McCorkel to Address Mothers Club on U. S. CARE Director Will Speak At Annual Fathers' Night Jan. 14

Roy McCorkel, director of CARE's self-help program, will be guest speaker at the annual Father's Night Dinner of the Swarthmore Mother's Club to be held Thursday evening, January 14, at 6:30 at McCahan Hall in the Presbyterian Church.

Getting the club off to a gala start, for this will be the first program meeting in the new year, Mrs. Lawrence Conwell, chairman for the affair, has announced that the dinner will feature many tempting delicacies made by club members, and will include roast beef as the main meat dish. The affair will be open to all members, their husbands, and their guests.

To Tell of U. S. Role "The Responsibility of the United States in World Affairs" will be the title of McCorkel's talk to the group. His extensive experience both in this country and abroad make him well qualified to discuss this topic.

McCorkel, who is now director of CARE's "self-help" program, which represents CARE's interest in a voluntary Point Four or technical aid program, has been with this organization since 1949. First the regional director of Southern Europe, he was, from June, 1950 to June of the following year, CARE's regional chief of missions for England, Scotland, Wales, Northern Ireland, Austria, France, Benelux, Greece, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Malta, Finland, Norway, and Yugoslavia. He was responsible for liaison between CARE and the various overseas governments, working out contract negotiations when entering new CARE missions and interpreting changing needs in the countries to CARE, New York.

Born in Lilly, he received his B. A. degree from the College of Wooster, Ohio. Following graduation he traveled around the world, taught in India for a year, and returned to the United States to do graduate work at Yale University Divinity School where he graduated with the B. D. degree.

Travels Extensively In the meantime, he traveled to Europe, visiting most of the European countries, including Russia in 1936. In 1937, the year of his graduation from Yale, he attended the World Council of Churches Conference at Oxford, England. In 1939, he attended the World Conference of Christian Youth at Amsterdam, Holland.

He has worked with the Student Christian Movement, with the Consumer Cooperatives Movement in the East and before coming to CARE he was with the American Friends Service Committee in Philadelphia. He has spoken widely in the United States on the international situation and the relevance of religion to economic problems and edited the book "Voices from the Younger Churches."

McCorkel, a resident of Cornell Avenue, is married and has three children. He is a conservationist and has a tree farm in central Pennsylvania where scientific forestry practices are followed.

KKG's to Meet The Kappa Kappa Gamma Singing Group will meet Monday, January 5, at the home of Mrs. George Corse, 411 Yale Avenue.

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN CHURCH SERVICE

Last Sunday was Student Recognition Day in Methodist Churches throughout the country. College students, home for the holidays, who participated in Sunday morning's student service at the Swarthmore Methodist Church were: June Shearer, junior at William and Mary, who gave the invocation; Ralph Park, Jr., Washington and Lee senior, who read the Scripture; Robert Allison, sophomore at West Chester, who led in prayer; Charles H. Grier, Jr., Grove City freshman, and Joan Matthews, West Chester senior, who spoke on "The Meaning of the Church in a Student's Life and in Helping to Adjust to College."

Blackfriars to Give Annual Play Jan. 16th

"Curtain Going Up" Features Large Cast, Crews

Blackfriars, the dramatic group at Swarthmore High School, will present the annual play, "Curtain Going Up" on January 16, at the High School Auditorium. The entire production is under the direction of Henry F. Hoffmann, faculty sponsor of Blackfriars. He will be ably assisted by two student directors, Ginny Magee and Joan Narbeth. Jane Leavitt, head of the group, and Steven Carter will also assist.

Those in the cast include: Janet Crothers, Sandy Milne, Karen Mondale, Mary Mellica, Margo Morrison, Barbara Bloom, Susan Braun, Jean Coe, Jane MacAlpine, Martha Calhoun, Mandel Much, Steve Carter, Gary Carey, Preston Hollander, Karl Thomas, David Deacon, Tim Ryerson, Carol Topping, Gail Meyer, Jane Elliot, Kathy Jessup, Linda Rothwell, Candy Allen and Gladys Durbarow.

Each of the numerous committees which help put on the play have an old Blackfriar as supervisor, with a committee chairman. Members of the Stage Crew, for instance, are Betsy Brinkman and Ed Noyes, co-supervisors, with Bob LaFore and John Wetlaufer, co-chairmen; and members Bob Young, Patti O'Neill, Jo O'Neill, Lanie Hopper, Mary Beth Camay, Ruth Bullard, Stuart Bowie, Bev Searfoss, Candy Allen, and Ginny Hubbell.

On the Costume Committee, Sally Bates is the supervisor, Kathis Jessup, Chairman, and the members Jane Elliot, Gail Meyer, and Mary Lou Friend. The supervisor of the Property Committee is Sue Hansell. Ginny Tiller and Ginny De Calndry are the co-chairmen, with members Nancy Bunker, Carolyn Schott, Nancy Neuweiler, Don Poole, Joan Thompson and Anne Driehaus.

On the business and publicity committee, Pete Bloom and Rose Alice Richardson are co-supervisors with Doty Hopkins and Alice DeCalndry as co-chairmen. Members are Jimmie Lewis, Jane Valentine, Evelyn Bullitt, Barbara Harrison and Gladys Durbarow.

The sound-effects committee consists of Dick Fellows as supervisor, while John Pegram takes care of the sounds and Damon Kletzein the lights. Molly Banks and Nancy Newnam are co-supervisors of Make-up, and Nancy Bunker is the chairman. The members are Ann Lord, Ben Lawrence, Liz Campion, Marianne Thompson, Judy Abbe, Joanne Shearer, Fanny McGonigle and Linda Rothwell.

Mrs. Buckley to Speak At Woman's Club Tue.

Chester Nursery Director To Talk on "Youth Conservation"

Mrs. Walter Buckley, executive director of the Chester Nursery and Boarding Home, will be the speaker for the Woman's Club at its meeting Tuesday, January 5, at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Buckley has been in charge of the Chester home for 18 years. In addition to wide experience previous to her present position, she keeps in touch with the latest developments in child welfare work through frequent refresher courses at various universities. In discussing her subject "Youth Conservation Begins in Babyhood," she will present some case histories of children whom she has known through her work.

The Chester Day Nursery and Boarding Home, located at 315 East 5th street, has a capacity of 38 children. Occupying its present site since 1918, it was begun as a civic project of the Chester New Century Club. Although it started as a day nursery, that name is now a misnomer. For more than 10 years children from toddlers to fourteen-year olds have been boarded there. It is known as "an emergency and temporary home for dependent and neglected children." The length of stay depends on the individual case and care is provided as long as needed. Mrs. A. H. Knabb of Swarthmore is a member of the board.

The home is supported by contributions from the parents, by Community Chest funds, a small allocation from the State Department of Welfare, and gifts from individuals and agencies. There is no regimentation, and everything possible is done to create a home-like atmosphere. The staff numbers nine persons, including a well-trained teacher. Mrs. Buckley tells with pride of former "children of the nursery" who are now with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Walt Disney Studios, and in the armed forces.

The program is in charge of the Youth Conservation department, of which Mrs. Henry I. Hoot is chairman. Hostesses for the day will be:

Mrs. Gorton W. Brush, Mrs. Henry I. Hoot, Mrs. Donald P. Jones, and Mrs. Raymond E. Wilson.

Mrs. Horace H. Hopkins and Mrs. Leslie A. Wetlaufer will lead a discussion on "The Child's World." The child study group, which is sponsored by the Swarthmore Mother's Club, is open to all members of the community.

JOINS SEMINAR GROUP

Mrs. Frederic A. Child, South Chester road, is a member of the National Missions West Indies Traveling Seminar which will enplane Saturday, January 2, for an extended tour. The group will visit Presbyterian missions in Puerto Rico, Dominican Republic and Cuba.

Mrs. Child will visit friends at the Theological Seminary in Matanzas, before returning by way of Florida.

Mental Health Film To Be Shown Wed.

Home & School Committee Initiates New Series At High School

The first of a new series of mental health films, "The Feeling of Depression," will be shown Wednesday morning at 10:30 in the visual education room of the high school.

Each Wednesday for the next several weeks at the same time and place a film will be shown under the sponsorship of the Health Advisory Committee of the Swarthmore Home and School Association. The pictures, which come highly recommended, are ordered by the school for use in advanced classes, are provided by the Pennsylvania State Department of Health and Welfare, and are made available for the use of the Home and School Committee, with the hope that as wide an audience for the films as possible may be found among parents and townspeople.

This year's film series will include the most popular of last year's pictures and some new films as well. Announcement of the title for the week will be made in The Swarthmorean. Complete lists of the film titles will be distributed through the school and may be obtained by calling the school nurse or Mrs. Louis Robinson, chairman of the Health Advisory Committee.

Child Study Group To Meet January 5

Dr. Ruth-Jean Eisenbud will be the discussion leader at the January meeting of the child study group to be held Monday evening, January 4, at 8:15 in the American Legion room of Borough Hall, it was announced by Mrs. Edmund Jones, chairman of the group.

Dr. Eisenbud will talk about parent-child relationships and will lead a discussion on "The Child's World." The child study group, which is sponsored by the Swarthmore Mother's Club, is open to all members of the community.

Judges Name Winners In Lighting Contest

Inching through the borough of Swarthmore one dark night within the past week, four intrepid judges undertook the dubious pleasure of selecting the 1953 cash winners of the outdoor lighting contest sponsored each Christmas season by the Business Association and The Swarthmorean.

The task was not an easy one, the four reported, adding that the many varied, gay and colorful displays that made the tour so much pleasure, also served to make their final selection something of a problem. Winners, however, were named by unanimous decision as follows:

First prize of $15.00 to A. Sidney Johnson, Jr., 620 North Chester road for his door display of a decorated Christmas tree, framed with soft greens.

Second prize of $10.00 will be divided between Francis Plowman, 425 North Swarthmore avenue, and Donald Poole, 415 North Swarthmore avenue, for their combined display of blue lights featuring the large handsome tree between.

The $5.00 third prize has been awarded to Ernest A. Isberg at the southwest corner of Harvard avenue and South Chester road, for their lighting display which outlines the house, and spots his singing carolers on the porch roof.

Honorable mention went to the Young Adults of the Presbyterian Church for their creche in front of the church on Harvard avenue. A baby camel and a little shepherd boy have been added to the display since it was awarded first prize last year.

Another honorable mention was awarded to the Walton Nasons at 323 Cornell avenue, who this year at the earnest request of insistent young neighbors, patiently added four more reindeer to their 1952 prize-winning display of Santa, sleigh and (only) half his couriers.

In concluding their report, the judges urged sightseers not to miss the Donald Jones' display at 407 Swarthmore avenue; the Jessup' display at 234 Haverford avenue; the cheerful door displays at the William Scarborough's, 404 Rutgers avenue; the Christmas-green stocking hung out by the Charles C. Brogan, 35 Forest lane, the Dr. Harold Roxby door 501 Elm avenue, and finally the many-sided star lighting the porch at the corner of Walnut and Elm avenues.

DAR Group Hears Talk

At their final meeting for the year, the Delaware County Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, heard a talk on the life and paintings of Benjamin West by Mrs. Earl P. Yerkes at her home on South Princeton avenue.

Mrs. Yerkes reminded her audience that Benjamin West was born in Swarthmore in 1738 of Quaker parentage, and that he painted over 3000 paintings. There have been more books written about Mr. West in Pennsylvania than any other state, due to the Quaker interest, Mrs. Yerkes said. Among other interesting items brought out from her research was that he had help in mixing colors from the Indians who used to live around these parts.

Among the best known of his paintings in this country is the one hanging in the Pennsylvania Hospital at 8th and Pine, which depicts doctors in action. Of all his work, which was internationally known, only 22 are known to be exhibited now.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Church school and the men's and women's Bible classes meet at 9:30 on Sunday morning. The Senior High class meets at 10:45 and the additional church school classes meet at 11 a.m.

Mr. Bishop will preach at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock morning worship on the topic, "The Means of Grace."

Prior to the annual meeting of the congregation on January 6, 1954, there will be a congregational supper, cover-dish style, at 6:15 p.m. After the business meetings are completed, the Rev. Thomas Goslin will speak on "The Protestant Witness in South America." Mr. Goslin is the church's own missionary at the Union Theological Seminary at Buenos Aires.

Each family should bring that night one the following in sufficient quantity to feed four: salad, dessert, or meat dish. Coffee, rolls and butter will be provided.

Young Adults will meet this Sunday evening for a supper at 6:30 p.m. For the meeting following, Mr. Bishop will speak on "Dedication for the New Year."

The Senior High Fellowship will resume regular Sunday evening meetings this Sunday, rehearsing for choir at 5:30 p.m., followed by supper at 6:30; for the discussion period Mr. Bishop will use as his topic "The Protestant Reformation."

The Missions and Benevolences Committee will not meet this month.

There will be a meeting of the Ushers Association on Thursday, January 7, at 8 p.m. in the Women's Association room.

The Church choirs will resume their regular rehearsals during the coming week.

A Day of Silence will be observed on Thursday, January 7, in the Church sanctuary from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Mr. Bishop will speak at both the morning and afternoon sessions. Those who wish to attend are requested to bring their own sandwiches.

The Annual Presbyterian Week of Prayer will be held the week of January 5 through 8. District I

Name Wallingford Man Heart Fund Chairman

William H. Turner, former assistant district attorney of Delaware County, has accepted the position as chairman of Delaware County for the 1954 Heart Fund drive, it was announced Monday. John D. Devonshire of Aldan will serve as chairman of Chester.

A resident of Wallingford, Mr. Turner is a partner of the law firm of Robertson & Turner, and a member of Phi Alpha Delta National Law Fraternity and the Delaware County, Pennsylvania, and American Bar Associations. He has served as president of the Lawyers Club of Delaware County and the Optimist Club of Media.

In the coming year Turner will act as Lt. Governor for the Second District, Optimist International. He is at present secretary-treasurer of the Neithor Providence Camera Club and has long been active in community affairs. In accepting the appointment Turner pointed out the services which the Heart Association offers to the residents of Delaware County and the urgent need for funds to expand these activities.

"The Heart Association sponsors a rheumatic fever program in the schools of Swarthmore and Chester," Mr. Turner said, adding that the program will be brought to other communities in the future. At the time the pupils have their physical examination by the school doctor, anyone suspected of having heart disease is referred to a heart specialist. It was pointed out that when heart disease is discovered at an early age prompt treatment can increase the possibility of a complete cure.

Makes Special Plea For TB Seal Sales

Leroy F. F. Wright of Kenyon avenue, Co-chairman of the Christmas Seal Campaign, today made a special plea to all those in Delaware County who have not yet contributed to the 1953 sale to do so promptly.

"We are within $19,500 of our goal", Mr. Wright announced, "and have extended the campaign to January 10, 1954, for the convenience of those who have not had time to mail their contribution."

At the same time, Mr. Wright thanked all those individuals and industries who have so generously contributed to the 1953 campaign, and made special mention of the great band of volunteers which to date has raised over $3,500 through booth sales and special collections in schools and churches. "By the time all the returns are in, the volunteers' total will probably reach well over $5,000", Mr. Wright said.

"Each year approximately 300 new victims in Delaware County are stricken with tuberculosis, yet this is a preventable disease", said Mr. Wright. "The added fact that tuberculosis is one of the most serious and most costly public health problems in Pennsylvania points to the need for strengthening Delaware County's program in the coming year," continued Mr. Wright. Christmas Seal contributions from County residents in the past have supported the extensive program of the Association, he stated, and will continue to do so in the future, thereby affording protection for all from the ravages of this infectious disease.

Family Rites Today For Ralph Schmidt

Parrish Road Engineer Dies Suddenly January 4

The Rev. Joseph P. Bishop, pastor of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, will conduct private funeral services today at 2 p.m. at the William's Funeral Home, Clifton, for Ralph Gillis Schmidt, who died suddenly Monday morning at his home, 688 Parrish road. Death was attributed to coronary occlusion.

Born in Morristown, N.J., on July 27, 1899, Mr. Schmidt became an engineer with the Lima Locomotive Works, Lima, Ohio, after graduating from the Pratt Engineering School, Brooklyn. In 1941 he became chief engineer for the Alaskan National Railway and in 1943 was appointed Army Chief of Rail Transportation for the U.S. Government.

Following the Second World War, Mr. Schmidt was chief mechanical engineer for Canadian Locomotive Works at Kingston, Ontario. Transferring to the Baldwin Locomotive Company he represented its interests in India and Egypt in 1947 and 1948.

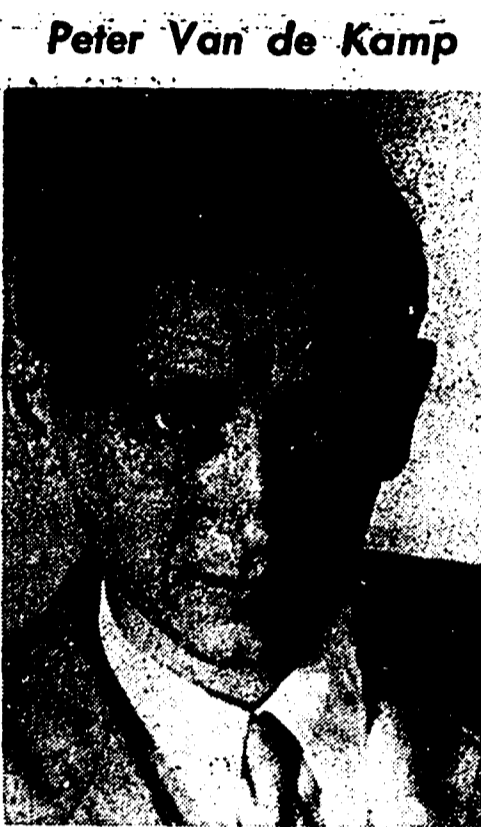

He continued as a consulting engineer with that concern now merged into the Baldwin Lima Hamilton Corporation, Eddystone which sent him to Spain in 1952 and to Brazil and Argentina two months ago. He returned home from his South American trip three days before Christmas.

Mr. Schmidt was a member of the American Association of Mechanical Engineers, and of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church. He was active in the Pratt Alumni Association.

He brought his family to Swarthmore from Morristown in 1948.

Surviving besides his wife, the former Mrs. Mary C. Barrett, whom he married June 23, 1951, are four children by his first wife, one Elsie E. Deken who died in 1950.

Carl living in Napoleon, Ohio; Thomas, an Air Force lieutenant, stationed at San Antonio, Texas; Nancy, freshman at George Washington University; and James attending Officers Training School at Ft. Sill, Okla. A stepson, Airman First Class Arthur Dean Barrett, in Furstenfeldbruck, Germany, also survives.

College Orchestra To Present Concert

The Swarthmore College Orchestra will give its first concert of the college year on Friday, January 15, at 8:15 p.m., in Clothier Memorial. The community is invited to attend.

Conducted by Dr. Peter van de Kamp, the Orchestra—a group of over 50 instrumentalists—will open the concert with the Russian and Ludmilla Overture by Glinka.

The next number on the program will be Liszt's Piano Concerto No. 1 in E flat major, with Joel Shapiro as soloist. Shapiro, a student of Vladimir Sokoloff at the New School of Music in Philadelphia, several years ago played at a Children's Concert of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra under Eugene Ormandy. He has also made a guest appearance at one of the Philadelphia Forum Concerts. Two years ago he played the Chopin Piano Concerto No. 1 with the Swarthmore College Orchestra.

After a short intermission the Orchestra will give a short group of Rumanian Folk Dances by Bartok. The concluding number of the evening will be Brahms' Third Symphony in F major.

Dr. Sam Moffett To Speak Here Wed.

Churchwomen to Hear China Teacher, Korea Bound, at 2 P. M.

Samuel H. Moffett, author of the current study book "Where'er the Sun" published by the Friendship Press of the Commission on Missionary Education of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States, will address the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church at its luncheon meeting Wednesday, January 13.

Dr. Moffett was born in Korea, the son of Samuel A. Moffett who went to North Korea at the turn of the century. There was no other Christian inhabitant within 150 miles, since by treaty rights no westerner was to go inland from Pusan. His father was the first westerner to go to Pyeng-Yang; he was stoned in the streets but lived to see one of the men who stoned him become the first foreign missionary of the Korean Church.

Dr. Moffett was educated in the United States, receiving his doctorate in history at Yale. He taught English in China at Yen Ching and Nanking Universities from 1947 to 1951 when he was forced out by the Communist regime after being imprisoned by them.

Dr. Moffett is now assigned to the Philadelphia Presbytery as a missionary in residence and preparing to leave soon for Korea where he is under appointment as an educational missionary. He has three daughters who are also Presbyterian ministers: James, pastor at Stevensville, Pa.; Charles, a (Continued on Page 8)

Women Schedule Open Meet on Civil Defense

Tuesday's Program Will Feature Milan W. Garrett

The Woman's Club of Swarthmore will hold its monthly stated meeting at 2 p.m. Tuesday, January 12. The program, which is open to the public, will feature Dr. Milan Wayne Garrett, director of air raid wardens, of Swarthmore. He will talk on "Swarthmore's Civil Defense Problems."

Dr. Garrett received his Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees at Stamford University, and A. B. and Ph.D. degrees from Oxford University, England. He is a Phi Beta Kappa and a Rhodes scholar. Since 1927 Dr. Garrett has been associate professor of physics at Swarthmore College, having had previous teaching experience at Weston House. He has published various articles in the calculations of the magnetic field.

The meeting is in charge of Mrs. Morris H. Fussell, chairman of the civil defense committee.

Over 200 Families Set to Swim by June

"Come on in the water's going to be fine," say over 200 families who have joined the Swarthmore Swim Club. As of Tuesday, the new and rapidly increasing total of Swarthmore families who plan to swim this summer, was announced by Membership Drive Chairman, T. W. Prescott.

Following the temporary halt in membership canvassing occasioned by the holiday season, the results are pouring in at an unprecedented rate. Workers on the membership drive are reporting growing enthusiasm and mounting applications.

Extra share participation by community minded citizens is helping to ensure the building of the pool so that it may be in use by June. Such shares can be resold when the expected waiting list develops. Gordon Lange and his Extra Shares Committee are working to swell the list to Swim Club Boosters.

Interest on the part of families in neighboring communities continues to grow, despite the fact that no solicitation has been made outside the Borough limits. Such applications are being accepted, dated and held subject to a determination of the total number of Swarthmore families who will want to join before February 1. At that time the membership committee of the board of directors may elect to carefully screen and accept a limited number of families from neighboring communities, if they have accommodated all Swarthmoreans who wish to belong.

All Swarthmore families who wish to have more information or want to join the Swarthmore Swim Club are urged to contact one of the following members:

President, Fred Van Urk, Swarthmore 6-4973; Vice-president, Gordon Lange, Swarthmore 6-3034; Treasurer, Mrs. D. Mace Gowing, Swarthmore 6-2489; Secretary, T. W. Prescott, Swarthmore 6-8185;

Family Rites Today For Ralph Schmidt

Parrish Road Engineer Dies Suddenly January 4

The Rev. Joseph P. Bishop, pastor of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, will conduct private funeral services today at 2 p.m. at the William's Funeral Home, Clifton, for Ralph Gillis Schmidt who died suddenly Monday morning at his home, 668 Parrish road. Death was attributed to coronary occlusion.

Born in Morristown, N.J., on July 27, 1899, Mr. Schmidt became an engineer with the Lima Locomotive Works, Lima, Ohio, after graduating from the Pratt Engineering School, Brooklyn. In 1941 he became chief engineer for the Alaskan National Railway and in 1943 was appointed Army Chief of Rail Transportation for the U.S. Government.

Following the Second World War, Mr. Schmidt was chief mechanical engineer for Canadian Locomotive Works at Kingston, Ontario. Transferring to the Baldwin Locomotive Company he represented its interests in India and Egypt in 1947 and 1948.

He continued as a consulting engineer with that concern now merged into the Baldwin Lima Hamilton Corporation, Eddystone which sent him to Spain in 1952 and to Brazil and Argentina two months ago. He returned home from his South American trip three days before Christmas.

Mr. Schmidt was a member of the American Association of Mechanical Engineers, and of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church. He was active in the Pratt Alumni Association.

He brought his family to Swarthmore from Morristown in 1948. Surviving besides his wife, the former Mrs. Mary C. Barrett, whom he married June 23, 1951, are four children by his first wife, one Elsie E. Deken who died in 1950;

Carl living in Napoleon, Ohio; Thomas, an Air Force lieutenant stationed at San Antonio, Texas; Nancy, freshman at George Washington University; and James attending Officers Training School at Ft. Sill, Okla. A stepson, Airman First Class Arthur Dean Barrett, in Furstenfeldbruck, Germany, also survives.

Dr. Sam Moffett To Speak Here Wed.

Churchwomen to Hear China Teacher, Korea Bound, at 2 P. M.

Samuel H. Moffett, author of the current study book "Where's the Sun" published by the Friendship Press of the Commission on Missionary Education of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States, will address the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church at its luncheon meeting Wednesday, January 13.

Dr. Moffett was born in Korea, the son of Samuel A. Moffett who went to North Korea at the turn of the century. There was no other Christian inhabitant within 150 miles, since by treaty rights no westerner was to go inland from Pusan. His father was the first westerner to go to Pyeongyang; he was stoned in the streets but lived to see one of the men who stoned him become the first foreign missionary of the Korean Church.

Dr. Moffett was educated in the United States, receiving his doctorate in history at Yale. He taught English in China at Yen Ching and Nanking Universities from 1947 to 1951 when he was forced out by the Communist regime after being imprisoned by them.

Dr. Moffett is now assigned to the Philadelphia Presbytery as a missionary in residence and preparing to leave soon for Korea where he is under appointment as an educational missionary. He has three brothers who are also Presbyterian ministers: James, pastor at Stevensville, Pa.; Charles, a (Continued on Page 8)

Any dog with half an eye can see the handwriting on the wall—January 15!

And any dog six months or more, knows intuitively what it means—

Expiration of 1953 Dog Licenses Optimists of this world would cheerfully correct that to "The beginning of the 1954 licenses," but no canine was ever an optimist. For dogs are wise. Too well they know the strain, the galling days before otherwise devoted owners get around to acquiring the new license—of running at large at the mercy of the dog-catcher, the police; with no respite at the SPCA, or even the home, for dogs, like cars, must be licensed to be legal in the sight of the law.

No wonder some dogs chafe angrily after cars, promptly licensed, their drivers with current permits in the wallets, purses or pockets. Perhaps, if they could, the licenseless dogs of the Borough would trot over to Media Court House and get their own licenses, or better yet, (and not quite so hazardous) take their problems to one of the five or six notaries of the Borough.

Women Schedule Open Meet on Civil Defense

Tuesday's Program Will Feature Milan W. Garrett

The Woman's Club of Swarthmore will hold its monthly stated meeting at 2 p.m. Tuesday, January 12. The program, which is open to the public, will feature Dr. Milan Wayne Garrett, director of air raid wardens, of Swarthmore. He will talk on "Swarthmore's Civil Defense Problems."

Dr. Garrett received his Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees at Stamford University, and A. B. and Ph.D. degrees from Oxford University, England. He is a Phi Beta Kappa and a Rhodes scholar. Since 1927 Dr. Garrett has been associate professor of physics at Swarthmore College, having had previous teaching experience at Weston House. He has published various articles in the calculations of the magnetic field.

The meeting is in charge of Mrs. Morris H. Fussell, chairman of the civil defense committee.

Over 200 Families Set to Swim by June

"Come on in the water's going to be fine," say over 200 families who have joined the Swarthmore Swim Club. As of Tuesday, the new and rapidly increasing total of Swarthmore families who plan to swim this summer, was announced by Membership Drive Chairman, T. W. Prescott.

Following the temporary halt in Membership canvassing occasioned by the holiday season, the results are pouring in at an unprecedented rate. Workers on the membership drive are reporting growing enthusiasm and mounting applications.

Extra share participation by community minded citizens is helping to ensure the building of the pool so that it may be in use by June. Such shares can be resold when the expected waiting list develops. Gordon Lange and his Extra Shares Committee are working to swell the list to Swim Club Boosters.

Interest on the part of families in neighboring communities continues to grow, despite the fact that no solicitation has been made outside the Borough limits. Such applications are being accepted, dated and held subject to a determination of the total number of Swarthmore families who will want to join before February 1. At that time the membership committee of the board of directors may elect to carefully screen and accept a limited number of families from neighboring communities if they have accommodated all Swarthmoreans who wish to belong.

All Swarthmore families who wish to have more information or want to join the Swarthmore Swim Club are urged to contact one of the following members:

President, Fred Van Urk, Swarthmore 6-4973; Vice-president, Gordon Lange, Swarthmore 6-3034; Treasurer, Mrs. D. Mace Gowing, Swarthmore 6-2489; Secretary, T. W. Prescott, Swarthmore 6-6185; Mrs. C. SWARTHMORE, PENNA., JANUARY 8, 1954

With Appreciation

Swarthmore's outgoing public servants Burgess Charles R. Russell, Council President H. Lindley Peel, and Councilman Charles G. Thatcher merit appreciation from their fellow townsmen for the calibre and devotion of their years of labor in the interests of this Borough.

Mr. Peel has been in office for eight years. Mr. Thatcher for five, having first been appointed in September, 1948 to fill the unexpired term of Andrew Simpson, resigned. Burgess Russell finished a single term of four years during which his special charge the Police Force was efficient and harmonious and free from outside influence or pressure. None of the three stood for reelection. All three were in office at the time of the burning of Borough Hall, an unprecedented emergency in Borough government. The hours of consultation and effort usual to a Borough official's uncompensated service were doubled and tripled by the problem of temporary housing of local government and the erection of a new Borough Hall. Incidentally, the emergency not only added hours of work and worry but increased the councilmen's opportunities for becoming the butt of criticism and complaints.

That we have mutually weathered this and the problem of the Borough's growth in population is a tribute to the civic concern and earnest study of these three men who now retire from service and the other members of the Council then in office. The appearance at Council Meeting Monday night of C. W. Lukens to express for the Property Owners Association its appreciation of the service of the retiring officials was a timely and earned action.

To the retiring officials goes the gratitude of Swarthmore for their untiring devotion to the community; for their giving up precious leisure time to keep the government of the Borough up to high standards. To their successors, Councilmen Birney K. Morse and Harry Wood, and Burgess Joseph Reynolds go the best wishes of their fellow townsmen with thanks for their willingness to carry on the best traditions of government in Swarthmore.

For residents of the Borough, this is probably as good a time as any, to restate their awareness of the fact that interest in good government, like charity, begins at home.

Annual Polio March

To the Editor:
On Tuesday, January 26, the mothers of Swarthmore join mothers throughout the nation in the annual campaign against Polio. Until last year, 1953, little was known as to its cause, or how the disease was communicated. But as a result of voluntary giving, the curtain of doom has now been penetrated. A battle begun is half done. We are on the way to the conquest of Polio, but have gone only a short way. Victory, however, is within sight, but the road is arduous and the journey expensive. Now that research has made a dent, it is more than ever necessary that we re-kindle our enthusiasm, re-double our efforts and if possible increase our donation.

Victory is at the end of the road. Let us keep the goal in sight. At 7 o'clock on Tuesday, January 26, at the signal of the fire alarm, may all Swarthmore's porch lights shine, and all purse strings loosen, for this is the weapon and the only weapon which will conquer this crippling killer.

Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop

In Appreciation

To the Editor:
The Explorer Boy Scout Post wishes to thank the people of Swarthmore for their support and cooperation in its Christmas tree selling venture.

Speaker Gives History Of Chester Nursery

Mrs. Walter Buckley, treasurer and executive director of the Chester Day Nursery and Boarding Home, spoke on "Youth Conservation Begins in 'Babyhood,'" at the meeting of the Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Buckley, who has just last week completed 27 years of service with the Nursery, impressed her audience as extremely efficient and sincere, a woman capable of mothering one child or the 38 in the Home equally well. The speaker traced the history of the institution from its inception as a day nursery 35 years ago, through its period as a long-time boarding home, to the last eight years when it has become "an emergency and temporary home for dependent and neglected children." The policy of the home is that the atmosphere be home-like with no regimentation. For the younger children there is a full-time instructor and the older ones attend public or parochial schools. They may attend the church of their choice.

Mrs. Buckley attributes the success of the Home to the well-qualified staff of workers. Applicants are very carefully screened. Among the qualifications are an appropriate attitude toward children, strong convictions, the technique of child care, a definite faith in God, and a broad understanding of the moral, spiritual, emotional, and physical needs of children. No greater compliment could be paid than that given by a recent visitor who called the Home the "House of Smiles."

While Mrs. Buckley made no plea for funds, the audience realized that the budget is very meager and that gifts of any kind, including outgrown clothing, food, discarded Christmas greetings, would be welcome.

Swarthmore is well represented on the board of the Chester Nursery and Boarding Home, Mrs. A. H. Knabb, Mabel Talley, Mrs. George Ewing being voted members, and Mrs. William Tippet, an associate member. For the 18 years preceding her death, Mrs. James Hanna was president of the board. Tuesday's meeting was in charge of the youth conservation department, of which Mrs. Henry J. Foot is chairman. Mrs. Morris H. Fussell, first vice president, presided, in the absence of Mrs. Frank G. Keenen, president, who was representing the club at the Gimbel Award luncheon.

MONEY . . .
has been called many things. Among the synonyms you'll find cabbage, the needful, brass, dust, rhino, mopus, tin, salt, chink, dough, jack, moss, rocks, long green, pile, wad.

No matter what your favorite word for money, the most important thing to call it is "mine". For no matter what you earn, only the part you save is really yours. If you spend it all, someone else is getting what rightfully belongs to you. To make certain you get yours, open a savings account here and make regular deposits in it every payday. Every dollar you save is not only a dollar earned but a dollar earning interest. Come in soon.

Girl Scout Troop 429 Picked for Observation

Girl Scout Troop 429, the sixth grade troop of College Avenue School, has been selected as one of the troops of Delaware County to be observed by the Girl Scout Council.

Mrs. E. M. Mount, Jr. of the Council, attended the December 5th meeting. The girls were asked to write a report about what they liked and did not like about the troop and what badge work they would like best to do. These papers were given to Mrs. Mount together with reports from Troop Leaders Mrs. Maurice Webster and Mrs. William Bruce. The troop will be observed at its regular meeting for three successive weeks.

Troop 429 was pleased to hold its first meeting of the New Year in the newly renovated and decorated Young Peoples' Room in Whittier House. This room was almost entirely a volunteer project with the scouts co-operating in the work. The Troop flag and the American flag, which were presented to the troop by the Rotary Club, were proudly installed in the new meeting room.

The Annual Girl Scout Ice Skating Party was held Monday, December 28 at the Philadelphia Skating and Humane Society Rink in Ardmore. The four Swarthmore troops attending were: Troop 429 and Troops 831, sixth grade at Rutgers; 225, third grade at Rutgers, and 269, fifth grade at College Avenue. The girls were accompanied by Leaders Mrs. Maurice Webster, Mrs. Matthew McKinnell, and Mrs. Peter Coste.

High Scores at Bridge

Mrs. Elizabeth Hilliard and Leslie Luckie held high score at the December 28 meeting of the Crum Creek Bridge Club. Mr. and Mrs. William H. Webb held second place. The players were seated north and south.

Seated east and west, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Deppich were high, with Alben Evenson and Isaac Darlington holding second place.

Since January 1, 1946

MORE THAN 23 MILLION DOLLARS

to expand and improve your water service

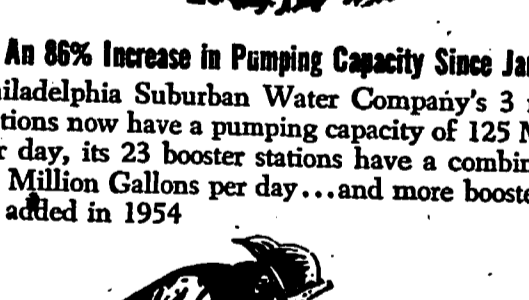

As the population grows, water service must grow, too. There is no place where this is more evident than here in Suburban Philadelphia. Since the close of World War II, a surprising number of business and industrial concerns, seeking the advantages of decentralization, have established headquarters and branches in the area served with Springfield Water. . . apartment, hospital, mercantile and school buildings have been erected in equally surprising numbers . . . hundreds of families have migrated from nearby large municipalities . . . thousands of new homes have been established by young married couples . . . thousands of babies have been born. All this has imposed a heavy responsibility upon Philadelphia Suburban Water Company.

Since January 1, 1946, Water Company customers have increased more than 43 percent—and the consumption of Springfield Water has increased more than 56 percent.

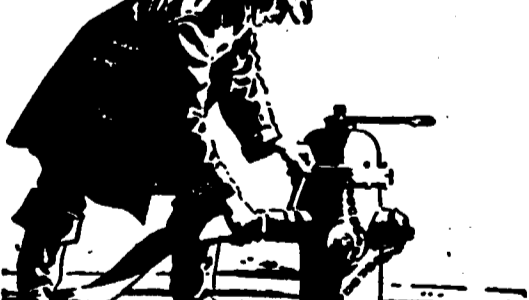

To meet this responsibility, the Water Company has spent an average of more than 234 million dollars a year for expansion and improvements in these last 8 years. Despite this added cost to the Company—and despite the increase in general living costs which now are approximately 90 percent higher than before World War II—the average family's entire daily supply of Springfield Water costs only about 10c. This is about half the cost of a loaf of bread or of a quart of milk. Indeed, Springfield Water costs less than anything else you buy!

A 31% Increase in Pipeline Mileage Since January 1, 1946
Philadelphia Suburban Water Company's pipeline system now measures 1,586 miles . . . and more mileage will be added in 1954

An 86% Increase in Pumping Capacity Since January 1, 1946
Philadelphia Suburban Water Company's 3 main pumping stations now have a pumping capacity of 125 Million Gallons per day. Its 23 booster stations have a combined capacity of 79 Million Gallons per day . . . and more booster capacity will be added in 1954

A 29% Increase in Fire Hydrants Since January 1, 1946
Philadelphia Suburban Water Company's fire hydrants, helping guard the homes and business buildings of its customers, now number 4,658 . . . and more hydrants will be added in 1954

A 77% Increase in Storage Capacity Since January 1, 1946
Philadelphia Suburban Water Company's 18 standpipes and 6 distribution reservoirs now have a combined capacity of 46 Million Gallons . . . and more storage facilities will be added in 1954

Winter Forum Series To Study Prejudices

Media's Fellowship will sponsor a winter Forum series designed to promote better racial and religious understanding. Dr. Allen Bonnell, president of the organization, has announced.

The course, comprised of seven lectures and one panel discussion, begins January 13 and will continue through March 3. Taking part will be social scientists, religious and civic leaders.

The forum will be held every Wednesday during the eight-week period from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Beth Israel Community Center on Galley street, Media. Dr. Bonnell expressed gratitude for the Congregation's generous offer of their building. Fellowship House is being remodeled, he said, and cannot be used as a meeting place for the course.

Opening the lecture series will be Dr. Ward Goodenough, professor of anthropology at the University of Pennsylvania. Subject of his talk will be "Race and Behavior."

Dr. Stanford S. Kight, director of the Fels Group Dynamics Center, speaks January 20 on "The Psychology of Prejudice."

"The History and Contribution of the Negro" will be presented on January 27 by Dr. Nellie Bright, formerly of the Reynolds School in Philadelphia.

"The Negro in Our Democracy" will be discussed at the February 3 meeting by Jacques Wilmore, assistant secretary of the Community Relations Council of the American Friends Service Committee.

Rabbi Theodore Gordon, Maline Reform Temple of Haverford, will talk February 10 on "The History and Contribution of the Jew."

"Civil Rights and Minority Groups" is the subject for the session February 17. Featured speaker will be Joseph X. Yaffee, Esq., secretary of the Jewish Community Relations Council.

Various examples of both the success and failure of the community's effort to live by democratic principles, will be discussed by a panel group on February 24. Moderator will be Dr. Elliott Danzig, director of the Institute for Research in Human Relations. Panel members are E. Courtland Wright, County Detective of Delaware County; Mrs. Joseph Gerthel, president of the Sisterhood of Beth Israel Congregation; and Gordon Allen, director of the Delaware County Health and Welfare Council.

Concluding lecture will be by the Rev. Joseph H. Bishop, pastor of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church. In his talk, Rev. Bishop will outline a course of action for both individuals and groups of individuals who wish to make democracy a vital part of the community.

Reservations for the Fellowship Forum may be made by calling Media 6-9956 between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. or by mailing a card to Fellowship House at 302 South Jackson street.

Local Students Chosen For District Chorus

Six members of the High School Chorus have been chosen for the District Chorus Concert to be given at Yardley on Saturday, January 16. The chorus of about 150 voices will include the schools of the southeastern district, covering Bucks, Montgomery, Delaware and Chester counties.

Hours of work. Meals will be served at the school cafeteria and visiting chorists will live in homes of local pupils of the Pennsylvania High School. The District Chorus is scheduled to sing with the Philadelphia Orchestra in February at the Academy of Music.

Elect Hopper to Head Borough Council

Two days, Thursday and Friday, January 14 and 15, and part of Saturday, will be devoted to rehearsals, with the public concert being held in the Pennsylvania High School at 8 o'clock Saturday night. During the same three-day period there will be try-outs for State chorus and it is anticipated that one of the Swarthmore students will be selected to represent the southeastern district.

Wall to Wall Carpeting cleaned in the home

If your carpet is fairly new, we shall most likely recommend a powder cleaning; otherwise, a "Qwik-Dri" shampoo, which has been a specialty of ours since 1937. We prefer to inspect your carpet before accepting it for cleaning, and there is no obligation. Rate, most jobs, 10c sq. ft. Best time of year is when you have your heat on. If your carpet is not wall to wall, we can do a much better job in our plant, and service is quick. We invite your calls about anything relating to carpet.

To Educate on Education

The Home and School Association has announced its willingness to sponsor a book committee to read and discuss current books on education. Several people have expressed the desire for an opportunity to keep abreast of literature on education in the home, school and community. Books reviewed and discussed in monthly meetings could be circulated among interested parents and teachers. Such a group, it is believed, would supplement and further interest in the Home and School shelf recently established in the local public library.

In the past week, 94 additional Swarthmore families applied for membership in the Swarthmore Swim Club to swell the total to over 300. Despite freezing temperatures and snow, interest in swimming next summer remained "hot."

School Pushes Plans For Complete Census

Population of Over 5000 Would Put Borough In Third Class
Plans are being pushed for the taking of a complete population census of Swarthmore for the School District within the next several weeks. In the 1950 census, Swarthmore's population was 4,822 and it is estimated that the present population is about 5,300. If the population is shown to be over 5,000, Swarthmore will be entitled to be advanced from a fourth class district to a third class district.

Monday Night Opener Proves Theater Adage

Intrrepid Stage Devotees Brave Weather For 'Charley's Aunt'
The Players Club opened its 318th production, "Charley's Aunt," by Brandon Thomas, in a blaze of theatrical tradition "the show must go on" which warmed the chilly audience of 24 intrepid devotees who had ignored all day radio warnings that all evening functions were storm cancelled, and drew from them a burst of enthusiastic support which made them sound like 300 when applause insisted on three curtains. By the end of the third act an unusual rapport was established between cast, production staff, and audience. Despite emergencies in the storm aggravated production, despite a hoarse voiced principle or two, the first night of the Ned Pyle directed play came to a triumphant conclusion.

Orchestra Concert Tonight in Clothier

Piano Concerto No. 1 in E flat major by Liszt, featuring Joel Shapiro as soloist, will highlight the first concert of the college year to be presented by the Swarthmore College Orchestra tonight, January 15, at 8:15 in Clothier Memorial on the College campus. Dr. Peter van de Kamp, professor of astronomy and director of Sproul Observatory, will conduct the orchestra. The program will open with Russian and Ludmilla Overture by Glinka, to be followed by the piano concerto. A short group of Roumanian Folk Dances by Bartok and Brahms' Third Symphony in F major are included on the program. The public is invited to attend.

Magical Bodleys Head Methodist Program

Folks who have always wanted to pull a rabbit out of a hat or sweep away worries with a wave of a magic wand should be on hand Friday evening, January 22, when a magical performance by a Swarthmore mother-daughter duo will be presented at the Swarthmore Methodist Church at 7:45. Mrs. John Justus Bodley of Park Avenue and ten-year-old Justine, fifth grade pupil at the College Avenue School, will be up to tricks designed to delight the young in heart, of all ages, with their varied hocus pocus.

LWV HOLDS PANEL TODAY

"Schools and Taxes" will be the subject of a panel discussion to be held today, following a luncheon, at the January program meeting of the Swarthmore League of Women Voters at Whittier House. The luncheon will start at 12:45 p.m. with the panel discussion to start at 1:45 p.m. Those who will appear on the panel include: Donald P. Jones, comptroller of Sun Oil Company and president of the Swarthmore School Board; Mrs. Michael Dunn, of the Radnor League of Women Voters; G. Baker Thompson, assistant county superintendent of schools; and Frank R. Morey, superintendent of schools in Swarthmore. Mrs. John Moore, of the Swarthmore League, will chair the meeting which is open to all members of the community.

Cooper Foundation to Sponsor 'Duo di Roma'

The "Duo di Roma", a pianist-cello duet featuring Ornella Puliti Santoliquido and Massimo Amfitheatrof, will give a recital on the Clothier Memorial Auditorium on the College campus. This is another in the series of programs sponsored by the Cooper Foundation which in the past year included outstanding performances by Joseph Sigeti and The Dublin Players. Ornella Puliti Santoliquido is Italy's best keyboard artist. In addition to her appearances in solo and chamber performances, she is an active faculty member of the famous Academy of St. Cecilia in Rome. Massimo Amfitheatrof, the cellist, has been acclaimed throughout Europe as a leading recitalist. The duo was formed by two of the leading members of the celebrated "Virtuosi di Roma", a group of 14 Italian artists of matchless ability, who made a tour of the United States in 1950 and were well received by audiences and critics alike.

Swarthmore Joins In Scholarship Plan

Swarthmore College is one of 11 prominent universities and colleges which have accepted an invitation to participate in the John Wanamaker scholarship of $1000 to be awarded annually for one year of professional graduate study leading to the degree of master of science in retailing. Other schools taking part are: Haverford College, University of Delaware, Princeton University, Temple University, Bryn Mawr College, Ursinus College, Drexel Institute of Technology, University of Pennsylvania, Bucknell University, Pennsylvania State University.

The Senior students of the Universities represented will join in the competition for the scholarship. The winner of the competition, selected by the Scholarship Award Committee, will enter the New York University School of Retailing at the beginning of the Fall term of 1954.

The award has been instituted as part of Wanamaker's long-range campaign to attract more of the country's top college graduates into the field of retailing.

velop his role. Andre Pollock as Jack Chesney is a bundle of energy and appealing in his love difficulties, stilled in keeping with the times. He bounces through the first act and that is no small tribute.

Henry Lemeur is Charley Wykeham, whose possession of an aunt is the core of the plot which seems to have such timeless appeal. His Charley is youthful and appealing and, of course, winning. Literally, Charles H. Stockdale enjoys the role of Lord Fancourt Babberley and turns in a remarkably unwinded performance, considering the chases and near escapes he undergoes. Mr. Stockdale never has difficulty being funny and this role does not tax his talents. Bill Clement's Brassett is a shining light in the production, so proper, so philosophical, so British.

Jean Phillips as Donna Lucia d'Alvadorez is most delightful, both to see and to hear. She does an admirable task with the stilled, period lines which raises the play to possibility. Her audience clamors for more. Jane Bertram, as Amy Spettigue, is pleasantly appealing. Barbara Thorbahn as Kitty, the belle with a true heart, is very able and charming. Barbara Jarden appears with grace, in the difficult role of Elia Delahay, who never has a semblance of reality in any production, just personifies wistful yearning.

The play set for this reviewer at least, something of a record for sheer courage and good trouping. The fact that 121 were in Tuesday's audience in itself a tribute to the production's drawing power, since Tuesday was another chill, snow and ice-driven evening.

member of Phi Beta Kappa at Swarthmore College from which she was graduated in 1935 with high honors in English literature. She presently reviews books for Presbyterian Life. She is one of the founders of the Mothers Club and a member of the Board of Deacons of the Presbyterian Church. Her children are in the 10th and 5th grades of the local schools. Her home is at 607 Elm avenue. She patronizes the Library steadily, with special interest in biography and history.

Thomas G. Casey, 148 Park avenue, is a native Swarthmorean who has spent 30 of his years in the Borough. He graduated from Swarthmore College with an English major, having studied under Dr. Robert E. Spiller. For several years he has been a federal employee, an administrator in the Department of Justice. He is chairman of the Federal Personnel Council for Philadelphia and a member of the Philadelphia Management Council. He is a present member of the Library Board, having been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Oliver Rodgers, Dr. Robert E. Spiller. His son is in the 5th grade of the local school.

Robert G. Gillilan, Jr., 410 Yale avenue, is almost a native Swarthmorean, having been born in Wallingford but coming to live in the Borough at one year of age. He has lived here for 44 years. A graduate of the Swarthmore schools and of Duke University where he majored in economics, he served for three years in the Navy as commanding officer of the USS LSM 68 in the South Pacific invasions. He is now with the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, a director of the Players Club, chairman of the Presbyterian Ushers' Association, and a member of the Church Missions and Benevolence Committee. He has three children in the local schools, 9th, 7th, and 2nd graders, all of whom use the Library regularly. He has, therefore, a special interest in the children's department.

Dr. William Rial, homeowner at 215 Harvard avenue, has been a practicing physician in the Borough since the fall of 1951. He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh in engineering and in medicine. He is chief of the Medical Division, Delaware County Civil Defense Council, and a member of Trinity Church, he has three children, four, two and a half, and one years of age. His family uses the Library and Dr. Rial believes it important to the community.

Mrs. Phelps Soule, 410 Park avenue, was a member of the original Library Board and made door to door calls for dollar-memberships in the Library before it was tax supported. During the war, she was chairman of the local Red Cross Blood Donor service, serving in that capacity for seven years. She was a board member of the Woman's Club of Swarthmore and served the Club as chairman of literature. Her husband was Editor of the Yale Press and Director of the University of Pennsylvania Press prior to his retirement.

Howard H. Williams, is in charge of Reader Service, which includes reference and circulation, at the Swarthmore College Library. Mr. Williams is a graduate of Lake Forest College, and holds masters degrees in English Literature and Library Science from the Columbia University. Prior to his present post at Swarthmore College, he held a position in the Teachers' College Library, Columbia University. Mr. Williams knows libraries and has become greatly interested in the Swarthmore Public Library during his five years in the Borough. He is unmarried and resides at 500 North Chester road.

Mr. W. Stanley Kite of Ogden avenue, returned to Hahnemann Hospital on January 5 for a bone grafting operation on his right leg. Mr. Kite has had his leg in a cast for the past nine months. He expects to be home within two weeks.

Garrett Outlines Local CD Problems

Dr. Milan Wayne Garrett, associate professor of physics at Swarthmore College and director of air wardens of the Borough, was the speaker at the meeting of the Woman's Club, Tuesday, Dr. Garrett, who was introduced by Mrs. Morris H. Fussell, first vice president and chairman of the civil defense committee, spoke on "Swarthmore's Civil Defense Problems."

"The problem of civil defense is staggering," said the speaker, "for there is at every level a great unwillingness to face it. The problem has to be faced—it is a matter of life and death." It is quite generally agreed that Russia has a stock of atom bombs sufficient to strike all our major cities at one blow, and the planers to deliver them. The most optimistic authorities estimate that the Air Force could knock out only 30 per cent of these planes.

Much planning has been done, Dr. Garrett continued, but Congress has shirked in appropriating funds for civil defense. Not only are funds for research and equipment needed, but there should be better organization and a more adequate staff on all levels. In the civil defense department of the state of Pennsylvania there are only 13 paid workers, including stenographers. On the local level it is a question of getting volunteers to give their time and effort.

Dr. Garrett emphasized the importance of adequate warning in air raids. A single bomb of the modern type could cause 300 to 500 thousand casualties. With sufficient warning this figure could be cut to 60 per cent of this number.

Charles Russell is director of civil defense in Swarthmore, and the set-up conforms to the borough's particular needs. Arrangements have been made for several divisions—wardens, firemen and police, workers in communication and transportation, and medical evacuation, and man power divisions.

"Swarthmore's nearness to Philadelphia—one of the nation's 69 critical areas and to industrial Chester," said Dr. Garrett, "makes its problems very real. Since it is evident that 60 per cent of the burden of civil defense will have to be carried on by the women, women must realize their responsibility in this work."

Many club members in the audience signed cards showing in what divisions they could help. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Avery F. Blake, Mrs. J. Dillwyn Durnall, and Mrs. Norman R. Jones. At the tea table Mrs. William F. Hanny and Mrs. William A. Rainman presided. Mrs. Richard Enlon, Alice Marriott, Mrs. Charles Boyle, Mrs. Frank McCowan, and Mrs. Julius A. Fincken, of the hospitality committee prepared the tea.

by the representative of the Department of Public Instruction. The plan will be much less expensive and equally as adequate for local purposes as would a census taken by the Federal Census Bureau. At the present time, the check map of the District is being prepared and enumerators are being secured for each area.

It is hoped that there will be a number of volunteers for this vital community service. Since a total of 50 are needed, there are still several more to be secured. Any volunteers who would care to participate in this program are asked to telephone Mrs. John Seybold, chairman of the enumerators any morning at her home on Amherst avenue, Swarthmore 6-0460. The work should take only a few days and it is anticipated that it will be undertaken within several weeks. Before the work is begun, instructions will be given to the enumerators at the time the forms are distributed. The questions to be asked of families this time are much less numerous than in the 1930 census.

L.W.V. STUDY GROUPS WILL MEET NEXT WEEK

The Individual Liberties Study Group of the Swarthmore League of Women Voters, will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. William J. Cope, No. 8 Crum Lodge.

"Our State Constitution" will be the subject of another study group, which will meet for the first time at the home of Mrs. Philip Allen of Cedar Hill Farm, Media, Wednesday, January 20 at 9:30 a.m.

All members and interested persons are invited.

RECEIVED

Mrs. Paul E. Williams of University place, was called away on Wednesday, January 6 by the death of her mother Mrs. Nancy Eastlip Pfordt, widow of Charles Christopher Pfordt, following a three-year illness in the Claycoale Nursing Home in Indiana, Pa. She was 87.

Burial was Saturday in Prospect Cemetery, Tarentum, Pa., where the greater part of Mrs. Eastlip's life was spent in active service in her Church as a singer in the choir and a teacher in the Sunday School.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams returned home Sunday night.

ARTS CENTER PARTICIPATES IN EXCHANGE EXHIBIT

The Community Arts Center in Wallingford is currently having an exchange exhibit with the Chester County Art Association. The exhibition of paintings by members of the latter group at the Arts Center, Rogers Lane, on January 3 and will continue throughout the month of January. The exhibition by members of the Arts Center opened January 10 in the New Art Center Building, 100 North Bradford avenue (west end of Market street), West Chester.

The public is welcome to attend both of these exhibitions.

Miss Anne J. Perkins of Cedar Lane entertained recently at an informal evening party. The guests included Miss Kitty Smith of Wellesley road, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Tait of Springfield, Miss Josephine Smith of Ogden avenue, Miss Elizabeth Harrow of Princeton avenue, and Mr. Howard Williams of North Chester road.

Clark, who will receive an Alumni Award of Merit, is assistant director of the employee activities division of the Philadelphia Electric Company. He studied in the University's Evening School of Accounts and Finance and was graduated with a certificate of proficiency in 1944.

He is a former president of the Evening School Alumni Society and also had the distinction of being the first president of his alumni class.

His interest in fund-raising activities on behalf of the University has twice won for him the Alumni Annual Giving Achievement Award; he has served on the editorial board of the General Alumni Society, and is now general chairman of the Evening School's Golden Anniversary Committee.

Earl G. Harrison of Moylan-Rose Valley, former dean of the Law School at Penn and president of the General Alumni Society, will present the award.

Mr. Avery F. Blake of Amherst avenue returned from a business trip to Boston.

Jack Streeter of Columbia avenue, home on leave from Camp Pickett, Va., reports for duty at Aberdeen, Md., January 18.

Air Raid Wednesday Will Alert 12 Counties

Public Cooperation Asked in Civil Defense Drill at 7 P. M.

Swarthmore's Civil Defense personnel will get a workout in disaster procedures next Wednesday, January 27, when an area alert sounds off at 7 p.m. C. D. organizations in 12 eastern Pennsylvania Counties will render assistance to Reading, the "incident" scheduled for this drill.

Delaware County's mission will be to man Mass Care Centers to such depth that they could be actually operated for a period of 10 successive days. The test will be similar to the one held in October when Philadelphia was the target city.

Although Wednesday's drill is being staged primarily for Civil Defense, and all passengers arriving at train or trolley stations during the condition red should seek shelter in the nearest building until the "All Clear" sounds.

Doctors and others requiring uniform emergency travel during the test are asked to call police headquarters for police escort to their destinations. Fire engines, ambulances and other emergency vehicles will be moving during the test.

Civil Defense workers if they do not have their armbands as all these without such identification will be stopped and asked to take shelter. Workers should also check that they have their instructions.

A three-minute warbling of sirens or short blasts on the whistles is the "Condition Red attack" signal. The "All Clear" signal is three, steady one minute blasts of sirens or whistles separated by two minutes of silence.

H. & S. To Present Dr. Robert A. Welch

Psychiatrist Will Speak At 8 O'clock Meeting At High School

The Swarthmore Home and School Association will present Dr. Robert A. Welch, practicing psychiatrist as the guest speaker at its meeting Tuesday, January 26, in the High School Auditorium.

Dr. Welch is an instructor in psychiatry at the Temple University School of Medicine and is well qualified to speak on his topic, "The Emotional Aspects of Education."

The 8 o'clock meeting will be preceded by the customary social hour at 7:30 p.m. in the College Avenue School Cafeteria. Refreshments will be served by eighth grade mothers with Mrs. H. D. Bevan and Mrs. J. W. Hollander as co-chairmen.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

LIBRARY ELECTION

All residents of the Borough who are qualified to vote in the municipal elections are entitled to vote at the Swarthmore Public Library Association election on Saturday, January 23, during Library hours and on Monday, January 25. Voting on Monday will take place during Library hours until 8 p.m. when the Annual Meeting begins and the ballot box is closed.

C. E. Hannum Dies Sunday in Arizona

Operated Oldest Auto Agency in Area

Clarence E. Hannum, partner in Hannum and Waite, was buried in Eastlawn cemetery here yesterday afternoon following services conducted by a fellow Rotarian, the Rev. Joseph P. Bishop of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church, at a Norwood funeral home.

A lifetime Swarthmorean Mr. Hannum suffered an asthmatic condition which, several years ago, forced him to go to Arizona where he died in the Elks Hospital, Tucson early Sunday morning.

Born on Baltimore pike opposite the entrance to Riverview avenue on May 26, 1888 he often spoke of the time when there were only five houses in Swarthmore. He was the son of Martha Riggley Hannum and Edward Worral Hannum, postmaster of Swarthmore from 1899 to 1909, during which time the combined drug store and post office moved from the corner of Chester road and Park avenue to the Shiner building.

After attending the Oakdale School on Baltimore pike he transferred to the Old Yale and Rutgers avenue school which had but one teacher at the time.

He left school in the ninth grade to assist his father in a grocery business which the latter first operated as Hannum and Hurnal on Chester road and later with another son, Henry, as E. W. Hannum and Son at the site of the present food market at Yale and Kenyon avenues.

Mr. Hannum entered the employ of the local post office and in 1917 wed Lucy E. Black who also worked at the post office. Following World War I he spent a year or so with the Swarthmore Garage, presently housing the Co-

Mental Health Films To Get 2nd Showing

Enthusiasm for the current series of motion pictures sponsored by the health committee of the Home and School Association is running so high that Wednesday evening showings have been added to the weekly schedule.

In addition to the regular morning movies already being shown in the visual education room of the high school from 10:30 to 11:30, repeat performances will be held every Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. in the same place.

This will permit busy fathers to share in the "learning and understanding" processes which so many mothers are now experiencing alone.

"Who's Boss?" is the provocative title of the film to be shown next Wednesday. Its theme is competition in marriage.

Films run approximately one half hour followed by brief group discussion. The public (especially fathers!) is earnestly and cordially invited.

Jessie Lewis

Women's Luncheon Honors New Members

Miss Lewis, of Lansdowne, Will Review Current Plays

The annual luncheon honoring new and reinstated members of the Woman's Club of Swarthmore will be given Tuesday, January 26, at 12:30 p.m. Miss Jessie Lewis will present the afternoon program, a review of plays of the current season.

Miss Lewis was born in central New York State, but was still in the grade when the family moved to Philadelphia. Her present home is in Lansdowne. She was educated at Swarthmore College, where she majored in dramatics and was known on the campus for her prominence in the college productions.

Since graduation Miss Lewis has played with many Little Theatre groups, among them Plays and Players, the Swarthmore Players Club and the Lake Placid Players. For over a year she was part of Jasper Deeter's Hedgerow Repertory Theatre at Rose Valley. She has done considerable directing for various groups, and thus has the point of view of the producer as well as of the actor. She has also appeared on television. This winter she is giving a course dealing with the history of the drama for a group sponsored by the Lansdowne Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Adult Girl Scouts To Meet January 26

There will be a Neighborhood Meeting of all Adult Girl Scouts in the Woman's Association room of the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday, January 26, at 1 o'clock.

This meeting will concern itself chiefly with a self-evaluation of Scouting in Swarthmore. One Leader from each Troop has been asked to give a brief talk on her Troop activities to date, her plans for the remainder of the year, what problems she may have encountered and the general attitude of her Troop, both girls and adults, toward the Scouting program.

From these summaries, the Neighborhood Council will endeavor to determine how important Scouting is to Swarthmore, what kind of program should be offered, and to whom, next year.

Any person interested in the future of Girl Scouting in Swarthmore is welcome to attend this meeting and express her thoughts on the subject, briefly.

Final plans for the Girl Scout Cookie Sale, which begins February 5, will be discussed.

RED COURSE COURSE

All persons planning to take the class in Standard Red Cross First Aid are asked to report to the Legion Room on Tuesday evening, January 26, at 7 o'clock. For further information, call Virginia Rath at Swarthmore 6-4608, between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m.

Swim Club Membership Approaching 400 Mark

It's going, going, gone—as Swarthmore families continue to join the Swarthmore Swim Club. With less than 100 members at the start of the new year, over 100 applications were received during the first week of January—nearly 100 the second week and the total members now are approaching 400. With almost 70 workers who continue to receive family memberships, it is entirely possible that the maximum total of 500 memberships will be achieved within the present month. Swarthmore families who have not sent in their applications and money may find themselves on a waiting list rather than "in the swim."

Prospective members are urged to take immediate action in order to insure membership for this year's swimming. All signed application forms in the hands of the workers should be turned in immediately so that none of the families who have signed will be left out. Families who have signed but who have not yet paid their money are urged to do so immediately so that their memberships will be included before the total of 500 is achieved and the list is closed. Application alone will not insure membership at this time. Checks should be made out to the "Swarthmore Swim Club" and sent to Mrs. D. Mace Gowing, treasurer, 635 Parrish road.

Those desiring additional information may call upon the following membership workers: William Scarborough SW 6-3096; Robert Grogan SW 6-0314; Parker Stamford SW 6-5205; Jerry Turan SW 6-6094; Mrs. John Lord SW 6-3785; Charles Toppins SW 6-4158; William Gill SW 6-8947; Frederick Van Urk SW 6-4973; Theodore Prescott SW 6-6185; Gordon Lange SW 6-3034.

Notice To Workers
Swim Club workers are notified that this week is the last for completing contacts with Swarthmore families. After January 31, applications from outside the borough are to be reviewed, and many are now on file. Workers should be sure to complete all work this week.

To Aid County Home

The Junior Woman's Club has announced its decision to devote the proceeds of its annual benefit to be held on the night of February 16 to the Delaware County Home for Crippled Children in Lansdowne.

Mrs. Robert Green, club president, has called a special meeting of the Junior Board on Tuesday evening, January 26, at the home of Ruth Wagner, Dickinson avenue, to complete plans for the event, to be held around a brief fashion show by Marie Donnelly. Committee chairmen will be announced following the meeting.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR MARTHA HAVILAND

Memorial Services will be held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon in Swarthmore Friends Meeting House for Martha Haviland whose death occurred Wednesday evening, January 20 at Memorial Hospital, West Chester.

Local Women to March For Polio Tuesday P.M.

Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop Heads Local Campaign for Funds

Fire whistles at 6:55, 7 o'clock and 7:05 next Tuesday night, will shout out the beginning of Swarthmore's march against polio.

The first blast will be the signal for residents to turn on their porch lights. The second will alert the marchers, women from all over the borough who by 7:05 will be on their feet and at lighted doorways for contributions to the fund which may this year, make possible the victory over this crippling disease.

Mrs. J. V. S. Bishop, general chairman of the Polio Drive in Swarthmore, has announced the borough's campaign as follows:

Barton Calvert will visit the business houses of the village, and Howard Sipler is in charge of the distribution and collection of coin boxes. The Boy Scouts will post the stickers before Tuesday night's march, and Girl Scouts are taking on the job of cleaning up the reminders on Wednesday.

The College Theatre will carry a trailer in the interest of the drive, while Young Adults of the Swarthmore Presbyterian will add their bit in passing coin boxes between shows.

Mrs. Bishop's captains in the campaign include Mrs. Milton H. Fussell, Mrs. George Armitage, Mrs. John Natvig, Mrs. Ruffin Herndon, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Quinlin and Mrs. J. A. Calhoun with Mrs. Henry B. Coles as her

Cafeteria Pulled Out of the Red

Board Delights in One Less Financial Headache

A financial report received by the School Board Wednesday evening revealed the school cafeteria had operated at monthly profits totaling $361.71 in September through December. The Board acknowledged tribute to Mrs. Grace Narbeth under whose local management this school year the cafeteria has for the first time in many years failed to show a deficit.

The Board went through the formality of passing a resolution legalizing the third-class-district rating census which it plans to begin any day now. It is estimated work of the 50 volunteer enumerators authorized to list current residents under the resolution will complete their work within one week of the starting date.

After a discussion of correcting overloaded, unbalanced electrical circuits in the high school and bringing present sub-standard lighting up to that of more modern classrooms here and elsewhere, it was decided the School District was in no position to take on any new expenditure at this time. Dr. Samuel Carpenter, property chairman, who had urged the importance of the move, agreed to its temporary deferment.

Adjourning before 10 o'clock, the members will reconvene at the Ogden avenue home of Secretary Mary Spiller at 7:30 Wednesday evening, February 3, for one of the Board's series of discussions on educational matters with members of the faculty.

School Pushes Plans For Complete Census

World in Upheaval McCorkel Tells Group

"We are destined to live in a time of social upheaval which is worldwide," Roy McCorkel, director of CARE's self-help program told members of the Swarthmore Mother's Club and their husbands at the annual Father's night dinner held last week in the Presbyterian Church.

During the last 20 years there has been a great awakening, a revolt and upheaval among the illiterate masses who want education, food, decent medical facilities and freedom, he said, citing India and Africa as some of the places where this social upheaval is taking place. McCorkel said he considered it a "mark of human greatness for a hungry man to be discontent with his hunger, to want to crawl out from under colonialism and tyranny."

It is up to the educated man, he said, to understand what is happening and to want to participate on the right side.

The Communists use this desire for change to their own advantage, he told the group, citing that in the Soviet Union exists a perversion of the desire of the people for a change. McCorkel claimed that he doesn't feel that the greatest danger today is Communist tyranny; while he does not minimize this threat, he feels that the greatest danger to this country is for people to see Communism as the only danger.

We are not too clear to use this desire of great numbers of people for social betterment to our advantage, for we are not always clear about our own objectives, according to the speaker.

In closing, McCorkel quoted from a poem which said in part, "No man is an island, no man stands alone. We need each other. For each man is my brother."

McCorkel spoke briefly about the history of CARE, telling a capacity audience which braved a snow storm to fill McCahan hall, that his organization set up the machinery for individual Americans to give to individual persons abroad, with this personalized touch having a tremendous response both from Americans at home and from recipients abroad. He characterized the work of CARE as a sort of voluntary Point 4, bridging the gap from relief to self-help.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Edward Thomas. Mrs. L. E. Conwell was in charge of the Father's night dinner, while Mrs. Norman Weeks, vice-president, was in charge of the program.

UWF BOARD MEETS

A full meeting of the executive board of the West Delaware County Chapter of United World Federalists was held last week at the home of the vice-president, Ralph V. Little, Jr., on Havertown place.

Plans were formulated for a large meeting to be held at the Swarthmore Meeting House on February 16. It was also announced that the next house meeting will be held on Reservoir road, West Chester, with Dr. and Mrs. Sydney G. Biddle at hosts. Dr. W. C. H. Prentice of Swarthmore College is the scheduled speaker at the 8 p.m. program.

Mrs. Robert Turner and her committee of 25 will serve and Mrs. Charles L. Boyle, chairman of the garden department, and her committee will have charge of the decorations. Mrs. Norman R. Jones, Swarthmore 6-2147, is in charge of reservations, which close this evening, January 22.

Co. Democratic Club Re-elects Local Men

Harry E. Oppenlander of Benjamin West avenue, was re-elected second vice-president of the Central Delaware County Democratic Club at the group's first 1954 monthly meeting, held last night at Whittier House. One of the original members of the year-old, 91-member CDCDC, Oppenlander is also serving this year as program chairman.

Guest speaker for the evening was Reuben E. Cohen, Philadelphia attorney and member of the board of directors of the American Society for Democratic Action. His topic was "Planning for Political Progress."

Shares Special 'Day'

Swarthmore briefly will be one of the communities sharing special "days" during the 1954 Philadelphia Home Show scheduled for February 8-13 at Commercial Museum, Philadelphia. Eastern Pennsylvania day, in which Swarthmore and over 30 other communities in the area will be honored, has been set for Friday, February 12.

HOW LONG WILL MY CARPET LAST?

Sometimes people tell us that they expect the carpet or Oriental rug they are buying to last them "as long as they live." We always express the hope that they will outlast the carpeting, however durable it is. You get the most out of your carpet when it is properly selected and correctly installed, with a good cushion, and if a good vacuum cleaner such as the HOOPER is used.

Carpet also wears longer if it is installed so that it can be turned, but it is better to have fitted carpet which looks good, even though it cannot be turned. Often a fitted carpet can be made smaller and turned after several years' use.

Carpet can wear as little as two years, or more than 20 years, so it is important to select it with care. There are lots of good carpet stores, but the one we always like to recommend is

Wallingford Man To Retire From Sun Oil

Fred J. Herbert, Wallingford, Sun Oil Company Marine department port engineer, will retire February 1 after 30 years' service, according to Charles L. Boyle, department manager. William Dalton, Media, assistant maintenance engineer for the department, will replace him.

Mr. Herbert, whose engineering counsel has guided the Sun Oil fleet since 1933, served in various capacities at Sun Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Company from 1925 to 1932. During this period he developed a process whereby bunker "C" fuel oil could be used in diesel engines instead of the more expensive regular diesel fuel. The process is still in use today in all Sun diesel-powered ships.

Behind him as Sun, Mr. Herbert leaves the following sea-faring Herberts: his brother, John Herbert, chief engineer of the MS Bidwell and three nephews—Henry Herbert, second assistant engineer of the MS Mystic Sun, Edward Herbert, quartermaster of the SS Michigan Sun, and Captain Fred Herbert of the MS Sabine Sun.

Church Guild to Meet

The Monday Evening Guild of the Wallingford Presbyterian Church will hold its first meeting of 1954 in the church on Monday, January 25, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. John G. Robison, the newly installed president, will conduct the business meeting.

Alatheta Reese, guidance counselor of the Nether Providence High School, will discuss "Guidance in the Secondary Schools."

op, getting a start as an automobile salesman by reselling cars which the few motorists of the day wished to exchange for newer models. He then joined the old Overland - Harper automobile agency at Fourth and Welsh streets, Chester, serving his salesmanship there on September 20, 1922 when, with Porter Waite, he opened the Willy-Overland sales and service in the garage at the corner of Dartmouth and Lafayette avenues. Exactly four years later the firm moved into the building it had built at Chester road and Yale avenue where it has operated ever since, weathering the depression and other vicissitudes to stand today as what is said to be the oldest Chrysler - Plymouth agency in Delaware County and the second oldest business in Swarthmore in continuous operation by the same owner. In 1929 when the switch to Chrysler products was made a Sunoco gasoline station was added which grew into today it dispenses one of the largest volumes of motor fuel in this territory.

Mr. Hannum somewhat inherited his early interest in motor vehicles, his father and a contemporary having assembled from odd parts what was probably Swarthmore's first automobile.

A charter member of the Swarthmore Rotary Club and a member of the Swarthmore Methodist Church, Mr. Hannum also held membership in the Players Club, the Springhaven Club, and in the Media Masonic Lodge before his illness. While in Tucson he joined the Arizona State Elks Association.

After his marriage Mr. Hannum lived for a short time in the 200 block on Dartmouth avenue, moved 35 years ago to 18 Oberlin avenue where his widow and his second son, Edward E., and family now reside. Other survivors are sons, David A., of Green Ridge, and Walter A., of Girard avenue who is manager of the parts division of Hannum and Waite; a brother, Thomas of Media; two sisters, Mary (Mrs. Robert) Anderson of Philadelphia and Grace (Mrs. Adolph) Weiss of Rutledge; and six grandchildren, David, Paul and Mary Beth, of Oberlin avenue; Sally and John of Girard avenue and Marilyn Susan of Green Ridge.

WIL Hears Review of Annalee Stewart Talk

Activities of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom have centered this past week upon the presentation of Annalee Stewart, national legislative secretary for W.I.L.P., on a radio program and a meeting of the legislative study group at the home of Mrs. Roy McCorkel on January 21.

Mrs. Stewart, who is an ordained Methodist minister, gave a timely discussion of W.I.L.P.'s aims and work in relation to current legislation during her radio interview by Marian Pedlow. Her talk stressed the need for alert and informed women to voice their opinions on such questions as the Bricker amendment, world disarmament, and the strengthening of the United Nations.

Organized groups of citizens interested in particular problems of our country often help by giving their opinions to the law-makers. Although such are called lobbyists and sometimes accused to furthering their own ends, Mrs. Stewart pointed out that these groups not only represent definite opinions of positions of the electorate, but also are more often than not organized because they believe in certain democratic principles of government.

The study group, after hearing a resume of Mrs. Stewart's talk, discussed W.I.L.P.'s stand upon the Bricker amendment and a need for continuing to work for world disarmament. Margaret Price and Mrs. Lois Oweil were in charge of the discussion.

U. S. Education Under Fire, Joint Group Hears

Dr. John Anthony Brown, Jr., dean of men and assistant professor of international politics at Temple University, was the speaker at a joint meeting of the Women's Club of Swarthmore and the Junior Club Tuesday evening. After greetings by Mrs. Frank G. Keenen and Mrs. Robert G. Greene, club presidents, Mrs. Francis Forsythe, program chairman of the senior club, introduced Dr. Brown, who spoke on "Education and the Cold War."

Dean Brown, who spent the year 1951-52 in research under a grant from the Ford Foundation, described his study of the Soviet system of education. Every text book was carefully scrutinized and from them Dr. Brown found his answer to the question, "Are the Soviets out to do us in?" The answer was definitely "Yes," for every text book—whether in language, geography, history, arithmetic, or biology—used material with a purpose. Permeating every one was a hatred of the West and all the West stands for.

The obvious and simple way to win this cold war is to build up our army, navy, air force, atomic weapons, and radar screen. Dr. Brown does not say that these preparations are unnecessary, but felt that something more is needed. "We must turn our ideology to democratic ideas. The big test is to look at education in our country and see how it serves freedom. I am a great believer in the liberal arts, 'the freeing arts' as they have been called.

"Education in our country is under attack. In some places, as in Indiana and Texas, people with the best of purposes are conducting a close examination of our text books. Others say education must not be tampered with. These are the two extremes. Somewhere in the middle is a road to make our education function in perpetuating democracy, a method which allows people to vary from the opinion of the majority, yet imposes on top a system of values. There are evidences that the war with the Soviets may not be an atomic war, but an ideological one. If we are going to win this war, education must be our weapon."

Frequently in his speech and in the question period, Dr. Brown referred to the great feeling of insecurity among young people resulting in reactions of juvenile delinquency, trouble on college campuses, and overcrowding of the psychiatric services. These signs should, he said, show us the cost of the cold war. This insecurity among youth reflects that of adults. Men have reached the stage where they see the problem as so big they cannot do anything about it. He stated that there is danger of relaxing moral standards and therefore, we must not abdicate in our search for peace.

"Russia," stressed Dr. Brown, "is under a tyranny to perpetuate the Soviet system. People under a tyranny develop an immunity to propaganda, become cynical and unconvinced, and say what they do not believe." He found evidences of this trend among the Russians and asked, "Are we in danger of adopting some totalitarian methods?" As an example, he mentioned the undue fuss about Communism made in the State Department. Good men no longer apply and men in the field are beginning to give ambiguous reports lest 10 years from now these reports be used against them. The men in our foreign service must be free men, he insisted.

"In our State Department as well as in education and elsewhere," concluded Dr. Brown, "we must not put on chains, but we do have the right to say that men in our nation cannot advocate ideas opposed to our society and the democratic way of life."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The opinions expressed below are those of the individual writers. All letters to The Swarthmorean must be signed. Pseudonyms may be used if the identity of the writer is known by the Editor. Letters will be published only at the discretion of the Editor.

To the Editor:

I am enclosing a carbon copy of a letter which the Swarthmore League of Women Voters has sent to Senators Duff and Martin, Senator Ferguson, Chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, Senator Knowland, Senate majority leader, and Vice President Nixon. We urge all citizens to write any or all of the above men opposing the Bricker Amendment.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Thomas Casey, Pres.
Swarthmore League of Women Voters

"Dear Senator Duff:

"The League of Women Voters of Swarthmore has considered the Bricker Amendment and wishes to express its opposition to this proposal.

"Passage of the Bricker Amendment would alter the system of checks and balances set up in the Constitution. By necessitating state approval of some treaties and requiring additional legislation for all treaties and executive agreements it would transfer some of the President's treaty-making power to Congress and the states. The Constitution gave the President this power in order that he might act in the best interest of the country as a whole since it would be impossible for him to attempt to represent the opinions of all 48 separate states. We believe it would be dangerous to change this wise decision of the Constitution's authors.

"In addition the Bricker Amendment would slow up the treaty-making process and we can see no justification for substituting more cumbersome system of treaty ratification for the present one, particularly in these crucial times when swift and effective international action is so badly needed. We believe Congress already has sufficient power to nullify Presidential action of which it does not approve since a two-thirds majority of the Senate must ratify any treaty and since Congress must vote appropriations or pass other legislation to implement most treaties.

"Supporters of the Bricker Amendment fear that the President will make treaties which will supersede the Constitution, particularly through United Nations covenants, but the courts have already made clear that no treaty can supersede the Constitution.

"For the above reasons we believe enactment of the Bricker Amendment would seriously hinder our country in conducting its foreign affairs at a time when the need for United States leadership in international cooperation is greater than at any previous period in our history.

"This opinion is held by local Leagues all over the country, resulting in the stand of the League of Women Voters of the United States against the Bricker Amendment."

League Panel Airs School Tax Problems

G. Baker Thompson, assistant county superintendent of schools, on the Swarthmore League of Women Voters' luncheon panel "Schools and Taxes" Friday in Whittier House, said Pennsylvania could no longer be classed a slow, conservative, cheap state in regard to its appropriations for education. Mr. Thompson, whose willingness to stand as a candidate to succeed the lately retired Superintendent Carl G. Leach was announced, said the $228,000,000 which the State government authorized to help local schools face their emergencies in 1949-51 was increased to $286,000,000 in 1951-53 and is expected to reach $580,000,000 by 1959-61.

"It is a shock to any government to find that much money for just one of its services," Thompson said, predicting the new sales tax will probably be doubled to two cents next Legislative Session.

Swarthmore's Supervising Principal Frank R. Morey discussed the third class district rating census about to be conducted by the school district, stating the change would make legal a 25-mill basic realty tax with unlimited millage if needed for minimum teacher salaries and increments. Swarthmore is now levying the 37-mill maximum as a fourth class district plus a real estate transfer tax and $15 per capita levy. Morey said improvements in plant and broadening of several instructional areas, recommended by a recent survey of Swarthmore High School by visiting examiners, would cost an undetermined sum.

He also presented an analysis of Swarthmore's standing in the Suburban Study Council's new Report on Educational Costs and Surveys. School Board President Donald P. Jones, whose recollection dates from the time he was a lad in the schools he now helps to administer, said Swarthmore has always had a problem because it has ever striven to have good schools yet has had nothing but residents to tax. "The problem is getting more difficult because of the increasing consciousness of all people for better education of children," Jones said.

"Swarthmore lacks the financial capacity to pay for superior schools in comparison with surrounding areas. The situation offers three alternatives: relatively poorer schools, relatively higher taxes, concern with spending money to round out services now limited because the district cannot offer a broad program in all phases economically," the Board head proclaimed.

"Local surveys of the past several years, anticipating financial trouble for Swarthmore about 1957-58, still hold," said Jones. A

Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Carroll, Jr., of North Chester road, left Thursday to attend the Regional Architectural Meetings to be held today and tomorrow at Chapel Hill, N. C. Mr. Carroll will be moderator for the forum on the simplification of drafting procedure.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Watkins of Magill road will entertain as their week-end guest Mr. Watkins' sister Miss Louise C. Watkins of Cleveland, Ohio.

difference of slightly over one mill might be needed in the nearer future, he thought, to care for the higher early payments on the new elementary school bond issue which was sold on a 20-year instead of 35-year basis to effect maximum long range economy.

If Swarthmore goes to a third class district it is expected the new classification will become effective at the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 5, 1954. In conformance with a 1953 law the two additional directors appointed to the Board would serve full terms, ending in 1959, rather than being appointed until the next election as hitherto.

Referring to improved State revenues granted all public schools, Jones strongly reminded his audience "the State has no source of revenue of its own — all its monies come from you and me. Large appropriations from the State do not come free, a community like Swarthmore pays more to the State than it gets back, and we can defeat our own purpose by demanding more and more State funds which we'll have to support in the end.

Questions regarding the State approved plan of the County combining Nether Providence, Swarthmore and Rutledge school districts brought forth the opinion that little if any advantage to the communities involved could be seen through such joining at the present time.

Mrs. Michael Dunn of Radnor, who headed a County L.W.V. battle for equalization of realty tax assessments, cited varied assessment figures and relationships to market values, deploring the present system of making assessorship appointments on a political basis. Suggesting reforms of educational standards or Civil Service examinations for assessors, a uniformity of assessed valuations and set ratio to market values, Mrs. Dunn conceded politicians were right in deeming their bidding for reassessment was not justified by the general public which does not want or understand such a move, thinking it means higher taxes. "It should be done but it would require tremendous leadership and money (about $50,000 to educate the public through a public relations group) and I don't know where it's coming from," Mrs. Dunn concluded.

Cold facts!

As the thermometer goes down—traffic accidents go up!

You may do less driving in January and February than you do in Spring and Summer but—even so—cold facts prove that these months are the most dangerous on our highways.

Gray weather... added hours of darkness... snow and haze... wet or icy roads—all do their part to increase the chances of traffic accidents. This is "skid" weather. If you live in or drive through the mountain regions of Pennsylvania—you know how much more alert you must be in winter to avoid mishap.

But no matter where you live or where you drive—be extra cautious. Learn how to control your car if it should start to skid. Slow down in winter. Drive carefully. Make 1954 the safest year ever!

Needlework Guild Gives 1953 Report

The Swarthmore Branch of the Needlework Guild of America has recently compiled its final report for the year of 1953. Three thousand, four hundred and seven garments were donated by 1,080 members and 13 group organizations to 18 charitable organizations.

The quality of the household articles, sheets, towels and crib blankets, and the many attractive items of clothing, such as warm jackets, wool sweaters, slacks and pretty dresses, was unusually fine this year. In letters of appreciation to the Guild, many beneficiaries remarked on this fact—the children's organizations in particular. One organization director wrote:

"The children were so delighted to be able to go to school well clothed. Needless to say, it gave them a sense of pride and security. We want each member of your group to know how much they have contributed to the happiness and welfare of these little children who have never known what it was to be dressed so well. We have never received so many useful and needed garments from any single branch of the Needlework Guild and we are truly grateful to your group for the interest they have shown in our work with the dependent and neglected children of the community."

The Guild officers felt that "such a heart-warming letter of thanks should be made public to the Swarthmore residents whose generosity in the Fall Ingathering resulted in the fine collection of clothing and household articles."

UCP YOUNG ADULT GROUP IN INITIAL MEETING MONDAY

The Young Adult Group of United Cerebral Palsy of Delaware County held its initial meeting this week in the Woman's Association room of the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church.

Ruth Wado of South Chester road, who is chairman of the committee, led the discussion of program planning for the future monthly meetings. It was the consensus of those present that discussion meetings with guest speakers be alternated with social meetings.

Connie Alwine and Raymond Richter of Manoa will be hosts for the February meeting.

Others present were Mrs. Wanda McCloughan and Edith McCloughan of Drexel Hill, Philip Traynor of Yeadon, Elise Remont of Rose Valley, Raymond J. Clark, president of UCP of Delaware County, and Millicent King, executive secretary of the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson of Fairview road, assisted with refreshments that followed the meeting.

NAMED COLLEGE EDITOR

John R. Schott, son of Reverend and Mrs. John Schott, Benjamin West avenue, has been elected News Editor of the Haverford College student paper, "The News."

John came to Haverford this Fall as a freshman, having graduated from the University School in Shaker Heights, Ohio, where he was editor of the school paper and the handbook, and business manager of the yearbook. He also received an award "For outstanding contribution to the News." His non-academic activities have included the chairmanship of the MacArthur for President Committee of Northeastern Ohio and presidency of the Youth for Eisenhower-Nixon in Cleveland.

He is majoring in political science at Haverford.

LWV Study Group to Meet

The League of Women Voters study group on the state constitution will hold its second meeting Wednesday morning at 9:30 at the home of Mrs. Carl Barus, 2 Crum Ledge.

Mrs. Frederick Dudley will explain suffrage and elections.

Patricia Park of Park avenue, was recently initiated into Kappa Phi, religious sorority on the Ohio University campus, where she is enrolled as a freshman.

Fennies for Polio
To the Editor:
Sincere thanks go out to all who cooperated 100 per cent in the polio drive. As soon as possible the results will be in the Swarthmorean. The following incident is worth noting.

Johnny Rushton is eight years old. He is making a brave attempt to overcome the results of an attack of Polio suffered a year ago. It was not an evidence of vandalism, fortunately. The window cleaners were on the job on Tuesday and did all they could, though these the boy had saved as his contribution toward the Mothers' March. That's the spirit, Johnny. A few words of explanation should be given for the torn condition of the stickers that the boy

NEW KIND OF LIFE INSURANCE FOR CHILDREN

Jumps 5 times in value at age 21 with no added cost

Have you a child or a grandchild between the ages of 1 and 15? If so, our new JUNIOR ESTATE BUILDER policy — which we've nicknamed the "Jumping Juvenile" — will assure him $5000 of life insurance at age 21 for every $1000 you buy him now... with no increase in cost and with no further proof of insurability.

You see, this savings-type life insurance automatically jumps to 5 times its original value when the youngster reaches 21, yet the premium does not change throughout the life of the policy.

Here's the ideal way to guarantee your child a substantial amount of life insurance, at low juvenile rates, as he takes on grown-up responsibilities — with important cash values available for earlier education or later emergencies.

The sooner you buy the lower the rate. For details in terms of age you specify, please fill out and return the coupon.

Eight Scouts Receive Second Class Badges

Girl Scout Troop number 429 under the leadership of Mrs. Maurice Webster held a Court of Awards at its regular meeting on Tuesday in Whittier House. Troop number 269 under the leadership of Mrs. Morris Hicks and Mrs. George Patterson were guests.

Second class awards were given to eight of the members of Troop 429. Girls receiving these were: Rosemary Cadagan, Mary Lou Gray, Janet Jester, Caroline MacNair, Betsy McKeag, Dorothy Prentice, Sondra Skoglund, and Susan Wright. Mothers of the girls receiving awards were also invited to be present. Mrs. Robert Brodhead who serves on the badge committee made the awards.

After a presentation of the colors which was conducted by Mrs. Robert Bernhardt, assistant leader of Troop 429, travel movies were shown.

Music Club Schedules Jamboree for Sunday

Color slides acting out episodes in the life of Rachmaninoff, photographed by Mrs. Robert Engle of Elwyn, will be shown, and the composer's "Polichinelle" will be played by Betty Hornmann, high school pianist from Glen Mills.

Part II of the program begins at 5:15 p.m. Supper and informal music making is offered for those who wish to participate. Children and adults who play string instruments or flutes are cordially invited. Violinists and violists are especially needed. John Sears will conduct.

Guests are advised to bring their own food, but dessert and beverage will be provided.

Evening Program

The evening program, known as Part III, begins at 7:30 p.m. and promises to be exceptionally interesting. A trio for flute, clarinet and piano, written by Dr. Alfred Swan of the College Music Department, will be played by Dr. Ernest Wagner, tenorist, and Mrs. Helen Sevag of Larchmont, pianist, will present a trio by Niels W. Gade, as well as a group of shorter numbers by Glinka, Grieg and Percy Grainger.

In addition to these instrumental contributions, a series of vocal selections will introduce the Media Fellowship Chorus, directed by John Konnold and accompanied by Mabel Fraser.

"I saw it in the Swarthmorean."

LWV ON RADIO SHOW

"Why Change the State Constitution?" will be the topic members of the Swarthmore League of Women Voters will discuss on the radio show to be held Tuesday morning, February 2, at 9 on station WPWA.

Mrs. Phillip Allen, Mrs. John Hanson, and Mrs. Carl Barus will appear on the program. On February 5, at 1 p.m. Mrs. Frederick K. Dudley will appear on another program.

Mrs. Newton Ryerson will speak on the State legislature at a study group of the League of Women Voters which will meet Wednesday morning, February 3 at 9:30 at the home of Mrs. John Hampton, 1 Crum Ledge, to study the State constitution.

Health Society Ups Nurse Salary Scale

The Board of Directors of the Community Health Society of Central Delaware County, unanimously approved the employees salary scale recommended by the nursing committee, Mrs. John W. Hill, chairman, at the regular meeting of the board on Thursday, January 14, in the Borough Hall. The action increases the rate of yearly increment throughout the agency staff, on the basis of merit, job performance, and additional training.

The board also approved unanimously the proposed budget for June 1, to May 31, 1955 as submitted by the finance committee, Mrs. F. H. Forsythe, chairman.

The finance committee also reported on a cost per visit study which necessitated an increase in fees. Effective January 1, 1954 the fee for nursing service will be $3.00 a visit up to one hour and 60c for each additional one-quarter hour. If a family wishes to have the nurse at a specified hour this appointment fee will be $3.50 up to one hour and 75c for each additional one-quarter hour.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Groff, Executive Director, reported on the Christmas activities of the agency. Plants and baskets of fruit were provided for "Shut In" patients. The Woodlyn Child Health Center Party was attended by 97 children and their mothers. Girl Scout Troop No. 384, Springfield, did the tree trimming; Girl Scout Troop No. 433, Rutledge, and Girl Scout Troop No. 57, Folsom, made cookies; Ridley Township Business Men's Association provided Dixie Cups; Brownie Troop No. 225, Swarthmore made stuffed animal toys; the Sewing Circle No. 5 of the Ridley Park Presbyterian Church made stuffed dolls; Colleen alice barber gifts

Harold Mabbot of Swarthmore played the role of Santa Claus.

Ten needy families received canned goods through the College Theatre Benefit movie; 21 families were aided in planning Christmas and other projects which were made possible by gifts from many individuals and through the support of local clubs such as in Swarthmore the Friendly Circle, The Thimble Group, Women's Club, Junior Woman's Club, College Library Staff and Legion Auxiliary, The Lansdowne Steel and Iron Company of Morton, The Bloomingdale Rubber Company, Chester and the Springfield Legion Auxiliary also contributed.

Mrs. Birney K. Morse was elected to the Board of Directors. Mrs. Marvel Wilson and Mrs. Carl Schmitt were elected to their third term of office. The terms of Mrs. Walter A. Schmidt and Mrs. Peter E. Told who end their nine-year service as directors in March, were extended to the end of the fiscal year in June to prevent an unfortunate break in Mrs. Schmidt's valued service and in appreciation of her knowledge and advice as the only past president on the Board. Mrs. Told is secretary and chairman of the education and publicity committee. The resignation of Mrs. J. L. Woodruff of Morton was accepted with regret.

Six girls of Junior High Troop 83 who are working for these badges will also make the trip. Helen Calhoun, Spencer Carroll, Christine Sipler, Jackie Grey, Janey Mather and Ann Haworth.

Girl Scouts to Visit

Members of Troop 331 will visit the Academy of Music on Monday, February 1, at 3:30. Audrey Ward of the Hedgerow Theatre will conduct the scouts on an exciting tour of the entire building, including the mysterious "Catacombs." Back stage they will be shown the mechanics of raising and lowering the curtain. The girls will be especially interested in seeing the costumes, scenery and props. On Saturday, February 27, they will attend the play at the Academy.

Troop Leaders Mrs. Victor Harworth and Mrs. William McDermott have planned these two activities in connection with the work the girls are completing on the Drama Badges, "Players" and "Troop Dramatics." The following girls are members of the troop: Susan Campbell, Barbara Edwards, Shirley Little, Nita Slatner, Suzanne and Sally Stephens, Betsy Bennett, Susan Hayward, Nina Kapp, Barbara Grelm, Marian Detweiler, Martha Tiller, Ann Essl, Barbara Grelm, Leslie Kurtz-hal, Barbara Moran, Ann and Jean Paul and Mary Lou McCorkel.

H & S Is Briefed on Education of Emotions

Temple Man Uses Parent-Child Contagion Theme

A child's relationship with his parents is the key to his emotional or "non-verbal" informal education," said Dr. Robert A. Welch on Tuesday evening's Home and School meeting in the High School auditorium.

Parents who expected the announced topic "The Emotional Aspects of Education" to deal with emotional developments of the child in connection with the process of other learning quickly discovered Dr. Welch's interpretation of the evening's theme was educating the emotions separately and pretty generally played up a sex angle in all cause and effect. An overdose of this fare might scare timid potential-parents away from the whole business of regeneration, alleviating somewhat the continuance of increasing hordes of small fry to confront school boards and procreators with the weighty problems of educating them formally and emotionally.

"Relationships to the parent of the same sex and to the one of the opposite sex are a powerful factor in development of the individual's attitude toward many things in life and pretty well set the essential structure of his personality and behavior patterns, within the first six years of his life," said the Temple University School of Medicine's psychiatry instructor. "This pattern is not incapable of modification later, however, or we wouldn't have psychiatrists," he observed.

"A person must be allowed to develop so that he will become independent, self-reliant, and assume responsibility without a great deal of support from other sources. He must also be reasonably free of anxiety, an emotion which arises at birth when the automatic feeding of his prenatal existence stops and he is confronted by his first unsatisfied need. The demand system of feeding which has, in general, replaced the rigid scheduling of a few years ago, circumvents this early source of anxiety and makes for a more optimistic being," said the mentor. Subsequent critical periods named were:

Toilet training, when the first social demand is met with cooperative attitude or used as a weapon according to the child's feeling toward his mother.

When early fondness for the mother, possibly combined with viewing the father as the prototype of authority, sets up a defiance against the male parent who is seen as an intruder. At this period sexual orientation is largely determined, to then lie dormant for a period of gang tendency in which each sex child rejects the parent and playmates of the opposite sex and becomes closely allied with ones of its own gender, until the issue rears at puberty. Here a girl's normal adjustment is more complicated than a boy's as she must transfer her interest from mother to father, continued Dr. Welch.

Grains of anxiety which may have brushed off onto parents while they conscientiously struggled to sweep the bugbears from junior's path, was dispelled to a degree by Dr. Welch's revelation that "the storminess of adolescence was usually not too serious."

A parent or two with a tiny fear that they might some day reach the end of their own psychological rope, may have found solace in the doctor's summary answer to a question on discipline. "A certain amount of compliance is to be expected." Admitting a certain amount of fighting between parent and child is unavoidable, Dr. Welch said harm results when a parent battles too bitterly to force his own goals upon a child, and is not sufficiently mature to realize when he should withdraw from a conflict.

Although the young may exert to "overthrow" the older generation in a struggle they deem necessary for the establishment of their own capabilities, each requires a parent of his own sex as a pattern, stressed the speaker. Why many children select an opposite pattern to follow was one alley the active question period which followed Dr. Welch's ramble, did not explore.

"A parent can't give a child more than the parent has — a parent's emotional problems usually will be significantly imposed on the child," concluded Dr. Welch advising parents to clear up their own weaknesses as the first step in preventing unhealthy attitudes in their offspring.

The brief business meeting which opened the evening brought a grant of $75 to the health committee, $35 of which will provide dental care and $40 speech therapy for local school children whose needs in these directions cannot be met financially by their parents.

An enjoyable interlude of music by a four-day-old string quartet of high school girls preceded Dr. Welch's address. Susan Housman, first violin; Molly Huse, second violin; Nancy Carroll, viola, and Deborah Reeder, cello, comprised the new musical ensemble which played "The Mill" by Roff and Hayden's "Serenade."

You needn't go prospecting to find a treasure in party-line service

To be a good party-line neighbor, remember to release the line reasonably soon when someone else is waiting to use it... and hang up gently when you find the line in use. Your party-line neighbors will return the courtesy. Result: better telephone service for all on the line!

MORE THAN 200 ATTEND NEW MEMBER LUNCHEON

More than 200 members and guests attended the luncheon for 64 new and reinstated members of the Woman's Club of Swarthmore on Tuesday. Among the guests of honor were Mrs. Arthur P. Vincent and Mrs. Samuel J. McCartney, president and first vice-president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Vincent, who is a graduate and former teacher of the Slippery Rock State Teachers College, has served as vice president of the Southwest District of the Federation and chairman of fine arts, and also chairman of education. In a brief informal talk she told of the progress of the Restoration Project in Pennsylvania, saying that with reports in from only 122 out of 700 clubs, the sum of $7000 has been pledged. Mrs. Vincent congratulated the local club on its fine spirit and its large number of new members.

The program of the afternoon was given by Jessie Lewis of Lansdowne, a graduate of Swarthmore College, who spoke on "Plays in the Current Season."

A surprise feature of the afternoon was the drawing for door prizes, open only to new members. The recipients were Mrs. George W. Cochran, Mrs. W. Edward Medford, and Mrs. J. Francis Taylor.

Arts Center to Give Tea Sunday Afternoon

Mrs. H. Warren Jacobs of Springfield, Mrs. James R. Powell of Wallingford, and Mrs. J. Rogers Ulrich of Highland Park.

Classes for both adults and children in over 20 different art subjects are now being offered at the Center. Adults may choose from an impressive list, including painting (oil and watercolor), china painting, portrait sculpture, ceramics, metal work and jewelry, lamp shade making, flower arrangement (for both show purposes and home), early American decoration, tray painting, puppetry, silk screen and prints, weaving, woodworking and furniture refinishing, creative dance, physiodynamics, square dancing, dramatics for teenagers, music, photography and writing.

For the children there is painting (for both school age and preschool), ceramics, metal work, puppetry, woodworking, American Indian dances and crafts, ballet and acrobatics, creative dancing, square dancing, and Children's Theatre (names now being taken for next year's Theatre group).

Legion Auxiliary Meets Monday

At their first meeting of the new year held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oscar Gilcreest, members of the Legion Auxiliary voted to give the following donations:

To the Child Welfare, $36.00; to Sandra Braum, adopted orphan at Scotland School, $32.00; Unrestricted Fund for Coatesville, $5.00; Perry Point Hospital and Veteran's Administration Hospital of Philadelphia, $3.00 each; State Junior Baseball, $10.00; Polio Fund, $5.00; and Poppies and seals to be offered in May, $26.00—a grand total of $120.00.

Mrs. Alben Eavenson, presiding officer and vice-president, informed the group of the national auxiliary's Wooden Church Crusade which, with the help of individual units, will attempt to provide places of worship near the sites of ruined churches, cathedrals and synagogues in Germany. In the national campaign, the auxiliary hopes to erect at least two churches of approximately $25,000 each.

The Swarthmore unit has sent their allotment of $5.00 to Headquarters, this sum to be considered a community service branch of the program.

Exhibits on Display In Friends Library

Members of the Society of Friends who have been active in the defense of religious and personal liberties are the subject of an exhibit on display in the Friends Historical Library in February.

Residents of the Swarthmore and neighboring communities are cordially invited to see the exhibit and to use the facilities of the library. The Friends Historical Library is the wing of the Swarthmore College Library building nearest the railroad station.

Although the emphasis in the library is on Quaker faith, history, and peace, the 14,000 books, the maps, deeds, pictures, and manuscripts cover other subject fields of local and general interest. Books on the painter Benjamin West are available there as well as county histories rich in fascinating accounts of early Pennsylvania history. Deeds for property on which the College and many Swarthmore homes now stand, are there in the original, some signed by William Penn and his associates.

Testimonies in which Friends have been active are also represented. These include racial equality, care of the mentally ill, welfare of the American Indian, women's rights, and education. The library is also rich in records of Friends, some of whom founded the College and were residents of the early Swarthmore community.

In January, leaflets and posters on American Friends Service Committee projects for young people have been on exhibit for students and parents interested in making plans for the coming summer. The library lends recently published books and warmly welcomes community use of the collections.
