

Valuable Items in School 'Lost & Found'

Although Swarthmore's pupils have just left their classes for the summer, there is at school a large accumulation of "LOST AND FOUND". These forgotten scarves, glasses, rubbers, and other clothing articles, an accumulation of lost and found items unclaimed through the year, are begging for their owners.

The "lost and found" articles have been assembled in the cooking room of the high school for further identification. Articles then left will be turned over to welfare agencies. In tribute to many mothers who put name tags in clothing, the collection at this time is smaller than in previous years.

A careful inspection of this display shows that there are some very nice coats and jackets with no names in them, gloves, hats, rubbers, sweaters, glasses and glasses cases, empty wallets, etc. It is hoped that the owners will come to the school, identify and take home their possessions.

School Design Data Approved Monday

Borough To Be Asked To Pave Brighton Avenue

Design sketches for a new 12-classroom addition to the Rutgers Avenue Elementary School were approved by the Swarthmore-Rutledge School Board Monday evening and architects authorized to proceed with working drawings and specifications. Four members of the new School Authority which will finance the project, were present.

The School District solicitor was asked to draft a letter from the School Board and School Authority requesting Borough Council to pave the unopened section of Brighton Avenue. In order to avoid further congestion on Rutgers Avenue where the present school faces, the Board plans to have the entrance to the new building off Brighton Avenue.

Dr. Samuel F. Carpenter, building committee chairman, was asked to discuss plans for a cafeteria-kitchen with the architect. The unit, which would be added to the all purpose room on the present building at an approximate cost of $50,000, could be financed under the District's own borrowing capacity. However, the Board would like it built along with the

S.E.S. Leo Maris In Gala Launching Scout Ship Sets Sail After Long Travail

Skipper and crew are still keeping their fingers crossed, but Swarthmore's Sea Explorer, Ship Leo Maris No. 329 is launched.

With appropriate ceremonies at the Anchorage, Essexington, West 3 p.m. Sunday the formal christening was accomplished, and two hours later when the turn of the tide had lessened the lashing wind and waves somewhat, the trim craft was sent down into the water. It was tied to the nearby dock to await its first trial run this Saturday, future weekend cruises, and possibly spending sometime in Chesapeake Bay.

Since Skipper George Myers and the boys brought the old Navy-donated LCP to Swarthmore—and-half years ago, the saga of the Leo Maris has been full of "sweat and tears" if not "blood". After restoring the hull, building a superstructure and struggling to find and overhaul a suitable engine the craft was finally finished last August and moved from behind the unit's land base on Cresson Lane, to the Delaware river where it was launched sans ceremony by the Sun Shipbuilding Company.

The next week it broke afloat and was washed upon a piling (Continued on Page 7)

Swim Team Takes On Wallingford Again Tomorrow

Although Swarthmore's Swim Team win over first meeters Wallingford and Springfield last Saturday at the Swarthmore pool was a foregone conclusion, Wallingford took home, the first places and Springfield one, and enough heats were run so that everyone who desired to swim had a chance to do so.

With this week for additional practice, Wallingford should present even better competition to the Swarthmore Seahorses when they journey to the Wallingford pool for a return engagement with that team at 9:30 tomorrow morning.

Total final scores last Saturday were: Springfield 129, Wallingford 174, Swarthmore 334.

Wallingford's P. Ikedo topped the Midget Girls Backstroke and Freestyle events, with a time of 18 seconds for the 25-yard latter event. S. Epp won Intermediate Boys Butterfly (22.3) and Freestyle (30.2). T. Baldwin won Midget Boys Butterfly (22.3). Three relays also were captured by Wallingford: Intermediate Girls (1:06.8), Junior Boys (1:00.8), and Midget Girls (1:23.7). Dean and Hubbard of Wallingford came in first and second in the Intermediate Girls Diving. Dean's score was 76.5.

Young SRA-ers Get Acquainted at Rutgers

112 Enroll in Borough's Summer Recreation Program

Typical first-week hot weather greeted the 112 children enrolled in the pre-school-Primary Summer Recreation program at the Rutgers Avenue School. Varied activities, indoors and out, for all age groups, gave everyone a wonderful chance to become acquainted—or reacquainted.

The Threes start each morning with a grand march around their room, usually led by Barbey Keefe. Several children bring favorite stuffed animals or toys to share, and these, plus a sandbox, paints, and pint-size housekeeping equipment, were the most popular last week.

The first week for the Fours was one of exploration and discovery. They had free playtime, both indoors and out, a rest period, games, songs, stories, and handwork. They were particularly thrilled with a new piece of playground equipment consisting of ladders, rings, and bars. The high spot of the week, was a trip to the home of Beau Ricksecker to see several newborn kittens.

Stories, records, and art activities were the favorites of the Fives. One rainy day they made pretty colored umbrellas, and are now busy working on Indian headaddresses complete with feathers.

The six-year-olds, besides enjoying the summer sun on the playground, action songs, story-book characters on record, painting, coloring, and marching, were privileged to help Carl Collins celebrate his 5 1/2 birthday. Christmas Day is just not the best for a little boy to have a birthday party, so Carl had his on the 25th of June. He took some of his friends to the airport for lunch.

The Primary group's first week was spent in getting acquainted, setting up rules to be followed during the next six weeks, and finding out what they like to do. They played kick-baseball, four-square, and had lots of fun with the other balls and toys. There were stories each day, some art lessons, and even some folk-dancing. The children drew pictures on Friday of what they liked best about recreation school, and the results ranged from block-built skyscrapers to kick-baseball, teachers, swings, and seesaws.

Civil Defense Test Scheduled for July 12

1957 "Operation Alert" To Familiarize Public, Personnel

A National Civil Defense test will be held during the period July 8 through July 19. All States, Territories and Possessions will participate.

The primary purposes of the test activities for the general public in Pennsylvania will be:

1. To provide the general public with further opportunity to become familiar with the standard public action signals. (See new revision of warning conditions on page 3).
2. To provide further opportunity for members of the general public to practice basic self-protection measures.
3. Other phases of the test will be for Civil Defense personnel only.

Public Participation

On Monday and Tuesday evenings, July 8 and July 9, signals will be sounded. At 7:15 p.m. the alert signal—three minutes steady blast on sirens—will be given; at 7:30 p.m. the "Red" or "Take Cover" signal—three minutes of pulsating blasts on sirens—will be given.

On the 8th and 9th the Public is only asked to listen to these signals, to become familiar with them.

These two educational blasts are the only times the "Red" signal will not mean "Take Cover" and traffic will not be stopped.

On Friday, July 12, a Civil Defense drill will be held during the daylight hours. Exact time will not be announced. The schedule of signals is as follows:

- (A) The "Alert" signal will be sounded to activate Civil Defense Personnel and to give information about the "Test."
- (B) The "Red" or "Take Cover" signal will be sounded at which time all traffic will be stopped and pedestrians directed to seek shelter inside.
- (C) The "Alert" signal will be sounded which will signal the "All Clear."

At this signal traffic may resume movement and all people (Continued on Page 8)

Storms Strike Twice At Kenyon Ave. Home

It may be true that lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place but surely storms in general do, as Mrs. A. Robb Cochran of 221 Kenyon Avenue will readily testify.

Just about to begin remedying the damage to the interior of her home wrought by the storm of Sunday evening, June 16, when lightning struck her bathroom, Mrs. Cochran had to shift concentration to the exterior when a large section of one of the tall oak trees in front of her house was blown off and put two large holes into her roof during last Friday afternoon's sudden squall. Swarthmore firemen covered the openings with tarpaulins.

Limbs falling on tracks and wires and transformers being knocked out by wind or lightning also fouled up railroad crossing gates at Swarthmore Avenue, Wallingford and Morton. The Swarthmore Avenue gates were stuck in a down position for an hour and a half. Railroad workmen zigzagged traffic between the gates.

Electrical current to many homes in the Borough, and to the police station, and its radio was interrupted at 4:30 p.m. and not restored for over an hour.

"This day the CONTINENTAL CONGRESS declared the UNITED COLONIES FREE and INDEPENDENT STATES"
—THE PENNSYLVANIA EVENING POST, JULY 1778
After the Declaration was read, the iron tongue of the Liberty Bell was hurled backward and forward a hundred times, to "Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof." The excited multitude in the streets responded with loud exclamations, and later that night, with bonfires.
To-day, July 4th is still an occasion for the same joyful celebration as in 1776, not only in Philadelphia, but in thousands of cities and towns undreamed of when the first announcement was made.

Any Old Umbrella
Home spectators and visitors alike found the first 1957 meet at the Swarthmore pool considerably more enjoyable than last season's, due to the addition of benches.

The work of tallying officials was also made easier by provision of a table and bench structure from the picnic area. But the latter laborers, after nearly four hours sitting stationary in the broiling sun, writing detailed names, placements and timings on score sheets, breathed one further prayer, "Oh if ye dear club directors would only purchase, or some kindly soul lend, a beach umbrella we could erect over this table, life would be much more bearable."

Moral Moods
The matter of moral moods may make a summer similar to embrace True Methodism, fearing that, indeed, "There is a hotter place." But moral moods may metamorphose like a schizophrenic lady. If it is not one asks, "Why not Pull off a deal that's rather shady?"

The answer is a simple rule That's guaranteed to make one cool. Just tell yourself at silent grace "Remember that's a hotter place!"

The usual resolution requesting the County Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes and the Swarthmore-Rutledge District assessor to inspect and reassess properties to which major improvements have been made after September 1, was passed. Such reassessments enable the school district to collect taxes at the increased valuation for the proportionate part of the fiscal year remaining after such improvements are made.

Behind the headlines the meaning of traffic accidents shows its face. Look upon it. Visit 2338 Speedway Road.

Daddy was 30. He lost his life in a speeding car that failed to make a curve. His family lost its breadwinner. His eight-year-old son will be robbed of Dad's companionship in his growing-up years. His two-weeks-old daughter will never know Daddy.

His wife begins to learn loneliness — and how to earn a living for herself and two children. This tragic pattern repeats itself 32,000 times a year. Every 15 minutes someone dies in a which put a hole in its hull. Working for 32 hours straight, in water up to their chests, the crew managed to free the boat and temporarily repair the hole. The rest of the winter went for extra touches and the beautiful paint job which made the good ship "Sea Lion" the handsome and able craft it appeared at Sunday's launching. Bedecked with gaily colored pennants and signal flags it was much photographed by families of the crew, members of the Swarthmore Lions Club, sponsoring organization, and other citizens who attended the ceremony, and enjoyed the refreshments that followed. Nautical themes were carried out in the garb of many of the spectators, children and adults. The Norwood Sea Explorers who attended as a unit, added to the impressiveness of the occasion.

Walter Lewicki, chairman of the ships committee, acted as master of ceremonies. The Rev. Robert C. Deacon, new curate of Trinity Church, Swarthmore, gave the opening prayer. Other speakers were A. G. Catherman, past president of the Lions Club, who at his own expense contributed the safety glass for the ship's cabin, and the soft drinks for the christening party, and Skipper Myers. Mrs. Myers performed the actual christening, with a particularly stubborn bottle of champagne. Clifford and Horace Renshaw set up an amplifying system for the speeches.

A ladder was raised to the deck so that spectators might go aboard and inspect the boat's interior. Upon completion of bunks the craft will sleep the entire six officers and crew of ten men. In addition to Skipper Myers the officers are Mates Walter Reynolds, Dave McIntire, Joshua Heppburn, George Thomas and Pete Hopson. Six representatives of the Leo Maris will join other Sea Explorers from the Valley Forge Council in river patrol duty at the fourth annual National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge from July 8 to 21.

The local Explorers meet every Monday evening, at 7:30 in their cabin on Cresson lane. Any boys, 14 years of age or older, living in the Swarthmore area and interested in Sea Scout activities are invited to attend. Visitors are always welcome.

PARENTS FAVOR 2ND LANGUAGE IN GRADES

Reasons why the Swarthmore Schools should include a second language in its elementary curriculum were summarized at the Parents' Council meeting held early last month. Restating the points briefly, they were:

1. Economic necessity of a second language is growing because of a shrinking world. The business world is so rapidly increasing its contacts with other nations in almost all fields that a second language will seemingly be a necessity in the near future.

2. Lack of adequate means of communication is a great barrier to world understanding and peace. We can materially contribute to the breaking of this barrier by giving our children a second language; thus, through better understanding they will achieve a new appreciation for another culture.

3. Children have a language facility to adolescence which is lost if not developed. Quoting Dr. Theodore Anderson of Yale University: "By a process which has been called intuitive young children absorb languages declines steadily. Many times have been observed to earn several languages simultaneously without the slightest confusion or without the slightest danger to their general development. This uncanny ability through childhood in direct proportion as children make increased use of their rational and conceptual faculties. Learning the sound patterns of a language, which is to say learning to speak a language, is a process therefore which comes most naturally to young children. A living language is by definition a spoken language and it is precisely this aspect of language which is best and most easily learned in the earliest grades of the elementary school."

4. The Council's feeling is that local children enjoy the privilege of being educated in a fine school system. It is fine due to past and present efforts and abilities of parents, teachers and school administrators; that local school heritage leaves an obligation to keep pace with the best in present day education. Circular No. 495 from the Office of Education, Washington, D.C. says "The movement to introduce such instruction (Second Language) early has had phenomenal growth, the number of communities offering a foreign language in the public elementary schools having increased by 300 per cent since 1952." (1955 figures)

Thomas Boyle reviewed the steps that had already been taken by the school administration and faculty in the interest of a second language. He further outlined some of the problems entailed, such as, financing a second language program, finding time in the school day, working out a program of continued study, providing instruction for children entering our system without a language background, finding adequate teachers. However, he expressed confidence that the problems could be met if the program were sound. He further suggested the possibility of knowledgeable parents securing funds from some Foundation which might be interested in financing an experimental program.

Parents Council acted to establish a committee to work on the problems and development of a second language program in our elementary school curriculum. The following people are named to that committee:

College Awards 5
Honorary Degrees

At the 84th Commencement exercises of Swarthmore College, five persons were awarded honorary degrees. Clement M. Biddle, Sr., Geoffrey Crowther, Marion B. Folsom, and Bliss Forbush received honorary Doctor of Law degrees; Henry Jermain Maude Creighton received an honorary Doctor of Science degree.

Cited as a concerned Quaker businessman, Clement Miller Biddle before his retirement was Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Biddle Purchasing Company of New York; he is a member of the Society of Friends. For two decades he has been an active member of the Board of Managers of Swarthmore College, where earlier he had been a student. The Biddle family, for four generations, has given 186 years of service to the Swarthmore Board. The Friends Historical Library, one of the best United States collections on the history of the Friends, is housed in a building given to the College by Mr. Biddle. Born in Philadelphia, he also attended Friends Central School. His grandson, Clement M. Biddle III, was one of 209 seniors to be awarded bachelor degrees at the same Commencement exercises. He and his wife live in Bronxville, N. Y.

Geoffrey Crowther, 18 years editor of the London Economist, was characterized as an exemplar of the Anglo-American alliance on which the peace of the world leans heavily. An Englishman by birth, and an American as well as a Swarthmorean by marriage (he married Margaret Worth of Claymont, Del., in 1932) he was trained in economics at Cambridge University, and as a Commonwealth Fellow at Yale and Columbia. He served his country during the war years in the Ministry of Supply, the Ministry of Information, and as Deputy Head of the Joint War Production Staff in the Ministry of Production. During his editorship of the Economist, the already distinguished journal was made preeminent as an organ of opinion in the field of economic and political affairs.

Marion Bayard Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, was cited as a business-like humanitarian and a humanitarian businessman. He also served in public office as Under Secretary of the Treasury and was one of the chief architects of the Federal social security program. Formerly he was treasurer of the Eastman Kodak Company, a chairman of the Board of Directors of the Federal Reserve Bank and a member of the Board of the New York Federal Reserve Bank.

Bliss Forbush was honored as an educator, author, minister and leader of the Society of Friends. For many years he was a teacher at the Friends School in Baltimore; since 1943 he has served as headmaster. The author of many books, he was cited chiefly as the biographer of Elias Hicks. He has occupied numerous positions of trust with the Society of Friends, including those of Executive Secretary of the Baltimore Yearly Meeting and Chairman of the Friends General Conference. For nearly 10 years he represented the Society in the World Council of Churches.

Henry Jermain Maude Creighton was presented with the degree of Doctor of Science on the campus where he had been a member of the faculty in the department of chemistry for 40 years. Before retirement in 1952 and his return to his native Canada, Professor Creighton received many honors, among them the Longstreth and Potts Medals from the Franklin Institute and the Acheson Medal from the Electrochemical Society. He recently received an honorary degree from Dalhousie University in Halifax, where he had earlier earned a bachelor's degree.

Arno H. Nehrling, in recognition of a lifetime devoted to the cause of American horticulture, was honored with the Arthur Hoyt Scott Garden and Horticultural Award at Swarthmore College.

Variety Is Keynote For Borough 4th Judges Face Tough Choice in Decision Over Paraders

Once more the Borough has tucked away into its history a safe and sane Fourth of July. Beginning more or less promptly with the parade at the Borough Hall parking lot at 9:15, the 1957 events continued in measured or erratic (depending on individual age and buoyancy) to the College Avenue School playground for games and poppicles, and pony rides (for the very young and ever-vescent).

The Tennis Club's annual round robin, entailing some 27 couples this year, in full swing on the College avenue courts by this time, brought in a comfortable clutch of constantly changing kibitzers, along with the childish query, "But why on such a hot day?" and the convinced parental reply, "That's when they like it best."

The Fire Company's demonstration at noon kept a crowd lining the sunbaked grass around the parking lot on tenterhooks as those paradoxical hosts mixed careful split second driving and jumps and runs with a noticeably waning moral control over the direction those hoses were pointing — a control that broke altogether to the glee of the kids — and most adults, and the crowd dispersed out of reach of the spray.

Here the scheduled events of the Swarthmore Business Association's program concluded, but after a suitable interim, undoubtedly filled in by family picnics, neighborhood gatherings, and at least one gigantic gathering of the clan, Swim Club members and their friends converged on the pool at the end of Riverview road for an hour of water contests and entertainment. Swimmers obviously had observed the maximum of the old water — log "not until one hour after meals" for no child of Neptune sank with indignation nor doubled up, according to reports, with a single cramp.

Judges Make their Stand A blow by blow description of the day's activities calls for a return to the morning and to the front of the Woman's Club where the judges of the parade literally made their stand. Although this parade was deemed smaller than in previous years, the judges five, glowing earnestly in the progressively sunnier and more humid morning, found their job tough enough, as wave after wave of the (Continued on Page 7)

State Recommends "Yellow" Route For Mid-Co. Expressway

Not the Red route, the blue route, or the green route, but the "yellow" was recommended as the State Highway Department's choice for the Mid-Delaware County Expressway under the Federal interstate highway system. It was disclosed Wednesday in Harrisburg. The plan has been sent to the U. S. Public Roads Bureau.

A spokesman of the Philadelphia Engineering firm which aligned the route, yesterday said that, contrary to published reports, the route as presently laid out will not "wipe out Rutledge" but will touch only one corner of it, probably affecting no more than a half dozen houses. It was also stated from the same source, in reference to reports of the Route's taking "150 homes in Springfield," that "the figure is more nearly accurate for the entire route, and that he judged that even half of that figure would probably be high for Springfield."

The route, closely approximating the red route, would begin at the interchange on the proposed Chester Expressway about 1000 feet west of Wanamaker avenue in Essington, run in a northerly direction to cross Darby Creek in a relocated channel, cross the Chester pike at Madison avenue and MacDade boulevard between Ridley and Sylvia avenues.

The total length is about 15 miles and will cost an estimated $32,000,000, with right-of-way costing an additional $3,000,000.

'Operation Alert' Set For Sometime Today

Residents of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York will take part tomorrow in "Operation Alert 1957". For the public, participation in the exercise will be brief but instructive and with little inconvenience. Although Swarthmoreans along with the rest of the citizens, are advised that traffic will be stopped for 10 minutes sometime during the afternoon.

The "attack" phase of the exercise will begin late in the morning with an "Alert" signal sounded. Public participation at this time will require only listening to the signal and preparation for the "Take Cover" signal later in the afternoon.

Heated Council Votes In Air Conditioners Also Places Stop Signs On College Ave. At Princeton

Sweltering in Monday night's heat Borough Councilmen cheerfully discussed the merits of one and one-and-a-half ton air conditioning units for the borough secretary's office and police headquarters.

Leaving the final decision to be made within the week and not to exceed $650, the Councilmen then discussed and voted to purchase at an approximate cost of $300, shade screens for the Park avenue and court-side windows of the library. It was estimated that these removable, metal sun screens would blot out an average of 33,000 B.T.U.'s in the course of a summer day, and save from $700 to $1100 in future purchase of air-conditioning units for the library. The screens are scheduled to arrive within the next two weeks.

At the public hearing opening the regular July meeting, Vincent Gallagher, appearing for the Cities Service Oil Corporation, presented the revised plans for his company's proposed building at the former Rumsey Service Station at Yale and Rutgers avenues. Since the blueprints compiled with Council's earlier request that the white porcelain enamel, across-the-front sign be reduced to the size previously used on the front, and that red uncoated brick be used, Councilmen granted the building permit for a parking lot on the Shlirer lot next door to the Old Bank Building on Rutgers avenue, to await opinion of the Planning Commission. Also referred to the commission was Harry Seymour's request to reduce the size of his lot on Harvard avenue behind Dickinson.

Joseph A. DiLemmo of Rydal, Pa., with $2,589 was low bidder on furnishing the materials and doing the work of curbing 1400 feet of Fairview road between Cornell avenue and Michigan.

George Wagner, 507 Cedar lane, appeared before Council to express his appreciation for what had been done in the past to relieve the traffic conditions on Cedar lane, and make a further plea to reduce the speeders. From the ensuing discussion, Council dreamed up several suggestions to be sprung on the unwary speedsters beating the lights on Chester road. From there, Council turned its attention to the high school, and ordered two stop signs to be erected on College avenue at Princeton.

Council also agreed to the Lions Club's proposal to use the old Girl Scout House (now the Sea Scouts Ship) for their weekly meetings, as long as the Lions and their proteges could work out an agreeable schedule.

Memorial Service Held for Dr. Mercer Retired Penn Dean Was One-Time Football Great

A memorial service was held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Friends Meeting House for Dr. E. Leroy Mercer, 133 Ogden avenue, who died Tuesday night, July 3, in the University of Pennsylvania Hospital. He was 68.

A medical doctor, a coach and an athlete, Dr. Mercer received his early education at Kennett Square High School, and George School where he was considered the one man track team—sprinter, vaulter, high jumper, broad jumper and shot-putter. He held the then world interscholastic pole vault record, and was on the track, basketball, baseball and lacrosse teams.

Rector at Dublin To Preach Here Sun. Presbyterians Will Hear Rev. Butler at 11 A.M. Worship Service

The Rev. Arthur H. Butler, Church of Ireland, will be the speaker Sunday morning at the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church's 11 o'clock service. Rector of Monkstown, Dublin, Mr. Butler was educated in Trinity College, Dublin where he gained the M.A. Degree and an Honorary Degree in Theology, as well as distinction in athletics. He was ordained in 1935 for the parish of Monkstown, Dublin.

At the outbreak of war in 1939 he joined the Army and was in France from October 1939 to May 1940, when he took part in the evacuation from Dunkirk. In 1942 he became Senior Chaplain of the First Infantry Division, and was with the Division in North Africa and Italy. He was the Senior British Chaplain in the Anzio Beach-head and ministered to many American soldiers there.

Metz, Hunt Win Tennis Club's Round Robin

The Swarthmore Tennis Club courts on College avenue were the scene during the Fourth of July weekend of a highly successful Round-Robin Doubles Tournament. Beginning on the morning of the Fourth, when what is believed to be a record number of 54 players (27 teams) entered the competition. Tournament play continued during Saturday and Sunday, with a total of 82 matches played during the three-day period. The eventual winning team was the combination of Stafford Metz and Alan Hunt, who gained the highest percentage of actual as against potential points.

Matches were based on the best four out of seven games, and nine matches were necessary in order to qualify. The winners are to be awarded one-year leases on Fourth of July Tournament cups, good until the Fourth of July next year, when it is hoped that this year's unusually large and enthusiastic turnout can be repeated. The courts are buzzing with enthusiastic players these days as the classes being held by Mrs. Deborah Welsh Chase enter their third week. Lads and lasses from six to 16 are practicing serves and strokes so that they can participate in the first round robin which begins next week. Although most children have less difficulty with the strokes than with the scoring, Mrs. Chase hopes that with the assistance of interested parents as volunteer umpires, the tournament, the scoring and games playing will be much clearer and then the competitors can start to concentrate on winning.

BAGG—SEYMOUR
The marriage of Miss Jane Skillman Seymour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cuthbert Seymour of Dickinson avenue, to Mr. Robert Allison Bagg, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bagg of Woronoco, Mass., took place Saturday afternoon, June 29, at 4 o'clock in the Chapel of St. John the Divine, Saundertown, R.I. The Rev. Mr. Bayard Hancock performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk taffeta with chapel-length train; its neckline was bordered in Alencon lace embroidered in tiny seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of tulle fell from a Juliet cap of pearl. She carried white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Mary Sherwood Willis, formerly of Swarthmore, now of Springfield, was maid of honor and the Misses Carol and Barbara Seymour, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. All three attendants wore similar organza gowns in complimentary pastel shades of yellow, peach, and blue, with horsehair, crownless picture hats, and shoes which matched their dresses. Their cascade bouquets of white Shasta daisies and ivy were repeated in the flowers at every window and on the altar in the simple chapel which overlooks Narragansett Bay.

Mr. Robert A. Bagg, father of the groom, served as best man. The ushers were Mr. Bradford A. Prince of Westfield, Mass., and the Messrs. John and Martin Hellewell of Saundertown, cousins of the bride.

The bride's mother wore bluish pink chiffon with matching accessories, and a corsage of white carnations and baby's breath.

The mother of the groom was gowned in a dove-grey chiffon sheath with a matching velvet cap and shoes, and wore rose-pink carnations and baby's breath.

A reception for the wedding guests was held next door to the chapel, at the home of the bride's grandmother Mrs. Frederick E. Seymour.

Following a motor trip through the South, the couple will return to Woronoco.

The bride is a graduate of Swarthmore High School, and Simmons College, Boston, Mass.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Marlboro College, Vt., is currently combining work for his Master's degree in bio-chemistry, with teaching biology at the University of Massachusetts.

Swimmers Busy in Final Week of Meets

Aronimink Fray Enjoyed As Others Postpone, Cancel

With Saturday morning's scheduled meet with Wallingford suddenly postponed until Thursday evening of this week, the Swarthmore Swim Club Team divided and held an inter-squad meet at the home pool that morning, and then practiced for an anticipated Tuesday evening bout with Rose Valley. However, when Tuesday arrived Rose Valley canceled and Aronimink, which currently is tied with Colonial Village for the championship of the older division of the League, kindly gathered up most of its team members on the spur of the moment and came to Swarthmore so the local team could try its ability against one of its last year's opponents in the other division of the League.

Amazingly, better times listed later in this story attest to the impetus of superior competition. With scoring and recording a real problem "by the light of the moon" the Aronimink-Swarthmore meet ended before senior boys diving had been run, with a final score of 188 for Aronimink and 162 for Swarthmore. The victors congratulated Swarthmore upon the team it has developed, one which gave them as last year's champion and possibly this year's, a really good contest.

The season's last scheduled meet within the new division of the Suburban League will be between Swarthmore and Springfield at the latter's pool tomorrow, July 13 a.m. Swarthmore's seahorses are to meet at their own pool at 8:30 for the trip.

Swimming and scoring with Carl were: B. Sublette, G. Peirsol, D. Wraga, J. Espenshade, R. D. and M. McCurdy, A. J. and N. Paul, S. Skoglund, S. Robinson, M. Schumacher, S. Wigton, and S. Crawford.

Swimming with Joyce were: B. and H. Morrison, J. and D. Foley, S. Williams, J. Seybold, B. Baker, D. Dunn, B. Breakell, C. Espenshade, J. Paul, B. Funnell, M. Jessup and H. Campbell.

The swimmers who made good time on practice sprints in non-scoring heats included: Sandy Thompson, Terry McCurdy, Ann Townes and Lynn Farrington.

Tuesday Details
At the end of the backstroke events Tuesday evening Swarthmore led Aronimink 36 to 35. At the end of orthodox breaststroke the home team trailed 65 to 77. Making up a few points during freestyle its 105 almost equaled Aronimink's 100, but at the close of butterfly races it trailed 132 to 154. Diving scores brought the gap down a point, to a final difference of 21 points.

As usual several girls and boys were repeat winners during the evening's events. One of them, Charlotte Brodhead, placed first in each of her three races despite entering the water for the first time that evening after more than a week's illness.

In connection with these festivities, she was one of the women from the United States who was received by the Princess Royal.

contestants bore down upon them. But although brows furrowed over the bestowal of first, second and third prizes and the honorable mentions, Mrs. Frank G. Keenen, Florence Lucasse, Mrs. Willis C. Furbrav, Mrs. John Schott and Mrs. James O. Stephens, after due consultation, came forth with their decisions.

Decorated Bikes
The first group of contestants — none larger than a 28 inch bike could accommodate — approached the judges in orderly rows of red, white and blue, and the winners were selected as follows:
Kirk D. Nevius, Jr., first place for his "Happy Birthday, U.S.A." theme which included a white crepe paper, layered cake; Janet and Joan Shallcross, 2nd for their bikes covered for the occasions into mobile rockets; Karen Gross, third for her "Ajax Bike Driving School" — the sign did proclaim in smaller letters that "We guarantee you'll pass the bike test" but Karen's rear fender passenger was a banged-up student in a limp state of disability; Karen shared third place honors with Johnie and Mimi McWilliams who, astride horse-headed bikes, depicted George Washington and the unusual female "Spirit of '76" (as the sign explained, "It's the spirit of the thing"); David and Andrew Maass, as twin colonial boys, received honorable mention; and a mention went to Billy Frayer, the small Indian boy of the colorful war paint and noble headress.

Trike Winners
The second group to be judged was the tricycle crowd which peddled earnestly down to the judges and solemnly sat for inspection. The awards were as solemnly made:
First place, to Chipper Brogan who hauled behind him a covered Conestoga wagon bearing the words "Westward Ho," and containing inside not only a gun but his little brother Barry (who would not stay put); second place to Donald Alkens, Jr., whose trike was neatly ensased in a cardboard boat and whose own small person was resplendent in naval uniform; third, to John and Jackie Shallcross whose trikes demonstrated the three-wheeled version of the mobile rocket; honorable mentions to Peter Heinemann, sporting not only a decorated trike, but a genuine broken arm, and to Deborah Criste peddling it nicely under a well-ventilated canopy of red, white and blue.

Floats Division
First-prize winners in the floats were Thomas and Suzanne Cochran, aboard their sailboat (a mere wagon only the night before). Second prize was shared by the group depicting Swarthmore before and after. Under the sign "Swarthmore July 4, 1857, B.C. — Swamps, Cavemen, Dinosaurs" were David Seltzer and Beth Webster as cave man and woman with a wagon display of model prehistoric animals; under the sign "Swarthmore July 4, 1857 A.D. — Swimming Pool, Good Schools and No Mosquitoes" were James Mayer and Nancy Webster with their display of a miniature church, school and assuredly — no mosquitoes.

Local Educators Attend Convention
Several Swarthmoreans and nearby neighbors in the educational field attended the National Education Association's Centennial Convention last week in Philadelphia.

Frank R. Morey, supervising principal of the Swarthmore-Rutledge Schools, participated in several of the administrators' programs. Theodore L. Purnell of Cornell avenue, professor at Pennsylvania Military College, was a leader of one of the Convocation Discussion Circles. Mrs. Robert K. Enders, a kindergarten teacher in the school here, represented local classroom teachers as delegate to the Representative Assembly of Classroom Teachers.

Irma Zimmer, teacher of English in the high school, took part in group meetings dealing with gifted students. Frederick Youm, social studies teacher at Swarthmore, was one of the delegates representing Delaware County at the business sessions of the Representative Assembly.

Several members of the faculty — Nancy Hagy, Mrs. C. Justus Garrahan, Elizabeth Barten and Mrs. Frederick Seidel — served as receptionists at the various hospitality headquarters located in the hotels throughout the area. Other local educators attended various of the some 1,000 meetings held during the week.

G. Baker Thompson, Delaware County Superintendent of Schools and former principal of Swarthmore High, was chairman of the Pennsylvania Centennial Committee responsible for planning and executing the necessary details involved in the event convention, the association's largest convention. Dr. Roy Nichols, a one-time resident of Riverview road, was the speaker at one of the sessions.

7 Faculty Members Promoted at College Dr. Beik, Dr. Garrett Are Named Full Professors

Seven faculty promotions that were recently approved by the Board of Managers, Dr. Courtney Smith, president of the college, has announced. He also named the new incumbent of one of the fourth oldest endowed faculty chairs at the College.

Am's Prof's Named Four assistant professors were raised to the rank of associate professor: Irene Moll and May Parry, department of physical education for women; Dr. Henry Gleitman, department of psychology; and Dr. Edward Fehnel, department of chemistry.

Miss Moll received a B.S. at the University of Kansas and a M.A. at the Texas State College for Women; Miss Parry is a Swarthmore alumna and also holds a B.S. degree from Temple University.

Dr. Gleitman's B.S. degree is from the College of the City of New York, and his Ph.D. is from the University of California; Dr. Fehnel received his B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. at Lehigh University. Dr. Arne Wyller, Cand. Mag., Oslo University and Ph.D. from Harvard University, was promoted from an instructor to an assistant professor in the astronomy department.

Felix Magill Chair Dr. Heinrich Brinkmann, professor and chairman of the department of mathematics, has been named to the Edward Hicks Magill professorship of mathematics and astronomy. Dr. Brinkmann earned his B.A. at Stanford University, his M.A. and Ph.D. at Harvard University. The chair was endowed in 1899, one of four created at that time as a result of a business agreement between president Magill and the board of managers. The college was $8,000 short of a $32,000 goal to establish a professorship. Three friends of the College—Isaac Clothier, Isalah Williamson, and Joseph Wharton, each promised to endow a separate chair in entirety if president Magill could raise the needed $8,000 for the first professorship. President Magill accepted the challenge, and the Board minutes at that time report he successfully raised the money "under the influence of a powerful inducement."

National LWV Honors Hannah Clothier Hull Woman's Org. Celebrates Anniversary at Miami Convention

It's not often that a woman has her birthday celebrated ahead of time! But this was the case with Mrs. Hannah Clothier Hull, of the Swarthmore Apartments, a long time resident of the borough, whose 85th birthday was celebrated at the national meeting of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom in Miami last June. Actually Mrs. Hull will turn 85 on July 21, and members of the local WIL plan to send their birthday wishes and felicitations on that date.

Mrs. Hull has been a mainstay of the organization, having rounded out more than 40 years of active participation in the organization. For more than a decade she served as the group's national president, and got to know through WIL activities many famous personages, including Jane Adams. Her first term as national president was from 1924-28. The following year she left the post to take a trip with her husband William who taught at Swarthmore College. She resumed the presidency again in 1933 serving until 1939. From 1929 until 1933 she was very much in the forefront of activities for the WIL, as she served on the national board. Actually, Mrs. Hull got in on the ground floor of the WIL, when in 1915 together with noted social worker Jane Adams, and other prominent women from this country she attended a meeting at (Continued on Page 5)

Sunday Speaker

English Minister Sunday Guest speaker at the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church Sunday will be the Rev. W. Garfield Lickes of Lancashire, England. He will preach at the 11 o'clock morning service.

Local Boy Scouts Win Delmont Olympics Swarthmore's 23 Boy Scouts, encamped at Camp Delmont, under the leadership of Joe Kopf and Robert Warden since June 30, returned home Sunday brown and well exercised, and with second place honors in the camp inter-troop competition—the Delmont Olympics—for the week of July 7-14.

The boys placed first in the June 30 to July 7 Olympics, and as a result, they were selected to participate in televised ceremonies dedicating the camp's two new swimming pools and other facilities. In this first Olympics the boys scored 22 points to the second place troop's 13. Swarthmore won first place overall in the water carnival with firsts by the team of Jerry Clothier, Stephen Edwards, Guy Smith, and Jeffrey Loeben in the freestyle relay and the pajama relay; Peter Kent won the dead man's float and came in third in the breath holding contest. Arthur Loeben finished second in the swim for form, and in the medley relay Arthur Loeben, Eddie Shute, and Chuck Maschal were first.

Other scores Swarthmore scored in reaching its overall victory in the Olympics included the nature contest, in which the team of Billy Gaylord and Peter Kent won first place; the campcraft competition in which a united troop effort won third place, with Graham Patterson and Peter Kent as outstanding performers; the whittling contest in which Arthur Loeben won third place; the 200 yard running relay in which the team of Mark Detweiler, John Bond, Guy Smith, and Jerry Clothier finished second; the turtle race in which a snapper caught by Ricky Ullman and Billy Gaylord came in third; and the frog leap in which the best caught by Ricky and Billy won first place.

Day Camp Entertains At Open House Thru. The Swarthmore Day Camp, sponsored by the Philadelphia Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., held open house yesterday in the Hall Gym at the college. The circus was the theme of the day, with each camper attired in a circus costume. The children put on a circus parade followed by swimming, arts and crafts, and nature exhibits for the visitors.

The camp, which runs from June 17 to July 25, consists of circle games, community singing, arts and crafts, athletics, nature, swimming and special events, all modified to fit the special habits of each child.

Local Residents Elected to Family Service Board At the recent Annual Meeting of the Family Service of Delaware County, the following Swarthmore residents were elected to the board of directors: John W. Carroll, Mrs. Raymond K. Denworth, Morris L. Hicks, A. Sidney Johnson, Jr., Howard P. Kulp, and Mrs. Gordon Lange. Randal W. Reed, Wallingford, was reelected president, and Mr. Johnson was reelected a vice-president.

On the Road, We Turn Red, Blue, Now Yellow

Views of Residents Remain Anything But Uncolored

Albeit noted for its green trees and vari-colored dogs, Swarthmore and its residents have turned attention to yellow this week as they contemplate the state's July, 1957 version of the proposed mid-county expressway. To say the route is "proposed" is begging the question, as plans have been submitted to the United States Public Roads Bureau (the Federal Government is supplying 90 per cent of the cost).

A chance remark has suggested that the "yellow route" announced July 10 from Harrisburg, is drawn from aerial maps only, but those personally involved will know that the most careful of plans can be changed by on-the-spot survey, and a variation of only a few feet can make the difference between their having a first class view of the cloverleaf at Baltimore pike, or having to move elsewhere at the state's behest. The mere shift of the surveyor's sight can make a significant difference in a community's taxes.

School Headaches Swarthmore's worried with school problems with Rutledge, is over how many houses the route probably will take; according to information released by Peter A. Larson, executive director of the Delaware County Planning Commission, six houses on Riverview road will go—the red brick one facing Baltimore pike, and the next five down the north side of Riverview road—and 13 on Rutledge avenue, Rutledge (see map page 8). The total is 19, as far as the Swarthmore-Rutledge School District is concerned—although there are those who, with equal consternation point out depreciation of neighboring property.

Swarthmoreans concerned for the borough itself, may be comforted by the words of S. C. Weikert, district engineer of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, who stated Wednesday that regardless of the route chosen, there were "no plans for widening Route 320 (Chester road)", and he added that it would be impractical for the future because of Swarthmore's development.

As for the Swim Club property near the northern border of Swarthmore at the railroad, the maps of the Planning Commission indicate it will probably be less affected by the yellow route, although the formerly-considered red route by coming closer to the property, at the northeast corner, would have been a greater threat to present seclusion.

However, some poolites remain uneasy in the absence of any absolute assurance that this long and laboriously attained recreational facility on the only surviving spot which would accommodate it, will be saved for future generations' benefit.

Concerning Bartol Research Foundation of the Franklin Institute, Dr. W. F. G. Swann, director has formally announced: "It is our understanding from newspaper accounts that the final detailed location of the cloverleaf and ramps will only be decided upon after general approval of the route is given. We will present the needs of the Bartol Foundation when the time comes to locate the store's elements in detail on the grounds. It is impossible to state a minimum distance from our building which would permit an operation of the equipment until the particular location of each child."

TROOP 16 ARRIVES IN MEXICO CITY

The Girl Scouts' traveling Troop 16, which departed June 15 for a month's trip to Mexico, arrived in Mexico City on June 24. Troop Leader Mrs. C. H. Yarrow of North Princeton avenue, who with Mrs. Charles Nelson of Chester, accompanied the girls, has sent a special report to The Swarthmorean, which is printed below:

"After a week of eventful experiences Troop No. 16 arrived in Mexico City on June 24th and were graciously entertained in the home of a Mexican Girl Guide and Boy Scout.

"A local troop of Mexican Guides entertained the Swarthmore troop at tea. Although the girls all belonged to the same

World Association, an outsider would never have guessed it, for Mexican Guides wear blue berets, white blouses, blue ties and grey skirts, which contrasted noticeably with the green and white uniform of Senior Girl Scouts, U.S.A.

"The troops sang with and for each other and then exchanged membership pins, a traditional ceremony for visiting troops in Mexico.

"Another day the troop went to Cuernavaca to visit the new International Girl Scout and Girl Guide Center. In residence at the time were twelve senior scouts, U.S.A., and an equal number of Mexican Guides who were carrying on a day nursery in Cuernavaca for the children of working mothers. There was also a group of adult trainers from all the Americas exchanging program ideas and synthesizing standards for scouting in the Western Hemisphere.

"The Center is beautifully situated at the edge of the city, before a background of mountains. "The climax of the trip, in the opinion of the troop, was the week spent at Mazatlan, a seaport on the Pacific Ocean. The girls set up housekeeping in the domestic science wing of the Colegio el Pacifico and were as comfortable as could be. Swimming in the bay and in the surf was the primary form of recreation, although the girls enjoyed a cruise among the bordering islands, trying their luck at deep sea fishing, and being serenaded by gay caballereros on the hotel terrace.

Mr. Levine, proprietor of the neighboring Hotel, arranged a fireworks display for the pleasure of the troop on July 4th.

"Now the girls have begun the long trek home. They will be entertained by a senior troop in Tulsa, Okla. en route. If all goes well, they expect to arrive late on the evening of July 15.

"Open wide the Turnpike gate! Pennsylvania, here they come!"

Primary Enrollment Tops '56

The second week of the pre-school-primary program found the group increased from the original 112 to 125, five more than the total registration for the 1956 season.

The Threes, many of whom are having to share for the first time, have taken to it quite well. Helen Holt and Amy Starer have joined forces in the group's newest activity, working with clay; and Kathy Cramp and Anne Troxell share a blanket at nap time. The organization of a morning routine, which older children have learned to take for granted, was, in most cases, another new experience for these youngest children. Their schedule includes indoor and outdoor play, washing up, morning snack, and nap-time. One child outdid himself in "adjusting" to the latter activity—Jeffrey Batter, shall feel asleep for an hour!

Four's Get Rhythm

The Fours, looking forward to the Fourth, centered much of their play-work on that theme. During the week, they were introduced to several group activities—the use of rhythm instruments, clay modeling, and brush painting. The first two produced immediate success, but the brush painting left much to be desired. The children enjoyed it, however; and, after all, Whistler was no whiz at four.

The holiday week was an exciting one for the Fives. Highlighting the program was a Fourth of July parade, led by flag-bearers George Howard and Kenny Sauter.

Non-Explosive Ventures

This was a great outdoor week for the Post-Kindergarten group. They played kick-baseball and four-square, along with swinging, playing in the sand box, and sliding down the sliding board. In honor of Independence Day they made firecrackers of construction paper.

The Primary group planned the week around the Fourth. They learned patriotic songs, made realistic but unexplosive colored paper firecrackers, and talked about many ways of celebrating this holiday. Outdoor games included the favorite kick baseball, four-

National LWV Honors Hannah Clothier Hull

Woman's Org. Celebrates Anniversary at Miami Convention

It's not often that a woman has her birthday celebrated ahead of time!

But this was the case with Mrs. Hannah Clothier Hull, of the Swarthmore Apartments, a long time resident of the borough, whose 88th birthday was celebrated at the national meeting of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom in Miami last June. Actually Mrs. Hull will turn 85 on July 21, and members of the local WIL plan to send their birthday wishes and felicitations on that date.

Mrs. Hull has been a mainstay of the organization, having rounded out more than 40 years of active participation in the organization. For more than a decade she served as the group's national president, and got to know through WIL activities many famous personalities, including Jane Adams. Her first term as national president was from 1924-28. The following year she left the post to take a trip with her husband William who taught at Swarthmore College. She resumed the presidency again in 1933 serving until 1939. From 1929 until 1933 she was very much in the forefront of activities for the WIL, as she served on the national board. Actually, Mrs. Hull got in on the ground floor of the WIL, when in 1915 together with noted social worker Jane Adams, and other prominent women from this country she attended a meeting at (Continued on Page 5)

School Kitchen to Cost About $21,500

Increases Instrumental Music Sought

Preliminary plans for a $21,500 kitchen addition to the multi-purpose room of the present Rutgers Avenue School were approved Wednesday evening by the Swarthmore - Rutledge Union School Board. Howell Lewis Shay, architect said the room would cost about $11,500 and equipment another $10,000. At the suggestion of Mrs. Mary Spiller the board instructed Mr. Shay to try to include a window through which coffee could be served at football games on the adjoining field. As drawn the room measures 681 square feet.

Robert Holm, band leader and director of instrumental music in the local school system, and Mrs. M. A. Beesinger, vice-president of the Orchestra Parents Association on the Board that growth of the school enrollment during the past few years had brought demand for orchestral instruction to a point where less than 50 per cent of students desiring such instruction can be accommodated by present staff and instruments.

They said the orchestra and beginning instrumentalists were suffering especially, and they recommended that a string program be encouraged by employing a certified string specialist on a half-time basis to instruct and conduct the orchestras. Also recommended were a plan whereby students could rent instruments on a trial basis, and modification and possible extension of the high school instrumental music room. Development of an elementary school band was also mentioned.

The School Board will study the four-page report on current and recommended procedures in elementary and high school instrumental music and discuss the matter further at its August 21 meeting.

Mrs. Laura Dechnik of Chester, currently instructor and assistant director of fashion design at the Philadelphia Museum School of Art, was elected teacher of elementary arts to succeed Mrs. Ruth McDowell.

It was decided to again offer parents the pupil insurance plan of the Pilot Insurance Company. The charge to parents wishing to avail themselves of the plan's protection will be $1.75 per pupil covered.

A contribution of $50 was received from the Garnet Canteen toward treating the floor of the Rutgers multi - purpose room which it used on Saturday evenings during the school year.

Swarthmore Explorer Scouts Robert Beckmann, Alan Stamford, and Fred Kollerborn of Troop 2 with Jim Rowland of Troop 3 and Doug Wrege of Troop 2 have been attending the Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, a get-together of Scouts from all over the country.

Robert Beckmann and Jim Rowland are Senior Patrol Leaders. The other boys are patrol leaders.

Jamboree campers are at least 12 years old with second class Scout, Explorer apprentice or higher rank. The Scouts participated in a three-day, pre-jamboree training camp before the formal opening July 12 of the jamboree which 50,000 or more campers have attended.

Local Boy Scouts Win Delmont Olympics

Swarthmore's 23 Boy Scouts, encamped at Camp Delmont under the leadership of Joe Kopf and Robert Warden since June 30, returned home Sunday brown and well exercised, and with second place honors in the camp inter-troop competition—the Delmont Olympics—for the week of July 7-14.

The boys placed first in the June 30 to July 7 Olympics, and as a result, they were selected to participate in televised ceremonies dedicating the camp's two new swimming pools and other facilities.

In this first Olympics the boys scored 22 points to the second place troop's 13. Swarthmore won first place overall in the water carnival with first by the team of Jerry Clothier, Stephen Edwards, Guy Smith, and Jeffrey Loeben in the freestyle relay and the pajama relay; Peter Kent won the dead man's float and came in third in the breath holding contest. Arthur Loeben finished second in the swim form, and in the medley relay Arthur Loeben, Eddie Shute, and Chuck Maschal were first.

Other Scores

Other events in which Swarthmore scored in reaching its overall victory in the Olympics included the nature contest, in which the team of Billy Gaylord and Peter Kent won first place; the campcraft competition in which a united troop effort won third place, with Graham Patterson and Peter Kent as outstanding performers; the whitening contest in which Arthur Loeben won third place; the 200 yard running relay in which the team of Mark Detweiler, John Bond, Guy Smith, and Jerry Clothier finished fifth; the turtle race in which a snapper caught by Ricky Ullman and Billy Gaylord came in third; and the frog leap in which the best caught by Ricky and Billy won first place.

The camp, which runs from June 17 to July 25, consists of circle games, community singing, arts and crafts, athletics, nature, swimming and special events, all modified to fit the special handicap of each child.

On the Road, We Turn Red, Blue, Now Yellow

Views of Residents Remain Anything But Uncolored

Albeit noted for its green trees and vari-colored dogs, Swarthmore and its residents have turned attention to yellow this week as they contemplate the state's July, 1957 version of the proposed mid-county expressway. To say the route is "proposed" is begging the question, as plans have been submitted to the United States Public Roads Bureau (the Federal Government is supplying 90 per cent of the cost).

A chance remark has suggested that the "yellow route" announced July 10 from Harrisburg, is drawn from aerial maps only, but those personally involved will know that the most careful of plans can be changed by on-the-spot survey, and a variation of a few feet can make the difference between their having a first class view of the cloverleaf at Baltimore pike, or having to move elsewhere at the state's behest. The mere shift of the surveyor's sight can make a significant difference in a community's taxes.

School Headaches

Swarthmore's worry with school problems with Rutledge, is over how many houses the route probably will take; according to information released by Peter A. Larson, executive director of the Delaware County Planning Commission, six houses on Riverview road will go—the red brick one facing Baltimore pike, and the next five down the north side of Riverview road—and 13 on Rutledge avenue, Rutledge (see map page 8). The total is 19, as far as the Swarthmore-Rutledge School District is concerned—although there are those who, with equal consternation point out depreciation of neighboring property.

Swarthmoreans concerned for the borough itself, may be comforted by the words of S. C. Weikert, district engineer of Highways, Pennsylvania Department of Transportation, who stated Wednesday that regardless of the route chosen, there were "no plans for widening Route 320 (Chester road)", and he added that it would be impractical for the future because of Swarthmore's development.

Eases Swim Club

As for the Swim Club property near the northern border of Swarthmore at the railroad, the maps of the Planning Commission indicate it will probably be less affected by the yellow route, although the formerly-considered red route by coming closer to the property, at the northeast corner, would have been a greater threat to present section.

However, some poolites remain uneasy in the absence of any absolute assurance that this long and laboriously attained recreational facility on the only surviving spot which would accommodate it, will be saved for future generations' benefit.

Concerning Bartol Research Foundation of the Franklin Institute, Dr. W. F. G. Swann, director has formally announced that "It is our understanding from newspaper accounts that the final detailed location of the cloverleaf and ramps will only be decided upon after general approval of the route is given. We will present the needs of the Bartol Foundation when the time comes to locate the aforesaid elements in detail on the grounds. It is impossible to state a minimum distance from our building which would permit an operation of the equipment until the particular design (Continued on Page 8)

WHAT IS A COLUMBARIUM?

Literally, columbarium means a dove-cote, or house of the dove. Since doves are the universal symbol of peace, the meaning has been broadened to mean the "house of peace."

What better name, then, than Columbarium for the memorial sanctuary which provides the cremation memorials of dear ones?

In our columbarium are niches for memorials as fine as may be found anywhere. Others cost no more than the complete cost of a grave. Every memorial regardless of cost, receives day-to-day care in an atmosphere of quiet dignity.

For complete information write or telephone us for the booklet, "Why Mankind is Turning to Cremation." It will be sent to you without cost or obligation.

New School a Luxury?

To the Editor:

It seems to me that the Swarthmore School Board is faced with a grave problem. For so, the loss of ratables with the subsequent lowering of tax revenues which may just possibly make the new Rutgers School Building a luxury.

What I am suggesting is that a new hard look be focused on our ability to meet this obligation. I confess that I do not know if such a course is still open to us, that is, whether we have already obliged ourselves beyond retreat. If we have not and a way is still open to us, I would urge immediate action to re-consider this new building program.

Current tax bills now in our hands offer ample evidence of things to come.

Consider, please, the new Mid-County Expressway which will wipe out many homes in Rutledge Borough and the Riverview Road and North Chester Road areas of Swarthmore. The school tax loss will be sizeable. Furthermore, so many properties in the area will be down-graded that it is only reasonable to assume that the owners will press for valid lowered assessed valuations and accomplish same.

Swarthmore College owns 23% of the land and developed areas of our Borough. All but 3% of their total holdings are tax exempt. This is right and proper and I only call attention to it to emphasize the fact that this 23% cannot be brought into the category of tax revenue.

It is too early to know the total destruction of the assessables to clear the right of way for the Expressway, but I would think a good deal of caution should be exercised on the assumption that the great number of homes and assessables in Swarthmore will be lost in this road program.

Very truly yours,
PALMER K. SKOGLUND

Clippers Bring in 8-0
Win Over Marcus Hook
Five-Run Rally in Final
Inning Halts Trainer
Victory

The heavy hitting of George Welsh, who had four home runs in the last two Clipper games featured a 6-6 tie with Trainer on July 2, and an 8-0 victory over Marcus Hook on July 6.

Coming to bat in the last of the sixth against Trainer with the score against them 6-1, the Clippers staged a brilliant five-run rally in the final inning to tie the game. Kim Prescott led off the final inning by getting on via an error. The next two men struck out, but Gordon Boyd was hit by a pitch, and Dick McCurdy worked the pitcher for a walk to load the bases.

Yin Carroll got another walk to force in a run and make the score 6-2. Then George Welsh lined a pitch to far right center field for a grand slam home run, cleaning the bases and tying the game. Dick Creasy kept the rally alive with his third single of the game, but the next batter lined out to end the game.

George Welsh had also hit another home run in the third inning to score the Clippers' first run. Besides his two home runs and five runs batted in, George completed his brilliant night by pitching two and a third innings of excellent relief ball.

Against Marcus Hook, George Welsh drove a long homer to right center in the third inning with one on, and repeated in the fourth inning with the bases empty. This hit gave George a total of four home runs, and eight runs batted in for seven at bat in the two games.

Jim Foley started his first game in center field against Marcus Hook and cracked out a long homer with one on in the fifth inning to complete the scoring for the Clippers.

Steve Brobeck pitched the complete game and gained the shut-out. He ran in trouble in every inning, having men on base, but always had enough in reserve to keep the visitors from scoring.

The team as a whole played its best ball of the season against Marcus Hook, combining good pitching and good heavy hitting with errorless ball.

On July 16 the Clippers visited Twin Oaks and on the 18th played at Trainer. Next home game is July 23 against Marcus Hook.

Nancy Connors of Wallingford, recovering from a tonsilectomy, announces that her mother Mrs. Zino Connors will be able to return to the Bazaar Workshop at the Methodist Church next week.

Attends LI Convention
 Patrick Forrest, a graduate of Swarthmore College and a representative of the Aetna Life Insurance Company at Philadelphia, attended a four-day meeting of the national honorary organization of the company's leading producers, which concluded last week at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Mr. Forrest was named to the honorary group, known as the Aetna Life Corps of Regionaires, in recognition of his outstanding achievements in the life insurance field during the past year.

Mrs. Forrest, also a graduate of the college, teaches seventh grade in the junior high school here. They reside in Drexel Hill.

Swarthmore Student
Named On All-Star Team

The United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association announced that a Swarthmore College player was named to one of the 1957 Lacrosse All-Star Division Teams. Frank James was named to a defense position on the Laurie Cox 'B' Division team. James, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul James of Philadelphia, earlier this summer, was named to the North squad for the 16th annual North-South lacrosse game played in Baltimore June 7. He learned the game of lacrosse in college and was a major contributor to the nine wins, one loss record Swarthmore College piled up this season.

Dr. Robert C. Good, Jr., of Forest, lane spent a recent week end visiting with his mother Mrs. Good, Sr., in Pittsburgh.

Tennis Club Flourishes
Under Kindly July Sun

The Swarthmore Tennis Club is flourishing these warm, sunny days, and by two and four the members—150 adults and approximately 100 children representing 132 family memberships can be seen on the College avenue courts at almost anytime during the daylight hours. Regularly scheduled classes are also part of the club's daily activities.

As of the last count, 80 children are participating in the tennis lessons—a number which reflects the enthusiasm, not only of the athletic boys and girls, but also of the parents who are keen about the game and its influence on a youngster. The course which Mrs. Chase has laid out for the summer includes stroke technique, strategy and tennis etiquette. She feels that too many children get bogged down with tedious stroke production and therefore lose interest in the game, but as soon as they get into competition their interest blossoms and they begin to see the reason for the strokes. "Tennis etiquette," she says "like sportsmanship is vital in every game and is an invaluable influence in life. Here again the small competitions create situations again and again where the player must automatically react in a sportsman-like way with good manners."

The club commends the parents who have to see that the shoes are white and the tennis clothes pressed and ready to go at lesson time. It has been suggested that, perhaps from these 80 enthusiastic youngsters, Swarthmore can boast its own Vic Seixas or Margaret Osborne Dupont!

Seahorses Undefeated
In New League Stream
Set Own And Competing
Pool's Time
Records

Swarthmore Swim Club Saturday morning finished a five-day streak of setting records at three pools. Having increased the number of home pool records held by Swarthmoreans from two to 11 in July 9th's home meet with Aronimink, the Seahorses set 6 backstroke, 7 butterfly, 5 freestyle, and 5 relay time records and 4 top diving scores at Wallingford Thursday night when they defeated Wallingford 211-88 in its initial home meet.

Saturday morning, meeting Springfield in its first home meet, the Seahorses set all but one record for that pool while winning by a 251 to 80 score. Mary Ann Wicks, winning midget girls backstroke for Springfield, set that time at 24.8. Springfield's one other top placement came when judges declared Springfield's Carol Ryan (38.6) tied with Swarthmore's Sue Crawford (38.5) for first in junior girls freestyle.

Swarthmore thus ended its formal meet season undefeated in the new division of the Suburban Swim League, although no meets were scheduled with two of the six pools in the division (Great Valley and Cheamont). It also gave Aronimink, top team in the older division, a tighter victory than some of Aronimink's fellow teams in the older division.

Gain Over Third of Home Records
 Swarthmore now holds 11 of the 32 record times in the four strokes and age groups, ever swum at its own pool. Up until July 9 Joanne Espenschade's midget girls freestyle record of 42.9 for 50 yards, and Carol Williams' 100-yard senior girls breaststroke (1:31.2) were the only Swarthmore pool records held by members of the home team. These were both set last year.

On July 9 Carol also captured the freestyle record in her division (1:12.1), Jim Foley and John Seybold were initiated into pool record circles by respectively displacing the former junior boys backstroke champion (37.7) and freestyle (31.2). Joanne's sister Cacki set a new midget girls butterfly (56.8) and Jim's brother Dave a midget boys freestyle (38.8). Charlotte Brodhead gained the intermediate girls backstroke record for the home pool (38.3). Betsy Breakell the intermediate girls breaststroke (44.6). Molly Schumacher the midget girls breaststroke (40.0) and Dave Preston the 100-Yard senior boys freestyle (1:02).

Swarthmore now holds half the midget pool records (girls and boys freestyle, girls breaststroke and butterfly). The remaining four are still held by Aronimink. Swarthmore holds one-quarter of the junior records (boys backstroke and freestyle) and one-quarter of the intermediate (girls backstroke and a breaststroke). Aronimink retains eight and Rose Valley four of the remaining records in those two divisions.

In the senior age group three of the eight records now belong to Swarthmore (girls freestyle and breaststroke and boys freestyle). Three of the remainder are still held by Aronimink and two by Rose Valley.

Pool records must be set at the pool in competition with outside teams. Swarthmore records can be set in competition with other pool teams, at home or at other pools.

Thus, while most pool records are lower times than Swarthmore records, there are exceptions like Bob Sublette's Swarthmore time of 1:01, set last year, for senior boys freestyle being one second under Preston's pool record.

Some swimmers seem to better their times almost every meet. Others fluctuate, apparently better at night than morning, or vice versa, or coming in ahead of scoring lanes when run in unofficial lanes at meets. All of which contributes to the interest and fun of the game.

Wallingford Results Detailed
 In the July 11 meet Wallingford won six regular events, three relays, and one diving top score, through practically identical performances of several strong swimmers who captured first places in the triple Wallingford-Swarthmore-Springfield meet here two weeks earlier, when Swarthmore beat Springfield and Wallingford, but Wallingford beat Springfield on a dual basis.

Last Thursday S. Epp won intermediate boys backstroke, butterfly and freestyle, P. Idea won midget girls backstroke and freestyle. Kearns won junior girls free. Hubbard won intermediate girls diving. Wallingford also won intermediate girls and boys relays and midget girls relay.

Hawks Win Treasure — Alack, No Cadillac

The second week of Summer Club was concluded with the annual treasure hunt Friday. From the Rutgers Avenue football field to the College amphitheater the teams searched for clues and nursed aching feet. The Hawks, finishing in the record time of one hour and 32 minutes, found the treasure concealed near the archery house on the College campus.

Unable to secure a Cadillac for each member of the winning team, the Recreation Association supplied a box full of toys, comic books, candy, and gum from which each team took his pick. There were also popsicles for all who participated, so that everyone went home happy.

The winning team consisted of Tom Gaylord, Barry Sauter, Steve Shelly, Dick Daniel, Roger Ullman, Dean Forbes, and Chip Forward.

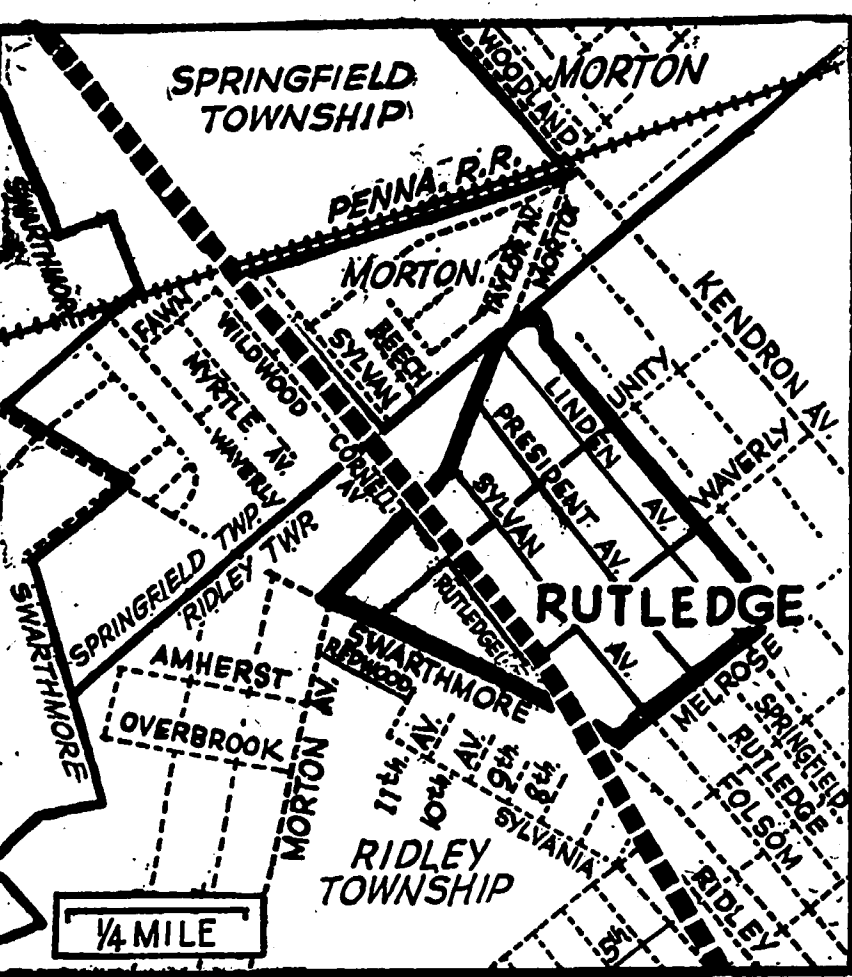

The remaining teams finished in this order: the Blue Jaguar, the Machets, the Motley crew, the Black Feet, and the Spit-fires who fizzled out and finished last.

Craftwork Progresses
Some outstanding soap carvings have been done by Gay Shay and Jim Hunter, and Gay has also made a very nice lavender. Steve Shelly has just finished a beautiful leather key case after two weeks work, and Jim Kent has produced some lovely pot holders. Bill Gill has completed several unusual paintings as well as a plastic bracelet, and Rochelle Young has turned out a professional-looking Indian bracelet made of beads.

Pre-School Activities
On Thursday of last week, Miss Coale of the Vertol Aircraft Corporation presented to the entire Pre-School-Primary group of recreation school a program about the construction and use of helicopters, centered around a movie on that subject which everyone enjoyed.

The Threes play a wonderful game of "Traffic" every morning around their room, during which tickets were given last week to Cathy Cramp for going through a red light, and to Bobby Howard and Robin Fulton for going the wrong way on a one-way street. Judging by the zeal with which he entered into this activity, Joseph Libben would be happy to do it for the whole morning. Barbey Keefe and Leslie Mason especially like the nursery songs, and dancing to rhythm records. Since the Fours have done so well with the rhythm instruments, they were introduced to a series of rhythmic movements. The most vigorous dancers, Andy Sitcoff, Ruthie Egebert, and Wendy Mason, did a great deal of twirling, but Missy Davis jumped up and down in the center of the group clapping the timbals, all very pleased with themselves. It was the Fives' turn to visit Johnny Ricksacker's back yard, where they met Johnny's cat and her three black kittens. Mrs. Ricksacker served fruit juice, and the children played in Johnny's playhouse. Cynthia Lee celebrated her fifth birthday on July 11, and Rulle Dempster returned to school after a hospital stay to have his appendix out.

Belatedly, the Recreation Association announces with pleasure the addition to the Pre-School-Primary staff of Jeri Taylor of Westdale avenue, in the unique post of permanent substitute. Although she has been happily assisting with the Threes, and wishes none of the other groups' assistants any ill health, Jeri, a Swarthmore High School student, looks forward to working with the older children, too.

of the ramps, etc., are determined.

Informally, however, Dr. Swann felt sure that at best, the route would interfere with already formulated plans for the future, including architects' plans made in 1950. He also thought that the cloverleaf at Baltimore pike would probably be close enough to the building which houses the "Vandegraft Accelerator" — the "atom smasher" — to affect the operation of this equipment. It was expected that it would take the old Lange house, currently used for storage, which the foundation has bids out for conversion into apartments, and the smaller house to the rear which is presently being rented to a member of the staff.

But, again, no one knows; the staff at the Planning Commission, which has greeted well over 80 individuals and groups at the office in Media are as helpful as possible but more detailed information as to precisely where, in feet and inches, the route will go, is apparently unavailable.

Municipalities Agree To Fight Yellow Route

Representatives to Discuss Local Effects at August Meeting
Representatives of all municipalities affected by the Yellow Route for the Mid-County Expressway south of West Chester Pike met Tuesday evening at Springfield Township Hall and agreed unanimously to carry the fight against the Yellow Route to the Federal Bureau of Public Roads by all available means. The group agreed to meet again in three weeks, by which time each municipality will have drafted a statement describing the local effects of the Yellow Route. Lawrence G. Williams, vice president of the Springfield Board of Commissioners, was elected secretary of the group to coordinate the efforts of the members and act as a central clearing point for information.

Representing more than 1,200 residents of Swarthmore who signed a petition against the "A" Route, a variation of the present Yellow Route, LaBue Hendrixson of North Chester road said that the Department of Highways has been misled by fallacious arguments concerning the impact of the Yellow Route versus the Blue Route on Delaware County. Mr. Hendrixson is secretary of Swarthmore Citizens in Opposition to the Yellow Route.

"Reversal of the Yellow Route decision either by Governor Leach or by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads," Mr. Hendrixson said, "is imperative in the interests of humanity and sound community planning."

Leo Maris Cruises To Chesapeake City

Sea Scout Ship Travels To Southern Bay On Weekend Trip
After a very successful and satisfactory shakedown cruise a week or so ago, the members of the S.E.S. Leo Maris cruised to Chesapeake City last week end. The boat, which was launched June 30 after two and a half years of hard work, made a fine showing.

After passing the Coast Guard Auxiliary Courtesy Examination, the boat left The Anchorage in Essington at 2200 Saturday. They anchored for the night in Salem Cove. Watches were posted while the others slept. Sunday morning the boat proceeded to Chesapeake City where the crew was given liberty. Most of the ship's company dined at a restaurant. After a short dinner most of the crew went in swimming. The boat had returned to Essington by 1900 Sunday.

Participants in the two cruises were George S. Myers, skipper; Walter C. Reynolds, Pete Hopson, and George Thomas, mates; Lee McFadden, boatswain; Jack LeWright, crew leader; and Pete Bender, Bill Swink, Pete Shepard, Tim Girone, Marlon Horns, and Bob Millaway, crew.

HOLM TO CONDUCT PARK CONCERTS

Robert M. Holm, director of instrumental music in the local schools, will conduct the Chester Elks Band at concerts in both Chester and Media. The Chester performance will be in Chester Park on Tuesday evening, while the Media concert will take place at Glen Providence Park on Thursday evening. Both performances begin at 8 o'clock and admission is free. The program will include such favorites as "Poet and Peasant Overture", Anderson's "Serenata" and a medley of "Jerome Kern Favorites". Vocal soloists will be Margaret Bell Zurbrick and Charles Castaldo will be featured in a Sousaphone solo, "Asleep in the Deep". The band is also scheduled to perform a music novelty "In a Clock Store". Chester Park is located near 24th street and Edgemont avenue. Glen Providence Park is situated at the foot of State street in Media. In the event of inclement weather, the concerts will be postponed one week. The Media concert is sponsored jointly by the Delaware County Park Board and the Musicians Performance Trust Fund.

Seahorses Capture Championship Points

Might Add to Present Score Over Weekend
Swarthmore Swim Club has built up 27 points to stand in 7th place to date in the annual Suburban Swim League Championships.

Feeling the absence of Bob Baker, one of its top junior divers, in the opening event at Martin's Dam Wednesday evening of last week, Swarthmore nevertheless came home with one point, gained by Beth Furnell placing sixth.

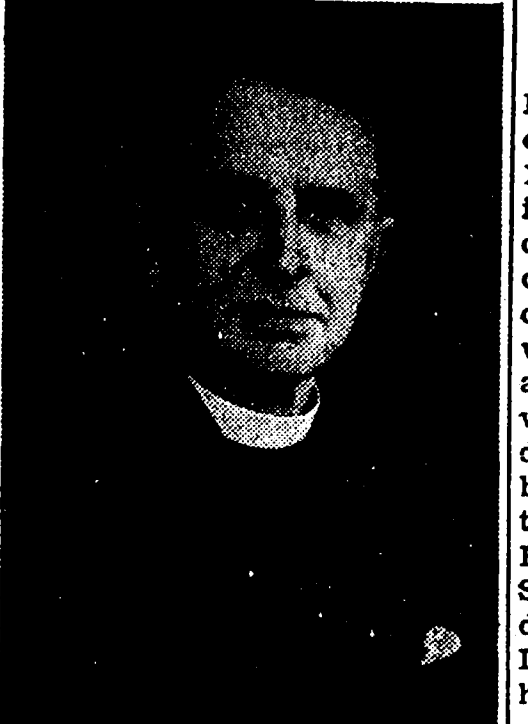

Friday night Jan Lawrence scored third and Dawn Boyer sixth to add five more points in senior diving at Marple-Newton. Jim Foley placed second in junior boys backstroke for another five points Saturday morning at Marple-Newton; and Richard McCurdy sixth in midjet boys breaststroke that afternoon at Aronmink, making a total of 12 points. Other team scores at that juncture were: Aronmink—123; Colonial Village—95; Marple—Newton—87; Rose Valley—58; Martins Dam—52; Penn Square—35.

Dr. Kurt K. Bohnsack of Yale avenue, assistant professor of biology at Swarthmore College, is spending the summer in Oak Ridge, Tenn., where he is conducting research at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory. Dr. Bohnsack, who spent last year as a visiting professor of zoology at San Diego State College, has received an appointment as an Oak Ridge research participant in the ORNL Health Physics Division, where he is now engaged for the second summer in a study of the effects of radioactivity on ecosystems. Administered by the University Relations Division of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, the research participation program enables university scientists to spend from three months to a year in Oak Ridge atomic-energy installations. A graduate of Ohio University, Dr. Bohnsack holds an MS degree and a PhD degree in zoology from the University of Michigan. He has been a member of the Swarthmore faculty since 1951. A mile north of Gabriel's Junction, the accident occurred about 11:30 p.m. when a panel truck in which Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Scott of Steelton were riding with their seven children collided with the car driven by Peter Braun who was en route to see his fiancée Miss Marleigh Barclay of Newark, N. Y. The Scotts had been picking cherries during the week on a farm near Lyons and were on their way home.

Peter's condition is improving and he shows encouraging signs of being on the road to recovery.

Summer Club Stages Swimming Meet

Primary Group Rehearses For Closing-Day Presentation
The first half of this season's Summer Club program concluded Friday with a swimming meet at the Ullman's pool. There were races, diving events, and time for free play. The free-style races were in age groups. The winners were:

Fourth grade girls, Anne Townes; fourth grade boys, Dick Daniels; fifth grade girls, Dora McNair; fifth grade boys, Jody Brooks; sixth grade girls, Bob Roland; seventh grade girls, Julie Brooks; seventh grade boys, Rickie Ullman.

The fastest swimmers competed with Tom Gaylor taking top honors in the younger group, and Jody Brooks winning against the older swimmers. In the diving competition Joan Plovman was the champ with Dora McNair and Barbara Gerner tied for second among the girls. Eddie Shute was the best diver of the boys with Jody Brooks and Dick Daniel tying for second. Tom Gaylor and Roger Ullman combined to win the comedy dive.

The final event of the meet was a relay race in which the Hawks nosed out the Blackfeet with the Motley crew taking third place. Following this the better swimmers among the Summer Club members combined to whip the

Clippers Clip Twin Oaks; Lose to Trainer

The Swarthmore Clippers journeyed to Twin Oaks July 16 and completely routed the opposition 34-5, in a game halted by darkness after three innings, with Swarthmore scoring fifteen runs and still batting with one out in the fourth. All members of the 19 man squad participated. On the 18th, in the best played game of the season, Trainer put together three singles in the final inning to beat a good Clipper team 2-1. Trainer scored the first run in the fourth on a double, a poor throw from the outfield, and on an infield out. Held hitless for five innings, Ron Hoge opened the final inning with a long home run to right to tie the score. Steve Brobeck pitched a good game, holding the opposition to six hits.

Tuesday of this week, the Clippers went ahead 2-1 on the season series with Marcus Hook, scoring a 7-4 win on the battery and pitching of George Welsh. George held the opposition to five hits but trailed 5-4, at the final inning started. With one out, Vin Carroll got on via an error and Dick Creasy walked. Welsh then smacked a double to right, scoring two runs and continued around as the ball skipped past the right fielder. Next Tuesday Lower Chichester, with whom the Clippers have split two games, visits Swarthmore. On Thursday Twin Oaks starts the final round of the season's play with a visit here.

Fifty New Families Get 'Dive-In' Signal

Directors Consider Adding Deep Water Pool
Some new faces (and figures) were seen in Swarthmore Swim Pool waters this week as the first 50 families on the Swim Club's membership waiting list hurried to take advantage of Judge Henry G. Sweney's July 18 decision.

Judge Sweney of the Delaware County Courts granted the petition of the Swim Club to increase its membership from 400 to 450 families, just as a new hot and humid spell hit the area. When old Sol and warm bathers brought pool waters up to a Monday afternoon temperature that was not so cooling as might have been desired, the pool's ever-revered manager, Willard Robinson, ferried six 300-pound cakes of ice across the pool deck in a wheelbarrow, depositing them into various parts of the pool to the great glee of occupants of all ages. The large faucet under the high diving board was also opened wide, shooting a cool spray into mid-pool. Lifeguards had to dunk themselves occasionally to keep from hot-footing it off the job.

Club president Dr. John H. Wighton says the new court allotment will permit the club to accommodate about half its waiting list. Members will be admitted in the order of their applications, with dues pro rated for the remainder of the current season.

Judge Sweney's decision carried the stipulation that the club provide parking area sufficient for (Continued on Page 8)

Seahorses Capture Championship Points

Might Add to Present Score Over Weekend
Swarthmore Swim Club has built up 27 points to stand in 7th place to date in the annual Suburban Swim League Championships.

Feeling the absence of Bob Baker, one of its top junior divers, in the opening event at Martins' Dam Wednesday evening of last week, Swarthmore never-the-less came home with one point, gained by Beth Purnell placing sixth.

Friday night Jan Lawrence scored third and Dawn Boyer sixth to add five more points in senior diving at Marple-Newtown. Jim Foley placed second in junior boys backstroke for another five points Saturday morning at Marple-Newtown; and Richard McCurdy sixth in midjet boys breaststroke that afternoon at Aronimink, making a total of 12 points. Other team scores at that juncture were: Aronimink—123; Colonial Village—95; Marple—Newtown—87; Rose Valley—58; Martins Dam—52; Penn Square—35.

Sunday afternoon at Chesmont The Seahorses had mixed luck. Senior boys took sixth place in medley relays and fourth in freestyle.

Clippers Clip Twin Oaks; Lose to Trainer

The Swarthmore Clippers journeyed to Twin Oaks July 16 and completely routed the opposition 34-5, in a game halted by darkness after three innings, with Swarthmore scoring fifteen runs and still batting with one out in the fourth. All members of the 19 man squad participated.

On the 18th, in the best played game of the season, Trainer put together three singles in the final inning to beat a good Clipper team 2-1. Trainer scored the first run in the fourth on a double, a poor throw from the outfield, and on an infield out. Held hitless for five innings, Ron Hoge opened the final inning with a long home run to right to tie the score. Steve Brobeck pitched a good game, holding the opposition to six hits.

Tuesday of this week, the Clippers went ahead 2-1 on the season series with Marcus Hook, scoring a 7-5 win on the battery and pitching of George Welsh. George held the opposition to five hits but trailed 5-4 as the final inning started. With one out, Vin Carroll got on via an error and Dick Creasy walked. Welsh then smacked a double to right, scoring two runs and continued around as the ball skipped past the right fielder.

Next Tuesday Lower Chichester, with whom the Clippers have split two games, visits Swarthmore. On Thursday Twin Oaks starts the final round of the season's play with a visit here.

Fifty New Families Get 'Dive-In' Signal

Directors Consider Adding Deep Water Pool
Some new faces (and figures) were seen in Swarthmore Swim Pool waters this week as the first 50 families on the Swim Club's membership waiting list hurried to take advantage of Judge Henry G. Sweney's July 18 decision.

Judge Sweney of the Delaware County Courts granted the petition of the Swim Club to increase its membership from 400 to 450 families, just as a new hot and humid spell hit the area.

When old Sol and warm bathers brought pool waters up to a Monday afternoon temperature that was not so cooling as might have been desired, the pool's ever-renewed manager, Millard Robinson, ferried six 300-pound cakes of ice across the pool deck in a wheelbarrow, depositing them into various parts of the pool to the great glee of occupants of all ages. The large faucet under the high diving board was also opened wide, shooting a cool spray into mid-pool. Lifeguards had to dunk themselves occasionally to keep from hot-footing it off the job.

Waiting List Cut in Half
Club president Dr. John H. Wigton says the new court allotment will permit the club to accommodate about half its waiting list. Members will be admitted in the order of their applications, with dues prorated for the remainder of the current season.

Judge Sweney's decision clarified the stipulation that the club provide parking area sufficient for (Continued on Page 8)

College Announces Large Pay Increases

Salaries to Range From $4,500 to $14,000 Next Year

Dr. Courtney Smith, president of Swarthmore College, has just announced large faculty salary increases to take effect next year. The Board of Managers of the college has voted to increase the salaries of professors by $2000, associate professors by $1500, assistant professors by $1000, and instructors by $500. With this increase the salaries of full-time faculty members will now range from $4500 to $14,000.

The college decided in 1954 to make faculty salaries its number one priority. Since that time and with the additional increase just announced the average Swarthmore faculty salary has risen 40 per cent. Swarthmore salaries will now stand in the top group among American liberal arts colleges. The increase for 1957-58 is undoubtedly among the largest undertaken at any one time by an American college. It goes a way to alleviate what President Smith has called "the simple fact that the academic profession is not sharing in the growth of the American free enterprise economy; indeed faculty members are in a sense subsidizing the education even of those whose families are enjoying that growth."

To meet the needs for increased faculty salaries the goal for the Alumni Fund was courageous. The fund raised from $100,000 in the year 1954 to $200,000 by the year 1957, with interim goals of $125,000 and $160,000. The amount over $100,000 is earmarked for faculty salaries. The interim goals were achieved in 1955 and 1956, and on Alumni Day, June 8, 1957, President Smith announced that the goal of $200,000 for the Alumni Fund had been reached, a doubling in three years in answer to an appeal for better faculty salaries.

Additional funds for this major increase in faculty salaries will come from the Ford Foundation's program of grants for faculty salaries, and from a tuition raise of $200 announced this past February. Two-thirds of the Ford Foundation gift is designated as an "Endowment Grant" to increase faculty salaries; the other third is an "Accomplishment Grant," an additional and special gift to those colleges and universities which have made a special effort throughout the period since World War II to better the economic position of their faculties and "to recognize in other ways the central importance of the faculty in the educational process." Swarthmore's Board of Managers voted to treat both parts of the Ford Foundation gift (tentatively scheduled for $707,000) alike — devoting the yield on the total sum to increased faculty salaries.

 style relays. Junior boys tied for fourth and fifth place in the free-style and senior girls tied for fifth and sixth—in each case Swarthmore won the higher place ribbon on flip of a coin, and points were divided with the tying team. Thus Swarthmore's total was built to 23 points. An additional eight points were sacrificed when senior girls and junior boys won their medleys but were disqualified due to an early take-off by a member of each team.
 Monday evening at Penn Square Carol Williams and Bob Sublette swam the 400 meter freestyle for Swarthmore but did not score.
 Numerous members of the Swarthmore team participated in the various events, some placed well in their heats but were not within the top six scoring times. A considerable number of previous records were broken during the past week. For instance, while winning Saturday afternoon Bob Schell of Marple Newtown set a new team record of 39.5 for midget boys backstroke; Kent Mast swimming for Colonial Village (30.7) and Lanny Reppert of Aronimink (31.1) shattered the former League record of 32.5 for intermediate boys backstroke; Lanny also made history with a 33. in intermediate breaststroke; a Martins Dam midget boy set a new breaststroke record of 43.8.
 Tuesday at Wallingford Sue Williams placed 3rd for 4 points in intermediate girls diving. Wednesday night at the home pool the 220 yard freestyle was swum but none of Swarthmore's entries scored.
Final Championship Events This Week-End
 Still to be swum before the final scores is tallied are senior and junior freestyle and butterfly events at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow at East Whiteland; intermediate and midget freestyle and butterfly at 2:30 p.m. at Colonial Village; and on Sunday at 4 p.m. at Aronimink intermediate and midget freestyle and medley relays.
 Swarthmore coaches also had a good aggregation scheduled for A.A.U. competition at Kelly pool, Philadelphia yesterday and today, and are building up a relay team for the nationals there on August 3.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR
 The opinions expressed below are those of the individual writers. All letters to The Swarthmorean must be signed. Pseudonyms may be used if the writer is known to the Editor. Letters will be published only at the discretion of the Editor.
 To the Editor:
 When are the people of Swarthmore going to wake up?
 When it becomes necessary to widen Chesler Road to take care of the increased traffic to and from the clover leaf on River-view Road, it will be too late to wish the Blue Route had been chosen as the lesser of two evils. It will be too late when they discover Swarthmore is just a feed line for the mid-county expressway.
 Hasn't it occurred to others that the changes from the (now called Yellow Route) will be far more devastating to our Borough than the Blue Route would have been?

 Today's need of the spiritual sense of truth will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday by the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth."
 Passages to be read from the Bible will include the following from Psalms (145:18): "The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him in truth."
 Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (272:3-5): "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek."
 The Golden Text is from Psalms (98:1,3): "O sing unto the Lord a new song; for he hath done marvellous things. . . He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God."

Receive Heart Association Awards

Studies being carried on in Philadelphia by 14 research physicians on $178,000 in grants from the American Heart Association, New York, include the local share in $971,000 awarded to 185 medical researchers throughout the United States for heart studies during the year July 1957-July 1958.

counselors in a relay race.
All agreed that it was a most successful day and were exceedingly grateful to the Ullmans for allowing them the use of their pool.

Monday, emblems were awarded to all members of the Hawks team as a result of their winning the first three weeks' competition. Also new teams were chosen by captains who were elected by the boys and girls. The new teams and their captains are:

The Hot Rods, Chip Forwood; The Flying Panthers, Jody Brooks; The Summer Club All Stars, Eddie Shute; The Burping Belchers, Gay Shay; The Eagles, Mark Beard-sley; and the Tigers, Jerry Clothier.

Tuesday in arts and crafts the youngsters made and decorated some unusual get-well cards for Eck Gerner who has been in the Presbyterian Hospital.

Beginning the second half of the 1957 Summer Recreation School program, the pre-school-primary children were still busily "projecting", and enjoying to the fullest the warm, sunny weather (known to most of the adult population as a drought) which has allowed them to be out-of-doors nearly every day.

The Threes have added several new games to their repertoire, including "Five Little Chickadees" and "See the Mousie Creeping". Most of them chose to be chickadees in the center of the group, but Amy Starer and Helen Holt were happy to stay at one side and sing the song. In the mousie game, the children vied with each other to be most like little mice, Cathy Cramp succeeding as the quietest and Anne Troxell as the quickest little mouse. Each child tried his hand at drawing a candle for a general birthday celebration, and Robin even managed a wick and flame on his.

The Fours have been working on a farm project, which included making a barn and silo, a fence, and animals. Marilyn Widmer, Jimmy Collins, Linda Dunn, Anne Nolan, and Chipper Brogan painted the barn and silo, while the rest of the children colored the animals. Three birthdays were celebrated this week: Missy Davis, Mary Lou Piccard, and Ju Ju Ip. Ju Ju provided a real party for all of her playmates.

The Primary group will wind up the season with a final-day presentation of "The Shoemaker and the Elves", for which they have been learning songs and rehearsing lines each day. Fortunately for everyone concerned (particularly those mothers who did not include in their summer plans the making of elf costumes), this play was also given in the spring by one of the Rutgers Avenue second graders so Eddie Honnold, who will repeat his portrayal of the shoemaker, volunteered to round up most of the costumes.

Fifty New Families Get 'Dive-In' Signal

125 cars. The current lot holds 60 cars. An additional area being prepared outside the present fence is expected to care for around 100 more. Processing the new parking area is being greatly facilitated by fill dirt brought by Walt Nason, contractor for the Bell Telephone Exchange addition on Baltimore pike, and by the Borough from its project of widening College avenue.

In a meeting Wednesday evening the club's board of directors discussed building a separate pool for deep-water swimming just beyond the deck (north end) of the wide, deep area of the present pool.

Junior and Senior Life Saving Courses will begin next Monday at the pool. Assistant Coach Karl Schaeffer will be in charge of the two-week lessons which, if demand is sufficient, will be given both at 1 and at 7 p.m. each week-day. Applicants are asked to register at the pool office over the week-end.

Mrs. William Ward, 4th, and children Billy, Donny, and Jeffrey, have returned to their home in Wallingford after a three week vacation in Cape May, N. J. Mr. Ward joined them on the week ends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bernard of Union avenue have returned home after spending two weeks visiting with their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. William T. Bell and family of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., formerly of Chester.

ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. John M. Cheyney of Dayton, O., has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Barbara Cheney, to Mr. Charles Grier, son of Postmaster Charles Grier and Mrs. Grier of Dartmouth avenue. The wedding will take place September 7.

Mr. Arthur Jones of Swarthmore avenue and Mr. George Dunn of Dickinson avenue recently returned from a five-day camping trip in the Adirondacks.

Get a head start!

CALL BY NUMBER when you call out of town

You give your Long Distance calls a head start when you call by number. Then they never have to be detoured through Information in the distant city. They go through faster—often twice as fast.

The best way to keep track of out-of-town numbers is with the "Blue Book of Telephone Numbers"—a handy booklet in which you can list the numbers you have occasion to call. Just ask at our Business Office for your free copy.
