Discovers New England Visitor

With courage unbounded, a rare species of Buttercup has appeared at the Swarthmorean Office. Unbeknownst to anyone, it took root along the driveway, throve through April rains and May drought, and was discovered with glee by Dr. Samuel C. Palmer on June first.

Retired professor of biology at Swarthmore College, and an authority on plants and flowers, Dr. Palmer had never seen the species - Ranunculus acris, common to New England—in Delaware County, and was pleased to announce his find to the owner, one of his former college students.

To untrained eyes the New England visitor looks exactly like the Delaware County brand (Ranunculus bulbosus), only a little more spread out, like a saucer. But the flower is larger, and the leaves are different, and if uprooted, would lack the bulb that provides the name for the local species.

Dr. Palmer plans to paint the specimen and add it to his famous collection of water colors. As for the Swarthmorean staff, it is taking a great deal of pride in the bounty of its uncultivated garden.

RESOLUTION

In grateful recognition of the twenty-five years of faithful and effective service which FRANK R. MOREY has rendered to the Swarthmore School District, the Swarthmore Board of School Directors unanimously adopted the following resolution at its regular meeting June 15, 1955:

BE IT RESOLVED THAT WHEREAS Mr. Frank R. Morey first came to the School District of Swarthmore as Supervising Principal in 1930 and is now completing his twenty-fifth year in that capacity and

WHEREAS he has applied himself to his duties with a remarkable, selfless diligence, and has demonstrated the ability to select and develop an exceptionally competent teaching staff dedicated to the teaching and development of the children of Swarthmore, and

WHEREAS he has on numerous occasions accepted criticism and blame rightfully belonging to others while at the same time graciously passing on to them the acclaim which has followed the many notable achievements of the School District, and

WHEREAS he has continued to present forcefully though courteously the physical and instructional needs of the School while at the same time demonstrating an understanding of the problems facing the School District which have not always permitted the complete satisfaction of such needs, and

WHEREAS the School District of Swarthmore under his leadership has attained a scholastic standing of unusually high quality largely as a result of the factors enumerated above

NOW THEREFORE, the Board of School Directors of Swarthmore wishes to express to Frank R. Morey its commendation on his achievements in Swarthmore during this period of twenty-five years and also its very real appreciation of the manner in which he has worked with that body toward the attainment of the highest possible educational objectives.

It is further directed that a copy of this resolution be given to Mr. Morey and
