8th Antiques Fair
Due April 14, 15, 16Large Committee Readies
For Visit of 25 Dealers,
Varied Wares

The Eighth Swarthmore Antiques Fair sponsored by the Woman's Club of Swarthmore will be held Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, April 14, 15, 16 in the Club House, from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. except on the final day when the Fair will close at 9 p.m.

Mrs. Francis H. Forsythe and her large, enthusiastic committee of local clubwomen promise several changes in this year's Fair which they believe will make for a more attractive show. They point with satisfaction to the fact that this year's Fair will include more furniture than ever before.

Dealers will enter the Fair from Maine, Maryland, Delaware and, as always, there will be many from Pennsylvania. Seven dealers come from the Pennsylvania Dutch region and among the 25 who will have space at the Fair are several who will display a fine, formal type of antique furniture.

Drawing for door prize will take place each day of the three day Fair, with the name of the fortunate recipient and the name of the dealer from whom prize is to be purchased both to be ascertained by drawing. This is a new departure in handling the door prize for the local club. Another innovation this year is the hot lunch which will be included in each day's luncheon menu. Tea will be served throughout the afternoon.

Posters by high school students distributed throughout the vicinity have occasioned complimentary comment.

Stated Meeting, Tea
At Woman's Club Tues.H. S. Students to Present
Program on Youth
Conservation

The regular stated meeting of the Woman's Club will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, April 7. At this time the new by laws will be acted on and the result of the annual election will be announced.

The election committee has mailed ballots with the following slate: for president, Mrs. Frank G. Keenen; first vice president, Mrs. Morris H. Fussell; second vice president, Mrs. Joseph B. Shane; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Pierre Decrouez; recording secretary, Mrs. C. Russell Phillips; treasurer, Mrs. D. Mace Gowing.

For directors to serve for three years, four of the following are

TEA FOR MISS KIDD

Martha Shaw's Fourth Grade College Avenue Mothers' Group will entertain at tea in honor of R. Mildred Kidd, elementary supervisor, next Friday afternoon at 3:30 at the Lincoln avenue home of Mrs. James B. Bullitt. Mrs. Henry L. Harris, hospitality chairman of the group, will be in charge. Mrs. Thomas G. Casey is grade chairman.

Post Office Closed

The Swarthmore Post Office will be closed today, April 3 between 12 Noon and 3 p.m. in observance of Good Friday.

Blood Donor Day May 7

Mrs. Leslie Wetlaufer, who is in charge of the approaching Red Cross Blood Donor Day for the Borough, has set the date for May 7. The Blood Mobile will be at the Woman's Club from 1 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. on this date. The blood quota is set at 150 pints and all persons able to give blood are urged to do so.

Swarthmore is one of the few communities that gives blood to any resident of the borough who has need of it. The general practice of the Red Cross is to give blood to civilians only when a member of the blood recipient's family has given blood, except in disaster cases. The borough, through the Red Cross, gave blood to four residents during February.

Dr. Wm. H. Erb Featured
For Mothers MeetingRidley Park Surgeon Will Speak on Cancer at 8 P.M. Program

Dr. William H. Erb, a member of the board of the Delaware County unit, American Cancer Society, will be the feature speaker at the April meeting of the Swarthmore Mother's Club to be held this Thursday evening at 8, at the Swarthmore Woman's Club.

Topic of his talk will be "You and Your Cancer, or What Everyone Should Know About Cancer." In addition, he will show two films on the subject entitled "Breast Self-Examination" and "A Doctor Speaks His Mind." Literature pertaining to the topic under discussion will be distributed at the meeting. Mrs. Paul Zeher, program chairman, will introduce the speaker.

Dr. Erb, who is a resident of Ridley Park, is chief of surgery at Philadelphia General Hospital, chief surgeon at Taylor Hospital, and clinical professor of surgery at the University of Pennsylvania Graduate school of medicine. During World War II he served as chief of surgical service B, University of Pennsylvania. He interned at the University of Pennsylvania where he was assistant to Dr. Charles Frazer, resident physician. He is chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Delaware County Unit, American Cancer Society.

Hostess for the evening will be Mrs. Norman Weeks, while Mrs. Stephen Podolak and Mrs. Robert Pfeifer will preside at the tea table. Election of officers for the 1953-54 season will be held at the business session of the April meeting. A slate of officers to be elected is being mailed to all club members.

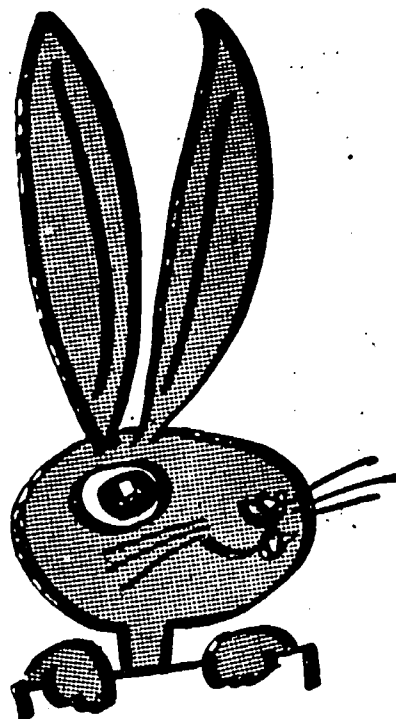

A demonstration of the latest models of electrical appliances and of the latest cooking methods will be held for club members on Wednesday evening, April 15. Those who are interested in attending and who have not been reached by the telephone committee are urged to call Mrs. James Clifford.

NAME CHAPERONS

The Swarthmore Junior Assemblies will hold formal spring parties for the seventh and ninth grades tomorrow evening, April 4, in the Woman's Club.

The seventh grade meets at 7 p.m. with Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Hetherington as hosts. The chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brodhead.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Lee will be hosts for the ninth grade, with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hopper and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grooters as chaperons.

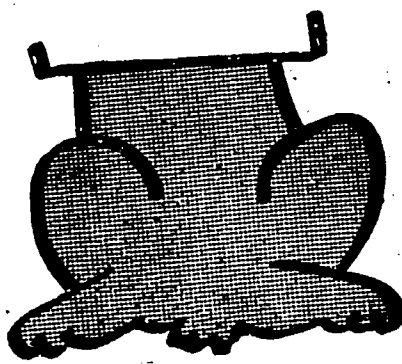

Swarthmore Lions stalked the Easter Bunny in his hutch last Tuesday afternoon and finally spotted him in the kitchen by the tips of his ears just visible above the clouds of steam that camouflaged the stove.

Bent on discussing the Borough's Easter Egg Hunt at 10:30 tomorrow morning on the College Lacrosse Field, the entire Egg Hunt committee of the sponsoring Lions Club was crowded into the kitchen doorway. But the Bunny, in the midst of his dye vats and candy pots was cheerfully oblivious of his visitors, so that their genial roar of greeting caused the ear tips to vanish in an hysteria of alarm; there was a terrible clatter of falling spoons, a sizzling of spilled dyes and an extra spout of steam before the Bunny emerged from the mist to meet his unexpected guests.

Three Age Groups

He seemed completely domesticated by the large Mother Hubbard he wore, but the wild and enthusiastic twinkle in his eyes and his concern for accuracy of detail soothed the Lions Committee, intent on their first hunt. The Bunny wanted to be sure that it began at 10:30 precisely, not quarter of or quarter after; that it was on the College lacrosse field by the Field House off South Chester road, not some other field somewhere else on the College's lovely but sometimes confusing campus.

The Bunny reminded Dr. Peter Coste, head of the committee, that there would be three (3) hunts

Easter Sunrise Service

A Sunrise Service will be held at 6:30 Easter Sunday morning, on the lawn in front of Clothier Memorial on the Swarthmore College Campus. Dr. Howard C. Kee, of the department of religion at the University of Pennsylvania, will be the speaker. The community is cordially invited to attend.

The service is sponsored by the young people of the churches in the community, in cooperation with Swarthmore College students.

In the event of bad weather, the service will be held in the Presbyterian Church on Harvard avenue.

Theta Hostess

The Swarthmore Thetas will be the guests of Mrs. John K. Harp-er at a luncheon at the Inglenook Thursday, April 9, to be followed by a sewing meeting at her home.

Community Good
Friday Service

The traditional Community Good Friday Service will be held today between 12 noon and 3 p.m. at Trinity Church, North Chester road. The Rev. H. Lawrence Whittemore, rector of the Church, will conduct the service. The Rev. Joseph P. Bishop, minister of the Presbyterian Church will deliver the sermons.

Home & School Assoc.
Features Film ShowingSpecial Meeting April 7
Will Run Movies On Family Relations

Tuesday evening, April 7, is the date of a special meeting of the Swarthmore Home and School Association. The feature of the meeting will be the showing of a number of "Family Relations Films," which have been obtained by the health advisory committee of the Home and School Association to be shown at 8 in the High School Auditorium. All interested parents, teachers and friends are invited to attend.

"Families First" is the title of one of the films, relating episodes in the lives of two contrasting families—one full of tensions and frustrations, the other striving for harmony. "Children's Emotions"—portraying fear, anger, jealousy, curiosity and joy is another of the pictures. A third title is "Feeling of Rejection", telling the story of a young girl who learned at an early age not to risk the disapproval of her parents, or indeed anyone.

Nation-wide recognition has been given to these "Family Relations Films" for their excellent presentation of the problems of everyday families and possible solutions. A number of the pictures being shown have been specially selected by the parents' group which has been viewing films each Wednesday morning under the auspices of the same Home and School committee.

Chairman of the evening will be William Bush, principal of Swarthmore High School, who is thoroughly familiar with young peoples' problems, as a parent as well as an educator. Mr. Bush will act as moderator for any discussion which may follow the showing of the pictures.

Because of this Film Showing on April 7, the regular morning film scheduled for April 8 at 10:20 at the High School will be cancelled.

Gettz Heads Borough
In Cancer Campaign

Frank L. Gettz of Harvard avenue will chairmen Swarthmore's 1953 Cancer Drive which began Wednesday morning, April 1.

Mrs. Helen W. Goodwin, Mrs. H. C. Patterson, Mrs. Frank F. Wildebush, Mrs. Thomas W. Hopper, Mrs. John R. Bates and Mrs. Morris W. Hicks are the captains in charge of teams north of the Railroad.

South of the railroad the captains include Mrs. Lloyd E. Kauffman, Mrs. Roger S. Russell, Mrs. S. W. Kletzien, Mrs. David McCahan, Mrs. T. E. Hessenbruch and Mrs. Heston D. McCray.

Frank McFadden will solicit the business district.

Board Approves Plans
For School AdditionExpansion Plans Must Move Quickly for Completion in 1954

Preliminary plans for size and arrangement of units in the proposed Rutgers avenue elementary school addition were approved as presented to School Board Wednesday evening by Architect Howell Lewis Shay, Jr.

In giving the budget estimate for the complete unit as $357,198 Mr. Shay pointed out the project might run considerably less if a lower cost per cubic foot prevailed when bids are taken and if the contingency rate, as usual, runs under the customary allowance. He further explained the plans had been drawn so the addition could be built in several steps if necessary.

The main seven-classroom wing with administration and health suites at a cost of $272,000;

The 2400 square foot multi-purpose room, centered but extending back from the main hallway, at an additional $63,500;

A kitchen adjoining the multi-purpose room at $6,380; and

A stage with dressing and music cubicles at the end of the all-purpose auditorium at another $15,318.

Construction design is one-story brick with large window areas to assure maximum economy of erection and operation, and at the same time, a harmonious complementing of the present structure by an esthetic and functionally worthy example of contemporary architecture.

The new classrooms will measure 22 x 42 feet with space at one end allotted to locker, storage, and toilet areas. Each will have immediate access to the outdoors as well as to a straight center hall running from the far end of the new building to the far end of the old school. Extra classrooms which might be needed in the future can easily be added at the end of the first extension.

Service area will be at the rear and fenced off from the individual play areas of old and new buildings.

The addition will be heated by increasing the present auxiliary heat and hot water steam plant. The architects were authorized, Wednesday, to prepare bidding specifications for the repair of the main hot air system which will be

RED CROSS WORKERS
REACH $9,004 MARK

Area Chairman Mrs. Fred N. Bell, Mrs. H. Hal Gibson, Jr., and Mrs. Charles W. Lukens announce they have practically completed coverage of Swarthmore residential districts according to George Plowman, Red Cross Fund Drive Chairman. The Swarthmore Business District was completed a few days ago by Chairman Al Carney.

Nine thousand and four dollars have been turned in to Treasurer Mrs. Corben C. Shute, reaching 90 per cent of the drive quota, well over last year's 73 per cent total. Anyone away or not yet reached is asked to turn in his Red Cross Gift to one of the above Chairmen, or to Mrs. Paul Smyth or Donald Hand at the Swarthmore National Bank.

retained for the present building. Cost of needed repairs was estimated at $3800.

Mr. Shay reported preliminary sketches had received informal approval from the State. Working plans, ready for formal presentation to the State Department of Instruction, and recommendations on connected renovations to the old building are to be submitted in two weeks. Things must proceed quickly now in order to have the building ready for occupancy in September, 1954.

The Board took action to borrow $60,000 for the next three months to pay the balance due on last year's $85,000 capital outlay for a new high school heating plant, a music wing on the shop building and conversion of several basement rooms to classrooms. This expenditure has been financed from current funds. The loan will make up for this and leave $37,000 cash in the bank at the beginning of the new fiscal year, July 1, to meet obligations at that point such as summer salaries, tax collector's bond, and reserve for insurance. The $400,000 bond issue being asked at the May primary election is for the new elementary extension and to pay off the indebtedness for last year's project.

Low bids for elementary art supplies totaling $953.73 were accepted as also were $874.03 in shop supplies and $309.54 in athletic medical stores.

Chivers Company, Brooklyn was awarded contract for rebinding text books at $1.10 each. Library Bindery, Philadelphia got the library book binding contract on a bid ranging from $1.26 to $1.80 per book according to size. The Industrial Appraisal Company was authorized to make the customary three-yearly complete appraisal of School District buildings and contents for fire insurance purposes. The cost of the survey is $300.

BIG WHEEL

His first "grown-up" two-wheeler—few days in his life will give him such a sense of joy and importance. Perhaps not till the day he owns his first car will he feel like such a big wheel.

You gave him the bicycle—but have you given him the training he needs to ride it safely? Just as you went through a period of training in order to drive a car safely and sensibly—so should he be prepared to ride his bike.

Teach him to obey traffic signals. If he must ride in traffic, teach him to keep to the right... to signal when he wants to turn into a side road or street. There are things that are dangerous to do—stunt-ride in traffic... carry another child on the handlebars... ride in the dark without the proper headlight and tail light... hitch on to a moving vehicle. Make certain that he knows these dangers—and avoids them.

Bicycles are a lot of fun, and they need not end in a traffic tragedy—if you teach your children the rules of bicycle safety. Parents, that is your responsibility.

Children's Theatre In Own 'Pied Piper'

Many Local Children, Parents Active in April 18 Production

"Hamelin Town's in Brunswick by famous Hanover City"—So begins Robert Browning's famous poem, which has long since become a children's classic. On April 18 the Children's Theatre of the Community Arts Center will present its own version of "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" in a three act play, written especially for the cast of 40 boys and girls, with a young audience in mind.

Two performances will be given at 10 a.m. and at 2:30 p.m. in the new auditorium of the Nether-Providence High School on Providence road, Wallingford. Ever since last October, the boys and girls, aging from 8 to 13, in the speech and dramatics classes conducted by Mrs. Stuart Graves of Moylan at the Arts Center, have been studying the life and times of the 13th century during which this story is laid.

Books about medieval times were read and the children brought in drawings of castles and buildings, pictures of medieval fairs, accounts of the people and their customs, and music of the times to help their director write the script of the play. Their efforts have resulted in colorful settings and costumes and many authentic details which have enriched the original story of the famous poet.

A group of boys are now putting the finishing touches on the scenery under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Decker and Mr. Herbert Huse of Swarthmore and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jackson of Rutledge. Mrs. Herbert Huse is in charge of a committee of girls who are making and collecting properties. Mrs. J. M. Kirchgasser of Wallingford has been at the Arts Center every Saturday morning, when the Children's Theatre classes meet, for many months to assist the children in making posters to advertise the play. Every one of the 40 children, upon dismissal from their rehearsal, goes into the poster room to work. "Although many have offered to help me", Mrs. Kirchgasser has said; "I just can't stay away, it is so much fun."

She is assisted by Mrs. H. G. Stauffer of Swarthmore, who was in charge of this work three years previously. One of the pottery teachers at the Arts Center, Mrs. Mary Boyd of Williamson School, was in charge of creating or finding a suitable fountain statue for the Market Place. Costumes have been professionally created by Mrs. Grier Eslick of Rose Valley. Make up will be done by a competent staff, including Mrs. Ned Pyle of Media, Mrs. H. R. Woodall and Mrs. L. S. DeCamp of Wallingford, Mrs. Thomas Peck of Media, Mrs. Richard Willis of Swarthmore, and Mrs. Kirchgasser.

Music will play a significant part in the play. Mrs. Peter J. Kroon, a specialist in folk singing and dancing, has translated old English traditional songs into English and directed some of the children. One of the songs will be actually sung in German. An especially interesting "extra" of the performance will be a comic song and dance by the five "rats" of the play between the acts. It is fortunate that Sally Huse, who plays the part of the cripple boy, can also play the flute. Nina Catherine Jones, another young flautist and a former member of the Theatre, will provide the music of the Pied Piper, as he plays offstage in the street.

Also assisting the children with this big production are Mrs. John McGovern of Wallingford, Mrs. George Heckman, Mrs. Henry L. Harris, Mrs. Christopher Welz, all of Swarthmore, Mrs. Anthony E. Baker and Ned Pyle of Media, Stuart Graves, Parke Miller, and Miss Elise Remont all of Moylan, Mr. and Mrs. Fernand Vandergracht of Rose Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson of Glenolden, Mrs. Carl Anderson of Rutledge, Mrs. Gunner Nilson of Williamson School, Edward Graves, son of the director and a graduate of the Children's Theatre will be in charge of lighting and Dennis Dutton of Wallingford, another graduate, will help on the crew. Mrs. Graves is assisted by Barbara Ether, a Junior at the Nether-Providence High School. This will be the fourth or fifth Children's Theatre production for many of the boys and girls and Swarthmore children look forward each year to these plays. They recall "The Silver Thread" at the Players' Club, "The Wizard of Oz", "The Heart of Gold" and "The Flying Carpet", presented at the Swarthmore High School and they know that this Children's Theatre will offer an artistic and entertaining show.

Lanie Hopper of Dogwood lane, entertained as her week-end guest Arden Scott of Chappaqua, N. Y., a campmate for several summers at Camp Wyoda.

Mrs. Walter L. Douglass of Seaford, Del., with her son Landon, is visiting at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Brown of North Chester road. Mrs. Peter E. Told of Park avenue entertained the Circle Chairmen of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church and their co-chairmen at a luncheon at her home. Gayle Hodge of Strath Haven avenue arrived home Friday from Cornell University for a week of spring vacation.

June Hobbs of Park avenue, a freshman at Ohio Wesleyan University, is home for the Easter holidays. Jimmy Godfrey is recuperating at his home on Vassar avenue following a tonsillectomy in the Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia last Wednesday.

Building New Standpipes For Tomorrow

Another Springfield Water Improvement Project

There are certain hours every day when Pure Springfield Water is being used by thousands of people, all at the same time. To meet these peak-hour requirements—when thousands are taking morning baths, brushing their teeth, brewing breakfast coffee, doing the laundry on Monday—millions of gallons must be stored, ready and waiting, in standpipes and reservoirs.

With the construction of 3 new standpipes in 1953, storage-capacity on Philadelphia Suburban Water Company's distribution system is being increased by nearly 50%. These are part of the continuous Improvement Program which added 2 other large standpipes to the system since the end of World War II—and, by this year's end, will have required an expenditure of $19,000,000.

Building for tomorrow to serve a steadily growing population an ample supply of the best water humanly possible—delivered as dependably as possible—is our Number One Job.

Charlesworth Cites Needed State Reforms

Penn. Professor on Chesterman Committee is L.W.V. Speaker

Although Dr. James C. Charlesworth, University of Pennsylvania professor of political science and member of Governor Fine's "Little Hoover Commission", strongly advocated rewriting Pennsylvania's Constitution when he addressed the Swarthmore League of Women Voters last week at the Presbyterian Church, he was pessimistic on prospects of a Constitutional Convention being authorized by the current session of the Legislature. Disagreements on means of providing delegates for such a convention hamper House Bill No. 1, now in the Senate after being passed by the House of Representatives, he claimed. Dr. Charlesworth, who is supervisor of the education program of the University of Pennsylvania's Institute on Local and State Government, believes delegates should be elected from both small and large districts and supplemented by still others who would be appointed.

Amended 52 times since it was last rewritten in 1874 "Pennsylvania's Constitution is never-the-less one of the most difficult to amend", he said. Its amendment procedure and its Bill of Rights should be retained for their protective features, but the Constitution should be reduced by one-half to two-thirds and be made less precise and more flexible. Other changes recommended as badly needed by Dr. Charlesworth include:

Investing the General Assembly with reduced quantity and improved quality by the use of only one House, numbering about 65 members, an approximately one-fifth of the present Legislature. A salary of $15,000 a year, with allowance for a full-time secretary and travel expenses would put it on a career basis whereas non-regularly employed lawyers and county payers can afford the time such service takes from their regular business.

The Governor should be allowed to succeed himself. The lieutenant-governor should be presiding officer of the legislature and elected by it rather than by popular vote to a non-working office.

The item-reduction veto should be abolished. Balancing the budget should be the legislature's responsibility not the governor's.

The Constitution should name only three executive officers—the governor, the presiding officer of the legislature (who might become governor), and the auditor-general. All others should be treated in statutes as are other department heads. Present State and Internal Affairs Departments should be merged, as also should the Treasury and Revenue Departments. No administrative officer but the governor should be elected by the people. The audit-general should be elected by the opposition party in the legislature to insure his independence and a lively interest in uncovering irregularities.

Judges should be appointed by the governor from a list of lower court judges and lawyers submitted by a committee of representatives of bar associations, law schools, university presidents, chambers of commerce, labor unions, legislators and mayors. Preliminary probationary appointments of five and seven years should precede life appointments. Judicial districts should be enlarged. Courts should be centrally and vigorously administered with a central chief justice empowered to reassign judges and fire those whose dockets are egregiously in arrears.

No more than ten agencies should report to the governor. These should be named by the Legislature but the number not specified. Both governor and legislature need augmented staff assistance to remove their dependence on private sources not always motivated by public consideration. The income tax should be broadened. Taxes on wages and unincorporated businesses now levied by local jurisdictions should be collected by the state from the whole and remitted to localities on a per capita basis. A small measure of graduation should be applied to a state income tax.

Conspicuous Authorities
Authorities should be curtailed. They are a palpable clog to escape debt limitation and make the next generation pay for what this generation builds. They are basically an immoral device, one that will go down as the "stink" of this particular era. They are apt to become so numerous that 20 years from now, in a burst of reform, a broom will be taken and they will be swept out all together.

but the people should be wise to anticipate this unpleasant conclusion and curtail them now. Local debt should be controlled administratively and not by a fraction or formula. Although emphasis on keeping the incurrence well below 7 per cent of assessed valuation should be maintained, a state board should be empowered to grant exception providing need for the debt could be demonstrated by the petitioning municipality and it was followed by a local referendum.

State finance should be unified earmarked monies being confined to custodial, retirement and sinking funds.

Units of local government should be drastically reduced in number. There should be 200 not 2500 school districts. Local government should be held to a minimum of 5,000 persons. They are maintained to provide municipal corporations and officers, and numerous small units are utterly inadequate in the face of present day travel and communication facilities.

Dr. Charlesworth cited a paper he had prepared on "Functional Consolidation for Corporate Survival" which had been well received. An optimum area for school districts would contain 200,000 people, there would be two districts in Delaware County, one at each end. No health district of fewer than 60,000 people can support a proper public health unit, he said.

Preceding Dr. Charlesworth's address Mrs. Mathews Johnson summarized the League workshop on Constitution Revision held March 17.

Board Resignations Announced
Mrs. Thomas G. Casey, local League president, announced the resignations of two members of the board of directors, Mrs. Clair Jeglum and Mrs. John Seybold. Mrs. Jeglum will be replaced as publications chairman by Mrs. Winona Lathbury. Mrs. Seybold who resigned in order to be active in the forthcoming primary election, will not be replaced at once since her work as education chairman is considered finished for the current season.

E. I. AND S. COMMITTEE GIVES HOSPITAL PARTY

The Entertainment, Instruction and Supply Committee of the local branch of the Red Cross gave a party on March 25 at the New Veterans Administration Hospital of West Philadelphia.

Members of the Canteen. The E. I. & S. Committee is planning a dessert bridge at the Woman's Club on April 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren R. Godfrey of Vassar Avenue will entertain at their holiday week-end guest Mrs. Godfrey's sister Miss Cole of Corning, N. Y.

Dr. and Mrs. Melvin C. Molstad of Riverview Road are on a week's motor trip to Williamsburg, Va., and vicinity.

36 Years Ago in Swarthmore From the Swarthmorean Files

As one of the Philadelphia papers stated this week, the Swarthmore High School basketball team stands now as virtual champion of suburban High School teams, with a record of seventeen straight victories for the season, and is now ready for a challenge from any other basketball champions that are lying around loose.

The sports editors of all the papers to sit up and take notice, and there is scarcely a sheet that hasn't run special write-ups. It certainly behoves the local editor to have a share in arousing at least an equal amount of local enthusiasm and a large amount of local pride in the achievements of our local team.

Mrs. I. R. MacElwee of Mt. Holyoke place, and her house guest Mrs. LeRoy Peterson of Greenwich, Conn., who visited here for a few days during the Philadelphia Flower Show, spent several days of last week attending the Boston Flower Show.

As one of the Philadelphia papers stated this week, the Swarthmore High School basketball team stands now as virtual champion of suburban High School teams, with a record of seventeen straight victories for the season, and is now ready for a challenge from any other basketball champions that are lying around loose, notably the team of the Southern Philadelphia High School, the team that "romped away" with the city championship.

The local team was photographed last Tuesday by one of the big Philadelphia dailies for its Sunday edition, their probably unparalleled record having caused the sporting editors of all the papers to sit up and take notice, and there is scarcely a sheet that hasn't run special write-ups. It certainly behooves the local editor to have a share in arousing at least an equal amount of local enthusiasm and a large amount of local pride in the achievements of our local team.

Mercer To Be Honored At Testimonial Dinner

Former College Coach Will Be Guest of 1914-31 Alumni

Dr. E. Leroy Mercer, Dean of the School of Physical Education at the University of Pennsylvania, will be the guest of honor at a Testimonial Dinner to be given by the Swarthmore alumni of the years 1914-1931 in the Swarthmore College Dining Room on April 11, at 7. When "Doc" Mercer was a member of the Swarthmore faculty, he was the director of physical education, the Doctor of the College and coach of football and track.

The toastmaster of the occasion will be Joseph B. Shane, vice-president of Swarthmore College. Dr. Joseph Willis, director of the social science division of the Rockefeller Foundation and former Dean of the Wharton School, is scheduled as the principle speaker. Other speakers of the evening will include: Claude Smith, chairman of the board of Swarthmore College; Allison Cornog, athletic director of Haverford High School; Peirce Richards of the Turner Construction Company; "Pard" Larkin, a Chester attorney; and Dr. Art Baker of Ridley Park; all outstanding athletes at Swarthmore during the decades of "Doc" Mercer.

Dr. Mercer attended George School and at that time he held the interscholastic pole vault record of 12 feet. At the University of Pennsylvania where he studied as an undergraduate and medical student, "Doc" is remembered as an outstanding athlete. He was an All-American football player for two years and a member of the American Olympic Team of 1912.

'Festival of Nations' Here Tomorrow Night

The third annual Festival of Nations will be produced by International House on Friday, April 10 and Saturday, April 11. Each performance will begin at 8:30 p.m. The Friday performance will be held at Drexel Institute auditorium, 32nd and Chestnut streets, and the Saturday performance will be given at Clothier Memorial Hall, Swarthmore College.

Master of Ceremonies will be Peter Boyle, well known commercial artist and television personality. Nine groups will participate, presenting the cultures of their countries or continents in songs, dance, and skits. Acts will be presented by the Latin Americans, Greeks, Indians, French, Israelis, Chinese, Scandinavians, Africans and Italians.

The talent, with the exception of Mr. Boyle, is being provided by the members of International House, foreign and American. Chairman of the Festival is Bette Marshall of Temple University. Assistant chairman is Niels Malmquist from Denmark. Technical direction is being provided by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lange. Stage manager is Eric Lifschutz from Austria, and art direction is being provided by Walter Stait. The affair is organized under the general direction and supervision of the International House staff.

A meeting of the Swarthmore Legion Auxiliary will be held next Monday, April 13 at 2:00 p.m. in the American Legion Room of Borough Hall.

Courtney Smith Named Swarthmore President

Rhodes Scholarship Sec'y Will Be Ninth to Fill Post

COURTNEY CRAIG SMITH

Courtney Craig Smith, American secretary of the Rhodes Scholarships and national director of the National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Program, will be the next president of Swarthmore College. It was announced Tuesday by Claude C. Smith, chairman of the Board of Managers. The new president is also Bicentennial Preceptor and assistant professor of English at Princeton University from which he is on leave of absence.

The announcement of Courtney Smith's election came after a special meeting of the Board held Tuesday on the College campus. He will succeed John W. Nason who resigned last December to become head of the Foreign Policy Association.

The new president is 36 years old and thus becomes one of the youngest college presidents in the country. He will be the ninth president in the 89 year history of the college. The announcement came just four months after a joint committee of Board members, alumni and faculty, headed by Thomas B. McCabe, president of Scott Paper Co., was appointed to seek John Nason's successor.

In announcing the selection of the new president, chairman Claude Smith pointed out that many well-qualified persons had been under consideration by the committee, but it "united enthusiastically" in recommending Mr. Smith, and the Board of Managers.

Vocal chores have been assigned to Gall Bauer and the instrumental soloists will be Edgar Friend, Oboist and John Phillips, Trombonist. Other selections to be heard include the Green Cathedral, a new arrangement of "Glow Worm", the "American"

Concert Sunday At Trinity Church

A special Easter program of chamber and choir music, featuring the Men's and Boys Choir of Trinity Church, will be given on Sunday, April 12, at 7:45 p.m. in Trinity Episcopal Church, North Chester road, under the direction of David Ulrich, choirmaster and organist of the church.

Special guest artists include Mrs. John Piccard, flautist; Wilson L. Townsend, Jr., organist and a string ensemble made up of Deborah Reeder and Noel Snyder, cello; Russell Snyder and Nancy Carroll, viola; and Deborah Thompson and Albert Desiderio, violins.

The program will include a Mozart Sonata for organ and strings, and Bach Cantata No. 4 "Christ lay in the Bonds of Death."

The public is cordially invited to attend.

School Band Gives 15th Concert Tonight

Over 75 Students Will Join In Presenting Varied Program

The fifteenth Annual Concert by the Swarthmore High School Band will be given in the school auditorium tonight at 8:15. Over 75 student musicians will join to present a varied program of music ranging from Beethoven's "Calif of Bagdad" overture to a sparkling new arrangement of Vincent Youman's best remembered hits.

Student director, Ronnie Gold, will conduct the group in a rendition of Sousa's "King Cotton March" and Head Majorette, Patsy Blake, has worked out several interesting twirling routines for her group. One of the highlights will be an authentic Latin-American version of the familiar Miami Beach Rumba featuring the use of native rhythm instruments and the terpsichorean endeavors of Debbie Thompson and Robert Borer.

Vocal chores have been assigned to Gall Bauer and the instrumental soloists will be Edgar Friend, Oboist and John Phillips, Trombonist. Other selections to be heard include the Green Cathedral, a new arrangement of "Glow Worm", the "American"

for and have judged the excellent posters achieved by school art students under the direction of Claudia Hancock. These have been placed around the Borough by Mrs. Robert P. Clothier chairman of poster placing. Mrs. Clothier and her committee have also distributed posters in neighboring communities.

Lovers of antiques in a tri-state area are annually attracted to the Swarthmore Show, one of the oldest club managed, consecutively run antiques shows on the eastern seaboard. This year's 25 dealers from five states: Maine, Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, promise the largest assortment of furniture ever to appear at the local show.

Luncheon and tea will be served daily. Mrs. E. D. Brauns and Mrs. Percy G. Gilbert are co-chairmen of kitchen with Mrs. S. L. Although in charge of Tuesday's menus, Alice Lukens of Wednesday's, and Mrs. Paul Hertel and Mrs. Edwin Crosby of Thursday. Mrs. Clifford Banta is telephone food chairman, Mrs. Howard G. Hopson dining room chairman, Mrs. A. W. Bass, Jr., follows Mrs. A. Sidney Johnson, Jr.'s organization work as dining room cashier, and Alice Marriott and members of the Junior Club in charge of the tea hour and evening service. Mrs. Raymond K. Denworth is president of the Swarthmore Club.

WIL African Dinner Set for Monday Night

Nigerian students at Swarthmore College will be the honored guests when the Swarthmore Branch of Women's International League for Peace and Freedom entertains at its African Dinner. The dinner and lecture, climax of a year's study on African problems, begins at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, April 13, at Whittier House on the Campus.

Guest speaker is Dr. Erich N. Getzen, of Windhoek, Southwest Africa. A graduate of Wilberforce Institute in South Africa, Dr. Getzen is completing his medical education at Lincoln University after which he plans to return to Africa and minister to his people. His topic, timely in view of current headlines from that continent, is "Africa Today."

A ne Hussey, chairman of Swarthmore W.I.L., will introduce the speaker. The dinner was planned and will be prepared from recipes in an African cookbook supplied by the Nigerian students who met several times with the W. I. L. Committee to authenticate details. Serving on the dinner committee are Miss Hussey, chairman, Mrs. Helen Hall, Mrs. Henrietta Bruce, Mrs. Leonard Dart, Joseph Conard and Mrs. Roy McCorkel. The public is invited to attend and enlarge its knowledge of the African continent, its peoples and its problems.

Mrs. Keenen Elected Woman's Club Pres.

for of the Contemporary Problems class of Swarthmore High School, who told of some of the work of the class—study of the elections in the fall, income tax laws, the present situation in Asia, the causes, cost and prevention of crime. He then introduced three of the students who gave excellent reports of recent visits to penal institutions.

Bill Barraclough told about the visit to Broad Meadows. He was favorably impressed by the cleanliness of the place, the comparative freedom of the inmates, and the friendliness of the men, but regretted the lack of an adequate program of rehabilitation.

Jane Patterson discussed the trip to Sleighton Farm for Girls. The girls attend school and acquire a feeling of loyalty to the school, as is shown through their alumnae association. In the cottages in which they live, the girls get training in household tasks. A system of self government develops a sense of responsibility, she said.

The Glen Mills School for Boys was the subject of Don MacEli- wee's talk. He gave an excellent description of the trade school but unfortunately only those of higher IQ's are given this training, others must take the academic subjects. There is one hundred per cent placement for those who complete courses in the trade school. The strictness of discipline impressed Don greatly.

The audience felt that the students had gained valuable first hand knowledge and keen awareness of the problems through their visits to these institutions.

Hostesses for the day were: Mrs. J. Archer Turner, Mrs. Glen D. Grogan, and Mrs. Carl W. Tucker. At the tea Mrs. Haldy M. Crist and Mrs. W. Mark Bittle poured, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Goldsmith and Mrs. C. J. Welz of the hospitality committee.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank G. Keenen of Harvard avenue will entertain a family group over the week-end when their guests will be Lt. (jg) William DeForest Fetzner of Springfield, Mass., and Ensign Charles Keenen, U.S.N.R. of Newport, R.I. Dr. Keenen's father Mr. J. C. Keenen of Newark, Ohio is also visiting the Keenens. Mrs. Joseph Moran of Kenyon avenue entertained her bridge club at a dessert-bridge at her home Tuesday evening.

Rummage Committee Set for Two Day Event

Final arrangements have been completed for the Annual Spring Rummage Sale to be held at Trinity Church on Wednesday, April 15, from 7 to 9 p.m. and on Thursday, April 16, from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. in the Parish Hall of the Church. The sale always draws a large crowd, due to the highly useable quality of the wide variety of merchandise offered and the timely seasonal selection of clothes for children and adults, according to committee chairmen.

Wearables include underwear, shirts, sweaters, shoes, hats and outer apparel. There is also a big assortment of household articles, bric-a-brac, books and "what-have-yous" to browse through.

Mrs. R. Blair Price, and Mrs. J. D. Bowden are co-chairmen of the event. Committee chairmen in charge of the various tables include: Mrs. Lewis E. Goodenough, Mrs. William Watkins, Mrs. J. Burriss West, Mrs. Paul Banks, Mrs. W. Minton Harvey, Mrs. Mrs. Aaron, Mrs. H. Lawrence Whittemore, Mrs. William McCawley, Mrs. William West and Mrs. Clarence O. Worst.

As a preview of the affair, Mrs. Valentine Fine will tell about the behind-the-scenes workings of the sale in a radio interview on the Rhona Lloyd Show over WPWA on Monday, April 13.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hollis, daughter Leigh and son Stevie of South Chester road, accompanied by Mary Phillips of Strath Haven avenue, have returned from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where they spent a two-week holiday cruising on the yacht "Janice" out of the Bahia Mar Basin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Welz of Forest lane will entertain as their week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Zipp, Jr., of Westfield, N.J.

Juliana Richardson of Park avenue, a junior at the University of Delaware, is home for a week's spring vacation.

Mr. L. C. Hastings of Haverford place has returned home from a three-month business trip through the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Graeme G. Whytlaw of Cornell avenue returned April 2 from a vacation in the Hawaiian Islands following a delivery of a paper by Mr. Whytlaw before a meeting of the American Chemical Society at Los Angeles. They also visited Mr. Whytlaw's sister Miss Mary Whytlaw of Santa Barbara, Calif.

NEWS NOTES

Present Concert By Wesleyan Glee Club

Program Here April 25 Will Benefit Bonsall Fund for H. S. Graduate

The Wesleyan University Glee Club, Middletown, Conn., will be presented in formal concert Saturday night, April 25, in the High School Auditorium by the Woman's Club of Swarthmore. The program from the concert will increase the club's Elizabeth Hubbard Bonsall Scholarship awarded annually to a girl in the graduating class of the Swarthmore High School.

Interest in the concert is being shown by the Wesleyan Alumni Club of Philadelphia and by the several local graduates of the University, plus a number of residents who find a good male glee club concert of tremendous appeal.

The Education Department of the Woman's Club is arranging a dinner at the club in honor of the Glee Club prior to the concert, housing for the singers overnight, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond K. Denworth whose son Ray, Jr., is a member of the Cardinals, one of the glee club's singing units which will appear in a solo group of selections on the 25th, will entertain in honor of the guest artists after the concert.

Borough Will Have Parking Meters

Borough Council voted Monday to accept the recommendation of the Public Safety Committee to install parking meters in the Borough. Decision as to the type of meter to be installed and the exact place of installation is still to be decided although the Committee recommended that they be placed in the Borough parking lot and four streets in the business section: South Chester road between Rutgers avenue and the railroad, Rutgers avenue between Chester road and Cornell avenue, Park avenue between Harvard avenue and the railroad, and Dartmouth avenue between Park and Lafayette avenues.

Burgess Charles R. Russell reported arrangements complete for the use of Swarthmore College students on an experimental basis for the next six weeks to direct traffic during school convocation and dismissal hours at the Elm and Swarthmore avenue intersection and College avenue and Chester road crossing.

A change in the Building Code was adopted to lessen the requirement for an eight inch step between a garage and first floor of the house to "not less than three inches".

Carl T. Furniss, 210 Elm avenue, and L. C. Gatewood, 104 Elm avenue, appeared before Council in continuation of their protest against parking restriction which now permits parking only on the south side of their street. They argued that if the restriction is to stay, restricted parking should also be applied on other streets of the Borough, among which they mentioned Swarthmore and Princeton avenues and Cedar lane.

Council went on record as opposed to the creation of a county health unit now permissive under state legislation on the grounds that they favored local control. They voted a $550 appropriation for the Summer Recreation program.

4th Grade Tea Place Changed
The tea honoring Elementary Supervisor R. Mildred Kidd, which Martha Shaw's fourth grade, College avenue school, mothers' group will give at 3:30 this afternoon will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry L. Harris at 112 South Princeton avenue, instead of at the Bullitt home as originally planned.

Mrs. Bess B. Lane of Swarthmore avenue and Mrs. Albert H. Wanner of Haverburg will pour-for and have judged the excellent posters achieved by school art students under the direction of Claudia Hancock. These have been placed around the Borough by Mrs. Robert P. Clothier, chairman of poster placing. Mrs. Clothier and her committee have also distributed posters in neighboring communities.

Lovers of antiques in a tri-state area are annually attracted to the Swarthmore Show, one of the oldest club managed, consecutively run antiques shows on the eastern seaboard. This year's 25 dealers from five states: Maine, Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, promise the largest assortment of furniture ever to appear at the local show.

Luncheon and tea will be served daily. Mrs. E. D. Brauns and Mrs. Percy G. Gilbert are co-chairmen of luncheon with Mrs. S. L. Althouse in charge of Tuesday's menus, Alice Lukens of Wednesday's, and Mrs. Paul Hertel and Mrs. Edwin Crosby of Thursday. Mrs. Clifford Banta is telephone food chairman, Mrs. Howard G. Hopson dining room chairman, Mrs. A. W. Bass, Jr., follows Mrs. A. Sidney Johnson, Jr.'s organization work as dining room cashier, and Alice Marriott and members of the Junior Club in charge of the tea hour and evening service. Mrs. Raymond K. Denworth is president of the Swarthmore Club.

W.I.L. African Dinner Set for Monday Night

Nigerian students at Swarthmore College will be the honored guests when the Swarthmore Branch of Women's International League for Peace and Freedom entertains at its African Dinner. The dinner and lecture, climax of a year's study on African problems, begins at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, April 13, at Whittier House on the Campus.

Guest speaker is Dr. Erich N. Getzen, of Windhoek, Southwest Africa. A graduate of Wilberforce Institute in South Africa, Dr. Getzen is completing his medical education at Lincoln University after which he plans to return to Africa and minister to his people. His topic, timely in view of current headlines from that continent, is "Africa Today."

Anne Hussey, chairman of Swarthmore W.I.L., will introduce the speaker. The dinner was planned and will be prepared from recipes in an African cookbook supplied by the Nigerian students who met several times with the W. I. L. Committee to authenticate details. Serving on the dinner committee are Miss Hussey, chairman, Mrs. Helen Hall, Mrs. Henrietta Bruce, Mrs. Leonard Dart, Joseph Conrad and Mrs. Roy McCorkel. The public is invited to attend and enlarge its knowledge of the African continent, its peoples and its problems.

Mrs. Keenen Elected Woman's Club Pres.

tor of the Contemporary Problems class of Swarthmore High School, who told of some of the work of the class—study of the elections in the fall, income tax laws, the present situation in Asia, the causes, cost and prevention of crime. He then introduced three of the students who gave excellent reports of recent visits to penal institutions.

Bill Barraclough told about the visit to Broad Meadows. He was favorably impressed by the cleanliness of the place, the comparative freedom of the inmates, and the friendliness of the men, but regretted the lack of an adequate program of rehabilitation.

Jane Patterson discussed the trip to Sleighton Farm for Girls. The girls attend school and acquire a feeling of loyalty to the school, as is shown through their alumnae association. In the cottages in which they live, the girls get training in household tasks. A system of self government develops a sense of responsibility, she said.

The Glen Mills School for Boys was the subject of Don MacElywee's talk. He gave an excellent description of the trade school but unfortunately only those of higher IQ's are given this training, she said. There is one hundred per cent placement for those who complete courses in the trade school. The strictness of discipline impressed Don greatly.

The audience felt that the students had gained valuable first hand knowledge and keen awareness of the problems through their visits to these institutions.

Hostesses for the day were: Mrs. J. Archer Turner, Mrs. Glen D. Grogan, and Mrs. Carl W. Tucker. At the tea Mrs. Haldy M. Crist and Mrs. W. Mark Bittle poured, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Goldsmith and Mrs. C. J. Weiz of the hospitality committee.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank G. Keenen of Harvard avenue will entertain a family group over the week-end when their guests will be Lt. (jg) William DeForest Fetzner of Springfield, Mass., and Ensign Charles Keenen, U.S.M.R. of Newport, R.I. Dr. Keenen's father, Mr. J. C. Keenen of Newark, Ohio is also visiting the Keenens.

Mrs. Joseph Moran of Kenyon avenue entertained her bridge club at a dessert-bridge at her home Tuesday evening.

Rummage Committee Set for Two Day Event

Final arrangements have been completed for the Annual Spring Rummage Sale to be held at Trinity Church on Wednesday, April 15, from 7 to 9 p.m., and on Thursday, April 16, from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. in the Parish Hall of the Church. The sale always draws a large crowd, due to the highly useable quality of the wide variety of merchandise offered and the timely seasonal selection of clothes for children and adults, according to committee chairmen.

Wearables include underweares, shirts, sweaters, shoes, hats and outer apparel. There is also a big assortment of household articles, bric-a-brac, books and "what-have-yous" to browse through.

Mrs. R. Blair Price, and Mrs. J. D. Bowden are co-chairmen of the event. Committee chairmen in charge of the various tables include: Mrs. Lewis E. Goodenough, Mrs. William Watkins, Mrs. J. Burriss West, Mrs. Paul Banks, Mrs. W. Minton Harvey, Mrs. John Aaron, Mrs. H. Lawrence Whittemore, Mrs. William McCawley, Mrs. William West and Mrs. Clarence O. Worst.

As a preview of the affair, Mrs. Valentine Fine will tell about the behind-the-scenes workings of the sale in a radio interview on the Rhona Lloyd Show over WPWA on Monday, April 13.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hollis, daughter Leigh and son Slevie of South Chester road, accompanied by Mary Phillips of Strath Haven avenue, have returned from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where they spent a two-week holiday cruising on the yacht "Janice" out of the Bahia Mar Basin.

Mrs. and Mrs. C. J. Weiz of Forest lane will entertain at their week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Zipt, Jr., of Westfield, N.J.

Juliana Richardson of Park avenue, a junior at the University of Delaware, is home for a week's spring vacation.

Mr. L. C. Hastings of Haverford place has returned home from a three-month business trip through the south.

Mr. and Mrs. Graeme G. Whytlaw of Cornell avenue returned April 2 from a vacation in the Hawaiian Islands following a delivery of a paper by Mr. Whytlaw before a meeting of the American Chemical Society at Los Angeles. They also visited Mr. Whytlaw's sister Miss Mary Whytlaw of Santa Barbara, Calif.

Present Concert By Wesleyan Glee Club

Program Here April 25 Will Benefit Bonsall Fund for H. S. Graduate

The Wesleyan University Glee Club, Middletown, Conn., will be presented in formal concert: Saturday night, April 25, in the High School Auditorium by the Woman's Club of Swarthmore. Proceeds from the concert will increase the club's Elizabeth Hubbard Bonsall Scholarship awarded annually to a girl in the graduating class of the Swarthmore High School.

Interest in the concert is being shown by the Wesleyan Alumni Club of Philadelphia and by the several local graduates of the University, plus a number of residents who find a good male glee club concert of tremendous appeal.

The Education Department of the Woman's Club is arranging a dinner at the club in honor of the Glee Club prior to the concert, housing for the singers overnight, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond K. Denworth whose son Ray, Jr., is a member of the Cardinals, one of the glee club's singing units which will appear in a solo group of selections on the 25th, will entertain in honor of the guest artists after the concert.

Borough Will Have Parking Meters

Borough Council voted Monday to accept the recommendation of the Public Safety Committee to install parking meters in the Borough. Decision as to the type of meter to be installed and the exact place of installation is still to be decided although the Committee recommended that they be placed in the Borough parking lot and four streets in the business section: South Chester road between Rutgers avenue and the railroad, Rutgers avenue between Chester road and Cornell avenue, Park avenue between Harvard avenue and the railroad, and Dartmouth avenue between Park and Lafayette avenues.

Burgess Charles R. Russell reported arrangements complete for the use of Swarthmore College students on an experimental basis for the next six weeks to direct traffic during school convocation and dismissal hours at the Elm and Swarthmore avenue intersection and College avenue and Chester road crossing.

A change in the Building Code was adopted to lessen the requirement for an eight inch step between a garage and first floor of the house to "not less than three inches."

Carl T. Furniss, 210 Elm avenue, and L. C. Gatewood, 104 Elm avenue, appeared before Council in continuation of their protest against parking restriction which now permits parking only on the south side of their street. They argued that if the restriction is to stay, restricted parking should also be applied on other streets of the Borough, among which they mentioned Swarthmore and Princeton avenues and Cedar lane.

Council went on record as opposed to the creation of a county health unit now permissive under state legislation on the grounds that they favored local control. They voted a $550 appropriation for the Summer Recreation program.

4th Grade Tea Place Changed
The tea honoring Elementary Supervisor R. Mildred Kilditch, Martha Shaw's fourth grade, College avenue school, mothers' group will give at 3:30 this afternoon will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry L. Harris at 112 South Princeton avenue, instead of at the Bullitt home as originally planned. Mrs. Bees B. Lapp of Swarthmore avenue and Mrs. Albert H. Warner of Harrisburg will pour.

Harrington To Address U.W.F. Dinner April 27

Reverend Donald Harrington, pastor of the Community Church, New York City, will address the United World Federalists and guests on the evening of April 27. Residents of Swarthmore and vicinity are being invited to a dinner meeting to be held at the Aronimink Golf Club where Mr. Harrington will speak on the topic "More Power to the United Nations: The Only Way to Peace."

Mr. Harrington was born in Newton, Mass. in July, 1914, of an old New England family. He was educated in the public schools of Waltham and in the First Parish Church (Unitarian) of that city. During his second year of high school he determined to become a minister of religion, and from that time on, kept steadfastly upon his goal.

The first step towards its realization was Antioch College. After three years he transferred to the University of Chicago, where he received scholarship aid, and was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1936. Two years later he received the Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Meadville Theological School of Chicago. In 1938 Mr. Harrington was awarded the Crut Travelling Fellowship and in June 1939 set sail for Europe.

A resident graduate student for a year at the University of Leyden, in Holland, he also visited the Universities of Marburg, Kolosser, Oxford and Cambridge, and travelled during his long vacations through most of the countries of Europe. In the spring of 1939, he and the Reverend Vilma Szanthe, first woman ever to be ordained to the ministry of Central Europe, were married by the Bishop of the Hungarian Unitarian Church in Budapest.

In June 1944, Mr. Harrington accepted the call of the Community Church of New York to become Junior Colleague with John Hayes Holmes in the ministry of that church. Upon the retirement of Mr. Holmes in 1949, Mr. Harrington was unanimously elected by the congregation to fill the pulpit.

During last September, he attended the Conference of Parliamentarians for World Government in London. The conference was also the occasion of a meeting of the World Movement for World Federal Government, of which he is treasurer. At present, he is a member of the National Executive Council of the United World Federalists, Inc. He is the author of numerous pamphlets, magazine articles and book reviews.

Mothers Club Plans Philadelphia Trip

Members of the Swarthmore Mothers' Club will attend a cooking demonstration and a demonstration of different makes of electrical appliances to be held at Judson - Burns in Philadelphia, Wednesday evening, April 15 at 8 p.m.

Various methods of preparing food, including techniques of preparation for freezing, will be shown. The food that is prepared will be given to the clubmembers. A door prize of an electrical appliance will also be presented to the clubmember holding the winning ticket. Refreshments will be served after the demonstration.

The trip, which is open to clubmembers and their guests, is being arranged by Thomas Conway and Mrs. James Clifford. The group will leave from the Swarthmore Woman's Club in a chartered vehicle. Those who have not been reached by the telephone committee and who are interested, in attending are urged to call Mrs. Clifford, Swarthmore 6-1919.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Jones of Vassar avenue entertained as their holiday guest Mr. Albert Metcalfe of Natchez, Miss.

ers unanimously elected him president. I am particularly pleased with his selection and am confident that in the best tradition of the College he will be a worthy distinguished president."

Speaking for the selection committee, Mr. McCabe indicated that the new president "meets all the requirements for the position as a man of outstanding character, ability, personality, and vigor. He will bring the dynamic zeal of a young man to the program which he has already visualized for the Swarthmore of the future."

John Nason, still part time president until June 30 when his resignation is effective, was "delighted" by the selection of Courtney Smith as his successor. "It means that the College will be in excellent hands, Courtney Smith knows education from the inside and has already proved himself an able administrator. Swarthmore is fortunate to have him as its new president."

The youthful president is a native of Iowa where he was educated in the public schools, graduating from Roosevelt High School in Des Moines. He graduated from Harvard in 1938 and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. In 1939-39 he was a Rhodes Scholar at Merton College, Oxford.

With the outbreak of World War II he returned to Harvard where he was a teaching fellow and tutor until 1943. During this time he earned an M.A. degree and was awarded a Ph.D. in 1944. He enlisted in the U.S. Navy in 1944. After special training he was made liaison officer for Negro personnel at Pensacola (Fla.) Naval Air Training Station and a member of the staff of the commanding officer.

After his discharge in 1946 he joined the Princeton faculty as an instructor. He was made assistant professor of English in 1948 and a year later was awarded a Bicentennial Professorship. In September 1952 he became the national director of the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Program which was set up at Princeton in 1945 to recruit outstanding men and women for the teaching profession. This program now has the backing of 87 universities of the Association of American Universities and is underwritten by large grants from the Carnegie Corporation and the General Education Board.

In January of this year Courtney Smith became the American secretary of the Rhodes Scholarships succeeding Dr. Frank Aydellote, himself a former president of Swarthmore College.

The new president is a member of the American Association of University Professors, the Modern Language Association and the Society for American Studies.

Courtney Smith is married to the former Elizabeth Bowden of Boston, Mass. They have one son and two daughters. Their home is at present in Princeton.

Presbyterian Women Hold Annual Meeting Today

36 Years Ago in Swarthmore
From the Swarthmorean Files

The Swarthmore National Bank reached the high water mark on last Saturday, when their deposits amounted to $552,006.

The Emergency Aid Class of the Woman's Club, responded nobly to the call on last Tuesday morning following the terrible explosion at the plant of the Eddystone Ammunition Company in which hundreds were killed or injured. A truck full of first aid supplies was immediately rushed to the scene of the disaster.

For some hours uncertainty prevailed regarding the safety of Swarthmore boys there. Hemphill Lungren and Edward Voelker were both slightly injured. Almost at the break of day Wednesday a fire truck, bearing a large tent, went down to Eddystone and 40 students headed by Dr. Louis N. Robinson, professor of economics at the college, waited in the twinkling of an eye opposite the Chester Armory. Accompanying the tent on the truck was a contingent of nightgowns from Swarthmore girls and pajamas from the boys.

Students are making a house to house canvas for a relief fund for the sufferers.

April Panels to Cover Political Questions

"Does Our Party System Need Remodeling? Should the President be Empowered to Dissolve Congress?" are the topics to be discussed at panel discussions April 12 and 19 at Swarthmore College. They are sponsored by the William J. Cooper Foundation and the College department of political science and will be held in the Meeting House starting at 8:15.

The four participants have been chosen because they are outstanding authorities on government and politics. The party system will be discussed by Dr. Fritz M. Marx, probably one of the outstanding experts on administration today. He is a member of the Bureau of the Budget and adjunct professor of political science at American University. On the same panel will be Prof. V. V. Smith, a former Congressman and now professor of political science at Syracuse University. He is the author of numerous books on political theory.

The question of presidential power will be discussed by Prof. William Y. Elliott of Harvard University and Dr. Ernest S. Griffith, director of Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress. Prof. Elliott is a former consultant to the President's Commission on Administration and Management and the House of Representatives' Foreign Affairs Committee. Dr. Griffith is a former lecturer at Swarthmore College. Both men have written several books in their field.

JR. ASSEMBLY HOSTS

Formal spring parties will be held for the eighth and tenth grades of the Swarthmore Junior Assemblies on Saturday, April 11, at the Woman's Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Turner are hosts for the eighth grade which meets at 7:30 p.m. The chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Kroon, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wagon.

Hosts for the tenth grade meeting at 9:15, are Mr. and Mrs. J. Willard Hollander. They will have as chaperons Mr. and Mrs. Millard Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Noyes.

Heads Wesleyan DKE

Raymond K. Denworth, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond K. Denworth of Elm avenue, was elected president of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn. Denworth, an honor student, is a member of the Cardinals, a singing group connected with the Wesleyan Glee Club. He is a graduate of Swarthmore High School.

LOCAL MEN RECEIVE COMPANY PROMOTIONS

Two men from this area were recently promoted at Piasceter Helicopter Corporation in Morton. Gregory M. Heath, of Morton avenue, Rutledge, was promoted to Supervisor, Expediting. He has been with the company since November, 1950.

Promoted to Assistant Supervisor, Expediting, was Jesse H. Edwards, of 7th avenue, Grace Park.

Friendly Circle

The Friendly Circle will hold its annual desert-bridge on Thursday, April 23, in the Swarthmore Woman's Club. The proceeds will be used to carry on the Circle's work for Camp Sunshine and Camp Hope.

Mrs. J. H. Jessup of Havertford avenue, out-going president of the Circle, entertained members at a tea-meeting at her home recently, at which time the following officers were elected to serve for the next two years: Mrs. Kendall C. Sadler, president; Mrs. D. Reed Geer, vice-president; Mrs. Cecil D. Howard, treasurer; Eva Cresson, recording secretary, and Mrs. W. J. Frank, corresponding secretary.

LWV TO AIR VIEWS TODAY ON CONGRESS, BUDGET

Congress and the Budget will be discussed by Mrs. Holden Furber, a member of the Swarthmore League of Women Voters today, over radio station WVCH during an interview with Commentator Elsie Jones.

Other members of the Swarthmore League participated in a similar broadcast last Tuesday as a part of the Marian Pedlow program. They were Mrs. Morris Fustell, Mrs. J. Burris West and Mrs. Furber. Mrs. Furber, who is chairman of the League's "Congressional Control of the Budget" study, compiled the information used in both scripts.

Mrs. Franklin Gillespie of Harvard avenue spent Easter week-end visiting friends in New York.

Relates Origin of Quakerism

Swarthmore Friends and friends, filling Whittier House Thursday evening last week for the first of three weekly public lectures on Quakerism, gained a rare, personalized picture of George Fox and his English happenings for which some local institutions have been named. Between Eleanor Stabler Clarke's vivid word portrayal and her magnificent colored slides and audience truly strode the floors of Swarthmore Hall near Ulverston, England, the side of Peadie Hill with the father of Quakerism who proclaimed, "Every man is enlightened by the Divine Light of Christ."

The breathtaking beauty of the slides, taken while Mrs. Clarke attended the World Conference of Friends and the Tercentenary in Europe last summer, strikingly set forth the counties of Yorkshire, Lancashire and Westmoreland in northwestern England, the "Galilee of Quakerism" where land and history fostered a rugged individualism ripe for Fox's ministry in 1652.

There the flax weavers were not satisfied with existent religions. Fox's message, brought at the age of 28 from his birthplace in Leicestershire, was that authority is within the person, not in the church as the Catholics believed, nor in the words of the Bible as the Protestant sects claimed. Fox said the assurance of Truth comes from within. Although he recognized the existence of sin he did not believe men were born sinners. He emphasized that perfection was possible of attainment. He "denied the sprinkling of infants," said a church was not a building but a people, that he was against the "hireling priests" as he called the clergy; that revelation had not ceased with the writing of the Bible but could still be experienced; that it was not the words of the Bible which were important but the spirit behind the words and that the Bible could only be understood when a person was in possession of a measure of the same spirit as those who wrote it.

Fox's sturdy physique and his staunch leathern doublet and breeches enabled him to withstand violent persecution from man and elements. His wife, Margaret Fell, widow of Judge Thomas Fell of Swarthmore Hall ("first friend of the Friends"), also weathered hardship and imprisonments in dank, dark dungeons and lived to be 87 years old.

In the dining room of Swarthmore Hall, where the Publishers of Truth or Children of Light (as the Society of Friends was known for 100 years) worshipped from their birth in 1652 until a Meeting House was built in 1688, stand several pieces of 17th century furniture contributed by Swarthmore College alumni of Great Britain. Two women Friends now occupy Swarthmore Hall as hostesses for the Society of Friends which today owns it.

Quoting George Fox, "Mind the Light and dwell in it and it will keep you a-top of the world," Mrs. Clarke closed an absorbing review of people and places in the founding of Quakerism.

Continuing the series George

Walton was scheduled to speak on "Quakerism Over the Years—Some Major Trends" last evening and Earle Edwards to conclude with Contemporary Quakerism—Its Significance, Nature and Extent" next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Whittier House.

"I saw it in the Swarthmorean."

Schoolman Week Gives Pupils Half Holiday

Swarthmore Schools will be closed next Thursday afternoon, April 16 in order that the entire teaching staff of the school may participate briefly in the Schoolmen's Week activities of the University of Pennsylvania.

The Schoolmen's Week program covers a wide range of educational subjects which are covered in 110 different programs from Wednesday, April 15 to Saturday, April 18. The meetings are held in various buildings of the University of Pennsylvania.

Several teachers from Swarthmore schools are listed in the official booklet describing these activities. Harry Oppenlander, teacher of social studies and science in the High School, will take part in a panel discussion on Thursday morning on the subject "What Can Be Eliminated from our Expanding Program of Secondary Education". In the afternoon of the same day, he will speak on "American Literature as an Element of American Civilization". This program will be presented in Bennett Hall as a part of the general program on the classics of American literature of the 20th century.

On Thursday afternoon, James Miller, teacher of mathematics, and chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Delaware County Teachers Association, will take part in a legislative meeting held in Irvine Auditorium. Frederick Yocum, teacher of social studies, has served as the Social Studies representative of the Southeastern Convention District on the Advisory Committee, working with the University program committee.

Guidance Counselor For H.S. Named Tues.

Hot Lunch at Rutgers to Be Canceled, Loss Too Great

A new guidance counselor for the high school was named Tuesday evening in a session of School Board adjourned from April 1. Joyzelle Peck of Lancaster who has held a similar post at Manheim Township High School, Nerrsville since 1948, will begin her duties at the beginning of the next school year in September. She succeeds Jean Stratton who pioneered the post here and left several months ago to be married.

A graduate of Buffalo Seminary, Miss Peck received her B.A. degree in history and government in 1939 at the University of Buffalo where she earned her master's of education degree in guidance three years later. In addition to the Pennsylvania College Permanent Certificate she holds certificates for guidance counseling and psychological examiner.

After teaching history and problems of democracy at Linden Hall, Litzitz for a year she spent 1944-45 as director of tests, measurements and guidance in Waynesboro schools. From 1945 to 1948 she taught history in her present school. She also has taught a weekday religious school in Buffalo, served as psychologist at Pennsylvania State College Center and at Franklin and Marshall College, and coached developmental reading. For two summers she was social case worker with the Lancaster Children's Bureau.

A member of the American Psychological Association, American Personnel Guidance Association and the legislative committee of the Pennsylvania Vocational Association, Miss Peck served this year as secretary of the Guidance Counselors and Teachers of Occupational Information Section of Pennsylvania State Education Association. She is now president of the Keystone Group and vice-chairman of the Guidance Roundtable. She has written on successful guidance programs at secondary level, including orientation exploration, information and experience, for the Pennsylvania School Journal.

Donald P. Jones, finance officer of the Board, reported a meeting with Mrs. Violet C. Mason, cafeteria dietitian, in an effort to cut the deficit under which the school cafeteria operates. It was decided to experiment with a cold Federal lunch now served and to tender the State ten days notice of desire to cancel the Federal hot lunch at Rutgers avenue school where an average of 11 children does not justify the weekly salary of the attendant. Possibility of increasing the hot lunch from 25¢ to 30¢ next year in the high school cafeteria where around 200 students are sometimes accommodated, was discussed.

A lay committee of speakers to tell interested groups of citizens of the need for the bond issue being asked in the May 19 primary for elementary expansion, was suggested. Names of possible members were turned over to Mrs. Oliver Rodgers, Board secretary, who will head the recruiting committee.

Folk Festival Begins

At College April 17th

"Do-Si-Do and away you go" is the password soon to be heard when the eighth annual Folk Festival swings into session on Friday night, April 17 at Swarthmore College.

The three-day festival will feature a concert by folk singer Pete Seeger, of radio and recording fame, square dances in the Eastern and Western styles, the latter led by Leonard Lee of Tulsa, Oklahoma, one of the outstanding square dance callers in the Southwest, and lots of audience participation, both singing and dancing.

Leading off the week-end activities is a Square Dance which will be held in the Field House at 8:30 p.m. Outstanding local callers will be on hand for this event.

On Saturday there will be a "teaching and exchange session" by local callers at 2 p.m. in the Hall gym. This is primarily to teach Western square dances, since Leonard Lee will do the calling in Western style that night at 8:30 p.m. for the big Square Dance in the Field House. The main difference between square dancing with an Eastern caller and a Western caller appears in the swing. The dances on Friday night will be called according to the Eastern style, but that will give way to the familiar, habitual Western style of the guest caller on Saturday evening. Lee is presently engaged in calling for 5 clubs, and in his spare time has written a book on Square Dancing which has just sold its first 1000 publications.

The festival will continue on Sunday morning with a Jam Session at 10 a.m. in Bond Memorial. All persons attending this event will contribute with folk songs that they know.

The climax and conclusion of this gala week-end will be a concert in Clothier Memorial at 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon by the famous Pete Seeger.

The Folk Festival is run each year by the Square Dance Club of Swarthmore.

TO HEAR VON ERFFA

Helmut von Erffa, former Swarthmore professor of the arts and now chairman of the art department at Rutgers, will deliver the annual Benjamin West Society lecture on April 16 in the Swarthmore Meeting House. His subject will be "Classic, Romantic and Quaker Trends in Benjamin West."

Annual NEW CASTLE ANTIQUE SHOW

April 22, 23, 24, 25

Old Academy-on-the-Green
Arsenal Bldg.
New Castle, Delaware

5th Children's Play Enrolls Cast of Forty

"We fight the dogs and chase the cats", squeak the Rats in the play "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" and with their antics and mischief they will get off to a rollicking start the fifth annual production of The Children's Theatre of the Community Arts Center. The three act play will be presented on Saturday, April 18, in the new auditorium of the Nether-Providence High School on Providence road, Wallingford at 10 a.m. and again at 2:30 p.m. Children from four to 14 and all others from 14 to 100 are promised an entertaining time of it.

The Children's Theatre, one of the many class activities offered for children at the Wallingford Arts Center, is under the direction of Mrs. Stuart Graves of Moylan. The first half of the season is devoted to training in dramatics and diction in small class groups, and during this time ideas and material are contributed by all the boys and girls to the writing of the original script of the play, which is the climax of the season's study. The children learn about all the phases of a dramatic production and, as one boy put it after attending a play in town, "Since I have been in the Children's Theatre I know about all the effort and fun that goes into a play".

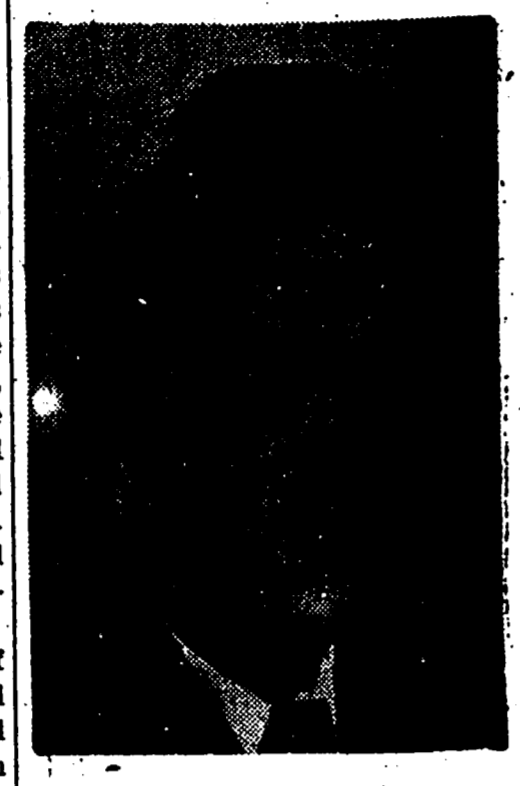

The boys and girls in the Theatre all have speaking parts in "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" and their study of historical background has enriched the interpretation of the characters portrayed. In addition to acting ability, other talents were sought to fill particular roles. The children were asked if they could sing, dance, turn cartwheels, or play an instrument. It was discovered that Sally Hays of Swarthmore could not only act but also play the flute with considerable ability. Now, this discovery was most fortunate since the crippled boy in the play does actually play the pipe as a necessity to the plot. And that is how Sally came to play the part of a boy and she does it well. It so happens that in the play the Pied Piper himself does not play the pipe on stage, which is fortunate indeed since none of the taller boys can play any such instrument (a trumpet was hardly the thing). So Dick Graves (who plays nothing but a trumpet) was cast as the Pied Piper and Nina Catherine Jones, a former member of the Theatre was called in to play the Pied Piper's music backstage on her flute.

The cast includes other Swarthmore children in addition to Sally. They are Taylor Barnett, Bruce Cratsley, Christian Decker, Elyane Egbert, James and Keith Fox, Edgar Harris, June Lee Heckman, Ada and Dory Kroon, Caroline MacNair and Louise Welz. From Wallingford are Rusty DeCamp, Carole Ann Forbes, Bill Irving, Peggy McGovern, Roslyn Siskar, Richard Winn, Lynne Woodall and Tommy Woodall. Jean Anderson, Kathleen Aull, Susan Jackson and Joyce Peterson are from Rutledge.

From Moylan, in addition to Richard Graves, are Gwynneth Elkinton, Danny Israel, Hal Logan, Karen Miller, Frank Turner, James Baker, Sandra Mitchell, Steven Peck, Ann Pyle, are from Media. To complete the cast are Fernand Vandergracht of Rose Valley, Lise Jo Waldman of Seconac, Suzanne Ahrens of Glen Riddle and Henna Johnston and Peggy Jones, both of Glenolden. Barbara Ether of Media and a student at Nether Providence H.S., is assistant to the director.

The R. L. Wilkinsons returned Tuesday to their home on Dickinson avenue after an Easter vacation in Hot Springs, Va., where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner, Jr., of Germantown, and their two daughters, Susann and Sandra. Also in the party was Mrs. Charles Turner, Sr., of Ridley Park.

Booked for Recital Tomorrow Evening

Henry J. Faust

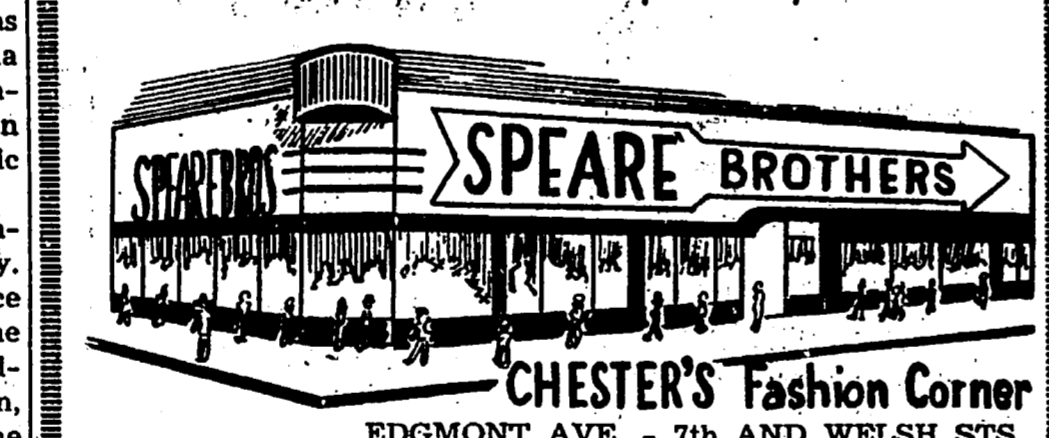

A recital by Henry J. Faust, bass baritone, is announced for the Philadelphia Music Center Studios Auditorium, 1715 Chestnut street, tomorrow evening, April 11, at 8:30. Mr. Faust will be assisted by Oscar Eiermann, pianist. Joan Hoffman, soprano, is listed as associate vocal artist. The public is cordially invited.

Mr. Faust, minister of music at the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, will present a notably attractive and varied program. Scheduled are arias, songs and duets by Mozart, Schumann, Puccini, Giordano, Dubussy, Flegler, and others.

Services Monday for Mrs. A. S. Johnson

Death of Beloved Chester Rd. Resident Occurred April 10

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church for May Pierson Johnson, wife of Albert S. Johnson, whose death occurred Friday, April 10, at her late home 211 South Chester road, after a brief illness. The Rev. Joseph P. Bishop officiated at the services.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Yanceyville, N. C., the daughter of Daniel Pierson, Jr., and Elizabeth S. Pierson. She was educated in Wilmington, Del., and resided with her parents in East Orange, N. J., where she was married and soon afterward came to Swarthmore to make her home. Prior to building their home on Chester road, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson resided on Rutgers avenue.

She was an active and appreciated member of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, the Women's Club of Swarthmore, the Friendly Circle, the Auxiliary of the Ainsworth-Werner American Legion Post. Quietly she earned a host of warm friends here by her never-failing appreciation and thoughtfulfulness of others and by her generosity.

Interment was in Arlington Cemetery, Lansdowne.

Seeger, Lee Highlight College Folk Festival

Top Performers Will Take Part in Week-End Event Here

When square dance minded people don their jeans and calico dresses to come out and take a whirl at the big square dance held in Swarthmore College's Field House on Saturday night, they will be "swinging their partners" according to the Western style of Leonard Lee. A professional caller of long standing, Lee is journeying to the East coast from Tulsa, Okla., to participate in this big event of the weekend Folk Festival.

Lee, who in 1947 was chosen one of the three best callers from Texas, Louisiana, and Arkansas, has had several radio programs in Tulsa, and at present calls for three clubs in Tulsa. He has also been active in organizing square dance clubs in various towns in Oklahoma, as well as conducting bus loads of dancers to the Dallas Folk Festival, and has called for seven Oklahoma State Festivals, and seven North Eastern Festivals. He has helped organize the State Association and the Northwest Association, and somehow, in his spare time, Mr. Lee has written a book on square dancing which has just sold 1000 publications.

The three day Festival of singing and dancing will be climaxed on Sunday afternoon by a concert by Pete Seeger, well-known folk singer, holding from an old musical family in New York. Seeger of Swarthmore, Jean Anderson and Susan Jackson of Rutledge, and Louise Welz of Swarthmore.

Cleveland Scheduled for Lecture on Foreign Aid

"Pied Piper" in Two Performances Sat.

Browning Classic Will Be Given in Nether-Providence Auditorium

"Our Mayor's a noddy!" shouts the crowd in the Towne Hall when, in despair over the plague of rats in Hamelin Towne, they beseege their rulers to do something about it. The Mayor and his Treasurer and Corporation are surely noddies, all right. Indeed, they supply a good bit of the humor in the Children's Theatre production of "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" which will be presented in two performances at 10 a.m. and again at 2:30 p.m. in the Nether Providence High School Auditorium, Wallingford, tomorrow, April 18.

The fact that Robert Browning's classic poem is essentially humorous and yet contains both extreme joy and extreme tragedy makes it

Home & School Meets Tuesday at 8 P. M.

School Board's Financial Problem Will Be Discussed

"Facing the School Board's Financial Problem" will be the topic of discussion at the last Home and School Meeting of the year, to be held Tuesday evening, April 21, in the high school auditorium.

Principal Speaker of the evening, School Board President Carroll Streeter, will explain what decisions have been made by the Board with respect to the proposed building program. He will also set forth the Board's plans to secure the funds to finance the construction by a bond issue, and will state the considerations which gave rise to this particular decision.

Home and School Program Chairman John Seybold will give a factual analysis of the background information in a talk preceding Mr. Streeter. He will make comparisons between Swarthmore and other districts similarly situated, to provide a frame of reference for the Borough to determine whether local standards are in line with those of neighboring communities.

Following Mr. Streeter's presentation comments will be made by two members of the community who have followed the current financial discussion. They will indicate the considerations which seem to them significant in appraising this problem. These speakers will be Bruce D. Smith (Continued on Page 4)

Jane Smalley Palmer Publishes First Book

Story with Swarthmore H. S. as Background Excites Praise

"That Stewart Girl", a novel about modern high school young people with Swarthmore High School as a background, is exciting highly favorable comment in book cities as its publication Wednesday placed its author, former Swarthmore resident Mrs. Sebastian Palmer, on the William Morrow and Company author list. Mrs. Palmer is the former Jane Smalley, Swarthmore High School 1936, whose pen-name is Nena Palmer.

Mrs. Palmer attended the University of Pennsylvania for two years, the Allegheny School of Natural History of the University of Buffalo for two summer sessions where she studied the smallest lepidoptera, and one year at the University of Wisconsin studying micropaleontology. Her marriage in 1939 took her to the Mexican border and briefly to Colombia and Panama where she found abundant story material.

In 1948 she and her husband settled in Santa Fe and converted a stable into a six-room house built around an open patio in authentic Spanish style. Mr. Palmer a native of Mallorca in the Balearic Islands, Spain, and a nationally-known translator, poet and newspaper man in his own language, died in 1951. There are three young Palmers, Alfred, II, Edgar, 3, and Marianna, 16 months.

In addition to her writing, Mrs. Palmer's activities include articles and illustrations on "Things to Make and Do from Nena Palmer", (Continued on Page 5)

Guidance Counselor For H.S. Named Tues.

Hot Lunch at Rutgers to Be Canceled, Loss Too Great

A new guidance counselor for the high school was named Tuesday evening in a session of School Board adjourned from April 1. Joyzelle Peck of Lancaster who has held a similar post at Manheim Township High School, Neffsville since 1948, will begin her duties at the beginning of the next school year in September. She succeeds Jean Stratton who pioneered the post here and left several months ago to be married.

A graduate of Buffalo Seminary, Miss Peck received her B.A. degree in history and government in 1939 at the University of Buffalo where she earned her master of education degree in guidance three years later. In addition to the Pennsylvania College Permanent Certificate she holds certificates for guidance counseling and psychological examiner.

After teaching history and problems of democracy at Linden Hall, Lutz for a year she spent 1944-45 as director of tests, measurements and guidance in Waynesboro schools. From 1945 to 1948 she taught history in her present school. She also has taught a weekday religious school in Buffalo, served as psychometrist at Pennsylvania State College Center and at Franklin and Marshall College, and coached debating and reading. For two summers she was social case worker with the Lancaster Children's Bureau.

A member of the American Psychological Association, American Personnel Guidance Association and the legislative committee of the Pennsylvania Vocational Association, Miss Peck served this year as secretary of the Guidance Counselors and Teachers of Occupational Information Section of Pennsylvania State Education Association. She is now president of the Keystone Group and vice-chairman of the Guidance Roundtable. She has written on successful guidance programs at secondary level, including orientation, exploration, information and experience for the Pennsylvania School Journal.

Donald P. Jones, finance officer of the Board, reported a meeting with Mrs. Violet C. Mason, cafeteria dietitian, in an effort to cut the deficit under which the school cafeteria operates. It was decided to experiment with a cold Federal lunch in addition to the hot Federal lunch now served and to tender the State ten days notice of desire to cancel the Federal hot lunch at Rutgers avenue school where an average of 11 children does not justify the weekly salary of the attendant. Possibility of increasing the hot lunch from 25c to 30c next year in the high school cafeteria where around 200 students are sometimes accommodated, was discussed.

5th Children's Play Enrolls Cast of Forty

"We fight the dogs and chase the cats," squeak the Rats in the play "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" and with their antics and mischief they will get off to a rollicking start the fifth annual production of The Children's Theatre of the Community Arts Center. The three act play will be presented on Saturday, April 18, in the new auditorium of the Nether-Providence High School on Providence road, Wallingford at 10 a. m. and again at 2:30 p. m. Children from four to 14 and all others from 14 to 100 are promised an entertaining time of it.

The Children's Theatre, one of the many class activities offered for children at the Wallingford Arts Center, is under the direction of Mrs. Stuart Graves of Moylan. The first half of the season is devoted to training in dramatics and diction in small groups, and during this time ideas and material are contributed by all the boys and girls to the writing of the original script of the play, which is the climax of the season's study. The children learn about all the phases of a dramatic production, as one boy put it after attending a play in town, "Since I have been in the Children's Theatre I know about all the effort and fun that goes into a play".

Folk Festival Begins At College April 17th

"Do-Si-Do and away you go" is the password soon to be heard when the eighth annual Folk Festival swings into session on Friday night, April 17 at Swarthmore College.

The three-day festival will feature a concert by folk singer Pete Seeger, of radio and recording fame, square dances in the Eastern and Western styles, the latter led by Leonard Lee of Tulsa, Oklahoma, one of the outstanding square dance callers in the Southwest, and lots of audience participation, both singing and dancing.

Leading off the week-end of activities is a Square Dance which will be held in the Field House at 8:30 p. m. Outstanding local callers will be on hand for this event.

On Saturday there will be a "teaching and exchange session" by local callers at 2 p. m. in the Hall gym. This is primarily to teach Western square dances, since Leonard Lee will do the calling in Western style that night at 8:30 p. m. for the big Square Dance in the Field House. The main difference between square dancing and an Eastern caller is that a Western caller appears in the swing. The dances on Friday night will be called according to the Eastern style, but that will give way to the familiar, habitual Western style of the guest caller on Saturday evening. Lee is presently engaged in calling for 5 clubs, and in his spare time has written a book on Square Dancing which has just sold its first 1000 publications.

The festival will continue on Sunday morning with a Jam Session at 10 a. m. in Bond Memorial. All persons attending this event will contribute with folk songs that they know.

The climax and conclusion of this gala week-end will be a concert in Clothier Memorial at 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon by the famous Pete Seeger.

The Folk Festival is run each year by the Square Dance Club of Swarthmore.

TO HEAR VON ERFFA

Services Monday for Mrs. A. S. Johnson

Death of Beloved Chester Rd. Resident Occurred April 10

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church for May Pierson Johnson, wife of Albert S. Johnson, whose death occurred Friday, April 10, at her late home 211 South Chester road, after a brief illness. The Rev. Joseph P. Bishop officiated at the services. Mrs. Johnson was born in Yanceyville, N. C., the daughter of Daniel Pierson, Jr., and Elizabeth S. Pierson. She was educated in Wilmington, Del., and resided with her parents in East Orange, N. J., where she was married and soon afterward came to Swarthmore to make her home. Prior to building their home on Chester road, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson resided on Rutgers avenue.

She was an active and appreciated member of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, the Woman's Club of Swarthmore, the Friendly Circle, the Auxiliary of the Ainsworth-Werner American Legion Post. Quietly she earned a host of warm friends here by her never-failing appreciation and thoughtfulfulness of others and by her generosity.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a son, A. Sidney Johnson, Jr., North Chester road; three grandchildren, Louise P. Johnson, A. Sidney Johnson, 3rd, and Nancy Johnson, daughter of her late son, Daniel P. Johnson, who died in World War II; and by a sister, Mrs. Harold R. Sanson, Birmingham, Alabama.

Interment was in Arlington Cemetery, Lansdowne.

Seeger, Lee Highlight College Folk Festival

Top Performers Will Take Part in Week-End Event Here

When square dance minded people don their jeans and calico dresses to come out and take a whirl at the big square dance held in Swarthmore College's Field House on Saturday night, they will be "swinging their partners" according to the Western style of Leonard Lee. A professional caller of long standing, Lee is journeying to the East coast from Tulsa, Okla., to participate in this big event of the weekend Folk Festival.

Lee, who in 1947 was chosen one of the three best callers from Texas, Louisiana, and Arkansas, has had several radio programs in Tulsa, and at present calls for three clubs in Tulsa. ## Letters to the Editor

The opinions expressed below are those of the individual writers. All letters to The Swarthmorean must be signed. Pseudonyms may be used if the identity of the writer is known by the Editor. Letters will be published only at the discretion of the Editor.

Mrs. Leslie A. Wetlaufer, Blood Donor Chairman for the Swarthmore Branch, Red Cross, has submitted the following letter for publication.

"My dear Mrs. Wetlaufer, "I would like to take this opportunity to thank your branch for the very unusual service extended to Swarthmoreans for free blood transfusions made possible by blood donors during your Blood Bank Drive.

"Having had four transfusions myself during a long illness, I know what a Godsend it is and I am deeply appreciative.

"If young people, who could be donors, had the slightest idea of the tremendous good they could do by giving a pint of blood, I am sure the number of donors would be greatly increased.

May your drive on May 7th far exceed any previous record.

Sincerely,
Eliza M. Dougal

Mrs. Sara P. Yocum

Services were held Sunday afternoon at London Grove Meeting House, London Grove, Pa., for Mrs. Sara P. Yocum of 436 Aldan avenue, Aldan.

Middle Centuries of Quakerism Discussed

The second and third periods, from 1700 to 1900, in Quaker history were discussed in April 9th's lecture in Whittier House by George Walton.

Quoting Howard Brinton's and Rufus Jagers' books on the four Quaker eras Mr. Walton rounded out his account with a sprinkling of his own boyhood recollections and fascinating tales of relatives like "Injun Joe," his great grandfather. This Walton antecedent supervised a "work camp" near Buffalo, N. Y., to help the Seneca Indians care for themselves and avoid forced sale of their land, a project predating the establishment of the actual Friends Service Committee and its similar camps by 75 years.

The period Mr. Walton dwelt upon followed the apostolic beginning of Quakerism reviewed by Eleanor Clarke on April 2, and preceded the "Contemporary Quakerism" with which Earle Edwards was scheduled to conclude the lecture series last evening.

Mr. Walton termed these intervening centuries "important in Quaker history." "Although they did not live up to the creative first half-century and they included some parts to which no one would want to return, they are the road over which we have traveled," he said as he set forth the eighteenth century as one of cultural creativeness and the nineteenth as one of conflict and decline.

He continued, four different elements exist in any genuine religion:

Mysticism, which discovers religious Truth and gets moral insight through inward feeling, meditation and silent worship;

Evangelicism, which learns Truth and moral insight in Christian history, outlined objective authority, study of sacred record (Scriptures) and preaching its message.

Rationalism, based on logical and critical thinking and practicing a deduction of a right philosophy; and Activism of social gospel, finding Truth through practical efforts toward betterment. An activist is not happy unless he is helping his fellow men.

A good working synthesis of mystical and evangelical, such as characterized the opening 50 years of Quakerism, is necessary for proper balance. Mr. Walton claimed. The mystical was stronger in the eighteenth century, and in the 1800's the two elements opposed each other causing a long series of separations, beginning in Philadelphia in 1827 and placing an impoverishing experience on lives of all thoroughbred Quakers.

IN TRIBUTE

The Swarthmore Legion Auxiliary wishes to give expression to its keen sense of loss in the passing of Mrs. Albert S. Johnson. Loyal to this unit, co-operative in all meetings and auxiliary festivities, she was a member and a friend who aided the auxiliary's work for disabled veterans. A notice to this effect will be placed in the Auxiliary Annual.

She will be greatly missed at the regular gatherings, for her interest and generosity. In this letter the auxiliary would convey to her family, sympathy and love in this earthly loss of a wife, mother and sister. The friendliness and good will of Maymie Johnson as she was affectionately known to us will ever remain in our memory.

Most sincerely,
Elizabeth Y. Gilcrest,
Publicity Chairman,
Swarthmore Auxiliary, Unit 427

which is syndicated to most religious publishing houses. She has exhibited water color sketches and pen and ink drawings in the Santa Fe Art Museum.

Her story, intended for teenage readers, is a wonderfully gentle and normal record of the emergence of Petra Stewart as a person, able to discipline an inferiority bloc and accept her abilities as well as her limitations. Swarthmore High graduates, students, and parents will recognize teachers such as making scenery for the school play and editing the school paper (incidentally Mrs. Palmer credits her knowledge of newspaper printing to visits to The Swarthmorean's printer in 1948.

"That's the chapter in Petra," she writes, and will not read it unmoved by nostalgia. The editor of Morrow Junior Books considers "That Stewart Girl" one of the best novels for young people she has ever encountered.

It is good news to Nena Palmer's many local friends that the daughter of former Postmaster Alfred P. Smalley and the daughter of artist-illustrator Janet Smalley and the artist father who lost his life on World War I has one book published and three chapters of another already completed. It is obtainable at the Swarthmore Public Library.

PENDING LUCK AND FAVORABLE WEATHER, SPRING BLOOMS BEDECK COLLEGE CAMPUS

An early Spring has brought out many blossoms on the Campus, the Scott Foundation announces. Daffodils are about at their height and their range of color and form is a delight to both amateur and connoisseur alike. For those who wish to compare the many varieties and select favorites for their own gardens, there is a special study collection in the coldframes near the Field House.

Other parts of the campus, the woods and meadows offer one the opportunity to see hundreds of the older daffodil varieties naturalized by the thousand in a most charming manner.

The first double flowering Japanese Cherries are in bloom near Cedar lane. "Shirotae" is one of the most outstanding and is literally covered with blooms two inches across which resemble double roses. Later blooming ones include Fuzengo and Kwanzan in deep pink and additional white and pale pink varieties.

Color is appearing in the lilacs of the noted "Lilac Walk" leading up to the Meeting House. Hopefully, they will become one of the main attractions of the Campus within a week or so.

Boy Scouts Help The Handicapped

Cubs, Scouts and adult leaders in the District this week have joined fellow Scouts in the three-county Philadelphia area in distributing Goodwill Industries "Opportunity Bags" to householders in this area.

Neighborhood Scouts will pick up the filled bags Saturday, April 18, then deliver them to these depots. Trucks provided by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association will transport them to Goodwill's warehouse.

Kite Improves

Bond Boosters Named

Members of a lay committee headed by Ford Robinson, to publicize need of local elementary school expansion and the importance of voting favorably on the May 19 bond issue referendum for this purpose, were announced by Mrs. Oliver Rodgers, secretary of School Board, on Tuesday. The committee met with members of the Board Wednesday evening in the high school building to receive a statement of facts and answers to questions pertaining to the proposed project.

On the bank between Worth and the old Observatory (across the drive from the Lilac Walk), the flowering Crab Apples form a beautiful mosaic of blossoms in pink and rose shades mingled with the delicate greens and bronzes of their new foliage. The earliest of these are the Eley Crab and the Carmine Crab.

Beyond the Crab Apples, toward the Library, is the Magnolia collection. The later flowering varieties should bloom during the next week or more, as will many other trees and shrubs so, according to the Foundation and weather permitting, there is much to welcome those who go out to meet the Spring at Swarthmore Campus.

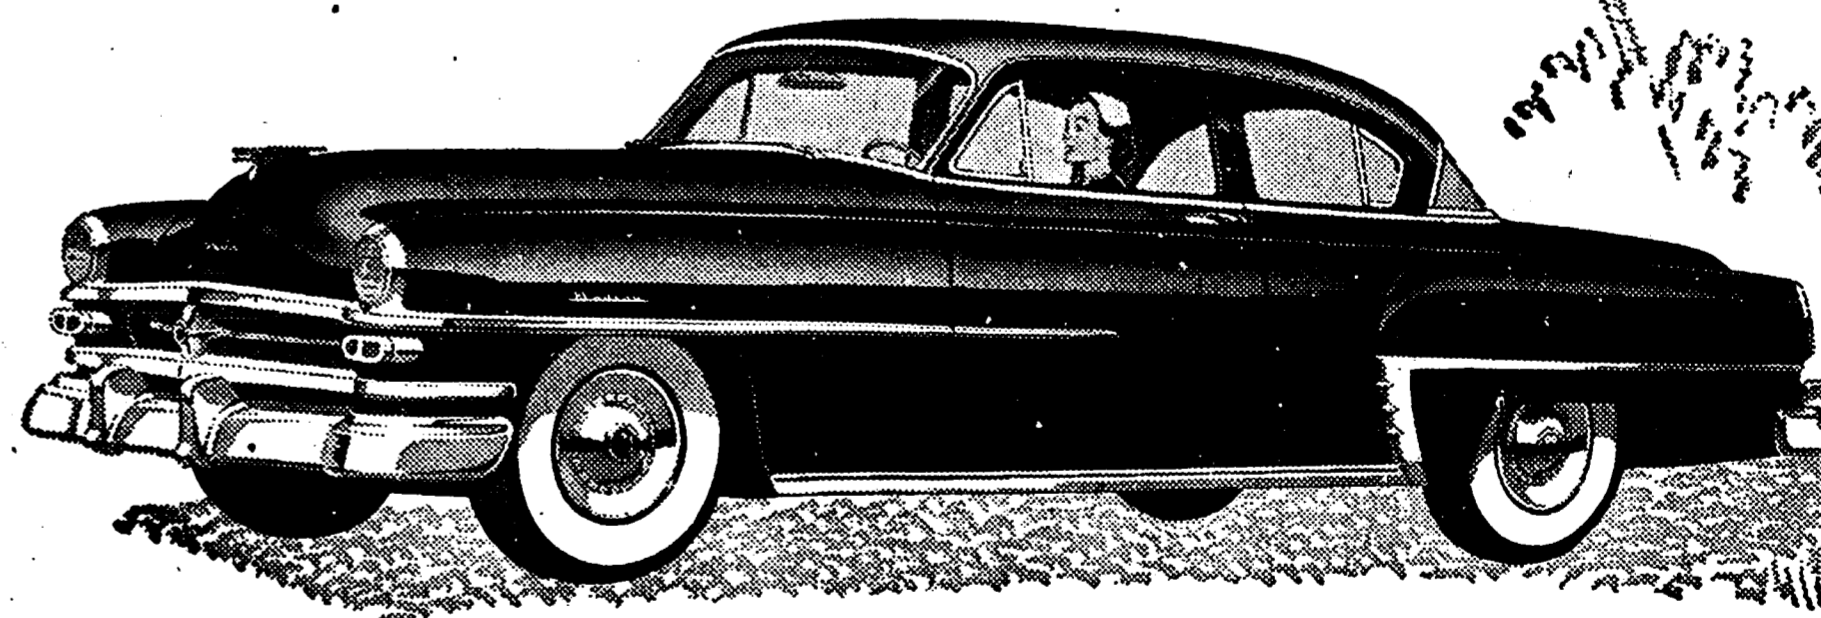

Mr. Kite sustained a concussion, a gash over the right eye which required 14 stitches, and a triple compound fracture of the right leg. He will spend at least 10 more days in the hospital.

Girl Scouts Plan Washington Trip

The Sixth Grade Intermediate Troops, 269 and 83, are contemplating a twelve-hour trip to Washington and Mount Vernon next Wednesday, April 22. The girls leave from the B and O station in Chester soon after eight in the morning and return about six that evening. A special car is provided for the Scouts, without extra charge, and a sight-seeing bus meets the train in Washington.

Mrs. Herbert Huss is in charge of the itinerary and the reservations. Troop leaders are Mrs. Robert Bowden and Mrs. Ruth Pennington, Mrs. G. Victor Hayworth and Mrs. Robert Mather. Names of the travelers and their chaperones as well as details of the trip will be given next week by a scout who will keep a log of the journey.

Brownie Trip
Twelve third grade Brownies, eager to learn how their newspapers are written and printed, were visitors of the Chester Times staff at their plant last Tuesday afternoon. The girls were excited early from school so that they could watch the pages roll off the presses. Mrs. Robert Bird and Mrs. Jack Thompson, troop leaders drove the girls to Chester.

Those who participated in this educational experience were: Barbara Bird, Sharon Bowerman, Karen Brandt, Virginia Broadhead, Deane Calhoun, Midge Campbell, Janice Carroll, Margaret Coste, Peggy Lowe, Jenny Michener, Sandy Mills, and Patricia Thompson. Peggy Robinson, whose mother, Mrs. Ford Robinson, is Troop Committee Chairman, was detained at home with a case of measles!

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

On Tuesday at 2 p. m. there will be a meeting with the League of Women Voters at the Clubhouse.

Thursday at 10 a. m. the Delaware County Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its annual spring meeting at the Twentieth Century Club, Lansdowne.

At 2 p. m. Thursday the art department will hold a meeting and tea at the home of Mrs. Arthur Binns, Muhlenberg avenue, Rutledge. Mrs. Binns will show her fine collection of Indian silver. At this meeting plans will be completed for the Art Exhibit in May. The travel group will meet at 7:45 p. m. Thursday. Deborah Wing will show pictures of "Out-of-the-Way Places in the British Isles." Miss Wing, a graduate of Swarthmore College, taught for several years in California and is now associate dean at the local college. Before beginning her work here, she and a friend traveled extensively in Europe. They rented a car in England and visited many places off the beaten track, which she will show in her talk to the group.

The literature department will hold its last meeting of the year on Friday at 10 a. m. Mrs. George P. Warren will review "Edwin Booth: Prince of Players" by Eleanor Ruggles. Florence J. Lucasse will read a brief character sketch "Sam: My Most Unforgettable Character," one of the winning essays in the County Creative Writing Contest.

Saturday evening, April 25, at 8:15 the Wesleyan University Glee Club will give a concert sponsored by the education department, in the auditorium of the Swarthmore High School.

Bridge Winners

North and south winners of the Crum Creek Bridge Club, held Tuesday night were Mrs. Walter Steuber and Mrs. Irwin MacKellwee, first, and Mrs. Katherine Brownell and Mrs. Harry Toole, second.

East and west winners were Leslie Luckie and Mrs. Henrietta Fricke, first and Mrs. J. Herbert Glenn, and Mrs. W. T. Askew, second.

College Somerville Day Set for Next Saturday

Hazel H. Brown, judge of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, will be the main speaker at the annual meeting of the Somerville Society at Swarthmore College, Saturday, April 25. The Society is composed of all alumnae of the college and sponsors Somerville Day. This day provides an opportunity for all alumnae to return to the campus, revisit classes and renew old college friendships.

In addition to the speech by Miss Brown, the winners of the two fellowships sponsored by the Society will be announced by Susan Cobbs, Dean of Women. One award, the Loretta Mott scholarship will go to a senior woman at Swarthmore who wishes to do post-graduate work. The other, the Martha Tyson fellowship will go to a woman graduate of Swarthmore who plans to teach in elementary or secondary school.

Later in the afternoon a tea in honor of Miss Brown who is an alumna of Swarthmore College will be given by the Student Somerville Committee. A conducted tour of the campus by the director and superintendent of the Scott Horticultural Foundation has also been planned.

Mrs. Virginia Brown Greer of Media, will be the presiding officer at the business meeting. She is also vice-president of the Alumni Association.

Girl Scout Leaders

There will be a neighborhood meeting of adult Girl Scouts in Swarthmore on Thursday, April 23 at 10 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church. All leaders and troop committee members are urged to attend.

Mothers Club Elects Mrs. Zecher President

Mrs. Paul E. Zecher was elected president of the Swarthmore Mother's Club at the April meeting, held last week at the Women's Clubhouse.

Other newly elected officers include Mrs. Norman Weeks, vice president; Mrs. Leo Marshall, recording secretary; Mrs. William C. Spencer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. David Speers, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Chapman, board member; Mrs. Robert Pfeiffer, membership chairman, and Mrs. Edward B. Cornelius, hospitality chairman.

During the business meeting it was announced by Mrs. John McWilliams, welfare chairman, that a total of $300 was to be given to community organizations and charitable institutions as follows: Swarthmore Public Library, $51; Community Health, $63.75; Dental Clinic of Swarthmore Public Schools, $10; Camp Sunshine, $15; Delaware County Unit, American Cancer Society, $10; Polio Parents of Delaware County, $10; and Sunnycrest School for Boys, $140.25, to be used for building a basketball court.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. William H. Erb, of Ridley Park who spoke on "You and Cancer."

Seeger, Lee Highlight College Folk Festival

first became interested in folk music when he attended a folk festival in Asheville, N. C. After graduating from school in 1938, he travelled all over the country, learning hundreds of songs, ballads, blues, courtship songs and lullabies. He accompanies himself on the five-string banjo, a rather unique American instrument brought over to this country in simple form from Africa by the Negro slaves.

In 1949 the long lean Yankee formed the now famous Weavers quartet. They reached an almost immediate success with their recording of "Goodnight Irene," and since then have been engaged in a feverish search for folk material from which they have not recovered. With the Weavers, Seeger has toured most of the top night spots and theatres of the nation, and has appeared on TV programs. Besides arranging and editing songbooks, Seeger has also written his own manual, "How To Play The Five-String Banjo." At present he is engaged in a study of American folk instrumental techniques.

Jr. Assemblies Spring Party
The Swarthmore Junior Assemblies will close the 1952-53 season with a formal Spring Party for the Eleventh and Twelfth grades tomorrow evening, April 18 at 8:30 p.m. The hosts for the twelfth grade are Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan Harrar, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schroeder will act as chaperons. Mr. and Mrs. John Lord are hosts for the eleventh grade and the chaperons will be Dr. and Mrs. J. Albright Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bloom.

Air Raid Test

A state-wide air raid test will be held Tuesday, April 21. The test will begin at exactly 2:35 p.m. with the sounding of the red alert. The first "all-clear" will go off six minutes later, at 2:41 p.m.

Swarthmore's Civil Defense Council reminds motorists of the following safety measures to be followed during an alert:

1. Pull to the side of the road and stop.
2. Leave lanes open for emergency vehicles and keep all intersections clear.
3. Shut off motor and lights.
4. Get out and take cover, if handy; otherwise, crouch or lie down in vehicle.
5. Resume travel on "All Clear", unless otherwise directed.

Customers and employees in places of business should go to a safe place. Those walking in the downtown area should seek shelter in a store, etc. The council stressed the importance of avoiding plate glass windows.

'Pied Piper' in Two Performances Saturday

a perfect basis for a dramatic play. The Children's Theatre production adds to these basic ingredients other sure-fire items — human "rats", who frolic and cavort, a cartwheeling juggler, songs and dances, a fountain with real water, and the color and noise of a medieval fair.

The director, Mrs. Stuart Graves, has had many years experience in teaching children of all ages and has learned to know what children like to see and do. All this, presented by a group of 40 children, trained in the Children's Theatre classes, should make for excellent dramatic entertainment.

For many of the children in the cast, this is the first public appearance in a play but many of the others have been with the Children's Theatre from two to five years. They joined the Theatre because they love to act and they love to have a hand in the backstage work of a production. But, most of all, they think it is fun and they hope that boys and girls will hear about "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" and come to see it and have as much fun seeing it as they will have presenting it.

Death of Salesman Challenges Players

The Players Club's current production, "Death of a Salesman", by Arthur Miller, is an ambitious, courageous undertaking to many facets of which the Club rises effectively and commendably. The burden of directing such a production is, obviously, a heavy one and the Club is to be congratulated that so experienced a director as D. Malcolm Hodge has undertaken it.

Willie Loman's house as created for the Players Club stage is satisfying. If the Club staging frequently tempts the use of superlatives, and it does, this set is one which stretches the mind of the audience, puts it to work with the cast. It is a thing of imaginative levels, backrooms, and favorite chairs, a place where living—not matter how installment ridden—has set its mark.

The Club editor pays tribute to Charlotte Mas for the discriminating music and sound effects. The audience grants them the high praise of immediate attention to their import. The production staff earns general tribute with this production. It meets exacting requirements commendably.

The cast is able, a fortunate circumstance since a contemporary past and present offers a challenge. Elizabeth K. Swan as Linda does a shining thing with her flashbacks yet her present utterly weary Mrs. Loman is never too discouraged to erase hope of a new start. Mrs. Swan is a dramatic actress of scope; Linda Loman is one of the best roles she has carried for the Club and she interprets it with distinction.

In addition to his multitudinous duties as director, Mr. Hodge carries the heavily exacting role of Willie Loman with such troubled sincerity that its impact on the audience is tremendous.

The Loman sons Happy and Big are successfully handled by Harry Warren and John F. Cramp. They lead an active stage life in the course of their roles and each presents his own variations of the Miller-Loman theme with which one yearns to argue after seeing the play. Big is, perhaps, the harder part, bearing as he does the alternate hope and despair of the Lomans.

Norman Snyder as Bernard enacts a young, hang-dog hero worship in his high school years and is convincing in the brief appearance as a mature, rising lawyer, Washington bound. As Charley his father, Irvin R. MacEltree turns in his finest performance in many for the Players Club.

Charles F. Seymour as Howard Wagner the top executive of Willie Loman's firm is chillingly impersonal and final in disposing of his father's long-time salesman. Stanley, played by Richard Foltz, is one of the few gentle, kindly people in the play's restaurant scene. William W. Price raises audience tension as Uncle Ben, Willie's nemesis, whose wealth seemed to mount with ease. It does occur to the layman that it, too, under closer examination might lessen in the Loman fashion.

Allison Roberts as The Woman fades out of Willie's life as another "wife" but not in either will to the "wife" but not in time to prevent the scar which made his father a hollow noise to Biff. Cramp deserves acclaim for the sensitivity with which he plays the Boston hotel flashback.

Nancy R. Wight and Ruth C. Radbill as Miss Forsythe and Letta, two chance pick-ups, play also their flimsy roles in the unnoticed distortion of a man. Irma C. Keighton as Jenny appears briefly and Martha Keighton is vital to the performance in a behind-the-scenes capacity.

A troubling drama of life as a treadmill, "Death of a Salesman" packs a hard wallop. Monday and Tuesday night audiences gave its curtain calls long and loud applause.

Presbyterian Men Elect
Leslie A. Wettlaufer was elected president of Men's Association of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church at a dinner meeting held last week in McCahan Hall. Fellow officers elected at the same time were A. L. Platky vice-president, H. S. Hemenway secretary, and Peter E. Told treasurer.

Over 100 members attended the meeting which featured Dr. Arthur Bannerman, president of the National Council of Presbyterian Men, as speaker. Dr. Bannerman, president of Warren Wilkeson College, Ashville, N. C., was introduced by the Rev. Joseph P. Bishop, pastor of the Church.

Noted Anthropologist To Speak Here May 1

Presbyt. Nursery School Sponsors Dr. Mead In Talk Friday

Dr. Margaret Mead, well-known author and anthropologist, will speak on comparative effects of different cultures on children at the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church on Friday, May 1, at 8:30. The meeting is being sponsored by the Swarthmore Presbyterian Nursery Day School.

The title of Dr. Mead's talk will be "The Civilization and the Uncivilized Child." Dr. Mead is a former director of the Columbia University Research in Contemporary Cultures, and her long years of study and research of primitive peoples makes her especially suited for such a comparative discussion of civilization's effect on its children.

Friends of Dorothy Hunt Establish Music Memorial

Many people have suggested that there be a memorial established for Dorothy Hunt to honor her gift of herself and her music to the life of the Swarthmore community and college for more than 25 years. It is hoped that her friends, including those who live in the village, members of the Yearly Meeting of the Society of Friends, Swarthmore Alumni, faculty and students may find satisfaction in being a part of this memorial.

Wesleyan Glee Club Sings Tomorrow Nite

Concert Benefits Bonsor Scholarship for H. S. Graduate

The Wesleyan University Glee Club will be presented in concert tomorrow night at 8:15 in the High School Auditorium by the Woman's Club of Swarthmore.

Members of Mortar Board, Swarthmore College, will aid the Club's Education Department in serving dinner to the 42 members of the Wesleyan University Glee Club prior to its concert. The Glee Club will arrive in the Borough at 5 o'clock tomorrow and will be met at the High School by the families which will extend its members overnight hospitality. Dinner will follow at the Woman's Club.

The Concert program will include traditional chants, "Eight Bells" and "Away to Rio", a work song "Po' O' Lazarus", an old English hunting song "John Peel", Wagner's "Pilgrim's Chorus from Tannhauser", Palestrina's "O Bone Jesu", several songs by Wesleyan composers, a riddle two groups by the Club's smaller units the Cardinals and the Jibbers with selections to be announced.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. William H. Erb, of Ridley Park who spoke on "You and Cancer."

Seeger, Lee Highlight College Folk Festival

(Continued from Page 1) first became interested in folk music when he attended a folk festival in Asheville, N. C. After graduating from school in 1938, he traveled all over the country, learning hundreds of songs, ballads, blues, courtly songs and lullabies. He accompanies himself on the five-string banjo, a rather unique American instrument brought over to this country in simpler form from Africa by the Negro slaves.

In 1949 the long lean Yankee formed the now famous Weavers quartet. They reached an almost immediate success with their recording of "Goodnight Irene", and since then have been engaged in a feverish search for folk material from which they have not recovered. With the Weavers, Seeger has toured most of the top night spots and theatres of the nation, and has appeared on TV programs.

Besides arranging and editing songbooks, Seeger has also written his own manual, "How To Play The Five-String Banjo". At present he is engaged in a study of American folk instrumental techniques.

Jr. Assemblies Spring Party

The Swarthmore Junior Assemblies will close the 1952-53 season with a formal Spring Party for the Eleventh and Twelfth grades to-morrow evening, April 18 at 8:30 p.m. The hosts for the twelfth grade are Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan Hararr, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schroeder will act as chaperons. Mr. and Mrs. John Lord are hosts for the eleventh grade and the chaperons will be Dr. and Mrs. J. Albright Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bloom.

Air Raid Test

A state-wide air raid test will be held Tuesday, April 21. The test will begin at exactly 2:35 p.m. with the sounding of the red alert. The first "all-clear" will go off six minutes later, at 2:41 p.m.

Swarthmore's Civil Defense Council reminds motorists of the following safety measures to be followed during an alert:

1. Pull to the side of the road and stop.
2. Leave lanes open for emergency vehicles and keep all intersections clear.
3. Shut off motor and lights.
4. Get out and take cover, if handy; otherwise, crouch or lie down in vehicle.
5. Resume travel on "All Clear", unless otherwise directed.

Customers and employees in places of business should go to a safe place. Those walking in the downtown area should seek shelter in a store, etc. The council stressed the importance of avoiding plate glass windows.

Death of Salesman Challenges Players

The Players Club's current production, "Death of a Salesman", by Arthur Miller, is an ambitious, courageous undertaking to many facets of which the Club rises effectively and commendably. The burden of directing such a production is, obviously, a heavy one and the Club is to be congratulated that so experienced a director as D. Malcolm Hodges has undertaken it.

A troubling drama of life as a treadmill, "Death of a Salesman" packs a hard wallop. Monday and Tuesday night audiences gave its curtain calls long and loud applause.

PREBYTERIAN MEN ELECT

Leslie A. Wettlaufer was elected president of Men's Association of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church at a dinner meeting held last week in McCahan Hall. Fellow officers elected at the same time were A. L. Platky vice-president, H. S. Hemenway secretary, and Peter E. Told treasurer.

Over 100 members attended the meeting which featured Dr. Arthur Bannerman, president of the National Council of Presbyterian Men, as speaker. Dr. Bannerman, president of Warren Wilson College, Asheville, N. C., was introduced by the Rev. Joseph P. Bishop, pastor of the Church.

The Club editor pays tribute to Charlotte Maas for the discriminating music and sound effects. The audience grants them the high praise of immediate attention to their import. The production staff earns general tribute with this production. It meets exacting requirements commendably.

The cast is able, a fortunate circumstance since a contemporary past and present offers a challenge. Elizabeth K. Swan as Linda does a shining thing with her flashbacks yet her present utterly weary Mrs. Loman is never too discouraged to erase hope of a new start. Mrs. Swan is a dramatic actress of scope; Linda Loman is one of the best roles she has carried for the Club and she interprets it with distinction.

In addition to his multifield duties as director, Mr. Hodges carries the heavily exacting role of Willie Loman with such troubled sincerity that its impact on the audience is tremendous.

The Loman sons Happy and Big are successfully handled by Harry Warren and John F. Cramp. They lead an active stage life in the course of their roles and each presents his own variations of the Miller-Loman theme with which one yearns to argue after seeing the play. Biff is, perhaps, the harder part, bearing as he does the alternate hope and despair of the Lomans.

Norman Snyder as Bernard enacts a young, hang-dog hero worship in his high school years and is convincing in the brief appearance as a mature, rising lawyer, Washington bound. As Charley his father, Irvin R. MacElwee turns in his finest performance in many for the Players Club.

'Pied Piper' in Two Performances Saturday

(Continued from Page 1) a perfect basis for a dramatic play. The Children's Theatre production adds to these basic ingredients other sure-fire items — human "trats", who frolic and cavort, a cartwheeling juggler, songs and dances, a fountain with real water, and the color and noise of a medieval fair.

The director, Mrs. Stuart Graves, has had many years experience in teaching children of all ages and has learned to know what children like to see and do. All this, presented by a group of 40 children, trained in the Children's Theatre classes, should make for excellent dramatic entertainment.

For many of the children in the cast, this is the first public appearance in a play but many of the others have been with the Children's Theatre from two to five years. They joined the Theatre because they love to act and they love to have a hand in the backstage work of a production. But, most of all, they think it is fun and they hope that boys and girls will hear about "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" and come to see it and have as much fun seeing it as they will have presenting it.

Noted Anthropologist To Speak Here May 1

Presbyt. Nursery School Sponsors Dr. Mead In Talk Friday

Dr. Margaret Mead, well-known author and anthropologist, will speak on comparative effects of different cultures on children at the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church on Friday, May 1, at 8:30. The meeting is being sponsored by the Swarthmore Presbyterian Nursery Day School.

The title of Dr. Mead's talk will be "The Civilized and the Uncivilized Child." Dr. Mead is a former director of the Columbia University Research in Contemporary Cultures, and her long years of study and research of primitive peoples makes her especially suited for such a comparative discussion of civilization's effect on its children.

Bond Issue Boosted At Home and School

May Referendum Passage Urged; Officers Elected

The Swarthmore Home and School Association closed its current year with a Bond Issue rally in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, following its annual election of officers.

School Board President Carroll F. Streeter explained the long struggle of the five local school directors in arriving at the decision that a minimum of seven more elementary classrooms is mandatory by 1954 if Swarthmore is to maintain educational standards, and that a bond issue is the most democratic and least costly method of financing the new building. Answering the concern expressed by some parents that using the total borrowing capacity of the district in this manner and not raising taxes immediately to keep maintenance funds and teacher salaries increments up to previous levels might be pinching pennies to a dangerous level, Mr. Streeter said, "The Board plans to maintain all buildings rightly and continue proper teacher salary increases. We are mindful of the importance of teachers' salaries in good education and we don't plan to have the teachers pay for the new building. Although we aren't paying the highest salaries of any school in Pennsylvania the variation is slight, for instance in an area commonly used for comparison we are second only to Lower Merion and that represents a difference of a mere $60 or so. An increase of $20,000 expected from the State, increased real estate assessments, and higher tuition income during the next two or three years should cover increased operational costs and debt service for a time. We must resign ourselves to more taxes before many

Clayden Receives Sun Oil Promotion

A. Ludlow Clayden, Park avenue, a Sun Oil Engineer for 30 years, was recently appointed technical associate in the company's chemical research department. His assistant John G. Moxey, Jr. of Westtown, formerly of Swarthmore, succeeds him as manager of the automotive laboratory.

Widely known throughout the oil and automotive industries, Mr. Clayden served as staff assistant on automotive matters. An authority on fuels and engines, he joined the company in 1922 as chief automotive engineer, following an extensive career in the automotive engineering field both here and abroad. He became manager of the automotive laboratory at Marcus Hook in 1938.

A native of England, he was associated with Daimler Motor Company before his appointment as editor of Automotive Engineer, a London publication. He was affiliated with various trade publications for eight years. He also served as a consulting engineer for Wright-Martin Aircraft Corporation, and prior to joining Sun, was general consultant to United States Cartridge Company in Lowell, Mass.

Mr. Moxey joined the Company in 1935, immediately following his graduation from Swarthmore College. His first job was laboratory assistant in the laboratory he now heads. He was made research engineer in 1938.

years but the Bond Issue will postpone the evil day awhile—maybe three years. Meanwhile borrowing capacity will recur each year about $30,000 toward caring for needs which could develop in the future.

To those who wondered if a proper building could be constructed within the borrowing capacity of a bond issue, Streeker said "Our buildings have not been the finest but they have been very good, and we have prided ourselves on the education that went on in them. The School Board is unanimously urging the passage of the Bond Issue to avoid the borough being in a very uncomfortable school position next year. It intends to see the new building is a fine one in every way, although not to the point of including luxurious non-essentials, and the Board believes bids will show it can be accomplished within the district's legal borrowing capacity. Should the cost of what the community wants be higher than the $312,000 the voters authorize at the May 19 primary election the Board's recent application to the State for permission to build under an Authority if necessary will leave the road open for following that alternative. It is also possible to have an Authority take over the project and rent the building to the district at a considerably later point should anticipated funds and expenses not develop in a manner that would permit the adequate financing of local schools, or if legal means of increasing taxes here when necessary are not available."

Prior to Mr. Streeker's address Program Chairman John W. Seybold projected slides on a screen to compare Swarthmore as to per pupil expenditure, median teacher salaries, percentage of resident pupils per population, assessed market valuation, with New York, Metropolitan, Connecticut, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania districts such as Radnor, Lower Merion, Cheltenham, Abington, Springfield (Montgomery County), Haverford, Lansdale, and Swarthmore. Swarthmore neighbor used in the comparative analyses and Swarthmore and it placed the same in most of the charts. No analyses of teacher per pupil ratio or size of other districts' facilities in view of up-to-the-minute standards was given. Significant were the figures of school enrollment during the past 20 years and the increases predicted for the next seven years by exhaustive lay committee surveys recently made under the direction of Mr. Streeker and Board Treasurer John Spencer. These showed home units had risen in number from 768 in 1930 to 1287 in 1951 and pupils increased from 3405 to 5025. Actual enrollment in the elementary school rose from 324 in 1939 to 514 in the current school year. On these actual facts and the predicted 47 per cent to 76 per cent estimated additional growth by 1960 the Home and School Association based its overwhelming support of passing the Bond Issue.

Dr. Hallock Campbell opened his talk by urging all voters to show their approval of the new school addition by voting yes on the bond issue. He expressed fear, however, that present income would not be adequate to "keep us going" with more than barely essential maintenance, and avoid the danger of falling behind in providing salaries for top notch teachers.

Bruce Smith, the last scheduled speaker of the evening, pointed out the difference in the interest rate alone, between a bond issue and the Authority the School Board could have set up for less limited borrowing and a higher tax rate without citizens' permission, would be about 1 1/4 per cent. This means Authority financing would cost taxpayers about $58,000 more over the life of the bonds, than would a local issue. He also pointed out that any help received from the State must also be paid out of local pockets. In other words if to encourage use of Authorities that enable districts to arbitrarily raise tax rates above legal limits, the state contributes some reimbursement toward the districts rental of Authority-held buildings, the local district pays not only the millage increase levied by the Authority but a sales tax or income tax such as the State Legislature is now battling to put through to cover expense of this same Authority reimbursement procedure. To Mr. Smith passage of the Bond Issue attests the good judgment of the electorate.

The slate of Home and School officers for next year was unanimously accepted as presented by

School Bond Issue Set at $312,000

Board Meets Twice on Expansion, Routine Business

In two sessions since the last Swarthmorean went to press School Board journeyed further toward the Rutgers Avenue School addition which it hopes to have ready for use in September 1954.

Thursday evening the Board took formal steps to place a request for a $312,000 bond issue on the May 19 primary election ballot, to provide funds "for and toward erecting, equipping, and furnishing a new elementary school building and repairing, altering and improving the existing elementary school building on Rutgers avenue." The Board plans to fund a $85,000 present debt for last year's high school alterations and Rutgers avenue land purchase at the same time with the new issue, making one total of $398,000. Monday evening it approved preliminary drawings by Architect Howell Lewis Shay, Jr., who hopes to secure State Department of Public Instruction approval, finish detailed drawings and open bids by August 1. The Board also decided to file application for State permission to proceed under an Authority if the bond issue amount doesn't provide sufficient fund for the needed extension. The step was taken now in order that no conceivable delay to the building exist.

Mrs. I. R. MacElwee of Mt. Holyoke place, Mrs. Wilbur James of Park avenue and her mother Mrs. Joan Shroyok of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Elwood Turner of Wallingford, left Tuesday for Washington to attend the Continental Congress of the D. A. R. All are delegates or alternates to the congress from the Philadelphia Chapter D. A. R.

Members of Swarthmore Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom will spend April 30th making a day-long tour of the UN Headquarters in New York, it was announced this week.

The group will leave by car and train early in the morning of the 30th. A few spaces are still available in the automobiles which will make the trip and those wishing to make use of them should call either Mrs. Henrietta Bruce, SWarthmore 6-3082, or Mrs. Roy McCorkel, SWarthmore 6-6769.

Other members of the group will board the nine o'clock train for New York City from 30th Street Station. They will be met at the UN Headquarters by Mrs. Patrick Mallin, former chairman of the Swarthmore W.I.L., and now a credited observer for that organization at the UN.

Mrs. Mallin has arranged for a tour of the new buildings, including the new Carnegie building for organizations affiliated with the UN, where the W.I.L. will maintain an office. This building is located across from the UN Building at 42nd Street and the East River.

Other features of the day will include a visit to one of the sessions sitting on that day and lunch in the delegates dining room. Mrs. Mallin is expected to make a report on the progress of the committee on the Status of Women which she has been observing on behalf of the W.I.L.

TO PRESENT CONCERT

The Swarthmore College Orchestra, conducted by Dr. Peter van de Kamp, will give its final concert of the school year on Friday, May 1, at 8:15 in Clothier Memorial.

The program will consist of Telemann's Suite in A minor for flute and strings with Michael Calingaert as soloist, Mozart's Overture to the Marriage of Figaro, Saint Saens' First Cello Concerto in A minor with Jerome Goodman as soloist, and Beethoven's Symphony No. 7 in A major.

Providence Garden Club Sets May Market Date

The Providence Garden Club of Pennsylvania will hold its annual May Market on Wednesday, May 6 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at Todmorden Farm, Mrs. Arthur Hoyt Scott's estate in Wallingford. Mrs. Phillip C. Snow is chairman of a large committee of co-workers with Mrs. Phillip W. Kniskern and Mrs. J. H. Ward Hinkson as her vice-chairmen.

The all important sale of perennials, annuals, shrubs, vines, and rock plants will again be in charge of Mrs. James P. Henry. Luncheon will be served from 12 noon to 2 p.m. Mrs. R. Blair Price heads this large committee with Mrs. Wallace M. McCurdy as her co-chairman.

As in the past, The Junior Providence Garden Club will offer home-baked pies, cakes and cookies. Their chairman, Mrs. C. Walter Randall, Jr., will be in charge of this table with Mrs. Harrison B. Weatherill.

Members and friends of all nearby Garden Clubs, as well as all garden lovers, are especially invited to participate in this event.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice L. Webster, Jr., of Elm avenue, entertained at their week-end guests Mr. Webster's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Douglass Sargent Mead, of State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Brogan, of Guernsey road, and Mr. Brogan, Jr., of Forrest lane, spent last week in Cincinnati, Ohio, attending the convention of the American Machine Tool Distributors Association.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Bullock, of Cedar lane, have returned after touring through Virginia, visiting gardens in the vicinity of Charlottesville and Richmond, Va.

Richard B. Bullock, a junior at Randolph-Macon College, spent the week-end at his home on Cedar lane.

School Bond Issue Set at $312,000

Board Meets Twice on Expansion, Routine Business

In two sessions since the last Swarthmorean went to press School Board journeyed further toward the Rutgers Avenue School addition which it hopes to have ready for use in September 1954.

Thursday evening the Board took formal steps to place a request for a $312,000 bond issue on the May 19 primary election ballot, to provide funds "for and toward erecting, equipping, and furnishing a new elementary school building and repairing, altering and improving the existing elementary school building on Rutgers avenue." The Board plans to fund a $86,000 present debt for last year's high school alterations and Rutgers avenue land purchase at the same time with the new issue, making one total of $398,000.

Monday evening it approved preliminary drawings by Architect Howell Lewis Shay, Jr., who hopes to secure State Department of Public Instruction approval, finish detailed drawings and open bids by August 1. The Board also decided to file application for State permission to proceed under an Authority if the bond issue amount doesn't provide sufficient fund for the needed extension. The step was taken now in order that no conceivable delay to the building exist.

Mrs. I. R. MacElwee of Mt. Holyoke place, Mrs. Wilbur James of Park avenue and her mother Mrs. John Shryock of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Elwood Turner of Wallingford, left Tuesday for Washington to attend the Continental Congress of the D. A. R. All are delegates or alternates to the congress from the Philadelphia Chapter D. A. R.

Dick McCormack, a freshman at Princeton University spent the week at his home on Ogden avenue.

to good party-line telephone service

It's a matter of simple consideration. Remember the three Rs of party-line courtesy—be Reasonable about how long you talk; Release the line for emergencies when asked; Replace the receiver gently when you find the line in use.

If you are always courteous on the telephone, you're sure to find your party-line neighbors the same. Happy result: better telephone service for everybody concerned!

Nursing Service in Orientation Meet

Six New Directors Visit Agency Services With President, Staff

Mrs. C. Edwin Ireland president of the Community Health Society of Central Delaware County conducted the Spring Orientation Course for new board members April 16 with the assistance of Acting Director Dorothy M. Sidner and Mrs. Carl Schmitt, president elect and present chairman of the Society's planning committee.

New members in attendance were Mrs. LaRue Hendrixson, Swarthmore; Mrs. Charles McCafferty, Springfield; Mrs. Walker Evans, Mrs. Edward Passmore, and Mrs. Andrew Alexander, Ridley Park; and Mrs. Henry Hofmann, Rutledge.

After learning that Executive Director Mrs. E. A. Groff is absent on educational leave, the directors visited the Health Center headquarters in Borough Hall, Swarthmore where they met Secretary Aida DeFuria and learned how incoming calls for nursing service are received and handled; how records of nursing service are compiled and kept; and received instruction in nursing equipment used on bedside visits.

Next, the group visited the Supply Closet in the Swarthmore Co-operative building where sick room equipment is kept to be used or loaned when needed in the Society's six community area. The new adjustable walker donated by the Swarthmore Rotary Club and the hospital bed and pair of bed-sides given by Dr. R. E. Spiller were noted gratefully.

The Woodlyn Child Health Center, opened, maintained, and staffed by the Society, was visited at length. Directors met Dr. Doretta DeLaites and watched her work with the pre-school patients as well as that of the staff nurses and the volunteers on duty. When the group adjourned to the Inglenook for luncheon it was joined by Mrs. John Ross, director who works regularly at the Woodlyn Health Center and two other volunteers regularly on duty there, Mrs. John Murphey and Mrs. Carroll P. Streeter.
