Pre-Schoolers Get Acquainted at SRA

The children enrolled in the Summer Recreation Association program spent a busy first week getting acquainted with each other and enjoying a variety of activities, both indoors and out.

In the three-year-old group, Michele Shaforth, Libby Taylor, Stephanie Ip and Kim Kelleher especially liked the swings. Nancy Burgett, Ellen Cryer, Julia Weatherford and Ginny Van Hart found most of their fun in the sandbox. Indoors the children rocked on horses, built with blocks, cuddled stuffed animals and made impressions out of play dough.

Richard Keefe had a wonderful time taking turns on the large rocking horse. Libby Taylor, Sherrie Seidelman and Becky Rennie look for the play dough as soon as they arrive in the mornings. Nancy Burgett, Ken Jacobson, Ginny Van Hart, Peter Koelle and Peter Fowler enjoy the organized art. The big treat of the day, though, is the chance to run, jump, hop and climb on the playground and all its equipment.

A Summer Choir will participate in the Sunday service. The choir will be comprised of former choir members returned from college members of the High School choir, and all others who enjoy singing. Rehearsals will be held each Sunday morning at 9:30 for that day's service.

During the summer months, all members of the congregation are invited to remain after the service for discussion of the sermon topic. The Board of Deacons has arranged for an informal social period on the church lawn following the summer services.

Morning Prayers are held Tuesdays at 9 a.m. The Celebration of the Holy Communion will be held at 8 a.m. on Wednesdays and at 10 a.m. on Thursdays. These services will continue throughout the summer.

The Bandage Group will meet during the summer on the first and fourth Wednesdays of the month. They will commence at 10 a.m. and continue through lunch. All are welcome to bring a sandwich and join the group. Beverages will be served.

Mr. Browne will preach through July 16 and will be available for any pastoral services needed. Dr. Roberts will be available from July 23 until September.

The church office will be open from 9 to 5 each weekday during the summer except for the lunch hour when it will be closed from 12:30 to 1:30.

LEIPER PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Morning Worship will be held Sunday at 11 a.m.
The Rev. Ernest Lilley, who has been serving as interim pastor, will conduct the Service of Installation of the Reverend James R. Barber to be held in the sanctuary on Sunday at 8 p.m. The Session of the Leiper Presbyterian Church cordially invites all to attend. Reception for Mr. and Mrs. James Barber will follow in the fellowship room of the church.

Church School classes for the Junior, Junior High, and Senior High groups will be held during the summer at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE NOTES

The theme of the Lesson-Sermon on "Sacrament" to be presented at the semi-annual communion service in Christian Science churches Sunday is genuine appreciation of the sacrifice and triumph of Christ Jesus which must be expressed in daily living.

Paul's charge to Timothy, "Watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry" (II Tim. 4), will be included in the Bible readings.

A correlative citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done" (p. 4).

An invitation is extended to all to attend the services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 206 Park Avenue, at 11 o'clock.

were very realistic. The children also painted, made masks and created a city of paper bags. They learned many songs using motions. Teresa Waterman and several others read their favorite stories to the others during snack time.

By the end of the second week recreation school had a grand total of 99 children enrolled with 46 guests. All those who attended on Friday returned home, thanks to the field of helicopters, thanks to a movie on the subject lent by Vertol Aircraft Corp.

Three Year Olds

The three-year-olds enjoyed their second week in a carefree way. Andy Fry, Bruce McFarland and Richard Keefe had a wonderful time taking turns on the large rocking horse. Libby Taylor, Sherrie Seidelman and Becky Rennie look for the play dough as soon as they arrive in the mornings.

Nancy Burgett, Ken Jacobson, Ginny Van Hart, Peter Koelle and Peter Fowler enjoy the organized art. The big treat of the day, though, is the chance to run, jump, hop and climb on the playground and all its equipment.

A new little girl, Lisa Starer, was welcomed to the group on Thursday and she is already having fun with the rest of the children.

Teachers Jeanne Pets and Sue Gowling were thankful that this week was mostly sunny, since this meant that the four year olds could use up their boundless energy outdoors. The boys, in true masculine tradition, enjoy the more active things to do—climbing trees and playing on the seesaws and swings, while the girls play in the sand box and on the slides. One day a thoroughly confused turtle joined the group on the playground. Andy and Marcia Smith, now have "Boxy" in custody at their home.

The four year olds have been learning colors—just as they do in real school—by answering questions. This week they learned four. They also made firecrackers for the 4th of July holiday—although the group can cause fireworks any day of the week. Many of the children have brought their friends to visit; Marcia Rosenburg brought her friend Stacy again and Donna Smith brought Fred. Janice Gofford has joined the group again this year.

Pre-Kindergarten

On this week's rainy day, Tuesday, Robbie Collins wore a train engineer's outfit. The children enjoyed forming a train with their chairs and singing several train songs. Robbie was the engineer and Chris Cryer the conductor. On Tuesday they made finger paintings. Some of the children hesitated to get paint all over their hands but after a few experimental smears they were all up to their elbows in paint and loving every minute of it. Bozo the Clown was the favorite record this week and on Wednesday everyone drew pictures of Bozo. Both Mulvihill did a particularly nice one, but Hunter Fowler was the proudest of his achievement. For "Show and Tell" Ralph Rosen brought in a seashell and his book "Animals of the Sea and Shore." He also delighted

More time for her family

With the help of electricity, the modern housewife can free herself from the burden of domestic chores and devote more of her time to family recreation. Washing clothes, cleaning house, cooking—all these jobs have been made easier and faster through the power of electricity. That's why we say that electricity is mother's biggest helper. Philadelphia Electric does its share to help mother by making certain that her home gets reliable and efficient electric service day and night. Nothing else can do so much for so little.

Scott Award to Head Of Illinois Arboretum

Clarence E. Godshalk, director of the Morton Arboretum in Lisle, Ill., was honored with the Arthur Hoyt Scott Garden and Horticultural Award at Swarthmore College Commencement exercises June 12. The Award, which consists of a gold medal and prize of $1,000, was presented to Mr. Godshalk by Dr. Courtney Smith, president of Swarthmore College and chairman of the Committee of Selection for the Scott Award.

Under the direction of Godshalk and as a result of his vision and artistic talents, the Morton Arboretum is considered one of the most important arboreta in this country. Located 30 miles west of Chicago, the Arboretum covers two thousand acres. Some 1,500 people participate each year in its educational program which offers design and gardening courses for adults for their home grounds and nature study courses primarily for school teachers and children.

A Research Department was established in 1954. It focuses much of its attention on the diseases of ornamental plants and particularly at the present time on the Dutch Elm disease, which is taking a toll of native Elm trees throughout the Middle West.

Godshalk came to the arboretum in 1921 from the University of Michigan. In 1954 he was given the title of director. The 82-year-old Scott Award was established by Margaret Scott Moon and Owen Moon, Jr., in memory of Arthur Hoyt Scott, an outstanding amateur gardener and a graduate of Swarthmore College. The College is the custodian and trustee of the endowment funds.

Moscow Telephone Book Available—for 13 Rubles

Moscow's telephone system is a lot different than the one here, reported an article in the recent Telephone News, the employees magazine of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. Moscow's telephone directory, recently published by the U.S.S.R. Ministry of Communications, is not distributed free but its limited supply of 15,000 copies is sold to subscribers for 13 rubles, roughly $1.30.

The 1960 edition of the Moscow directory, revised recently for the first time in six years, is unique as telephone books go.

Its pages change color at random. Apparently when the printer ran out of white paper he simply grabbed some handy green or blue which he used until more white became available. The resultant striped exterior gives a gay effect that belies a rather ponderous, often stern, content, according to the Telephone News article.

As a printing job, the directory is casual in spots to the point of carelessness. Advertising photos have been haphazardly trimmed so that horizons tilt. But sufficient attention has been paid to laying down rules and regulations to qualify it as a law book.

The surprises begin right inside the front cover, where, along with numbers to be called if attacked in the city by a mad animal, or when giving birth on the street. They continue right to the end with an advertisement for a plush three-story restaurant and a full-page warning against walking on subway tracks.

Moscow telephone do's and don'ts are proclaimed on page after page and in no uncertain terms. Unspecified penalties are threatened for actions that hardly seem violations.

Smoking is prohibited in telephone booths. The presence of more than one person in a booth is outlawed. Subscribers are ordered to police the system and to make a citizen's arrest for vandals caught in the act. The Moscow book states:

"Those who are guilty of deliberate damage to the coin box must be detained and handed over to the police." Arguing with an everyone with a jar of fireflies.

This week the post-kindergarten group centered its arts and crafts around the Indians. They began the week by finger painting a scene of an Indian village. The next step in the project was to make a headdress. This brought several chiefs to the fore, such as Jimmy Salom, Lisa Adams and Linda Byerly. The next few days were spent making an Indian village mural. Craig Rihl helped with the background; Priscilla Hepburn and Amy Foller worked on the trees and shrubbery, while Barbara MacFarland made the sun.

The rest of the group worked on the teepees, Indians, and canoes. On the playground the two-wheeled bicycle proved to be a real challenge to Roger Sternfeld and Chris Mangeldorf while Eugene Mark seemed quite interested in the scooter.

Primary

The loud war whoops coming from the all-purpose room last week came from the primary group who had been transformed into Indians. The children, discussed various groups of Indians living in the United States, sang several Indian songs, learned some Indian sign language and made pottery from clay. After the clay dried the children painted them. Michele Southworth and June Burrows made such realistic looking pottery that the Indians would have been proud to have them as members of their tribe. Each child decorated an Indian headdress and a different colored feather was added for each day of attendance. By Friday there were many colorful chiefs.

The highlight of the week was Barbara Keeffe's victory over the rest of the boys and girls in a quarter-mile race around the football field. Everyone ran in true Indian style, but Barbara's persistence made her champion for this week. Four new faces were added to the group this week—they belong the Jay Padgett, Bradley Featherstone, Gall Gesford and Freddie Spencer.

Police News

Local police were kept busy over the hot weekend assisting Springfield with accidents, other emergencies and ambulance runs.

Last Thursday at 1:40 p.m. they assisted the Media ambulance when it came to 515 South Chester road to take Mrs. Allen F. Evenson to Hahnemann Hospital. Following treatment Mrs. Evenson was expected home this week.

At 2:23 p.m. Monday the cars of Betsy Lee Hammond of Media and John J. Bradley, Sr., of Glenolden collided at Cedar Lane and Swarthmore Avenue. The Hammond car traveling east on Swarthmore Avenue was damaged on the left side and door. The Bradley vehicle proceeding south on Cedar, received damage on the front, fender and grill. Both were driven from the scene. No injuries were reported.

operator is forbidden. To argue, the telephone user must obtain a supervisor.

Moscovites have telephone pavilions open from 8 a.m. to midnight to which people without home phones may be summoned to receive a call. These booths always have long waiting lines.

It's confusing to compare phone rates since earning powers are so different in the two countries. One indication of Moscow phone costs, however, the basic non-toll service charge entitles the subscriber to call a distance of about six city blocks.

The Telephone News estimates about 150,000 residence phones for Moscow. Philadelphia, with less than half the population of Moscow, has 497,000 home phones.

The most common name in the Moscow book is Smirnov, 700 of them. There are nine Khrushchevs, one Khrushchov, but Nikita is not among them, the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania magazine article states.

Com. Nursing Service In Regional Report

The three regional committees of the Community Nursing Service, Delaware County held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Edson S. Harris, Rose Valley Road, Moylan in June.

The Western Committee consisting of 19 members has been active in community health work throughout the year. The primary activity of this volunteer group is the Media Child Health Center where they have been assisted by donations and volunteer workers from various women's groups in the area. Mrs. Horace White of Bowling Green reported that 24 volunteers have given 284 hours in assisting the nurses and transporting patients for clinic examinations.

"New Forms in Concrete" is one of a number of exhibitions furnished by the American Federation of Arts on a non-profit basis to institutions and organizations in the United States and other countries. The Du Pont Building is also most of 33 science buildings featured in "Modern Physics Buildings", the result of a study by the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Institute of Physics, supported by a $75,000 grant from the Educational Facilities Laboratories, Inc. Because the increasing need for physics teaching and research has placed new demands on the design of physics buildings, this study was undertaken as a guide for college and university administrators, architects, and members of physics departments who must foresee future needs.

College Science Building Featured in New Book

The Pierre S. duPont Science Building of Swarthmore College is featured in a traveling exhibition of architecture and in a new book "Modern Physics Buildings."

It is one of a number of new buildings by European and American architects presented in an exhibition sponsored by The American Federation of Arts.

Entitled "New Forms in Concrete", the exhibition consists of 26 photographic panels that will include, in addition to the Swarthmore science building designed by Vincent G. Kling, Nervi's New York Port Authority Bus Terminal, Saarinen's TWA Terminal at Idlewild, and buildings by Le Corbusier, Pei, Wright, and Yamasaki.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE NOTES
Enrichment of life through spiritual understanding of God is a theme to be brought out Sunday at Christian Science services in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Life."
One of the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon is from John (17): "And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this passage will be read: "Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping-stone to faith. The only guarantee of obedience is a right apprehension of Him whom to know aright is Life eternal!" (p.vii)
All are invited to attend the services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 206 Park avenue, at 11 o'clock.

FRIENDS MEETING NOTES
Monthly Meeting for Business will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Whittier House. Friends are reminded that there will be no Monthly Meeting for Business in August.
An unprogrammed discussion is held each Sunday at 9:45 a.m. in the library of Whittier House.

Thanks League Coaches
To the Editor:
I would like to take this means of expressing my appreciation to the men in the community who are coaching the Kne-Hi and Teener League baseball program. There must be many evenings when they would like to collapse in an easy chair at the end of the day, and their wives would perhaps prefer a leisurely dinner.

But for two months, at least twice a week, they are giving of their time and energy to the hundreds of boys who participate in this program. Hats off and a heartfelt thanks.

NEWS NOTES
Burr Yarrow, who formerly resided on North Princeton avenue and moved to Des Moines, Ia., about three years ago, has been the guest for the past month of David Carroll of College avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Carroll. Burr has also been visiting his grandmother Mrs. E. A. Yarrow of South Chester road. His mother Mrs. C. H. Yarrow, a former Girl Scout leader in Swarthmore, is presently taking a group of girl scouts out West on a trip to visit National Parks. Mr. Yarrow is at Pendle Hill in charge of orienting VISA students for the AFSC.

Dr. and Mrs. James B. Cooper and daughter Ann of Parrish road spent the past weekend at their summer home in Beach Haven, N.J.
Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Calhoun of Elm avenue were tendered a small party by their four children on Saturday in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. The party, arranged by the children and with help from Mrs. W. Newton Ryerson and Mrs. H. H. Gibson, Jr., both of Elm avenue, and held at the home of Mrs. Ryerson, was a complete surprise. Miss Martha Calhoun, eldest of the Calhoun children, came down from Boston, Mass., to attend the festivities, while Jack was in absentia due to attending a work camp this summer.

Mrs. William C. McDermott and daughter Grace of Yale avenue were visitors at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Storlazzi in Stone Harbor, N.J., for several days.
Dr. and Mrs. Frank G. Keenen of North Chester road and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll P. Streeter of Columbia avenue returned Friday from a three-week motor trip to the Canadian Rockies.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Maass and son Phillip of Cornell avenue, and Mrs. Maass's father Mr. H. W. Anderson of Urbana, Ill., returned home Sunday night from a four-week camping trip in the West. Their stops included: Bryce and Zion Canyons in Utah; Grand Canyon, Arizona; Mesa Verde, in Colorado, and the Tetons, Wyoming. The Maass' twin sons Andy and Dave, who also took the trip, spent several days in Crawfordville, Ind., with a cousin, Richard O. Ristine, Lieutenant Governor of Indiana, before flying home on Wednesday.

Councilmen heard a letter from Alma Daniels stating the hardship to older residents caused by Acme's moving out of the borough, and asking Council to encourage another supermarket to take over. Another letter, from the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, signed by Helen M. Carroll, president, suggested Council's purchasing the property for use as a recreation center. (Council noted that a similar suggestion had been received earlier from the Swarthmore Recreation Association.)

The sum of $75 was granted to the Planning Commission for expenses incurred in the preparation of the commission's report on apartment conversions in Swarthmore.

How careful can you get?

Never too careful when it comes to checking—and driving—your car. Never too careful to save even one life on our highways!

Official car inspection in Pennsylvania has saved many lives by reducing traffic accidents caused by mechanical failure to 1.8% of the total of all traffic accidents. This is one-third of the national average for such accidents.

Official car inspection does not relieve you of the responsibility of keeping your car in safe operating condition between the twice-yearly inspection periods. You know when your brakes need tightening... your lights need refocusing... your steering wheel needs adjusting... your tires need replacing. Don't let such things go—they may mean the difference between life and death!

Above all, inspect your driving! We can check car failure. Only you can check human failure—the poor driving habits and the disregard for traffic rules that cause the vast majority of traffic accidents. See how careful you can get!

Voegtlin, Journeys Win Tennis Finals

Wallingford Swim Club Family Tournament Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Voegtlin, and Dr. and Mrs. R. Wallace Journey won the Family "A" and "B" tennis tournaments, respectively, in finals held Sunday, at the Wallingford Swimming Club. Nine family doubles teams were entered in the "A" and 17 in the "B" tournaments, for a total of 52 participants.

Both finals were evenly matched, as evidenced by the closeness of the scores. In the "A" tournament, the husband-wife team of Ray and Doty Voegtlin defeated the father-son combination of Lou and Dan Kearns by the score of 10-8. The "B" finals pitted the two husband-wife teams of Wally and Norma Journey and Ned and Elaine McIntosh, with the Journeys winning by the score of 11-9.

Results of the "A" tournament, preceding the finals, were as follows:

Moses team def. Gordons, 10-7; Donaldsons def. Carneys, 10-5; Goldbergs def. Breuers, 10-5; Voegtlin def. Clements, 11-9; Kearns def. Gordons, 10-7; Voegtlin def. Goldbergs, 12-10; Kearns def. Donaldsons, 10-7.

Results of the "B" tournament preceding the finals were as follows:

Speckhals def. Werners, 10-8; McIntosh def. Bakers by default; Willis def. Chisholms, 10-4; Binders def. Sammons, 10-5; Ikedas def. Curlys, 10-1; Browns def. Van Lears by default; Gormallys def. Solomons, 10-3; Journeys def. Brennans, 10-5; Spreckhals def. Spencers, 10-8; Binders def. Willis, 10-5; Browns def. Ikedas, 10-5; Journeys def. Gormallys, 10-3; McIntosh def. Spreckhals, 10-7; Journeys def. Browns, 10-6; McIntosh def. Binders, 11-9.

All matches were played according to the professional rules of 10 game sets, rather than six game sets.

Santa in July?

rest were not far behind, and Santa, embraced with enthusiasm and love, answered dozens of questions (his reindeer were in the stable this hot weather, Rudolph was with them, of course). Santa, on his part, was surprised that one youngster was only six ("You look 10," said he), but knew that Jimmy didn't eat his spinach, and hoped most earnestly that everyone drank their milk, clear through to the end of the glass.

"Be good," he said, and I'll be back at Christmas time."

One little boy simply couldn't sit down, and someone observed that Santa's beard "was like grass."

As for Santa, his beard uncut and in full regalia, fur trim and all, greeted his children, unpersipery and with complete pleasure.

As for the children, Santa in July is as jolly as in December (note that he arrived on the 25th—either seven months AFTER Christmas or five months BEFORE—depending on your viewpoint).

Santa departed in a glorious breeze—created by the props—the best of the day, but not before concerned children brought to his attention an overheated miniature poodle, who had tried to cool off in the shade of the 'copter, and with the assistance of a large, black, curly dog who barked at the swirling props, and raced after the plane as it took off, presumably for the North Pole.

Camp Dumore will close next week; for those who would like to have a squint at it, there will be an open house on Wednesday, to which everyone is invited. Just come to the area behind Wharton Hall, and you'll have it, wherever you see a "hoard of children".

Bob Mather, professional teacher of folk and country dancing led an aspiring and perspiring group of young people through the figures of English and Israeli (icing on the cake) dances on Wednesday, in the "coolth" of the basement of the Presbyterian Church; 3. Next week, the Thursday evening meeting may take the form of some kind of small-group discussions. The bulletin boards will carry details; 4. A legal problem involving the tax-free status of the Swim Club may necessitate moving the Thursday night swim and cook-out elsewhere.

and crafts projects were on display for parents and friends to see during Thursday's art exhibit.

DRUG PRICES UP ONLY HALF AS MUCH

Since World War II, prices of all the things you buy have risen 56%. Food, for instance, is up 67%. Transportation, 44.3%. But prices of prescriptions, drugs and other health aids are up only 31%. Our prescription prices always are fair. Today's prescriptions are your biggest health value.

YOU SHOULD SEE MY NEW GAS RANGE!

You wouldn't believe it, but the new top burner makes every pot and pan an automatic appliance.

Scorching, sticking, and burning are eliminated and you get the exact heat for every cooking job. It's amazing too, how tasty food is cooked on a modern gas range.

Choose your modern gas range soon at your dealer's or any Philadelphia Electric Company suburban showroom. Look for those which carry the AGA seal of approval.
