G.A.A.

GYM CONTEST

TODAY, 3 P.M.

VOLUME 39 - NUMBER 9

SWARTHMORE, PA., 19081, FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1967

$5.00 PER YEAR

School Approves County Budget

School Board Monday evening approved the County Superintendent's budget of $155,085 as the first year's operating cost of the Area Vocational-Technical School. Swarthmore's share will be $2,379.

Also approved was the arrangement for a bond issue. Swarthmore's share of the annual lease with the School Authority will be $6,211 of which the state will pay $3096.

Dr. Harry Kingham, Swarthmore superintendent, reported that a survey of pupils in grades 9, 10, and 11 two months ago indicated that 62 of them, 18 per cent of those polled, were interested in attending the new school.

Cites County Directors

Board President John F. Spencer paid tribute to school directors of the county for "resisting the powerful efforts" of the County Commissioners to prevent establishment of a Community College. He said, however, that the directors' decision to sponsor the college themselves did not mean that everything else would follow easily.

He stated that "real friends of public education must be on guard against new pressure groups with political aims who oppose the best interests of public education." He noted Dr. John Wigton, Swarthmore Board secretary, was the only school director nominated as a trustee for the Community College, but that the two posts would have "no connection."

A letter from Mark C. Nagy, assistant County Superintendent, advised the board that this district's share of Community College costs will be 2.15%. This means $2959.84 of an operating budget totaling $137,667 and $1,075 (start-up) expenses.

The Board decided to join the Borough in contesting an appeal by Dartmouth House owners to have the Court lower assessment on the property. Hearing is set for March 13.

Per Capita Tax Problems Tax Collector Elizabeth Hopkins complained about the per capita tax being difficult to administer and collect. She said she spends 80 per cent of her time and two-thirds of her stationery and postage budget answering problems in connection with it. She suggested indigent people be put on a permanent exoneration list and that the affadavit they must sign be reworded. "It is too demeaning to have to say you do not have 'the necessities' of life," she said.

She also suggested that the per capita list be prepared by the tax collector instead of the assessor and that whoever did this work should be paid for it. She said that the list prepared by the assessor last year added to the confusion, and that she understands he does not want to prepare it.

The Board said it would consider the problems she mentioned although they were not

Dr. H.A. Bosley To Speak Sunday

The Lenten Vesper Services at the Methodist Church this Sunday presents Dr. Harold A. Bosley, senior minister, Christ Church Methodist, New York City. This service will be conducted at 6 p.m., one hour later than all others in the series.

Dr. Bosley's subject will be "The Complete Prayer for Peace" in keeping with the series theme "Lord, Teach Us

Prior to going to Christ Church in 1962, Dr. Bosley had been minister for 12 years at First Methodist Church, Evanston, Ill. Other previous appointments have included pastor of Mount Vernon Place Church, Baltimore and Dean of the Divinity School and pastor to Duke University, Durham, N. C.

Beyong his pastorates, he is best known as lecturer at colleges, universities, seminaries and pastor's institutes in this country, Canada, South America and the Orient.

He has been a delegate to the second and third assemblies of the World Council of Churches, the latter at New Delhi, India in 1961. He was a member of an interfaith team to South Vietnam in 1965 under the auspices of Fellowship of Reconciliation and a member of interfaith team to Soviet Union in 1966.

Dr. Bosley is a distinguished author. Among his more than 13 books are the professional book club selections "A Firm Faith for Today," "Preaching on Controversial Issues," "He Spoke to Them in Parables." He has contributed an article on the "Exposition of The Book of Micah" in The Interpreter's Bible and the Encyclopedia Americana.

He has been invited for innumerable appearances on New York City and national radio and television programs such as "A Lamp Unto My Feet,"
"The Way to Go," "Our Protestant Heritage," "The Art of Living," "Invitation to Learning," "Frontiers of

FILE FOR OFFICE

Robert Hayden, Raymond Welbourn and Lucian Burnett have filed nominating petitions in the Republican Primary for the three vacancies on Council.

William (Bill) Fischer has filed for the Justice of the Peace vacancy, and John Wigton and Raymond Winch have filed for the two vacancies on School Board.

Although the last day to file is March 7, no contest is expected.

GYM CONTEST LWV OFFERS TODAY AT 3

The Swarthmore High School gymnasium will be the scene af 3:00 today of the Annual Gymnastic Contest presented by the Girl's Athletic Association. The Community is cordially invited.

A formal tea will follow the contest for participants and families, the School Board and Faculty and their families, and the G.A.A. Council and committees and their families.

ANTIQUES FAIR TO OPEN TUES.

Event Aids Woman's Club Maintenance

The Antiques Fair that attracts approximately 2000 collectors and "window shoppers" to its exhibitions of period treasures is ready for staging by members of the Swarthmore Woman's Club starting Tuesday and continuing through Thursday at the clubhouse.

A seemingly endless variety of choice items will be set up in booths occupying both floors of the building, including the stage on the ground floor. Furniture will again be featured, especially the pine pieces in Early American. Other collectors' items and decorative accessories will be available through dealers specializing in articles as china, pewter, patterned glass, quilts, lamps and clocks.

As usual many visitors will be as much attracted by the luncheons prepared and served under the direction of Mrs. John Gersbach, Mrs. Robert Morrow, Mrs. Walter Schleyer and Mrs. Ronald Estabrook, as by the exhibits.

Mrs. W. R. Lecron and Mrs. Samuel Carpenter head the committee rounding up the famous nut breads, pies, and cakes that diners have come to expect over the years. These will also be available at the teas for which Mrs. W. Alfred Smith and her committee have been preparing.

Proceeds from the fair go toward maintenance of the clubhouse, long used as a center for borough activities. To emphasize the closeness between community and club, many local merchants are planning their windows with an "antique" theme, while books on collecting of and decorating with antiques may be featured at the Library.

To Speak At Rotary

Four new members of the Rotary Club will be the speakers today at the club's regular Friday luncheon meeting at the Ingleneuk.

David Griffiths will speak as an associate of Penn State Center, located here in Swarthmore; William Gurr and Merle Zimmer will talk of their work as dispensers of food at the college and Vertol, respectively; and Joseph Spafford will tell of some of his adventures as a professional engineer.

VOTERS GUIDE Citizen's Gift Also

Provides Boro. Map

A Citizen's Guide with a difference will be offered this year to the people of Swarthmore by the local League of Women Voters. As a result of a generous gift from Mrs. J. Russell Smith, South Chester road, the league has been able to have a map of the borough printed for free distribution to all residents who want one.

Large quantities of the map for use by organizations may be obtained from Mrs. Thomas Brandt, KI 3-4416.

Voting precincts were colored in on the maps and polling places indicated. The job was done by the Junior Girl Scouts in town, - Troop 78, Mrs. David McIntyre, leader; Troop 145, Mrs. William Gorgas, leader; Troop 744, Mrs. John Taylor, leader; and Troop 884, Mrs. Perry Owens, leader.

On the reverse side of the map, the league has placed a supplement to the 1965 Citizens Guide. Names and addresses are listed for the governor of the state and its two United States Senators, the two State Senators, and the State and United States Representatives.

Mrs. Brandt, Mrs. James Hazard and Mrs. Richard Salomon cooperated in the writing and designing of this supplement. It is offered to the public as part of the continuing program of non-partisan voters' service which is one of the chief purposes of the league.

'Mary Stuart' Is Club Play Jean Proctor Stars In March Production

"Mary Stuart," a play by Jean Stock Goldstone and John Reich, opened last night at the Players Club of Swarthmore, and will continue tonight and tomorrow night, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday night of next week at the club's little theater, Fairview road.

Beautiful costumes accent this period play, which comes as a marked change of pace in a successful season of comedies.

Maurice L. Webster, Jr., is director, assisted by George Carango. Cast for the show

FORMER RESIDENT
A memorial service will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the Media Presbyterian Church, Baltimore avenue and Church street, for Edward F. Hitchcock, who died Monday, February 27.

A resident of 203 Rose Tree road, Media, Mr. Hitchcock had been a resident of Swarthmore for many years.

He is survived his wife Elizabeth Carper Hitchcock and a daughter.

Flu Postpones 'Growing Pains'

Because of the flu, the Junior High School Dramatic Club comedy, "Growing Pains" scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until next Friday, March 10, at 8 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

Joint Home & School March 9 'New Concepts In

Dr. Allan A. Glatthorn will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Home and School Association of the Swarthmore Junior and Senior High Schools to be held March 9, at 8 p.m., in the high school auditorium.

Education' Is Topic

His topic will be "New Concepts in Education in the Public Schools" and will include current innovations in instruction concerning flexible teaching schedules and better use of individual time. The modular plan of study recently put into effect in the seventh and eighth grades is one of these concepts.

Dr. Glatthorn has served as coordinator, director and administrator of various institutions of learning and has been principal of Abington High School since 1963. He has authored and co-authored numerous books in the educational field.

An invitation to attend the meeting is extended to parents of elementary school children and anyone interested in the teaching profession.

SCOUTS SELL 7,071 BOXES OF COOKIES

Girl Scouts, with super salesmanship (and a good product), sold 7,071 boxes of Girl Scout Cookies during the annual cookie sale and brought in a total of $424.26 for the local troops.

Mrs. James Livingston, School lane, chairman for the drive, wishes to thank her workers, - both adult leaders and scouts - and the Provident National Bank and Swarthmore College for allowing the girls to sell cookies on their premises.

She also thanked all those who purchased the cookies.

The scouts receive a rebate of six cents per box for their troop.

Library Friends Elect Topping Plan Authors' Tea For 'Festival I'

Enthusiastic Friends of the Swarthmore Public Library convened Monday night in the Council Room of Borough Hall to form themselves into a fullblown, going organization.

They adopted their By-Laws and elected Charles H. Topping president; W. A. Spraker vice president; Mrs. Karl Fox secretary; and Walker Penfield treasurer.

The Friends also appointed Mrs. Hennig Cohen chairman of special projects; Mary Virginia Harris chairman of programs; and Barbara B. Kent chairman of community relations.

Chairmen still to be appointed are membership, displays, and arrangements.

First program for the fledgling organization will be a Swarthmore Book Authors' Tea to be held in the library sometime during the forthcoming "Festival 1." The affair is under the care of Miss Harris.

Residents' help in securing names of currently in-print authors, now living in the borough, is earnestly requested by the Friends, who are by definition devoted to books and their community home, and to authors when they have the privilege of knowing them.

Mayor Announces 'Festival I' Friends of Art Offer 10 Days of Culture

Announcing that the 10 days from April 28 through May 7 will be celebrated in Swarthmore as "Festival I," Mayor Edmund Jones this week made the following statement:

"It is with more pleasure than you can imagine, that I set aside these dates for us to enjoy together a round of musical events, art shows, sculpture exhibitions, dancing and other tributes to the arts, fine and folk.

"Members of Borough Council are happy to be a part of this opening Festival, the brainchild of the Swarthmore Friends of The Arts; so are the school board and administration, and the large number of our citizens who will be playing leading roles in the Festival."

Mrs. Colin Bell and Mrs. Peter P. Miller, co-chairmen for Festival I, announced the celebration begins Friday evening, April 28, with a concert by the High School Orchestra and Chorus, at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium. At 9 p.m. the teenagers will hold their own Coffee House, in the high school. The College Orchestra and, Chorus will hold a concert the following night, in Clothier, following an afternoon tour of the Arthur Hoyt Scott Memorial gardens and plantings on campus. Sunday, the College Band gives a concert, in the amphitheatre, at 2:30 p.m.

GIRLS POST 7-1 SEASON

Elect Ann Michener Capt. Next Year

Friday, March 3, 1967

The Swarthmore High School Girl's Varsity and J.V. basketball teams completed a successful and rewarding season unger the leadership of Co-Captains Deb Shay and Carol Silzle, and the coaching of Mrs. Alice Willetts.

The Varsity posted a record Alumnae, Yeadon, Garnet Clifton Heights, Darby Township and Sharon Hill) and two losses (Nether Providence and Collingdale). The J.V. won five games, lost three, and tied one.

The last two games were played against Collingdale and Sharon Hill respectively. The Day. Varsity lost to Collingdale 24-26. The game was relatively slow-moving and primarily defensive. Maje Gerner, leading scorer of the season did not play against Collingdale because of a leg injury.

The J.V., unlike the varsity. was able to control the ball for the entire game, and posted a strong 21-14 victory.

The Varsity, despite a rather slow start, regained its footing and coasted to a 47-18 win over Sharon Hill in the final game of the season. Sharon Hill was leading 6-0 at the close of the first quarter, but Swarthmore score 21 points (14 by Maje Gerner). Swarthmore retained the lead throughout the rest of the game. The game was highlighted by the fine defensive work of Ann Michener, Peggy Winch and June Roxby, and the excellent passing and shooting of Maje Gerner, Mary Dudley, Debby Shay, Katie Tolles and Carol Silzle.

What is Philadelphia Electric doing to combat air pollution?

As a pioneer in air pollution control, Philadelphia Electric has invested $13,000,000 to help purify the air here in the Delaware Valley.

This money has been spent on scientific air pollution control equipment and plant improvements that are reducing gases and particles from the stacks of our steam and electric generating stations.

This is only part of a continuing program that began years ago, when Philadelphia Electric started its long-range plan to help solve this nationwide problem.

What is P.E. doing today?

- We have made an initial purchase of 3,000,000 barrels of fuel oil with less than 1 per cent sulphur content. This adds $1,500,000 to our fuel bill—but it cuts in half the amount of sulphur in the oil. And sulphur is known to be a factor in air pollution.
- We have recently doubled the capacity of our Conowingo, Md., hydroelectric plant which produces electricity from the flow of the Susquehanna River. No air pollutants are involved in the operation of this station.
- We have accelerated the construction of our 800,000-kilowatt Muddy Run pumped storage plant, near Conowingo. One half the capacity of this hydroelectric plant will be operating before June 1. And the balance by the end of this year.
- Our Peach Bottom atomic power station began generating electricity on January 27. This new way to create electric energy is the "cleanest" method science has devised.
- The Keystone mine-mouth generating station in western Pennsylvania is scheduled to transmit electricity into the Philadelphia area this summer. And it won't release a speck of air contaminants into Delaware Valley.

• We're installing internal combustion generating equipment which will burn

• P.E. is continuously studying advanced methods of preventing pollutants from entering the atmosphere. And we're working closely with other electric utilities on research to reduce the sulphur content of coal before it is burned.

high-grade oil containing scarcely a trace of sulphur.

What about the future?

- Three giant nuclear plants will be constructed in this area, one near Burlington, New Jersey, the others at Peach Bottom, Pennsylvania. Each will have a capacity of approximately one million kilowatts. Two are scheduled to be in service in 1971. None of these plants will contribute to air pollution. They get their power from the atom.
- Engineering is already in progress for a second mine-mouth plant in western Pennsylvania, where the Conemaugh generating station is scheduled to start operating in 1971.
- Additional internal combustion turbines will be installed in 1969 and 1970. These will burn fuel oil that is almost sulphur free.
- 59 older and less efficient coal and oil fired boilers in the Delaware Valley will be retired between 1969 and 1971. These will no longer be needed because of our new, modern generating facilities. This will further reduce air pollution in the area.

As the 1962 recipient of the Cleaner Air Award presented by the Philadelphia Air Pollution Control Board, we recognize our responsibility in the field of air pollution control. We will continue to be a leader in the fight for cleaner air.

Swarthmore High School held its annual Basketball Banque Saturday night in the high school cafeteria where some 200 people attended to honor the boy's Basketball Teams. The Banquet, again was sponsored by the Swarthmore Citizen's Athletic Committee.

Tad Salom, the M.C., introduced the coaches of the Junior High teams, who discussed their season and introduced their team captains. Junior Varsity Coach James W. Phillips then presented his team and awarded certificates to each of the following members:

was described as a team that started the season with a tremendous lack of experience. but made up for this with spirit and desire which was exemplified in their great defensive win over Darby, the tremendous team effort against Clifton Heights, and the exciting games against Darby Township and Yeadon. Bank Loans

Girard Trust Bank makes personal loans from $500 to $5,000, repayable in monthly installments over periods up to five years, depending on circumstances. Usually no collateral is needed—just a steady job which provides a dependable source of income.

Girard charges for installment loans are low, as shown by the examples below. Monthly payments include life insurance on the borrower to cancel any unpaid balance in case of death.

Depositors at Girard can arrange Personal Loans by mail or phone. No need to come in the bank for an interview.

McCabe Addresses with the great body of alumni and instill into all of them the College Alumni Calls For Program To Maintain Past Record

Friday, March 10, 1967

Thomas B. McCabe, North McCabe. Chester road, speaking before the Swarthmore Club of Philadelphia February 25th, said Letters to the Editor of Swarthmore celebrated a trio that in spite of its brilliant past record, Swarthmore College must implement a wellplanned program if it is to maintain its leadership in the fiercely competitive race of higher education.

Mr. McCabe, board chairman of Scott Paper Company and a Swarthmore alumnus, cited the need for more teachers, more and better students, and an improvement in the school's facilities which will help attract students and retain its faculty.

Mr. McCabe was the principal speaker at the alumni club's annual meeting held at Sharples Dining Hall.

'Leading Co-ed College' "The needs of the college grow like Topsy, but we must meet them if we are to maintain the priceless ingredients that have made Swarthmore the leading co-educational college in the United States," said Mr. get together informally. The capital gifts and much greater support for the Annual Gifts campaigns will be needed to provide the required facilities and to meet the rising costs of college operations. "To do this," said Mr.

McCabe, "our Alumni Council must increase its effectiveness and establish better communications with the great body of our alumni who are not so fortunate as we in living near the campus." He called for more and better organized alumni groups through which Swarthmore could attain more effective recruiting and fundraising results.

Good Financial Resources

Mr. McCabe stated that Swarthmore College's financial resources are exceptionally good for a school of its size. He reported that the market value of the Investment Fund is currently about $43 million of which approximately $7 million are new funds and $25 million is market appreciation. "The income from the Investment Fund is currently about $1.3 million on an annual basis, or about $1300 per student," said Mr. McCabe. "This income, plus the receipts from this year's annual gifts campaign will provide about $1500 per student. These figures will give you some idea of what it takes to educate a student over and above what the student pays. Currently it costs approximately $6000 per student over a four year period to give them the finest collegiate education in the world at Swarthmore College, and about one-third of the students receive scholarships," said Mr.

McCabe. Recommends Alumni Study "I think further that a scientific study whould be made of our alumni body in order to determine our strengths and weaknesses; the effectiveness of our communications; the reasons why some alumni remain devoted to the college and others appear apathetic; the relationship between the alumni's interest in the college and their respective records while students in college; facts regarding the ever-increasing number of professional people in our alumni body versus the relative decline in businessmen in the same income category and the possible effects on future financial support," added Mr. McCabe. He said that this data is needed for the planning of a program aimed at reaching more effectively the growing number of alumni and in assessing the school's goals. , "If we could find ways and means to communicate better

with the great body of alumni | T devotion which you here tonight have displayed - perhaps because of your better knowledge of and proximity to the college we could make Swarthmore not only the best but the superior institution of higher learning in the world," concluded Mr.

The opinions expressed below are those of the individual writers. All letters to The Swarthmorean must be signed. Pseudonymns may be used i the writer is known to the lEditor. Letters will be published only at the discretic of the Editor.

being offered. All those who have worked hard to keep the "Open House" program going, including the S.R.A. Board, the Rotary Club who sponsored a fund-raising barbecue in November, the director of "Open House" Phil Swayne, and the student committee headed by Sanford Wax, should be commended for their efforts on behalf of the teenagers in Swarthmore.

FILMS AVAILABLE AT CANCER SOCIETY

A complete film library with varied movies dealing with cancer prevention and control is available at the Delaware County Unit of the American Cancer Society, according to Mrs. J. Wesley Jones, executive director.

Mrs. Jones, who heads the office at 2239 Garrett road, Drexel Hill, points out that the film strips may be selected at the office for showing to schools, institutions, hospitals, or any group interested in the cancer control program.

"Our film library has been high schools have used our strips recently," she points out, noting that many of the film strips are "beamed" to elementary, Junior and senior high schools.

Mrs. Jones comments that area doctors are available to speak to groups, following the showing of film strips and movies which may be used free of charge. Also available for distribution are posters and related literature on the cause and prevention of cancer.

Japan 'From Inside' Ele. Pupil Topic

Mrs. Dorothy V. Clay, long-time resident of Swarthmore and whose three sons attended Swarthmore schools, talked about Japan "from the inside," as she said, to the fourth and fifth grades at the Rutgers Avenue Elementary School on March 2 and 6.

She spoke from her personal experiences during the three months she visited with intimate friends in their homes, where she lived and ate the Japanese way. She showed many things in every-day use in Japanese homes. The response to her talks was most enthusiastic and the pupils still had questions for During Winter Season which there was not enough time though Mrs. Clay gave an extra hour just for a question

Fungus-Growing Ants College Prof's Topic

Dr. Neal A. Weber, Whittier place, professor of zoology at Swarthmore College delivered chapter of the Texaco Research Center, Beacon, N.Y., Tuesday of this week. He was asked to speak on his research as recently published in Science and other journals.

Topic was fungus - growing ants and their ability to culture Mr. Jackson came to The | fungi. These ants are the chief agents in enriching the soil in tropical American rain forest areas, creating large numbers of underground chambers containing fungus gardens. The ants eat only the fungus that they culture and cut great quantities of fresh leaves, often of economic plants on which they grow their fungus, after the material has been properly prepared.

Former Spy To Speak Tuesday Clubwomen's State

Program Begins 2 P.M A former O.S.S. counterintelligence officer, Dan Tyler Moore, will be the speaker at the 2 p.m. meeting of the Woman's Club. His topic will

of Spies and Spy Warfare." Mr. Moore headed counterspy operations in Cairo, Egypt, the spy capital of the World, during World War II after General "Wild Bill" Donavan, head of O.S.S. gave him the code name TIVEL (Devil). He worked on many spy operations and was in fact one of the key men who helped win America's spy war in World War II.

An authority on spies and spy warfare Mr. Moore is a frequent contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, Reader's Digest, Redbook, Colliers, Sports Afield, North American Newspaper Alliance and many other magazines and newspapers, as well as a guest star on such TV shows as "Today," 'Mike Douglas'' and most

This will be a stated meeting and tea will be served. Because Mr. Moore has been voted top speaker by the International of the Woman's Club urges all who are interested to take advantage of hearing him.

College Receives OEO Grant Upward Bound Program

Friday, March 24, 1967

To Aid 63 In Summer A grant of $75,741 has been made to Swarthmore College by the Office of Economic Opportunity, in support of an Upward Bound Program. Objective of the program, which is co-sponsored by Swarthmore College and by the Robert F. wade Neighborhood House of Chester, is to help young people with limited-income backgrounds to develop their abilities, so as to qualify for post-high school education and responsible careers.

The program will provide a seven-week period of summer study on the campus, beginning June 26 and ending August 11. Young people will be brought to the campus daily for five days a week, and will participate in a flexible program of education, counselling, recreation and special events.

Swarthmore students, working with faculty members and teachers from the secondary schools, will constitute the instructing and advising staff. The style of study will feature struction.

"Our aim is to know these young people as friends," said director and administrative assistant to the college president. "Friendship helps us to understand their hopes and their problems, and it helps the young people to try hard, and to search for their own best capacities."

A follow-up program during the academic year continues opportunities for tutorial in-

Professors Articles In Philosophy Encyclopedia

Dr. Monroe C. Beardsley, Charles and Harriet Cox Mc-Dowell Professor of Philosophy at the college, and Dr. Jerome A. Shaffer, associate professor of philosophy, have contributed major articles to the first philosophical encyclopedia ever produced in English. Dr. Beardsley has written a substantial article on the history of aesthetics and an article on metaphor. In addition to teaching, he is vice president of the American Society for Aesthetics and member of the editorial boards of both the Monist and The Encyclopedia of Philosophy.

Dr. Shaffer's contribution was an article on the mindbody problem. He is executive secretary of the Council for Philosophical Studies.

Just published by Macmillan and The Free Press, "The Encyclopedia of Philosophy" represents six and a half years of "combined effort by 500 of the world's foremost thinkers. It is the most comprehensive philosophical reference ever published in any language," according to the publishers. The project was conceived 10 years ago by Jeremiah Kaplan, co-founder of The Free Press of Glencoe, now president of The Macmillan Company, and by Paul Edwards, a teacher and author of textbooks of Care, courtesy and consideration three C's of P.E.'s safe driving success.

Philadelphia Electric continually educates its drivers through a comprehensive safety program. The keystones of the program are Care, Courtesy, and Consideration. This week our 34th annual Safety Awards dinner honored 764 Philadelphia Electric drivers with safety records extending from 10 to 39 years. Also, 166 of our drivers were cited for having completed 23 years or more (not necessarily consecutive) of safe driving without a responsible accident. We are justifiably proud of this outstanding driving record.

Original Musical 'It Slipped A Cog'

Friday, March 31, 1967

Swarthmore students and adults will be treated to the primiere of "It Slipped A Cog," a student-written, - acted, and directed musical, next Friday and Saturday, April 7 and 8 in the High School Auditorium.

Coming April 7, 8

The school orchestra will begin the overture at 8 p.m., with a medley of the show's melodies, which were written and orchestrated by Conductor Ronald Hockenberry. Mary Stott is the student who wrote the

The curtain rises on a typical scene: the first day of school. The story rapidly progresses from the usual to the fantastic. The teachers of this school have numbered each student to insure impartiality in grading. The leaders of the Senior class rebel and formulate a plot to prove the system a failure. They invent a number to which no student corresponds; each senior contributes work in his > outstanding (but non-existent) tudent: number 501. The scheme against the teachers and their fetish continues as side issues develop. Libby Artz (played by Elizabeth Spraker), a girl with a crush on Vic Tenn (Sandy Wax), can't make-Vic see her as anything but a buddy. Nick Beat (Walter Brown), a student who seems to act only in self-interest (when at all), comes into verbal conflict with idealistic Hugh Manitee (Ed Honnold). For an apcoming computer dance, the umber 501 is matched up with Sara (Sally Lamberson), a girl who has fallen in love with The Number by reading his poetry. Thanks to Ivy Leigue (Katie Tolles), Sara meets not one best field. The result is an

501, but two. In the final scene the plo s discovered by the Principal (David Roberts), and what the tudents have hoped to demonstrate to him and the other teachers (Louise Fox, Wolfram Wittkowski, Dave Dye, Dorry Piccard) is revealed. The entire Senior class rushes onto the stage for the final song (and curtain calls, hopefully) and a chorus composed of Phyllis Martin, Peggy Spencer Steve Hart, Alistair Bell, Lois Roberts, Alan Kohn, Andy Maass. Marion Hunter, Gail Aveson, Kate Johnson, June Roxby and Ann Hoenigswald joins the leaders in singing, "It's all of us! We're People not Numbers!"

Basketball Player Turns To Lacrosse

Jerry Stauffer, Drew avenue, a regular starter on Lebanon Valley's basketball squad. finished fourth in scoring with 231 points for a 12.2 average for the 1966-67 season.

The floor leader was one of the most steady players the Flying Dutchmen had this year and came up with several clutch performances at the close of the season. Stauffer's field goal percentage, .439 (87-198) was second among the regulars and his free throw percentage, .750 (57-76), also ranked second. He was also the leader in the assist department with 47 and steals with 45.

Coach Bob McHenry was very pleased with Stauffer's consistant effort and is looking forward toward another good season from him next year. Stauffer is also a member of the lacrosse team. In the Flying Dutchmen's initial outing, Lebanon Valley dominated the Philadelphia "B" team, 11. 2, with Stauffer netting four

Southeast Asia Stars Dinner

WIL Annual Event Set April 14th

Exotic food from the Orient including an unusual soup composed of beef and coconut milk a curry not to be found outside the Malay peninsula, and delicate but rich desserts from Thailand and its neighbors, will comprise the menu on Friday, April 14, when the Women's International League holds its International Dinner.

Beginning at 6:30 p.m. in McCahan Hall at the Presbyterian Church, guests will be served from a menu selected by Mrs. John W. Carroll, Mrs. Richard Wray, Mrs. Jean Thompson, Mrs. William A. Clarke, Jr., Eleanor Gable and Charlotte Conroy.

Theme of the dinner, - latest in a long line of successful International dinners whereby Swarthmoreans have dined on the best dishes of France, Italy, Russia, Japan, Mexico and other spots around the globe is "Life Goes On In Southeast Asia."

The menu committee has been testing recipes for some weeks now - and the results will be on sale at the dinner in the form of a booklet telling not only how to make them, but where to pruchase the often difficult ingredients.

Mrs. Colin Bell and Mrs. C. H. Yarrow are co-chairmen for the event. Special entertainment will include authentic music from this area; national dress of the eight Southeast Asia countries from which the theme was drawn, a film showing how, in fact, life does go on in Southeast Asia; folk dancing, and other events.

Reservations should be made through Mrs. Otto Beer, Dartmouth avenue, or Ruth Chester, Morgan circle.

Research into the locale for the dinner, which is the annual WIL fund raising event, was done by Mrs. Henry Hoenigswald, Mrs. William B. Stanton, Mrs. James Thorson and Edna Wagner. Mrs. Nicholas Muhlenberg and Mrs. Maurice L. Webster, Jr., are responsible for the program.

BE WISE!!! IMMUNIZE

The Delaware County Medical Society has designated April as "Immunization Month" and with the Pennsylvania State Department of Health Region VII will provide free clinics on Sunday, April 2.

From 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., at various locations in the county, immunization against Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Tetanus and Polio (oral vaccine) will be given. Donations will not be accepted and children must be accompanied by an

Among the 19 centers are Woodlyn, at Woodlyn Elementary School, School lane and Colson road; Garden City and Wallingford, at Windsor Baptist Church, 410 New Jersey avenue; Media, at Media Junior High School, State and Monroe streets; Morton, at Sidney -Smedley Elementary School, Alfa Terrace and Highland avenue (across from Vertol); Prospect Park, at Pennsylvania avenue Elementary School.

Dr. J. Albright Jones, Elm avenue, is chairman of the Commission on Public Health and Preventative Medicine of the county medical society. Mrs. Randolph Lee, Haverford avenue is co-ordinator. She may be reached at Ki 3-6375 if additional information is needed.

Immunizations will also be administered on Sunday, May 7, and Sunday, June 4.

All citizens are urged to see their physicians to update the entire family's immunization program.

BORO. TO HOST U. N. VISITORS

Internat'l Weekend Slated April 29, 30

A contingent of international visitors from the United Nations Secretariat have been invited by the Swarthmore Committee for the United Nations, to share the weekend of April 29-30 with borough residents and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker, co-chairmen of the weekend, in a formal announcement of the program, last week, stated that "the purpose of this event is to permit us to become better acquainted with the people of other countries, and to give those of other countries opportunity to know us, our families and our community."

"We've had some tremendously gratifying experiences in the past," explained Mrs. Walker. "Friendships have been formed and carried on through correspondence. In several instances this has even resulted in the reciprocal hosting of Swarthmore families abroad by their former guests. Our young people have reacted with special enthusiasm."

Mr. Walker, in outlining this year's program said that a picnic, open to all members of the community, is planned for Whittier House lawn, and will begin about 1 p.m. on Saturday, shortly after the guests arrive. Host families will be asked to provide a picnic lunch for themselves and their guests and the Committee will furnish ice cream, fruit, coffee and punch.

Walker noted, "In the past we've had remarkable luck with the weather, but just in case the weather man doesn't cooperate, we've made arrangements to carry the picnic inside Whittier House."

Following the picnic it is hoped that many of the hosts and their guests will avail themselves of the opportunities afforded by the several events taking place in conjunction with the week-long celebration of Festival I.

Mrs. Michael Simenhoff, hospitality chairman has urged residents to participate by offering to entertain the visitors with overnight accomodations, or by acting as sightseeing guides, or hosting meals on Saturday night or Sunday noon. Community members can volunteer, or obtain further information through some 19 borough organizations, including service clubs, churches, the high school or the college. Questions may also be directed to the Walkers, at KI 3-3156 or Mrs. Simenhoff at KI4-8995.

JR. HIGHS HOLD MATHEMATICS QUIZ

A Mathematics Quiz show sponsored by the Mathematics Department was held Wednesday of last week at the junior high school. There were 30 participants from the 15 homerooms in the junior high (each had two representatives). The program was organized so that the audience could participate along with the contestants.

Seventh Grade winners were Kathy Malone and Mark Restrepo from Mrs. Wilma Lewis' homeroom. Eighth Grade winners were Mark Gredler and Peggy Hamilton from Mrs. Melanie Seymour's homeroom.

Ninth Grade winners and junior high champs were Vanessa Lin and Dave Long from Mrs. Andree Tafoya's homeroom.

Kappas To Sew

The Swarthmore Alumnae Association of Kappa Kappa Gamma will have a sewing and business meeting at the home of Mrs. Wallace McCurdy, 108 Stratford road, Wallingford on Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvel Wilson, Strath Haven avenue residents who return this weekend after spending the month of March at Naples, Fla. Senator Everett Dirksen was also a guest of the same hotel for the Easter holiday.

Police and Fire News

Swarthmore firemen assisted Springfield Fire Company in ventilating Cinema 1 on Baltimore pike after a heater backfired and sent smoke into the movie auditorium at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday of last week.

The local Fire Company was called to Chester at 3:30 p.m. Saturday to cover for Moyamensing Fire Company while all area companies were fighting a fire at Crozer-Chester Medical Center.

At 9 p.m. Saturday firemen heard the first test of the fire horn activated by the new electronic system at Springfield police station. Development of the system and the special room in which it is housed has required over six months' work. The bells in firemen's homes will be automatically rung along with the fire horn now.

Fire Chief James Dunn said he expects it will be about a week until the proper spacing of blasts can be adjusted so that codes indicating location of fire can be definitely conveyed by the signals.

Robert Magee, age 9, of Garrett avenue was taken to Taylor Hospital by Milmont ambulance after he tripped over a bicycle at the Riverview avenue athletic field at noon Monday. He was released after x-rays revealed a painful arm was not broken.

At 7 p.m. Tuesday firemen extinguished a fire in the chimney of the Andrew Robinson house at 510 Rutgers avenue. Two hours later they were called to a field fire on Yale avenue below Harvard. At 8 a.m. Wednesday they received a call that a car was on fire "behind the college."

Southeast Asia Stars Dinner

WIL Annual Event Set April 14th

Exotic food from the Orient including an unusual soup composed of beef and coconut milk, a curry not to be found outside the Malay peninsula, and delicate but rich desserts from Thailand and its neighbors, will comprise the menu on Friday, April 14, when the Women's International League holds its International Dinner.

Beginning at 6:30 p.m. in McCahan Hall at the Presbyterian Church, guests will be served from a menu selected by Mrs. John W. Carroll, Mrs. Richard Wray, Mrs. Jean Thompson, Mrs. William A. Clarke, Jr., Eleanor Gable and Charlotte Conroy.

Theme of the dinner, - latest in a long line of successful International dinners whereby Swarthmoreans have dined on the best dishes of France, Italy, Russia, Japan, Mexico and other spots around the globe is "Life Goes On In Southeast Asia.''

The menu committee has been testing recipes for some weeks now - and the results will be on sale at the dinner in the form of a booklet telling not only how to make them, but where to pruchase the often difficult ingredients.

Mrs. Colin Bell and Mrs. C. H. Yarrow are co-chairmen for the event. Special entertainment will include authentic music from this area; national dress of the eight Southeast Asia countries from which the theme was drawn, a film showing how, in fact, life does go on in Southeast Asia; folk dancing, and other events.

Reservations should be made through Mrs. Otto Beer, Dartmouth avenue, or Ruth Chester, Morgan circle.

Research into the locale for the dinner, which is the annual WIL fund raising event, was done by Mrs. Henry Hoenigswald, Mrs. William B. Stanton, Mrs. James Thorson and Edna Wagner. Mrs. Nicholas Muhlenberg and Mrs. Maurice L. Webster, Jr., are responsible for the program.

BE WISE!!! IMMUNIZE

The Delaware County Medical Society has designated April as "Immunization Month" and with the Pennsylvania State Department of Health Region VII will provide free clinics on Sunday, April 2.

From 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., at various locations in the county, immunization against Diphtheria. Whooping Cough, Tetanus and Polio (oral vaccine) will be given. Donations will not be accepted and children must be accompanied by an adult.

Among the 19 centers are Woodlyn, at Woodlyn Elementary School, School lane and Colson road; Garden City and Wallingford, at Windsor Baptist Church, 410 New Jersey avenue; Media, at Media Junior High School, State and Monroe streets; Morton, at Sidney -Smedley Elementary School, Alfa Terrace and Highland avenue (across from Vertol); Prospect Park, at Pennsylvania avenue Elementary School.

Dr. J. Albright Jones, Elm avenue, is chairman of the Commission on Public Health and Preventative Medicine of the county medical society. Mrs. Randolph Lee, Haverford avenue is co-ordinator. She may be reached at Ki 3-6375 if additional information is needed.

Immunizations will also be administered on Sunday, May 7, and Sunday, June 4.

All citizens are urged to see their physicians to update the entire family's immunization program.
