. Lauson, head of the Federal Children's Bureau, says:

"All our hearts are wrung by the suffering of children in foreign lands during this war, but many women are so busy that they do not realize that an almost equally great slaughter of the innocents is going on daily all the time in our own country, on the strenuous struggle for existence."

"Of the 30,000 infant deaths that take place in the United States every year, half are needless. They are due to preventable causes."

"Children are sacrificed in a thousand ways—not wilfully, but thoughtlessly. They are sacrificed to poor surroundings, poor food, poor sanitation, and a daily death rate is often five times as high in the poor quarters of a city as in the well-to-do quarters."

They are sacrificed in the war of commercial competition, the keen struggle for profits, leading manufacturers to seek the cheapest labor—cheapest even in the most remote and backward parts of the community in the end, since it means using up the health and strength of the little workers."

"The children are robbed before they are born, by the wearing out of their mothers through overwork—before marriage in the factory, and after marriage in the home. They are neglected while their mothers are forced to go out to work to eke out the father's scanty wages. They are run over in the streets for lack of safe places in which to play. They are taught in ill-ventilated school rooms, by teachers who have no large classes imposed upon them to give adequate attention to each child. And in and through all this a mother from maternal ignorance knows not how to have taught their mother's care for their intelligence."

The children are sacrificed in a thousand ways—not wilfully, but thoughtlessly. They are sacrificed to poor surroundings, poor food, poor sanitation, and a daily death rate is often five times as high in the poor quarters of a city as in the well-to-do quarters."

MONTHLY MEETING OF THE "HOME AND SCHOOL"

The announcement of the subject "Shall We Have Military Training in the Public Schools?" brought to the meeting enthusiastic supporters for both sides.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. Hult, started with the statement that Senator Chamberlain has introduced in the U. S. Congress a bill which provides for military training in the public schools.

He said the three points given for the desirability of such a law are: Physical culture, development, educational discipline (or teaching to be alert and obedient), and to defend the country.

After listening to the carefully explained condition of affairs, which may have become embarrassing for the board, we concluded that the greatest assistance which can be rendered just now is the payment of over three thousand dollars of delinquent taxes.

At this point the speaker switched to the subjects of "Continuation Schools," "Vocational Training," and "Training for Citizenship."

Mrs. Mahan recalled the fact that fourteen years ago the Philadelphia School Board decided that military training would not result in the physical and moral training which it desired.

Dr. Holmes stated that the worst discipline schools have another school are those at West Point and Annapolis.

One of the unique characters seen on the boardwalk in Atlantic City is Prof. Edmund S. Stevens, scientist and inventor. Prof. Stevens has constructed a universal clock for use in railway stations, colleges, etc.

Prof. Stevens is also the author of "The Restoration of All Things," a prophetic booklet on the signs of the times. He predicted the San Francisco disaster of 1906 and the present war in Europe. His views on the Mexican situation and the final outcome of the intervention of the United States are decidedly interesting to note. He is a remarkable Bible student and claims to receive his knowledge and inspiration from the pages of Holy Writ.

Money to Loan on First Mortgages

E. C. WALTON

Station Square SWARTHMORE

In coming days the aeroplane will be a common sight, you'll see them sailing through the day and gliding in the night. Our mode of travel nowadays will seem most awful slow compared with that of aeroplanes as through the air we go. When they get thoroughly under way they speed just like a dart; they make such rapid headway you'll arrive before you start. Who knows but there'll be jitneys then to hurl you through the air, to stop at elevated points if you are waiting there. Then miles will seem like yards, they'll fly from coast to coast; they'll carry almost anything in mail or parcel post. And then we'll find they are used in trade to handle various things, we won't have trucks or horses then, we'll carry things by wings. There won't be any carrying coal by drivers dark and grim; the chauffeur then will pull the chain and drop it in your bin. And you'll not need to shovel coal, as you may see, dear reader, for don't you see, your heaters then will all become self feeders.
