Budget

The annual financial report of the School District of Swarthmore for the year ending July 3, 1950 has been completed and reported to the Department of Public Instruction by the Secretary, Hilda Lang Denworth. This report summarizes the financial condition of the School District for the fiscal year 1949-50.

The report shows that total expenditures by the School District for the year just closed amounted to $291,328.95, of which $265,826.20 was for current expenses involved in the operation of the schools, $19,595.05 was for debt service, and $5,927.70 was for capitol outlay.

This money was derived from a number of sources, as follows: from property taxes of which $209,558.88 was current tax and $5,436.42 delinquent tax. This total provided 62.5% of the receipts of the year. It is noted that the collections were 96% of the amount levied, which is considered very good. The next largest receipts item was the tuition of non-resident pupils, which provided 16% of the income or $55,257.49. The balance on hand at the beginning of the year was $36,081.11, or 11% of the receipts. The state appropriation on account of teacher's salaries was $34,682.33, or 10% of the income. There were several miscellaneous items which brought up the total receipts to $343,547.54.

The report shows that the assessed valuation of the real estate in the district was $6,192,365, against which was levied for school purposes a 35 mill tax. This brought the face of the tax duplicate up to $218,208.03.

The total expenditures of the School District are distributed in eight departments. Six of these are designated items of current expense and include the following: A. General Control—$8,055.17, or 3%; B. Instruction—$192,719.32, or 72.5%; C. Auxiliary Agencies and Coordinate Activities—$12,611.87, or 5%; D. Operation of School Plant—$30,053.83, or 11%; E. Maintenance of School Plant—$9,728.67, or 4%; and F. Fixed Charges—$12,657.34, or 4.5%. The total current expenditures were $265,826.20, most of which have to do with direct instructional services for children. Additional expenses included debt service at a cost of $19,575.05, which covered the reduction of debt and the payment of outstanding bonds amounting to $14,000. Capital Outlay items amounted to $5,927.70.

The largest items have to do with expenses of instruction and related activities under Departments B and C. In these $157,746.59 were for teachers' salaries and $21,524.79 were for staff salaries. An additional $12,330.30 was spent on text books, instruction supplies, and other expenses of instruction. The expenditures for coordinate activities cover principally nursing service, cafeteria service, and support of extra-curricular activities of the school.

The excellent financial condition of the School District is shown by the large margin of assets over liabilities. The total assets of the District are $1,263,095.60, of which $1,020,429.07 are for school buildings, sites, textbooks, and equipment. On this school property the

HORNETS CLINCH 1ST EDCO HALF

In Winning Stride
Now To Win
Series

After a series of delays and postponements the Hornets finally played off their first half tie with Lansdowne on Riverview field on Monday night and emerged victorious by a score of 4-1. The Hornets thus won the first half championship of the Edco League and will play the winners of the second half after that has been decided. The playoffs for the league championship will probably take place within the next week. The Hornets slumped somewhat during the second half, losing four out of five games during one period of time but have lately recovered their winning stride and should have a good chance to win the title.

Monday night's game with Lansdowne was featured by Billy Ziegenfus' steady pitching, Jack Thompson's and Russ Snyder's clutch hitting. While not at full strength, the team functioned smoothly and capably.

On Tuesday evening the Hornets defeated East Lansdowne 5-2 in their last scheduled game of the second half. Jim Logan pitched effectively and was aided considerably in the last inning when the team completed it's first triple play of the season.

The Clippers have now completed their schedule for the season while the Midgets still have two games left on their schedule, one with Yeadon at home tomorrow morning and one next Saturday at Springfield.

Chamberlin of Ardmore, Mrs. Florence A. Harris of Manoa, Mrs. Ruth E. Preston of Penn Wynne, and Mrs. Kathryn H. Dölkman of Collegeville.

MRS. J. KEIGHTON BURIED TUESDAY

Long-Time Resident
Succumbed At Home Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Hunter Keighton of 1 South Chester road, were conducted by the Rev. J. Jarden Guenther at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Patterson Funeral Home on Baltimore avenue, Media. Interment was in Eastlawn cemetery.

Mrs. Keighton who passed away Friday night at her home had not been in good health for the past year, but had been bedfast only the last two weeks of her life. She was the last surviving charter member of the Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Episcopal Church, Swarthmore of which Mr. Guenther, now in charge of St. Peter's in the Great Valley, is an ex-rector.

Born in Philadelphia on June 20, 1874 Mrs. Keighton moved to Swarthmore as a bride of one year. She and her husband W. Barker Keighton, editor of the Weekly Rent Record and Sales List, a Philadelphia real estate paper, purchased the house at 307 Yale avenue, 53 years ago. Mr. Keighton died in 1939 and Mrs. Keighton and her daughters continued to live there until six years ago when they moved to the South Chester road apartment. A son, Walter B. Keighton, Jr., and five grandchildren Charles, Robert, June, James and Leslie Keighton of Cedar lane, survive in addition to the daughters the Misses Martha and Irma Keighton.

Mrs. Keighton was one of the last two surviving charter members of the Swarthmore Fire Company Auxiliary. During World War I she served as captain of Red Cross Canteen Services under Mrs. George Childs W. Drexel. She had been a registry assessor in Swarthmore, a member of the Swarthmore Woman's Club, and a director of the local branch of the Needlework Guild for which she annually crocheted 20 to 30 garments. Her hobby was Philately.

COUNTY CANCER TOTAL $28,726

Directors of the local chapter of the American Cancer Society, Delaware County Unit, Dr. A. Maxwell Sharp, President, reported that a total of $28,726.66, had been contributed to the now completed 1950 Fund Drive. Dr. Sharp proposed the appointment of a full-time, paid executive director, and the expansion of services to the poor. Other recommendations were that the educational program at the high school level should be accelerated and that the Board look into the development of a volunteer file, where both the skills and time which volunteers have available would be listed.

In the five years that the Delaware County Unit has been in existence, much progress has been made in aiding Cancer victims. Among the features of the program are a "Loan Closet", from which equipment is taken to patients homes for their use, and the nursing service which has supplied over 21,987 dressings for the patients.

Mrs. Ernest Lewis of Yale avenue entertained at a luncheon at her home Saturday in honor of Miss Helen Margaret Keenen of Harvard avenue who will be married September 2.

Public Hearing

Borough Council will hold a Public Hearing on Monday, August 7, at 7:30 p.m. in Borough Hall. The question will be whether or not to retain Rent Control in Swarthmore.

SRA FERRY TRIP THRILLS YOUNG

Program Finalities
Stress Aid Of Many

The concluding week of activities of the Swarthmore Recreation Association ended last Friday with a ferry-boat ride for the primary group.

Thirty-two youngsters and a few mothers drove to the Chester-Bridgeport ferry where they were guests of Mr. Kapulski, general manager of the ferry line. The Children were taken aboard the Lackawanna, which is the one boat with an upper deck, and that upper deck was reserved for the exclusive enjoyment of the Swarthmore group. Mr. Robert Cornog, of the ferry line, explained the mechanics of the boat and allowed each child to go into the pilot house and watch Captain Turner steer the vessel. While this was going on, two complete round trips across the river were completed.

In the meantime, Mr. Kapulski had started off in the newest ferry boat, the Chester, and, for the special benefit of the Swarthmore children, gave an exciting demonstration of fire hoses in action. This was the only time these hoses have been used except for actual service. The Lackawanna slowed down in order to get the full benefit of the water spraying exhibition, so that it became necessary to let off steam with a deafening roar. This, the children said, was as exciting as the Swarthmore Fourth of July water fight with sound effects added!

This unusual climax brought the summer program to an end for the primary group.

The most serious problem for Mrs. J. Francis Taylor, director of summer activities at Rutgers, was a shortage of equipment due in part to insufficient funds for this purpose and in part to the exceptionally large enrollment. Frank R. Morey leaped into the breach by providing an extra room for the second four-year group, and supplying blocks from College Avenue. An entire set of equipment was borrowed from Media Friends School. The Roger Russells spent a week-end building a climbing saw horse and their children gave a number of hollow blocks which they and enjoyed for years. Randolph Lee also built a climbing saw horse and a smaller horse and presented them to the Association. The Howard Jackson family contributed several wheel toys, puzzles and various other items.

Mrs. Taylor also wishes to indicate her appreciation to the following ladies for their service as lifeguards during the visit of the primary group to the Morrow pool: Beth Preston, Marion Campbell, Elizabeth Garrahan and Margaret Smith.

Dr. Ned Williams, president of the Association, expressed satisfaction at the termination of a successful summer program, which was due in large part to the fine work and cooperativeness of every staff member.

NAME MISS FOLEY GUIDANCE HEAD

Mrs. Daniels Succeeds
Miss Blodgett As
Music Director

The Swarthmore School Board announces the election of two additional staff members for the school for next year. As teacher of vocal music the Board has elected Elva Smith Daniels of Mount Airy, Germantown. Mrs. Daniels has her bachelor's and master's degree in music from Temple University. She has taught three years in the Warminster, Bucks County Schools and four years at Collingdale. She will bring to the music program of the schools a great talent at the piano, a successful record in building an elementary school music program and a talent for writing and editing music, for she is serving as music editor of the Instructor magazine.

After carefully considering the recommendations of the Survey Committee made last spring, the Board has decided to add to the faculty of the high school a guidance counselor and have appointed Miss Jewel C. Foley of Bryn Mawr to this position. Miss Foley, a former teacher of Mathematics and Science, has served as school counselor in the Lansdale Schools and the Norristown schools. She has also had experience as a Social case worker in the Neighborhood League at Wayne and had industrial experience when she worked for the National Union Radio Corporation of Lansdale. A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, she has her master's degree from the same place and has in addition studied guidance techniques at Columbia University. At present she is working for her doctorate at the University of Pennsylvania. Miss Foley will bring to the work, broad experience, a trained outlook and a keen understanding of children and their problems.

Aid Migrant Workers

George M. Stabler of Rogers Lane, Wallingford, is spending the summer in Michigan and Illinois, assisting in the program of aid for migrant farm workers of the Home Missions Council of North America.

Mr. Stabler is a graduate of sociology at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

In Leelanau County, Mich., he assisted in a program that included counselling, recreation, social service work, education and religious services for the 2000 migrants and their families who go there every year at cherry-picking time. In Illinois, he helped briefly on a similar program and then made a survey of the state's migrant situation for use in planning future programs of assistance.

Government estimates indicate that there are about 2,500,000 migrants and their families who make a precarious living by following the harvests around the country.

The Home Missions Council, with a permanent migrant staff of 15 and some 200 additional summer workers, has carried out a ministry to these people for nearly 30 years. The program now extends in 26 states and is supported by the members of 22 major Protestant denominations.

Seven grandchildren; three brothers Charles H. of Rockledge, Frank of Norristown, and Herbert of Berkeley, Calif.; and two sisters Mrs. Edmund Walmsley of Philadelphia and Mrs. Paul Stephens of Cincinnati, O., also survive. MRS. CRAEMER BURIED TUESDAY 26 Year Resident Had Many Facets of Influence

Funeral services were in the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church Tuesday afternoon at 2 for Mrs. Helen Louise Craemer, wife of William Craemer, whose death occurred in her 64th year in the University Hospital, Philadelphia, Friday night.

Born Helen Louise Anger in New York City, Mrs. Craemer studied in the city schools and graduated from Hunter College in education. She taught in the New York Public School system until 1912 when her marriage to Mr. Craemer took place.

When Mr. Craemer was appointed treasurer of the Sun Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., in 1924 the Craemers moved to Swarthmore, living for a year and a half on Princeton avenue and then moving to 422 Harvard avenue which is still the family home. Mrs. Craemer was an active member of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, a member of the Woman's Club of Swarthmore, and a former treasurer of the Swarthmore Music Club in which she was keenly interested.

She held her home as a primary responsibility and interest and the five children who survive her speak for the loving care and training which she gave them, constantly. One of her generous community activities was the multi-colored lighted Spruce on her lawn which she had in the Christmas seasons two weeks before the holiday and shone until the New Year was established for many years.

Local Girl Scouts sang Christmas Carols around the tree each Christmas Eve. On May 30, 1944, Mrs. Craemer launched the "Lake Erie" a Sun Ship tanker.

Mrs. Craemer is survived by her husband; three daughters, Mrs. Helen D. Staley, Miss Alice R. Craemer, and Dr. Virginia C. Craemer, an interne at the University Hospital, all of Swarthmore; two sons, William Craemer, Jr., and John Henry Craemer, both of Springfield and both certified public accountants, one a partner in his own firm; and by two grandchildren, William J. and Nancy, children of William Craemer, Jr.

The Rev. Joseph P. Bishop was in charge of the funeral service with interment following in Arlington Cemetery, Drexel Hill.

The shop was housed at that time in a 10 by 20 foot frame building with windows on all four sides, resting for three dollars a month. Originally located near the railroad station, on the site marked by a stone memorial before the building of the underpass, the structure had been the borough's first post office. When larger postal quarters were secured Ellis Yarnall, postmaster and station agent, purchased the little one-story building and had it moved to Dartmouth avenue where it became the Town Shoe Shop and stood on the approximate site now occupied by the Orange Cleaners. Next door was the town livery stable where department store delivery wagons changed to fresh horses for the return trip to Philadelphia. Out front was the old fire gong, across the street stood Borough Hall, and nearby a blacksmith shop.

Returns To Italy In the winter of 1908 Mr. Celia returned to Italy, bringing with him upon his return to America early the next year his wife and son Anthony and a master craftsman, Anthony Mazza. Mr. Mazza became a specialist under the tutelage of Mr. Celia and after opening and operating his own shop for over 30 years, is now back with the other four present employees learned their trade in their native Italy and then studied further under the hand of Mr. Celia, Sr.

In 1910 the Celia Shop moved to the basement of the Shier Building on South Chester road, and later to larger quarters located where Sipler's Hardware Store now stands. In 1925 Mr. Celia tore down a livery stable and erected his first building on the site of the current improved structure at 102-104 Park avenue. The Celia Building was extended to the building line in 1932, redesigned and constructed by Mr. Celia's oldest son Anthony who had become an engineer, to include modern apartments adjoining and above. The call for repair processes more convenient than those in Philadelphia early persuaded Mr. (Continued on page five)

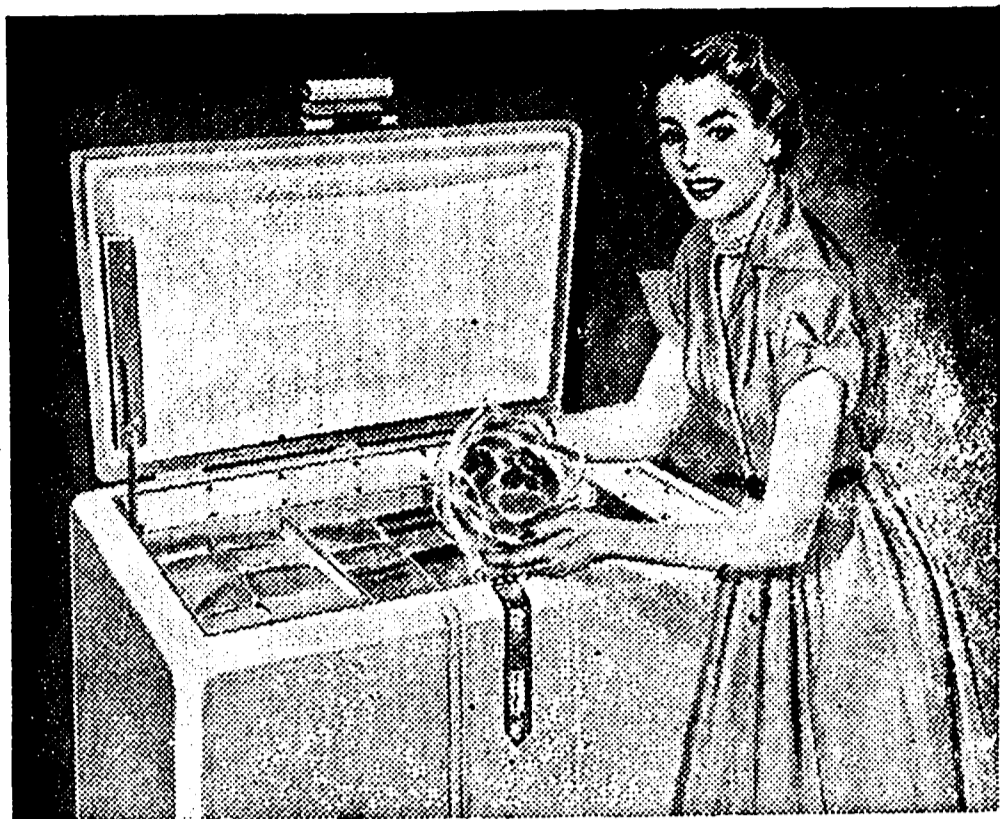

Friday evenings will be Music Night at the Arts Center. On the second and fourth Friday evenings, Mrs. George T. Ashton of Swarthmore will conduct a class in Music Appreciation. Mrs. Ashton is well known in Swarthmore for her activities in musical groups in this locality.

For those who love to sing and study good music (Bach, in particular), Robert Grooters will conduct a choral group every third Friday evening of the month. "This course will be for real musical enjoyment and vocal improvement rather than for performance," said Mr. Grooters, who is a concert singer himself. The remaining Friday evening will be devoted to a variety of musical programs, open to the membership. It will be recalled that the Art Center gives a monthly program for its membership dealing with the different Art form each month. The first of these programs in October will be a Musical Concert by one or two artists.

List Names The director of the Children's Theatre, Mrs. Stuart Graves, has been receiving names during the summer for the waiting list for enrollment in the dramatics classes for children for the coming season. All those whose names are on this list, together with last year's members, will receive notice the first week in September to definitely sign up with Mrs. Graves. The Children's Theatre has been such a popular event for children of 7 to 13 years of age that there has had to be a limit set as to the number of children accepted and since their performance last spring of "The Wizard of Oz", the interest has grown. Although most of the Theatre classes will be held as usual on Saturday mornings, a class for the older and more experienced boys and girls will be taught by Mrs. Graves on Thursday afternoons. September 24 is the date set for the Annual Open House and teachers' exhibit when registration for membership and for classes will take place. Classes will start the first week in October. Many things have been going on at the Community Arts Center in Wallingford this summer. The session of classes held in July attracted many students and all classes offered proved very successful. The children's classes in painting, leatherwork, dramatics, woodworking, and pottery were so popular that in many cases the groups were divided into two or three each.

This summer the Center turned its attention to the teen-age group and special classes in Dramatics and Painting for just this age were well attended. Encouraged by this success, the Arts Center will continue to provide activities for this age, which has hitherto been too old for the children's classes and too young for the adult activities. Approximately 40 adult members took advantage of the various evening and afternoon Painting classes conducted by Cyril Gardner and Mrs. Katherine Fussell.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goodwin of Rose Valley entertained at a dinner party at their home Saturday evening in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Dwight Cooley of Columbia avenue. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Cooley, those attending included Mr. and Mrs. George M. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Paxson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. O. Redgrave, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dethloff, and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Banks of Swarthmore.
