Day of Prayer February 10th Trinity Will Host Annual Service

All are invited to share in the World Day of Prayer to be held Friday, February 10 at 10 a.m. in the Trinity Episcopal Church, College avenue and Chester road.

Overall chairman for the are Mrs. Roger Russell for Friends Meeting; Mrs. W. R. LeCron for the Presbyterian Church; Mrs. E. Edward Snyder for the Methodist Church; Mrs. Enormel Clark for the Wesley A.M.E. Church; and Mrs. Albert W. Gengenbach for the Leiper Presbyterian Church.

World theme this year will be "Of his kingdom there shall be no end." (Luke 1:33). The service was prepared by Her Majesty Queen Salote Tupou of the Tonga Islands. A few months after completing this service Queen Salote died after ruling her islands for 47 years.'

Queen Salote belonged to one of the world's oldest dynasties which had its origin in the 10th century. Her country still remains an independent kingdom, the only one in the Pacific to remain so after the 19th century. It has maintained a Treaty of Friendship and Protection with Great Britain in this century. Throughout her rule, Queen Salote maintained a democratic monarchy based on the British system.

Since 1949 World Day of Prayer services have been held in Tonga, these being the first services of the day as this is the country closest to the international date line. Queen Salote took the lead in preparations for the day, translating the service into Tongan, choosing leaders and conducting leaders' preparation meetings. She always spoke at the services when she was not away from her kingdom.

This year the people of Tonga will again be the first to observe this day.

String Quartet To Perform Here Cooper Foundation

Sets Feb. 10th Date The Cooper Foundation Swarthmore College will present a concert by the Beaux Arts String Quartet Friday, February 10, at 8:15 p.m. in Clothier Memorial Hall.

The program will include Mozart's Quartet in G major K. 387, the Quartet No. 3 (1966) by Leon Kirchner, and Beethoven's Quartet in E minor, Opus 59, No. 2.

The Kirchner Quartet was commissioned by the Naumburg Foundation for the Beaux Arts Quartet.

The Beaux Arts String Quartet were the recipients of the Walter W. Naumburg Foundation Chamber Music Award in 1965. A reviewer has said of their playing:

"Evidently, they do not specialize, except in the sense that they specialize in playing every kind of music wonderfully well."

Stephen Clapp, violin, received his training at the Oberlin Conservatory and the Juilliard School, where he is presently on the faculty of the Preparatory division. Charles Miss Moore, program chair to do a great defensive job and member of the Paganini String for the meetings. Quartet, was awarded the title of Laureate at the first International Enesco Violin Competition in Bucharest, Rumania, in 1958.

John Graham, viola, a performing member of the master class of Pablo Casals in 1960, has performed under the baton of Leopold Stokowski with the American Symphony, and with the Alexander Schneider Chamber Orchestra, the Musica Aeterna Orchestra, and the Festival Orchestra. Bruce Rogers, 'cello, winner of the Felix Salmond Scholarship at the School, was solo 'cellist of the Clarion Orchestra and of the Orchestra at the Brussels World's Fair.

The concert is free and open play, "The Hobbit," as its 19th annual production. It will be presented on Saturday, April 8, in the Nether Providence High School auditorium. Director of the Junior Theatre Barbara Graves has adapted the play from the book, "The Hobbit" by J.R.R. Tolkien.

A highly imaginative children's book, it has since become the basis for a trilogy for adults by Mr. Tolkien, "The Lord of the Rings." It is the story of Bilbo, the Hobbit, living peacefully contented in his Hobbit hole until he is drawn into a quest for treasure. The play tells of his journey to the Lonely Mountain, through dangers and terrors until vast wealth is captured.

Friday, February 3, 1967 LWV Units In Study of China

At their unit meetings in February, members of the Swarthmore League of Women Voters are hearing a discussion of the culture and history of China presented by members of their China Study Group.

The most important facts about the Communist regime are being emphasized, with plenty of time for questions. The aim is to acquire the facts needed as a basis for a future evaluation of United States policies in relation to China:

On Monday, February 6 the Medicare Lists afternoon unit will meet at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. C. Thompson, 30 Morgan circle, while that evening at 8 p.m. a group will meet at the home of Mrs. Peter Frorer, 307 Elm meetings were held -- a morning one at the home of Mrs. John M. Moore. 512 Cgden avenue and an evening one in Chester, at the home of Mrs. Samuel Malada, 2014 Melrose

The China Study Group consists of Ruth Chester, chairman, and Mrs. John L. Cornog, Media; and Rest Haven Con-Robert Mazur, Mrs. John M. Moore, Mrs. J. Roland Pennock, Mrs. Douglas Ragin, Mrs. William Stanton, Mrs. J. C. Thompson, Mrs. Clair Wilcox, Edna Wagner, and Mrs. John

Letters to the Editor

In Appreciation To the Editor:

The family of H. Weston Clarke wishes to thank the many friends and neighbors for the outpouring of love and kindness shown them in their recent bereavement. It has been a great comfort.

Sincerely, Josephine M. Clarke, (Mrs. H. Weston) and family.

Thanks Community 6 To the Editor: On behalf of the Swarthmore Division of the National Foundation - March of Dimes, I wish to thank all members of the community whose participation in the "Mothers' March" contributed to its ultimate success.

Special thanks go to the sixteen zone captains and 122 mothers who conducted the 677.75 canvass as well as to the Provident National Bank for its assistance in counting and safeguarding the proceeds. No small thanks are due to the Swarthmorean for its generous contribution of space in publicizing the campaign.

Friday, February 3, 1967

Dr. Faul is chairman of the department of geology at the University of Pennsylvania. His lecture, "Tektites," explains a theory he formulated concerning the origin of certain glassy minerals which were once believed to be meteorite remnants.

These "tektites," found in several concentrated areas around the world, were thought to have been formed when meteorites fused into glass from the heat of their passage through the earth's atmosphere.

Dr. Faul, whose special field of interest is geochronology, the dating of minerals, believes his research shows that the theory proposing an extraterrestial origin of tektites is unlikely. In his lecture he offers an alternative explanation. The Swarthmore Chapter will meet for dinner at 6:45 p.m. in Sharples Dining Hall on the campus, followed by Dr. Faul's lecture at 8:15 p.m. in the Du-Pont Lecture Room on the campus. The lecture is free and open to the public.

of the history of science at B'NA B'RITH Princeton University, will visit the college campus during the week of February 12 as the Distinguished Visiting Scholar for 1967.

Traditionally, during his visit, the Scholar attends classes and honors seminars, meets with and talks to both students and faculty, and delivers two lectures.

Dr. Kuhn will speak at 8:15 p.m. in Clothier Memorial Sunday, February 12, and Sunday, February 19. The lectures are free and open to the public.

Dr. Kuhn received his B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. in physics from Harvard University where he was a Junior Fellow of the Society of Fellows. A Guggenheim Fellow, Dr. Kuhn became interested in the history of science while in graduate school. He has taught at the University of California at Berkeley and done research at the Center for Advanced Studies in the Behavioral Sciences. He is the author of "The Copernican Revolution" and "The Structure of Scientific Revolutions." Dr. Kuhn views the latter work as the preliminary statement of a theory concerning the pattern of scientific development, the conception of which has occupied him since graduate school. A reviewer has commented, "This probably the most important contribution to the historiography of science since Butterfield's "Origins of Modern Science.""

The title of Professor Kuhn's lecture on Sunday "Recurrent Patterns in Scientific Development." On February 19, he will speak on "Paradigms and Theories in Scientific Research." Both lectures will be held in Clothier Memorial at 8:15 p.m. and are free and open to the public.

5,000,000th BLUE SHIELD MEMBER IN PENNA.

WHEN CHARLES J. SPEERS signed up for Blue Shield the other day at his new place of employment — AMP, Inc., in darrisburg — he didn't realize he was to become a kind of celebrity. But a few days later, Matthew K. Gale, president of Pennsylvania Blue Shield, contacted him to offer congratulations. Seems Speers' enrollment brought the total membership in the medical program to just 5 million, probably the largest Blue Shield Plan in North America. It also meant Speers, an artist and draftsman, became guest of honor at a banquet held Feb. 1 at the Penn-Harris Motor Inn, Camp Hill, along with his wife and three children. The family is shown above inspecting his distinguished membership card. The Speers live in Middletown.

Scholar To Visit College Campus Historian of Science

Thomas S. Kuhn, professor of the history of science at Princeton University, will visit the college campus during the week of February 12 as the Distinguished Visiting Scholar for 1967.

To Speak Feb. 12, 19

Traditionally, during his visit, the Scholar attends classes and honors seminars. meets with and talks to both students and faculty, and delivers two lectures.

Dr. Kuhn will speak at 8:15 p.m. in Clothier Memorial Sunday, February 12, and Sunday, February 19. The lectures are free and open to the public. Dr. Kuhn received his B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. in physics from Harvard University where he was a Junior Fellow of the Society of Fellows. A Guggenheim Fellow, Dr. Kuhn became interested in the history of science while in graduate school. He has taught at the University of California at Berkeley and done research at the Center for Advanced Studies in the Behavioral Sciences. He is the author of "The Copernican Revolution" and "The Structure of Scientific Revolutions." Dr. Kuhn views the latter work as the preliminary statement of a theory concerning the pattern of scientific development, the conception of which has occupied him since graduate school. A reviewer has commented, "This is probably the most important raphy of science since Butterfield's "Origins of Modern Science.""

The title of Professor Kuhn's lecture on Sunday "Recurrent Patterns in Scientific Development." On February 19, he will speak on "Paradigms and Theories in Scientific Research." Both lectures will be held in Clothier Memorial a 8:15 p.m. and are free and open to the public.

Tri-County Concerts In 25th Festival

Saturday, March 4 has been chosen for the Tri-County Concerts Association's Fes- | gan Mrs. Kenney came to the tival Auditions. Because it is considerably earlier than last | September 1941 where she year's and much earlier than previous seasons, the T.C.C.A. is anxious to alert junior and senior high school music directors and young musicians. The auditions will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Radnor Junior High School, Wayne. Mrs. A. Eugene Watson, chairman of the festival, has extended the date for the return of enrollment forms sent to the schools and to private teachers to Monday, February 20. She would appreciate hearing from levels. any director, who has not received the material. She may be reached at MU 8-2646 or by writing T.C.C.A., Box 222.

Wayne, Pa. 19087. For the fourth successive year, Mrs. William A. Hildebrandt of Media is serving as | in Los Angeles where she had chairman of the "talent scout" | gone to escape the rigors of committee, and auditioners can reach her at LO 6-6198. The Festivals have been stepping-stones for many young people seeking recognition. International opera star, Anna Moffo originally of Wayne, made her first public appearance in the sixth Youth Music Festival in 1948.

This year's festival will again honor the memory of Ellen Winsor and Mrs. Edmund C. Evans, sisters and founders of the Tri-County Concerts Association, who considered the festivals the organization's most important work. In addition to sponsoring the Youth Music Festival, the T.C.C.A. presents free concerts featuring internationally known musicians. Three or four free programs and a benefit concert to support the organization, are held each year. The last in this year's series will feature The Kroll String Quartet, admission free, Friday, April 7. Although auditioners for the festival must attend junior or senior high school either in Chester, Delaware or Montgomery Counties, specialized music instruction may be obtained anywhere outside of the counties, in addition to that supplied by the schools. Mrs. Morton Smith, president of Tri-County Concerts will also be happy to help, if Mrs. Watson cannot be reached; her number is MU 8-0103. The 25th Festival will take place Sunday, April 16 at 8 p.m.

Memorial services were held on Friday, February 3 in Gillette, Wis., for Mrs. Edith Kenney who died in Los Angeles, Calif., on January 31 after a two-day illness forllowing a heart attack. She would have been 71 on September 21. Born in Rome City, Ind., and educated in Indiana and Michi-Swarthmore Public Schools in served as the school nurse with effective, compassionate and dedicated service for 17 years.

Never one to be discouraged by seemingly insurmountable odds, Mrs. Kenney sought vigorously to find and introduce into school and community practice new answers to old problems in the areas of health and education. She was very active in a number of professional and educational associations at local and county

After retiring from the Swarthmore-Rutledge School District in June, 1958, Mrs. Kenney moved to Gillette and became a full time nurse in a nearby hospital. At the time of her death she was nursing the Wisconsin winter.

Council Adopts $170,255 Budget To Appeal Assessment; Will Buy New Truck

Borough Council adopted a budget of $170,255 for 1967 and retained the current 20 mill realty tax at its February session Monday evening. Millage breakdown is 16 for general fund, 1/4 pension fund, 13/4sinking fund, 2 library.

Although $11,661 lower than last year's budget the new finance plan again provides generous increases for borough employees. Last year's budget included $13,500 for widening Swarthmore avenue, a project which was abandoned.

Library renovations and mosquito control came to approximately $1200 less than budgeted and income from building permits and motor violation fines exceeded expectations by nearly $4300. enabling an increase of about $20,000 in the balance carried forward to 1967 over that of

Salary Increase Salary increases are: Borough secretary from $7200 to $7560; police chief from $6720 to $7200; sergeants from $6075 to $6450; patrolmen from $5760 to $6060; custodian from $2790 to $2880; highway foreman from $5910 to $6210; skilled and unskilled labor increased 10 cents per hour to $2.27 1/2 and $2.22 respectively. Council received a letter from the League of Women Voters urging it to expedite completion of Phase III of the Planning Commission's plan for ceiling, stating that a vote for the borough's future .... to this increase would be an en-"adopt a realistic master plan and adhere very closely to it" and meanwhile to adhere more strictly to the existing zoning code. VOLUME 39 - NUMBER 7

|Council Adopts $170,255 Budget To Appeal Assessment; Will Buy New Truck

Borough Council adopted a budget of $170,255 for 1967 and retained the current 20 mill realty tax at its February session Monday evening. Millage breakdown is 16 for general fund, 1/4 pension fund, 13/4sinking fund, 2 library.

Although $11,661 lower than last year's budget the new finance plan again provides generous increases for borough employees. Last year's budget included $13,500 for widening Swarthmore avenue, a project which was abandoned.

Library renovations and mosquito control came to approximately $1200 less than budgeted and income from building permits and motor violation fines exceeded expectations by nearly $4300, enabling an increase of about $20,000 in the balance carried forward to 1967 over that of

Salary Increase Salary increases are:

Borough secretary from $7200 to $7560; police chief from $6720 to $7200; sergeants from $6075 to $6450; patrolmen from $5760 to $6060; custodian from $2790 to $2880; highway foreman from $5910 to $6210; skilled and unskilled labor increased 10 cents per hour to. $2.27 1/2 and $2.22 respectively. Council received a letter from the League of Women Voters urging it to expedite completion of Phase III of the Planning Commission's plan for the borough's future .... to "adopt a realistic master plan and adhere very closely to it" and meanwhile to adhere more strictly to the existing zoning code. ## People who sell by telephone can be informative, useful, considerate and polite...

Selling by telephone is an accepted, time-honored business practice. When salespeople are good at their jobs, they bring you news of products and services of which you might otherwise be unaware. Unfortunately, there is also the other kind—the pushy, overly persistent ones.

The telephone company is concerned about those cases which cause annovance to our customers. As part of a continuing program, we point out to businesses that when they select prospects intelligently, train callers carefully, time calls to your convenience . . . this will help them make sales.

The fact is an efficient, sensible salesperson can often be extremely valuable. But . . . in exactly the way you would close your front door to protect your privacy . . . please remember how effective it is to simply . . .

hang up on the other kind.

HE CHALLENGE OF THE FUTURE

We owe many thanks to America's engineers. Their skill and dedication have been responsible for most of the technological achievements we enjoy today, and look forward to in the future.

National Engineers' Week gives us a special opportunity to salute our own engineers and their colleagues throughout the country, and to applaud their 1967 theme: "Engineering . . . for the Human Environment." We wish them continued success in meeting tomorrow's challenges.

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania

Past history and future prospects of the new Delaware County Community College will be the discussion topic at the March unit meetings of the League of Women Voters of Swarthmore. After reaching consensus on the matter in the spring of 1966, the County LWV actively participated in the campaign to establish the college. Since events leading up to the establishment of the community college have been surrounded by controversy, League members feel a need to be well-informed on the history of the question. They will also examine critically the nature and function of a community college, attempting to answer such questions as to who will attend the college, what courses will be offered, and what will it cost the taxpayer. These meetings were prepared by a committee headed sisted by Mrs. Walter Hempfling, Mrs. John Moore,

Douglas Robinson. At each meeting time will be devoted to another topic: League finances, with a report on the recent finance drive. These discussions will give members an opportunity to participate in actual policymaking on the budget prior to its formal adoption at the moreans shared my excitement on learning the extent to which our CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) is providing fiscal support to American institutions. Aside from the obvious gold flow advantages, I can visualize a potential windfall of local financial opportunities. Apparently the Agency is interested in a wide spectrum of educational and social activities; surely we can profitably seek a match between their requirement and our plans for an expanded, enriched, and economical education for our children.

To argue that the Agency has an exclusive interest in institutions of higher education strikes me as premature. I suggest that the Swarthmore-Rutledge Home and School Association establish a committee to examine ways and means for obtaining CIA support for our educational program. Enlarged library facilities, an enriched language program, opportunities for foreign travel at no cost to the parents, are only a few of the numerous possibilities.

The Association could serve as an intermediary between the School and the Agency. There are many precedents for such an arrangement. I would be delighted to join with likeminded neighbors to further this goal.

A reception incident to the exhibition of Harper posters and other works by Edward Penfield, was held Tuesday night at the Wilcox Gallery on the college campus.

Hosts for the occasion were Walker Penfield of Guernsey road, son of the artist and Mrs. Eugene W. Baguskas of Media.

Born in 1866, Edward Penfield received part of his art education at the Art Students League, New York and was active in the American Society of Illustrators, at one time serving as its president.

He went to Harpers as art editor in 1893. He resigned after five years to go into free lance work but continued to do Harper posters for another seven years.

His work has been given to the Library of Congress, the New York Public Library, the Benjamin Franklin Institute, and the Suffolk Museum at Stony Brook, Long Island.

The exhibit will continue through March 1. The gallery is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.
