SILVER BEAVER AWARD TO MOORE

Boro Man Receives Highest Scout Honor

At the annual meeting and dinner of the Valley Forge Council, Boy Scouts of America, held Saturday, January 24 at the Broadwood Hotel and attended by more than 700 Scout leaders, five "Silver Beaver" awards were presented. The names of the recipients of this award, Scouting's most coveted honor for "distinguished service to boyhood," remain a secret until the night of the banquet. John C. Moore, 25 Amherst avenue, was one of the five winners. Among Scouters receiving this award in the past is Ambrose Van Alen of Park avenue.

Mr. Moore, a member of the Council Executive Board and National Council Cub Scout Planning Committee, is an outstanding business executive deeply interested in youth. His business interests for the last 21 years have taken him from Wyoming to Texas, to New Jersey, thence to Pennsylvania and the Valley Forge Council. He has been actively connected with Scouting in some leadership capacity during this entire period. The Valley Forge Council honored him, not only because of his long Scouting experience, but more particularly because of his outstanding leadership in Cubbing.

Mr. Moore is an Elder in the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church. He recently accepted the position of director of the scientific section laboratory of the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association in Washington, D.C. and so is on the move again. The Scout spokesman in presenting the award stated, "Before he leaves, however, because of his outstanding service to the boyhood of the Valley Forge Council, we honor him by awarding the Silver Beaver. We know that wherever his business takes him, he will always be an active Scouter and a great supporter of youth."

Also representing Swarthmore were George Alston, Jr., Scoutmaster Wesley France and his senior patrol leader for the Methodist Church's Troop Number 3. Harlan Jessup, Presbyterian Church representative and Scoutmaster William Davidson attended for Troop 2. James Bullitt, commis-

Chosen Clarinet Soloist

H. Weston Clarke, Jr., of College avenue will attend an Intercolligate State Band three-day festival to be held at Lock Haven, Pa., in April. Weston has chosen as clarinet soloist in an 80-piece band to be led by Eric Leidzen.

Weston, a graduate of Swarthmore High School, class of '47, will represent Temple University where he is a member of the freshmen class.

Pool Membership Grows Steadily

Applications for membership in the Swarthmore Swimming Pool are being received by the treasurer, Donald P. Jones, in increasing numbers. The announcement that a budget plan for payment could be submitted has resulted in many applications of that nature, each evidencing a real faith in the project and a desire to achieve a satisfactory plan for financing membership.

Requests for membership from families outside the borough have been higher than anticipated. Preference to local residents will continue to be given but they are asked to file their applications with Mr. Jones within the week.

The most general inquiry which has been made to personnel of the membership committee is in regard to the word "dependent" used in defining a family membership. This word has a very generous interpretation which can be clarified by contacting the committee or the officers, John Seybold, Mrs. Reavis Cox, Mr. Jones, Mrs. J. Albright Jones.

ROTARY GIVING FISHING COURSE

To Sponsor Six Weeks Study at Penn State Center

The Swarthmore Rotary is sponsoring, in conjunction with other nearby Rotary Clubs, a short, informal course in "Fly Tying and Angling Techniques", taught by George W. Harvey nationally known piscatorial authority at Penn State College to be conducted in the new Pennsylvania State College Center Building, 855 Harvard avenue.

The course is designed to help everyone from the beginner to the veteran fisherman, and the instructor is well qualified to teach this subject. He has been fishing for 30 years, and was once described by John Alden Knight as "the greatest trout fisherman I ever met."

The fishing course on the Campus was treated pictorially in Life and American magazines. The six-week course will be restricted to a maximum of 35 persons. For enrollees who do not have their own equipment the College will furnish a fly tying kit for a small charge in addition to the nominal enrollment fee.

Arthur K. Meyers, of Swarthmore Rotary, is acting as reservations chairman. Interested persons should write to Mr. Meyers at 855 Harvard avenue, or call Swarthmore 3340, for acceptance as class members.

Borough Council at its regular meeting Monday night set the 1948 tax rate at 13 1-4 mills divided as follows: 11 1-2 mills for general borough purposes, 1 mill for library maintenance, and 3-4 mill for the Sinking Fund.

A group of citizens consisting of Paul Williams of University place, S.S. von Grabill of Cornell avenue, O.W. Bair had requested a permit. Council postponed action and will pass on the matter Monday night February 9 at a meeting of the public safety committee.

It was decided to advertise for a new fire engine to replace the 25-year-old little pump which was purchased second-hand in 1922.

Antiques Fair April 5, 6, 7

The Antiques Fair Committee of the Woman's Club announces the dates of the third annual Fair as April 5, 6, 7. The date is moved up in order to avoid conflict with the Easter observances and school vacations.

Executives of the committee will meet for dessert on Monday, February 9, at 322 Park avenue when the club president Mrs. John E. Michael will be present. The co-chairman for the Fair are Mrs. A. W. Bass, Jr., and Mrs. Peter E. Told.

Almgren, Mrs. Wesley France, William Brinsfield, Robert Jessup and Howard Sipler, assistant district commissioner in charge of one of the five sections which includes Swarthmore, were present at the banquet.

Representing more than 16,000 Boy Scouts in Delaware and Montgomery Counties, whose program is a Red Feather Service, the leaders reviewed the work of their organization during the past year, and laid plans for the inclusion of 4,000 boys residing in the two counties, who are eligible for Scouting.

A highlight of the event, was a series of tableaux showing different Scouting activities, and enacted by boys chosen from representative troops. Also on the program was group singing and Scouting pageantry.

The inter-faith theme of Scouting was emphasized by the presence of religious leaders representing the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths.

The principal address was made by J. Harold Williams, prominent in Scouting circles, who pointed out that the Boy Scouts had to expand their activities to include a million more boys nationally.

Discusses Government

The following excerpts are from a speech delivered by Judge E. LeRoy van Roden at a recent meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Delaware County.

"We have a wonderful form of government in the United States, which is fundamentally different from that of the other nations of the world. They cannot seem to understand us, and it seems quite probable that we have not tried to understand them.

"For example, in Great Britain, the people ELECT a "government" rather than certain individuals to representative offices. The sense of party loyalty is wonderful indeed, but the Party is of chief importance.

"In France this is even more evident, except that there are about a dozen or more major political parties, each with an entirely different set of principles and policies.

"In Germany, the people still feel the need to lean upon their nobility or local barons who have for generations governed the people and assumed the responsibilities of government.

"In most European countries there is no conception of permanent continuous government, such as we in America know it.

"It seems to me that the failure of our government in Washington to understand the temperament of the people in Europe and their conception of government is the terrible historic mistake we are making. The evidences of this fundamental mistake are many.

"(1) We made a loan at a time when the "government in power" was patently immature and inexperienced. The machinery of that government has stuttered, and stopped and jerked on again after patch work repairs and tardy adjustments. Our dollars have been used by that government for government and not for the recovery of the nation.

"(2) We took sides with a government in Greece and have tried to finance a war by giving the Government our money and supplies to use—and dissipate, until now the Russian government is in a likely position to defeat the government we backed with her forces masquerading under the misleading title of "brigades".

"(3) We have recognized a government to exist in Italy and have left the people of the country to the mercy of those in power and to the threat of Russia.

"(4) In Germany, we have made a miserable failure of getting that people started on the road to reconstruction. At Yalta, agreements were made by our president most of which were secret, which are incredible. He agreed that when the war with Germany should end, Russia would fight against Japan on the side of the Allies, that Germany would be divided into zones, Russia should have her reparations and an unrestricted opportunity to take not only the Balkan countries under her power, but Poland and eastern Germany as well.

Australian Football Club NAMED FOR CARL DELLMUTH

A football club in Sydney, Australia has just been named for Carl K. Dellmuth, Director of Athletics at Swarthmore College. Dellmuth has just received word that a Sydney group, convening on January 5 to form a new Australian rules football club, chose the name Dellmuth to commemorate the man who introduced Australian football to this country for the first time. The club paid further tribute to Mr. Dellmuth by choosing Swarthmore's colors, garnet and white, for their own. Webster Powell, attache to the United States Embassy there, has been appointed vice-president.

Dellmuth introduced Australian rules football as an intramural sport here last fall, following a trip "down under" last summer when he watched the Australian game.

Plans are afoot for an Australian rule football game between Swarthmore and Haverford next fall.

AVC MAN FORE-SEES WORLD GO'VT

Claims Only Choice is Method; Peaceful or Tyrannical

"We will have a world government within five or ten years," predicted Cord Meyer, Jr., president of the United World Federalists speaking at the Swarthmore Friends Meeting House at Swarthmore College Tuesday. The choice, he declared, is between a union based upon the peaceful and voluntary consent of the nations and one based upon tyranny and oppression. "We have a very short time," he warned members of the local AVC chapter. "Events have been going from bad to worse. The moment to begin working toward a federal world government has arrived."

The author of "Peace or Anarchy" pointed to the changes which the past five years have brought. He noted the perils inherent in atomic energy, biological warfare, and the latest type bombers and rockets "in none of these weapons," he stated, "can the United States have a lasting monopoly." "We must conclude," he maintained, "that while this country is today capable of destroying at will any industry or city in the world, in the near future it will be in the position that the other nations presently occupy."

Mr. Meyer spoke of three suggested ways of facing the threat of future destruction: Peace by intimidation, he pointed out, would be too costly, both in terms of money and freedom, leading, firstly, to a lower standard of living and, secondly, to a police state. The practicality of using the atom bomb immediately against what we may deem our enemies is likewise dangerous, for while it may lead to victory, it will incur crippling losses in fine and property and necessitate the creation of an American empire based upon tyranny. The only alternative left is an international organization, a union with power to make laws binding on the individuals of the various countries. "We want a system that is preventive, that deals with war before it has a chance to start," he stated. The United States should take the first step by offering to cut her armed forces if and when other nations are willing to do the same. If Russia does not join, Mr. Meyer continued, we must unite with those that will, keeping well-prepared in the meantime to resist possible Soviet aggression, yet extending to her a welcoming hand. The present conflict between the U.S.S.R. and the United States is not due to economic or ideological differences, he declared, but rather to the fact that they are the only two large countries that survived the last war in a condition as to enable them to engage in such a power struggle.

Mr. Meyer is a member of the national planning board of the American Veterans Committee, and his talk was sponsored by its Swarthmore College chapter.

FUTURE FINANCIAL OUTLOOK GIVEN

Dr. Williams Tells Rotary Turn May Be Near

A preview of business conditions in 1948 was presented to the Swarthmore Rotary Club at its regular meeting last week by Dr. Alfred H. Williams of the Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia, formerly dean of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.
Dr. Williams pointed out that at the present moment the country is in a conflicting position. For the last several days commodity and stock prices have been going down while the President has been urging men to reverse the upward spiral of prices which he noted. The present situation comes as a surprise to many because the slump was expected in 1947 but did not come.
During the war the nation was spending a billion dollars every day. It was anticipated that following this vast expenditure of money a pronounced depression would result in the post-war period. However, what happened was that there was an extreme demand for consumer goods, for the war had created many shortages and also vast accumulated purchasing power. This purchasing power was underestimated. At the end of the war the people stopped saving and began spending. Also, an increase in lending by banks added much business impetus.
The forecasters are now looking ahead to 1948. The business men say there will be an upward trend for the first half of 1948, but the economists expect a down trend to begin in February or March. Currently there is a growing conviction that we are near the end of the up-turn. The President's economic council recently advised to get ready for a down-turn in prices. "Anti-deflationary forces," said Dr. Williams, "are at work to keep prices from going too low and will tend to maintain prices for a period of time. Some of these factors are (1) the Marshall Plan, which through vast expenditure will keep prices up; (2) the tax reductions that are coming in the political government economy with the resultant inability to lower or reduce the budget. The scope of government is so vast that prices can hardly be reduced. (4) there is serious talk of a third round of wage increases; (5) the great capacity of the purchasing power and ready credit will tend to maintain business activities; (6) security cushions in the wage structure which were not present in 1930, such as old age insurance, pension plans, unemployment provisions."

Because of the Federal Reserve Act provisions in 1934, the speaker felt there probably will never be another depression in this country like that of 1929.

Auxiliary to Meet

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet Monday, February 16 at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Alexander Ewing, 100 Dartmouth avenue. Members are asked to bring all coupons they have collected this month.

MALIN DEFINES REFUGEE PROBLEM

Bond Gives Happiness Recipe Next Tuesday

On Tuesday, February 10, after brief announcements and reports Mrs. John F. Michael, president of the Swarthmore Women's Club, introduced Mrs. James E. Richards second vice-president of the Delaware County Federation who brought greetings from the county organization.
The program presented by Mrs. J. Burris West, chairman of the current events department, consisted of a thoroughly integrated interesting discussion of the refugee problem by Professor Patrick M. Malin of the college. For several years Mr. Malin was vice-director of the intergovernmental Committee on Refugees. His wide experience and travel abroad enabled him to analyze this minority problem with dynamic forcefulness.
Mr. Malin stated that because of racial differences, political tensions, and religious backgrounds, the relatively small number of refugees makes this disproportionately entangled problem an expensive one to solve. The International Refugee Organization, a fifteen-nation representation, has attempted to take over the responsibilities of three former agencies namely the Army, UNRRA, and the Intergovernmental Committee.
Next Tuesday, February 17, at 2 p. m., the education department, with Mrs. George Schöbinger, as chairman will present Dr. Earl D. Bond. His subject will be "Making our Later Years Happy and Effective" a discussion period will follow the address. Dr. Bond is psychiatrist and medical director of research of the Institute of Mental Hygiene at the University of Pennsylvania. He is one of the pioneers in the field of mental hygiene in Philadelphia and received a Bok award in this connection.
The second in the series of current event discussions by Dr. Frances Russell will be held on Thursday, February 19, at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop, 736 Harvard avenue. Her topics will be "Atomic Energy" and "Universal Military Training." This meeting is free and open to the public.
On Friday, February 20, the antiquities department of which Mrs. Birney K. Morse is chairman will meet at the Philadelphia Museum of Art at 10 a. m. (8:50 train) Mrs. Grace R. Morris of the Museum's educational department will speak on old silver, glass and china. Any members who are driving are asked to contact Mrs. Morse.

HEADS COAL DIV. BUREAU OF MINES

R. L. Brown Promoted By Department Of Interior

The appointment of Dr. Ralph L. Brown, widely known coal technologist and a pioneer in the development of new products from coal tar chemicals, as chief of the Bureau of Mines Coal Branch, Fuels and Explosives Division, is announced by James Boyd, Bureau Director. For the past year, Dr. Brown has been serving as assistant chief of the Coal Branch at the Central Experiment Station in Pittsburgh.
In his new position, Dr. Brown will supervise the Bureau's research in the mining, preparation, carbonization, and gasification of coal and related subjects at Bureau experiment stations and pilot plants in various parts of the country. He will be stationed in Washington, D. C.
Dr. Brown acquired early experience in coal research in the coke plant laboratory of Inland Steel Company and the Koppers Company laboratories at the Mellon Institute, Pittsburgh. When the Nation entered World War I, he served as an officer in the Army, and was assigned to special duty with a unit of the French Army concerned with tear gases.
After the Armistice in 1918, Brown rejoined the Koppers Company and supervised research in their laboratories for several years, and then joined the Bureau of Mines as head of the Organic Chemical Section at the Pittsburgh Station, where he conducted research in the composition of gases, oils and tars from the carbonization of coal at high and low temperatures.
During this period, Dr. Brown directed a cooperative investigation by the Bureau and the American Gas Association on the resinous deposits troubling manufactured gas plants in many major cities, and discovered ways to prevent their formation. For this outstanding achievement, he received the Beal Award of the American Gas Association in 1924.
From 1928-37, Dr. Brown supervised research for the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation—Solvay Division, and developed processes for synthetic methanol, acetic acid, and many other chemicals. In 1937, he became director of research for the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company. Largely through coal tar chemicals, chlorine, etc., he developed a variety of products, including industrial solvents, insecticides, fungicides, bright planting agents, pickling agents and corrosion inhibitors. During 1944-46, Dr. Brown made several technical and economic studies for a major oil company on the possible production of industrial chemicals from petroleum and refinery gas.
Dr. Brown was educated at the Missouri State Teachers College (Continued on Page 8)

D. A. R. to Meet

The next meeting of the D. A. R. will be held Monday, February 16, at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Roy H. Rindiffe, of 633 Strath Haven avenue. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. C. Russell Phillips of Strath Haven avenue and Mrs. George Stull of Chester.
Florence Harden, representative of the Cancer Detection Center, Philadelphia, will be the principal speaker.

"ROOM SERVICE" NEXT CLUB BILL

Prichard and Steveris Share Comedy Direction

During the week beginning Monday, February 16, the Swarthmore Players Club will present ROOM SERVICE, a farce by John Murray and Allan Boretz. This comedy ran for 500 performances on Broadway, and was later made into a movie by the Marx brothers. Co-directors Jonathan Prichard and W. J. Stevens, Jr., have collected a cast of 14 players unusually well adapted for parts which include a lot of pandemonium.
Washington West, Irvin R. MacElwee, Charles Stockdale, J. David Narbeth and Willard G. Reese contribute a large part of the excitement involved in the basic situation: A group of Broadway sharpers who are trying to keep from being thrown out of a hotel, despite the efforts of a hot-tempered hotel director to get rid of them. The supporting, or contrapuntal, roles are handled by Edward King, Ellen Gibb, Sheri Horton, Edmond Cramp, Stafford Parker, Walter Emmott and Fred Hardesty.
David Bingham and Walker Penfield are stage managers for the production, and Mrs. John L. Good is heading the property committee. The play will be presented on six successive nights beginning Monday.

H.S. STAGING BIG C.A.R.E. CAMPAIGN

Urges Town to Aid in Applying Golden Rule

On November 13, 1947, the persons at the cabinet meeting who proposed that Swarthmore students give aid to Europe probably never dreamed that the whole school would help to conceive such a sensational plan. Under the able care and loving direction of Bill Huse and Judy Dickson, Swarthmore High will be able to put over one of the most unusual and unique aid programs ever before attempted in a school system. "We are indeed lucky to have complete student and faculty co-operation in effecting our plan," state the student chairman who go on to explain the plan which offers each and every citizen a chance to play a part.
"March 1 to 5 has been set aside as 'C. A. R. E. Week.' During this week you will be asked to contribute to C. A. R. E. Every organization in Swarthmore will be privileged to share in this week. During 'C. A. R. E. Week,' social studies classes will devote time to the discussion of 'our town.' Such teachers as Mr. Hofman, Mr. Bell, Mr. Yocum, and Mr. Oppenlander will lead activities in the social studies, world culture, and contemporary problems classes. In the English department, Mrs. Mathews, Miss Armstrong, Miss Adams, and Miss McKie will give up their valuable class time for the writing of letters to overseas friends in 'our town.' These letters will not only better acquaint two nations with each other, but will build up good will which may, someday, aid in preventing another war.
"After our plan had been proposed, we had to decide which country should get our aid. A special assembly was held in which the case for each country was presented, and questions were asked from the floor. Later that day, during history classes, the student body voted, and almost unanimously elected Germany. Germany above all nations is starving. The roots (Continued on Page 8)

"We will have a world government within five or ten years," predicted Cord Meyer, Jr., president of the United World Federalists speaking at the Swarthmore Friends Meeting House at Swarthmore College Tuesday. The choice, he declared, is between a union based upon the peaceful and voluntary consent of the nations and one based upon tyranny and oppression. "We have a very short time," he warned members of the local AVC chapter. "Events have been going from bad to worse. The moment to begin working toward a federal world government has arrived. The author of "Peace or Anarchy" pointed to the changes which the past five years have brought. He noted the perils inherent in atomic energy, biological warfare, and the latest type bombers and rockets. "In none of these weapons," he stated, "can the United States have a lasting monopoly." "We must conclude," he maintained, "that while this country is today capable of destroying at will any industry or city in the world, in the near future it will be in the position that the other nations presently occupy."

Dr. Williams Tells Rotary Turn May Be Near

A preview of business conditions in 1948 was presented to the Swarthmore Rotary Club at its regular meeting last week by Dr. Alfred H. Williams of the Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia, formerly dean of the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Williams pointed out that at the present moment the country is in a conflicting position. For the last several days commodity and stock prices have been going down while the President has been urging men to reverse the upwards spiral of prices which he noted. The present situation comes as a surprise to many because the slump was expected in 1947 but did not come. During the war the nation was spending a billion dollars every day. It was anticipated that following this vast expenditure of money a pronounced depression would result in the post-war period. However, what happened was that there was an extreme demand for consumer goods, for the war had created many shortages and also vast accumulated purchasing power. This purchasing power was underestimated. At the end of the war the people stopped saving and began spending. Also, an increase in lending by banks added much business impetus. The forecasters are now looking ahead to 1948. The business men say there will be an upward trend for the first half of 1948, but the economists expect a down trend to begin in February or March. Currently there is a growing conviction that we are near the end of the up-turn. The President's economic council recently advised to get ready for a down-turn in prices. "Anti-deflationary forces," said Dr. Williams, "are at work to keep prices up; (2) the tax reductions that are coming in the political year; (3) the difficulty of achieving government economy with the resultant inability to lower or reduce the budget. The scope of government is so vast that prices can hardly be reduced. (4) There is a serious talk of a third round of wage increases; (5) the great capacity of the purchasing power and ready credit will tend to maintain business activities; (6) security cushions in the wage structure which were not present in 1930, such as old age insurance, pension plans, unemployment provisions." Because of the Federal Reserve Act provisions in 1934, the speaker felt there probably will never be another depression in this country like that of 1929.

MALIN DEFINES REFUGEE PROBLEM

Bond Gives Happiness Recipe Next Tuesday

On Tuesday, February 10, after brief announcements and reports Mrs. John F. Michael, president of the Swarthmore Women's Club, introduced Mrs. James E. Richards, second vice-president of the Delaware County Federation who brought greetings from the county organization. The program presented by Mrs. J. Burris West, chairman of the current events department, consisted of a thoroughly integrated interesting discussion of the refugee problem by Professor Patrick M. Malin of the college. For several years Mr. Malin was vice-director of the intergovernmental Committee on Refugees. His wide experience and travel abroad enabled him to analyze this minority problem with dynamic forcefulness. Mr. Malin stated that because of racial differences, political tensions and religious backgrounds, the relatively small number of refugees makes this disproportionately entangled problem an expensive one to solve. The International Refugee Organization, a fifteen-nation representation, has attempted to take over the responsibilities of three former agencies namely the Army, UNRRA, and the Intergovernmental Committee. Next Tuesday, February 17, at 2 p. m., the education department, with Mrs. George Schöninger, as chairman will present Dr. Earl D. Bond. His subject will be "Making our Later Years Happy and Effective" a discussion period will follow the address. Dr. Bond is psychiatrist and medical director of research of the Institute of Mental Hygiene at the University of Pennsylvania. He is one of the pioneers in the field of mental hygiene in Philadelphia and received a Bok award in this connection. The second in the series of current event discussions by Dr. Francis B. Sell will be held on Thursday, February 19, at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop, 736 Harvard Avenue. His topics will be "Atomic Energy" and "Universal Military Training." This meeting is free and open to the public. On Friday, February 20, the antiquities department of which Mrs. Binney K. Morse is chairman will meet at the Philadelphia Museum of Art at 10 a. m. (8:50 train) Mrs. Grace R. Morris, of the Museum's educational department will speak on old silver, glass and china. Any members who are driving are asked to contact Mrs. Morse.

R. L. Brown Promoted By Department Of Interior

The appointment of Dr. Ralph L. Brown, widely known coal technologist and a pioneer in the development of new products from coal tar chemicals, as chief of the Bureau of Mines Coal Branch, Fuels and Explosives Division, is announced by James Boyd, Bureau Director. For the past year, Dr. Brown has been serving as assistant chief of the Coal Branch at the Central Experiment Station in Pittsburgh. In his new position, Dr. Brown will supervise the Bureau's research in the mining, preparation, carbonization, and gasification of coal and related subjects at Bureau experiment stations and pilot plants in various parts of the country. He will be stationed in Washington, D. C. Dr. Brown acquired early experience in coal research in the coke plant laboratory of Inland Steel Company and the Koppers Company laboratories at the Mellon Institute, Pittsburgh. When the National entered World War I, he served as an officer in the Army, and was assigned to special duty with a unit of the French Army concerned with tear gases. After the Armistice in 1918, Brown rejoined the Koppers Company and supervised research in their laboratories for several years, and then joined the Bureau of Mines as head of the Organic Chemical Section at the Pittsburgh Station, where he conducted research in the composition of gases, oils and tars from the carbonization of coal at high and low temperatures. During this period, Dr. Brown directed a cooperative investigation by the Bureau and the American Gas Association on the resinous deposits troubling manufactured gas plants in many major cities, and discovered ways to prevent their formation. For this outstanding achievement, he received the Beal Award of the American Gas Association in 1924. From 1928-37, Dr. Brown supervised research for the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation—Solvay Division, and developed processes for synthetic methanol, acetic acid, and many other chemicals. In 1937, he became director of research for the Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company. Largely through coal tar chemicals, chlorine, etc., he developed a variety of products, including industrial solvents, insecticides, fungicides, bright planting agents, pickling agents and corrosion inhibitors. During 1944-46, Dr. Brown made several technical and economic studies for a major oil company on the possible production of industrial chemicals from petroleum and refinery gas. Dr. Brown was educated at the Missouri State Teachers College (Continued on Page 8)

"ROOM SERVICE" NEXT CLUB BILL

Prichard and Stevens Share Comedy Direction

During the week beginning Monday, February 16, the Swarthmore Players Club will present ROOM SERVICE, a farce by John Murray and Allan Boretz. This comedy ran for 500 performances on Broadway, and was later made into a movie by the Marx brothers. Co-directors Jonathan Prichard and W. J. Stevens, Jr., have collected a cast of 14 players, unusually well adapted for parts which include a lot of pandemonium. Washington West, Irvin R. MacElwee, Charles Stockdale, J. David Narbeth and Willard G. Reese contribute a large part of the excitement involved in the basic situation. A group of Broadway sharpshooters are trying to keep from being thrown out of a hotel, despite the efforts of a hot-tempered hotel director to get rid of them. The supporting, or contrapuntal, roles are handled by Edward King, Ellen Gibb, Sheri Horton, Edmond Cramp, Stafford Parker, Walter Emmott and Fred Hardesty. David Bingham and Walker Penfield are stage managers for the production, and Mrs. John L. Good is heading the property committee. The play will be presented on six successive nights beginning Monday.

H.S. STAGING BIG C.A.R.E. CAMPAIGN

Urges Town to Aid in Applying Golden Rule

On November 13, 1947, the persons at the cabinet meeting who proposed that Swarthmore students give aid to Europe probably never dreamed that the whole school would help to conceive such a sensational plan. Under the able care and loving direction of Bill Huey and Judy Dickson, Swarthmore High will be able to put over one of the most unusual and unique aid programs ever before attempted in a school system. "We are indeed lucky to have complete student and faculty co-operation in effecting our plan," state the student chairmen who go on to explain the plan which offers each and every citizen a chance to play a part. "March 1 to 5 has been set aside as 'C. A. R. E. Week.' During this week you will be asked to contribute to C. A. R. E. Every organization in Swarthmore will be privileged to share in this week. During 'C. A. R. E. Week,' social studies classes will devote time to the discussion of 'our town.' Such teachers as Mr. Hofman, Mr. Bell, Mr. Youcum, and Mr. Oppenlander will lead activities in the social studies, world culture, and contemporary problems classes. In the English department, Mrs. Mathews, Miss Armstrong, Miss Adams, and Miss McKie will give up their valuable class time for the writing of letters to overseas friends in 'our town.' These letters will not only better acquaint two nations with each other, but will build up good will which may, someday, aid in preventing another war. "After our plan had been proposed, we had to decide which country should get our aid. A special assembly was held in which the case for each country was presented, and questions were asked from the floor. Later that day, during history classes, the student body voted, and almost unanimously elected Germany. Germany above all nations is starving. The roots (Continued on Page 8)

GIRL SCOUTS REOPEN ANNUAL COOKIE PROJECT

An old pre-war custom, the annual sale of cookies by local Scouts, will be revived here next week.

Beginning Monday, February 16, Girl Scouts throughout Delaware County will take orders for the ever-popular Keebler Weyl chocolate and vanilla butter cookies with the Scout trefoil design to raise funds for equipment for their summer camp Elizabeth Borton and towards the purchase of a Delaware County Camp site.

Swarthmore's quota is 209 dozen boxes. If by March 12 local Scouts have disposed of this number the cookie company will send a rebate of two cents on each box and 50 dollars will be realized for purely local Scout projects. The Swarthmore Girl Scout House needs re-furbishing and a wood stove for cooking.

In order to help everyone in Swarthmore to be Scout-cookie-conscious from February 16 to March 12 the committee lists the following suggestions:

1. If you or your friends have children in college or boarding school send boxes in the next laundry case.
2. If you are planning a group tea where cookies are in order, Scout cookies are the answer. There are 48 in each box.

3. If you are a professor's wife, have Scout cookies for honors seminar refreshments.

4. If you're a teen-ager helping with a Fellowship snack, remember Scout cookies.

5. Keep your cookie jar filled with Scout cookies for the afternoon pick-up.

The cookies may be bought from any Girl Scout or in the bank on Fridays, or by contacting the following: Mrs. J. Paul Brown (Baltimore Pike chairman), Mrs. J. W. Carroll, Mrs. William deCandry, Mrs. Newton H. Harris, Alice Marriott (troop chairman), or Mrs. Jack Thompson (Swarthmore chairman).

U S Representative in Paris
Francis W. Plowman of Princeton avenue, vice-president of the Scott Paper Company, has been sent to Paris and London as a U. S. Representative to the International Chamber of Commerce which opened in Paris, Wednesday.

Mr. Plowman sailed on the Queen Mary last week and plans to go to Belgium, Holland, and probably Germany during his month's trip abroad.

Junior Club Activities

Mrs. C. H. Jeglum presented a vivid account of the highlights and amusing incidents of Janet Payne Whitney's book "Abigail Adams" when the Junior Woman's Club met at the home of Anne Cochran on Kenyon avenue Thursday evening.

Preceding Mrs. Jeglum's review members planned the bridge party which they will sponsor for the benefit of cancer research at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, February 24, in the Woman's clubhouse. Refreshments and a cake table were among the arrangements made.

Mrs. Arnold Redding, president of the Junior Club asked for volunteers to assist Mrs. F. G. Fursyke during the Cancer Fund Drive. Mrs. George Stewart, Lin Freegar, Kitty Weltz and Anne Cochran responded.

Hobby Night originally scheduled for next Tuesday evening at the clubhouse has been canceled. Mrs. David Gilcreest and Alice Marriott assisted the hostess in serving refreshments following this week's meeting.

Swarthmore to Honor Pearson

A committee of citizens, considering a distinguished honor has come to Swarthmore in the phenomenal success of the Friendship Train, an idea conceived and carried out by Drew Pearson "a local boy who made good," wants to honor this distinguished graduate of one of Swarthmore's homes and of the college, now called the most influential commentator in the country.

The committee has been working on the project and has fixed April 2 as the date for the testimonial dinner to be given in the college dining room. Local organizations are co-operating. Details will be published later.

Christian Science Lecturer

Last Sunday afternoon, February 1, a free lecture on Christian Science, entitled "Christian Science: A Religion of Works" was given in the local church edifice, 206 Park avenue, by John S. Sammons, C. S. of Chicago, Ill., a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Mass. The lecturer who was introduced by the First Reader of the Church, Stuart H. Chapman, said in part:

"Christian Science is based upon the Bible, the King James Version, which is the translation accepted and used in all Protestant churches."

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, quotes from the Bible 681 times in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and in each instance with appropriate explanation and comment. She refers to the Bible as "the chart of life."

"Mrs. Eddy has given us a concise definition of God with the statement, God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love. She then goes on to tell us that these are synonymous terms, and says that 'they refer to one absolute God.' These synonymous terms all being equal to the same thing are necessarily equal to each other; hence, Mind is characterized by the substance of Spirit and Spirit expresses the conscious intelligence of Mind. The activity which is Life is the verity which is Truth and Truth gives to Life the power of its changelessness. That which is true is eternally, possessing inherently the capacity to retain its identity as Truth and successfully resist being anything else. Thus we have one God—infinite in His nature, universal in His being, changeless in His love, and understanding of God is fundamental to understanding and demonstration of Christian Science.

"Jesus was the Way-shower. In order to be the Way-shower he had to go all the way. Christian Science accepts without reservation the completeness of his experience, resurrection and ascension.

"Jesus distinguished between his corporeality and the spiritual dominion and power which he expressed. He said, 'Before Abraham was, I am' (John 8:58), therein voicing the timelessness of the true manifestation of God. Christian Science likewise makes the distinction between Jesus the man and Christ the divine idea. 'The Bible tells us that man is the image and likeness of God. Since man is the likeness of God, he is the likeness of Love, for God is Love. That is, man reflects, consciously manifests, the quality of God's love. Man is the likeness of Life, or God, deriving his life from that infinite Life, hence he consciously lives, reflecting and embodying the spiritual vigor, force, and vitality which characterize the divine Life. There is but one God, hence there is but one kind of man, whether individually or collectively expressed—the kind of man, therefore, which you and I in reality are and will forever remain. The man of God's creating is neither sinful nor sick; he is under no condemnation and is never afraid. This is the man referred to by Mrs. Eddy as Mind's infinite idea.'"

"As these spiritual ideas are understood and demonstrated in human experience, mortals begin to lose their belief that life is in matter, and to experience the free-lead only so far as she follows 'Christ.'"

Marian Taylor Speaks

On Monday, February 9th, Marian Taylor, Economics major and honor student at Swarthmore College, conducted a study group on the Havana conference at the home of Mrs. Thomas Hopper, 621 Magill Road. Her talk was the second in a series of International Trade given under the auspices of the League of Women Voters. Miss Taylor spoke of the sheer mass of work which confronted the delegates when the conference covered in November. Eight hundred amendments had been proposed to the Geneva Draft and these had to be sifted for duplication before even considering the suggested changes. She spoke of the need for interests inherent in the fact that some of the countries represented are highly industrialized while others are, still largely agricultural.

The conference, which many times seemed to have reached a deadlock,

HALF-A-MILLION DOLLARS...

That's What PTC Spent Last Year to Battle Snow for Car and Bus Riders

You probably never looked for a price tag on a snow flake. But snow has a very real cost to city dwellers, in money, work and inconvenience.

It's a big job to keep things going for you during a severe winter. It takes Men—the men of PTC, of the railroads, of the power, telephone and gas companies, of the City and State highway departments, and the hundreds of temporary snowfighters who offer their services during the emergency.

PTC's snow removal work not only keeps transit lines open, but it permits the freer movement of trucks delivering food, fuel and other supplies. Private automobiles, too, depend on the hundreds of streets cleared by PTC sweepers and plows.

IT TAKES MONEY TO FIGHT SNOW
More than a half-million dollars was spent by PTC for snow clearance in 1947. Already this year, snow has cost the Company $300,000.

IT TAKES MEN TO FIGHT SNOW
PTC fights snow with 1,000 of its regular employees and recruits as many as 1,000 temporary snowfighters.

IT TAKES EQUIPMENT TO FIGHT SNOW

To keep cars and buses rolling requires 223 specially equipped snowfighting vehicles. Rail sweepers brush snow from tracks... Motor plows clear bus routes, plow lanes alongside car tracks for motor traffic... Utility trucks carry crews to clear ice and snow from switches, crossings and other vital track areas... Emergency trucks, equipped with two-way radio, remove stalled automobiles and trucks from car tracks.

Despite all efforts, snow and ice do cause delays to car and bus riders, just as they do to all users of the streets. Storm conditions frequently cause cars and buses to get off schedule, with resulting bunching of vehicles and gaps in service.

Winter travel brings many occasions which call for tolerance, understanding of the other fellow's difficulties, and cooperation among all who use the highways, whether as riders or operators of transit vehicles, trucks or automobiles:

Offer Language Courses at State

The latest educational undertaking in the Delaware County area is the new Institute of Modern Languages at the Pennsylvania State College Center in Swarthmore.

Scheduled to open this month, the Institute will use the latest methods of instruction in teaching French, German, Italian, Portuguese, Russian and Spanish, according to Arthur K. Meyers, Administrative Head of the Penn State Center.

The modern techniques of instruction, Mr. Meyers said today, will include recordings by instructors; voice-recorders for student speech practice; motion pictures; texts, and written materials.

Faculty members for the Institute of Modern Languages will include members of the Penn State staff and faculty members from other colleges in the Phila. region.

folder, published by the Center, the Courses of study offered by the Institute should be of particular value to those who have daily contact with foreign-speaking people: those engaged in export or import businesses; anyone contemplating foreign travel; for advance degree; high school graduates awaiting admission to college and seeking advanced credit; and anyone who wishes to increase his capacity to appreciate and enjoy the music, art, drama, and literature of other lands.

Mr. Meyers stated that he is already accepting applications for admission to the Institute, and may be contacted at the Penn State Center.

H. S. Staging Big C.A.R.E. Campaign

(Continued from Page 1) of the last war grew in just such an atmosphere in that very country. Germany has coal, night, and engineering brain power, but she needs food to get back into working order. We can help to give her that, and so we have selected the German Ruhr as our territory, and later on, one town will be decided upon as 'our town'.

"On Thursday night, March 4, citizens will have the opportunity to attend 'Activities Night' in the Clothier Memorial at Swarthmore College. The college has kindly consented to let us use the hall for that night in order to raise money. Various talent acts will be staged for the benefit of C. A. R. E. Best of all, on Friday night, there will be a big 'CARE' dance. The big leap year dance will take place in the high school gym, and all are welcome. We hope that you people in the town will want to back us in this drive.

SWIMMING POOL SPONSORS MEET Status of Project to Be Revealed By Committee The Swarthmore Swimming Pool Committee has announced that it would give a full report on the progress and status of the swimming pool project at a meeting to be held on Wednesday evening, February 25, at 8 p. m. in the High School Auditorium. All sponsors and families who have submitted applications for membership are invited to attend this meeting, according to John W. Seybold, president of the committee. Mrs. Justus Garrahan, membership chairman, will give a complete report as to the response of the community to this project, and the committee will submit its recommendations for discussion and for a decision of the entire group. Seybold declined to comment in advance of the meeting as to what the recommendations of the committee would be. "I'd rather urge people to be present and to get the complete story first hand," he said. "However, I think it is fair to state at this point that the response has been such as to indicate that a substantial group of people in our community desperately want to see this project succeed, and there is certainly no basis for discouragement."

PLAYERS RELIEVE WINTER BOREDOM Room Service Stirs Audiences To Laughter. "Room Service", the current Players Club production, opened Monday night which it convulsed with laughter. The farce, a former Marx Brothers vehicle, is written by John Murray and Allen Boretz, Jonathan Richman, Jr., and William James Stevens, Jr., direct the local production which the club describes as "this season's 'belly-laf' play". Once again the staging is excellent. The action is fast and the cast throws itself into it with such vivacity as to threaten exhaustion after each night's curtain call. Favorite actors appear in decidedly different roles to the apparent delight of all. J. David Narbeth as Harry Binson is extremely and effortlessly funny. Stafford W. Parker plays elusive angel Jenkins with his usual aplomb. Willard G. Reese as Faker Englund is a consistent funny man. Washington West, III, as the tightly uncompassed Gordon Miller oozes insouciance and a master-of-his-fate chestiness. The funniest scenes are those in which Narbeth, Reese, and West work together in contagious rapport. Mr. Stevens lifts his role of Shirnoff out of the farce classification into a sort of pathos with considerable skill. Charles Stockdale as the glib playboy is responsible for many hearty laughs. Irvin R. MacElwee as ambitious hotel-man Wagner is glibbie in (Continued on Page 5)

Consider Joint School Management

A plan for the possible joint operation of the schools of a number of the surrounding districts, including Swarthmore, was studied at the meeting of the School Board last Tuesday night. This is embodied in preliminary form in a report from the County Board of School Directors, which study is required by a recent Act of the Legislature, to prepare a plan for the joint operation of the schools of the county and a merger of school districts for the organization of more efficient administrative units.

One of the advantages of the plan would be the increased State reimbursement authorized by present laws. This is an important factor inasmuch as some of the districts, like Swarthmore, are reaching the maximum taxing powers and yet are faced with rising school costs. In its preliminary form the plan calls for a joint board which would manage both the elementary and high schools, thus enabling the maximum use of school facilities in the area. The problem faced by the Swarthmore Board is the loss of possible tuition income if districts now sending pupils to the high school should join with their own districts and establish their own schools.

Mr. Denworth, Chairman of the Instruction Committee, and Mr. Morey, Supervising Principal, presented a report on the philosophy and objectives of the elementary schools and of the high school. These statements have been prepared by the teachers in their study of curriculum reconstruction and are continually under appraisal by the teaching staff as it evaluates a program in the light of new and changing conditions.

Important property repairs were called to the attention of the Board. The cold weather has delayed the installation of the drainage line from the school property to Little Crum Creek. Sketches and specifications were presented for extensive repairs to the auditorium walls and authorization made to advertise for bids for having this work done. It was also reported that an extensive study had been made of the available types of moving equipment and specifications would be proposed for a tractor and gang mower as a basis for the purchase of such equipment for maintaining the turf on the school's three athletic fields.

At the suggestion of Dr. McCahan, several members will attend a meeting at the University of Pennsylvania early in March for the study of the use of new tax income sources as provided by the last Legislature. Also, the Board will arrange a special meeting with Dr. Leech, the County Superintendent of Schools, to study with him further the aspects of the joint district problems.

Parents Discuss School Facilities

"Are our present school facilities adequate? This topic was discussed at a meeting of pre-school and kindergarten parents held on February 10, at the Rutgers Avenue School.

A panel of school authorities and parents presented this problem before a large and interested audience. It was brought out that at present one teacher was handling as many as 37 children in kindergarten, with only voluntary help from parents, and that census figures indicate that classes entering Swarthmore Schools in the next few years will be equally large. Among the questions raised by members of the panel were: Is $35.40 too many for a kindergarten class? Is it good practice to have small children go to school in the afternoon rather than the usual morning time? (At present some children do this, because of crowded facilities.) Can the first grade teachers give proper individual attention to children in the large classes which will be enrolled in the next few years? Is there any way additional teachers and space for classes could be provided?

Miss Young, Principal of the Elementary Schools, stated that although 25 is an ideal number for a kindergarten or first grade class, she agreed with Mrs. Raymond K. Den-worth of the School Board, that our present budget will not permit the necessary expansion to make this possible. With rising costs of operation, the school district will do well to maintain its present high standards. Monetary problems are made more pressing by recent State legislation which happens to be unfavorable to suburban districts such as Swarthmore.

The importance of active parent interest was emphasized by Mr. Frank Morey, Supervising Principal of the Swarthmore Schools. He pointed out that the school system is constantly being improved along the lines suggested by community interest and cooperation. It was clear from this meeting that if parents want to have small classes in the elementary school, their desires will be taken seriously by the school administration.

Recipe for Happiness Given at Club

A large and interested number of members and guests of the Swarthmore Woman's Club listened to Dr. Earl D. Bond Tuesday when he spoke on the topic "Making Our Later Years Happy and Effective". His experience as Medical Director of Research at the Institute of Mental Hygiene of the University of Pennsylvania plus his delightful sense of humor made his discussion more than methods and techniques.

Dr. Bond stressed the values of preparation for the last forty years during the preceding forty by cultivating outside interests. "Habits should be kept as servants, not masters, and by emotional moderation, flexibility and tolerance," he stated, "advancing adulthood could be prevented from becoming rigid and selfish."

Tea followed the meeting, with Mrs. George A. Hoadley and Mrs. W. H. Gehring at the tea table. On Tuesday, February 24 at 1:00 p. m., the luncheon honoring the new members will be held in the club house. The program will be "Thumb-Nail Sketches," a group of original humorous character readings, by Mrs. Griffith Levering, president of the Lansdowne Twentieth Century Club, and several two-piano numbers by Patricia Hopkins of Swarthmore, and Jeanne Vint, of Philadelphia, students of the New School of Music.

Mrs. Percy G. Gilbert is chairman of the luncheon committee, Mrs. Robert Allison is chairman of serving with Mrs. Robert A. Boyle as co-chairman. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Howard J. Dingle. Tele. Sw 0188.

THE WELL

... Mankind's earliest step in the control of water, permitting him to live and pasture his herds where no natural spring or brook was found.

Today... in Palestine... almost under the very shadow of Mt. Gerizim, we can find one of the earliest and most famous wells in history—MOSES' WELL. Known in the days of the Old Testament... it is 75 feet deep... dug through solid limestone. For many centuries it has seen the old worn stone at its mouth... silent witness of countless thousands who have refreshed themselves here through the centuries.

In the 29th Chapter of the Book of Genesis we read that it was here that Jacob first met his beloved Rachel. Also in the Book of John we are told that this old well was then the watering place for both man and beast... as it still is today.

Jacob's Well was one of the earliest recorded efforts of man to dig for water. It is therefore of historic interest, because it shows the essential part that water has always played in the life and development of civilization.

This is the third of a series of narratives which graphically tell the story of water. In the near future will be shown man's early efforts in the distribution of water.

Dr. Hart Tells L.V.V. Education Trends

Present and future trends in education was the subject chosen by Dr. Olive Ely Hart, in her address before the Swarthmore League of Women voters at Whittier House on Friday, February 13. Dr. Hart is a member of the Department of Education at the University of Pennsylvania and for many years was principal of the Philadelphia Girls' High School.

Salary scale is only one of the factors influencing the choice of teaching as a profession, according to Dr. Hart. In her estimation social discriminations and the extent of welcome extended to teachers by the community is of even greater importance. Dr. Hart related the story of one veteran, typical of many, who returned to civilian life determined to join the teaching profession and through this medium exert his influence to produce a future world in which such wars could not occur. She felt that the future welfare of our children depended upon our encouraging similar idealistic young people to join the teaching field.

THE SWARTHMOREAN

RAISE NURSING FEE

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Community Health Society of Central Delaware County held at the Borough Hall, Mrs. William Thatcher as chairman of the finance committee recommended that the fee for nursing service be raised from $1.50 to $1.75 a visit. This recommendation was made after the finance committee studied the cost of a nurse's visit. The board of directors accepted the recommendation and as of February 1, 1948, the fee for a visit will be $1.75 up to one hour and 40¢ for each additional one-quarter hour. Fees will be adjusted for those unable to pay the full cost of service. The Community Health Society as a member agency of the Community Chest of Philadelphia and Vicinity gives free care to those unable to pay for nursing service.

On African Expedition

H. S. Adopts School In Ruhr Valley

Since the original organization of the C.A.R.E. campaign Swarthmore High School has gotten well under way. The special week of the C.A.R.E. drive has been decided upon as March 1 to 5 inclusive. A town in Germany's Ruhr valley, Stade, will receive all our contributions. Under the faculty sponsorship of Henry Hofmann with the help of both the History and English department rapid progress is being made.

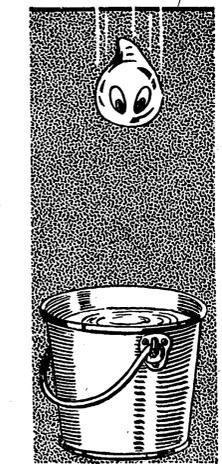

The student head of the C.A.R.E. program, William R. Huey has already contacted the head of the C.A.R.E. program in Philadelphia. He has also contacted the Bible Study class and helped with the original planning. The program is divided into five main sections—the Activities Committee headed by Elinor Karns, the original Planning Committee headed by Judy Dickson, the Public Relations Committee headed by George Hay, Program Director Charles Keenen, and the Business Committee headed by Ralph Brown with the advice and assistance of Frederick Yocum the High School World Culture teacher. The Activities Committee and the Original Planning Committee planned the special week and the programs to be held during C.A.R.E. week. On Monday morning, March 1, will be a program of opening exercises arranged and headed by Sundry Ford. In this program the Burgess, J. Paul Brown, will open the drive and then there will be a speech by William Sollman, who played an exceedingly active part in German politics before the war. He has sent many C.A.R.E. packages to Germany himself, and was very glad to hear of Swarthmore's program. On Wednesday, March 3, there will be an assembly in the High School headed by Pat Gallagher, whose program will be disclosed later. On Thursday, March 4, there will be an Activities Night headed by Charles Andes in the Clothier Memorial of college.

The Public Relations Committee is divided into three main parts: the Publicity Committee headed by Paul Hunner, the Art Committee headed by Doria Schuyler, and Group Contacts headed by David McCahan. The Art committee will help in the advertising which is already under way. Under the Publicity Committee are the Town contacts in charge of Donny Dickinson who will make individual contacts throughout the town in the near future. The Photography Committee, headed by George Thorbahn, has taken a good number of publicity pictures already, and plans to take many more. Last under Publicity is the Newspaper Committee, headed by Allen Willis. The Group Contacts Committee is divided into four groups—the Service Groups headed by Bicky Thompson will contact such organizations as the Women's Club, the Church headed by Dana Swan will contact the town's churches, the College headed by Dolores Jester will contact the college for any additional contributions outside of their own campaign, and the Businessmen headed by Raymond Denworth will contact the businessmen and their organizations. The program Director, Charles Keenen, will take charge of all contributions from the Junior High and Grammar Schools. The Business Committee headed by Ralph Brown, reports a $40.00 contribution from the faculty, a $30.00 contribution from the 5th Grade Mother's and a $20.00 contribution from the Cafeteria. Also during the week of February 23 to 28 the College Theatre will place in the hands of the school a large number of tickets for the current movies from which the school will receive 10 per cent of all the proceeds for the C.A.R.E. drive. A wonderful start has been made and we sincerely hope that through your co-operation this campaign can be made a success.

Feb. 29 Proclaimed Red Cross Sunday

Sunday, February 29, has been proclaimed as Red Cross Sunday, a day of worship, a day a taking stock, a day of thankfulness for good fortune, and especially a day set aside for awareness of those in distress and acknowledgement of ability to help, by the President of the United States. March brings to everyone in the United States the annual appeal of the Red Cross for funds. J. Paul Brown, campaign fund chairman for Swarthmore, has assembled 122 workers to help Swarthmore give its share of $8,500 to further the humanitarian work of the Red Cross. The Red Cross knows no boundaries; tolerates no prejudices, and emergency is its call to service. But it must have the support of the entire community of it to continue its valuable services to the serviceman, veteran, civilian and their families. For the sake of the unsuspecting thousands who will be stricken this year; for the sake of those thousands destined for injury and anguish the Red Cross turns to the community for help. Each resident is asked to remember when the Red Cross worker calls for funds that the Red Cross belongs to everyone and everyone must share the cost.

Leib, of the State University of Iowa. Dr. Palmer who is Professor Emeritus of Botany, Swarthmore, was urged by President John W. Nason to accept the appointment for the following reasons: "It is my impression that the new 'Sanity Code' is a real step forward and to encourage or assist its effective operation is so much to the good. Since the original organization of the C.A.R.E. campaign, Swarthmore High School has gotten well under way. The special week of the C.A.R.E. drive has been decided upon as March 1 to 5 inclusive. A town in Germany's Ruhr valley, Stade, will receive all our contributions. Under the faculty sponsorship of Henry Hofmann with the help of both the History and English department rapid progress is being made.

The student head of the C.A.R.E. program, William R. Huey has already contacted the head of the C.A.R.E. program in Philadelphia. He has also contacted the Bible Study class and helped with the original planning. The program is divided into five main sections—the Activities Committee headed by Elinor Karus, the original Planning Committee headed by Judy Dickson, the Public Relations Committee headed by George Hay, Program Director Charles Keenan, and the Business Committee headed by Ralph Brown with the advice and

On Wednesday, March 3, there will be an assembly in the High School headed by Pat Gallagher, whose program will be disclosed later. On Thursday, March 4, there will be an Activities Night headed by Charles Andes in the Clothier Memorial of college.

The Public Relations Committee is divided into three main parts: the Publicity Committee headed by Paul Hummer, the Art Committee headed by Dora Schuyler, and Group Contacts headed by David McCahan. The Art committee will help in the advertising which is already under way. Under the Publicity Committee are the Town contacts in charge of Donny Dickinson who will make individual contacts throughout the town in the near future. The Photography Committee, headed by George Thurbahn, has taken a good number of publicity pictures already, and plans to take many more. Last under Publicity is the Newspaper Committee, headed by Allen Willis.

The Group Contacts Committee is divided into four groups—the Service Groups headed by Bicky Thompson who will contact such organizations as the Women's Club, the Church headed by Dana Swan will contact the town's churches, the College headed by Dolores Jester will contact the colleg for any additional contributions outside of their own campaign, and the Businessmen headed by Raymond Denworth will contact the businessmen and their organizations. ## Lt. Parker tells Navy Benefits

The second meeting of the Swarthmore Unit of the Navy's Fill the Fleet Program was held in the American Legion Room, Borough Hall at 7:15 Mon. evening, Feb. 16. In opening the meeting Chairman Thomas Baird read a letter of appreciation from Jay T. Palmer, Comdr. U.S.N., officer in charge of the Philadelphia area. Howard Sipler informed the group that the Swarthmore Rotary Club had passed a resolution endorsing the Fill the Fleet Program. Lt. Alvin Parker, U.S.N., of Chester, recruiting officer in Wilmington, told of the Navy's need of 10,000 men per month on a nationwide scale. He said re-enlistments had been encouraging to date. Retirement in 20 years, a pay basis where one dollar in the Navy equals $3.90 in civilian life, and the offering of the best of training in 80 trade schools, were listed as some of the advantages the Navy offers men within the enlistment age group (17 to 31). Lt. Parker stated that although some of the physical standards had been lowered the moral and character requirements remained at their usual high. No one with a police record is considered. Arrangements were made to have a film shown to the senior class of Swarthmore High School and Lt. Parker to address the class.

They will now make their home with their son, Leroy, at 333 Sherbrook avenue, Upper Darby. Mr. Andrews was with the Pennsylvania Railroad for 48 years. He was one of the earliest members of the Swarthmore Fire and Protective Association and maintained an active interest in the Fire Company up to the present time. Both he and his wife were devoted to the borough and share the regret of their friends and neighbors at their departure.

Mrs. Earle P. Yerkes of Princeton avenue entertained the Reading Group at a luncheon at her home, February 12.

Suspension Lifted

The suspension of the PHOENIX, Swarthmore College student newspaper, which was announced by President John W. Nason on February 13, was officially ended on Tuesday, February 24. The new editors, Richard Everett son of Dr. Samuel Everett of Moylan and Paul B. Trescott of Abington, said that their first issue would appear on Wednesday, March 3. The temporary suspension was the result of the publication of an editorial about the Kinsey report of January 16 during the winter semester. In discussing the temporary ban, Dr. Nason said he intended to make it clear that "the editor had reflected no discredit on the present editors. It was caused specifically by the Kinsey editorial written by the previous editor."

Intervening Period

"The intervening period," he stated, "has been used for a re-appraisal and a reclarification of the PHOENIX on campus." He declared further, "Plans have been asked out with the editors, the Student Council and the Student Affairs Committee so that in the future the PHOENIX may reflect student opinion more accurately." From now on the editor will be chosen by the Student Council upon nomination of the PHOENIX editorial board. PHOENIX policy will also be discussed regularly by the Student Council. In his final statement, Dr. Nason said, "So far I am concerned, there will be no censorship of the PHOENIX. It would be better to have no college newspaper than one subject to censure or administration censorship."

DUNNING DEFINES SUCCESS TRAITS

H. F. Dunning of the Scott Paper Company addressed the Home and School Association on the topic "What Industry expects the High School and the Parents to do in fitting their boys and girls for their responsibilities in the business world", Tuesday night in the high school auditorium. A forced choice between the varsity basketball game at Springfield and the announced meeting cut the size of Dunning's audience greatly but the 150 persons who heard him were stimulated to a sound approach to this much discussed question.

Six qualities were listed by the speaker as those desired in young men and women graduates of high schools by industry: consent to start at the bottom and learn by experience plus some night school courses; patience to realize that in a large industrial operation progress is steady but takes time; honesty and a respect for rules and policies; ambition and competitive spirit; original thinking; loyalty to the company.

Dunning offered the following suggestions as to the preparation for industry needed from high schools by students; a board basic knowledge and understanding of current-events national, social, and political; an awareness of what industry is all about which involves and analysis of such things as free enterprise vs. the "sms", what stockholders are and do, to get dividends; what does industry do with all the dollars it collects; some understanding of the career differences between "big business" and "little business"; vocational testing and guidance in moderation; a course which would break down the activities, possibilities, and requirements in such broad fields as Purchasing, Personnel Research Advertising, Sales, Accounting, Production and Finance.

General advice on how to make the youth in your community better than average in their future careers included the encouragement of the following qualities: good sportsmanship and a sense of humor; a deep sense of fair play and honesty, acceptance of responsibility, readiness for teamwork and and cooperation, reliance on ability rather than pull, conviction that there is no short-cut to the top

Dunning stressed as an indispensable requirement for business success an understanding of people and an ability to "transform that understanding into the desired action". To this end he stated that the mastery of three subjects, psychology, English composition, and public speaking, is essential. Encouraging to girls was his side comment that "today they can and do get jobs in almost every category at one time pretty much reserved for men."

Prior to the evening's talk David McCahan presented the student program for CARE Week and asked the fullest cooperation in its goal from all members of the Home and School Association. Marvel Wilson, vice-president and program chairman of the association introduced the speaker.

Musicians Win Honors

Three Swarthmore H.S. musicians won recognition recently in District and State Festival groups. Bill Potts, clarinetist was Swarthmore's lone representative to the State Band held at Elwood City. Jerry Goodman, cellist won first chair at the District Orchestra held at Radnor and Harold Ogram, Jr., oboist held the unique distinction of being selected to participate in both the District orchestra and the District Band. These school musicians are chosen on the basis of superior musicianship to represent their local high school and upon arrival at the Festivals, compete with players from all other schools for choice seating assignments.

To Present Concert

Mrs. Irma Wolpe of the Swarthmore College Music Department will present a recital of modern piano music on Sunday, February 29, at 8:15 p. m. in Whittier House. This will be the first performance at Swarthmore of Stravinsky's "Serenade" and A. J. Swan's "Invocation to Clio." The public is cordially invited to attend.

MEDALS RECEIVED BY NAVAL VETERANS

"Navy Night," February 16 topped the season in attendance and interest, for the members of the Ainsworth-Wernher Post 427 of the American Legion.

Under the sponsorship of Ferris W. Mitchell, the meeting got underway with an address by Captain James R. Bagshaw Jr., Commander of the First Brigade Surface-submarine Reserve of the Fourth District. Captain Bagshaw outlined the present organization and activities of the Naval Reserve, and discussed plans for the future of the Reserve.

Following Captain Bagshaw's speech, the technicolor film "Silent Service" impressed upon the audience of the duties, dangers and importance of the little-publicized submarine branch of the Navy.

"Operation Crossroads", also in technicolor, presented a first-hand, authoritative record of the atom bomb experiment at Bikini.

Naval veterans present received their awards of the American Defense and Victory medals.

At the business meeting which followed the showing of the films the Post approved the sponsorship by the Post of one entertainment at the Perry Point Maryland, Veterans Hospital. The meeting approved also that a bronze plaque be prepared bearing the names of all Swarthmore residents who lost their lives in the armed services during World War II. This plaque will be placed on the War Memorial to be erected.

Robert Erskine is sponsor for the March meeting on the 15th of that month. Roy Mack, assistant manager of the Philadelphia Athletics and members of the 1947 American Legion team will be the guests of honor. Films of the World's Series will be shown.

Transport Command in China and India during the war.
