BOARD HIRES 4 NEW TEACHERS

3 Resign; One To Go On Sabbatical

School Board received three resignations, authorized a sabbatical leave, and hired four new teachers at Monday evening's session.

Mrs. Julia Kirkpatrick, third grade teacher, resigned for maternity reasons. Nancy Rose, fourth grade teacher, left to be married. Mrs. Hazel Harkin, secretary and assistant purchasing agent, resigned in order to work for another school district in a higher paying position. Irma Zimmer, fifth grade social studies teacher and chairman of the history department, will take a year's leave to study sociology and anthropology courses in American civilization at the University of Pennsylvania and to do volunteer work for projects of the Friends Meeting and other community affairs.

Mrs. Patricia Wood Jackson of 305 College avenue, who graduated from Wilson Teachers' College and received her master's degree from the University of Maryland in 1955, will replace Mrs. Kirkpatrick. She previously taught kindergarten in Washington, D. C., and Frankfurt, Ky., private schools.

Sam Long Guthrie of Media, teacher at Penncrest High School for the past five years, will replace Miss Zimmer. A graduate of East Carolina College with master's degree from University of Pennsylvania and (Continued on Page 6)

Mrs. Redgrave Memorial Today

50-Year Resident Died On Wednesday

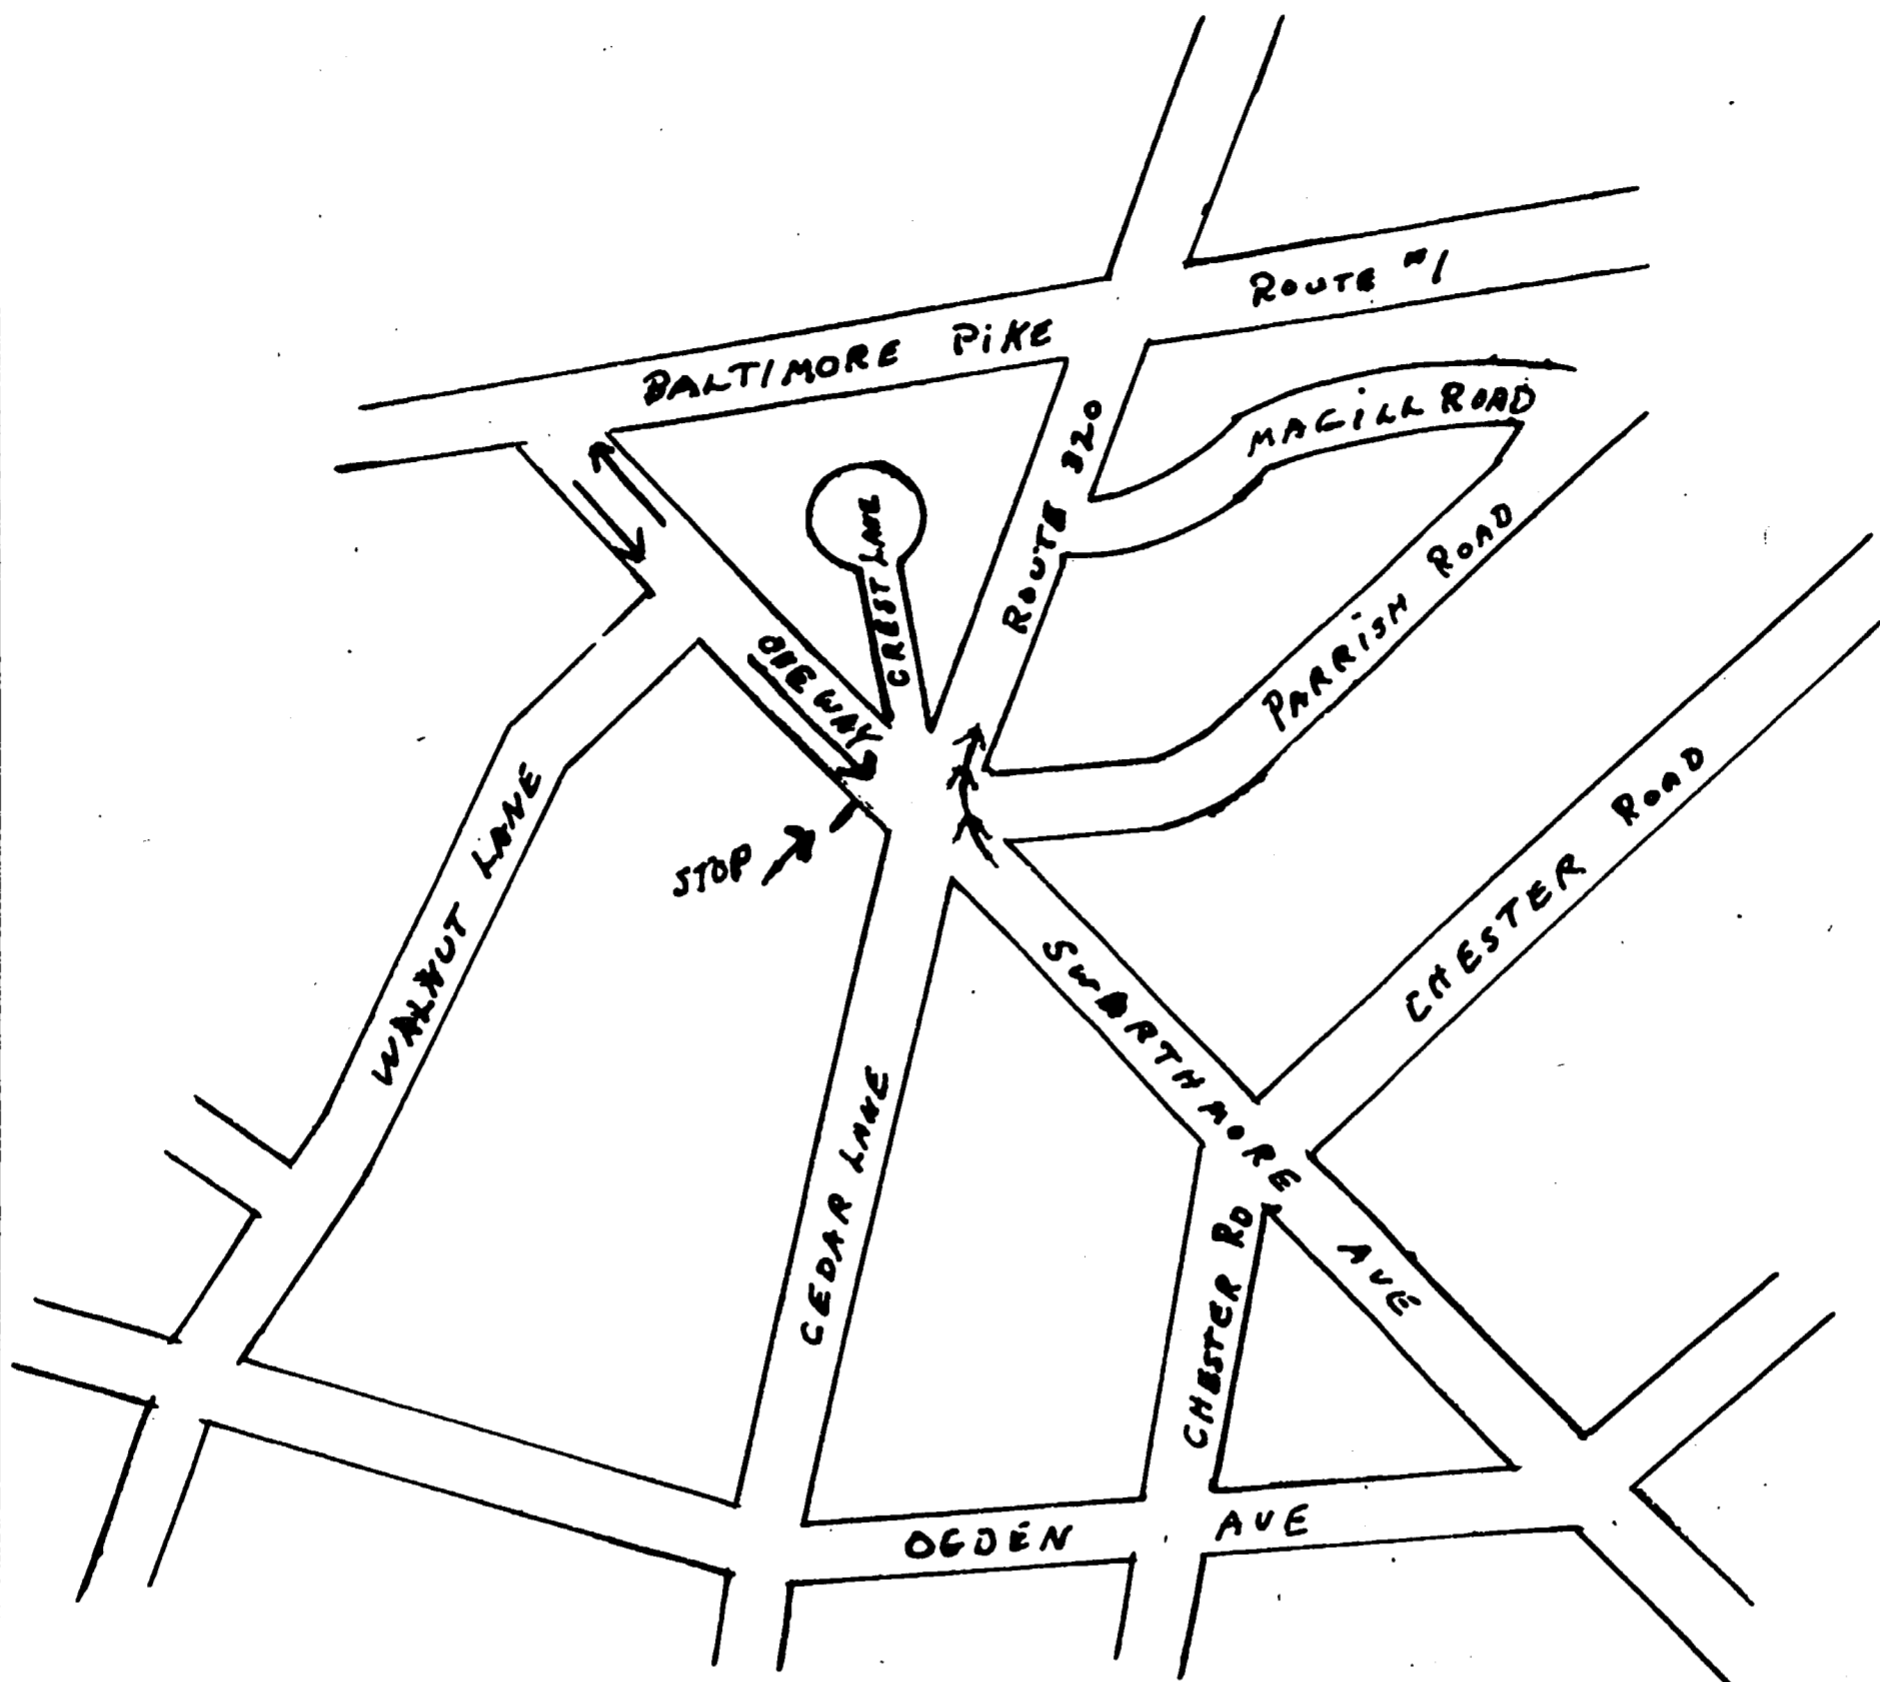

Mrs. Arthur R. O. Redgrave, 308 Vassar avenue, died at 3 a.m. Wednesday, June 29, in Tri-County Hospital, following a short illness.

A memorial service will be held this morning, Friday at 11 o'clock in Trinity Church, Chester road and College avenue, with Rev. Jere S. Berger officiating.

The former Catherine Grauf of Philadelphia, Mrs. Redgrave had lived in Swarthmore for more than 50 years. During that time she was an active member of the Swarthmore Woman's Club and had served as its garden chairman for many years. She was a member of the Friendly Circle and had served on the board of the Community Health Society. She had been a member of the board of the Delaware County S.P.C.A. for the past 35 years and was a former officer.

Mrs. Redgrave was a member of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society, and with her husband, who died in May of 1962, had been a judge of flower shows. She was a member of the New Century Club of Philadelphia, and of Trinity Church Swarthmore.

She is survived by a son Richard of Wallingford; two daughters, Mrs. Samuel C. Wisdom, Jr., also of Wallingford, and Mrs. Scott Daniels of Bridgeton, N. J.; and seven grandchildren.

Following Borough Council's recent action on the Cedar Lane - Swarthmore Avenue intersection traffic routing proposal, a request was made to the State Highway Department to leave the existing stop sign on Route 320 inbound from Baltimore Pike at Crest Lane even though Swarthmore Avenue also became a stop street at Crest Lane. This was found to be impossible as there is a State regulation prohibiting two-way stops on any state highway.

Accordingly the changes indicated on the accompanying map will become effective in about two weeks - soon after the Fourth of July. Swarthmore Avenue between Walnut Lane and Cedar Lane will be one-way inbound from Baltimore Pike, but remain two-way from Walnut Lane to the Pike. All northbound traffic on Swarthmore Avenue (Route 320) will bear right at the five point intersection so that there will be no cutting across the incoming flow from Baltimore Pike. Crest Lane can be entered from the Baltimore Pike via either Swarthmore Avenue or Cedar Lane (#320) southbound, and also from Cedar Lane northbound by bearing left at its intersection with Swarthmore Avenue and thus not get into the Route 320 traffic.

BELLS HERE TO JOIN IN NATIONAL JULY 4TH OBSERVANCE

The carillon bells of Swarthmore Methodist Church will join in the nationwide "Bells of Peace" program this Fourth of July, when bells will sound throughout the country as an expression of peace and freedom.

The "Bells of Peace" program calls for all buildings having bells and carillons to ring for four minutes to coincide with the ringing of the bells at Independence Hall in Philadelphia. The national observance will be at 2 p.m. Eastern Daylight Saving Time. The observance at Independence Hall was originated by the late President Kennedy.

Here in Swarthmore, the Swarthmore Methodist Church summer organist, Marydana Loudin, will play a patriotic program. Also planning to join with the "Bells of Peace" will be the Presbyterian and Trinity Churches.

In Chester, PMC Colleges, will also participate with a special performance on its Filoreto Memorial Carillon.

Sponsor of the "Bells of Peace" program is Schulmerich Carillons, Inc., of Sellersville. A Schulmerich "Americana" Carillon is installed each year at Independence Hall, where it is

Open House Tomorrow Honors Janet Groff

An open house honoring Janet Krall (Mrs. Benjamin) Groff, who retired in June after 41 years as elementary teacher in the local schools, will be held tomorrow afternoon from 1 until 4 at the home of Mrs. Alice W. Shay, 504 Walnut lane.

All former pupils and their parents are cordially invited to attend.

Jr. Tennis Champs. Here Next Week

The Keystone State Junior Tennis Championships for 14-year-olds and under will be held in Swarthmore next week, under the sponsorship of the Swarthmore Tennis Club. The matches will be played Tuesday through Sunday, July 5 through 10, on the college's College Avenue Courts, beginning at 12 noon each day.

Participants will include local residents in the Swarthmore Recreation Program.

Registration will close on Monday. Those in the age group who would like to participate may call Margaret Toland, tennis instructor for SRA.

used to simulate the tone of the original Liberty Bell during the observance ceremonies. The Liberty Bell has been stilled permanently to prevent its further deterioration.

226 Enroll In SRA Summer Program

Two hundred and twenty-six youngsters, the highest ever recorded in the Swarthmore Recreation Association's history, enrolled in the Summer Club program at Monday morning's registration.

Other registration figures reveal 150 for Tennis, 14 for Dramatics, 12 in the Adult Tennis Clinic, and 51 in the Arts and Crafts program. Total family membership is 68.

Special activities for Summer Clubbers next Friday, July 8, will be a hat contest and Walt Disney cartoons.

Tennis Round Robin Set For July Fourth

Round Robin Doubles will be held on July Fourth from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Partnership will remain intact the entire day. Eight game matches with regular tennis scoring will be the format. Arch Oplinger, LO 6-2480, will be chairman. Sue Gove won the Get-Acquainted Tournament on June 11.

Wednesday Morning Ladies' Round Robin has been very well attended at the Wharton courts. Carol Jackson and Helen Hunt were top scorers the first two days.

SEEK MEMBERS FOR JULY FOURTH BAND

Any one interested in playing in the 4th of July Band is asked to report to Bill Titus, 200 South Swarthmore avenue, for rehearsal today, July 1, and Sunday, July 3, at 7:30 p.m.

To Speak at Rotary

Michael Burroughs, John Hubbard, Sanford Wax, and Carlos Soria, Swarthmore Rotary's exchange student, will be the speakers at Rotary Club's 12:10 luncheon meeting today at the Inglenook.

The young men, who represented the local club at Rotary Leadership Camp, will tell the members about their week at Camp Hilltop, Downingtown.

Lessons to Start Mon. at Swim Club

The second session of swimming lessons to be given at the Swarthmore Swim Club will begin on July 5. The Life Saving Classes will also start on the same date at 1.

July 4th activities will commence at 4 p.m., starting with the Novelty Races and followed by clown diving and an exhibition of serious diving. The day will be climaxed by a seahorse burger picnic which will begin at 5.

GET SET FOR BORO. FOURTH!

Parade Starts 9 A.M. Borough Parking Lot

Swarthmore's annual "Fun for All" Fourth of July celebration under sponsorship this year of the Swarthmore Lions Club, will get underway promptly at 9 a.m. Monday morning with the traditional parade.

The parade will form at Borough Hall under the guidance of Parade Marshall Charles H. Grier, with the order of march beginning with the Bicycle class, with Tricycles, Walkers, Floats, Pets, and Miscellaneous following in that order.

Ribbon prizes, to be awarded on the basis of decoration and/or theme, will be distributed in front of the Methodist Church. Intrepid members of the Woman's Club will form the panel of judges, whose decisions are final.

The morning's entertainment will continue with games and races at the College Avenue School playground. Here, beginning at 10 a.m. Games Marshall David Smith will conduct a series of events for varying age groups, assisted by fellow Lions and their wives.

Popsicles to wind up an active morning will be handed out at approximately 11:30. Eaters of popsicles will hopefully cooperate with the cleanup committee using the receptacles which will be available for sticks and wrappers.

At 12 o'clock, back at the Borough Parking Lot, Swarthmore's Volunteer Firemen will stage their annual demonstration, which almost invariably ends in a grand and glorious water fight, and, during the course of which, almost everyone within hosing distance, is liable to get wet!

K.K.G.'s Honor S.L. Lippincott

Sarah Lee Lippincott, lecturer and research associate in astronomy at Swarthmore College received the Award of Achievement from Kappa Kappa Gamma at its meeting in Breton Woods, N. H., on Monday.

The award is given every other year to an outstanding member of the sorority.

Miss Lippincott received her B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania and her M.A. from Swarthmore College. She has been associated with the Sproul Observatory at Swarthmore College since 1942. Her research has been in astrometric study of nearby stars; distances, motions and masses of double stars; search for planet-like companions to nearby stars.

She is the author of scientific papers in journals in the United States, Holland, France and Canada. She is the co-author, with Joseph M. Joseph, of "Point to the Stars." She is also co-author, with Laurance Lafore, of "Philadelphia: The Unexpected City."

She is a member of the Rittenhouse Astronomical Society, the American Astronomical Society, the International Astronomical Union, and Sigma Xi, the National Honorary Society.

The candlelight ceremony. The altar flowers were white gladioli and carnations and the altar was banked with ferns. The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown designed and created by herself of peau de se featuring an Alencon lace long-sleeved bodice, with lace applique to the skirt and train. Her veil of illusion was held with a cluster of peau de se roses and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with a white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother selected an apricot chiffon over the dress with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Media Inn Motor Lodge.

The bride, who graduated from Swarthmore High School, is a 1965 graduate of West Chester State College and taught last year at Wilson Junior High School in Philadelphia.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Olney High School and a 1966 graduate of Pennsylvania State University.

Following a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains, the couple will reside at 404 Wood-cliff avenue, Apt. 8, Stroudsburg, after July 2.

The bride's parents entertained the wedding party at an open house at their home on Friday following the rehearsal. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cathart of Cleveland, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meline of Atlanta, Ga., uncles and aunts of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richmond of Atlanta, Ga., the bride's grandfather and his wife.

HAWKINS - LOGREN

The marriage of Miss Anne Louise Logren daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Einar Logren of South Bend, Ind., to Mr. Richard F. Hawkins, son of Dr. and Mrs. Albert W. Hawkins of Juhlenberg avenue, took place Saturday, June 25, at the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Dr. D. Evor Roberts officiated.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of ivory peau de sole with a mantilla of Brussels lace and carried white gardenias.

Mrs. Hawkins was graduated from Bryn Mawr College. Her husband, an alumnus of Harvard University, where he was a member of the Hasty pudding Institute of 1970, is attending the School of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania.

After a wedding trip to the Dutch West Indies, the couple will make their home for a year in Brighton, Mass., where Mr. Hawkins has an appointment as a research fellow at Harvard.

BRYSON - MARVIN

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Frances Marvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Whitney Marvin of Chestnut Hill, and Mr. James Hastings Bryson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Hastings Bryson of Lafayette avenue, took place on Saturday, June 25, at 3 p.m. in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Chestnut Hill. The Rev. Dr. Tom Turney Edwards performed the ceremony.

The bridegroom's mother selected an apricot chiffon over the dress with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Media Inn Motor Lodge.

The bride, who graduated from Swarthmore High School, is a 1965 graduate of West Chester State College and taught last year at Wilson Junior High School in Philadelphia.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Olney High School and a 1966 graduate of Pennsylvania State University.

HOOPER - STEVENS

The marriage of Miss Kathleen Louise Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stevens of Media, to Mr. Charles Frederick Hoover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hoover of Morton, took place on Saturday, June 25, at 4 o'clock in the Swarthmore Methodist Church. The Rev. John C. Kulp, pastor, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace with long sleeves, full skirt, and a detachable lace train falling from the waist. Her four-tiered elbow length veil was held with an orange blossom headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations with ivy cascade.

Police & Fire News

Three Chester youths who allegedly stole the car of Mrs. Emma S. Medford, 634 Strath Haven avenue, from in front of 205 College avenue about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday last were caught in a radar speed trap on New Jersey's Black Horse pike enroute to Atlantic City Thursday afternoon. Swarthmore Police Chief William G. Weidner brought back the 15 and 16-year-old boys and turned them over to Juvenile Home in Media that night. The third, who was 18, was brought back Friday and held under $1500 bail for court on charges of larceny of automobile and receiving stolen goods.

RESIDENT DROWNS IN DELAWARE RIVER

Michael Thompson, 33, a resident of the Colonial Court Apartments, was drowned on Saturday, June 25, in the Delaware River about six miles south of Milford, Pa. Mr. Thompson, who was in the United States on a visa from England, had been working at the Boeing Company-Vertol Division since last October. A Post Advisor to the Explorer Post in Woodlyn, he was on a combined canoe trip with the Post and a Woodlyn Scout Troop going from Milford to Kittatinny Beach, N. J. They had stopped off for a swim and were in waist deep water; the men were keeping watch on the boys and when the group started to pack up to leave, they discovered Mr. Thompson was missing. They presumed he had stepped into some sort of hole as his body was recovered four hours later not 30 feet away. He is survived by his mother in Philadelphia. He begins his assignment on July 1.

Americans Win All Star Game

In an about face of last year's outcome the American Kne-Hi League All-Stars clobbered the Nationals to the tune of a 15 to 5 score last Saturday afternoon in the annual line batting fracas.

The Americans gathered 12 scattered hits, most of which came with men on base. They pulled out in front by 2 runs in the first stanza and were never threatened as they scored 3 runs in the 3rd and 4th innings respectively, 2 in the 6th and 2 in the 9th.

Hitters for the Americans included Pete Morrison, Nino McCoubrey, Brian Kelly, Steve Cushing, Jeff Harmon, Mike Tracey, Bob Dower, and Terry Ferguson who personally gathered a single, double and triple for 4 R.B.I.'s.

Head Coach John Heffernan, Sr.'s, American League pitching staff did a fine job of holding down the National hitters to 6 scattered hits. Jeff Harmon pitched 3 effective innings, John Heffernan, 2, Jeff Hopen, 2, and Bill Schmidt continued the high caliber of pitching in the 8th and 9th.

Boys who saw action and performed well defensively were Ken Moore, Beau Ricksacker, John Brobeck and Steve Albrook.

The National league waited until the 5th inning to collect its first hit of the game as John Restrepo pounded a double to right field. He later scored on a walk with bases loaded. In the previous inning the Nationals had scored 2 runs on wild pitching.

In the 7th they pulled off their first rally of the game on hits by Jack Reese and Bob Hunt, but the Americans nipped the Nationals' efforts with a nicely executed double play. In the ninth frame another hit was added to the statistics by Mitchell Lang, and then the losers went on to score 2 more runs.

The American League pitchers registered nine strikeouts while the National pitchers struck out six men.

The game was well played defensively by both teams. Bob Hunt (Phila.), of the Nationals, was the defensive star as he made 2 great catches in center field and threw a base runner out at home. Other National players who saw a great deal of action were Rex Gary, Mark Rizzo, Jim deLapp, Carl Rosen and Rob Stein. Head Coach Harry Benton used Joe Delosier, Jack Reese, Mark Hubbard and Maynard McCorkle on the mound, but the American League bats were not to be denied.

The Teener League schedule for 6:30 p.m. games for the coming week, is as follows: Tuesday Pirates - Senators; Wednesday A's - Giants; Thursday Giants - Senators; Friday Pirates - A's.

The All-Star Game will be at 1 p.m. Saturday, July 9.

 SWARTHMORE, PA., 19081, FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1966

WORLD SERIES AT 10 SATURDAY

Indians Meet Braves in Three-Game Match

Tomorrow morning the Ninth Annual Kne-Hi World Series will begin when the once-beaten Indians challenge the Braves in the first game of the series at 10:30 a.m. at River-view Field. The 1966 series is a re-match of the same league winners of last year, except that the teams' season records are reversed. Last year the Braves defeated the Indians in two games.

The World Series, played at River-view Field, is scheduled to last three games and the winner determined by the best of three. If one team wins the first two games the series is completed.

The Indians, who lost to the Dodgers 1-0 in their last league game of the season, featured the strong pitching of John Heffernan, Jr., and Jon Kelsey, while Mike Tracey, Steve McCane, Nino McCoubrey, Heffernan and Kelsey provided effective hitting power. Bill Conwell, Jim Collenberg, Dave Conn, Paul Mangelsoff, and Andy Sitkoff round out this well-balanced team. John Heffernan, victorious all-star head coach, is also the head coach of the Indians. He has been very ably assisted by Bill Collenberg and Dave Smith.

The Braves, coached by Harry Benton, has not proven to be the powerful team it has been in the past, but remains good enough to lead the National League. Last week the Indians defeated the Braves 9-7 for one of its three losses, but the game indicated that either team is capable of pulling off the victory when they meet again.

Rex Gary, John Restrepo, Lee Gatewood and Jack Reese are the hurlers and who Coach Benton will be looking to to pull off the first victory. Mark Restrepo, Jim Baird, Bud Burtis, Bill Salom, Paul Silva, John Roby, and Frank Smith have helped the team consistently in their defensive play and in batting. Sam Gary and Art Collins serve well as Harry Benton's assistants. The Braves will have to be in top form if they are to successfully defend the title they won in 1965.

Awards to be given: Most Valuable trophies will be awarded to deserving boys during the second game of the World Series which is scheduled for Monday, July 11 on River-view Field. The trophies will be awarded by Bill Reese, league director. Those receiving the awards will be selected by the general consenses of all coaches in the league.

1ST AWARD TO E.E. HANNUM

Honorary Membership To F. I. Scientist

In recognition of the Franklin Institute's accomplishments in the field of explosive and pyrotechnic research, the Explosive and Pyrotechnic Ordnance Manufacturers Association has awarded its first honorary membership to Edward E. Hannum, Lafayette avenue, manager of the Institute's applied physics laboratory.

The award was accepted for Mr. Hannum at a recent meeting of the association in St. Louis by Gunther Cohn, senior staff engineer in the same laboratory.

Twenty-seven companies are regular members of the Explosive and Pyrotechnic Ordnance Manufacturers Association, which was founded in October, 1965, and has its headquarters in Los Angeles, Calif. The organization -- a national, non-profit, non-political, technical society of American manufacturers -- is dedicated to the maintenance of the highest quality and reliability standards of ordnance product for the scientific and technical defense and non-defense requirements of the United States. The association advocates armament preparedness on the part of the national defense establishment as a strong guarantee of peace and security.

Honorary memberships are awarded to any individual who has made outstanding contributions to the advancement of science and to the development and use of explosive and pyrotechnic ordnance. Such members are selected from non-profit institutions or government agencies.

"The Franklin Institute has pioneered in the development of testing techniques for the past 17 years," said Mr. Hannum, commenting on the honorary membership. "We have been trying to make a science out of an art." Mr. Hannum received his Bachelor of Science degree in engineering at Swarthmore College.

SWIM CLUB TO MEET PLY-MAR CELEBRATE INDEPENDENCE WITH GAY FESTIVITIES

The Fourth of July at Swarthmore Swim Club saw people of many ages enjoying a day with a Baby Parade, annual water games and the picnic. The activities commenced at 2 p.m. with the Baby Parade led by a band, directed by guard Tom Locco. First place went to Dawn Cealisk as Miss Idaho. The parade was followed by a Batman and Robin skit performed by guards Ted Fitzgerald, Ted Cozine and Bill Cushing. Shortly after, the annual Cannonball championship was won by Sue Tolley.

Between the different contests there were novelty races for children of all ages. The first race was the Penny scramble for children six years and under. Winners were Wendy Johnson who all tied for first. For the boys, Rusty Mulvihill, Tom Tracy and Mallory Smith were the first, second and third place winners. Next was the kickboard race for children seven and eight years old. Winners were Liz Fukushima, Will Woodcock, Ann Douglass, Lester Lin, Michael Spies and David Estabrook.

For the nine and ten-year-olds, the candle race was the main attraction. Winners were Beth Mulvihill, Ann Martha Loque, Patty Sutherland, Monty Rankin, Peter Thompson and Jeff Harmon.

The 11 and 12-year-olds participated in the three-legged race. Winners were C. Draper and D. Ross; J. Estabrook and Rubbin; C. Cottman and C. Keller; J. Harmon and J. Heffernan; J. Roby and J. Restrepo and S. Cushing and M. Hubbard.

Tomorrow morning the Swarthmore Swim Club for their third meet of the season.

ROTARIANS TO FETE EXCHANGE STUDENT

Carlos Soria, Rotary Exchange student from Argentina, will be the special guest at today's 12:10 luncheon meeting, which will be held in Media. The program will be a "good-bye" to Carlos as he prepares to leave for his home in Bolivar.

Lions Cite Mmes. Ullman, MacElwee As Boro. Marks Independence Day

Hearty, fun-loving, durable, heat-resistant Swarthmoreans, turning out in impressive numbers Monday morning, observed and participated in the Borough's 55th annual Fourth of July celebration.

They also applauded the awarding of the Lions Club commemorative plaques to Eliza Ulrich Ullman and Helen C. MacElwee, watched the young and athletic vie for first place in running games, and finally returned to the borough parking lot at noon for the Volunteer Firemen's always anticipated Demonstration and Water Battle.

Lions' Citations

Yelverton an master of ceremonies L. C. Hastings presented his club's fourth annual Fourth of July Award to Mrs. Roland G. E. Ullman of Vassar avenue and Mrs. Irvin R. MacElwee of Mt. Holyoke place as a kind of "post graduate or honorary degree in community living," citing them as "practitioners with charm and grace, of community interest." The identical engraved plaques read:

"In recognition of your devotion and inspiration as an outstanding leader in our civic and community interests with our thanks."

Opening the morning festivities was the annual parade, with a bevy of tricyclists, bikers and bikers, wagons, and dogs and a cat too, all of whom were marshalled in orderly manner past the Firm Five (judges from the Woman's Club posted on their own doorstep as it were) and back again.

None Winners

The Firm Five, Mrs. David Bingham, Mrs. John Gersbach, Mrs. Kenneth Scott, Mrs. Charles Gerner, with Mrs. Donald Aikens as chairman, came up with the following winners:

In the Bicycle Class - Robin Juckem first; Jeff Cornelius, Tom Bergkvist, second; Julia Woodcock third; Robert and Frank Magee, honorable mention.

Tricycles - The William F. Lee, Jr., children, first; Teddy Williams, second; Meg and David MacAlpine, third; Dillon Taylor, honorable mention.

Walkers - Fred Matusky, first; Connie, Caroline and Cindy Worth, second; Lisa and Anita Sabich, third; Bess Logan and Beth Wylie, honorable mention.

Floats - Liz, Amy and Missy Taylor, first; Nancy Fussell, Susanne and Ricky Lee, and Beth Linton, second; Sue and Scott McAllister, third; Laura and Debby Eynon and Peggy Hazard, honorable mention.

Pets Class - Katie and Susie Koelle, first; Edith Hasbrouck, second; Nancy Aaron, third; Carol Black, Steven Gorry, Holly Cokeley, Michel Mudrick honorable mention.

High-Wheeler Stors

The judges tried to honor, and the fascinated on-lookers gave a spontaneous burst of applause, to Bob McNair of the Bliss Company, and is a new light-weight fire-fighter powered by water pressure only. It requires only a gallon of water for approximately 1000 gallons of foam. The Bliss Rockwood Jet-X, described by Fire Chief Jimmy Dunn as a miracle, expands at the rate of over 15,000 gallons a minute, enough to fill an average basement in five minutes. "It smolders fires, not firemen," a Bliss spokesman said.

Because the men were involved in giving the demonstration, the Fire Company has no pictures of the event. Chief Dunn has asked that photographers and movie-takers get in touch with him, so that he can borrow their films for duplication. He may be reached at KI 3-4411, or lenders may call a fire company member or The Swarthmorean Office. All films and/or photographs will be returned.

Ponies & Races

At approximately 10:30 thereafter, youngsters lined up for a ride on the ponies, at one end of the College Avenue School Field, while Dave Smith and his assistants conducted competitive races at the other. First place winners in these races were:

Foaming and Foaming... Special favors, dispensed by the kindly, sponsoring Lions were United States flags and fly-backs for the paraders, and orange popicles for the riders and runners, and others, while the supply of water was plentiful.

At noon, the crowd regathered, and perhaps increased, at Borough Hall for the annual Firemen's demonstration. Several hoses were invitingly laid out on the parking lot, and rows of youngsters spread out along their lengths for what was at first one of the most orderly water fights in Borough history. However, as time progressed, the streams grew stronger, more on-lookers were threatened for more likely, promised with dampening. In the midst of the melee, the firemen sprung their surprise, enough high expansion foam to submerge the youngsters and cover the borough lot.

This miracle foam comes from a Hydro X-2 Foam Generator, courtesy of the Bliss Company, and is a new light-weight fire-fighter powered by water pressure only. It requires only a gallon of water for approximately 1000 gallons of foam. The Bliss Rockwood Jet-X, described by Fire Chief Jimmy Dunn as a miracle, expands at the rate of over 15,000 gallons a minute, enough to fill an average basement in five minutes. Engagements

Dr. and Mrs. Courtney Craig Smith of Cedar Lane announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Bowen Smith, to Mr. Gregory Keith Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ingram of Mars, Pa.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Swarthmore High School and of Swarthmore College, class of '66. She is presently teaching at the summer session of Swarthmore High School.

Miss Smith is the granddaughter of Mrs. Samuel Craig Smith of Bethesda, Md., and the late Mr. Smith, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Newton Proctor of Boston and Marblehead Neck, Mass.

Mr. Ingram was graduated from Richland High School and from Swarthmore College, with Distinction, class of '66. He was the winner of the McCabe Engineering Award and was elected to Sigma Tau, Sigma Xi, and Phi Beta Kappa. He is presently attending Merton College, Oxford University.

Mr. Ingram is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Burkett of Pittsburgh, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ingram of Smithwick, Staffordshire, England.

A fall wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Griffin of New Canaan, Conn., and Southern Pines, N. C., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Carter, to Mr. J. Morris Clark, the son of the late Mr. John S. Clark and of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Livingood of Ephrata.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Griffin of Rutgers Avenue and Mrs. Ethel P. Newson of Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. Erie T. Newson of Augusta, Ga.

Miss Griffin was graduated from the Mary A. Burnham School for Girls in Northampton, Mass., and has completed her sophomore year at Vassar College.

Mr. Clark is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. Oscar Clark of Northeast, Md., and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kurtz of Oxford, Pa.

He was graduated from the Stony Brook School in Stony Brook, Long Island and attended Winchester College, Hampshire, England, on an English Speaking Union Schoolboy Fellowship. He was graduated this June from Yale University where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of the Elizabethan Club.

The wedding will take place September 10, at Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Weston, Conn.

Engagements

Dr. and Mrs. Courtney Craig Smith of Cedar Lane announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Bowen Smith, to Mr. Gregory Keith Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ingram of Mars, Pa.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Swarthmore High School and of Swarthmore College, class of '66. She is presently teaching at the summer session of Swarthmore High School.

Miss Smith is the granddaughter of Mrs. Samuel Craig Smith of Bethesda, Md., and the late Mr. Smith, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Newton Proctor of Boston and Marblehead Neck, Mass.

Mr. Ingram was graduated from Richland High School and from Swarthmore College, with Distinction, class of '65. He was the winner of the McCabe Engineering Award and was elected to Sigma Tau, Sigma Xi, and Phi Beta Kappa. He is presently attending Merton College, Oxford University.

Mr. Ingram is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Burket of Pittsburgh, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ingram of Smithwick, Staffordshire, England.

A fall wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Griffin of New Canaan, Conn., and Southern Pines, N. C., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Catherine, to Mr. J. Morris Clark, the son of the late Mr. John S. Clark and of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Livingood of Ephrata.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Griffin of Rutgers avenue and Mrs. Ethel P. Newson of Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. Erle T. Newson of Augusta, Ga.

Miss Griffin was graduated from the Mary A. Burnham School for Girls in Northampton, Mass., and has completed her sophomore year at Vassar College.

Mr. Clark is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. Oscar Clark of Northeast, Md., and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kurtz of Oxford, Pa.

He was graduated from the Stony Brook School in Stony Brook, Long Island and attended Winchester College, Hampshire, England, on an English-Speaking Union (Schools) Fellowship. He was graduated this June from Yale University where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of the Elizabethan Club.

The wedding will take place September 10, at Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Weston, Conn.

Weddings

Honor Bride-To-Be
Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Erskine of Copples Lane, Wallingford, entertained at dinner on a recent Saturday evening in honor of Miss Margaret Brooks Campbell and her fiancé Mr. Frank Hanson Eastman, III, whose wedding will take place on September 10.

Miss Campbell was also feted at a tea and miscellaneous shower by Mrs. Robert L. Thomson and her daughter Miss Courtney Thomson at their home on Guernsey road.

Future Brides Feted

Mrs. Loren V. Forman of Guernsey road entertained at a bridal luncheon for future brides and their mothers on Thursday, June 23rd. The guests included: Mrs. Herbert Michener and daughter Miss Jane Michener of Westdale avenue; Mrs. William Campbell and daughter Miss Margaret Campbell of Oden avenue and Mrs. Ford Robinson and daughter Miss Marjorie Robinson of Guernsey road.

On Tuesday, June 28, Mrs. Campbell and Miss Campbell were hostesses at a bridal luncheon held in the Union League, Philadelphia for Mrs. Robinson and her daughter; Mrs. Michener and her daughter; and Mrs. Kenneth Stuart and daughter Miss Barbara Stuart of Westdale avenue.

ECKENHOFF - TAYLOR

The marriage of Miss Ann Frisole Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perry Taylor, Sr., of Westport, Conn., to Mr. Edward Alvin Eckenhoff, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Edward Eckenhoff of South Chester road, took place on Saturday, June 25, at 2 o'clock in Trinity Episcopal Church, Southport, Conn. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis X. Cheney. The altar decorations were snapdragons and daisies.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of antique lace over pale pink silk-mull with Swiss silk cummerbunds. Her veil was of mulane caught with a band of silk and lilacs-of-the-valley. She carried a loose bouquet of white tea roses and baby's breath.

The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Ann Bronner of Westport, Conn., and bridesmaids Misses Katherine Frisole of Atlanta, Ga., and Frances Taylor of Westport, Conn., wore white dotted Swiss gowns with pale yellow horsehair picture hats with moss green ribbons around the crowns and daisies attached at the back.

Mr. James Benjamin Eckenhoff was best man for his brother. The ushers included Messrs. Laurence Harms, Scarsdale, N. Y.; Charles Taylor, Jr., of Henderson, N. C.; Thomas Hoffman, Lavarock, Pa.; and Robert McCall, Fulton, N. Y.

The mother of the bride chose a tulle and ribbon knit dress and jacket, well with knots of ribbon matching dress and matching silk shoes. Her corsage was a yellow cymbidium orchid.

The bridegroom's mother selected an ice blue silk dress with matching tulle pillbox, matching shoes, and wore a pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Longshore Country Club.

The bride, who received her B.A. from Transylvania College, is a second grade teacher in the Norwalk, Conn., Public Schools.

The bridegroom received his B.A. from Transylvania College and will attend Graduate School

Prior to the wedding Miss Michener was honored at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Ralph Young of Cedar Lane and Mrs. Gareld Gray of Harvard avenue at the Young home.

He will be a resident in internal medicine at University of Pittsburgh Medical Center.

After a honeymoon in Jamaica, they will reside at 5500 Baum Boulevard, Pittsburgh.

WEDDINGS

Griffin, sisters of the bride; Nancy Rhoads, sister of the bridegroom and Olga Fartuch of Allentown, the bride's college roommate. Their gowns, similar to the maid of honor's, were of apple green crepe with Empire waists trimmed with white eyelet beading. Their flirtation veils had bows of apple green nylon illusion and they carried cascade bouquets of pastel Marguerite daisies and miniature ivy.

Mr. Michael Rhoads of State College was best man for his brother. The ushers included Messrs. Stephen Rhoads of Chicago, Ill., brother of the bridegroom; Douglas Patt and Donald Patt of Allentown and George Ringhoffer of Bethlehem.

The bride's mother chose a champagne lace dress with three-quarter length sleeves, surplice neckline and Empire waist. Her hat was a whimsy veil crowned with matching ostrich and she wore a corsage of talsman roses.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a beige lace dress over taupe with hat, a whimsy veil trimmed with taffeta rose in matching color and corsage of talsman roses.

A reception was held in the Southern Pines Country Club immediately following the ceremony.

The bride received a bachelor of arts degree from the College of Arts and Sciences, PennState University, State College.

The bridegroom, who received a bachelor of science degree from the College of Business Administration, Penn State University, will enter the Army Reserves in July.

Following a wedding trip to Nassau, the couple will reside at State College until the bridegroom is assigned to active duty after completing training in the Army Reserves.

The bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower in late May given by sorority sisters of Delta Delta Delta, Penn State University.

Phillip and Eleanor Mayer comprised the marriage committee.

Ruth Anita Morris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Morris. The Morris' are the directors of the Quaker International Center in Paris, France. They arrived from Paris on July 1 for two months' home leave.

Michael Yarrow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Yarrow of Yale avenue. Michael graduated from Swarthmore High School in 1958.

After the reception at the Friends Meeting, the parents held a slush-ka-bob picnic for the relatives and close friends of the couple at the Yarrow home.

The young couple are both graduates of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O., and are currently working on Master's degrees at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., Ruth in biology, and Michael in sociology. The couple left to return to their studies at Cornell.

RHOADS - GRIFFIN

The marriage of Miss Ariette Ann Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham Griffin of New Canaan, Conn., and Southern Pines, N. C., to Mr. David Preston Rhoads, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rhoads of Montoursville, Pa., took place on Saturday, June 25, at 5 o'clock in the Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Southern Pines, N. C. The Rev. R. Martin Caldwell, Jr., officiated at the double ring ceremony before the Altar, which was decorated with mixed wild flowers and candles.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Griffin of Rutgers avenue.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore an Empire gown with Victorian neckline and bell sleeves; the skirt of silk organza was over peau de soie and the bodice and sleeves of organza over baby eyelet. The butterfly train of two layers of silk organza was edged with dainty mock crochet. Her shoulder-length veil of nylon illusion was secured by three miniature roses of organza and she carried a cascade bouquet of white bridal roses, fleur d' amour, stephanotis and miniature ivy.

Miss Ingrid Guther of Alexandria, Va., was the maid of honor. She wore a sleeveless and slender-skirted full length Empire gown with jewel neckline in a floral print crepe of apple green, yellow and apricot, colors repeated in bridesmaid's bouquets. Her flirtation veil was secured with a bow and she carried a cascade bouquet of white Marguerite daisies and miniature ivy. Miss Guther, a graduate of the School of Fine Arts, Pennsylvania State University, designed the bridal gown for the bride.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Nancy and Kathryn

Griffin, sisters of the bride; Nancy Rhoads, sister of the bridegroom and Olga Fartuch of Allentown, the bride's college roommate. Their gowns, similar to the maid of honor's, were of apple green crepe with Empire waists trimmed with white eyelet beading. Their flirtation veils had bows of apple green nylon illusion and they carried cascade bouquets of pastel Marguerite daisies and miniature ivy.

BYWOOD BOY SEEKS RIDE FROM DUMORE

If someone can give him a lift home, Roland Isabella can go to day camp for three weeks. Nobody has to be told how much camp means to a 14-year-old. But it means twice as much to Roland.

Roland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Isabella, of 7207 Hazel avenue, Bywood, leads a very restricted life. Because of a rare blood disease the boy is unable to walk, even with the braces that keep his legs in position.

METHODIST NOTES

Mr. Smith will conduct the 10 a.m. service of worship on Sunday. His sermon topic will be "The Wide Road."

CHURCH SERVICES

Classes for all ages through sixth grade are held at 9:50 a.m. The Junior High groups will meet at 10. Adult class including college youth, will meet at 11.

Methodist Youth Fellowship will gather at 7 p.m. Sunday at the church before going to a member's home for the program. Next year's 10th graders are especially invited.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE NOTES

Communion will be observed in all Christian Science branch churches this Sunday. "Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon. The service occurs twice each year, and is altered from other Sundays to include reading of the Church Tenets and a period for kneeling in silent communion.

PARK CONCERT SET FOR 14TH

The Delaware County Park and Recreation Board's free summer band concerts at the county "Dell" in Glen Providence Park, Media, are presenting a series of seven concerts, every Thursday evening during July and August.

TRINITY CHURCH NOTES

Why wait for Fall?
INSTALL AUTOMATIC GAS HOUSE HEATING NOW!

Summer is the ideal time to install automatic gas house heating. There is little or no inconvenience at this time of year and it usually takes just a day to install the gas heating equipment. Compared with other automatic heating systems, it is economical to install and operate. Gas furnaces are usually cheaper to install than any other type of automatic equipment . . . and they are efficient and economical, too. So why wait—plan now for next winter's heating comfort—for the years to come—by installing automatic gas house heating soon!

The marriage of Miss Claire E. Clark on a farm at Brace Hill, Ballymena, Mrs. Webb returned this Tuesday from a long weekend visit in Hamburg, Pa., with her daughter Dr. Ruth C. Webb, research psychologist at the Hamburg State School and Hospital.

A trip to New England last week took Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shoemaker of Academy road for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Ball of Weston, Mass., and with former Swarthmoreans Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Sauter now of Sudbury, Mass. A tour of Sturbridge Village highlighted their return trip.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. E. Spencer Hewes of South Swarthmore avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Bettie Ann, to Mr. Henry F. Hofmann, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Hofmann, Sr., of Sylvan avenue, Rutledge.

Miss Hewes is a graduate of the University of Illinois. Mr. Hofmann is a graduate of Ursinus College and is attending Wharton School of wore a family veil of Belgian lace which had been worn by her paternal grandmother and her mother at their weddings. She carried a bouquet of roses and stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Andrea Gay of Riverview road and bridesmaids the Misses Arpl Hagopian of Beirut, Lebanon and Jill Martin Marks of Manhattan, New York City, wore full-length fitted Empire A-line linen dresses with white bodices and yellow skirts. Their head-dresses were small yellow flowered veiled hats. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of yellow daisies, white sweet-heart roses and ivy. The bridesmaids bouquets were of white daisies, yellow sweet-heart roses and ivy.

The flower girl, Karen Lynn Komarnicki of Wayne, N. J., wore a gown similar to the other attendants with a wreath of white daisies and ivy in her hair and carried a basket of daisies.

Mr. A. Sidney Johnson, III of Ann Arbor, Mich., was best man for the bridegroom. The ushers included Dr. Craig T. Smith of Danville; Mr. Marvin Lipschutz of Philadelphia; Mr. Timothy Powell of Wallingford and Mr. John C. Craitsley of Washington, D. C.

The mother of the bride chose a beige cocktail dress trimmed in white with a chartreuse cymbidium orchid corsage.

The bridegroom wore an ice blue chiton cocktail dress with Dior bow hat to match, white accessories and two white cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Vassar College.

The bridegroom who graduated in 1963 from Swarthmore College is a fourth-year medical student at the University of Pennsylvania Medical School.

After a wedding trip of a week, the young couple will be at home at 4625 Spruce street, Philadelphia.

A dinner was given by the bridegroom's mother in Blue Bell following the rehearsal on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Sidney Johnson, Jr., of North Chester road entertained on Saturday prior to the wedding at a brunch for the bridegroom and groomsmen.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan T. Lange of Akron, O., announce the birth of a son, Andrew Logan, on Wednesday, July 13. Mrs. Lange is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Logan Lawrence of Wellesley road. The paternal grandparents are

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon C. Lange of Crum ledge.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Jezi of Dogwood lane are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Mary Louise, on May 21, in Taylor Hospital.

Borough Council

sessions were denied. Keenan said that the 400 block of Swarthmore avenue, despite recent widening, was still too narrow to safely permit parking; and he said his committee felt remarkable visibility and insufficient traffic volume at the Ogden and Riverview road intersection made stop signs there unwarranted.

The committee will study a request received in a letter from Stuart Bowie, 523 Cornell avenue, to have that street barricaded at Fairview road to prevent motorists from dashing down Cornell in order to "duck the traffic light at Fairview and Chester roads."

Winter Foresight
A letter from Pennsylvania Railroad thanked the borough for its share in providing a walkway across the tracks on the east side of Swarthmore avenue.

Gowing said a suggestion for the cold of winter, made in the heat of summer by Garfield Davies of North Swarthmore avenue, would be remembered when the icy season rolled around again. Davies said that borough and state should be "full to see that salt and shovels are applied on hilly spots of Swarthmore avenue near the north stop signs, and Balli more pike at Cedar lane where motorists desiring to go from Swarthmore to Media must turn.

Employ Clerk-Typist
Council approved employment of Mrs. Christine C. Atkins as full-time clerk-typist in the borough administration office and authorized two-weeks severance pay for Mrs. Marjorie Forwood who has performed similar duties week-day mornings in the police station.

Mrs. Atkins will do the police typing as well as borough business, and the police station will no longer be open except for brief periods when a member of the force happens to be inside temporarily.

Council authorized the attendance of Chief William G. Weidner at the Pennsylvania Police Chiefs Association convention in York July 25-28 with maximum expenses of $25 per day and 10 cents per mile to be paid by the borough.

Motel Blueprints
Gowing announced that borough engineer and solicitor had thoroughly examined 70 pages of blueprints for the Wildman apartment-motel at Harvard and Yale avenues to make certain they conformed with the original special permit issued five years ago, and that a building permit had been issued late in June. He said construction must be begun within a year or the permit becomes invalid.

MORSES TAKE 92-DAY TOUR

Mr. and Mrs. Birney K. Morse of Harvard avenue returned home Wednesday of last week following two trips which started in February with a 92-day sea and air tour.

Going by plane to San Francisco they picked up the President Cleveland which stopped at Honolulu; they spent three weeks touring in Japan, flew to Taiwan, Hong Kong, Bangkok and from there to Singapore. Back on the boat at Djakarta they went on to Bombay; toured India by air in the Canadian Rockies. They also included Beirut, Lebanon; Damascus, Syria; Jordan, Israel; Cyprus, Greece, Italy and Lisbon. Their voyage home was by way of Halifax.

On their return they brought with them a two day visit their tour director Mrs. Jack Garrett Scott of West Palm Beach, Fla. Visitors for the next two days at the Morse home were Miss Marjorie Knowlton of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Vernon Perry from West Chester.

On June 8, the Morses left by car to drive to Edmonton, Alberta on a 10-day business trip. Afterwards they visited Jasper, Lake Louise and Banff, in the Canadian Rockies. They also stopped in Glacier National Park, Yellowstone; saw the Grand Tetons, the Black Hills and Badlands of South Dakota; and visited in Minnesota and in Milwaukee, Wis., with college roommates of Mrs. Morse and Mr. Morse's sister Mrs. S. D. Corr. They arrived home on July 6.

On July 4th in Milwaukee they enjoyed the parade featuring the old-time circus wagons drawn by eight horses, the wild animal acts and the calliope.

NEWS NOTES

EMERGENCY BLOOD
Swarthmore Borough residents' requests for blood may be made to Mrs. Johan Natvig, Red Cross Chairman of Blood, KI3-0294, or to her co-chairman Mrs. Robert van Ravenswaay, KI 3-8884.

Dr. Newcomb Chaney, Rose Valley Resident

Dr. Newcomb K. Chaney, a resident of Rose Valley for 29 years died Sunday, July 10, at his home on Possum Hollow road. He was 83. He was the father of Mrs. Bassett Ferguson, Jr., of Harvard avenue.

Dr. Chaney first worked for United Gas Improvement Company as director and later did consulting work for the American Gas Company and F.M.C. (Food Manufacturing Company) which continued until the day of his death.

His specialty, developed during World War I years at the Union Carbide Company in Cleveland, O., was activated carbon, in which he held important patents. Later he became expert in a new field, the gas industry.

At the time of his death he was working on a paper on a point of the Einstein Theory with which he disagreed.

A 1904 graduate of Carleton College, he was a Rhodes Scholar from Minnesota in 1906 at Balliol College of Oxford and obtained his Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1910.

It is surmised by his wife Elsie W., at home; a son Dr. David W. of Raleigh, N. C.; and five grandchildren, — Ann Ferguson, professor of philosophy at Brandeis University, Linda Ferguson Dyke of Dickinson Avenue, John Bassett Ferguson of Upper Darby, Ellen Ferguson Morrow of Yeadon, and Stephen Chaney of Raleigh.

Cremation was held on Monday. Interment at a later date will be held in Northfield, Minn.; a memorial service will be held at that time.

Nursing Service Re-Elects Gaskill
J. Franklin Gaskill, University place, was re-elected president of the Community Nursing Service, Delaware County, for a second term at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors held recently in Media.

Among other officers elected to serve for the 1966-67 year were Dr. Burton Williams of Rose Valley, vice president; Donald Cook of Moylar, vice president; Mrs. Henry Ford of Amherst avenue, recording secretary.

Board members re-elected to serve additional three-year terms included Donald Cook, Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Francis H. Forsythe of Thayer road; Mr. Gaskill, Mrs. A. Sidney Johnson, Jr., of North Chester road.

Leads Delegation
A former rector of Trinity Church, the Rev. Layton P. Zimmer, urban missionary for the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania, on Monday led a delegation of 20 members of Community Action groups in Philadelphia to Harrisburg, to demonstrate in favor of increased payments to dependent children in the Commonwealth.

The demonstrations will continue daily for the two weeks during which members of the State legislature will be holding hearings on the use of a $135,000,000 surplus from Governor Scranton's budget, Zimmer said.

"The Governor this weekend reported to the press his own feeling that the priority should, in his opinion, be used in aid of welfare recipients," Zimmer said, in part. "Those of us working in the community agree wholeheartedly with Governor Scranton on this issue. And, to make our opinions known to the legislators, we are prepared to go up each day, at some inconvenience to ourselves, and show how closely our concern is tied to these hearings which are going on now."

Bereaved
Alice Pennock, Haverford place, is bereaved by the death of her brother Charles Foster Pennock, Philadelphia Florist, who died Wednesday, July 6. He lived in Pipersville, Bucks County.

A former resident of Lansdowne, Mr. Pennock was a Rotarian and was active at one time in the Friends Neighborhood Guild.

In addition to his sister, he is survived by his wife and four married daughters. Services were held Saturday at 11:30 a.m. at Oliver Bair's, Philadelphia.

Thanks Searchers
To the Editor:

We would like to thank the Swarthmoreans and others who aided in searching for Robin last Thursday. We are very grateful for the official and private assistance given so spontaneously, and we were naturally relieved for all concerned that the efforts made reached a simple and comparatively early end.

Sincerely,
Robert Newton

Appreciate Changes
To the Editor:

Last fall you very kindly published for us a letter of protest against certain features of the Phase II report of the Borough Planning Study.

We hope that you will now permit us to express through your columns our appreciation of the changes outlined in an article in The Swarthmorean something more than a month ago. We are pleased to learn that the Commission has agreed "...to retain the present design..." in eight squares where an increase...had been proposed.

We are sending a copy of this directly to Mr. Hopper (Thomas W. Hopper, Chairman of the Swarthmore Planning Commission).

Sincerely yours,
Dorothy and John R. Brobeck

Have a good time and learn a lot on a visit to P.E.'s Peach Bottom ATOMIC INFORMATION CENTER

Do it soon. Drive through the rolling countryside. Take a tour in our air-conditioned Atomic Information Center at Peach Bottom on the Susquehanna near Conowingo. See how we produce electricity from atomic energy. Watch an animated cross-section of the Peach Bottom plant, an operating scale-model reactor. Look at an atom's structure, nuclear fission, chain-reaction control. From the center's observation deck, view the actual atomic generating station. And take in our Conowingo hydroelectric plant just down the river. You'll enjoy the trip. And learn so much.

S.S. OFFICE OPEN WEDNESDAY EVES.

New social security office hours were announced today by Harry R. Peterman, Dartmouth avenue, local district manager.

In addition to regular Monday through Friday hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., the Social Security District Office located in the Fidelity-Chester Building, 5th and Market streets, Chester, will be open an additional four hours every Wednesday evening until 9 p.m. during the months of July and August.

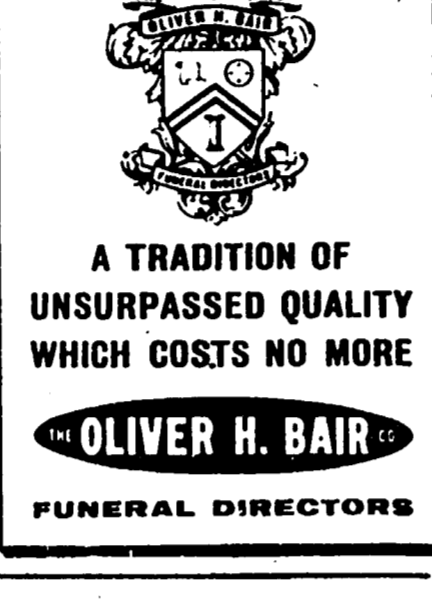

Many individuals find it difficult to visit the office because they work during the day. Extending office hours to 9 p.m. on Wednesdays, Peterman noted, will enable the Chester office to provide better service to the public.

Common measles is the most serious infectious disease of childhood and its eradication is seen as a possibility through wide use of vaccine.

Social Security Aids 55,000 Del. Countians

Fifty-five thousand people in Delaware County received a total of $56 million in social security benefits in 1965, Harry R. Peterman, social security district manager in Chester, revealed, an increase of $8 million and 2700 people over the year before.

A large part of the increase in payments resulted from changes made by the social security amendments of 1965, Peterman said. Those changes which were in addition to the new program of health insurance for the aged, included a 7% increase in monthly benefits retroactive to January 1965; benefits for widows as early as 60; benefits for full-time students between 18 and 22; benefits for some divorced women; and 24,039 disabled workers, and 24,039 disabled or children of retired, disabled or deceased workers.

"These figures," Peterman said, "show how wide the protection offered by social security has become. Just about every man, woman, and child in Delaware County has in social security the assurance that loss of income because of retirement, disability, or death will not result in destitution — and now with medicare everyone has the assurance that the costs of operations or medical services in his later years will not wipe out his savings."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clothier of Wallingford entertained a group of friends at a buffet supper on July 4th.

60 ENROLL IN WADE PROGRAM

Approximately 60 ninth and 10th graders, assembled from various Delaware County schools, are enrolled in the Swarthmore-Wade House Study Program which opened June 27 on the Swarthmore College campus. The young people are participating in a daily combination of education and recreation featuring small group discussions led by counselors who are students at the college, informality and a friendship between participants and counselors is stressed.

The curriculum is flexible, depending on the needs and interests of the young people. Mathematics, science, the arts, literature and creative writing, social studies, and reading skills are among the opportunities offered. Members of the college faculty, on a volunteer basis, lead presentations and discussion periods for the entire group. The center for daily sessions is Whittier House, located on the campus. Here group discussions are held and a lunch is served.

The entire program is without cost to participants. Young people are picked up by car or bus in the vicinity of their homes at 9 a. m. and are returned to their homes at 4:30 p. m. Each day's program terminates with outdoor sports or with swimming in the college pool. There will be specialty arranged day-long visits to points of cultural interest. Camp-style outings and attendance at concerts or plays will also be included. The summer phase continues seven weeks. There will be a follow-up program during the regular academic year.

The planners of Swarthmore's "Upward Bound" program believe that counseling and friendship of concerned and interested college students can be a powerful means of encouraging teen-agers to put their energies and talents to work so as to achieve satisfying lives and productive careers.

"If we can encourage self-discovery and turn mere hopes into substantial prospects for achievement, that would please us and that is what we are after," said Dr. Gilmore Stott, project director and administrative assistant to the president of the college.

"These young people have talent, but what they grow into depends on how they spend their time. Through friendship and example our counselors want to help show them what a fascinating and challenging time 'time-spending' can be."

SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET JULY 19TH

The Swarthmore-Rutledge School Board, at its meeting, June 27, accepted the low bid of R. H. Johnson, Wayne, for resurfacing (100%) of the cost of $2140, contingent upon approval of Swarthmore Tennis Club which uses the courts and has agreed to compensate the District for their repair.

Three bids were received for a new 3/4 ton truck with snow plow. Unfortunately a misplaced decimal point made one too low to be believed—$28.75. Others were $235.15 and $2980.

Per diem rate of $75 for substitute teachers was reset for another year. The board, upon recommendation of Superintendent Harry Kingham, decided to discontinue its association with the Delaware-Chester Regional Instructional Materials Center, Media, from which it had been securing rental films.

Dr. Kingham, a board member of the center, said it was doing good job for the majority of districts but Swarthmore found it could get a wider range of materials at a lower rate by patronizing Penn State University and other commercial agencies which lease films.

Due to vacation plans of school board members it was decided to hold the next meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, July 19, instead of on the regular fourth Monday evening of the month.

Sealed Proposals will be received at the Office of the County Controller, Court House, 11th and Market Sts., Philadelphia, Pa., up until 9:30 A. M. Eastern Daylight Saving Time, on Wednesday, July 20, 1966, for furnishing and delivering Grease and Oils to all Incinerator Plants of the County of Delaware, which will be opened in the presence of the County Commissioners at 10:00 A. M. E. D. S. Time, on that date.

Each bid must be accompanied by Cash, Certified Good Faith Check, or a Corporate Bid Bond, either one in the amount of ten percent (10%) of the total amount of the bid, drawn to the order of the County of Delaware. Forms of Proposal may be obtained at the Office of the Purchasing Agent, Court House, Media, Pa.

The County Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

PARK CONCERT

More than 750 Delaware Countyans enjoyed last Thursday's tree band concert at the County Dell in Glen Providence Park, Media.

This Thursday's July 21 concert, beginning at 8 p. m., with the Chester City Band, under the direction of Thomas G. Leason, Sr., will feature Robert B. Keel as master of ceremonies.

Mosquitos and other winged creatures are not in attendance at the county concerts because the County Mosquito Control Commission sprays the park prior to each Thursday's concert.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP STIPEND INCREASED

Dr. Courtney Smith, president of Swarthmore College and American secretary of the Rhodes Scholarships, has announced that the stipend for Rhodes Scholars has been increased from a set figure of 900 pounds per year to an adjustable figure which takes into account the differences in the necessary expenses of Rhodes Scholars while engaged on their studies in Oxford University, England.

Under the new scheme for computing stipends, the sum available toward the Scholar's expenses will be increased some 100 pounds, so that stipends will most cases amount to approximately 1000 pounds per year.

The Rhodes Scholarships, founded in 1902 by the will of Cecil John Rhodes, British statesman and philanthropist, provide a period of two years' study at Oxford University in any program or field of the scholar's choice which is offered by the university. The stipend of a Rhodes Scholar is sufficient to meet all of the Scholar's necessary expenses for term-time and vacations.

Under the new arrangements for stipends, the Rhodes Scholarship provides a direct payment to the Scholar's college of approved fees (such as matriculation, tuition, laboratory fees, and certain other set charges), plus a maintenance allowance of 720 pounds per year, which is paid directly to the Scholar.

Scholars with scientific programs will no longer be obliged, because of the necessity of laboratory fees, to cut into their resources for room, board, and spending money to a greater extent than Scholars in other fields. Thus the new stipend provides both a larger total stipend, and greater equity.

Young men from the United States who next fall will graduate at least junior standing in their colleges or universities and are at that time between the ages of 18 and 24 are eligible to apply for the Rhodes award. Thirty-two American Rhodes Scholars are chosen each year.

In Oxford, Rhodes Scholars do not reside together as a group, but individually become members of one of the 23 residence colleges for men which, together with women's colleges and societies for graduate or special study, comprise Oxford University. Degrees are awarded on the basis of examinations set by the university, and certain facilities such as scientific laboratories are provided centrally for the entire university. The individual colleges are, however, the center of the student's life, academic as well as extracurricular and social.

Since Oxford Colleges are characterized of small size, ranging from some 200 to 425 undergraduate members, intimacy of association with teachers and classmates is characteristic of Rhodes Scholars' Oxford experiences. Depth of acquaintance and friendship, valued by Cecil Rhodes as important to the Scholar's growth and capacity for service, are therefore a natural result of in-college life at Oxford.

Since the first American Rhodes Scholars went to Oxford in 1904, a total of 1798 winners from the United States have received appointments.

Information concerning the Scholarships may be obtained by writing President Courtney Smith, American Secretary of the Rhodes Scholarships, Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania 19081.

College Participates In Nationwide Experiment

Swarthmore College in September will have three post-baccalaureate fellows in a nationwide experiment toward better preparation of selected college graduates for first-rate professional and graduate schools.

Swarthmore is one of the seven liberal arts colleges selected to take part in "Broadening Opportunities," Based at Haverford College and under the direction of Dr. William E. Cadbury, Jr., the program will provide scholarship aid to high ability young men and women with baccalaureate degrees whose earlier education has been inadequate in some respects. They will spend two terms at one of the selected liberal arts colleges, and a summer or more studying at Haverford.

"Receiving" colleges were selected from among the top 25 as listed recently by the American Council on Education in the production of winners of three competitive national fellowships.

A grant of $450,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation and additional help from the Smith, Kline and French Foundation, will establish post-baccalaureate fellowships for about 30 students a year for three years and summer fellowships for 20 young people for three seasons.

The award from the Rockefeller Foundation will be primarily for young people who plan college teaching careers. Part of a $5,000 grant from the Smith, Kline and French Foundation will back a future physicist.

This program will avoid taking the best students away from their own colleges during junior and senior years. It is hoped that the participants in the program will return to their own communities, or to similar ones to serve as pastors, doctors, lawyers, and teachers.

Knee-Hi League Ends Season Volunteers Aid In Coaching 190 Boys

The Knee Hi League, as usual, was fairly well balanced. In nine years there has not been an undefeated team. The Indians (9 and 1) almost made it this year, but the Dodgers slipped them a loss the last game of the regular season. The American standings were:

	Won	Lost
Indians	9	1
Tigers	4	6
Orioles	4	6
Yankees	3	7

The National League was slightly better balanced as the Braves just about made the World Series in its final victory over the Orioles. The final National League standings were:

Braves	7	3
Dodgers	6	4
Cardinals	4	6
Phillies	3	7

Many thanks must go to all of the volunteer coaches who have given of their time to the Major and Minor League boys. The participation of the 190-some boys in the baseball league could not be possible without their help. On many occasions, men helped each other in order to be present at practice and games because the head coach was out of town.

On one such occasion, Mrs. Robert Heinze coached the Phillies. John Trevasick was out of town and there seemed to be no one else available. Mrs. Heinze who has been following the league for several years, filled in very ably. Everyone was sorry the team did not seem to have its winning shoes on that particular evening.

The regular coaches and assistants of this year's teams were: Orioles - Bob Mudrick, Vern Rupp; Indians - John Heffernan, Bill Collenberg, Dave Smith; Yankees - Marshall Schmidt, Dan Goldwater, Bill Foley; Tigers - Jack Cushing, Joe Rihl, Bob Hopson.

Braves - Harry Benton, San Gary, Art Collins, Andy Snyder; Dodgers - Dick Eckenroth, Merv DeLapp, Brook Bunting, Henry McCorkle, Chuck Halgen; Cards - John Sherman, Joe Delozier, Chuck Craver, Carl Bersin, Ed Heller; Phillis - John Trevasick, Bud Stein, Pete Murray, Stu Dunlap and, of course, Mrs. Heinze.

APPOINTED

Dr. and Mrs. Louis Jozsi of Harvard avenue have been appointed chairmen of telephone for the Sacred Heart Hospital Ball to be held late in the fall.

Dr. Sidney A. Parsons, Jr., of Wallingford is co-chairman of the dance committee. Dr. Vincent DeAugustine of Rose Valley is in charge of volunteer hostesses.

Plan Historic Preservation Project For Delaware County

Plans to initiate a large-scale historic preservation project for Delaware County were unveiled July 9 in Harrisburg after members of the Board of Directors of Historic Delaware County, Inc., conferred with Dr. S. K. Stevens, executive director of The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission. Mrs. Henry C. Patterson of Magill road, representing Historic Delaware County, presented plans.

As submitted for preliminary endorsement by the PHMC, the project would involve the expenditure of an estimated $1,500,000 plus in State, Federal and private funds during the next 10 years. It is aimed at preserving and maintaining for posterity more than a dozen of Delaware County's most historic buildings, no few of these dating back to the days of the Swedish colony of the mid-17th Century.

Included would be the 1724 Court House in the City of Chester, now the oldest public building still standing in the United States. Also, reconstruction of the "Printzhof," the combination residence-captain erected for Tinticum Island (Essexington) in the 1640's by the Governor of the New Sweden Colony, Johan Printz.

Other properties for which the Historic Delaware County group is evolving preservation-maintenance plans include the home of Benjamin West, Colonial painter, which stands on the Swarthmore College campus; the Thomas Massey House in Marple, and the Thomas Leiper House, home of the Scotch-born snuff manufacturer who was one of the key financiers of the Revolution.

The group also contemplates additional development at the 1683 Caleb Pusey House, Upland, now administered by The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, and at the Morton Homestead in Norwood, likewise a PHMC administrative property.

Efforts will be made to secure an 11-acre tract across Chester Creek from the Pusey House, for park development; also, the Creek itself is to be dredged to enable small boats to reach the old landing on the Pusey tract. The mill here would be restored, under the proposal, and restoration work started on five other buildings nearby.

After reviewing the plans, as presented by Mrs. Patterson, the executive director of the PHMC assured the delegation that the State Commission would lend its wholehearted approval and support to the project.

Mrs. Patterson, who also serves as co-chairman for the Caleb Pusey House Committee, will be in charge of the Historic Delaware County project.

Mrs. Patterson said the initial fund-raising phase of the operation would begin immediately. By completion target date of 1976, she added, the project should offer tourists in the Philadelphia area a six-hour swing through the earliest settled part of Pennsylvania, over a well-marked trail into the past, approximately 20 miles long, with stops at a dozen or more original, restored buildings and the reconstructed "Printzhof" on Tinticum Island.

Historic Delaware County, Inc., was organized in 1964 and incorporated last year, with headquarters in Swarthmore.

Name College Alumnus

Myron L. Boardman, a graduate of Swarthmore College, has been elected to the board of directors of the Laymen's National Committee, Inc. This interfaith organization, founded in 1940, conducts a year-round program of religious education and sponsors National Bible Week during the third week in October each year.

Mr. Boardman, executive editor of the Foundation for Christian Living, is a native of Rhode Island. He was with Prentice-Hall, Inc., for a period of 28 years, before he retired from this company in 1963 as president of the general books division.

In his position as executive editor at the Foundation for Christian Living, Pawling, N. Y., Mr. Boardman helps in the publishing and distribution of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's printed sermons and booklets, which are mailed to more than 300,000 persons each month in all parts of the world.

Mr. Boardman is also on the board of directors and finance committee of the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry, of which Dr. Peale is the president and co-founder. Mr. and Mrs. Boardman have a home in Ridgewood, N. J., and at Candlewood Lake, Conn.

Invite Logue

John J. Logue of Yale avenue has been invited by Governor Scranton to attend the Governor's Conference on Natural Beauty in Hershey on September 12 and 13. Logue plans to attend the conference.

A political science professor at Villanova, Logue is Open Space Chairman of the Citizens Council of Delaware County. He is also Democratic candidate for Congress in Delaware County's 7th District.

Last year Logue attended the White House Conference on Natural Beauty at President Johnson's invitation. In April of this year he was arrangements chairman of the Regional Seminar on Natural Beauty held at Villanova by the Penndel Open Space Committee.

In 1962 Logue was co-author of CDC's "Operation Open Space," a proposal that some 5,000 acres of open space in Delaware County be acquired by municipal, state or county governments.

VISITING COMMITTEE ASSESSES SWARTHMORE-RUTLEDGE SCHOOLS

The Middle States Association Visiting Committee, which spent four days in Swarthmore evaluating the Swarthmore-Rutledge Union School District, presented a report to the administration and board of directors which they, in turn, wish to pass along to the community and the students.

Self Study In making the evaluation, the members of the visiting committee had at their disposal the preparatory self-evaluation, covering many pages and comprising all aspects of the educational program, which the staff had itself prepared over the period of a year. The purposes of this self-study were to criticize organization and program; to plan improvements in organization, curriculum, activities, and in special services to pupils - first so that the boys and girls may have better opportunities than they had before, and second so that public funds may be used in the most economical and effective manner.

The visiting committee itself was made up of 16 educators representing a wide variety of schools, in respect to size and distribution over both urban and suburban areas. New Jersey and Pennsylvania were represented on this committee and one member was from a state teacher's college. The 16 members represented between two and three hundred years of experience in teaching, supervision, guidance, and administration. More than 75 years of formal study and background in more than 25 different colleges and universities in many parts of the country have been brought into focus on the school.

Report Highlights Highlights of the report included sincere commendations and some directing of attention to areas where it was thought improvements might be brought about. The report includes the following comments:

"We have been very much impressed with both the quality and the sense of dedication of the entire professional group from the superintendent and principals to the most recently appointed teacher, and the non-professional group as well. You have appeared to us as highly intelligent, well-educated men and women who really care about children and youth. In spite of your excellent work which is everywhere in evidence, we believe that you have the energy and decisiveness and the imagination to do what needs to be done to help your pupils even more than you have in the past.

Committee Impressions "We were impressed with the quality of the boys and girls as we were with the adults. Without exception, none of us with previous visiting committee experience had ever encountered more delightful children and youth: attractive, clean-cut, gracious, intelligent, natural, frank, secure. They told us so much about their school. We may have learned as much from their lips about the things that really matter as we did from the 300 plus pages of the 'Evaluative Criteria' which you so laboriously filled out and which we so laboriously studied. "We made an effort to employ a kind of projective technique; and as a consequence, we believe that these youngsters revealed attitudes and opinions and feelings and facts with only a partial awareness on their part of the extent of their revelations. We learned to our satisfaction of the great depth of their respect for their teachers and other adults in their school lives. "We felt their awareness and appreciation of the great interest the faculty has in all of the boys and girls in this school. They know you care about them and will go to great lengths to help them, and they made it very evident that they care about you and that they are grateful for your interest and help. In considering school quality, it would not be possible to overemphasize the importance of these relationships - caring, appreciation, interest, readiness to help.

Student Reaction "In our several conversations with students, we were impressed with the kinds of educational values these young people were developing; and in their responses, we were able to separate 'right' answers or merely supporting answers from their true feelings. Actually there seemed to be very little apparent effort to 'put their best foot forward.' We think that they were natural and sincere. Codes & Conferences "When asked what gave them the most pride in their school, not including classes or its academic reputation, they answered, 'The Standards Board and the Honors Code and Board - they don't always work right, but they're important.'

Another group was asked, 'Not counting classes, if one by one you had to give up everything in your school program that would you hold on to the longest?' The answer that appeared to receive the greatest assent surprised us. They would give up conference period last, and they told us why in a most convincing manner. "When pushed to a single answer as to why they were proud to be Swarthmore High School students, the answers fell into two groups. The first group said, 'We have better teachers, and they help us more than teachers do in other schools.' Of course, most of them lacked valid data to justify such comparisons; what matters most is that they felt or thought this so intensely. The other group answered, 'Our school has higher standards than most schools.' Interestingly, one group discussed at some length with much realism some of the social costs of being different, of having high standards of study and thought and behavior.

Family Visiting Committee gathered no more data than that furnished by the young people, most of us would have known that we were visiting a great high school in a discriminating community. We would have known we were witnessing evidence and hearing testimony of intelligent and (Continued on Page 8)

74 Africa-Bound ASFers Arrive Today At 3:30

At 3:30 this afternoon, two bus loads of American Field Service exchange students will arrive at the Swarthmore College Field House to make a six-day visit as the guests of various Swarthmore families.

The group, 74 strong, are part of a larger contingent of 150 who are bound for their homes in Africa on July 28. Today's visitors are coming from Washington, D. C., the windup of the two-and-a-half week bus trip that traditionally concludes AFS students' year in the U.S.A.

No formal program has been scheduled during their stay here, but families or individuals who would like to entertain one or more for a meal, a picnic, an afternoon or evening, or some kind of short expedition, are invited to call Judy Golz, KI 4-4957, after 1 p.m.

Judy was assisted in finding her willing hosts by her mother Mrs. William Golz, and Mrs. Edmund Jones and her daughter Elieta.

PIRATES TAKE TEENER LEAGUE

Trophies to Ricksecker, Moore, Brown, Robinson

The Swarthmore Recreation Association's Teener League came to a close last week with the Pirates, coached by Bob Lamberson, the league champs. Trailing the Pirates were the Glants, Senators, and Athletics coached by Jack Willis, Harry Dudley and Bill Biddle, respectively.

The Pirates, after being upset by the A's behind the strong pitching of Birney Brown, came through with a big win over the Glants 5-2. John Ricksecker picked up the win as he held the Glant hitters in check throughout the game.

Carl Hansen, Ricksecker, Dave Clark, Terry Irving, and Jack Benton supplied the batting punch for the Pirates while Gideon Young led the Glant hitters. Rob Lamberson made one of the big fielding plays of the game as he speared a hard line drive off the bat of Phil Moore and turned what appeared to be a sure base hit into a double play.

The board approved the payment of $239 per pupil for two students to attend the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf, Germantown. There will also be transportation cost of $2 per pupil per day on a Springfield bus. This will be a saving over last year since both will be day students and last year one was a boarding student at a cost of $766.

An adjourned meeting will be held at 6 p.m. Friday, July 29.

In Capital Mrs. Irvin R. MacElwee of Mt. Holyoke place is attending meetings of the International Platform Association being held July 19 through July 23 in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. MacElwee has been invited, and plans to attend the Governor's Conference on Natural Beauty to be held in Hershey September 12 and 13.

School Supports Comm. College Board Ups Tuition Rates for Next Year

School Board Tuesday night reiterated its support of a Community College for Delaware County and its willingness to join with other school districts to sponsor such a facility.

President John Spencer said he felt it was time to reaffirm the board's position to the Delaware County Board of School Directors since the County Commissioners' recent action in asking Pennsylvania State College to establish an extension center here made it clear that "if the county is to have a community college it must be sponsored by school districts."

Spencer said the local Board had always been strongly in support of a community college and that he felt there was decided favor for it in the community.

Dr. Mathews M. Johnson, who made the motion, said "there is a real need for a community college and only a community college will be sensitive to the community's needs, therefore whether or not an extension center materializes, we should support a community college."

Set Tuition Rates Tuition rates for next year were set with junior and senior high increasing $25 over last year to $745; elementary up $20 to $550; and half-day kindergarten up $10 to $275. However, Dr. Harry Kingham, superintendent said he would not recommend accepting any kindergarten or any new primary pupils as tuition costs because resident enrollment currently filled classes.

It was decided to make student accident policies of the Pilot Life Insurance Company again available at $3 per pupil. Establish New Dept. Taylor T. Lowry, Jr., superintendent of physical plant, was named assistant purchasing agent. A new maintenance and purchasing department for shipping, receiving, mimeographing will be established in the former guidance office with Mrs. Helen Walls as secretary. This work and Mrs. Walls were formerly part of the main district office. New guidance areas are being created from part of the old typing class room.

The board approved the payment of $239 per pupil for two students to attend the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf, Germantown. There will also be transportation cost of $2 per pupil per day on a Springfield bus. This will be a saving over last year since both will be day students and last year one was a boarding student at a cost of $766.

An adjourned meeting will be held at 6 p.m. Friday, July 29.

In Training Army Cadet Carl P. Anderson, 19, a student at Pennsylvania State University, University Park, is at Fort Knox, Ky., undergoing six weeks of summer training with his school's Reserve Officer Training Corps unit. He is receiving instruction in military skills which will qualify him for acceptance as a commissioned officer in the Army Reserves upon graduation. The summer encampment is scheduled to end July 30. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Anderson, live on President avenue, Rutledge.

Rotary To Hear 'Viet Nam Story'

Captain Robert Czauz, a helicopter pilot who has recently returned from Viet Nam, along with his gunnery sergeant, Jack Williams, will present the Marine Viet Nam story, at the Rotary meeting today at the Inghenauk. Two films, titled "Full Blade," and "Why Viet Nam?" will be featured in their presentation.

Also present will be Lieutenant Joseph L. Moran of the United States Air Force an F-4 fighter pilot who has also returned from Viet Nam after completing 120 missions into North Viet Nam territory. This longtime Swarthmore resident, a graduate of Swarthmore High School, has received eight Air Medals and two Distinguished Flying Crosses. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moran of Yale avenue.

Arts and crafts instructor is Mrs. Eleanor Parmenter; assistant instructor is Carolyn Plumer.

Championships Start Tomorrow Midgets, Jr., Vie In Meet Here At 9

The Swarthmore Swim Team swam their last meet of the season on Saturday in a tri-meet between Martin's Dam, Colonial Village, and Swarthmore at Martin's Dam. The Seahorses met defeat at the hand of both teams although the diving team managed to overthrow the Colonial Village diving team.

This Saturday, July 23, the league Championships will begin. Being held at Swarthmore are the Midget and Junior Backstroke, Breaststroke, and Medley Relays. The Swarthmore section of the Championships will be held at 9 a.m.

On the same day at the Marple Newtown pool the Intermediate and Senior swim the Backstroke, Breaststroke, and Medley Relays at 2 p.m. The league Championships will continue all through next week until the 30th.

A new session of the swimming and diving lessons was begun this past Monday and will continue for the next two weeks. The Junior and Senior Life Saving classes were postponed, however, for lack of enough participants. The next session of swimming, diving and Life Saving classes commences August 1.

Water ballet practices have begun and are held at 2 each afternoon. Everyone is invited to join the fun and prepare for the big show on August 16.

CANTEEN NEWS

The Swarthmore Recreation Association has been running a successful summer canteen for the past four weeks. Dancing and games have been held in the Woman's Club every Wednesday night.

The canteen on July 13 was highlighted by several contests. John Ricksecker won the door prize while Mark Cohen won the shuffleboard with 80 points. Mike Tracy and Ann Hubbard won a "Lip-Sing" contest despite stiff competition.

The next to the last canteen on July 27 will feature more "Lip-Singing" and a local dance combo headed up by Scott Sessions and Jay Jackson.

Weddings

GRISWOLD - DUNCAN

The marriage of Miss Joan Margaret Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Duncan of Rutgers avenue, to Mr. Peter Lane Griswold, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. S. Griswold, Jr., of Old Lyme, Conn., took place on Saturday, July 16, at 2 o'clock in the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. Evor Roberts before an altar decorated with bouquets of larkspur, carnations, pompons, bank of ferns and candelabra. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of white silk organza with re-embroidered Alencon lace etched with pearls accenting the high scoop neckline. It was fashioned with Babuki sleeves and Empire waist of the sheath skirt and featured a full detachable Chapple-length train trimmed with matching Alencon lace appliques. Her bouffant veil of imported illusion was held by a headpiece of petals and roses of organza etched with pearls and appliqued with Alencon lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of spider mums, butterflyroses and lily.

Mrs. John Walker of Cambridge, Mass., the former Joan McKinnell of Yale avenue, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Nancy Klyberg of Hackensack, N. J., and Nancy Gatewood of Elm avenue. Their gowns of turquoise organza over taffeta featured bateau necklines embroidered in white, dior length sleeves; the skirts were also embroidered in white. Their matching headpieces were of imported illusion held by a rose of organza outlined in pearls and they carried bouquets of blush pink miniature carnations, baby's breath and lily in cascade.

Dr. Douglas Griswold, Hartford, Conn., was best man for his brother. The ushers included another brother, Capt. Sloane Griswold of Fort Rucker, Ala., and Messrs. John Walker of Cambridge, Mass., Paul Mengel of Manchester, Mich., and Gerald Fischer of New Haven, Conn.

The bride's mother chose a aqua silk linen dress featuring a fitted Chantilly lace bodice with modified scooped neckline and hat of matching color in organza petal design.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue lace over ivory silk sheath with matching veil. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in McCahan Hall of the church.

The bride, a graduate of Swarthmore High School and The College of Wooster, Ohio, is an art teacher in Upper Darby Schools.

The bridegroom, who graduated from Lawrenceville High School and College of Wooster, O., received his Master's degree in May at the University of Pennsylvania and will continue his studies at the University of Pennsylvania for his doctorate.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the young couple will make their home in Lansdowne. The bridegroom's parents entertained at a rehearsal dinner on Friday evening at The Barclay for the bridal party and out-of-town guests.

GARBER - ST. JOHN

The marriage of Miss Sperry Lynn St. John to Mr. Randolph McCann Garber took place on Saturday, July 16, at Trinity Episcopal Church, The Rev. H. Ward Jackson officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. St. John of Moylan and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Sperry of Wonder Lake, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. R. N. St. John of Wichita, Kans. Mr. Garber, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Garber of Saginaw, Mich., is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Garber and the late Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McCann.

Cousins of the bridegroom, Miss Margo Geyer and Mr. Robert Geyer of Saginaw, Mich., served as maid of honor and best man, respectively. The bridesmaids were Miss Sue St. John, sister of the bride and Miss Gretchen Garber, sister of the bridegroom. John St. John and Dennis Garber, brothers of the bride and bridegroom, respectively, were the ushers.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Moylan.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Garber will make their home in Saginaw, Mich.

United Fund Names Mmes Field, Andrew
 Four district directors have been appointed to serve in next fall's 1967 Torch Drive in Delaware County.
 Herbert W. Huse of Vassar avenue, chairman of the Central Delaware County Division and the co-chairman, William Buell Scher of Cedar lane made the announcements.
 The districts and their directors include:
 Swarthmore - Mrs. David M. Field of Vassar avenue and Mrs. Franklin H. Andrew of Cornell avenue; Secane-Holmes - Allen E. Bryson of Brooke avenue, Morton; Folsom-Rutledge - Mrs. Henry F. Hoffman of Sylvan drive, Rutledge. These directors will enroll captains and collectors and direct their efforts for the benefit of 250 voluntary health and welfare agencies and services in the County and the Greater Philadelphia Area.
 Mrs. Field is a teacher in the nursery school of the Presbyterian Church. She has also been active for many years in a variety of civic and charitable fund-raising campaigns, including the Swarthmore UNICEF collection and the scholarship fund of the Swarthmore Woman's Club.
 She serves on the board of the Swarthmore Public Library and is active in the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, the League of Women Voters, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.
 Her husband is an aeronautical engineer with the Boeing Company. They have four children - Nancy 17; Michael 15; Susan 14; and Jeffrey 11.
 Mrs. Andrew is an active member of the Woman's Club which she has served as chairman of the ways and means committee and assistant treasurer and is currently first vice president and finance chairman. A member of the Presbyterian Church, she has served as collector for several fund drives and is a director of the Red Cross.
 Her husband is a civil engineer with the General Electric Company. They have a son Franklin, Jr., a captain in the Medical Service Corps of the U.S. Army.

METHODIST NOTES
 "Contemporary Christian Beliefs" will be the sermon topic for the 10 a.m. service of worship on Sunday. Mr. Smith will conduct the service. Solist will be John Day, tenor, who will sing Malotte's "Twenty-Third Psalm."
 Classes for children up to and including sixth grade are held at 9:50. Junior High classes meet at 10. Adult class, including college youth, will meet at 11.
 MYF, including this fall's sophomores, meet at the church at 7 Sunday before going to a member's home for the program.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE NOTES
 "Truth" is the subject of the Bible Lesson-Sermon to be considered at all Christian Science services this Sunday. One of the central themes will be Jesus' parable of the sower whose seed fell by the wayside, on stony ground, and among choking thorns - "But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some a hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold." (Matthew 13:8)
 An invitation is extended to all to attend the services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 206 Park avenue, at 11 a.m.

TRINITY NOTES
 Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 8 a.m. service on Sunday. Morning Prayer will be held at 10.
 Holy Communion will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday. Evening Prayer is held at 7:15 Monday through Friday.

PARK CONCERT
 The 4th in the series of free band concerts sponsored by the County Park & Recreation Board at the County's Dell in Glen Providence Park, Media will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. The Chester City Band is under the direction of Thomas G. Leeson, Sr. Robert B. Keel is master of ceremonies.
 Residents are invited to join their neighbors for a mosquito-free evening at the "county's most beautiful park."

POLICE & FIRE NEWS
 A 15-year-old Sprout Estates girl escaped with a cut forehead at 1:15 p.m. last Thursday when a car she was attempting to drive a few feet, backed over the edge of a steep embankment near the campus bridge over the railroad and landed upside down on the tracks 30 feet below.
 Nancy Dallett had received permission from the car's owner, her aunt Mrs. Shirley Barnes of Chester, to move the car closer to some tennis equipment which they were loading after playing on the college courts.
 Power in the electric wires had to be shut off and trains were delayed nearly an hour and a half while a railroad truck and a Springfield body shop truck pulled the vehicle up the bank. The girl was taken to Taylor Hospital where six sutures were required in a cut over her left eye.

TB ASSOCIATION SEEKS ARTISTS
Set Sept. Deadline For 1968 Xmas Seal
 The Delaware County Tuberculosis and Health Association is issuing an invitation to local artists to submit original designs for the Christmas Seal. Deadline for the design is September 30, 1966.
 The artist of the winning design will receive an award of $1,000 from the National Association and his seal will be used in 1968, reproduced throughout the United States thousands of times.—on letters, packages, newspapers, magazines and billboards. In addition, the winning artist and his career will be publicized by tuberculosis associations in every state in the union, in newspapers, graphic arts and advertising magazines, syndicated stamp columns, etc.
 Information concerning the competition is compiled in a pamphlet entitled, "A Call for Artists," which can be obtained by writing to the Delaware County TB & Health Association, 9th and Welsh streets, Chester, or by calling TR-6-8297. All designs must be submitted before October 1, 1966.

Lt. Chester A. Kunz, Jr., and Miss Harriett Kunz are at home with their parents Rear Admiral and Mrs. Chester A. Kunz of Woodbrook lane. Lt. Kunz is engineer officer on the U.S.S. Bang which is in the Philadelphia Navy Yard for a few weeks. Miss Kunz has returned from Seattle, Wash., where she was graduated from the University of Washington in March, 1965, and since has worked in Juvenile Court Detention Center. She is now pursuing a musical career.

The Misses Martha and Irina Kelghton returned to their home on South Chester road Sunday on a two-week tour to Yellowstone, Grand Teton, Bryce, Zion and Grand Canyon National Parks. Miss Irina Kelghton is in the investments department at Provident National Bank, Philadelphia. Miss Martha Kelghton retired in June after 38 years of elementary teaching - 28 in the Linwood schools and 10 years in the Nether Providence schools where she was also head teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boyer and son Mark of Dickinson avenue returned Sunday from a 160-mile hike along the Appalachian Trail. Accompanied by Ruby Horwood and Grant Smith of Philadelphia and Elizabeth Powell of Mainland, Pa., they began their hike at Fontana Dam, at the end of the Smokies in Tennessee, and traveled south through the Nantahala National Forest in North Carolina, and the Chatahoochee National Forest of Georgia to Springer Mountain, the southern terminus of the A.T. Eleven-year-old Mark, who has now completed 1000 miles of the trail, killed a Diamond Back Rattlesnake. His souvenir of seven rattles, with the button, was removed with first aid scissors. Before their return, Mr. and Mrs. Boyer, with Mark, spent a week with their son Lt. Mahlon C. Boyer in Craig Airforce Base, Selma, Ala. Lt. Boyer will receive his wings in September.

Debbie Torrey of Thayer road and Shelby Jackson of Oberlin avenue departed for Bermuda on July 15 for a two-and-a-half week vacation. They will stay with Shelby's aunt, Katherine Jackson of Windsong, Point Shares, near Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kirk of Brookhaven had as their recent guest Mr. Kirk's former classmate at Swarthmore High School Mr. Stephen Hay, son of Mrs. E. M. Hay, onetime resident of Ogden avenue now living in Chestnut Hill. Mr. Hay, who had given a week-long seminar on East Indian History at Bucknell University, was enroute to U.C.L.A., Santa Barbara where he teaches East Asian history. He and his wife and child made their home in Santa Barbara.

62 Discover New Perspectives In Upward Bound Program at College

A 15-year-old begins to find meaning in a printed page; a group sees the ocean for the first time; another group takes out library cards. These are some of the incidents that have marked the first three weeks of the Upward Bound Program at Swarthmore College.

The program is an outgrowth of the Swarthmore Wade House Study Program which was started two years ago to encourage high potential students in eighth and ninth grades from non-college backgrounds to work through high school towards a college goal. On a very small budget, students from Swarthmore College under the direction of a professional director, acted as counselors for a six-week program. Faculty members of Swarthmore College gave their time for lectures.

Low Income Criterion

This year the program received a grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity which enabled it to expand its program to include 62 children from Chester and the surrounding areas. Where before the children had been picked for their high intellectual potential, this year the criterion has been the low income bracket of their families.

According to Donald Cheek, educational director of the program and a National Institute of Mental Health Fellow at Temple University, this is a challenging situation. "We are already discovering an awakening interest in college in children who had never had such a thought before," said Mr. Cheek. "They have discovered new ideas and new perspectives."

Small Groupings

When the campers first arrived they were given reading ability and aptitude tests. The results ranged all the way from the first to the 98th percentile. Instead of following last year's program of lectures and follow-up trips, the program has been set up for small groups working with a counselor.

There is remedial reading under the guidance of Mrs. Betty Wyco, a reading specialist in the Philadelphia public schools. A graduate of Radcliffe and the Harvard Graduate School of Education, she gives four days a week of individual attention to groups of five with the help of two counselors working under her.

A 15-year-old boy who had trouble reading individual words, finally found that he could read sentences without guessing at the contents. "Nobody ever worked like that with me before," he said.

Personal Involvement

The counselors themselves have never been so personally involved. They spent a week in training before the program opened. A large part of their time was spent in recruiting campers, on the playgrounds and on street corners in Chester, telling the young people directly about the program and what it would do for them. A number of students had been signed up through the cooperation of the guidance counselors in the Chester schools.

Mr. Cheek feels that one of the great triumphs of the recruiting is the number of boys who gave up summer jobs to seize this opportunity for help in working towards college.

Student Assistance

The 17 counselors, students at Swarthmore College, are assigned one to four campers. They are responsible for home visits, explaining to the parents the ideals and goals of the program. They assist the aid of the parents and impress upon them the need for a quiet place to study and encouragement to do homework. The counselors are responsible for personal counseling with their campers. Besides the remedial groups there are interest groups tailored to individual needs. There are classes in geography of Delaware County, in math, in art, in Reconstruction History.

Group Interests

For the past week, each group has decided on its own interests and plans. One group went to New York; a number to Philadelphia, to the Zoo, to museums; one to Atlantic City "to see the ocean." Two groups chose to take their street corner hangouts, where they went to school, and where they played. Some took a trip to the Chester Public Library and came out with library cards for the first time in their lives.

Costa Miller, guidance counselor of Chester High School, visited the program last week. He explained the opportunities in the high school curriculum; how the students might switch from a vocational to an academic background and their chances of being able to go to college.

Robert Cooter of McLean, Va., a senior at Swarthmore in the Honors Program in psychology, has a grant from the college this summer to do research on the Upward Bound program's effect on the campers. He is administering tests, scoring them, giving vocational counsel to the campers, and will test them again at the end of the summer.

Recreational Activities

The recreational activities also play an important part. A group spent a night camping in Smedley Park, another went to Maryland for an overnight camp. There is swimming every afternoon in the College pool, where the boys have learned to swim quickly within a week most of them were doing laps of the pool.

The counselors say they find the work harder than college. It is physically demanding, they are on the run all day. But they all find it rewarding.

Plan Forecasts Day

A Parents' Day is planned in the near future when parents will attend classes with their children. Also planned is a production of Stephen Vincent Benet's "The Devil and Daniel Webster." Stephen Hamilton, a senior in the Honors program in history from Rock Island, Ill., will direct the production to be given the last week of the program.

Not all of these children are college potential, according to the leaders, but this summer's experience will give them broader horizons and an incentive to work towards their capacity. Many of them had no idea of any vocational possibilities between manual labor and the professions of doctor or teacher.

The program enjoys the joint sponsorship of Swarthmore College and the Robert Wade Neighborhood House in Chester and has been endorsed by the Greater Chester Movement.

Policy Direction

Policy direction is provided by a steering committee headed by Professor Leon Branson, head of the department of sociology and anthropology at Swarthmore College; Alan R. Hunt, chairman of the board of Wade House; and Jack Nagel of New Cumberland, who received his B.A. degree from Swarthmore in political science, with highest honors, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

The center for daily sessions is in the Whitler House of the Swarthmore Friends Meeting on the college campus. Here group discussions are held and a daily lunch is served. The College pool is used for swimming and the Pearson Theater is available for plays, lectures, and meetings.

S.R.A. DRAMA CLUB ENTERTAINS TODAY

At 10:30 this morning, Friday, the S.R.A. Dramatic Club will entertain the boys and girls of the Summer Club in the all-purpose room of the Rutgers Avenue Elementary School. This group of 15 boys and girls will present two one act plays - "Pumpkin Pie," a comic fantasy, and "The Enchanted Serpent," a Chinese play, which will be performed in the Chinese manner.

The cast of "Pumpkin Pie" includes Marty Welbourn, Janet Lane, Sam Anderson, Elizabeth Logue, Peggy Hart, Carol Johnson, Susan McAllister, and Richard Onley. Scenery for the play was constructed in the Crafts Club, with Miriam Taylor as chairman of this committee. Properties are the charge of Peggy Hart and Carol Johnson, Marty Welbourn and Janet Lane are in charge of costumes, on loan from the Junior Theatre of the Community Arts Center, Wallingford.

The cast of "The Enchanted Serpent" consists of Laura Goldberg, Miriam Taylor, Pam Rohschild, Lisa Goltsegen, Karen Oerth, and Joan Goldberg. Marty Welbourn is in charge of the scenery, properties were assembled by Laura Goldberg and Lisa Goltsegen. Pam Rohschild is in charge of costumes.

Lighting for the plays will be handled by Sam Anderson. The plays are a cooperative effort, with all members of the club helping.

Parents and other interested persons will be welcome. The plays are under the direction of Barbara Graves, founder and director of The Junior Theatre of the Arts Center.

inspired teaching and counseling as well as excellent educational leadership. We would have known, I think, that Rutledge and Swarthmore are family towns where parenthood and civic duties are taken seriously, for the maturity of thought and the values of these children and youth mirror their parents as much as they mirror their teachers.

"We would have known that a devoted and supporting board of education had worked for many years to develop the policies and foster the conditions that would permit Swarthmore High School to flourish. We found much pride in both young people and adults - perhaps self-respect is a more accurate term. We also found humility and a wonderful sense of simplicity. What better way to try to appraise the quality of a school than by examining its products?"

The visiting committee found the statement of philosophy and educational objectives of the Swarthmore-Rutledge district to be excellent. Commenting on these, they reported them to be "well suited to support and justify the existing program for the youth of Swarthmore and Rutledge."

Lacrosse News

Schedule for Lacrosse games in the Suburban Lacrosse League to be played at 6:30 p.m. in Swarthmore next week include:

Monday, Arrows vs. Braves; Tuesday, Troquos vs. Ottawas; Wednesday, Arrows vs. Warriors.

The field is located at the corner of College avenue and North Chester road. Games scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Polo Field in Bryn Mawr are:

Monday, Tomahawks vs. Chiefs; Tuesday, Algonquins vs. Mohawks; Wednesday, Chiefs vs. Braves; Thursday, Comanches vs. Ottawas.

Nine County Hospitals Participate in Medicare

Nine hospitals in Delaware County with a total of 2,510 beds, are now participating in the Medicare program. The participating hospitals in this area, according to Peterman, are:

Crozer-Chester Medical Center, Delaware County Memorial, Fitzgerald Mercy, Haverford General, Haverford State Hospital, Riddle Memorial, Sacred Heart, Taylor, and Tri-County.

Nationwide, 8,323 hospitals are now participating in the Medicare program, representing 95 percent of all general hospital beds in the nation that are available for use by Medicare patients. In Pennsylvania, a total of 283 hospitals, representing 99 percent of beds in the state are now participating in the program.

In Delaware County approximately 50,000 persons, age 65 or over, have enrolled in the hospital insurance benefits program.

Lighting for the plays will be handled by Sam Anderson. The plays are a cooperative effort, with all members of the club helping.

Parents and other interested persons will be welcome. The plays are under the direction of Barbara Graves, founder and director of The Junior Theatre of the Arts Center.

Board To Decide Harvard Inn Fate

39 Approve Conversion To 10-Apt. Building

Chairman George Ewing of the Zoning Board of Adjustment said Monday night that the board will make its decision regarding the conversion of the Harvard Inn into an apartment house, next week.

At a two-hour public hearing July 14 the board considered the plan of Harold C. Rahn, 401 North Swarthmore avenue, to extend the non-conforming use of the structure, which he had been denied by Borough Council two months earlier.

Rahn pointed out that he planned to install fire stops and emergency lighting and alarms in accordance with State Department of Labor and Industry requirements and change some interior partitions to create 12 private apartments out of the present three apartments, 10 sleeping rooms, and public dining and living rooms, -- but that he would not change the exterior of the building.

He said that the new facility would not draw any more people or cars than the present one if the latter was fully functioning as the tourist home-restaurant which is already lawfully there. He said that 26 notices issued to neighboring property owners by the Zoning Board had brought no replies. Mrs. Marjorie Davis owner who has sought unsuccessfully for three years to sell the property which was appraised at $57,000 in 1963 and is assessed at $13,000 for tax purposes, said she might have to board the structure up since she is losing money on it.

Robert Erskine, attorney for Rahn, said that the structure couldn't be sold or rented as a family dwelling. George Saulnier, attorney for Mrs. Davis, contended that the building's non-conforming use, since it antedates the zoning ordinance, can continue without being subjected to present zoning. He claimed court decisions have held that such uses can expand even without proving hardship, but that in his opinion what is being asked here is not really an expansion.

A petition signed by 39 area residents approving conversion of the building to 10 apartments with off-street parking for all cars, and no public dining room was presented. Three others wrote letters saying they felt the change would be an improvement over the present facility which was not suited to today's living.

Two men and one woman attending the hearing expressed opposition and several others voiced concern regarding the appearance of the off-street parking (the borough law now requires one parking space for each apartment) and the safety of exiting from one part of it onto the curved section of Harvard avenue.

The Zoning Board asked Rahn to submit more detailed plans, which he did Monday of this week.

Library Renovation Necessitates Evening Hours Only in August

The Swarthmore Public Library will be open from 6 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday during the month of August. This curtailment of hours is necessary for extensive renovation and painting of the library quarters.

Members of the board and staff believe that the resulting improvements will justify any inconveniences for library patrons.

TENNIS PUPILS ATTEND MATCHES

Two busloads of active SRA tennis pupils took off for Merion Cricket Club Tuesday of last week. The day began with a clinic given by excellent young tennis players demonstrating various strokes, strategy of play, and tennis exercises.

The SRA instructors and pupils enjoyed lunch in the shade followed by several hours watching exciting matches played by the world's top ranking tennis amateurs, including Stan Smith, Vic Seixas and Mary Ann Eisel. The young spectators seemed to enjoy the matches almost as much as the lemonade on hand!

This week in the tennis program skill tests are being given to all of the group to determine the progress of the players. The initial test includes both forehand and backhand. Top scorers will also be tested in the serve and volley. Certificates will be awarded to all who have shown significant progress.

Next week there will be tournament play to determine group champions. Trophies will be given to the most improved player of each group and the all around player with the best sportsmanship.

Register Now For Vacation School

The Swarthmore Methodist Church will conduct a Daily Vacation Church School August 15 through August 26. Classes for children who enter kindergarten in September through sixth grade inclusive, will meet each morning from 9:30 until 11:45.

All children who wish to attend must register by August 2. Those who are not pre-registered will not be enrolled. There is no registration fee. Interested persons may call KI 3-0398 for registration.

The staff, directed by Mrs. Robert Strong, includes Mrs. Bruce Blake, Mrs. Lowell Reed, Mrs. Richard Stigelman, Mrs. Gerald Maple, Mrs. Allan Jameson, Mrs. Frank Eisenhower, Mrs. Robert Statton, Mrs. James Malcolmson and Mrs. John Kulp.

Assisting them will be Linda Strong, Carol Jameson, Karen Maple and Sue Plummer.

GUESTS OF TED WILLIAMS

Edward Mifflin and son Fred of Drew avenue were the guests on Monday, July 25, of baseball star Ted Williams in Cooperstown, N. Y., at which time he was entered in the baseball Hall of Fame. Also taken in at the same time was Casey Stengel.

Registrars To Sit

Rotary registrars will sit in the Sidney Smedley School, Highland avenue and Alpha Terrace, Morion, on Wednesday, August 3, to register voters for the General Election on November 8.

SWARTHMORE FETES AFRICAN STUDENTS

Swarthmore has had the unique pleasure of a six-day visit from 74 American Field Service exchange students homeward bound to Algeria, Uganda, Ethiopia, Malagasy Republic, Southern Rhodesia, Swaziland and South Africa.

After a final get-together at Whittier House on Wednesday night the students gathered at noon on Thursday in the Field House parking lot. There they loaded their gear aboard two buses and headed for Kennedy Airport and home.

While visiting this community the students received warm hospitality from the following host families:

In addition meals or other forms of hospitality were given by Mrs. Willard Tomlinson, Rochelle Young, Dr. and Mrs. John Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. David Wadleigh, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Remington, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Welbourn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Good, Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Burnett and Mrs. Barbara Reed.

SRA Lines Up Special Events

The final week of the Swarthmore Recreation Association Summer Club will be highlighted by a list of special events.

Monday will be Field Day for the younger set while the rest join in a Bike-A-Rama. On Tuesday, all members from second grade up will go to the Playhouse in the Park to see "Finocchio." There will be pony rides for all on Wednesday, and for the older groups, a Field Day on Thursday.

There is much in store for the final day, -- first, a scavenger hunt followed by a film, "Sisbad the Sailor." The closing event will be a hot dog roast for all.

This past week, the Arts and Crafts groups have displayed their work at the Library and the Variety Corner. The Dramatics group made an exciting visit to the Valley Forge Music Fair to see the "Chief of Bards." After the show, they toured backstage and met the cast.

Attend Governor's Conf.

Dr. Courtney Smith, president of Swarthmore College, attended the Governor's Conference on Higher Education in Harrisburg yesterday.

He was accompanied by Robert H. Wilson, vice president of Girard Trust Bank, as the representative of the Board of Managers of Swarthmore College; by Professor Charles E. Gilbert of the political science department as representative of the faculty of Swarthmore; and by Stephen F. Hamilton of Rock Island, Ill., as the member of the student body.

Rotary To Hear

James F. Van Valkenburg, chairman of the legislation committee of the Delaware County Federation of Sportsman's Clubs, will be the speaker at the 12:10 Rotary meeting today at the Inglenook. He will speak on the controversy over recent and proposed firearms legislation.

Dr. Fred Patman will introduce the speaker.

Dr. Anwar Barkat To Preach Sunday

62 Discover New Perspectives In Upward Bound Program at College

A 15-year-old begins to find meaning in a printed page; a group sees the ocean for the first time; another group takes out library cards. These are some of the incidents that have marked the first three weeks of the Upward Bound Program at Swarthmore College.

The program is an outgrowth of the Swarthmore Wade House Study Program which was started two years ago to encourage high potential students in eighth and ninth grades from non-college backgrounds to work through high school towards a college goal. On a very small budget, students from Swarthmore College under the direction of a professional director, acted as counselors for a six-week program. Faculty members of Swarthmore College gave their time for lectures.

Low Income Criterion

This year the program received a grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity which enabled it to expand its program to include 62 children from Chester and the surrounding areas. Where before the children had been picked for their high intellectual potential, this year the criterion has been the low income bracket of their families.

According to Donald Cheek, educational director of the program and a National Institute of Mental Health Fellow at Temple University, this is a challenging situation. "We are already discovering an awakening interest in college by children who had never had such a thought before," said Mr. Cheek. "They have discovered new ideas and new perspectives."

Small Groupings

When the campers first arrived they were given reading ability and aptitude tests. The results ranged all the way from the first to the 98th percentile. Instead of following last year's program of lectures and follow-up trips, the program has been set up for small groups working with a counselor.

There is remedial reading under the guidance of Mrs. Betsy Weyer, reading specialist in the Philadelphia public schools. A graduate of Radcliffe and the Harvard Graduate School of Education, she gives four days a week of individual attention to groups of five with the help of two counselors working under her.

A 15-year-old boy who had trouble reading individual words, finally found that he could read sentences without guessing at the contents. "Nobody ever worked like that with me before," he said.

Personal Involvement

The counselors themselves have never been so personally involved. They spent a week in training before the program opened. A large part of their time was spent in recruiting campers, on the playgrounds and on street corners in Chester, telling the young people directly about the program and what it would do for them. A number of students had been signed up through the cooperation of the guidance counselors in the Chester schools.

Mr. Cheek feels that one of the great triumphs of the recruiting is the number of boys who gave up summer jobs to seize this opportunity for help in working towards college.

Student Assistance

The 17 counselors, students at Swarthmore College, are assigned one to four campers. They are responsible for home visits, explaining to the parents the ideals and goals of the program. They enlist the aid of the parents and impress upon them the need for a quiet place to study and encouragement to do homework. The counselors are responsible for personal counseling with their campers.

Besides the remedial groups there are interest groups tailored to individual needs. There are classes in geography of Delaware County, in math, in art, in Reconstruction history.

Group Interests

For the past week, each group has decided on its own interests and plans. One group went to New York; a number to Philadelphia, to the Zoo, to museums; one to Atlantic City "to see the ocean." Two groups chose to take their counselors to Chester to see their street corner hangouts, where they went to school, and where they played. Some took a trip to the Chester Public Library and came out with library cards for the first time in their lives.

Costa Miller, guidance counselor of Chester High School, visited the program last week. He explained the opportunities in the high school curriculum; how the students might switch from a vocational to an academic background and their chances of being able to go to college.

Robert Cooter of McLean, Va., a senior at Swarthmore in the Honors Program in psychology, has a grant from the college this summer to do research on the Upward Bound program's effect on the campers. He is administering tests, scoring them, giving vocational counsel to the campers, and will visit them again at the end of the summer.

Recreational Activities

The recreational activities also play an important part. A group spent an night camping in Smedley Park, another went to Maryland for an overnight camp. There is swimming every afternoon in the College pool, where the boys have learned to swim quickly; within a week most of them were doing laps of the pool.

The counselors say they find the work harder than college. It is physically demanding, they are on the run all day. But they all find it rewarding.

Plan Parents' Day

A Parents' Day is planned in the near future when parents will attend classes with their children. Also planned is a production of Stephen Vincent Benet's "The Devil and Daniel Webster." Stephen Hamilton, a senior in the Honors program in history from Rock Island, Ill., will direct the production to be given the last week of the program.

Not all of these children are college potential, but according to the leaders, but this summer's experience will give them broader horizons and an incentive to work towards their capacity. Many of them had no idea of any vocational possibilities between manual labor and the professions of doctor or teacher.

The program enjoys the joint sponsorship of Swarthmore College and the Robert Wade Neighborhood House in Chester and has been endorsed by the Greater Chester Movement.

Policy Direction

Policy direction is provided by a steering committee headed by Professor Leon Branson, head of the department of sociology and anthropology at Swarthmore College; Alan R. Hunt, chairman of the board of Wade House; and Jack Nagel of New Cumberland, who received his B.A. degree from Swarthmore in political science, with highest honors, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

The center for daily sessions is Whittier House of the Swarthmore Friends Meeting on the college campus. Here group discussions are held and a daily lunch is served. The College pool is used for swimming and the Pearson Theatre is available for plays, lectures, and meetings.

S.R.A. DRAMA CLUB ENTERTAINS TODAY

At 10:30 this morning, Friday, the S.R.A. Dramatic Club will entertain the boys and girls of the Summer Club in the all-purpose room of the Rutgers Avenue Elementary School. This group of 15 boys and girls will present two one act plays - "Pumpkin Pie," a comic fantasy, and "The Enchanted Serpent," a Chinese play, which will be performed in the Chinese manner.

The cast of "Pumpkin Pie" includes Marly Welbourn, Janet Lane, Sam Anderson, Elizabeth Logue, Peggy Hart, Carol Johnson, Susan McAllister and Richard Onley. Scenery for the play was constructed in the Crafts Club, with Miriam Taylor as chairman of this committee. Properties are the charge of Peggy Hart and Carol Johnson, Marly Welbourn and Janet Lane are in charge of costumes, and loan from The Junior Theatre of The Community Arts Center, Wallingford.

The cast of "The Enchanted Serpent" consists of Laura Goldberg, Miriam Taylor, Pam Rothschild, Lisa Gotssegen, Karen Oerth, and Joan Goldberg. Marly Welbourn is in charge of the scenery, prop-erties were assembled by Laura Goldberg and Lisa Gotssegen. Pam Rothschild is in charge of costumes.

Lighting for the plays will be handled by Sam Anderson. The plays are a cooperative effort, with all members of the club helping.

Parents and other interested persons will be welcome. The plays are under the direction of Barbara Graves, founder and director of The Junior Theatre of the Arts Center.

Inspired teaching and counseling as well as excellent educational leadership. We would have known, I think, that Rutledge and Swarthmore are family towns where parenthood and civic duties are taken seriously; for the maturity of thought and the values of these children and youth mirror their parents as much as they mirror their teachers.

"We would have known that a devoted and supporting board of education had worked for many years to develop the policies and foster the conditions that would permit Swarthmore High School to flourish. We found much pride in both young people and adults - perhaps self-respect is a more accurate term. We also found humility and a wonderful sense of simplicity. What better way to try to appraise the quality of a school than by examining its products?"

The visiting committee found the statement of philosophy and educational objectives of the Swarthmore-Rutledge district to be excellent. Commenting on these, they reported them to be "well suited to support and justify the existing program for the youth of Swarthmore and Rutledge."

Lacrosse News

Schedule for Lacrosse games in the Suburban Lacrosse League to be played at 6:30 p.m. in Swarthmore next week include:

Monday, Arrows vs. Braves; Tuesday, Trojans vs. Ottawas; Wednesday, Arrows vs. Warriors.

The field is located at the corner of College avenue and North Chester road. Games scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Polo Field in Bryn Mawr are:

Monday, Tomahawks vs. Chiefs; Tuesday, Algonquins vs. Mohawks; Wednesday, Chiefs vs. Braves; Thursday, Comanches vs. Ottawas.

Nine County Hospitals Participate in Medicare

Nine hospitals in Delaware County with a total of 2,510 beds, are now participating in the Medicare program for the aged, according to Harry R. Peterman, Social Security Administration District Manager in Chester.

Hospitals must meet certain health and safety standards and also the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 before they can participate in the Medicare program.

The participating hospitals in this area, according to Peterman, are: Crozer-Chester Medical Center, Delaware County Memorial, Fitzgerald Mercy, Haverford General, Haverford State Hospital, Riddle Memorial, Sacred Heart, Taylor, and Tri-County.

Nationwide, 6,323 hospitals are now participating in the Medicare program, representing 95 percent of all general hospital beds in the nation that are available for use by Medicare patients. In Pennsylvania, a total of 283 hospitals, representing 99 percent of beds in the State are now participating in the program.

In Delaware County approximately 50,000 persons, age 65 or over, have enrolled in the hospital insurance benefits program.

Board To Decide Harvard Inn Fate

39 Approve Conversion To 10-Apt. Building

Chairman George Ewing of the Zoning Board of Adjustment said Monday night that the board will make its decision regarding the conversion of the Harvard Inn into an apartment house, next week.

At a two-hour public hearing July 14 the board considered the plans of Harold G. Rahn, 401 North Swarthmore avenue, to extend the non-conforming use of the structure, which he had been denied by Borough Council two months earlier.

Rahn pointed out that he planned to install fire stops and emergency lighting and alarms in accordance with State Department of Labor and Industry requirements and change some interior partitions to create 12 private apartments out of the present three apartments, 10 sleeping rooms, and public dining and living rooms. -- but that he would not change the exterior of the building.

He said that the new facility would not draw any more people or cars than the present one if the latter was fully functioning as the tourist restaurant which is already lawfully there. He said that 26 notices issued to neighboring property owners by the Zoning Board had brought no replies.

Mrs. Marjorie Davis owner who has sought unsuccessfully for three years to sell the property which was appraised at $57,000 in 1963 and is assessed at $13,000 for tax purposes, said she might have to board the structure up since she is losing money on it.

Robert Erskine, attorney for Rahn, said that the structure couldn't be sold or rented as a family dwelling. George Saunter, attorney for Mrs. Davis, contended that the building's non-conforming use, since it antedates the zoning ordinance, can continue without being subjected to present zoning. He claimed court decisions have held that such uses can expand even without proving hardship, but that in his opinion what is being asked here is not really an expansion.

A petition signed by 39 area residents approving conversion of the building to 10 apartments with off-street parking for all cars, and no public dining room was presented. Three others wrote letters saying they felt the change would be an improvement over the present facility which was not suited to today's living.

Two men and one woman attending the hearing expressed opposition and several others voiced concern regarding the appearance of the off-street parking (the borough law now requires one parking space for each apartment) and the safety of exiting from one part of it onto the curved section of Harvard avenue.

The Zoning Board asked Rahn to submit more detailed plans, which he did Monday of this week.

Library Renovation Necessitates Evening Hours Only in August

The Swarthmore Public Library will be open from 6 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday during the month of August. This curtailment of hours is necessary for extensive renovation and painting of the library quarters.

Members of the board and staff believe that the resulting improvements will justify any inconveniences for library patrons.

TENNIS PUPILS ATTEND MATCHES

Two busloads of active SRA tennis pupils took off for Merion Cricket Club Tuesday of last week. The day began with a clinic given by excellent young tennis players demonstrating various strokes, strategy of play, and tennis exercises.

The SRA instructors and pupils enjoyed lunch in the shade followed by several hours watching exciting matches played by the world's top ranking tennis amateurs, including Stan Smith, Vic Seixas and Mary Ann Eisel. The young spectators seemed to enjoy the matches almost as much as the lemonade on hand!

This week in the tennis program skill tests are being given to all of the group to determine the progress of the players. The initial test includes both forehand and backhand. Top scorers will also be tested in the serve and volley. Certificates will be awarded to all who have shown significant progress.

Next week there will be tournament play to determine group champions. Trophies will be given to the most improved players of each group and to all around players with the best sportsmanship.

Register Now For Vacation School

The Swarthmore Methodist Church will conduct a Daily Vacation Church School August 15 through August 26. Classes for children who enter kindergarten in September through sixth grade inclusive, will meet each morning from 9:30 until 11:45.

All children who wish to attend must register by August 2. Those who are not pre-registered will not be enrolled. There is no registration fee. Interested persons may call KI 3-0398 for registration.

The staff, directed by Mrs. Robert Strong, includes Mrs. Bruce Blake, Mrs. Lowell Reed, Mrs. Richard Stigelman, Mrs. Gerald Maple, Mrs. Allan Jameson, Mrs. Frank Eisenhower, Mrs. Robert Statton, Mrs. James Malcomson and Mrs. John Kulp.

Assisting them will be Linda Strong, Carol Jameson, Karen Maple and Sue Plummer.

GUESTS OF TED WILLIAMS

Edward Mifflin and son Fred of Drew avenue were the guests on Monday, July 25, of baseball star Ted Williams in Cooperstown, N. Y., at which time he was entered in the baseball Hall of Fame. Also taken at the same time was Casey Stengel.

SWARTHMORE FETES AFRICAN STUDENTS

Swarthmore has had the unique pleasure of a six-day visit from 74 American Field Service exchange students homeward bound to Algeria, Uganda, Ethiopia, Malagasy Republic, Southern Rhodesia, Swaziland, and South Africa.

After a final get-together at Whittier House on Wednesday night the students gathered at noon on Thursday in the Field House parking lot. There they loaded their gear aboard two buses and headed for Kennedy Airport and home.

While visiting this community the students received warm hospitality from the following host families: Mrs. Helen Hall, Myrtle McCallin, Francis Ashley, Carl Barus, John Bond, Wilfred Brown, John Carroll, John Castle, James Connor, Walter Douglas, Aaron Fine, Karl Fox, Peter Frorer, Robert Fry, William Goiz, Albert Hansen, Robert Harwell, Robert Hayden, Henry Hoelmgswald, Wesley Hoge, Matthews Johnson, Brooks Jackson, John Koelle, Alfred Maass, John Magee, James Malone, Philip Mayer, Morris Mendelson, Edward Mifflin, Peter Miller, Birney Morse, E. R. Mullins, Leroy Peterson, Oliver Rodgers, Roger Russell, John Seybold, James Simpson, Howard Sipler, William Stanton, Carl Terwilliger, Stuart Torrey, Fredrick Tolle, Millard Tyson, Neil Weber, Lindsay Wolfe, and Edgar Wrege.

In addition meals or other forms of hospitality were given by Mrs. Willard Tomlinson, Rochelle Young, Dr. and Mrs. John Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. David Wadleigh, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Remington, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Welbourn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Good, Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Burnett and Mrs. Barbara Reed.

SRA Lines Up Special Events

The final week of the Swarthmore Recreation Association Summer Club will be highlighted by a list of special events.

Monday will be Field Day for the younger set while the rest join in a Bike-A-Rama. On Tuesday, all members from second grade up will go to the Playhouse in the Park to see "Pincocchio." There will be pony rides for all on Wednesday, and for the older groups, a Field Day on Thursday.

There is much in store for a scavenger hunt followed by a film "Sleek the Sailor." The closing event will be a hot dog roast for all.

This past week, the Arts and Crafts groups have displayed their work at the Library and the Variety Corner. The Dramatics group made an exciting visit to the Valley Forge Music Fair to see "Thief of Baghdad." After the show, they toured backstage and met the cast.

Registrars To Sit

Roving registrars will sit in the Sidney Smedley School, Highland avenue and Alpha Terrace, Morton, on Wednesday, August 3, to register voters for the General Election on November 8.

Rotary To Hear

James F. Van Valkenburg, chairman of the legislation committee of the Delaware County Federation of Sportsman's Clubs, will be the speaker at the 12:10 Rotary meeting today at the Ingleneuk. He will speak on the controversy over recent and proposed firearms legislation.

Dr. Fred Patman will introduce the speaker.

College Receives $125,000 Grant Fund To Strengthen Humanities Program

Swarthmore College has received a grant of $125,000 from the Trustees of the Old Dominion Foundation for the purpose of strengthening the humanities by expanding the opportunities of the faculty for independent study and research.

The foundation thinks of the humanities as including languages and literature, philosophy and religious studies, history (including archeology and the histories of the arts and sciences), and music.

The intention of the foundation is that the grant constitute a fund, expendable over a period of approximately five years, to be used to provide fellowships to selected members of Swarthmore's humanities faculty for such activities as scholarly research, writing, or publication, or for creative writing; for travel or study abroad; for post-doctoral study at a major university or intellectual center; for some other activity important for the teacher's intellectual development or refreshment.

A portion of the fund may also be used to bring in visiting professors in the humanities for the replacement of faculty on leave, or for the enrichment of course offerings, or for the stimulation of the faculty community.

The departments at Swarthmore whose faculty members will benefit from the grant of the Old Dominion Foundation are Classics, English Literature, Fine Arts, Modern Language and Literature, Music, and Philosophy and Religion. The college has an enrollment of slightly more than 1000 students, with 113 faculty members.

The humanities are defined at Swarthmore as "those studies through which man learns to understand himself and his relationship to his fellows as individuals, and the enduring values in human experience."

Dr. Courtney Smith, president, said:

"In a college where faculty members give a great deal of time and attention to their teaching it is extremely important for them to have opportunities for independent study and research in order to keep moving ahead in their fields and to contribute to the store of human knowledge. The grant of the Trustees of the Old Dominion Foundation will not only provide tangible as-istance to members of our faculty but is an encouraging reminder from a distinguished foundation of the importance of humanistic studies in our society."

The Old Dominion Foundation was founded by Paul Mellon and incorporated in Virginia. Its office is in New York City. The chief areas of interest of the foundation are liberal education, the arts, mental health, and conservation of natural resources and areas.

The board believes that the name "Elwyn School" over emphasizes the academic program, which is only one facet of the service that Elwyn renders to children and adults with learning difficulties and problems of social and emotional adjustment. Elwyn provides diagnostic services, education, treatment, vocational rehabilitation and recreation programs.

Elwyn's campus houses a Diagnostic and Evaluation Center, a fully accredited hospital, residential school facilities for 1100 students, a day school program for 100 Delaware County residents, a contract workshop certified by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor, and day and overnight summer camps. A new Rehabilitation Center, now under construction, will serve hundreds of Elwyn residents as well as mentally handicapped citizens of the surrounding community.

A component of Elwyn Institute will be the development of a Community Mental Health/Mental Retardation Center. In cooperation with nearby hospitals and social agencies Elwyn will provide diagnosis and evaluation, inpatient and out-patient treatment, emergency care and day care for children and young adults.

The oldest and largest voluntary non-profit institution of its kind in the United States, Elwyn was founded in 1852 in Philadelphia and incorporated by a special act of the legislature. When the small Philadelphia building became over-crowded, Dorothea Lynde Dix, pioneer in the improvement of care for the mentally ill, assisted Elwyn's board in the selection of the current site near Media. In 1859 the main building was completed and the move from Philadelphia was made.

In the later part of the 19th Century many other buildings were constructed, and enrollment was increased to over 1,000 students. In 1876 the American Association on Mental Deficiency, was founded at Elwyn.

Elwyn's current President, Gerald R. Clark, M.D., is temporarily serving the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as its first Commissioner of Mental Retardation.

Jeffrey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Long. He is a senior at Swarthmore-Rutledge Union School.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucian W. Burnett and son Larry and daughter Betsy have returned home after a 26-day camping trip West. They visited in their travels Yellowstone National Park, Grand Tetons, Salt Lake City, Mesa Verde and Rocky Mountain National Park. On the return trip they visited former Swarthmoreans Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dehlott in Flossmoor, Ill.

Miss Dorothy Harris of the Dartmouth House returned Friday from attending the Friends United Meeting in Richmond, Ind.

Miss Polly Told of Baltimore, Md., who is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Peter E. Told of Park avenue, had as her Thursday overnight guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Richardson of Duxton, Md., who are enroute to Marblehead, Mass., and New Hampshire.

Elwyn School Changes Name

Judge Henry C. Sweeney of the Delaware County Court of Common Pleas has approved the change of Elwyn School's name to Elwyn Institute. The institute's board of directors had moved to change the name in light of the many new programs that have been developed at Elwyn in the last several years.

The board believes that the name "Elwyn School" over emphasizes the academic program, which is only one facet of the service that Elwyn renders to children and adults with learning difficulties and problems of social and emotional adjustment. Elwyn provides diagnostic services, education, treatment, vocational rehabilitation and recreation programs.

POLICE & FIRE NEWS

Quick action by the Swarthmore Fire Company saved two bored homes from serious damage during the past week.

At 11:30 p.m. Wednesday a spark from trash burning in the living room fireplace apparently found its way into an attic wall at the Vaurio home, 507 Bryn Mawr avenue.

Springfield Fire Company assisted Swarthmore volunteers who carried the fireplace and mantle onto the front lawn and quenched the fire within 45 minutes.

There was also a field fire along the railroad at 1:30 p.m.

Wednesday.

At 9:15 p.m. Friday hot cooking fat ignited on the stove at the Krendel home, 211 Cornell avenue, burning the kitchen wall and part of the ceiling.

John Cornell of Philadelphia was treated at Tri-county Hospital for burns of the right hand and forearm sustained when he grabbed the blazing pan from the stove.

Cornell was one of several guests at a dinner party which was in progress at the house.

He was taken to the hospital by Patrolman Thomas Mower of Morton who arrived to assist local authorities. By 10 p.m. firemen, satisfied that the fire was completely out, left the scene.

At 11:50 a.m. Tuesday the car of Ella Iovonnont, Marple, ran into the rear of one driven by Gerald Hampton, Folsom, at Swarthmore avenue and Chester road. Both cars were headed south on Swarthmore avenue and Hampton had stopped for a red light. The Iovonnont car required towing.

At 1 p.m. at the same intersection Rhoads Berliner, Secane, was traveling east on Swarthmore avenue when Edward Fromen of Philadelphia going south on Chester road, according to police, went through a traffic light which wasn't working and hit the Berliner car. The Fromen car hit a pole and came to rest upside down, rupturing the gas tank. Firemen were called to flush the gasoline from the highway.

At 3:15 p.m. Tuesday the Fire Company was called to a brush fire near the railroad trestle.

MRS. C. H. PRICE

Service and interment were held Tuesday in Elyria.

Governor Calls

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Shane have been invited by Governor Scranton to attend the Governor's Conference on Natural Beauty which will be held at Hershey on September 12 and 13.

Mr. Shane is vice president of Swarthmore College in charge of public relations and alumni affairs.

Benjamin Franklin defined man as "a tool-making animal."

Mrs. Charles H. Price, resident of Belvedere Convalescent Home, Chester, for the past year and a half, died Sunday at Riddle Memorial Hospital. She would have been 89 years old today.

The mother of John A. Price of 225 North Princeton avenue, Mrs. Price was a former resident of Cleveland and Elyria, O.

In addition to her son John, she is survived by a son Charles H. Price, Jr., and nine grandchildren. Another son Robert E. died two years ago.

'Stamp-Out Defrosting' is Trend of New Refrigerator-Freezers

Manufacturers find they are making more no-frost refrigerator-freezers than ever before. The reason is simple—women hate defrosting! With a no-frost model, there's no more unloading and reloading food, no chopping of ice and no drippy mess in the kitchen. It also means that frozen food packages don't stick together and labels are easier to read.

Another comforting thought is that larger new models fit in the same space of smaller vintage models. You can get up to twice the capacity in the same space—a result of thinner, more efficient insulation.

New Fashions for Kitchen

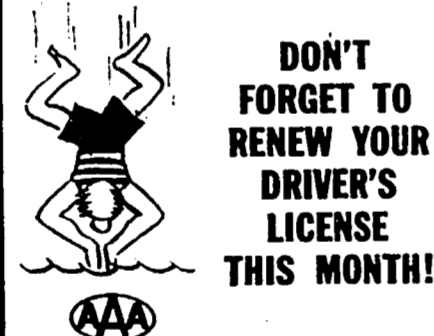

Decorator styling is adding a fashion look to many refrigerator-freezers. There are embossed designs, illustrations, wood paneling and even wallpaper—all types of motifs from Pennsylvania Dutch to oriental.

Features include automatic icemakers, 7-day meat keepers, French doors and half-shelves that allow dozens of interior arrangements. Easy movability for cleaning is also a feature of many models. Today, homemakers have a lot more to look forward to, when they replace their old foodkeeper with a new no-frost electric refrigerator-freezer.

Bigger Sizes for Less Money

Families are buying bigger capacity refrigerator-freezers today, to store the greater variety of fresh and frozen foods. Over half of those sold last year were 14-cubic-foot or larger. And prices of the new models are lower. In 1965 a 12-cubic-foot size sold for an average of $363. Last year a "14" sold for an average of $272—including no-defrosting and more convenient features.

VISITING COMMITTEE ASSESSES SCHOOLS

private action. The following statements, however, do represent consensus:

"Swarthmore High School is more than a very good high school; it is an outstanding high school—particularly in its services to the pupils who will continue their formal education after graduation, between 85% and 90%."

"Much of the strength or quality of Swarthmore High School is due to its relatively small size, relatively homogeneous student body, and its success in attracting superior teachers, counselors and administrators. Directly related to the high quality of this school is the grade core guidance structure which for obvious reasons would not be useful in a much larger school even if it could be scheduled, which is very doubtful. Were the grade core structure within the faculty suspended or discarded, the boys and girls of Swarthmore and Rutledge would pay a heavy price."

"Partly due to the core structure made possible by the size of the school as well as to the quality of the faculty and students, there has developed at Swarthmore a sense of intimacy, a sense of individual identification. Children and teachers are close to each other. There were many evidences of mutual respect and appreciation. In this age of increasing depersonalization, the importance of being aware of and caring for the individual is a characteristic of very great importance. The larger the school, the less this characteristic will be manifest."

"Swarthmore High School is large enough to make provision for grouping and yet small enough to provide proportionately more opportunities for pupil participation in activities and sports than would be possible if the school were larger. The fact that approximately 60% of the pupils do engage in inter-scholastic sports is an evidence of quality at least partly related to school size."

"The school has no need for a program of bussing which is costly in money and in pupil time and which often restricts the school program."

"The state statistics which permit comparison of financial effort of school districts, salaries, numerical adequacy of personnel and many other quantitative items attest as much as figures can to the high quality of public schooling in this district. The same data indicate quite clearly that Nether Providence is not a 'have not' district. It appears to have the financial capacity to provide education at any quality level it wishes."

"Beyond a possible curriculum advantage to less academic senior high school students, which a larger school might provide, members of the Committee could see no advantage to Swarthmore High School in the proposed merger. In the event the proposed merger of the two school districts does take place, every effort should be made to retain the identity of the present Swarthmore High School. In other words, let the merger be limited to a policy and administrative merger."

As presently constituted, Swarthmore High School is unquestionably one of a small group of truly excellent schools in the Middle States Association. The boys and girls would lose should the School or either of the two divisions of the school be changed substantially."

NEW FACILITIES SPUR GROWTH

Sound planning and well-timed construction of facilities are essential characteristics of a good water supply system. To meet the constantly increasing use of water in the rapidly developing suburban area the Philadelphia Suburban Water Company continues to make additions to its 2300 miles of transmission and distribution pipelines. Additional miles of pipelines are being laid, including nearly 1 1/2 miles of large 20-inch pipeline. In addition, a large new pumping unit is being installed at the Pickering Creek station to help satisfy the ever-growing demand for Pure Springfield Water.

The new Pennsylvania Point System for driving violations.

(Effective July 24, 1966)

The Point System will help make safer, better drivers through education. The chronic violator will be brought under much closer control and scrutiny. His behavior pattern will be easier to detect—faster. And, the driver who commits an occasional violation out of carelessness will know exactly what his driving record looks like from license renewal period to license renewal period. Most important, both classes of drivers will be in a position to do something positive about their driving habits—and see positive results. Thus, the Point System permits a sensible remedy to be applied. And all drivers on the road can feel they travel in increased safety.

Every Pennsylvania driver should know all about the new Point System. Read it carefully. Cut this out. And make sure every other driver in your family reads it too. Now that the System is in effect, every good driver should know it thoroughly.

HOW IT WORKS
When a motorist has been convicted of a specific traffic violation and the notice of the conviction reaches the Bureau of Traffic Safety, he is given points based on the schedule shown at right.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU GET POINTS?
Three points or more—Notification by mail.
Six points the first time—The violator will have to undergo a special examination, OR attend a driver improvement school, OR go to a clinic, OR any combination of these requirements, as directed by the Secretary of Revenue.

FAILING TO COMPLY—Five (5) points will be added to the record of the offending motorist and driving privileges will be suspended for sixty (60) days.
Six points a second time—The offender will have to undergo a special examination and may again be required to go to a driver improvement school and/or clinic.
Failing to comply—Five (5) points are added to his record and the motorist faces a license suspension of AT LEAST NINETY (90) DAYS.
Six points a third time—The offender will be called in for an INTERVIEW by the Secretary of Revenue or his representative; the operator's record will be reviewed and appropriate action taken by the Secretary.
Eleven points or more—Driving privileges will be suspended as follows:
First time—60 days
Second time—90 days
Subsequent—120 days to 1 year.

CLEARING THE RECORD:
Points recorded against operators' records shall be removed at the rate of two (2) for each year in which they are not convicted of a violation of The Vehicle Code:
1—Dating from the date of the last conviction, or
2—Dating from the date of restoration of license following a suspension. Upon restoration following a suspension, an operator's record is reduced to five points (5).

TWO OR MORE OFFENSES:
Conviction of two or more offenses on a single occasion: points will be assessed only for the offense highest in points.

OUT-OF-STATE CONVICTIONS:
A driver holding a Pennsylvania license, convicted in another state for an offense similar to any on the schedule, MAY be assigned points on the same basis as if the offense had occurred in the Commonwealth.

ACCIDENTS:
Any motorist having an accident for which he is deemed to have been at fault or partly so, may be required to undergo a special examination or go to a driver improvement school or clinic or any combination of these. Failure to comply can result in adding five (5) points to the record and suspension of the driver's license.

SCHOOL POINTS:
Satisfactory completion of the Driver Improvement School will reduce a motorist's record by one point. This applies only to the first time any driver attends the school.

HOW MANY POINTS FOR WHAT?
Certain convictions still require mandatory suspension of the driver's license and do not come under the Point System. These include: driving under influence of alcohol, narcotic or habit-producing drug; One person permitting another to drive his car when it is known he is in such a condition. A driver who fails to stop, render assistance or identify himself when involved in an accident that has caused injury or death—or property damage. Using a motor vehicle for commission of any felony for which the operator may be convicted. Driving after the driving license has been suspended or revoked—and not yet re-instated. Conviction of the unlawful possession or sale of narcotics.

The point value of other violations is as follows:

VIOLATION	NUMBER OF POINTS
Reckless driving	5
Driving too fast for conditions	5
Exceeding speed limit of 10 miles per hour in passing any intersection or street where safety zone has been established, or where traffic is controlled by a stop sign or a traffic signal	4

Going on to one of the overriding problems in American education—that is, the student who is “perhaps not best served by a program primarily dedicated to the intellect,” the visiting committee discussed the rights of young people who are not academically oriented, but whose right to an appropriate education must be taken into account by any school program organized by and in behalf of the general public.

“A public school has an obligation to assist all of the children of a community develop themselves in all the ways which are feasible. A public school must help all children mature and become prepared for the next step in their lives.

Tough Problem

“For less intellectual and less verbal youth, really maturing and useful educational experiences must be packaged differently.... This problem is a tough one for most school people; as a group we are bookishly oriented; for the most part we live in a world of symbols and second hand experiences; we like the conventional academic patterns and emphases of school teaching, and we frequently try to use them with all children, whether they are appropriate or not.

“In this respect Swarthmore is no worse than other highly academic high schools and we believe better than most, partly because of the unique provisions made by core meetings for helping teachers become more intelligently aware of and concerned about individuals. The committee was convinced that Swarthmore teachers do care about all young people regardless of their academic attractiveness or lack of attractiveness. There may be ways, however, of making this caring more useful.

Many Roads to Heaven

“Both the number and the percentage of less academic pupils is quite small. Assuming complete freedom of action, how can a group of intelligent school people best help these few youngsters develop themselves as broadly and deeply as possible, help them be ready for successful competition in the adult world outside the school? We are expert on helping pupils learn academic things, develop scholarly skills and attitudes. Can we use our good minds, our imaginations to help these less academic youngsters learn the important things in life which school should teach without using academic crutches?

“Can we get rid, insofar as we need to, of the stereotypes of periods, classes, textbooks, memorizing, bells, and the other paraphernalia of the conventional school? There are many roads to heaven; let's try out some fresh roads with our non-academic pupils. We may not succeed all the way, but we have no ethical justification for not trying. It is schools staffed as fortunately as Swarthmore which must take leadership if the persistent problem of teaching the less academic child well is ever to be solved.”

Standards & Honors Boards

“In the report reference was made to the rather unusual success this school has had in its efforts to teach social control, self-regulation and other attitudes and behavior that characterize free men and women. The committee gave high commendation to the School for its work with the Standards and Honors Boards and for its school council work. The committee urged that these important structures for social and civic learning be maintained and nurtured. They may well provide the learning experiences that help the faculty most in meeting the first responsibility it has outlined for itself in the Swarthmore philosophy.

The committee also commends highly the program of athletics, in particular for wide participation provided. The strong music interest in the community and school merits commendation. The very high level of teaching and learning in evidence in every subject field drew warm praise from the various subcommittees.

Interest in Individual

“The Committee considered Swarthmore an outstanding high school in a great many ways, and in particular the committee was impressed with the School's apparently successful efforts to guard against ‘depersonalization.’ The very strong interest in individual pupils, we believe, is fostered by the weekly grade core meetings. This is mentioned again for fear that being very familiar with this part of school organization, some faculty members may not recognize its great value. The scheduling plan which makes provision for the grade core meetings over the years undoubtedly has had profoundly important effect on the quality of the school.

“Committee members felt that the Swarthmore teachers were the most guidance-minded they had known, in the sense that they know their pupils very well, care about them and work cooperatively with each other to help them in studies and in personal matters.

“The apparent strength and efficiency of the grade core necessarily causes the professional guidance counselors to alter the patterns of work that they would have in a more typical high school. We think that additional study should be given by counselors and administrators to the changed role of the guidance department in a school in which the teachers' programs are structured for guidance.

“The Board of Education and others responsible are to be commended for creating a beautiful, functional, and economical new building out of the ashes of an old one. There are still physical improvements which should be made to improve the provisions of teaching, and the safety of pupils, and the committee was in agreement with the self-evaluation of the ‘I’ report. People matter more than rooms and land, but there must be enough properly planned indoor and outdoor space or people function less well.

Salary Pattern

“Among the interesting and unique patterns at Swarthmore, the committee found the salary pattern and the updated plan for merit increments one of the most unusual. The apparent success of the merit salary plan, as indicated by high faculty morale, was a matter of very great interest.

The committee concluded many times as it studied the school that Swarthmore is different! And it might well have said that because of many of its differences, Swarthmore has become an outstanding secondary school.”

“Although no provision is made in the Evaluative Criteria for an examination of the state-proposed merger with the Nether Providence School District, the Committee was asked to give consideration to the possible merger and to offer such reactions as it deemed appropriate. As the school was examined during the three days, thoughts and discussion turned often to the possible effects of a merger on the program and morale of the School, on the quality of personal relationships and educational services for the boys and girls.

Discuss Merger

“No vote in the Committee on merger was taken, since this did not appear to be an appropriate

TB Ass'n Offers Lectures, Programs

Program chairmen for women's clubs, civic organizations and school assemblies are invited to call Health Education Director John Garbin at the Delaware County Tuberculosis and Health Association for assistance in arranging films or lecture programs on any number of health subjects.

The association's audiovisual materials include films on topics from alcoholism, smoking, to respiratory diseases, special film strips, exhibits, and both literature and posters.

A new catalogue has recently been compiled, Mr. Garbin announced, listing approximately 100 booklets and leaflets available to organizations free of charge. Subjects include tuberculosis, respiratory diseases and general health.

Anyone interested in arranging a program for the late summer or fall season is asked to notify Mr. Garbin at TR-6-8297. Information is available on the length of the films, subject matter, and types of audiences for which each film is directed.
