'Music Man' Runs January 4 Thru 9

The Players Club-Rose Valley Chorus joint performance, January 4 through 9, of Meredith Willson's "The Music Man" offers a gala opening for 1965. Set in River City, Iowa, somewhere around 1912, the musical comedy has established a record for fun and singability, celebrating small-town America at its folkliest.

Maurice L. Webster directs with James Greene assisting. Henry Elkan is musical director and conductor, H. Lytton Jones the band director (bands from Sun Valley, Swarthmore, Springfield, Penncrest, Interboro, and Chester High Schools will appear), Claire Holmstrom the choreographer. The sizeable and versatile cast (there are 28 speaking parts, 13 chorus voices, 12 dancers), bring to the sixth joint modern musical comedy venture of the Players Club in its 54th season and the Chorus in its 57th, enthusiastic talent and experience. The production brings back many popular veterans and presents new and promising talent.

The curtain is at 8:20 each evening, Monday through Saturday, at the Players Club, Fairview road.

TB Association In Urgent Plea

A last minute plea to give a gift of health this holiday time has been issued by Dr. A. M. Sharpe, vice-president of the Delaware County TB and Health Association and chairman of the organization's chest x-ray committee.

Total receipts for the 1964 Christmas Seal campaign are short $24,000 of the expected goal, Dr. Sharpe said, but expressed optimism that the expanded program will continue as planned in 1965.

"Several active cases of tuberculosis were uncovered early this month during the chest survey x-ray program at a County Institution," Dr. Sharpe said. "We are concerned by the dangers existing in heavily populated sections of Chester, one of the nation's high incidence spots, and other areas in the county. We are alarmed that statistics released by the National Tuberculosis Association reveal that in three out of five of the larger cities in the U.S. there have been increases in the number of new active cases of tuberculosis."

"We will stretch Christmas Seal dollars to the limit to protect our communities from the ravages of this disease," Dr. Sharpe promised.

Along with the stepped up community chest x-ray program in 1965, Dr. Sharpe said extra programs will be scheduled for low income areas where malnutrition, overcrowded housing, and poor sanitation contribute to the spread of TB infection.

Kappa Hostess

The Kappa Kappa Gammas will meet for sewing and projects on Tuesday, January 5, at the home of Mrs. Harry Oppenlander, 16 Benjamin West avenue.

Police And Fire News

A 24-year-old Conshohocken man was fined $30 for reckless driving and held under $300 bond for court on a charge of turning out his automobile lights to avoid identification, in a hearing at 8 a.m. Wednesday, December 23. The man had been held in the borough jail since 1:45 a.m. when Sergeant William Weidner and Patrolman Edward Burgett nabbed him when his car went out of control as he turned left into Swarthmore avenue after a chase up Chester road. The policemen were in the patrol car at Fairview and Chester roads when the other car sped past them. They said the man turned off his lights at Harvard avenue and again at College avenue in an effort to elude the pursuing officers.

The Fire Company was called to a car fire in front of 6 College avenue at 4:30 p.m. the same day but Patrolman John Wesley had quelled the blaze with the police car extinguisher. At 2 p.m. the cars of James Armstrong, Morton and George Wahlreich, Bay Harbor, Fla., were slightly damaged when they sideswiped while passing each other on the College driveway near Cedar lane.

Six local teenage boys apprehended in an automobile for loitering and creating a disturbance near a home on Marietta avenue where a party was in progress at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, were interviewed by a local magistrate along with their parents. Three of the boys were discharged and the others voluntarily surrendered their drivers licenses to the magistrate for a month, as penalty.

At 3:15 p.m. Thursday the cars of Ann Poole, 415 Swarthmore avenue, and Thomas Coyle, Marcus Hook were traveling south on Chester road. Police said the Coyle car skidded into the rear of the Poole vehicle as the latter attempted a left turn into the business section. Damage was slight. No injuries were reported.

At 6:20 p.m. Thomas Hughes, was driving north on Park avenue and Edward Dick, east on Yale avenue, when their cars collided at the intersection of the two streets. The Dick car then knocked down a fence at the Cottman home, 315 Yale avenue. Both men live in Philadelphia. Both cars required towing.

Police answered a call for oxygen at 12 Wellesley road at 12:30 a.m. Christmas when Calvin Naylor was fatally stricken. Taken to Taylor Hospital in the Millmont ambulance Naylor was pronounced dead on arrival.

A two-year-old Muhlenberg boy who lives at 405 Harvard avenue was found almost before he was lost on Christmas Day. At 11:50 a.m. he was found and turned over to police by the George Koelle family, 132 Park avenue. At 12:15 a member of his household came into the police station to claim him.

Pastor John C. Kulp, president of the Philadelphia Conference Board of Evangelism, will be attending the annual meeting of the Council of Evangelism of the General Board of Evangelism in Chicago from January 4 to 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wendel entertained at an open house at their home on Cornell avenue on Sunday.

High School Beats Collingdale 54-38

Swarthmore High School's basketball team rebounded from two straight defeats to a resounding victory over Collingdale by the score of 54 to 38. Then the Garnets ran into a talent laden Alumni team who came from behind to down the younger Garnets by the score of 54 to 49.

In the Collingdale game the home town boys left the court at half time with a 24-21 narrow lead, then came back with an outstanding team defensive effort which held the Collis to 6 field goals in the second half. Co-Captain Jerry Stauffer led all scorers with 25 points by shooting 12 for 20 from the floor to end the game with a remarkable 60% average. Co-Captain Russ Jones again led the rebounders with 10 as Swarthmore won the battle of the boards over a taller Collingdale team by the count of 32 to 23. Bob Williams playing a fine all around game, clipped in with 11 points. Scrapy Sam Caldwell had 7, Jeff Innis 5, Rich McKernan 2, and Russ Jones 4 to add to the Swarthmore victory.

An Alumni rally in the second half, sparked by two 6'6" graduates of the class of 1964, John O'Neill and Steve Bell; Captain of Urstus' Varsity Butch Hoffman (class of 1961); Terry Innis and Roger Anthony (class of 1962) was too much for the smaller Garnets to handle. Big John O'Neill now playing for West Chester's freshmen team led all scorers with 18 points and Jeff Innis led the Varsity team with 16 points. All members of both teams saw action.

Playing for the Varsity were Jerry Stauffer, Russ Jones, Jeff Innis, Bob Williams, Rich McKernan, Sam Caldwell, Bill Speers, Tom Topping, Bill Crawford, Ed Michener. Playing for the Alumni were class of 1961 - Steve Hansell, Dick Jackson, Ralph Kletzien, Butch Hoffman; class of 1962 - Jim Meyers, Roger Anthony, Mal Anthony, Terry Innis; class of 1963 - Graham Patterson, Jerry Clothier, Ron Hoge, Bob Bennett; class of 1964 - Tom DeLapp, Frank Pierson, Mark Good, Russ Lewis, Dick McCurdy, Steve Bell, John O'Neill.

Next Tuesday night the Garnet will travel to Chester for their first league game of the season.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Brink of Vassar avenue entertained at an open house for several friends and neighbors at their home on Sunday.

FILMS TO DEFINE COMMUNISM

"What is Communism?" is a 3-film presentation which will be sponsored by the Swarthmore Committee for Conservative Action Thursday, January 7, 8 p.m. at Whittier House on the Swarthmore College Campus.

The three films, each less than 15 minutes, are narrated by Herb Philbrick, a former agent for the F.B.I. The subjects covered by the films are "What is Communism?", "What is the difference between Communism and Socialism?" and "What can you do?"

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting sponsored by the Swarthmore Committee for Conservative Action as a part of the Committee's information and education program.

The Committee quotes from House Document 619, Committee on Foreign Affairs: "The Strategy and Tactics of World Communism" in urging attendance. "If we could first know where we are, and whither we are tending, we could better judge what to do and how to do it. We have not known clearly in recent years where we were in relation to communism, nor whither we were tending in relation to communism, and we have in consequence not known very well what to do nor how to do it."

GRANDPARENTS

AIN'T WHAT THEY USED TO BE... They're no longer old-timers. It's not that grandparenthood occurs sooner today than it once did. (It still takes about 50 years to get a third generation started) ... it's just that today's grand-parents are able to work better, play harder ... and live longer than their grand-parents before them.

Providing the better medicine and treatment techniques that increase longevity today—and will stretch it even further—is the job of the health team: physicians, pharmacists, pharmaceutical manufacturers, and other health professionals.

One day, great-grandparents won't be old-timers either.

ELMER F. ZEBLY SERVICES SAT. Police Chief Stricken Suddenly Tuesday

The community was shocked Tuesday by the sudden death of its police chief, Elmer F. Zebly. Services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Robert Moreland Funeral Home, Ninth and Main streets, Traylor. Interment will be in Lawn Croft Cemetery, Boothwyn, by the side of his wife, Frances Jane, a member of the Borough's Community Nursing Service who died in October, 1963.

Zebly had continued on duty although he had not felt well for over a week. At 12:40 p.m. Tuesday he drove the police car to the office of a local physician for a physical examination.

The physician wanted him to go to Taylor Hospital in an ambulance but Zebly had Patrolman John Wesley drive him there. He died at 1:30 p.m. while receiving external cardiac massage shortly after arriving and being placed in bed.

Born in July, 1910, in Bethel Township, where Zebly Corners is named for an earlier member of his family, Zebly was a deputy game protector with the Pennsylvania Game Commission before joining the Swarthmore police force on March 15, 1942. He was promoted to the rank of sergeant on March 1, 1946, made acting chief on February 15, 1963, following the retirement of former chief Thomas Bateman, and received permanent appointment six months later.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by five children: Mary Lou and Peggy at home; Scott of Aberdeen, Md.; Paul of West Hartford, Conn.; David of Springfield; by nine grandchildren; and by her mother Mrs. Ethel Gilmer, Hot Springs, Ark.

Memorial services will be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Patterson Funeral Home in Media. Interment will be private.

Surviving besides a daughter Judy, at home, are three sons and a daughter by a previous marriage, Earl in Alaska, Robert in Texas and Leroy in Maine, members of the Army and Air Force, and Mrs. Elma Turk, a Baptist missionary in Manila, Philippines. Eight grandchildren also survive.

It was announced that an autopsy performed Tuesday revealed death was caused by an acute myocardial infarction.

Three directors of the Swarthmore Public Library will be elected to three year terms on the board at the annual election in the Library on Saturday, January 23, during Library hours 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Monday, January 25 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 2 to 8 p.m.

All Borough residents or taxpayers of voting age may vote. Ballots will be counted at the Annual Meeting of the Swarthmore Public Library Association which will open at 8 p.m., January 25 in the Legion Room, Borough Hall.

Four residents have properly filed to stand as candidates for the three posts: Mrs. Robert Boulter, Mrs. Robert R. Hopkins, Mrs. Walker Penfield, (incumbent) and Howard H. Williams (incumbent).

Mrs. Boulter has been the full-time Public School Librarian since 1936. She is a graduate of Penn State with a Library Degree from Columbia University. She is a member of the Philadelphia Suburban Library Association and of the American Library Association. She hopes to serve the Public Library through greater cooperation from the School's point of view and in alerting the Library to the ever changing approach to the school's subject matter.

Mrs. Boulter has a son Douglas in eighth grade and has been active in Cub Scouting and in school parent groups. The Boulter home is on Riverview road.

Mrs. Hopkins is a graduate of Swarthmore High School and Swarthmore College in 1939. She has been in business with her husband at The Fountain for 13 years and prior to that with her father at Michael's Pharmacy. She is an avid Public Library reader. She has a son Boyd Anderson Hopkins attending Denison University, Granville, O.

Mrs. Penfield has been a resident of the Borough for 19 years. She has served two non-consecutive terms on the Public Library Board, leaving it to serve the Swin Club in its beginning years as president. Twice during her terms as Library Director, she came to its rescue, first during a staff emergency when she resigned as a Library assistant and again when the board treasurer resigned due to a long absence and she was drafted for the position. She has served on its Finance, Library Practices, Property and Publicity committees. She has two daughters, Karen Schloesser in college and Miss Jeanne Schloesser, employed. With them she was active in Girl Scout work in the Borough. Her first husband, the late C. Dudley Schloesser, was a member of Borough Council.

Cites Growing Vandilism

To the Editor: As a resident of Swarthmore for over thirty years, I am adding my protest to those of other citizens against the growing vandilism in our community. On New Year's morning, I found that my model covered bridge, which stood on a pole in the front yard, had been pried from its base and thrown on the ground. The woodwork had been split off and the smaller pieces were splintered. This is the third time that this has happened in two and a half years.

As a covered bridge hobbyist and a member of the several societies organized in various sections of the country for their preservation, I engaged an old time craftsman in New Hampshire to make a replica of the Honeymoon Bridge which has stood at the edge of the little town of Jackson, N.H., since 1876. On moving from the hill to an apartment on Park avenue, this sturdy little 20' model was placed near the walk, securely fastened to a pole with bolts. I cannot understand the motivation for such wanton destruction of valuable property. Can there be a sense of pleasure or satisfaction in such an act? If so, there is something vitally lacking in the education of our youths, who seem more and more impelled to tear down and destroy rather than to build and create. Evidence of this characteristic may be seen from very early age, and in some it persists and even increases past teen-age. Must we accept this as a necessary part of their modern sophistication? I hope not, but do not know the antidote. This same defecation is evidenced in the destruction of our covered bridges which have stood unharmed for 100 years or more, until recently, when many have been laid low by the arsonist's torch. In nearby Chester County alone, five bridges have been so destroyed in the past four years, two at Hallowe'en. In only one case were the vandals apprehended, and they were found to be younger members of a nearby fire department who were looking for thrills!

What can be done to instill in our youth the significance and value of our American Heritage which has made this country the greatest in the world? The answer to this problem is not an easy one.

Sincerely, Ray Wilson

Asks Parents' Help

To the Editor: I should like to make a plea to parents of teen-aged children to prevent their youngsters from indulging in what seems to be their favorite indoor sport: making anonymous telephone calls to their elders to annoy them. During this last school vacation I was called twice: once by a boy pretending to be an interviewer from some company; and once at one o'clock at night. When I wakened and rushed to the phone, fearing one of my relatives had met with disaster, I heard an unintelligible jabber, and when I said, "What's that?" a laughing voice answered.

The people of Swarthmore and Rutledge can be justly proud of these fine young people. Sincerely, Dorothy M. Field (Mrs. David M.) Sally Shane (Mrs. John B.)

ed, "We're just deviling you!" Since I am not the only victim of this "sport", though perhaps the most recent one, I appeal for all of us to parents to forbid this unlawful activity and especially watchful during teenage gatherings in vacations or weekends.

On the back of the front cover of the phone book, the Bell Telephone Company prints this warning: "It is a misdemeanor for anyone to telephone anonymously to another person repeatedly for the purpose of annoying, molesting, or harassing such person or his family."

15-Minute Excursion

To the Editor: On Christmas Day our youngest child Mattias took an excursion on foot with one shoe off which lasted an exciting fifteen minutes. The events of the small child's recovery were reported in last week's Swarthmorean; and the level-headed, "careful" kindness which members of this community demonstrated is deeply appreciated by us. We would like to add an important series of two details.

Our boy was found by George Herschel, age 19, who subsequently took him to the nearest house of friends with small children, the Koelle family. Upon realizing that the parents would frantically be hunting for the child, George took it upon himself to find a member of the family and have the child's identity established.

We would like to thank George Herschel, the Koelle family and the Police officers for having averted a possible tragedy. We hope our tiny son will grow up to be an equally responsible teenager.

Police And Fire News

Monday afternoon of last week Patrolman James Davis apprehended two 12-year-old boys applying red and white paint over the animal murals which Rutgers Avenue school art pupils recently painted on the stone cliffs at Yale Avenue and Crum Creek. That evening parents of the boys were assessed nine dollars costs and the boys promised to try to clean off the paint they had applied.

John Gordon, Jr., Springfield, was taken to Dr. William Rital by Patrolman Peter Maginnis for treatment of a cut over his right eye, sustained at the Kiwanis basketball tournament in the College fieldhouse Wednesday night, December 30.

A Philadelphia man was arrested by Patrolman Edward Burchett for reckless driving at Chester and Fairview road at 2:27 a.m. Sunday, December 27. An 18-year-old Swarthmore boy arrested in November for reckless driving and operating without eye-glasses on a restricted license, was given hearing December 30. He was fined $25 on the latter charge.

At 3:34 a.m. last Thursday, a head-on collision occurred in the railroad underpass on Chester road between the cars of James Schmidt, Jr., 20, of Broadmill, traveling north and Richard Taylor, 21, of Philadelphia, going south. Police said Taylor told them he fell asleep. Gerald Marsco, Philadelphia, a passenger in the Taylor car suffered a cut lip and chin. Both cars required towing.

Firemen were called to 6 Crest Lane by a television set fire at 6:55 p.m. New Year's Day. Police assisted the Milmont ambulance when it came at 11:10 p.m. Tuesday to take Mrs. Hugh O. Thayer to the Taylor Hospital after she had been suddenly stricken at her home 625 North Chester road.

Needlework Guilds Give to Nursing Service

Swarthmore Needlework Guild contributed a total of 1271 garments to the Community Nursing Service, Delaware County, it was announced recently.

At the same time, it was announced that Aidan contributed 68, Lansdowne 829, Lima 65, Marple 118, Media 128, Newtown Square 67, Ridley Park 145, Ridley Township 288, Sharon Hill 108, and Springfield 150. In all the 11 guilds donated 3256 garments to the nursing service; they will be given out by staff nurses as the need arises throughout the year.

Needlework Guilds have been in existence, with little public recognition, for almost 80 years. Started in England, after a mine disaster, the idea was brought to this country and initiated in Philadelphia, where National headquarters are still located.

Traditionally, two garments of each kind are requested as donations from members. Originally, these were all handmade, hence the name of the Guilds. Today, most are purchased with financial contributions, but there are many women who knit and sew throughout the year, presenting their handwork for distribution to various charities, chosen by the individual Guilds, during the pre-holiday season.

Holiday Cheer Comes To Taylor Hospital

Thirteen Cadet Girl Scouts of Troop 683, with their leader Mrs. Edgar E. Wrege brought a little holiday cheer to Taylor Hospital recently when they sang carols for the patients. They and the Lelper Presbyterian Church are only two of the many community organizations in the area adding brightness to the hospital in Ridley Park.

In the hospital's lobby is a large lighted wreath, the gift of the Swarthmore Garden Club. Christmas tray favors, napkin holders and polka-dot place mats have been contributed by cub and girl scouts. Place cards were designed by members of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Norwood.

A visit from Santa was a special treat for pediatric patients by the Business Men's Association of Ridley Park and Clarks Summit, Pennsylvania Railroad station master. Santa distributed candy canes, toys and comic books to the children.

Also, the Riverside Youth Association from Crozer Seminary and the Ridley Manor Junior Garden Club sang carols and distributed gifts.

Others scheduled to sing carols were: Cub Scout Troop 45, Glenolden; the Luther League, St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Ridley Park; St. Matthews Lutheran Church Choir, Springfield; and Girl Scout Troop 564, Folsom.

Members of the Crusader African Violet Society brought gifts to indigent patients with Mrs. John Tench, Springfield, heading the project.

No Rancher's Life For Beagle

Tiny, the beagle puppy which was patted by President Johnson when he visited Swarthmore College last June, will remain in Swarthmore instead of going with the President. The decision was revealed Tuesday in a letter received from Luci Johnson by Tiny's owner, 14-year-old Sandra Peirsof of Lafayette Avenue.

Sandra had written to the President on November 29 immediately after reading in a newspaper of the death of one of the two White House beagles, "Her". She offered the puppy, which is the daughter of the Peirsof's champion beagle Val-halla's Cimarron Rose and now 10 months old, saying, "I am a tall high school girl and she is fond of me, so I think she would be very happy with your daughters."

The reply from Luci said, "My family and I are touched by your sympathetic message about the loss of our beagle 'Her'. The knowledge that friends like you share our grief is comforting. Although your generosity in offering a pet to take 'Her's' place is kind at this time, we feel a double amount of affection and attention to our two remaining pets, Blanco and 'Tim'. This will make them happier than a companion. This, in no manner, detracts from our appreciation of your offer. Instead, we would be very happy if you would give some child in your community or

GARNET DOWNS Chichester 50-44 To Play Undeclared N. P. Tonight, 6:45

Swarthmore High School opened league play with a typical section three thriller by downing Chichester 50 to 44 Tuesday night. With Chichester playing position basketball and the Garnets shooting off, the first half ended with Swarthmore out in front 16 to 15.

The Garnets came out in the third quarter with a pressing defense combined with outstanding shooting by Co-Captain Jerry Stauffer which increased the lead to six points.

Then, in the fourth quarter Chichester went into a pressing defense which resulted in the Garnets going to the foul line and making 10 for 12 to wrap up the game which ended by the score of 50 to 44. Highlights of the game were:

Jerry Stauffer's clutch shooting and game high of 18 points; Co-Captain Russ Jones' 17 rebounds, seven for eight from the foul line, seven covers and 11 points; Jeff Innis' holding Chichester's high scoring to 7 points while scoring 15 points himself; Bob Williams' seven rebounds, good defensive work and 6 points; Sam Caldwell's outstanding defense and three assists; Dick McCormack's clutch play in the fourth quarter; outstanding team effort by all.

Tonight the Garnets travel to Nether Providence to take on the 1963-64 champs of Section three who have an undefeated record of 8-0 at the present time. Nether Providence, which has been picked to retain the Section three championship, have six varsity performers of last year's team returning.

Coach Don Henderson and the team are up for the challenge of being the first team to defeat N.P.

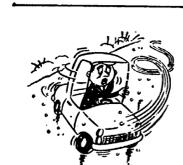

As always, a sell-out crowd is expected. Come early! J.V. game begins at 6:45 p.m.

He is the first Rittenhouse Astronomical Society member to receive this medal.

Dr. van de Kamp addressed the organizations following the dinner on the subject of how astronomers detect the existence of planets they cannot see. From 1945-55, Dr. van de Kamp served as the first Program Director for Astronomy with the National Science Foundation and from 1957-61, as Director-at-Large of Kitt Peak National Observatory near Tucson, Ariz.

He received his first doctorate in astronomy from the University of California in 1925, and his second from the University of Groningen in The Netherlands in 1926.

Boro. Tax Rate May Rise 1 Mill Budget To Be Ready For Inspection Shortly

Swarthmore may expect a one-mill increase in its borough realty tax, said finance chairman Edward Cratsley at Monday night's meeting of Borough Council. Cratsley said he expects to have the 1965 budget ready for inspection in two weeks. The increase will cover a jump in street lighting costs from last year's $8,200 to $18,000 occasioned by increasing the wattage and adding more standards throughout the borough. The new mill would bring the total to 19 1/2.

Council passed a resolution expressing shock and grief at the sudden death of Police Chief Elmer Zebley last week. The resolution also expressed sympathy to his family and a testimonial to his service and to that of his late wife, a community nurse; his daughter, a missionary, and his sons in the armed forces.

It was decided to appeal the assessment on 431 Riverview road. The request of Karl Fox to build a room onto his home at 300 Yale avenue which would be 2 1/2 feet closer to the side line and 2 1/2 per cent more building for the lot size than regulation, was granted.

Council will meet again at 8 p.m. Thursday to formally award a contract to one of nine bidders on replacing a sanitary sewer along Yale avenue near Union avenue. Bids ranged from $9,397 downward to $5,938.

Neshaminy Contractors, Inc., Feasterville appeared in line as low bidder. Petition of a group of Thayer road and Ogden avenue residents for permission to retain the traditional light standards in that area, will also be heard Thursday. More modern standards were ordered last month.

Council reappointed Mrs. D. Reed Geer to a three-year term on the Tree Commission, William Gehring to a similar term on the Board of Adjustment, and John Schumacher to a one year term as collector of sewer rent.

WILLIAM G. WEIDNER

TO RECOMMEND WEIDNER FOR ACTING CHIEF

As the Swarthmorean went to press Wednesday, Mayor Charles G. Thatcher stated that he would recommend to Borough Council at its meeting Thursday, January 14, the appointment of Sgt. William G. Weidner to the position of Acting Chief of Police of the Borough of Swarthmore.

Harry G. Smith, president of Swarthmore Borough Council, stated that the members of Council had indicated that they would wholeheartedly endorse the Mayor's recommendation.

Sgt. Weidner joined the local police force as a patrolman in 1952 after two years' experience on the Ridley Township police force. After attending several basic police schools, he was appointed sergeant seven years ago.

Born in 1924 in Woodlyn, he entered the United States Army in December, 1942 and served with the Army Engineers Corp for two years in the South Pacific and for three months served in Occupation Duty in Japan, which began on September 10 (The Treaty was signed September 2).

He was discharged with rank of sergeant in January, 1946. He then resumed apprenticeship in marine copper-smithing at the Sun Shipyard which he had begun before entering the service. Upon its completion, he joined the Ridley Township Police force.

He and Mrs. Weidner purchased their home on Park avenue two years ago.

N. P. Tonight, 6:45

Swarthmore High School opened league play with a typical section three thriller by downing Chichester 50 to 44 Tuesday night. With Chichester playing position basketball and the Garnets shooting off, the first half ended with Swarthmore out in front 16 to 15. The Garnets came out in the third quarter with a pressing defense combined with outstanding shooting by Co-Captain Jerry Stauffer which increased the lead to six points.

Then, in the fourth quarter Chichester went into a pressing defense which resulted in the Garnets going to the foul line and making 10 for 12 to wrap up the game which ended by the score of 50 to 44. Highlights of the game were:

Jerry Stauffer's clutch shooting and game high of 18 points; Co-Captain Russ Jones' 17 points, seven rebounds and three assists; Rick Stockman's clutch play in the fourth quarter; outstanding team effort by all.

Tonight the Garnets travel to Nether Providence to take on the 1963-64 champs of Section three who have an undefeated record of 8-0 at the present time. Nether Providence, which has been picked to retain the Section three championship, have six varsity performers of last year's team returning.

May Rise 1 Mill
Budget To Be Ready
For Inspection Shortly

Swarthmore may expect a one-mill increase in its borough realty tax, said finance chairman Edward Cratsley at Monday night's meeting of Borough Council. Cratsley said he expects to have the 1965 budget ready for inspection in two weeks. The increase will cover a jump in street lighting costs from last year's $8,200 to $18,000 occasioned by increasing the wattage and adding more standards throughout the borough. The new mill will bring the total to 19 1/2.

Council passed a resolution expressing shock and grief at the sudden death of Police Chief Elmer Zebly last week. The resolution also expressed sympathy to his family and a testimonial to his service and to that of his late wife, a community nurse; his daughter, a missionary, and his sons in the armed forces.

It was decided to appeal the assessment on 431 Riverview road. The request of Karl Fox to build a room onto his home at 300 Yale avenue which would be 2 1/2 feet closer to the side line and 2 1/2 per cent more building for the lot size than regulation, was granted.

Council will meet again at 8 p.m. Thursday to formally award a contract to one of nine bidders on replacing a sanitary sewer along Yale avenue near Union avenue. Bids ranged from $9,397 downward to $5,938. Neshaminy Contractors, Inc., Feasterville appeared in line as low bidder. Petition of a group of Thayer road and Ogden avenue residents for permission to retain the traditional light standards in that area, will also be heard Thursday. More modern standards were ordered last month.

Council reappointed Mrs. D. Reed Geer to a three-year term on the Tree Commission, William Gehring to a similar term on the Board of Adjustment, and John Schumacher to a one year term as collector of sewer rent.

25-YEAR-OLD 5 & 10 CLOSES DOORS JAN. 1 B.J. Hoy Retires

From Bus. District

The Delaware County Planning Commission's recent prediction of problems which will beset Swarthmore's business district were borne out by a quarter-century business on a prime corner closing its doors last week. Varied reasons were given for the closing of B. J. Hoy, Inc. 5 and 10 cent store at Park avenue and the Pennsylvania railroad station.

Former store manager John Flounders of Media and Aubrey Y. Smith who owns the building and occupies one of five apartments above it agreed the chief reason was the one foreseen by the Planning Commission -- the growing public tendency to patronize larger stores in new, nearby shopping centers where variety is greater, price sometimes less, and parking free. However, they cited undesirable congregating of school-age boys and girls in and outside the store and pilfering as other factors.

Smith said, "My father, Charles, built the building just vacated by Swarthmore's 5 and 10 about 1898 for his own meat and produce market and living quarters. He had 27 employees which was a considerable number for the early 1900's. Twenty years later he renovated the building, renting it to the American Stores Company and becoming postmaster and later a realtor before he died in 1933. An A & P market followed the A.C.M. and Hoy succeeded the A & P on March 10, 1939. The 5 and 10's business had been falling off during the past few years, especially after a similar store opened a larger modern building at the Springfield shopping center a mile south on Chester road. The owners decided not to renew the lease when it expired the first week in January. With shopping centers the thing of today it looks as though the local merchant might just disappear," Smith concluded.

However, it is sure the building will be occupied again in a couple of months. Several concerns have expressed interest in it. Of course, it is necessary to restrict its use to the kind of business which will be compatible with the apartments above, and some time will be required for renovations to adapt it to the new tenant's desires.

William R. Hoy of Newcastle, Del., president of the firm since the death of his father Bernard two years ago, discontinued the youth problem.

"This happens everywhere and actually it is better controlled in Swarthmore than in most places," he said. "The real problem is that the stores are too small and outmoded. All small town independent business folk blame everything but themselves for their declining business. They should recognize that the American housewife has become accustomed to putting her children in a shopping cart and pushing it through a store as she chooses her wares. We are now buying carts for some of our 5 and 10's. This requires wider aisles."

"We disliked leaving Swarthmore but no one can afford to remain where he is losing money. We see the same lack of foresight and clinging to quaint but obsolete buildings in other small towns. A few property owners are willing to rebuild but what is needed is a cooperative community effort between landlords and business owners. There must be a willingness to spend money now to create a future return. And it can't be done piece meal." "These old business areas should be torn down completely. In some places where available space is small rebuilding has provided parking on the street-level roof of a protected all-weather shopping mall to which

RESOLUTION OF SWARTHMORE BOROUGH COUNCIL

The Swarthmore Borough Council feels that due note should be made in its minutes and records of the great shock and grief felt by the community at the sudden death, resulting from myocardial infarction, of Elmer F. Zebley, its Chief of Police. He had been a member of the Swarthmore Police for nearly 23 years, 17 as Sergeant, 2 as Chief.

Like other members of his family, Chief Zebley was devoted to community service. His late wife, Frances Jane, had been a member of the Community Nursing Service, until her death in 1963. His daughters are in social and missionary work; his sons are in the armed forces of the United States. Mr. Zebley was also active in fraternal organizations, and in the State and County Police Chiefs Associations.

A fearless officer at all times, Chief Zebley strove constantly to improve the quality of law enforcement in the borough. He worked closely with the Mayor, attended regular meetings of Borough Council as well as numerous meetings of the Committee on Public Safety. The Solicitor attests to his good knowledge of criminal law and procedure.

We therefore take this action not only as expressing our regret at Chief Zebley's untimely death but as a tribute to the police force he headed, upon which the safety and order of the borough so largely depends.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, that this tribute be recorded in the Minutes of Council, and copies thereof be delivered to members of the family of Chief Zebley.

PASSED this 11th day of January, 1965.

Travels To Media For Game Tonight

Last Friday night, the Nether Providence gym was filled to capacity with a cheering crowd of students and adults. Those who were not turned away at the door witnessed an exciting, well-played basketball game which the Garnets lost by the count of 53 to 43.

In the fourth quarter Russ Jones and Bob Williams were forced to leave the game with five personal fouls. Although their replacements did a fine job, this was certainly a blow to the Swarthmore team. Nether Providence, one of the two undefeated teams in Delaware County held a narrow lead of three points at the end of the half and the third quarter. It wasn't until the fourth quarter that Harry Jones and Don Hellala helped to put the game away for N.P.

Highlights of the game were: The sniping of Jerry Stauffer and Jeff Innis from outside the N.P. zone; Bob Williams' turning jump shot from the foul line; Russ Jones' work under the boards and fine defensive play; big Sam Caldwell's 10 rebounds (Sam is 5'10") and aggressive play; Rick McKernan's fine work as a reserve in the fourth quarter; Jon Speers' improvement in all phases of the game; good team defense.

Tuesday afternoon found the little Garnet upping their league mark to 2-1 as they downed Sun Valley by the score of 57 to 37. Although the Garnet had the lead through out the first half, it was in the third quarter that they really caught fire and ran away from Sun Valley. With an outstanding team defense set off by Jerry Stauffer's five field goals from all angles, the Garnets outscored the guests by 18 to 1 for the quarter.

Russ Jones led the rebounders with 13 and scored 7 field goals for his best shooting game of the season. Jerry Stauffer was all over the court making seven recoveries and scoring 21 points. Other scorers were Jeff Innis (7) Rick McKernan (5) Ed Michener (2) Bob Williams (6) Ken Stead, playing his first varsity game (2). Tom Topping also was back in action after a two-week lay off because of a cut hand.

Tonight the Garnets travel to Media to play a fast and scrappy Media team in the famous brick pit. Because of the limited seating capacity Swarthmore fans are reminded to arrive early.

J.V. Basketball

During the past week Swarthmore's Junior Varsity opened their league season with a 48-47 loss to Chichester and 51-32 and 41-35 wins over Nether Providence and Sun Valley.

In the Nether Providence game the team played its finest game of the season up to this time. In a very solid team effort there were no standout performers as everyone contributed to the fine play of the team. Jim Elliott and Ken Stead

PLAY READING GROUP TO MEET JAN. 28

The Play Reading Group of the Woman's Club of Swarthmore will meet on Thursday morning, January 28, at 9 o'clock at the home of the drama chairman, Mrs. Oscar J. Gilchrist, 208 Vassar Avenue.

Letters To The Editor

The opinions expressed below are those of the individual writers. All letters to The Swarthmorean must be signed. Pseudonyms may be used if the writer is known to the Editor. Letters will be published only at the discretion of the Editor.

Cites Qualifications

To the Editor: I wonder how many times the average Swarthmore citizen ever stops to think how blessed we are as a community in having generous, qualified, experienced persons among us to fill the various local elective offices, none of whom ever receive any salary for so doing.

Take, for example, the slate for vacancies on the board of the local public library. Each candidate would serve us well. As a former teacher myself, and also as one who has served more than one term on this very same library board, I want to point out the wisdom of electing a member of the public high school staff.

Mrs. Robert Boulter is superbly qualified, and would fill the need of a liaison member between school and community excellently. Her willingness to lend her practical knowledge, to acquaint the Board with specific reading requirements made at the schools, to assist in making policy which may prove the best in attempting to solve its specific difficulties with regard to limited space, and limited funds should be accepted with great gratitude.

Thank you, Anne Boulter, for being willing to serve us. Sincerely, Alice Fricke Hoot (Mrs. Henry I. Hoot) the hospital thru a $2,500,000 bond issue underwritten by the County Commissioners. The approval of this plan will cost the County taxpayers and Commissioners absolutely nothing. The Women's Auxiliaries pledge of over $40,000 yearly will pay the interest on the bonds, which will in turn provide working capital for the Hospital. Our own small Auxiliary, thru the cooperation and generosity of Borough residents, has contributed almost $6,000 in the five years of its existence. If the plan is not approved the Hospital will close before next summer.

It is our hope that you will take time out from your busy lives, to write to one, or all three of the following County Commissioners, urging their approval of the bond issue.

2000 Miles of Trail Hiking Boys' Appalachian Dream

"Yippeee! I've got my new camera and my pack is all ready to go. Let's hurry Mom! And I can use the new equipment I got for Christmas." This was at three o'clock in the morning, during the last week of 1964. Could this nine year old boy be dreaming? Well, maybe, but he was wide awake and raring to go.

It began as a dream in the summer of 1963 when Marc Boyer and his parents Clarence and Ethelnye Boyer hiked 112 miles in the New England area with James Hornaday and Dr. Frederick Luehring. Now the dream was a goal and the Boyer's aim to be the first family trio to hike together the entire length of the 2000 mile long Appalachian Trail. And Marc may be the first teen-ager to have this distinction when he reaches the southern end of the Trail at Springer Mountain, Georgia.

With an early start they drove about 100 miles and were on the Trail beyond the Delaware Water Gap by nine in the morning. Their spirits were as high as the temperature was low - 16 degrees. But they were well protected with down-lined nylon garments and good hiking shoes, and in their four days of hiking 45 miles over the New Year week and they felt no discomfort.

The blowing snow pricked their cheeks and invigorated them. The going was rugged in many places where it was steep and rocky, but this only increased the challenge to be first class mountaineers. Marc was particularly interested in taking colored pictures in order to have a record of his hikes, and he very carefully parceled out the eight exposures on the roll of film. He learned to identify the marks of the various woody animals and watched with delight the flight of winter birds.

The trees bare of their leaves and silhouetted against the sky on the hill tops made possible views of endless miles in every direction when it was clear. The Boyers were equally awed the next day when they climbed the Kittatinny Mountain Ridge leading over the highest point in New Jersey where the rolling clouds and boiling fog obscured completely the world below them. Really, this was wonderful, they said - getting away from the busy business of daily living - the sense of aloneness - just the three of them and their creator - the stillness broken only by the sound of crunching snow and the wind. It was music in the thin air. They thought the spirit of Hamlet Garland's poetry, which they repeated, was as pertinent to winter as to summer hiking:

"Do you fear the force of the wind, The slash of the rain? Go face them and fight them Be savage again. Go hungry and cold like the wolf, Go wade like the crane. The palms of your hands will thicken, The skin of your face will tan, You'll grow ragged and weary, and swarthy, But you'll walk like a man!"

The Boyer's Thanksgiving week end hike of 20 miles covered on the A.T. to more than 350 miles. They plan to devote their vacation periods to realizing their ambition to complete the Trail and to take time along the way to enjoy all the wonders and beauties of the out-of-doors in the changing seasons of the year. As they progress they will have to travel further to pick up the Trail where they left off on previous hikes.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyer are members of the Philadelphia Trail Club, and Clarence has traversed some portions of the A.T. more than once. He is

Heart Ass'n Offers Snow Shoveling Hints

Snow can be beautiful, but, according to the Heart Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania, it can also be dangerous. Area residents are urged to use care and caution when it comes to the arduous task of snow shoveling.

A shovelful of snow weighs about four pounds, which means shoveling ten loads a minute puts the same strain on your heart as walking up three flights of stairs in the same time period. When the snow is "wet," and most times it is, it makes the task equal to seven flights of stairs in one minute.

Many residents are not aware of just how strenuous snow shoveling can be, so the Heart Association offers the following shoveling hints:

A silicone lubricant should be applied to the shovel to prevent the snow from sticking. Use the entire body to lift the shovel, not just the arms. Get the job done before eating, or wait at least an hour after eating. Take a break every few minutes and if your neighbor is shoveling, chat with him - help him help his heart.

Looking To The Future Of Delaware Valley

The Philadelphia Suburban Water Company considers it a privilege to have played an important role in the steady growth, expansion and prosperity of the suburbs of Philadelphia.

To satisfy the increasing needs of its about 800,000 customers, Philadelphia Suburban has invested more than $5,000,000 annually in new plant and services during the last decade.

To show our continued confidence in the future growth of this wonderful region, the Company plans to make another substantial investment this year to strengthen and extend its facilities for the benefit of all.

Bag Snatched

Mrs. W. Edward Medford of 514 South Chester road, had her pocketbook and bag of treasury records for the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church snatched from her as she was walking along Chester road near Harvard avenue, enroute to the W.A. executive board meeting shortly before 10 Wednesday morning. Stolen were $17 and change plates in her own pocketbook, and three years of records and a checkbook in the bag. She continued on to the church and telephoned police, describing the man as 5'10" slender young Negro wearing a short jacket.

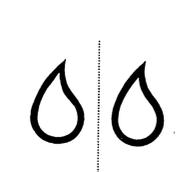

About an hour later an elderly woman reported that a man answering the description had snatched her bag at Mulberry and Surrey lanes, Bowling Green. When she returned home later in the day she found her

Co. Bar Ass'n Endorses Judges

The Delaware County Bar Association will hold a special meeting on January 22 at 4 p.m. to consider endorsing three incumbent county judges who have announced they will seek election to new 10-year terms this year.

The special meeting was called as the result of a petition signed by 40 lawyers, both Republicans and Democrats, calling for Bar Association endorsement of the three judges, Francis J. Catania, John V. Diggins and E. LeRoy vanRoden. Judges Catania and Diggins will seek reelection to the Court of Common Pleas, while Judge vanRoden will campaign to remain as president judge of the Orphans' Court.

In announcing their intention to seek reelection the three judges said they would campaign as a team "placing our collective record of achievement in the administration of justice in the courts of Delaware County before the electorate."

'Music Man' Captures All

Anyone for fun and enthusiasm without traveling further than the south side of Fairview road, should make the trip either tonight or tomorrow night without fail, as the "Music Man" winds up this weekend at the Players Club of Swarthmore.

Meredith Willson's musical comedy is a large order for amateur groups but as music hath charms, so do the Players and The Rose Valley Chorus have talents, and together the clubs produce a most enjoyable evening.

Maurice Webster, Jr., president of the Players, and the director and masterful organizer for the production, is assisted in his considerable choral by James A. Greene. Musical director and conductor is Henri Elkan, choreographer is Claire Holmstrom, band director is H. Lytton Jones, and accompanists are Dolores Bronecke and Julia H. Jones.

Others in this vast cast (we have it on authority - 28 speaking parts, 18 chorus voices, 12 dancers and seven directorial staff members) include: Michael P. Bag Snatched

Mrs. W. Edward Medford of 514 South Chester road, had her pocketbook and bag of treasury records for the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church snatched from her as she was walking along Chester road near Harvard avenue, enroute to the W.A. executive board meeting shortly before 10 Wednesday morning. Stolen were $17 and charge plates in her own pocketbook, and three years of records and a checkbook in the bag. She continued on to the church and telephoned police, describing the man as 5'10" slender young Negro wearing a short jacket.

About an hour later an elderly woman reported that a man answering the description had snatched her bag at Mulberry and Surrey lanes, Bowling Green. When she returned home later in the day she found her

Co. Bar Ass'n Endorses Judges

The Delaware County Bar Association will hold a special meeting on January 22 at 4 p.m. to consider endorsing three incumbent county judges who have announced they will seek reelection to new 10-year terms this year.

The special meeting was called as the result of a petition signed by 40 lawyers, both Republicans and Democrats, calling for Bar Association endorsement of the three judges, Francis J. Catania, John V. Diggins and E. LeRoy vanRoden. Judges Catania and Diggins will seek reelection to the Court of Common Pleas, while Judge vanRoden will campaign to remain as president judge of the Orphans' Court.

Inclusion of several prominent Delaware County Democratic attorneys among those signing the petition indicates that the three judges will receive bipartisan support in the forthcoming campaign.

In announcing their intention to seek reelection the three judges said they would campaign as a team "placing our collective record of achievement in the administration of justice in the courts of Delaware County before the electorate."

'Music Man' Captures All

Anyone for fun and enthusiasm without traveling further than the south side of Fairview road, should make the trip either tonight or tomorrow night without fail, as the "Music Man" winds up this weekend at the Players Club of Swarthmore.

Meredith Willson's musical comedy is a large order for amateur groups but as music hath charms, so do the Players and The Rose Valley Chorus have talents, and together the clubs produce a most enjoyable evening. Maurice Webster, Jr., president of the Players, and the director and masterful organizer for the production, is assisted in his considerable chores by James A. Greene. Musical director and conductor is Henri Ekan, choreographer is Claire Holmstrom, band director is H. Lytton Jones, and accompanists are Dolores Bronecke and Julia H. Jones.

Another charmer is Eileen Bannan, an assured and delightful Marian, the librarian. Florence Shields is refreshing as her mother. Leonard Mann and Dorothy K. Moore play the part of the mayor and his wife, H. William Blakeslee, Dan Kirk, Gary Furlong, Philip Hoffman and Bruce Nutting are the salesmen who open the musical with an effective bit of business. Carol Nicholson is Zanetta (whose pet expression is "Ye gods") and Robert Scull is her Tommy.

James Greene, Robert Manly, Francis Nicholson and Richard Hammer, as the bickering school directors turned by Harold's magic to a harmonious quartet become an anticipation for the audience. Others in this vast cast who have it on authority—28 speaking parts, 13 chorus voices, 12 dancers and seven directorial staff members include: Michael P. Smyth, Frank Reynolds, Glen Oneal, Jr., Peggy Chance, Anne Voigt, Jane Smyth and Lorraine Clark. Also John Parry, Judy Nicholson and Dawn Bronecke, delightful as young Winthrop Paroo, Amaryliss, and Gracie Shinn respectively. They alternate with Brent Smith, Beth Sanders and Betsy Scheuer.

Townspeople (and choristers) are Robin Bonter, Dolores Bronecke, Laura Denne, Janice Edwards, Diana Hickman, Pat Kratz, Betty Manley, Sally McFadden, Glen Oneal, Jr., Harry Osman, Karen Nolan, Anne Thomas and Jeanne Walters. Dancers are Donna Boller, Dottie Burkholder, Peggy Chance, Peggy Jane Dougherty, Valerie Fallon, Patricia Hamer, Susan Hidell, Sharon Holmstrom, Robert Hunn, Virginia Hunn, Doris Powell, Doris Sanders and Rosilyn Torchiana.

Contributing to the production are the area high school bands—Sun Valley, Swarthmore, Penncrest, Springfield, Interboro and Chichester. The Swarthmore Band will participate tonight, Sun Valley tomorrow night.

SCHOOL BOARD PLEDGES FINANCIAL SUPPORT FOR COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Protests Tax Assessments

The Swarthmore-Rutledge Union School District Tuesday night became the first to pledge financial support for a Delaware County community college. The seven-member board and District Superintendent Harry Kingham unanimously held that it is in the district's best interests to contribute funds to the cooperative establishment and operation of the proposed facility. "It is only by this kind of down-to-earth realistic action, not only saying we favor the thing but rolling up our sleeves and putting money where our mouth is that the proposal will get off the ground," said John Spencer, board president. "It is easy to say you want a thing but let someone else pay for it. It appears more doubtful every day that the County Commissioners will agree to sponsor the project without a referendum, and there is no assurance a referendum would succeed. I personally think a referendum is out of order since it would not be binding legally, only be a sort of opinion poll, and no matter how it turned out the Commissioners could interpret it anyway they liked to uphold whatever attitude they wanted to take."

Kingham said a community college in a district he formerly served, had convinced him that it brought many advantages to the individual student, the community at large, and local industry. Spencer continued, "Swarthmore's philosophy has always been that education is worth the cost. We are for the college for what it will offer to all in the area, not only for our own students most of whom might be interested in it only as the first two years of a full college career and have to transfer elsewhere for the balance instead of taking the terminal courses."

Kingham said he did not recall how many Swarthmore students had indicated interest in a community college when the County Superintendent's office made a survey last year, but that doubtless tabulations on all districts were available in Media. Board Secretary Dr. John Wigton commented, "I hope the action of this Republican community might light a fire under the two Republican Commissioners who hesitate to thoroughly support the venture."

The Board also decided to join Swarthmore Borough in its appeal against a lowered assessment on 431 Riverview road used as a parsonage for Christ Episcopal Church, Media. The drop was from $12,000 to $4500. The Board will ask the Delaware County Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes to notify it promptly whenever any change of $300 or more is made in an assessment. It said it only received an accounting of changes for this year's tax duplicate on Monday. Borough Assessor Samuel Althouse will also be asked to explain each of the many $500 to $1500

LIONS CONCERT SET IN MARCH

APPEAL GRANTED

Swarthmore Borough Council and School District were successful in an appeal against a greatly decreased assessment of a house at 431 Riverview road Wednesday, January 20, at a hearing before the Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes. The property, used as a parsonage for Christ Episcopal Church, Media, had been assessed for $12,000 last year. The drop was to $4500 on the basis of the building being used for religious purposes. No such reduction has been allowed on similar buildings within the borough. Borough Solicitor Clarence G. Myers said John Trevaskis, representing the Church, agreed to an assessment of $1,100 for the current year, an amount which had been recommended earlier by the assessor on the basis of condition of the structure.

PENNOCK BOOK RELEASED TODAY

J. Roland Pennock, professor and chairman of the department of political science at Swarthmore College, has collected five original essays in a new book, "Self-Government in Modernizing Nations." The book, published by Prentice-Hall, will be released January 22.

OPEN MEET AT CLUB TUESDAY WILL PRESENT ICL SPEAKER AT 2 P.M.

The Woman's Club of Swarthmore will present Mrs. Howard Davison of International Christian Leadership at an open meeting to be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the clubhouse. Mrs. Davison will speak on "This Nation Under God." ICL was formed in 1935 when a group of 19 Seattle, Wash., business men met at the invitation of Dr. Abraham Vereide to have a report and recommendations concerning the corruption which existed throughout the state. Through prayer and frank discussion they discovered a new strength for their personal lives; as a result the local government came under the control of morally responsible men. From this beginning the breakfast group ideas spread to other cities of Washington and along the coast. Also breakfast groups were formed in other leading cities who soon felt the impact of local leaders who began to seek God's guidance for their particular needs and problems. In 1942 a weekly breakfast group was formed in the House of Representatives and later in the Senate. Members of the Congress have met weekly to discuss their spiritual obligations in government, and to pray together for guidance. Today, International Christian Leadership is a world-wide fellowship of concerned men. In 1946 the movement spread to Europe where a World Congress is held biannually. Smoker To Head '66 Torch Drive United Fund Names Wallingford Man

Edward H. Smoker, Wallingford, will lead the 1966 Torch Drive of the United Fund next fall. President of the United Gas Improvement Company, his appointment as general chairman, man of the multi-million dollar health and welfare campaign was announced this week by George H. Brown, Jr., president of the Fund.

Smoker moves up the leadership ladder, having served as a vice chairman last fall, and as a member of the Chairman's Committee of 25 prominent business, civic and labor leaders. He was also a member of the campaign planning board. In accepting the campaign chairmanship, Smoker observed that the recent Torch Drive was the third in a row to exceed its goal and said it was imperative to continue this pattern of success if the needs of Torch Drive agencies and services are to be met adequately.

"During the past five campaigns," said Smoker, "a trend of increasing giving has been firmly established. Our objective now is to 'close the gap' between what we are now raising and the certified needs of approximately $15,000,000 required to provide services for more than a million and a half people served by Torch Drive agencies. As chairman, I shall concentrate on building a campaign organization to work toward this objective."

Smoker said he was satisfied that the Philadelphia area intends to provide the funds necessary to support its voluntary health and welfare agencies. "We simply must utilize all the resources available to us to assure greater participation, both in numbers and dollars, on the part of givers," Smoker declared.

The new chairman said that, beginning immediately, campaign leadership will lay the groundwork to assure another successful Torch Drive next fall. Smoker, who brings to his new post an extensive knowledge of United Fund operations, began his fund-raising activities for the old Community Fund in 1934 as a volunteer in the Drexel Hill area. He became affiliated with the United Fund in 1957, when he served as a division chairman in the major firms department. The following year he headed the department.

He is a trustee of the Fund and a member of its executive committee, and has also served on the administrative, fair share and campaign committees. In the 1964 Torch Drive, he served as chairman of the corporate gifts department. Associated with UGI for the past 35 years, Smoker was vice president in charge of operations when he was elected president on January 1, 1955.

A native of Columbia, Pennsylvania, Smoker is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, where he earned a B.S. degree. He also has M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Cincinnati.

Beside his activity in behalf of the United Fund, Smoker has other community and business affiliations. He is a trustee of the Delaware County Memorial Hospital and Franklin and Marshall College and is a member of the Nether Providence School Authority. He is a director of the Girard Trust Bank and the Old Philadelphia Development Corporation and a manager of the Franklin Institute. He is treasurer of the Middle States Lawn Tennis Association and a member of the Aronimink Golf Club, Idle Hour Tennis Club, the Union League and Middy Club.

In the professional field, Smoker is past president of the American and Pennsylvania Gas Associations and vice president of the International Gas Union and the Society of Gas Lighting. He is a member of the American Chemical Society and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. Smoker and his wife, the former Dorothy Conner, have two married daughters.

Police And Fire News

The Howard Kulp home at 871 Marietta avenue was entered, ransacked and burglarized during the family's absence from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday of last week. Entry was gained by breaking a small pane of glass in the front door. Contents of drawers were strewn throughout the upstairs and downstairs. Missing were a man's gold pocketwatch, several gold birthstone rings, and about $40 in cash which had been in a bedroom.

Police escorted the Media ambulance when it arrived at 2:30 a.m. Saturday to take Mrs. William B. Scher, 525 Cedar lane, to Lankenau Hospital for x-rays of back injuries sustained in a fall. Mrs. Scher returned home later that morning. Police called oil burner repairmen after reports of undue smoke emitting from the chimney of the new office building at 101 South Chester road at 1 a.m. Monday.

Icy streets were responsible for two automobile accidents Monday afternoon. At 4:05 Claudio Spies, 645 North Chester road, according to police, slid at the stop sign on Westdale avenue and collided with Janet Brennan, 415 Strath Haven avenue, who was traveling north on Rutgers avenue. At 4:50 Nicholas Linebaugh, Swarthmore College student, traveling south on Harvard skidded into Tommy Dimrosio of Malvern who was driving west on Yale avenue. Police said no injuries were reported and cars remained in operable condition.

The 400 block of Haverford place was closed to traffic early Monday evening while Water Company workmen repaired a broken main on the west side of the street. The main buckled the street and several small fountains issuing from it sent a river of water along the Drexel place corner. It was discovered and reported at 3:30 p.m. by Randolph Lee, 409 Haverford place. About 20 homes on the block were without water service from 4:30 to 10 p.m. while repairs were being made.

SOCIAL SECURITY

During 1964, the Chester social security office assisted 6500 persons in filing applications for all types of social security benefits, district manager, Herbert W. Gruber, said this week. This figure includes about 4100 retired persons, wives, widows, and children applying for monthly benefits, as well as 2400 applying for lump sum death payments.

Also, during 1964, 693 disabled workers applied for disability benefits and for 278 of their dependents - wives, minor children, and disabled adult children who were themselves disabled before age 18.

Approximately 41,000 persons in the Chester district are now receiving about 3 million dollars each month in old-age, survivors, and disability insurance payments.

Anyone having a question or wanting assistance on social security matters, Gruber said, is invited to get in touch with the social security office in Chester located in the Fidelity-Chester Building, 5th and Market streets. The telephone number is TR 4-5284.

Explains School Crisis

To the Editor:

This is the eve of crisis for the Swarthmore-Rutledge school system -- and for the community itself as well, since the two are completely interconnected.

On February 4 the State Board of Education will hear the appeal of this district objecting to its merger with Nether Providence, as decreed by the Delaware County Board of School Directors.

The facts of the case must be well known by now. From the outset, the Swarthmore-Rutledge Board could hear the call for reorganization as the death knell for a school system generally acknowledged to be one of the very finest in the state. At the same time, it was clear that the law (Act 299) does not require the merger of this district with another.

Since then, our board has taken all means at its command, first to forestall any merger proposal, then to protest and appeal against its execution. The public has been kept informed of each move and the reasons therefor.

Running through every phase of this school system - and forming the basis for the board's appeal - is a single concept: the Professional Approach to education.

This concept cannot be fully defined in a few words. But among other important attributes, the professional approach is prominently characterized by discernment. It distinguishes clearly between the mass and the individual, the superior and the ordinary, the fleeting and the permanent, the rule and the exception.

In Swarthmore-Rutledge, the professional approach is taken by the community in choosing school directors; by the board in establishing policy, levying taxes, constructing the school plant, employing administrators and teachers; by the staff in its devotion to fulfilling the educational needs of the individual students entrusted to its care.

The professional approach recognizes and responds to the need for teachers well trained in their particular fields of instruction, and for salaries commensurate with that training, with their teaching experience and their demonstrated ability. It precludes the use of a rigid salary schedule in favor of compensation based on merit.

The professional approach seeks out and embraces worthwhile new ideas and methods. But it does not flutter in every passing wind of doctrine, nor does it blindly grasp at new devices promoted as "the latest thing" or "adopted by other districts" or bait for attention by the press.

The professional approach permeates the entire educational program in Swarthmore-Rutledge. Among other things, it has led to grouping for instruction in all major fields; remedial and developmental reading programs, teaching specialists and guidance counselors in elementary grades as well as the high school.

The professional approach has meant long hours of devoted effort by qualified townspeople planning curriculum development and plant expansion, with the result that the school system provides a comprehensive program of education in up-to-date facilities that have been kept in pace with community growth.

The professional approach has led to a changeover from individual classroom book collections to a central library for the elementary school. A program of construction and remodeling is therefore now underway - not to relieve overcrowding (which doesn't exist) but to facilitate improved teaching practices for the primary and intermediate grades.

Traditional in Swarthmore-Rutledge, and not the least example of its professional approach, has been the courage to undergo exceptional taxation to assure the exceptional educational program.

The Pennsylvania State Legislature, too, evidenced the discerning viewpoint when it rejected the original reorganization law in favor of Act 299. The latter deliberately recognizes the need for differentiating among school districts by providing eight bases for exceptions to the general 4000-pupil minimum. A letter from Mr. Scranton to Mr. Edward Coslett of Swarthmore confirms the Governor's understanding, also, that "districts like that of Swarthmore shall be permitted to continue to render their services in the manner which they have found most effective."

Under the proposed merger, it is inevitable that control of education in Swarthmore-Rutledge will be removed from this district and handed over to another - merely to serve a fascination with bigness.

Is that the way to reward any community that has consistently exerted itself to build and support a school system of undoubted excellence?

COLLEGE STUDENTS WILL SPONSOR 3RD INTERCOLLEGIATE CONFERENCE

Students at Swarthmore College will hold the third intercollegiate conference on the weekend of February 12-14, to discuss "America, the New Europe, and the Atlantic Alliance."

United States Government officials, foreign government officials, military experts, and leading economists and political scientists from American universities and political institutes will be present to express their views and discuss problems with some 180 students from eastern colleges and universities.

The conference will focus on the basic question "Will the Atlantic System continue to exist and if so, in what form?"

Consideration of this issue will highlight the latest development in NATO, the newest policies of Gaullist France with its "Force de Frappe," the actions and objectives of the Labour Government in Britain, and the importance of the agricultural disputes in the European Common Market.

The Friday and Saturday keynote addresses will offer broad analyses of these issues, and the Saturday panel discussions and seminars are designed to provoke constructive debate and controversial appraisals of specific problems and trends within the Atlantic Community.

This conference will follow the tradition of the other two conferences of focusing students' attention on subjects both timely and important, but relatively undiscussed. The first conference, in 1962, explored the problems and feasibility of disarmament and arms control, and brought together top academic and government authorities in the field with 365 interested students from over 40 universities.

The conference considered "Democracy and Development in Latin America." The three-day weekend was attended by 370 delegates, representing 60 colleges. The visiting authorities are:

Howard Furnas, Deputy Special Assistant to the Secretary of State; James King, Jr., Institute for Defense Analyses; Richard Barnett, Theodore Achilles, Vice-Chairman, Executive Committee, The Atlantic Council of the United States; M. Jacques Morizet, Counselor of the Embassy, The French Embassy; Professor Amihai Etzioni, Institute of War and Peace Studies, Columbia University; Professor Hans Kohn, University of Pennsylvania; Professor Massimo Salvadori, Department of History, Smith College; M. Pierre Labouerie, International Finance Corp.; Mr. Lydonice, Vice Chairman, Committee of Foreign Affairs, Austrian Parliament; Professor Max Lerner, New York Post.

Varied Matters Come Before Council Jan. 14

Sergeant William G. Weidner was named acting chief of the Swarthmore Police Department by Borough Council Thursday night, January 14, for a probationary six-month period, following the sudden death of former Chief Elmer Zebley the previous week.

Council set salary at 95 percent of the stated chief's salary during the probationary period. Current salary for the post is $6,060. The appointment was made effective January 16.

Mayor Charles G. Thatcher announced that the Civil Service Commission would conduct competitive examinations for the office of patrolman to bring the force back to its usual seven-man level at 9 a.m. Saturday, February 6, in Borough Hall.

Applications are available from Mrs. Ruth Townsend, Borough Secretary, and must be filed before February 3. Current patrolman salary is $5,160.

Council said that it would go before the Board of Revision of Taxes at 10 a.m. Wednesday of this week to protest the lowering of assessment on a house at 431 Riverview road from $2000 to $4500. The house which was given to Christ Episcopal Church, Media two years ago by its former owner, Dr. Eugene Spitz, is occupied by the rector, Rev. William J. Alberts. It was said that application was made for the lowered rate due to its being used for religious purposes.

Council said the parsonages of all Borough churches are assessed as regular homes and both sessions.

Frederick Tolles of Elm avenue, Quaker historian, will address the Young Friends Fellowship on Sunday. The meeting will be held in the Rushmore room from 7 to 8 p.m.

Mr. Tolles' talk on "Quaker Influence in History" will be followed in the near future by a speech given by a member of the American Friends Service Committee on the subject of "Quaker Influence in Modern Society."

Ground Hog Readies For

Contract for replacing a sanitary sewer along Yale avenue near Union and Kenyon avenues was awarded to Neashamby Contractors, Inc., Feasterville, low of nine bidders with a quotation of $5,038.

Councilmen remained after the formal session to discuss new street lights for Thayer and Guernsey roads with a group of residents and a representative of the Philadelphia Electric Company. The residents desired to keep shorter, colonial style iron standards rather than have modern aluminum ones erected in line with improved lighting recently placed throughout the borough.

Council said that increased lighting was necessary for public safety. The Electric representative said that the old standards could not be converted to accommodate the new type lamps properly.

Council decided to proceed with installation of the new standards but said it would give the old ones to owners of properties on which they stood and they could have them connected to their house wiring if they desired.

BOARD PRAISES LIBRARY STAFF

Mrs. Robert Boulter, Mrs. Walker Penfield and Howard H. Williams were declared directors of the Swarthmore Public Library Association by President H. Lindley Peel at the Annual Meeting Monday night, January 25, in Borough Hall's Council Room. Tellers who reported election results were D. Mace Gowing, Mrs. Rudolf Hirsch and Peter E. Told. The election took place in the library during library hours on the preceding Saturday and on Monday.

Librarian Leonore Perkins' annual report showed the overcoming by late fall of the staff changes which tested the fortitude of staff, volunteers and readers in 1964. The Library Board was unanimous in its commendation of Miss Perkins, Mrs. Roberta Mills and Mrs. Grace Pesikay and of the able and devoted volunteers who are invaluable to the functioning of the library and do much to make it a pleasant center.

Miss Perkins' report stated "The volunteers continued their generous hours of work throughout 1964. Without these faithful women and the student assistants, the Staff could not do all that is required."

For the second year, the circulation dropped by 2,000 but the total topped the 100,000 mark at 103,213. Of this figure the juvenile circulation was 38,494 and the adult 64,719. Highlights of the year listed by Miss Perkins were the Summer Reading Club, the regular story hours, the increasing use of the library for reference, the receipt of valued gift books and the Christmas decoration of the library by the Swarthmore Garden Club.

GARNETS BEAT MEDIA, 61-60

Last Friday night Swarthmore High's Basketball team had to go in to an overtime period to down a scrappy Media team by the count of 61 to 60. Then on Tuesday they faced a good Methacton team who had a 4-0 Section 3 record which placed them in a tie for first place with Nether Providence. When the final horn went off, Methacton had lost their first league game by the score of 72 to 64.

In the Media game the Garnets found themselves in four trouble in the first half. At the end of the half, Russ Jones, Jeff Innis and Bob Williams all had three fouls each against them. When the Swarthmore team went into the overtime period, they had Rich McKernan sitting on the bench with five fouls, Russ Jones, Bob Williams and Jeff Innis each playing with four fouls. Because of this unusual situation, the Garnets were forced to change their style of defensive play. Media's Rich Baughn sank a 12-foot jumper to tie the game with five seconds on the clock which sent the game into overtime. At this point, jumping Bob Williams took over and hit on a driving jump shot and then sank two fouls as Swarthmore outscored Media in the overtime 4 to 3.

In the Tuesday afternoon game, Methacton got off to a good start and out scored the Garnets 21 to 12 in the first quarter on the shooting of 69.2. 220 lb. Rick Beyer. With a change of defense and some fine shooting by Sam Caldwell and Jerry Stauffer, the Garnets started to climb back. At the end of the half, Methacton led 36-30 and Beyer had 17 points. With another adjustment to the defense and the determination of the Garnet team, the lead edge was cut to two points by the end of the third quarter. During this quarter, Beyer was held to one field goal by Jerry Stauffer who played in front of him, and Russ Jones or Bob Williams who played behind him. Jones' hot hand in the third period accounted for five field goals.

When the Garnets finally took the lead in the fourth quarter, they never relinquished it. Highlights of the two games were:

Co-Captain Jerry Stauffer's leadership on the floor, 22 points in the Media game, 10 for 13 from the foul line in the Media game, great defensive play in the Methacton game, outside shooting with 50% made while scoring 19 points against Methacton.

Gov. Reports On Medical Care

3488 County Citizens Receive Assistance

Governor William W. Scranton has reported a sharp increase in payments under his Administration's liberalized program of medical care for the aged during the first six months of the current fiscal year.

Releasing figures compiled by the State Department of Public Welfare, the Governor said 3,488 senior citizens residing in Delaware County received medical care costing $821,790.79 since last July 1st, the third highest in the state.

This compares to 2,668 persons who received $657,300.92 in medical expenses during the same six months of the 1963-64 fiscal year.

State-wide, medical care amounted to $14 million for treatment of 57,020 persons as compared with $9.9 million and 42,380 persons a year ago - an increase of nearly $4 million and 15,640 people.

Commenting on the increases, the Governor said that "this is a further indication that Pennsylvania's expanded program of medical care for the aged not only is the most progressive in all states but is doing the job for which it was intended."

"All of these people who have been helped are not necessarily poverty stricken but rather are persons whose life savings would soon disappear if faced with major hospital expenses late in life," the Governor said.

Under the law as liberalized by the 1963 Legislature, an aged couple is eligible for medical benefits even if they have an income of up to $3,840 annually, plus assets of the same amount exclusive of personal residence, household furnishings, automobile and $500 cash value insurance.

The limit for single persons is $2,500 annual income and assets. In both cases, however, persons with both income and assets above those figures may still receive partial benefits upon application to the County Board of Assistance.

Coverage includes in-patient hospital care, nursing care in the home, post-hospital nursing care in the home and nursing care in county institutions.

FOOTBALL CLUB HOLDS BANQUET

Coach Lew Elverson Presides at 28th Event

Lew Elverson Swarthmore College Football Coach and President of the Robert W. Maxwell Football Club of Philadelphia presided before an overflow crowd in the Warwick Hotel Ballroom Monday evening at the club's 28th Annual Banquet.

Awards were presented to Johnny Unitas, Baltimore Colts quarterback, as the outstanding pro in the National Football League (a two time winner of the Bert Bell Memorial Award), and Glenn Ressler, Penn State center and linebacker, who received the Maxwell Memorial Award as the finest college football player in the United States. The Maxwell Club and Award are named for "Tiny" Maxwell, a former All-American guard at Swarthmore College, who played here in the early Nineteen Hundreds.

The Baltimore Colts were well represented on the speaker's platform with Carroll Rosenbloom, club president and owner; Don Kellelt, former Penn Star and Executive Vice President of the Colts; and Don Shula, head coach.

Penn States' Head Coach, Rip Engle and Jim O'Hara line coach, who coached Glenn Ressler, thrilled the audience with tales of success and failures during the past season. Engle, who has won the Lambert Trophy three times in the last four years for having the top team in the East, is one of the most respected coaches in the country.

The featured speaker of the evening, Clinton E. Frank, first winner of the Maxwell Award in 1937, and former Yale All-American halfback, received the top applause of the evening when he said the Ivies should drop some of their silly regulations and gear their athletics with other high standards that prevail throughout the Ivy group. He placed particular emphasis on the need for spring practice and the broadening of schedules to meet National powers outside the Ivy groups. Frank spoke with authority, for he is a leading member of the Yale Athletic Council. At present he heads a large advertising company in Chicago.

Elverson, who has been president of the Maxwell Club for three years, presented two surprise guests - Jerry Wolman, president and owner of the Eagles, and Tom Brookshire, Sports Director of WCAU-TV and a former Eagle, who made the Bert Bell Award presentation to Johnny Unitas.

Troop 112 Campers Defy Winter Chill

Still refusing to admit that the dead of winter is upon us, 14 boys from Swarthmore's Boy Scout Troop 112, accompanied by hardy adults Allen Martin, Davis Hopson and William Phillips, journeyed to the Hopson's cabin on North Mountain near Eagles Mere on January 15.

After a late start Friday evening, Saturday morning was spent attempting to warm the cabin. Ice Skating Saturday afternoon at Glen Swisher's pond and a hike helped get the boys' blood circulating again until a temperature drop to 15 degrees below zero Saturday night congealed it again.

Scouts taking the trip were: Ron Laub, Philip Moore, John Raphael, David Rial, Rod Eckenhoff, Eric Spence, Pete Hopson, Carl Collins, Richard Phillips, Scott Willis, Arthur Walsh, Chris Hay, Rich DeLaCour, Cris Rial.

If we don't stand up for something, we may fall for anything.

Paul Zukofsky, violin, George Crumb, piano, and John Bergamo, percussion, will present a program of Contemporary Chamber Music at Swarthmore College next Friday, February 5, at 8:15 p.m. in Clothier Memorial, sponsored by the Cooper Foundation.

These musicians are Fellows at the Center of the Creative and Performing Arts in the State University of New York at Buffalo. Bergamo and Zukofsky were members of the Fromm Fellowship players at the Berkshire Music Center. Paul Fromm, sponsor of this group at Tanglewood, was the co-sponsor of the Centennial Concert of Contemporary Music given last February at Swarthmore College. That concert was conducted by Gunther Schuller whose "Music for Violin, Piano and Percussion" will be presented on this program.

The program will include Evocation, for Violin, Piano and Percussion, by Ralph Shapey (1959); Fantasy-Variations for Violin #35 by Donald Martino (1962); Night Music II, for Violin and Piano, by George Crumb (1964); Liaison, for Vibraphone and pre-recorded tape, by Roman Haubenstock-Ramati (1961); Duo No. 2, for Violin and Piano, by Arthur Berger (1950); and Music for Violin, Piano and Percussion by Gunther Schuller (1957).

Japanese Exhibit At Public Library

A Japanese Exhibit is attracting interest at the Swarthmore Public Library arranged by Librarian Leonore Perkins and the library staff, it began with the receipt of a Kubaki calendar from former Librarian Mary Ann Hunsicker, now in Japan.

The exhibit grew as Mrs. Dorothy V. Clay, who has returned to the Borough after nine years teaching English to foreign students at the International Institute in Boston, Mass., contributed several items from her collection. These include charming little Kokeshi dolls and a Japanese industrial and commercial pamphlet which contains an article about them; scrolls and other objects each marked with its technical name and a book "These Horned Islands" by Kirkup.

The library has added four books to the exhibit, "Japan, History of Art" by Bradley Smith, just received; "Japanese Painting" by Terukazu, from the Alice Barber Memorial Collection; "Japan, Past and Present," by Reischauer, and "Floating World" by James Michener.

Mrs. Clay's interest in oriental culture and art grew as her students included many from the Far East. She hopes to spend two months visiting them in Japan and China this fall. She continues her life work teaching lip reading and auditory training to the deaf locally and in Philadelphia at a hearing center.

Library Board

She reported reader registration at 4,576. 139 pay members renewed their memberships, "some for the 5th year and eight for the 9th year. This must express a certain satisfaction with our abilities to answer the needs of our patrons.

"The needs of the library are the same as last year and the year before. More space to work in, more space for students to study in, more space for more shelving. We look hopefully forward to an adjustment of this situation in the coming year."

Property Committee Chairman Harry G. Smith reported that purchase of a newspaper rack was underway. A study of chair prices, study tables and shelving preparatory to securing such equipment for the library progresses as does the Space Study.

The present Japanese Exhibit was praised and the Publicity Committee authorized to set up a community committee to plan regular exhibits in the library.

Mr. Peel reported the receipt of $719 from the Pennsylvania State Library Fund, the largest amount to date. This can be allocated in three ways: new books, binding and furniture.

FOOTBALL CLUB HOLDS BANQUET

Coach Lew Elverson Presides at 28th Event

Lew Elverson Swarthmore College Football Coach and President of the Robert W. Maxwell Football Club of Philadelphia presided before an overflow crowd in the Warwick Hotel Ballroom Monday evening at the club's 28th Annual Banquet.

Awards were presented to Johnny Unitas, Baltimore Colts quarterback, as the outstanding pro in the National Football League (a two time winner of the Bert Bell Memorial Award), and Glenn Ressler, Penn State center and linebacker, who received the Maxwell Memorial Award as the finest college football player in the United States. The Maxwell Club and Award are named for "Tiny" Maxwell, a former All-American guard at Swarthmore College, who played here in the early Nineteen Hundreds.

The Baltimore Colts were well represented on the speaker's platform with Carroll Rosenbloom, club president and owner; Don Kellett, former Penn Star and Executive Vice President of the Colts; and Don Shula, head coach.

Penn States' Head Coach, Rip Engle and Jim O'Hara line coach, who coached Glenn Ressler, thrilled the audience with tales of success and failures during the past season. Engle, who has won the Lambert Trophy three times in the last four years for having the top team in the East, is one of the most respected coaches in the country.

The featured speaker of the evening, Clinton E. Frank, first winner of the Maxwell Award in 1937, and former Yale All-American halfback, received the top applause of the evening when he said the Ivies should drop some of their silly regulations and gear their athletics with other high standards that prevail throughout the Ivy group. He placed particular emphasis on the need for spring practice and the broadening of schedules to meet National powers outside the Ivy groups. Frank spoke with authority, for he is a leading member of the Yale Athletic Council. At present he heads a large advertising company in Chicago.

Elverson, who has been president of the Maxwell Club for three years, presented two surprise guests - Jerry Wolman, president and owner of the Eagles, and Tom Brookshire, Sports Director of WCAU-TV and a former Eagle, who made the Bert Bell Award presentation to Johnny Unitas.

Troop 112 Campers Defy Winter Chill

Still refusing to admit that the dead of winter is upon us, 14 boys from Swarthmore's Boy Scout Troop 112, accompanied by hardy adults Allen Martin, Davis Hopson and William Phillips, journeyed to the Hopson's cabin on North Mountain near Eagles Mere on January 15.

After a late start Friday evening, Saturday morning was spent attempting to warm the cabin. Ice Skating Saturday afternoon at Glen Swisher's pond and a hike helped get the boys' blood circulating again until a temperature drop to 15 degrees below zero Saturday night congealed it again.

Scouts taking the trip were: Ron Laub, Philip Moore, John Raphael, David Rial, Rod Eckenhoff, Eric Spence, Pete Hopson, Carl Collins, Richard Phillips, Scott Willis, Arthur Walsh, Chris Hay, Rich DeLaCour, Cris Rial.

If we don't stand up for something, we may fall for anything.

That concert was conducted by Gunther Schuller whose "Music for Violin, Piano and Percussion" will be presented on this program.

Japanese Exhibit At Public Library

A Japanese Exhibit is attracting interest at the Swarthmore Public Library arranged by Librarian Leonore Perkins and the library staff, it began with the receipt of a Kubaki calendar from former Librarian Mary Ann Hunsicker, now in Japan.

The exhibit grew as Mrs. Dorothy V. Clay, who has returned to the Borough after nine years teaching English to foreign students at the International Institute in Boston, Mass., contributed several items from her collection. These include charming little Kokeshi dolls and a Japanese industrial and commercial pamphlet which contains an article about them; scrolls and other objects each marked with its technical name and a book "These Horned Islands" by Kirkup.

The library has added four books to the exhibit, "Japan, History of Art" by Bradley Smith, just received; "Japanese Painting" by Terukazu, from the Alice Barber Memorial Collection; "Japan, Past and Present," by Reischauer, and "Floating World" by James Michener.

Mrs. Clay's interest in oriental culture and art grew as her students included many from the Far East. She hopes to spend two months visiting them in Japan and China this fall. She continues her life work teaching lip reading and auditory training to the deaf locally and in Philadelphia at a hearing center.

Library Board

She reported reader registration at 4,576. 139 pay members renewed their memberships, "some for the 5th year and eight for the 9th year. This must express a certain satisfaction with our abilities to answer the needs of our patrons.

"The needs of the library are the same as last year and the year before. More space to work in, more space for students to study in, more space for more shelving. We look hopefully forward to an adjustment of this situation in the coming year."

Property Committee Chairman Harry G. Smith reported that purchase of a newspaper rack was underway. A study of chair prices, study tables and shelving preparatory to securing such equipment for the library progresses as does the Space Study.

The present Japanese Exhibit was praised and the Publicity Committee authorized to set up a community committee to plan regular exhibits in the library.
